Two Students Coach 'Teahouse' Cast On Japanese Language, Mannerisms

Working with Dr. Davis in the Masquers production of "Tea House of the August Moon," to be presented during the Fine Arts Festival are two members of the student body. These students are Min Sun Cho, from Seoul, Korea, and Froydis Myhrwald, a junior from Deronda.

Min Sun Cho illustrates a point as he talks about Japanese pronunciation to members of the cast of "Teahouse of the August Moon." The play takes place on a Pacific island 'liberated' by American troops during World War II.

Cho or "Joe" as he is called by his friends, is working with some members of the cast, teaching them Japanese for their lines. Miss Myhrwald, has just returned from Japan, and will be working with the costuming, and mannerisms needed by the players to bring out the Japanese setting.

Miss Myhrwald entered RFSC in the winter quarter, after having spent five and one-half years on the Island of Japan, as a missionary for the Evangelical Lutheran Church.

It was reported this week that the casting for the play has been completed, with the finding of "Lady Astor". The goat serves as a guinea pig for the GIs who have decided to enter the field of brandy manufacturing in order to make their part of the Island self supporting.

RIVER FALLS SETS GOOD EXAMPLE FOR OTHER SCHOOLS (From Capitol Times)

"Congratulations are in order to River Falls State College for the successful Grass Roots Conference on Party Politics recently held on the campus of that enterprising school. "The conference brought together spokesmen for both political parties who engaged in some of the rough-and-tumble exchange of ideas necessary to make our political system robust and productive. Gov. Thompson and Sen. Gaylord Nelson spoke to the conference and the two party chairmen, Pat Lucey and Phillip Kuehn, traded blows in old-fashioned democratic debate. "Unfortunately, this country has become afraid of this sort of thing. There is a growing feeling that political difference is something that is not exhibited in polite society. This attitude is all too prevalent in our educational institutions where controversy has become something to be feared. "As a consequence there is altogether too much resort to hypocritically smuggling politicians before audiences in the guise of 'non-partisanship,' such as one so often sees in the activities of the knife-and-fork clubs. This 'non-partisanship' usually turns out to be a cloak under which pure Republican dogma is administered to the listeners. "River Falls State College deserves great credit for the honest and forthright way it has recognized that politics, after all, is the science of government and in democracy, particularly, is nothing to be ashamed of. "Last year it sponsored a symposium on conformity which brought out discussions not customarily heard on college campuses these days. "We hope the example River Falls is setting will catch on with other more timid institutions."

NEW CAMPUS M.D. TO CARE FOR PAINS

New caretaker of aches and pains at the College Health Cottage is Dr. William Kampschmidt. He is a graduate from the University of North Carolina School of Medicine and recently joined the River Falls City Clinic.

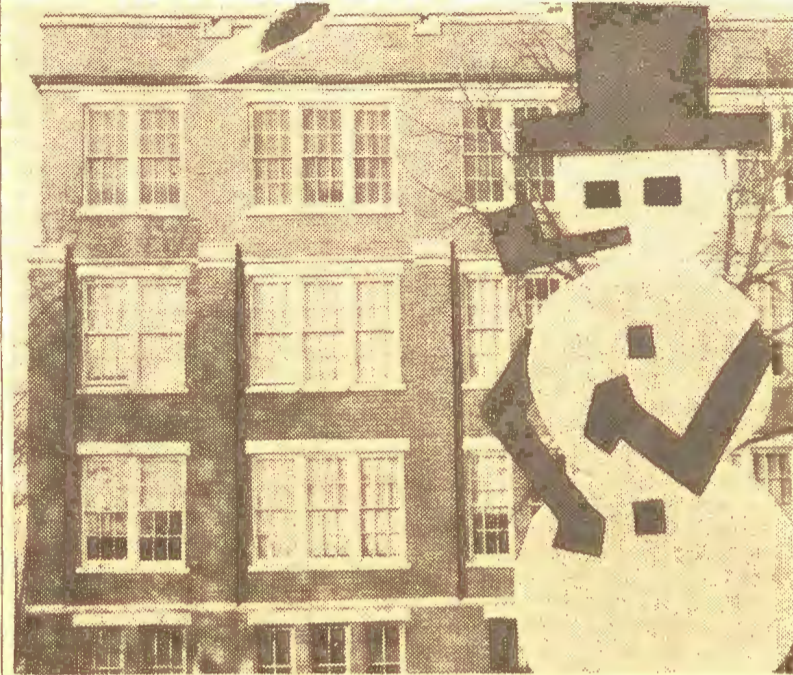

Dr. Kampschmidt's home is in Greensboro, N. C., and he served in the U. S. Navy Hospital Corps from 1945 to 1947.

Dr. Kampschmidt replaced Dr. Grassl who was college doctor since Sept., 1957.

Iranian Prof's Visit To Campus Postponed

The visit of Manuchehr Taslimi of the University of Tehran in Iran to the River Falls campus has been indefinitely delayed. Dr. Stone, head of the Division of Teacher Education, received word from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare concerning the change of plans.

First Treasure Hunt Clue Revealed

THIS 50-FOOT SNOWMAN seems to promise the "biggest" Winter Carnival in the history of the College. Mike Cotter gazes in astonishment at the project which used up most of the snow on campus. —Photo by Doetkott

by Mark Wyman
"Round and round it goes, and where it stops nobody knows." This familiar saying, the first clue in this year's Winter Carnival Treasure Hunt, could also be used to describe the activities of the 1958 RFSC snow frolic. It could, that is, except for one thing: the "stopping" point and time for the 4-day Carnival is known.

The Treasure Hunt will be but one part of this year's Winter Carnival, which includes such diversified activities as a hockey game, chess matches, a dance, skiing and tobogganing. The extensiveness of the outdoor events is directly related to the amount of snow on the ground, members of the Sitzmarker Ski Club, sponsors of the Carnival's fresh air sports, pointed out.

But snow or no snow, the thirty-second Winter Carnival will take place, according to Chairwoman candidates Marie Foreman, Carol Neiberg, and Lynn Radkey. These three aspirants for the highest second quarter honor, that of Winter Carnival Chairwoman, began campaigning this morning. They will be presented to the student body Wednesday, Jan. 29, in an 11 a.m. convocation in North Hall Auditorium, with voting to take place this Friday in the cafeteria.

Individual chairmen for each campaign committee are: for Marie Foreman, Griff Howell; Carol Neiberg, Jerome Moore; and Lynn Radkey, Dave Olson. In a joint statement given to the Voice, the candidates said, "We have found the campus organizations very willing to cooperate and we hope that this spirit of enthusiasm will continue throughout the student body for the entire Winter Carnival."

Also to be selected by students is a Carnival King, to reign over various events with his chosen queen. King petitions must be turned into the Student Senate by Wednesday, Jan. 29, with campaigns to begin the following Monday.

Although classes will be dismissed at 2 p.m. Friday afternoon, Feb. 7, the Carnival will have officially opened some 27 hours previously. At 11 a.m. Thursday morning, Feb. 6, the "Kickoff Assembly" will start the mid-winter frolic in motion with songs, cheers, talks, and introduction of basketball players.

At 8 a.m. Thursday the traditional Treasure Hunt will begin. The finder of the hidden object, which is within campus boundaries, will receive $10. Additional clues will follow the one given above. On Thursday night, the annual FFA Talent Show will also include judging of beards and the crowning of the Winter Carnival King.

The Carnival Midway in South Hall gymnasium will be a popular spot on campus early Friday afternoon with booths, games, and music. Any organizations interested in sponsoring a booth are asked to contact Marie Foreman before Feb. 5. Following the Midway which will run from 2 until 3:30 p.m., cards and chess will be played under the auspices of the Chess Club, with prizes being awarded to the winners.

Another Carnival tradition, the hockey game between RFSC puck enthusiasts, will be played at the high school rink at 3:30 Friday afternoon. Directors of the event, Jack Neurer and Don Swanson, ask that players sign up at the Carnival bulletin board and also furnish their own hockey equipment. The afternoon's events will wind up with a pancake supper in the cafeteria.

Wide Variety of Talent Will Perform for FFA Show

The FFA Talent Show, part of the Winter Carnival, will be held in North Hall Auditorium on Feb. 6.

The show will feature a wide variation of talent. Prizes of fifteen, ten and five dollars will be awarded to the top talent as determined by the judges, Walter Simonson, Dr. William Abbot and Richard Delorit. Another prize of ten dollars will be awarded the most entertaining act.

A comedy act, three vocal numbers, a saxophone solo, and a tap dance routine have been scheduled so far.

Master of ceremonies for the 8 p.m. show will be David Olson.

Individuals wishing to participate in the show are asked to contact Walter Skroch, Bob Seltrecht or Roger Gerrits before Friday, Jan. 31. No organizations will sponsor talent.

Admission will be fifty cents.

Skiers Take Poll On Carnival Trip

"Wanta go to Englewood?" If you're a ski addict you probably have heard this question within the last week, for the Sitzmarkers have been posted in the cafeteria sampling student opinion concerning a full day of ski fun for the entire college at a private slope during Winter Carnival.

Previously Carnival ski events have been held at Swenson's Hill near River Falls, but ski club members have made tentative arrangements to rent Englewood or some other nearby ski slope exclusively for use of River Falls students on one day of the mid-winter event. Facilities to make an excellent all-school outing are present, club officials say, including large indoor areas for dancing for the "chalet skier". Also, ski equipment is available for rent at such professional slopes.

Seeing the possibilities for an annual all-school outing of this type, the Sitzmarkers will have representatives in the cafeteria again this week to poll student opinion on such an undertaking.

Bids Due Feb. 28 On Student Union

Bids for the Student Union on the River Falls campus will be Friday, Feb. 28 when contracts will be awarded. Advertisements for bus are due Friday, Feb. 28 Jan. 30. Plans and specifications for the River Falls Student Union have been drawn by Schubert & Sorenson, La Crosse architectural firm.

JOB QUESTIONS? — Deans' File Has Answers

by Bill Dobson

Are you interested in a teaching job in Peru or a deputy sheriff's job in Montana?

Whatever your vocational questions are, chances are you can find the answers in the new vocational file in the Dean's office. The vocational file contains detailed information on 225 jobs and has information relating to several hundred more.

An example of the amount of information to be found in the file is shown by the section on government service. Here anything from how the FBI caught Machine-Gun Kelly to the requirements for making sergeant in the Marine Corps can be found.

The file is divided into eight interest areas which include outdoor, scientific, persuasive, the arts, social services, mechanical, business and industry, and miscellaneous jobs. There is also a section in the file devoted to choosing a career.

Engineering of all types is particularly well covered in the mechanical and scientific sections. Here can be found the job opportunities in every branch of engineering and the pay scales for each. There is also a listing of the top technical and graduate schools in engineering.

The file may be used by students anytime during office hours.

The Editor Speaks . . .

... "His, whose image never leaves me,
Whose remembrance, yet, I prize . . ."

These words express the feeling many students have on campus concerning the recent death of Leslie McKeen, whose image will remain with his students and friends. When a person such as he, who has contributed so much to the school, is gone, he is missed and remembered — these remembrances will be prized.

Those who knew him best—"his" French students—will remember him for the challenge he presented to them daily. His was to make the study of this language interesting, stimulating and enjoyable. He was vitally interested in each student—nothing missed his eye. His ear was always open, as a friend, to whatever was troubling the student.

Mr. McKeen served River Falls to the utmost in the nearly ten years he spent here. Through him, the French department grew in size and spirit. He, who received an award from the French government for his excellence in the language, left with his students more than a knowledge of French. His lectures were a lesson in life itself.

His love of life, beauty, sincerity and perfection have left an indelible mark on those who knew him.

Union, Management Representatives Debate National 'Right to Work' Law

by Fred Gilbertson

Representatives from labor and management debated the national college debate issue, "Resolved, that the requirement of membership in a labor organization as a condition of employment should be illegal," before students and faculty in the Little Theatre on Tuesday afternoon.

Otto F. Christenson, Executive Vice President of Minnesota Employers Association, was the affirmative speaker. He said he favored a national "right to work" law because people should have a right to belong or not belong to a labor union. Mr. Christenson pointed out instances of violence and corruption resulting from a union shop.

Opposing a "right to work" law, was Donald C. Savelkoul, Counsel for Minnesota AFL-CIO. He said a so-called "right to work" law would interfere with collective bargaining. Mr. Savelkoul explained that if the majority of the workers vote to form a union it must represent all the workers. He felt everyone should join the union so the costs could be equally divided. Mr. Savelkoul said that a union should not have "free riders", such as a "right to work" law would bring on.

In his rebuttal, Mr. Christenson said that employers are coerced into signing union shop contracts by violence and threats. He cited the Kohler Company as an example of a concern who refused to be forced into signing one of the contracts.

Mr. Christenson argued that union leaders are fighting for political, economic, and social power. They are "in politics up to their ears" he said.

Mr. Savelkoul charged, "The right to work is a mere slogan, a fraud, and a sham." According to him, no right to work law ever gave an employee a job. He said that "right to work" laws will serve only to "bust" unions. Mr. Savelkoul went on to say that the Kohler Company has had a long history of fighting unions.

Dr. Richard Darr gave the introduction and Walter Simonson explained the rules of the debate and welcomed the speakers.

Knowledge for College

by R. E. Manchester, Dean of Men, Kent State University, Kent, O.

Next to eating three meals each time the clock hands go 'round and next to having to button up and unbutton the shirt at "Rooster Crow" and "Sand Man" time, cigarette smoking is our most common national ailment. Some people have an idea the "Nose" holds the championship for getting red but statisticians can prove the cigarette tips get much hotter than those things people stick into the business of other persons.

To know who started the stunt is unimportant at the moment. It may have been a smart official of Kansas, or an advertising manager for a tobacco company, or it may have been a smat official of the corridor sweepers union. Our problem is not with the "why" of the beginning, "when" of the future, but rather with the "mess" of the present.

The word "mess" is used advisedly and it fits the case exactly and perfectly. The cycle is light, puff, drop, stomp. The floor, be it cement, clay or marble, gets the butt, fire and smear.

Many, there may be, who are not bothered by the fact that fine floors, rugs or carpets can't take such treatment without damage or by the appearance of a scattering of butts, but many there are who feel that it is as much a matter of good taste to smoke with good manners as it is to keep noses in control when the germs take over.

A college course on When, Where and How to smoke may be one of the new offerings. Perhaps it should be required as a prerequisite for courses on "How to be a man of distinction" or "How to get allure for sure".

Student Senate Minutes

The Jan. 20 meeting of the Student Senate was called to order by the President, Louie Johnson.

The Treasurer reported a balance of $967.34.

Carol Neiberg appeared on behalf of the Winter Carnival Chairwomen candidates to give a progress report and to report that the estimated expenditures involved for this year's carnival will be approximately $123.

Marge Olson appeared on behalf of the Social Committee to discuss the problems of acquiring entertainers for the Friday night Carnival program.

President Johnson appointed a committee consisting of Curt Larson, Clarence Dulek, Louie Schoenwetter, Calvin Martell and himself, to meet with President Kleinpell for the purpose of discussing financing problems for the Student Union.

President Johnson reported that President Kleinpell was pleased with the Senate's suggestions concerning a revision of the policy for choosing candidates for Who's Who. The problem will be discussed with the Personnel Committee. The Senate began formulating its revision of the of the present policy.

The Senate continued work on the revision of its constitution.

A request was made to the Senate that a Physics Club be organized on campus. The Senate passed a motion granting permission and encouraging the persons interested in the formation of this club.

"WELL, IT WAS YOUR IDEA TO HAVE YOUR CLASS FILL OUT THAT 'TEACHER EVALUATION SCALE'."

POINT OF VIEW

by William Hagestad

—The Political Conference—

It will be recalled that among the events occurring on this campus two weeks ago was a Conference on Grassroots Party Politics. A number of things contributed to its success; this writer would here comment on one of these "things."

(He is not presumptuous as to be suggesting that this single "thing" is the "thing" which made the Conference a success; many "things" — as he mentioned — figured:— the Conference's planning, the personalities who were there, etc.; he would here comment on that "thing" about the Conference which most impressed him. What follows may, therefore, be properly regarded as truly "one point of view," in no way working to the exclusion of others.)

This writer's experience has taught him to always expect one thing to happen when professional politicians gather for the benefit of non-professional politicians. His experience has taught him to be ready—in such situations—to hear numerous, inflated and generally unending and really meaningless platitudes—"political irrelevancies."

Though this certainly did happen, something else happened too—and it was this "something else," this other "thing," which impressed this writer and leads him to suggest it here as a factor which, too, contributed to the Conference's success.

What was this "something else"—this other "thing?"

This writer was quite astonished to hear "political relevancies" emanating from the Conference—that "gathering of professional politicians for the benefit of non-professional politicians." This was rare. The writer's experience had told him to expect from such a gathering nothing like that at all.

"Political relevancies" were by no means the order of the day. That they were present, however, is a thing this writer considers significant. It is hoped their "significance" justifies their consideration here. What follows might be thought of as an attempt to describe what "political relevancies" are—in this writer's mind's eye—and to demonstrate why he feels their presence at the Conference was significant.

It would seem that no better part of the Conference could be selected to accomplish those two things than the speech delivered by Senator Gaylord Nelson Wednesday morning in North Hall Auditorium.

Senator Nelson — this writer feels — spoke "political relevancies." Speaking of the part professional politicians can play in solving problems facing education, he said (in reference to Wisconsin), "Over 3,000 of our more talented high school graduates each year are denied a higher education because of the lack of finances or motivation."

"This is a waste of human resources," he said. His discussion of a political plan for the alleviation of this "waste" seemed to this writer to be relevant to the problem. It was no sentimental deference to the problem; neither was it fatuous "prayer" or pompous assurance that the problem would be solved. His discussion proceeded on the tacit assumption that the problem was a knotty financial one and that many were unconcerned about it.

It is precisely these things—it would seem—which faze speakers of "political irrelevancies" when they speak before "common" people — non-professional politicians. When politicians are fazed by such things, it is this writer's experience that they speak in sentimental deference to them, offer fatuous "prayers" for, or give pompous assurance of their solution — in a phrase, speak in "political irrelevancies."

Senator Nelson did not do that. This is not to say that politics which help education solve its problems are the only "relevant" politics. However, it strikes this

FALCONS WILL MEET LOW-RATED BLUGOLDS SATURDAY EVENING

Letterman-laden Eau Claire, a perennial obstacle for the River Falls cage Falcons, will play host to Coach Don Page's red and white team this Saturday evening in an 8 o'clock contest.

Nine veteran courtmen are included on this season's Eau Claire squad, but the Blugolds have eased off to their slowest start in years, resting in a tie for seventh place in the Wisconsin State College conference before this weekend's games. Their 1-3 league record places them two notches below the Falcons, who have split-even in four conference contests.

Biggest problems for the Falls will be 6-4 junior center Leon Etten and 6-2 senior guard Bob Morgan, both of whom hit with accuracy from any range and finished among the league's top 10 scorers last season. They are the top Blugold scorers this season to-date, Etten hitting his peak with 34 points against Platteville and Morgan having his best scoring night with a 33-point outburst that led his team to an upset victory over Hamline in the season's first game.

Other lettermen back for Coach Bill Zorn include forwards Jon Wensel and Dick Bauth, center Darrell Fitch and guards Bob Lorentz, Mike Faldet, Tom Webster and Kirk Milligan.

The Falcons will be outweighed and lacking height on the boards, but Coach Page is counting on the improvement of his three "big men"—Griff Howell, Darrell Hart and Mick Collins—all about 6-3. The return to outcourt shooting form of Mick Lauber would also make the Falls a serious threat in the contest.

Last season the Falcons were nudged 92-89 by the Blugolds at River Falls, then succumbed to a fast-breaking Zorn club by an 89-73 count on the big Eau Claire court late in the season. The last River Falls victory over an Eau Claire cage team came at River Falls during the 1954-55 season.

I - M Basketball

The Shawnees gained sole possession of first place in the "C" League last week winning their fifth straight game while their closest competitors, the Court Martials lost their first contest of the season. Neil "Mac" McClellan, Dave Olson, and Gene Cunnard combined uncanny shooting and good rebounding in leading the Dirty Dozen to a 52-49 decision over the Court Martials Wednesday night.

The Phi Sigs and Bombardiers remained tied for the top spot in the "A" League as both teams won their games last week. The Dirty Shirts dropped into a second place tie.

The Swedes are pacing the "D" League with a 4-0 record and the Falconiks are on top of the heap in the "B" League.

A close race for the scoring leadership is still raging between Bill Halvorson and Bob Schlamp. Halvorson is out in front with 110 points and Schlamp, who finished as second high scorer in intramural play last season, has 109. Both have played in five games.

Blue Devils Race Past Falcons 75-67

BRIAN HOWARD (dark 33) pulls in a second-half rebound for Stout as Mick Collins (22) reaches in vain. Elbowing for position are Bill Kindschy (28), Bob Sorenson (23), and Jann Peterson. Screened out of position are RF's Griff Howell (33) and Manley Olson (45). Photo by Doetkott.

River Falls' crackerbox North Hall gym didn't slow down Stout State very much Saturday night as the Blue Devils raced to a 75-67 win over the RFSC Falcons. It was Stout's second straight conference win and the second league loss in a row for the Falcons.

As usual it was the amazing Keith Moessner who spearheaded the Stout attack. The 5'10" guard intercepted several stray passes for easy layups and connected on enough long jump shots to finish the night with 24 points. Moessner's running mate at guard, Bob Sorenson was equally as brilliant in 12 field goals and two foul shots to total 26.

River Falls started off as if they might win a romp as they shot into an early 14-11 advantage outrebounding and outshooting the Blue Devils right from the start. Mick Lauber picked up two fouls in the first two minutes however, and Falcon rooters became slightly uneasy. But the Glenwood City guard settled down and played the rest of the game without picking up a single foul. The 6'1" jump shot artist finished with only three points though, far below his 15.3 per game average.

Big gun in the RF attack was center Griff Howell. The 6'3" junior pivotman poured in 26 markers and thus took over the scoring lead for Don Page's crew. Collins added 12 to the cause and Neil Christenson scored nine.

If you answered "No" to all questions, you obviously smoke Camels — a real cigarette. Only 6 or 7 "No" answers mean you better get on to Camels fast. Fewer than 6 "No's" and it really doesn't matter what you smoke. Anything's good enough!

But if you want to enjoy smoking as never before, switch to Camels. Nothing else tastes so rich, smokes so mild. Today more people smoke Camels than any other cigarette. The best tobacco makes the best smoke. Try Camels and you'll agree!

DEADLINE EXTENDED FOR SENIOR PHOTOS

Several senior pictures and individual information sheets have not yet been turned in for the '58 Meletean. Because of this the entire section has been delayed in getting to the engravers.

If the missing materials have not been brought into the Meletean office by Wednesday noon, many seniors will be eliminated from the yearbook.

POINT OF VIEW—

writer that Senator Nelson's remarks were among the few "political relevancies" he noted during the Conference.

This writer would suggest that it is significant that Senator Nelson should make remarks about education which are "politically relevant." Senator Nelson is a politically powerful man; it is not often—it would seem—that education finds such friends.

Delorit Makes Report To Ag Teachers Board

Richard Delorit of the Ag department gave a report at the Executive Board of the Wisconsin Association of Vocational Agriculture Instructors held at Marshfield last Friday and Saturday.

The report consisted of Mr. Delorit's study and reaction to the Organizations' policies for the annual July convention at Madison.

Honor Roll Additions

Two more students have been reported inadvertently omitted from Student Voice honor roll story. They are Judy Frandsen, a freshman from Luck, and Wayne Haushalter, a senior from Hudson,

CARNIVAL—

Friday night's main activity will be an evening of entertainment in North Hall Auditorium, featuring the famous Four-Mor quartet from Madison. Other acts are being arranged for the program, which is sponsored by the Social Committee. A coffee hour at Hathorn Hall will take place afterward.

Bright and early Saturday morning, the mixed doubles bowling tournament will get underway at Collins' Recreation Center. Prizes of eight, four and two dollars will be awarded to the high, second-high, and low team scores respectively. The tourney, under the direction of Dick Wood, will run from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The location of the Saturday afternoon winter sports events is still somewhat indefinite. The Sitzmarker Ski Club is attempting to transfer the outdoor activities to a near-by ski resort, and provide bus transportation for students. Over $20 worth of prizes will be given away to the winners of the various ski and tobaggan races, which will have both men's and women's divisions. Next week's Voice will give final details of the outdoor events, as well as a complete schedule of the entire Carnival.

Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock the judging for the Snow Sculpture Contest will take place. The top three works will be selected by the committee consisting of Robert Taugner, of the art department, Fran Polsfoot, head of the physical education department and Beatrice DeGidio, sophomore from Cumberland. Groups interested in building a snow statue may sign up at the Carnival bulletin board for one of the eighteen designated campus areas.

The La Crosse "Indians" will be the Falcons' opponents for the Saturday night basketball game in North Hall gymnasium. At half-time the Carnival king and queen will be introduced, and the winners of the day's events will be announced. The Winter Carnival dance will follow the game, with music by the Falconaires from 10 until 1 o'clock, also in the gym.

Another Winter Carnival tradition—attending church Sunday morning—will begin the final day of the mid-winter festival. That afternoon, the figure skating troupe of Dr. Lonnie Stout of Hudson will perform at the high school rink, followed by general skating for everyone. Swimming in the college pool from 4 to 5:30 p.m. will close the Carnival's events.

EAT AT THE JERNEY CLUB

We have recently started a new system—

- (2) $1.00 membership for rest of the year
- (3) Eat when you like, as much as you like, served family style, for 75c
- (4) All college students (girls, too) are welcome

Sticklers!

TAXI DRIVING, at best, is a checkered career. Some days, nothing seems to click—including the meter! Traffic crawls, motor stalls, horns bleat, bumpers meet. What a moment to reach for a Lucky—and discover (horrors!) you're fresh out. That's when the most genial driver turns into a Crabby Cabby. And why not? He's missing the best taste going... a cigarette that's light as they come. Luckies are all light tobacco—good-tasting tobacco, toasted to taste even better. Try 'em yourself. And step on it!

STICKLE!
MAKE $25

Sticklers are simple riddles with two-word rhyming answers. Both words must have the same number of syllables. (No drawings, please!) We'll shell out $25 for all we use—and for hundreds that never see print. So send stacks of 'em with your name, address, college and class to Happy-Joe-Lucky, Box 67A, Mount Vernon, New York.
