'Organized' Campus Gets Approval, Disapproval

The Student Senate this week voted in favor of establishing fraternities and sororities on the campus and the Personnel Committee voted to go on record as opposing their establishment.

AS A PLEDGE to Phi Sig, Ed Schlumpf appeared in this "unusual costume on the campus last week.

The recommendation of the Personnel Committee will be passed on to the faculty which will either accept or reject it.

At the Oct. 28 meeting of the Student Senate, the debate and discussion on sororities and fraternities culminated with passing by a 6-3 vote with one member abstaining, the following motion.

Moved: That sororities and fraternities be recognized on campus with the stipulation that they will remain accountable to the Student Senate for their actions; even at which time they might become national organizations. And, that these and all organizations can be terminated by the Senate when their actions may be considered detrimental to the campus and the individuals.

Voting for were Mary Lou Jensen, Neil Christensen, Jerry Stern, Mike Fleming, Clarence Dulek and Louis Schoenwetter. Voting against were Dick Kinney, Calvin Martell, and Mike O'Connell. Abstaining was Curt Larson.

The motion by the Senate was passed on to the Personnel Committee at its meeting the following day. After a discussion of the long-range effects of such organizations and the effectiveness of Senate control of them, the following motion was passed by a roll-call vote.

Moved: That the Personnel Committee go on record as opposing the establishment of sororities and fraternities. The motion was passed. The initial vote was 4-4 with 1 abstaining and the tie-breaking vote being cast by the Chairman of the committee. There were two members absent.

Voting for the motion were Dr. Philip Anderson, Calvin Martell, Phyllis Benjamin, Mrs. Amy Nelson and Dr. Nancy Knaak, chairman. Opposed were B. J. Rozehnal, Mike Fleming, Mary Lou Jensen, and Leslie McKeen. Abstaining was Dr. Catharine Liene-man. Absent were Dr. L. G. Stone and Miss Laura Johnson.

This decision of the Personnel Committee is in the form of a recommendation which will be passed on to the faculty members along with a list of pros and cons that were cited regarding the establishment of the organizations.

Democrats Planning Series of Speakers

For a kick-off membership drive the Young Democrats club has scheduled a series of speakers to inform students on the aims and policies of the organization.

The first in the series will be Nancy Murry, local attorney, who will speak at a Young Democrats meeting in Hathorn Hall, Tuesday, Nov. 5, at 7 p.m. Miss Murry's topic will be "Women in Politics." She will also give some remarks on her recent appointment to the staff of Senator Proxmire in Washington, D. C. Miss Murry, a former student of River Falls, graduated from the University of Wisconsin Law School.

Miss Murry is one of the few women attorneys in this area and is a member of the Murry and Murry Law Firm in River Falls.

All members and interested persons are urged to attend. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

Poll Gives Edge To Fraternities And Sororities

by Jack Woodbury

Should there be fraternities and sororities on the campus at River Falls State college? The answer to this question was sought in a recent questionnaire distributed and completed during recent class meetings. While only a third of the total student body attended the meetings, their responses may be indicative of the general campus feeling.

Favoring fraternities were 52 percent of the student body and, favoring sororities, 48 percent. Against fraternities were 40 percent; against sororities 41 percent, while 8 percent were undecided about fraternities and 11 percent were undecided about sororities.

Approximately two-thirds of the men responding favored fraternities being established on the campus. Only one-third of the women favored sororities.

Of those students favoring the establishment of such organizations, the following were some of the advantages they say: 1. Improve social conditions on campus; 2. Increase and improve feeling of school spirit and unity; 3. Solve the weekend problem.

Those students opposed to fraternities and sororities registered these complaints most frequently: 1. Would cause cliques, factions and "snob" groups; 2. Would destroy friendly atmosphere of campus; 3. Would create hard feelings or hurt the uninvited.

The question was asked, "Would you join one of these groups if they were organized here?" Of the male population polled, 61 percent answered yes, although 65 percent had gone on record as favoring such groups being established.

The Editor Speaks . . .

Would sororities and fraternities be an advantage to the River Falls campus? This question seems to be of more interest to the faculty and students than the recent flu epidemic. We would like to take this opportunity to present both sides of this controversial issue.

Those favoring the establishment of these organizations at River Falls, feel that they would be a definite asset to the college in several ways. It is believed that these organizations would improve the social activities and create a better spirit of comradeship among the students. This improvement in social life would decrease the number of suitcase students here, by providing more functions of interest to all. The sororities and fraternities would be able to devote more time to supporting campus doings and projects than other more specialized clubs could. Besides backing these programs, they also could sponsor campus events.

Another favorable point brought out is the fact that scholastic standards would be set up to encourage scholastic achievement. To be a member the student would have to maintain a C average in all college courses. It is also felt that this would be a stimulus to the enrollment of the college, since sororities and fraternities have been a traditional part of campus life at many colleges.

On the other hand, there are those who contend that sororities and fraternities would be a definite disadvantage to the school. The negative side believes that sororities and fraternities are not the answer to a more stimulating social life. They feel that these organizations would create snobbishness and cliques among the students. With limited memberships some students would be left out.

They believe fraternities and sororities would discourage individuality. The members would be required to participate in activities and meetings unless excused by the organization. They feel that in a small college such organizations are superfluous because students already have a feeling of "belonging". Also with an eye towards the future, it is felt that these organizations would eventually go "national" and not have the independent spirit now prevalent at River Falls.

Here are both sides of this current controversy. If you are sick in bed with Asiatic flu, you probably don't care one

Student Senate Minutes

The October 28 meeting of the Student Senate was called to order by President Louie Johnson.

The constitution of NCTE was received and will be reviewed by the Senate.

The loss of magazines from the stacks in the library was discussed. Louie Schoenwetter was appointed to discuss the subject with Mr. Cooklock and to report to the Senate on any suggested measures that could be taken to eliminate the problem.

The remainder of the meeting was given to the discussion of sororities and fraternities. A request had been made from the Personnel Committee that the Senate voice its opinion on the subject and report this decision to them.

The discussion that followed was in the form of a review of the pros and cons and the general over-all effect on such organizations on this campus.

The following motion was passed by the Senate: Moved, that Sororities and Fraternities be recognized on campus with the stipulation that they will remain accountable to the Student Senate for their actions; even at which time they might become national organizations. And, that these and all organizations can be terminated by the Senate when their actions may be considered detrimental to the campus and the individuals.

This motion was passed by the roll-call vote which follows:

For: Jensen, Christensen, Stern, Fleming, Dulek, Schoenwetter.
Against: Kinney, Martell, O'Connell.

Abstaining: Larson.
The motion was also made that the constitutions of Delta Zelta Delta and Phi Sigma be approved. Motion carried 9-1.

Former Student Relates Impressions of Japan

by Mark Wyman

"This is a city of contrasts: the most modern subways in the world and open sewers; ultra modern department stores and dinky shops; and tree lined boulevards and 'streets' hardly wide enough to ride a bike through." This is Tokyo, as seen through the eyes of a former RFSC student, Dick Schwenk, now serving as an agricultural missionary in the Philippines.

Dick, who was graduated from River Falls last spring in agricultural education, left in late September to begin three years of service with the Methodist Foreign Missions Board. In a recent letter to his family, he told of his four day visit in Japan before pushing on to Manila and his work. Before reaching Japan he spent brief sojourns in Seattle and Alaska.

Small, beautiful gardens behind every home seem to be ". . . quite typical of the Japanese", Dick reports, as well as trains that are ". . . almost all electric and very modern," and ". . . always on time." He adds that "In Japan it is very impolite to blow your nose in public, but it's alright to belch. . . America is never quite gone from the scene, for the ". . . dress, movies, advertising, music and brand names" are almost the same as the U. S.

The group with which Dick was traveling also spent time in Koke and Kyoto, where they visited many shrines, temples, palaces and pagodas, before going to Tokyo. Tokyo at night was sparkling, Dick reports, with the Ginza (the main street), Kabuki (a theater where ancient classical plays of Japanese history are presented), the Imperial Hotel, the floating restaurants, the Gekko district, and bright neon nights everywhere.

He arrived in Manila on Oct. 18, and began his job as an agriculture instructor in a high school shortly after. He also does work with farmers in the area.

Dick, who has a sister, JoAnn, attending RFSC now, was active in religious work throughout his college career, serving as president of Wesley during his senior year. His present address is Richard Schwenk, c/o Rev. Chas. Mosbrook, P.O. Box 756, Manila, P.I.

Knowledge for College

by R. E. Manchester, Dean of Men
Kent State University,
Kent, Ohio

THE AGE OF "KNOW HOW"

The world of people is full of "know how". Those setting patterns in education, business, industry and the professions emphasize desirability, skill and techniques.

There is one "Know How" very much needed and not too well understood. It is the one connected with a man's ability to govern himself. He learns how to do a dozen things but often finds the knowledge useless because he cannot take care of the many intricate and complex details contributing to the self management skill. His task is like that of a man trying to drive a dozen wild horses, all pulling in different directions.

Intelligence pulls one way, emotions pull in others, social pressures are upon him, environmental situations exert a force and confusion results. Is there a "Know How"?

Advice comes from many sources, suggestions come from many do-gooders, agencies offer plans each for a price yet the trick is not always learned. Those who fail join the Foreign Legion, desert their families, jump out of windows, go to Skid Row or start listening for bells that do not ring.

The college man seeks the "Know How" through contacts with others, through research, through experiment, through trial and error, through books, through travel and through scores of other channels. Out of experience, study and determination there are outcomes—poise, finesse, balance, appreciation, will power, control. The college man does not find the answer in one book, in one sermon, in one project or in one friendly tip. From freshman to senior year the many contributing parts slowly crystallize into a composite whole—a "Know How," valuable, as a gem rating a king's ransom.

Falcons End Season With Victory Over Mankato

by Dick Enstad

A quick look over the football rosters of the past few years would seem to indicate that Cumberland High School has more or less become a "farm" team for the Falcon grid squad. In the past Cumberland has produced such Falcon greats as Bob Margotto and Anthony "Bucky" DiSalvo and at present its latest contribution is right end Jack Neurer.

At 24, Neurer is considered one of the "graybeards" on Coach Polsfoot's eleven. At 175 pounds Jack also has the distinction of being one of the smallest men on the squad. However, pound for pound, Jack represents a tremendous football bargain.

Seeing both offensive and defensive action this year, Jack has spearheaded a young Falcon team of a very admirable season's record. He is probably best remembered for his defensive performance at Stevens Point where he blocked two punts which enabled the Falcons to squeeze out a 18-14 verdict over the Pointers.

During his high school days at Cumberland, Neurer lettered in both football and basketball. Upon graduation he entered the service and at present is a college sophomore.

With the Mankato game completing the River Falls 1957 schedule, the time now comes for the picking of the all-conference team. Neurer's former classmates, Margotto and DiSalvo, both made it in their playing days. This writer has a sneaky suspicion that Jack will follow in their footsteps.

by Ed E. Schlumpf
A defensive battle played in a light drizzle Saturday night at Ramer Field found River Falls winning their final game of the season, 7-0 over the Mankato State Indians.

Mick Lauber's fourth quarter touchdown proved to be the margin of victory but it was the play of the Falcons' line that held the potent Mankato attack in check. Four times the River Falls defense rose up to stop the Indians inside the 20-yard line. Dick Shimel, who played one of his finest games spearheaded the Falcon defense in three of those four Mankato drives.

Mankato got a break early in the first period when freshman quarterback Tom Everson, starting in place of the injured Jim Hallen, fumbled a bad pass from center and Mankato recovered on the Falcon 18-yard line. However the River Falls line dug in and held the Indians to a scant one yard in three plays. With fourth down and nine, Shimel stopped John Mowan on the 10-yard stripe and the Falcons took over on downs.

River Falls got started on what looked like a long touchdown march but didn't turn out to be. After Bob Koplun recovered Pete Hubin's fumble on the RF 19, Darrel Johnson picked up a first down on the 21. However the Falcon co-captain from Red Wing, Minnesota reinjured his shoulder and was forced to sit out the remainder of his final college game.

After Hubin gained two yards on a ground play, Everson rifled a pass to end Tom Shield for a first down on the 35. Minutes later, a spectacular pass-pitchout play moved the ball to the Mankato 35 for another first down. Lauber flipped the pass to Jack Neurer who then lateraled to Frank Sprenger racing down the sidelines. But after RF drove to the 31, two bad passes from center that sailed over the heads of the Falcon backs, gave Mankato the ball on downs on the RF 39 yard marker.

In the battle of the unbeaten last week, the Doozeys all but cinched the Intramural Football League crown by nosing out the game Terrible Ten 14-12.

The Doozeys' tight defense held the Terrible Ten in check for the first two periods, while they scored a touchdown on a pass to Dick Swan and a safety for a 8-0 half-time lead.

The Terrible Ten offense started to roll in the second half as Jim Clafin caught a pass for a touchdown to narrow the gap 8-6. With six minutes remaining in the fourth period, Larry Strinek scored what proved to be the winning touchdown for the Doozeys on a pass play.

With four minutes remaining, Mic Collins caught a pass for a Terrible Ten touchdown to narrow the margin 14-12. With 55 seconds remaining, Collins again caught a long pass for a first down on the Doozey's seven yard line. The Doozeys defense tightened and held two passing plays to no gain while preserving a 14-12 victory

The Doozeys have two games remaining on their nine game schedule. Past performances make the Doozeys heavy favorite in each game.

Postponed games will not be played unless they have an important bearing on the final standings.

28. But again the Falcon defense tightened as the Indians failed to gain a single yard in the next three plays. Lauber ended the threat by intercepting Jerry Bodelson's fourth down pass on the 9-yard line and returning it 45 yards on a beautiful runback to the Mankato 46.

After the teams exchanged punts, Falcon rooters got a scare when Indian halfback Bruce Owens weaved his way into the open and raced 34 yards before Neurer came out of nowhere to cut him down on the RF 26 as the first half ended.

Twice in the third quarter River Falls was able to penetrate deep into Mankato territory but failed to score each time. Lauber, Sprenger, and Jack Omer paced a drive that went to the Indian 15 but tackle Del Hoeve of the visitors recovered Everson's fumble there to squelch that threat.

After Mankato failed again in the following series, the Falcons started to march again. When Rich Bengfort was called for interference on a pass to Sprenger, the Falcons had a first down on they were on the 5-yard line but the 12-yard line. Two plays later the Indians pushed them back to the 11 and took over on downs.

Young Democrat Executive Board Meets on Campus

The executive board of the Young Democratic Clubs of Wisconsin held a meeting at the college Sunday, Oct. 27. The executive board is made up of the state Young Democratic officers, which includes Gordon Lee of River Falls.

In addition to the regular business, the board passed the following resolutions:

1. Be it resolved that the Young Democratic Clubs of Wisconsin thank Senator McParland for introducing a resolution in the State Senate to enable 18 year olds to vote.

2. Be it resolved that the Young Democrats urge President Eisenhower to remove the Chairman of his Committee on Education beyond the high school level for his undemocratic statement regarding raised tuition for college students. The chairman has said that tuitions as high as $1500 per year should not be objected to by parents. Raising tuition is not the way to encourage more high school students to further their education.

3. Be it resolved that the Young Democratic Clubs of Wisconsin condemn Gov. Orval Faubus for his action in the Little Rock integration case.

4. Be it resolved that the Young Democratic Clubs of Wisconsin call for reapportionment on the basis of population for Congress and the State Legislature.

5. Be it resolved that the Young Democratic Clubs of Wisconsin demand that all Senators and Congressman who support the formation of a third party be deprived of committee chairmanships and seniority.

"NIGHT PASSAGE"

IN A BIT OF Hallowe'en hijinks, the Lone Ranger appears to be apprehending a pumpkin thief in the corn patch during the party sponsored by Hathorn Hall women last Thursday.

the Falcon 15. But Shimel held Bengfort on the 16, and River Falls started its touchdown march. The big play in the series was Everson's pass to Neurer that covered 51 yards and gave the Falcons a first down on Mankato's 33. Three ground plays netted another first down on the 22. Everson then completed a screen pass to Sprenger that carried to the two-yard line. Lauber capped the drive by plunging into the end zone on the very next play. Phil LaVenture's place kick made it 7-0 with the clock showing 8:35 left to go in the game.

Highlights of the game, besides the defensive play of Shimel, Koplin, and the always dependable Al Wienke, were the hard running of Frank Sprenger and the fine passing and signal-calling of Everson. Sprenger returned two punts for a total of almost 80 yards.

When sipping season rolls around again in the mint julep circle of Dixie, there's bound to be a heated discussion, 'neath the shade of an old magnolia tree, between two well known southern gentlemen. The principals will be Murray Warmath, a transplanted rebel, and Orville Faubus, governor of the sovereign state or Arkansas.

Warmath, unlike most southern gentlemen, will question Orv's action in the recent crises in Razorbackland. He will point to a gridiron nightmare directly resulting from two emigrants from Governor Faubus' sovereign territory.

It all began, Warmath will relate, in Champaign, Ill., where a youngster by the name of Mitchell caused a certain bowl of roses to wilt considerably. However rigidity has not set in until a week later when a former Little Rock resident—Jim Pace, just about sealed the tomb for Minnesota and their hopes for a West Coast appearance on January 1. Thus in 1957, despite Bobby Cox, Frank Youso, Bernie Bierman, Rollie Johnson, Dick Nesbitt, and Minneapolis Savings and Loan; it seems as though Warmath has failed again.

In the land of Faubus and at Warmath's old "beat" at State College, Mississippi youngsters like Jim Pace and Bob Mitchell are thought of as second class citizens. In Gopherville, where skin coloration is only incidental, they will be remembered as first class football players. Minnesota's "dream" may be over, however, Warmath's "nightmare" may be prolonged. He has yet to face Sid Williams, Wisconsin's colored quarterback from (strangely enough) Little Rock, Arkansas.

The chiggers and mosquitos soon became unbearable and Warmath and Faubus adjourn to a meal of lamb chops and black-eyed peas but the race situation remains.

An opposite correlation was observed among the girls. Opposed to their formation were 31 percent. But 41 percent answered they would join if sororities were organized.

Another question presented was "If these groups are formed should they be affiliated nationally?" Of those favoring them on the local level, 58 percent also desired them on the national level.
