FALUMNI, ACULTY HOLD ANNUAL REUNION DINNER

One hundred and nineteen alumni and faculty of RFSTC attended a 6 o'clock ham dinner at the Grace Lutheran Church in Eau Claire, Thursday evening, October 10. This was one of the annual dinners held in connection with the Northwest Wisconsin Teachers' Convention.

After dinner four of the new faculty members were introduced to the alumni. They were Miss Knox, Miss Hawkins, Miss Walters and Mr. Rozehnal, who was re-introduced.

Dr. Kleinpell spoke on future plans for the college which hinge on bills that will be before the legislature in January. He remarked that the college was now in a "diaper period", (with references to the veterans families' barracks, of course.) He also mentioned how very nice it would be if the fifteen thousand, or so, alumni from RFS TC would give a memorial library to the school.

Following Dr. Kleinpell's talk, Coach Schaugenhauf spoke on the football team and the trials keeping a squad as large as the present one in line.

Dr. Karges issued an invitation to all the alumni to attend the biggest and best homecoming that the college has ever seen.

FFA OUTLINES PROGRAM

The Collegiate Chapter of the Future Farmers of America drew up a 16 point program outlining its activities for the year.

These include a Homecoming float and arranging for a stunt at the Homecoming pep meeting, arranging for a FFA Officers training day for high school chapters, having degree teams to initiate Green hands and raise Green hands to the degree of Future Farmers, sponsoring a boxing tournament, organizing a panel discussion group which is to discuss farm problems for presentation in rural communities, high school chapters, and FFA meetings, sponsoring a social event, and participating in a radio program.

The FFA also plans to hold its annual banquet at the end of the first half of the year's work, and sponsor and hold an FFA speaking contest for FFA members, organize a parliamentary procedure team to demonstrate correct procedure in the business meeting at local meetings and in high school chapters.

Prof. Junkman Took Vows Last Thursday

Miss Suzanne Graetz and Prof. Glen Junkman were married last Thursday, Oct. 10, at 9 a.m. The ceremony took place at St. Brigid's Catholic Church of this city, Father Fagan reading the nuptial Mass.

After the ceremony, the couple left on a short wedding trip with Prof. Junkman resuming his duties in the college mathematics department Monday.

League Post For Wyman

Dr. Wyman received notice that he has been appointed a member of the newly created Aeronautics Committee of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities Membership on this committee is limited to city officials.

Benson Confirmed In Voice Post

Dave Benson, ex-veteran and freshman at RFSTC, has officially taken office of business manager of the STUDENT VOICE. He has held this office tentatively since the beginning of the school year, and with due respect to his success thus far, his managership has been confirmed.

The job of business manager of a college newspaper is by no means an easy task. He must solicit and collect for all advertisements.

He must keep the paper's financial status balanced. He also has to take criticisms where they fall, and do all that he can do to see that the local business men are satisfied with the advertising, and that there is no need for complaint.

With the exception of almost two years in the navy, Dave has lived his life in River Falls. He graduated from the local high school in 1944 and he left for the navy and was discharged on July 2, 1946.

Dave is enrolled in a general course thus far, but he plans on entering business as a profession.

PLAY PRACTICE BEGUN

The play books for the first Masquer production, "The Taming of the Shrew" by William Shakespeare have come. Mr. Ames plans on beginning rehearsals Tuesday, October 15. All parts have not been cast as yet, and there is still a call for a few men's parts. Some of these parts are minor, and anyone wishing to try out should contact Carleton Ames.

The date for the play is still tentative, but it is thought that it will run two nights. Watch the STUDENT VOICE for further information.

WILLS PICKED TO CHAIR 1946 FALLS HOMECOMING

SENATE HOLDS IMPORTANT MEET

The Student Senate, at a meeting held on Oct. 7, nominated five men for the post of Chairman of Homecoming. The five were Wayne Baird, Eddie Greschner, James Leadholm, Albert Tschudy and Jack Wills.

A prize of $1.00 was offered by the Senate for the most original Homecoming slogan. "Toss La Crosse" was the final selection. Three persons submitted this same slogan, and the prize will be awarded in triplicate. The name on one of the winning entries was unreadable, and the Senate would like to have this entry identified. The other winners were Nate DeLong and Merlin Jennings.

A vote was taken on the subject of starting a Pep Club, and it was decided in favor of such a move. The first meeting was held on Oct. 11.

U. of M. Lecturer To Speak Wednesday

An unusual opportunity will be afforded the student body and the people of River Falls and vicinity to hear one of the outstanding figures in agriculture reconstruction and rehabilitation in European countries.

By a special arrangement with the University of Minnesota, Mr. Wayne W. Adams, an American farmer with a broad and interesting background, will speak at the college auditorium Wednesday, October 23rd, at 8:00 P.M. The subject will be some timely problem confronting our country.

With the outbreak of World War II, Mr. Adams was persuaded by the U.S. Department of Agriculture to assist in the great task of increasing food production in Middle Eastern countries. He served as agricultural food specialist in Ethiopia, Egypt, and Palestine, assisted in the organization and development of a rural agricultural education program for Greece and also planned the rural agricultural education program for Ethiopia. His services to the American government in this country and to those countries in the Middle East have given him a background which few men have experienced.

The admission charge for this lecture is fifty cents. There will be no charge for students, as the budget ticket admits all students.

MARGE LYNCH MARRIES

Wedding bells rang for Marge Lynch and James Miller when they were married on Saturday, Sept. 28, in St. Paul, Minnesota.

Both Marge and Jim graduated from the New Richmond High School with the class of '43. Marge matriculated at R.F.S.T.C. during 1943-45. She attended the University of Wisconsin the following year and is back on our campus again this year. Jim served in the Navy as a gunner's mate for three years. Following his discharge in April, 1946, he became a partner in business in New Richmond.

The STUDENT VOICE staff and the student body extend to Mr. and Mrs. Miller their heartiest congratulations and best wishes for happiness and success in the future.

Jack Wills, a junior in the science department from Watertown, Wis., was elected general chairman of 1946 Homecoming events at an assembly last Thursday.

Wills has been given a free hand in the operation of this large event, and he states that "for a really top-notch Homecoming, we are going to need the cooperation of every student in school. Each class will have a job to do, and the president of the class will be responsible for the completion of the job."

Present plans call for the freshmen to lime the "R" and decorate

Chairman Jack Wills

Ramer Field; the sophomores will have the responsibility of erecting a float and a throne for the queen. The juniors will decorate and light the campus, and the seniors will have charge of the main street decoration and of the window displays. The College Veterans Association will be responsible for sending out invitations to alumni and to special guests. To the FFA goes the biggest job which is that of gathering materials for the bonfire and putting on the torchlight parade.

In the election of the queen each organization of the school will submit a name. After the queen is elected, the remaining candidates will be her attendants.

Prizes will be awarded for the best stunt at the pep rally and for the best float in the parade. A football autographed by all the members of the football team will be presented to the house with the best homecoming display.

Mr. Wills has appointed five students to be on the committee. They are Eddie McCollow, Dick Freeman, Jerry Healy, Amy Anderson and Mark Stone. Specific assignments for these people will be announced at a later date.

Ames Writes New Play

A three act play written by Carleton Ames, social science teacher and dramatic coach of R.F.S.T.C. will be presented by the University of Wisconsin Players, November 5th and 7th at Madison.

The title of the play is "Birds Have Nests." It deals with the housing shortage.

This play is one of the major productions the University Players are putting on this season.

Jerneys -- Where The Elite Meet

Did you know that "Ma" Jerney has served 1,215,054 potatoes to the members of the Jerney Club since it opened for business eight years ago?

There are probably very few on the campus who haven't heard of the Jerney club, and likewise very few (including many of the members) who know the history of this club that has almost become a tradition. Not even Mrs. Jerney herself can remember everything that has happened. When you operate a boy's club for eight years, anything can happen. And it usually does.

The original Jerney club first opened in the Albert Nelson home across from the tennis courts. 'Ma' doesn't remember if her roomers wanted meals or if she offered meals with her rooms; but when she rang the dinner bell that first day, sixty people put their feet under her table.

"And all sixty of 'em were athletes" she said with a heavy "those were the good old days" sigh. "I served them meals for nineteen and twenty-one cents and everybody was happy."

That first crop of boys in Mrs. Jerney's life did all the washing and cooking. "I like athletes best of all," she states emphatically. "They work out their surplus energy on the field and don't use their rooms for gymnasium. If I decide that there are flaws in their personality, I remold it. I can spot a baby of the family or an only child a mile away."

This congenial "mother away from home" recalls the war years vividly. "I broke all traditions," she said, as if she had broken faith with those boys who have gone before. "I took in girls. I had 14 in 1943." And then she gave out with a bit of philosophical information that may be revealing enough to shock the fairer of the sexes. But this Betty Co-ed is not one for beating around the campus shrubbery. "Girls eat much more than boys. They decide several times a week that they are getting too fat and miss the next meal. But they more than make up for it the next day."

About those war years she is almost sentimental. "They took my

STATE G. I. BENEFITS

In 1945 the Wisconsin State Legislature, recognizing the need for a veterans' aid bill, set up a Dept. of Veterans' Affairs and appointed a Vet's Recognition board to administer it. The purpose of this board was to facilitate the rehabilitation of the Wisconsin veteran, and it has more than effected this purpose. The Board, since its inception, has handled thousands of cases, with over 1200 from River Falls and vicinity.

The statute that authorized the Dept. of Vets Affairs also determined who was eligible for these benefits. The veteran must have been a resident of Wisconsin at the time of his induction, or he must have been a resident of the state for at least five years preceding his application for aid. In addition he must have served in the armed forces for at least ninety days or have been injured in line of duty if in service less than ninety days.

What are some of these benefits that we may receive? Let it be made clear that this set-up is provided mainly for the vet who is in some way in difficulty. One form of aid is the outright grant, which is made to the vet who has no money or chances of getting it. If he or any of his dependents are ill, if he has no fuel or money for rent, the State Aid will give him an outright grant (up to $350.) to help him along. This grant need not be paid back. Students, if they cannot get along on their government allotments, can apply for additional state aid to help pull them through so that they can remain in school.

Another form of aid is the loan, which helps the vet who has little or no money and who would like to buy a car for his business, or to help build a business or a house. Sums up to $750 may be borrowed under this system, with a simple interest of only two per cent and with up to fifteen years in which to repay it. It is understood, of course, that sufficient need must be shown before these benefits can be made available to a vet. Let this statement not be construed to mean that conditions required for the benefits are prohibitive to the average G.I.; this system was set up FOR the VETERAN, and every doubt will be decided in his favor.

There is due to come up, at the coming session of the state legislature, a veterans BONUS bill. It will be well to study this measure most carefully before passing judgement on it, as the possibility exists that a bonus bill might destroy the present laudable set - up of

WILLIAMS RECEIVES COMMENDATION RIBBON

Capt. Justin Williams

Captain Justin Williams, former head of the department of history and social science at R.F. S.T.C., has been awarded the Army Commendation Ribbon for meritorious service in the performance of his duties as Chief of the Legislative Branch of G.H.Q. in Tokyo.

Dated July 15, 1946, the commendation reads in part: "He skillfully prepared a handbook on the procedure of the Japanese Diet. . . In addition he most capably assisted in the formulation and execution of sound plans for supervising the Japanese general election. . . Through his exceptional professional skill, discerning judgment, and devotion to duty, Capt. Williams made a noteworthy contribution to the effectiveness of G.H.Q. in the occupation of Japan."

Captain Williams taught American history and economics here until he left in July, 1942. He will not be an acting member of the faculty for at least one more year, as he has asked that his leave of absence from R.F.S.T.C. be extended for that length of time.

Mrs. Williams and sons, Justin and Nicholas, will leave for Tokyo in December. They have been living in Monterey, California.

Notice to Vets

Mr. Lathrop, Contact Representative, will be in the Registrar's Office on Wednesday, October 30, 1946.

Any veteran with questions concerning subsistence allowance, insurance, Claims for pension - - - which may include re-opening of claims for veterans dissatisfied with rating - -, out-patient medical or dental treatment, G.I. loans, - -or any questions veterans might have will be answered by Mr. Lathrop.

Veterans Aid. It is obvious that a bonus would reduce, if not completely eliminate, the funds now available to the Dept. of Vets Affairs, since it takes money to carry out either plan. When the time comes, let us choose well, and let us remember this: It will be of much more advantage to the veteran to retain what virtually amounts to a lifetime of insurance and benefits than to shove it aside for a small bonus at a time when money is cheap because of high prices and general inflation.

RURAL LIFE SELECTS OFFICERS FOR YEAR

The rural life club held its first meeting of the year on September 23, 1946, with Etta Krummel acting as chairman. The following people were elected as officers for the year:

- President - Lillian Wright
- Vice Pres. - Jean Owen
- Secretary - Violet Schnitzler
- Treasurer - Norma Wood

At one of the future meetings a style show will be put on as part of the entertainment. Evelyn Bloom was put in charge of this activity.

After the meeting, a lunch was served by the sophomore members.

What's wrong with our school spirit? River Falls has in the Falcons a very good football team, yet very little interest is being shown at the games. At the Stout game, our cheering was painfully unenthusiastic. Stout was playing a losing game, but their supporters put us to shame.

One reason for the lack of cheering is the fact that too many students go home on week-ends. There are all too few college students at the games. There is no reason why we can't give the Falcons the kind of support they deserve. I believe that there was some improvement in cheering at last week's Northland contest. There is still much room for improvement.

We hope you will all read the story on the Jerney club in this issue. "Ma" Jerney is an institution on the campus. She is a great lady and is certainly deserving of recognition.

The pep band was a welcome sight at last Friday's game. Probably nothing peps up a crowd like a band.

Our Homecoming committee, chaired by Jack Wills, is hard at work on its plans for November 2. In the past, former Falcon teams have been honored in the festivities. This year it will be a Vet's Homecoming. All alumni, however, are very welcome. The College Veterans Association is in charge of invitations, and they plan to put about 1000 into the mail. The letter is found elsewhere in this issue. Everyone must do his part to make Homecoming a success.

Have you noticed? The campus is being littered with trash thrown by careless students. It doesn't speak well of the student body as a whole, and it can be remedied. A few strategically placed trash receptacles would help no end. Then, too, each of us can be more careful.

The VOICE wishes to extend congratulations and best wishes to Prof. and Mrs. Junkman. The best of everything to you both.

Orchids to VOICE advertisers are in order. They help make possible this paper, and we have it straight from the horse's mouth that they appreciate your patronage.

FALCONS BLANK STOUT 20-0; WHIP NORTHLAND 26-0

The powerful Falcons of RFS TC came through in the last two weeks with decisive triumphs over Stout Institute and Northland College of Ashland.

Against Stout, it was the back-field combination of Olson, Schock, Cardinal and Feiler who gave the local fans the thrills in the win over the boys from down Menomonee way. Cardinal, Schock, and Schmit, who replaced Feiler, scored the touchdowns for River Falls.

The Northland game loomed as a possible upset when it was learned that Lyle Levenick, a starting tackle, and Gordon Olson, a fine quarterback, would be kept out of the game due to injuries. Coach Schlagenhauf pulled a surprise when he started Sinnen, De Long, Redmond and Schmit, in place of the usual starters, Levenick, Frier, McCardle and Feiler. However, this combination, which also included Vanderhoof at left end, Wernkli at left tackle, Glauner at left guard, Sydow at center, and Ubbelohde, Schock and Cardinal in the backfield, proved to be far too much for a hopeless and completely outclassed Northland eleven.

River Falls struck early in the first period when they took the opening kick-off and marched it to the Northland 22 yard line where Cardinal pitched a perfect strike to Bill Vanderhoof for a touchdown.

After Northland failed to gain, they punted, and the kick was returned by Cardinal to the Northland 30 yard line. Schock gained 15 yards on an end run, and Cardinal faded back and tossed a pass to big Nate De Long for the second marker. Wirz converted to make the score 13-0 with about 5 minutes remaining in the first quarter.

Arnie Feiler was the next in the Falcon's touchdown parade when he plunged over from the three yard line. Meehan converted, and Tobias ended the scoring just before the first half ended as he went over from four yards out.

In the second half, Coach Schlagenhauf used reserves and they were unable to score against a stubborn Northland defense.

The game was witnessed by a slim, chilled crowd of approximately 100 fans.

Saturday, October 19, the Falcons journey to Eau Claire to try to extend their wins to four in a row. The game will be the top event of the Eau Claire homecoming and will be played under the arcs at 7:30.

VETS INVITED TO FALLS HOMECOMING

River Falls, Wis.
Oct. 10, 1946

Dear "Vet",

In order that we may be able to write to all the River Falls State Teachers College men and women who are "vets", Butch and I have had to condescend to use this mimeograph machine. We both wish that we weren't so rushed by taking physics under "Jake", and zoology under Doc Kettlekamp that we could write a personal letter inviting you to come to the "Welcome Back, Vet" homecoming here at River Falls the weekend of November 3rd.

According to Jack Wills, this year's homecoming chairman, this one is going to be the biggest and best homecoming we have ever had. There is reason after reason why it should be, and Butch and I would like to tell you about them.

First, we have a new president at college. He is a young fellow from Valley City, North Dakota. His name is Dr. Eugene H. Kleinpell, and we think you will want to meet him. He, at least, wants to meet you; he said he is going to be around all the weekend, and he wants us to extend his invitation along with ours. Ex-pres. Ames is also going to be on campus for the homecoming. Butch and I see him every once in a while, and he is the same grand gentleman. He, too, hopes to be able to see you; so, if you come, plan to see two college presidents about the campus.

Dean of Men "Strat", who wrote you those swell letters while you were in the service is, of course, very anxious to see you and what changes have taken place in you. Frankly he is just the same, trying to find the student he suspects of thinking so he can add to the blackboard one more mark to the ten or eleven he has caught in the past twenty or so years. Docs Wyman, Kettlekamp, Karges, and Leineman all add their "Welcome Back, Vet" to ours, so you see, the college hands haven't changed too much.

As for the football game, which will always be the big feature on Saturday afternoon, it should be a "beaner". Mr. Schlagenhauf, the new coach, uses a fast "razzle-dazzle" system, and he has the boys to deliver that way. So far we have taken St. Cloud, Stout and Northland through the cut by decisive scores, losing only to St. Olaf in the first game 14-6. We have good excuses for that one, and if you come, we will tell you what happened. Now we just count on being the conference champs, and the biggest obstacle is La Crosse, the opponent for homecoming.

This is the program for the weekend:

Friday night:
8:00 — Mass meeting in front of North-Hall.

11:00 — Torch light parade and snake dance.

12:00 — The usual.

Saturday morning:

9:00 — Breakfast with faculty at College Cafeteria.

10:30 — Parade, led by College Band under the direction of B.J. Rozenhal. (He is back after spending a long time as an officer in the Air Corps.)

12:00 — Dinner at College Cafeteria.

2:00 — The kickoff of the La Crosse - River Falls football game.

5:00 to 7:00 — Cafeteria open for supper.

8:00 to 12:00 — Dance at North Hall Gym.

Now, as with all good things, there is one slight drawback. Here at River Falls we are just as crowded as all college cities are now; so, if you plan to stay both days make arrangements early and definitely. The local "hash houses" have given their word to feed you, and the College Cafeteria which is usually closed on Saturday, will be open and will serve as a meeting place for vets.

It should be understood, we want boys away a few at a time. But not one ever forgot me. I had 60 regular writers, and I answered everyone of them usually between 11 o'clock at night and 2 o'clock in the morning. We had agreed that this was to be their letter exchange. I would let each of them know the news about the others. They always wrote just before going into battle."

At Christmas they sent cards. "Some of the boys were so isolated that they had to make the cards themselves", Ma said. "One boy in New Caledonia wired me a bouquet of cut flowers. I never had cut flowers before in my life."

Membership in the Jerney club dropped to 24 members in 1944 which was the all time low since it was organized. But "Ma" is really happy about another kind of record. As far as she recalls, no one who was ever a member of her boarding club was killed in the war.

The present day set up of the Jerney Club is different. It was an inevitable change believes this lady who appears to have thrived well on her own cooking. For one thing, she points out, the second Jerney club burned out in March, 1946. And for another, the club today boasts an all time high of 176 members. Originally it was planned to limit club membership to an even hundred. But during the war she visited her son, who was stationed at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, and had to stand in a line for an hour to eat dinner. Right then and there she decided to get even with somebody. For those who might be inclined to doubt that she ever did, take a second look on the Jerney club porch any meal.

Food, which she acquires wholesale, is consumed in unbelievable quantities. In addition to the 200 pounds of potatoes that William and Terry Hayes, and Miles Scherner peel every day, the Jerney clubbers eat 65 pounds of meat a meal which costs them a nice thirty dollars. Forty five loaves of bread pass into their combined digestive tracts along with the contents of 12 No. 10 cans of vegetables.

Besides being the hand that feeds them "Ma" is also their friend in need, their cheer leader and their biggest booster. One student had convinced himself that he was going to flunk three exams. Mrs. Jerney thought nothing of the kind. She got three other students to coach him and he passed the tests. At various times she has loaned needy members money and has never lost a cent. "I knew their character," she says proudly, "So my investment was safe." Gratification for these extra services has been amply expressed to "Ma" Jerney in the form of a piano, refrigerator, rugs, end tables and many other gifts.

of the Campus" why the Jerney club has succeeded year after year when similar attempts to operate boarding clubs have failed, she won't commit herself and say that it is because it's a better club, but you can read that in her eyes. "George Frenchick and Lester Horn are my co-managers", she said. "But that's under me. I'm the manager." The only logical conclusion that can be drawn to explain the club's success is that she runs the club and runs it well.

"Never a day goes by that I don't get my picture taken", said this photogenic lady of the kitchen. But her two greatest enthusiasms are her sons and football. One of her sons is an ex - Army captain. The other, a sailor, recently witnessed the Navy supervised atomic bomb tests at Bikini atoll. As for football, she never misses a game, and she includes a pep talk along with the dessert at the meal preceding it. It was almost wholly through her efforts that "Colonel" Larson played in the all - star all - American game in Chicago. He had to have some money, and the Jerney club saw to it that he got it. With such loyalty, it is easily understood why 'Ma', in eight years, has had almost a thousand satisfied customers.

COLLEGE VETS HEAR LOCAL LEGIONAIRE

The RFSTC Veterans Association heard William McEwen, local attorney and county commander of the American Legion, at a meeting in the college auditorium at 7 o'clock Thursday, October 10.

Mr. Mc Ewen spoke on the features of veteran's insurance, health benefits, and answered other pertinent questions. He invited all veterans attending college here in River Falls to join the American Legion.

W.C. Schueler reported from the records of the Veterans' Administration that 14 students have left school or interrupted study to date. The veterans are asked to return the receipts for supplies purchased in order that the Veteran's Administration records may be kept up to date and to facilitate payment of local merchants.

Members of the veterans Homecoming committee are as follows: Eddie Mc Collow, Chairman; Butch McCardle, Gordon Jacobson, Dick Tracy.
