HIGH SCHOOL ORATORICAL CONTEST HERE FRIDAY, MAY 14

FALLS LOSE AT EAU CLAIRE; TRIM LUTHER

Team To Play At Macalaster On Wednesday. Stout Comes Here On Friday

The Red & White nine have played their first two games of the season, and emerged with a record of five hundred. They lost a hard battle with Eau Claire 5-6, and won by showing fine baseball at Luther, 7-3. This week they play two games. They travel to Macalaster on Wednesday, and on Friday, May 14, tackle the ball clouters from Stout. The report of the following games shows what they have done; come out Friday and see for yourself what they can do.

Falls Loses Extra Inning

Game To Eau Claire

The season was opened at Eau Claire April 30 by a good game to watch although the Red & White ended up on the small end of a 5 to 6 score. The coaches decided upon a seven inning game, but the score brought about the extra inning.

The Falls got three scores the first inning, and Eau Claire was unable to even it until the fifth. However, we lost the game in the fifth inning when we had the bases full and no men out. The coach at first called for the squeeze play, but Fogo, who was batting, failed to get the signal. As a result the man coming home was an easy out, and Knerr, coming third, was called out. With two men out the Falls again filled the bases, but "Ade" Olson succeeded in fanning Paulson.

The Falls took the lead again in the sixth, but Eau Claire got the tying score in the seventh.

SIXTEEN MORE TEACHERS PLACED LAST WEEK

Those who have accepted jobs during the last two weeks are: Stella Pederson, Downing Knut Syverud, Ridgeland Hale Quandt, Cuba City Frank Belisle, Nelson Ted Kexel, Cuba City Delward Hendrickson, Hayward Jaunita Slauson, Boscobel Lillian Norris, Prescott Elaine Christianson, Osceola Osborne Attoe, Elcho Evelyn Nelson, Bruce Henry Knoll, Onalaska Grace Martin, Mosinee Caro Tostrud, Richland Center Elizabeth Klein, Hayward Madge Coe, Pine City, Minn.

Norseng Wins First At Inter-State Extemp. Contest

By winning first place in the Inter-State Extemporaneous speaking contest, Marshall Norseng has brought to River Falls the highest honors that it has ever had in the forensic world.

Marshall won the right to represent the Normal schools of Wisconsin at Macomb, Illinois, by competing successfully with the representatives of the other Normal Schools of the state. In the state contest his exceptional ability was recognized by all of the judges, for the decision was unanimous in his favor.

At Macomb, Marshall competed with representatives of three of other four states who are members of the association, Kansas failing to send a representative. Most of the other schools represented were four year teachers' colleges, and Marshall had some misgivings as to the experience that their representatives had had in forensic. Marshall chose to talk on the topic, "Need of Reorganization of Political Parties in Light of Meaning Less of Party Platforms."

He delivered the talk in the well organized, clear-cut, informal manner that is so characteristic of all his extemporaneous work, and won the unanimous favor of the judges.

Educational Day A Real Help To Teachers

Many principals, superintendents, and school boards showed their interest in the educational exhibits which we had here last Friday. Many teachers and supervisors visited the classes which were conducted in the training school as well as in the junior high.

The splendid exhibits were of special interest to those in departmental work. The exhibit of manual training work in the South Hall gym was indeed worthy of special mention.

Then, too, there were special exhibits in the various departments. In history there were many textbooks, maps, outlines, and courses of study on display which were very valuable aids in that department.

Mr. Stratton's geography exhibit was of special interest to the teachers and students of geogra-

Norseng Guest Of Honor At Informal Party

Marshall Norseng, the winning representative of this school at the Inter-State Extemporaneous Speaking Contest, held at Macomb, Illinois, on April 31, was the guest of honor at an informal party given last Thursday night by the three organizations, the Lincolnian, the Aurelia, and the Civic Club.

The program was well arranged and went off with a pep that does credit to the organizations giving it, and speaks well for the regard which these organizations have for "Mish."

The Kow Kollege Kollegians opened the entertainment with some original interpretations of some popular pieces. Then the presidents of each of the three organizations delivered short addresses of appreciation to "Mish" for the honor that he has brought to the school. He replied with one

Although twilight stops the games of the Twilight League after four innings, some interesting matches are being staged twice a week after supper. The games are short and snappy, and contain thrills for those who love to watch both baseball, comedy, and tragedy in less than nine inning lots.

The teams are evenly matched, and will become more so as the season advances and the men become better able to handle the apple as veterans. More and more students are beginning to realize that the old athletic field is the place to spend those two supper hours twice a week. Games start at 6:30 promptly even if some nines are fives at that hour.

OVER TWENTY-FIVE CONTESTANTS COMING

Two Of The Entrants Coached By River Falls' Grads, Miss Chapman And Carlton Ames

Twenty-five contestants representing fifteen different high schools will compete in district public speaking contests in the Normal School auditorium next Friday afternoon and evening. These twenty-five young people, who are to be our guests on that day, are the survivors of two preliminary contests among the high schools of the River Falls district. The winner in each of the four contests to be held will represent the district at the state contests to be held in Madison on May 21.

The extempore speaking and extempore reading contests are to be held in the afternoon beginning at 2:30. New Richmond, Amery, River Falls, Hammond, and Frederic will compete for honors in extempore speaking while New Richmond, River Falls, Hammond, Frederic, Spring Valley, and Spooner will take part in the reading contest. The oratorical and declamatory contests will occur in the evening at 8:15. Amery, Webster, Roberts, Cumberland, Prescott, and Colfax will send orators, while New Richmond, Webster, St. Croix Falls, Hayward, Spring Valley, and Colfax will be represented in the declamatory work.

The extempore speaking and extempore reading contests are much newer than the other two. The reading contest was held last year for the first time, while the extempore speaking contest was

TENNIS TOURNAMENT OFF TO A FLYING START

This year both the single and double tennis tournaments are being played side by side. There are no definite hours of play; each man or team playing their opponents at the most convenient time. However, if the game is not played within a reasonable time, the one holding out is supposed to forfeit the game.

The single's tournament has an enrollment of thirty; while there are fourteen teams in the doubles. In both tournaments the first rounds were supposed to be played by the end of last week. The results of the matches are to be

Extemporaneous speaking is a branch of forensics that requires tireless application, for there is no speech to be learned, and delivered with pleasing intonations. The speaker must have ability to organize the material at hand, think quickly and coherently, must have poise and be at ease on the platform, and above all must have a thorough knowledge of the question and all relative political matters. It is no easy task to win the highest honors than can be accorded to a Normal School student in extemporaneous speaking, and we feel that Marshall more than deserves this honor that he has won for himself and for River Falls.

Elvin Churchill, of Superior, who represented Wisconsin in the oratorical contest, won second place in that contest, thus giving Wisconsin the highest ranking in the Normal forensics of the five states.

MR. MOSER GIVES HELPFUL TALK

Any student who had been living under the illusion that all his work would be over when he got out teaching was sadly disillusioned last week when Mr. Moser, Principal of the Cumberland schools, talked to the graduating class on what he expects of a teacher in his school. He gave the graduating class many helpful pointers, speaking not of class management, but of the general conduct of the teacher—things that are not given in the course of study, but are left to the young teacher to find out from experience. All the students who heard the talk got a few pointers on what to do and what not to do that will help them greatly next year.

Mr. Moser is one of the leading principals in this section of the state, and runs a fine, progressive school at Cumberland.

initiated the year before. In extempore reading the contestants are asked to read from the printed page ten minutes, selections drawn by lot one hour before the contest. In extempore speaking contestants are asked to talk for four minutes on current topics drawn by lot about an hour before the contest. The speeches are to be prepared without aid or material.

One of the features of the evening program will be the appearance of a girl in the oratorical contest. Girls have been eligible for this work for some time but have confined their effort to the declamatory field. This year Miss Mary Catone, of Cumberland, (sister of Ella) won the league contest and will be the first girl to take part in a district contest in oratory at River Falls. Miss Catone has been coached by Miss Catherine Chapman, '25, who represented River Falls Normal at the state oratorical contest in 1924 and 1925, and is using as her oration the one written by Miss Chapman for these contests. The title of her oration is "The Role of American Women." Another of the contestants in oratory has been coached by a member of last year's graduating class, Carleton Ames, who represented River Falls in debate in 1924 and 1925, has coached Edgar Carlson, of Amery, who will deliver an oration on child labor.

The judges for all four contests will be Miss Killough, of La Crosse Normal, Mr. Fox, of Eau Claire Normal, and Mr. Knutzen, of Stevens Point Normal. These people come to River Falls as judges as the result of an arrangement for an exchange of judges which sends Mr. Hanna to Eau Claire, Miss Schlosser to La Crosse, and Mr. Hunt to Stevens Point, for the district contests.

All the contestants will be guests of the Lincolnian and Aurelia at a banquet at the Methodist church parlors at six o'clock. A joint committee from the two societies are making plans to do the thing up right.

An admission of twenty-five cents will be charged for the afternoon and for the evening program. The money received will be used to pay judges' expenses.

The arrangements for the contests are in charge of Mr. Mason, chairman of the district board, and Mr. Mitchell, secretary of the board.

GRADUATION ANNOUNCEMENTS READY FOR SENIORS

The graduation announcements ordered by those who graduate this year have arrived and will be on sale in South Hall after school the rest of this week.

The price of the announcements is six cents each, and all those who ordered them are requested to get them now. If possible, have the exact change.

To those who ordered cards, it can be said that they will be ready for delivery by next week.

Attend to this matter at once, for slackers may be taxed as the company wants the money as soon as possible.

THE Y. M. C. A. RETREAT

This is the time of the year when we all like to cast aside our worries and answer the call of the wild. Last Friday afternoon the desire to get out into the out-of-doors gripped the boys of the old and new cabinets of the Y. M. C. A. With Professor Jacobson, the faculty advisor, and P. N. McKee, state secretary, as master wood-craftsmen, and a goodly supply of camp equipment and food, the boys bid farewell to their books and other school worries and started for the shores of Lake St. Croix for a good old camping trip. Dean Goodrich, a former student of River Falls, also joined the band.

True to the well known symptoms of the out-of-doors, the boys were all seized with ravenous appetites, but Professor Jacobson promptly rose to the occasion with his culinary abilities, and spread a feast so plentiful and appetizing that all abdominal afflictions were soon rendered nil. The tax levied on the larder on each occasion was not a light one as is amply illustrated by Kurt Wennerberg's record stowage of twelve flapjacks on Sunday morning. Several others followed closely with their records.

The party was very fortunate in having such splendid weather during its stay, though teasing clouds blew up at times to add a thrill to the occasion. On the second night, when there seemed no likelihood of bad weather, a terrible storm blew up in the tent. This raged for some time with the result that some of the bedding was removed from the shelter of the tent. It ceased, however, when Mr. Jacobson called to ascertain the next song on the program.

The location of the camp was well adapted to the study of land and rock formations, and the boys spent the daylight hours in visiting the points of scenic interest.

The evening campfire circle, with its songs and stories added immensely to the enjoyment of the party.

The Sunday afternoon session was a very impressive occasion. This was opened with the singing of a number of songs and short prayers. Each of the fellows gave a short talk on "What the Y. M. C. A. Means to Me." Mr. McKee and Professor Jacobson gave an outline of the work for the coming year.

The last few hours sped by rapidly. Before the day seemed scarcely begun the late dinner was over and packing for the homeward trip was begun. Everyone cooperated cheerfully in the task, and the entire camp equipment was soon packed up in the long precipitous role and loaded into the cars. Soon the entire party was at their respective homes in River Falls, but all were too tired to turn to studies that evening.

of his characteristic extemporaneous speeches which have brought him such fame. After the conclusion of the more formal part of the program, the chairs were pushed back to clear the floor for some regular have-a-good-time dancing. Fox trots, waltzes, and square dances followed one another in rapid succession until happy weariness had forced the merry-makers to desist from their frolic long enough to partake of a most refreshing luncheon.

Marshall stood up under the strain remarkably well, considering that his talents line alone line of speech making rather than that of conventional athletics.

G. A. A. ACTIVITIES

All the G. A. A. girls who have earned their sweaters this year must hand in their points before May 15.

Definite plans for the week-end camping trip are being made. Two lodges are being considered, but the place, time and cost for the trip have not been settled. All G. A. A. girls should plan to go. Leave your name with Miss Smith when you have decided to go.

The G. A. A. masquerade dance held last Thursday evening in South Hall gym was attended by a comparatively small number of girls.

The gym was very prettily decorated with spring flowers and plants. Many of the costumes were exceptionally clever and deceiving. About half of the girls were dressed as men; so there was no lacking in any respect. Everyone responded with lots of pep. All the G. A. A. girls who were present reported a splendid evening.

MR. GOBLE AGAIN ILL

Mr. Goble has been compelled to give up his classes for the remainder of the year because of illness. He was absent the first term of the school year, but returned at the beginning of the second term to take up light work again. The task has been too much, however, and he was forced to leave for the remainder of the year. The students hope that he will be back at school next year, feeling much better after the summer's rest.

Other teachers have taken over Mr. Goble's classes, and will conduct them for the remaining weeks of the school year.

"POLLY WITH A PAST" TO CUMBERLAND

The cast of "Polly With a Past" is taking the play to Cumberland Friday night. They have received many requests to take the play out of town, but this is the first trip that has been definitely decided upon so far. The success of this performance will no doubt determine whether the business venture will be carried further.

MR. MITCHELL VISITING SURROUNDING H. S.

Mr. Rexford Mitchell has been given a three weeks' leave of absence from his classes to go out and talk to the graduating classes of the high schools of this section. He has already visited many of the high schools, and interested many of the students in River Falls.

This and that

John Burke left for Eau Claire to be assistant boy's and girl's club leader for the summer.

See Stout Play, Friday

At the business meeting of the Inter-Normal Forensic League the official resignation of Kansas was accepted, and it was voted to invite the normal schools of Minnesota and South Dakota to enter the league.

Falls and Stout Clash Friday

Footsteps are no longer a disturbing factor in the library since the new flooring has been put down. Chairs no longer scrape across the hardwood floor, no heels beat a rapid tattoo as some student hurries across the library. It is really quite an improvement.

The mixed chorus of the local high school upheld the traditions of River Falls by placing second at the State High School music contest at Madison last week. The Men's Glee Club, after having won only second place in the district contest, placed the same in the State Contest.

The high school is well organized again, and all the classes are in full swing. Many of the classes are being held here at Normal in the rooms that were not being used much before. The class periods run on a schedule which differs from the normal classes, and there is no confusion whatever in going to and from classes.

Good Game Friday Afternoon

Dr. Drake, who conducted the chest clinic in this town last Thursday and Friday, gave an account of the health work carried on against tuberculosis and told of the efforts which are being made to prevent this disease. His talk was given in a pleasing style and was appreciatively listened to by the entire assembly.

THE JOINT PICNIC

Yesterday afternoon, as soon as the classes were over, a large part of the student body piled into cars and went out to the monument for the annual Joint Picnic. Games of kitten ball kept everyone occupied, and helped work up healthy appetites. Mr. Jacobson was chief chef, and after the crowd had all the squaw corn, sandwiches and coffee that they could hold they turned to the pleasant task of the ice cream, without which no picnic can hope to be a success. No casualties have been reported and everyone had a wonderful time.

J. H. S. LATIN PLAY

The Latin play given by the Junior High School students in assembly recently was cleverly worked out and well presented. Those in the audience who had ever been through the joys of trying to learn the fundamentals of latin grammar especially appreciated the clever puns, the trials of the young latin student, and the horror of the latin characters. The Junior High students are a fine bunch of actors, and they and Miss Bird deserve a great deal of credit for the production of such a fine play.

FIELD DAY PROVES WORTH OF AG. DEPT.

Friday, May 7, was a big day for the Ags. On this day all Seniors and some other members of the department gave demonstrations and put on exhibits. The demonstrations and exhibits this year were exceptionally good, giving those present a proof to many facts that they merely believed, but had never seen before. The value renewed by the exhibitors and demonstrators is also unestimable, because it gave them a thorough knowledge of the subject and gave them practice in talking to a group of people.

The crop demonstrations that were carried on in North Hall gym were excellently given. Of the three demonstrations put on there, the alfalfa demonstration was given first place. The team of demonstrators, consisted of Donald Brownson and Victor Peterson of the dairy demonstrations, the fitting and showing demonstration took first place. The team members were Mr. Hendrickson and Mr. Begley—of the mechanics demonstration took first place. The demonstrators being Louis Cerevana and Harold Elwardson. After the demonstrations took place, the entire normal herd was shown. They were fitted and shown by students of the department. The showing was very good.

Things then adjourned until 6:00 p. m., when the annual agricultural banquet was given in the normal cafeteria. After enjoying a real feed, several talks were given. The talk given by Mr. Miller, principal of the U. of Wis. high school, was certainly appreciated by all present. He talked about the faults, merits, and experiments that are being conducted in our educational circles of today.

His talk was followed by a talk by Mr. Sasman, State Supervisor of Agriculture. Then Mr. Emery of the Wisconsin Experimental Station gave a talk which amused everyone because of the wit it displayed.

From the standpoint of the Ags, this made up the entire day, and though a lot of work was required in preparation for the day, the Ags. all greet this day as one of their very best and biggest days.

EDUCATIONAL DAY

phy. Judging from the way the courses of study disappeared he had a goodly number of visitors.

The exhibits in the North Hall gym were also very good. Here the Ag. students showed how a real farm should be run.

Throughout the various rooms in North Hall the primary, intermediate grades were demonstrations of excellent character.

Perhaps the best of the entire program was the speaking of the evening. Mr. Sasman, the first speaker, gave a short, but pointed talk on the needs for improvement of the rural situation, while all usually think of this condition as being rather far fetched from our immediate needs. Mr. Sasman quoted figures which proved what he said about nearby communities.

Mr. Miller of the University of Wisconsin High School won the attention and appreciation of his audience. His conception of our present day educational system tends to make us realize that there is a great need for some real educators in this field.

Much of the success of the educational day is due to Mr. Davison for having obtained such worthwhile speakers for the Educational Program.

FALLS LOSES AT EAU CLAIRE; TRIMS LUTHER

At the opening of the eighth Fisher got on bases because of an error, and after two men had fouled out, was brought home by Quandt's two-bagger. Eau Claire came back and scored the fatal two scores and won the game.

It was a very good game with Eau Claire never in the lead except in the final eighth.

Luther Vanquished 7-3

Saturday the nine clashed with Luther there, and came home victorious after a good game. The squad showed good baseball and fine team work. They had only four errors chalked against them. They cornered twelve hits while Luther succeeded in getting only seven.

Paulson pitched a steady game for the first six innings, and retired from the box with the score 5-2 in our favor. Up to this time we had scored twice in the first inning, and once each in the fourth, fifth, and sixth. Luther got one in the fourth and one in the sixth.

It looks like the team needs batters. Lots of chance to make the team if you can bat.

When Wagner first went in things looked bad for a time. With one man out they scored a run, and had a man on second and third. A hit meant a tie score. Keller was at bat. He clouted the ball which proved to be a Texas leaguer over short, and both men on bases started for home. Things looked every thing like a tie score. King, playing left field, raced in, picked it off at full speed, and Quandt doubled the play at second. This ended the inning with the score 5-3 in our favor.

Wagner settled down, and Luther could only get two hits, and never endangered the Falls again. We scored twice in the eighth.

Gibson, after making a poor fly out the first time up to bat, changed hands, and secured three good hits lefthanded. Luther played a good game, but lost their chance by the play in the seventh inning. They promise to give us a nice battle when they come here.

NINETEEN JOURNEY TO APPLETON

Tomorrow morning at four o'clock, at least nineteen of the River Falls students and faculty members will start for Appleton to attend the State Student Conference there. They plan to drive over, Mr. Jacobson, Mr. Younggren, Berton Karges, Sid Overby, and Jensen each taking a load. The conference lasts until Sunday evening, and the group plans to stay until after the closing meeting, and to arrive back here in time for eight o'clock classes Monday morning. Mr. Jacobson also
