WSC Profs Teach Classes in 56 Cities

One night each week, professors from the Wisconsin State Colleges drive a total of more than 5,000 miles to conduct their classes in 56 cities throughout the state, the central office in Madison reports.

The evening extension courses enable teachers and others working full time to earn up to one-fourth of the credits required for graduation from a State College. Classes are organized at the request of county or city school officials or groups of teachers. They range in size from 15 to 48 and usually are held in school buildings in communities within an hour's drive of the State College offering the course.

Similar evening courses and Saturday morning classes also are conducted at the Colleges, to serve people of the area. Fees paid by the students cover the cost of the extension program. Total extension enrollment is 3,392.

While the professors are driving to the extension classrooms, their students are converging from other communities, with the result that a "home town" roll call would include many more than the 56 cities where the classes are held, according to Eugene R. McPhee, Director of State Colleges.

A wide range of courses is offered. The Oshkosh program, for example, includes evening classes in mathematics at Coleman, Hartford, Juneau, Oconto and Columbus, classes in geography at Sheboygan Falls and Sturgeon Bay, and classes in education at Gillett, Preble, Menasha and Kaukauna.

Convocation Will Begin Homecoming

The 1963 Homecoming events will get under way tonight with the PIONEER PRESS kick-off convocation at 8 p.m. in North Hall Auditorium.

Skits of seven campus organizations will be presented. Those organizations represented in the skit contest will be Prucha Hall, Sigma Tau Epsilon, Stratton Hall, Kappa Theta, Phi Nu Chi, Vet's Club and the Freshman Class. A Homecoming button is the price of admission.

The next big event of Homecoming week will be the "Queen's Ball" to be held Wednesday night at 7:30 in the Student Center. The queen candidates will be introduced and music will be provided by the Mystics, a band from the Twin Cities. Admission to the informal dance is 25¢ and one Homecoming button.

A pancake eating contest will be held at 5 p.m. Thursday in the Student Center. There is no admission to the contest and the prize is a free ticket to the Homecoming dance.

At 8 p.m. Thursday night Kangaroo Kourt will be in session in North Hall Auditorium. Again

New Student Senators

WINNERS in the recent Senatorial elections were Mary McEwen, sophomore from River Falls and Ken Lee, sophomore from Durand. They will take their places with the Senate tonight.

Dr. Chisholm Writes Satirical Essay

"The Chisholm Effect," a satire written by Francis P. Chisholm, head of the college's English department, has been included in the book "A Stress Analysis of Strapless Evening Gown and Other Essays for a Scientific Age." The book, a collection of satirical essays, was edited by Robert A. Baker. Chisholm's satire was originally published in "Motive" magazine under the title "Chisholm's Laws," and was illustrated with cartoons drawn by James Crane, former head of the River Falls State College art department.

Three poems written by Stephen Parker, a new member of the River Falls State College English department, will appear in the 1964 summer issue of the "North American Review." The "Review" is a magazine of fiction, poetry and criticism. Several other poems by Ward have been accepted by "Statements," a literary magazine published in Chicago and by the "Iowa Chapbook."

International Meet Attracts 11 Students

Several members of the River Falls State College Foreign Students Assn. participated in the annual New Richmond international weekend, Sept. 27 to 29. Attending the weekend's activities were: Hashem Amini, Iraj Amir Arjomand, Dan MacFarlane, Fred McKenzie, Faramarz Moatter, Faramarz Salmassi, John Bruce, Irene Woo and Rolf Derikartz. Mir Massood Seyedin and Bruce Bohlool were present on Saturday.

When asked what they felt was the highlight experience of the entire weekend, most of the students who took part selected the panel discussion presented on Friday evening, September 27.

Journalists from all over the world joined some of the New Richmond citizens in a panel discussion on many topics of international interest. A large audience had the opportunity to hear candid views and differing national attitudes on such timely subjects as segregation, civil rights, foreign aid, the Peace Corps and feelings of other countries toward the United States.

The discussion was moderated by Dr. E. Ziebarth and panel members from the New Richmond area included Sen. Robert Knowles, Mr. and Mrs. William McNally, Mr. M. Sather, Superintendent of Schools McKenna, and the commander in charge of the NIKE base near Roberts.

After the two hour panel exchange had concluded, interest had been generated to the point that the main audience body broke up spontaneously into several smaller groups which drifted on into private homes to carry on their discussions.

Saturday was social day for the "Weekenders." A noon luncheon was given by the Women's Club of New Richmond. An afternoon soccer game between Macalaster and River Falls students was played, but hampered to a considerable extent by bad weather. The New Richmond Chamber of Commerce and Kiwanis Club hosted the visitors for their evening meal.

New Richmond citizens turned out to fill the house for the International Talent Show staged by the foreign students on Saturday night. Amid varied and colorful native costumes of many lands, the audience got a glimpse of forms of entertainment characteristic of the homelands of the guests.

Iraj Amir Arjomand acted as Master of Ceremonies. Two Macalaster students presented a Korean piano number and a British-Columbian vocal selection.

Collegiate Swine Sale Scheduled

A swine sale will be held Wednesday, Oct. 9, at 8 p.m. of 30 performance-tested purebred boars and gilts. The sale will be held at the Wisconsin State College livestock pavilion here.

Thirty purebred boars and a limited number of purebred gilts will be sold at the auction.

Performance-tested hogs are hogs that have been tested on their rates of weight gain, feed conversion, litter size, depth of back fat and percentage of lean cut.

The hogs that will go on sale are the littermates of those hogs that received high ratings at the Northwest Wisconsin Swine Testing Station at Mondovi, Wisconsin.

Senate To Act On Budget

Advisors Present Requests

By BETTY MUNZ
Voice Staff Writer

Faculty advisors of eight departments met with the Student Senate last Monday evening to discuss budgets for the 1963-64 school year. The advisor of a ninth department, who could not attend, sent a letter explaining that budget.

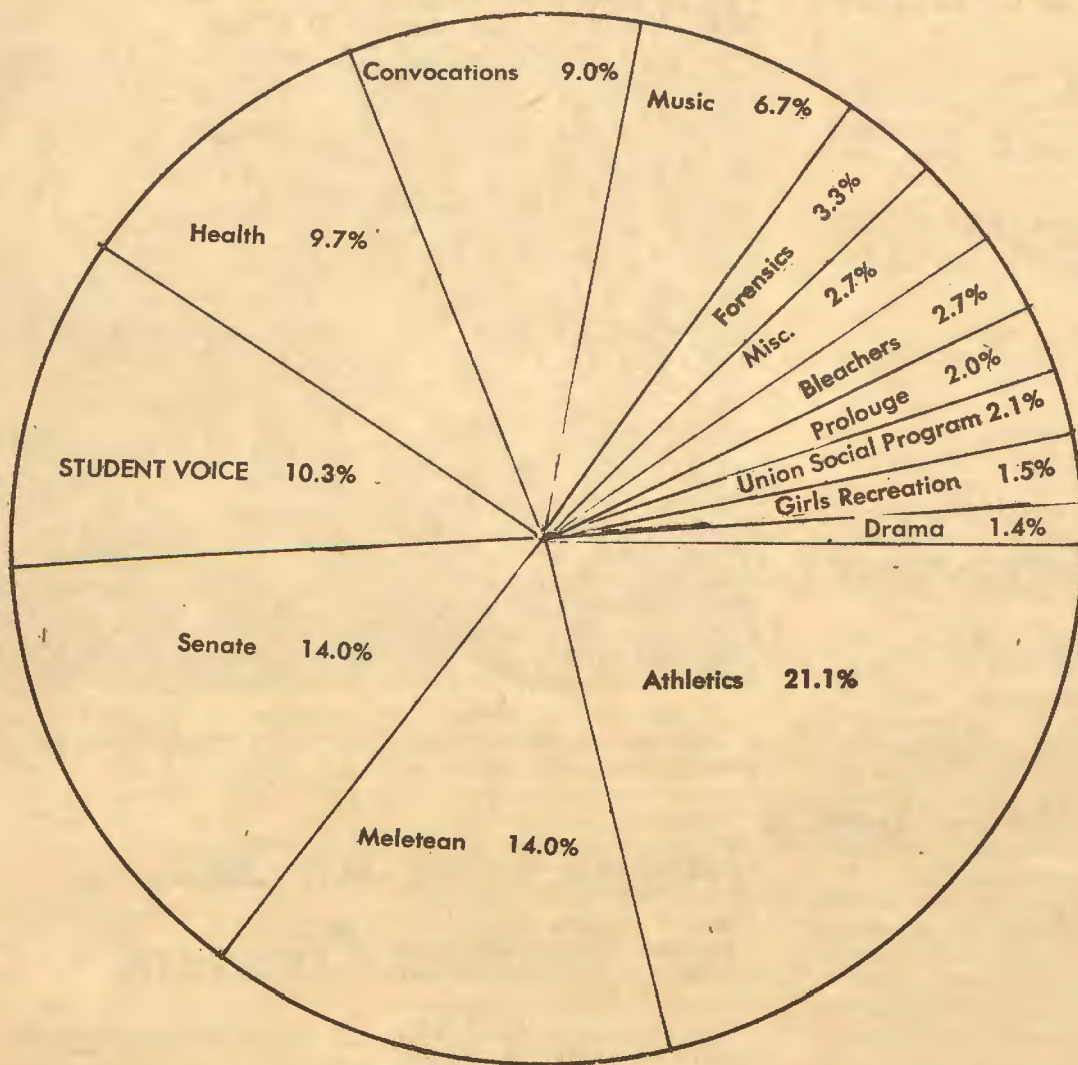

One of the greatest increases in the proposed budgets of some of the departments is that of funds for traveling expenses.

Representing the athletic department was Owen (Ben) Bergsrud. He expressed need for an increase because the state conference swim meet will be held at River Falls this year. Certain improvements will have to be made in the natatorium in order to host this event.

In addition, more funds are needed for traveling groups, he said. With the increase in games away from home, traveling expenses are increased. Bergsrud also expressed a desire to equalize traveling funds allotted for the different areas of sports. He stated, "We feel that if we can't equalize in some of these areas, we'll have to drop some."

The next advisor to appear before the Senate was Dr. William Abbott, of the music department. He stated the need for funds for a band and chorus tour. Dr. Abbott said that other state colleges are currently planning music tours. Eau Claire State plans to go to New York, and Stevens Point is planning a tour to the Mardi Gras at New Orleans, he said.

The last tour made by a group from the music department of River Falls was to Winnipeg in 1962. Dr. Abbott hopes to take a company of approximately 200 persons to either the Mardi Gras or the Chicago Band Clinic. Appearances would be made enroute to help cover expenses, he said.

A program for this tour would be published consisting of pictures of River Falls music department and campus, advertising and the program of selections presented by the group.

Dr. Abbott said he is confident that a successful tour could be conducted, with an increase in the budget. He stated, however, "If I have to charge one student in order to go, I'm not interested in touring."

Speaking for the Concert and Lectures Committee was Dr. Richard Darr. He requested al-

Final OK May Come Tonight

By JOHN CEGIELSKI
Voice Editor

The Senate tonight is expected to pass a record budget totaling $67,000. The Senate Budget Committee will make budget allotment recommendations to the full Senate for the 1963-64 year. This year's budget represents about a $9,500 increase over last year's which total $57,500.

The Budget Committee which is composed of Senators Larry Feltes, Gene Smith and Hampton Wilnot has been deliberating all week over the requests sought by the organizations. The organization faculty advisors made their requests last week before the Senate.

The requests this year totaled $74,745. However, only $67,000 was available to allocate, so the Senate automatically had to cut at least $7,000 in order to avoid an unbalanced budget.

The money which is allocated comes from the $13 activity fee which every student pays each quarter.

After the committee makes its report tonight the entire Senate will deliberate and then vote. If the budget passes it will then go to President Kleinpell for his final approval. The president has tentatively given his approval to the committee's recommendations.

Groups and activities which had balances from last year's budgets will be allowed to carry them over in addition to their 63-64 allotments.

Mrs. Paterek Lectures For 2nd Year on TV

"It's the first time it has been done in this country and we expect many others to follow suit," Dr. Josephine Paterek of the English department said in explaining an educational television program established for student nurses.

The program, "Video Nursing Education," which is aired every Tuesday and Thursday at 12:30 p.m. on KTCA-TV, Channel 2, has been established to provide a communications curriculum for students nurses in the St. Paul area. The course is a combination of English and speech comparable to the Freshman English courses offered at River Falls. This is Dr. Paterek's second year of conducting the course.

Dr. Paterek's half-hour lectures are taped at KTCA studios and later viewed by approximately 250 students from the five participating hospitals--Abbott, Northwestern, Mounds Midway, St. Mary's and St. Barnabas.

"Follow-ups" come on Tuesday. Miss Paterek visits each hospital to answer questions and give tests, but mainly, she emphasizes, "it is for the purpose of becoming acquainted and establishing the feeling that it's not just a picture."

The half-hour programs which will continue through March are being closely watched by nursing educators all over the country, according to Dr. Paterek. She said that the nursing profession is faced with a serious lack of qualified teachers.

"This program solves one of their problems," she continued, adding that instead of hiring five professors, "they can afford to hire just one with a doctor's degree."

Besides the economy to the schools and their subsequent ability to provide more qualified instructors, the video method of teaching conserves student time and money and offers a standardized course to all hospitals

Master's Program Approved

The master's degree program at Wisconsin State College at River Falls has been granted preliminary accreditation by the North Central Assn. of Colleges and Secondary Schools, Eugene R. McPhee, director of State Colleges, announced Friday.

North Central's commission on colleges and universities gave preliminary approval to the graduate programs of six State Colleges--those at Eau Claire, La Crosse, Oshkosh, Stevens Point and Whitewater, as well as River Falls.

Presidents of the six colleges were interviewed by the commission last Monday in Chicago. Last spring each college submitted a "self study" report to North Central, defining objectives and briefly analyzing the program. In July, a three-man team representing North Central made two-day visits to the colleges.

President E. H. Kleinpell of River Falls State College, chairman of the State College Council of Presidents, said Friday that the master's degree has become increasingly important in the teaching field. The State College program, he said, is designed to strengthen the background of experienced teachers.

River Falls offered its new graduate program, leading to a degree of master science in teaching, for the first time in the summer of 1963. Before that time, classroom teachers could take some summer graduate courses in the College's summer sessions and then complete their work and receive their degrees at the University of Wisconsin summer sessions.

In commenting on North Central's approval, McPhee said, "This is a very important step forward for the State Colleges and for all Wisconsin high schools and elementary schools. It gives recognition to our new co-operative graduate program to enable classroom teachers throughout the state to add to their knowledge and skills and to earn master's degrees at State College summer sessions.

"This program would not have been possible," the State College director continued, "Without the

Changes We Need

In his recent visit to the River Falls campus, Gov. Reynolds conveyed the fact that he is evidently a man of great conviction and stick-to-it-ness. Reynolds, in his luncheon address to student and faculty dignitaries, used the same statistics, pleas and puns which he tossed at the crowd of students that attended his speech in the Little Theater during the autumn of 1962 when he was hard on the campaign trail in the Big Badger Battle with Republican Philip Kuehn--remember him?

Particularly interesting to note was his reference to his conviction that there is too much waste occurring in local governments in the state, and indeed, that there are too many local governments. One of his oft-used poignant points is that there are 252 units of government in Dane County (Wisconsin) alone.

There are too many county board members going to too many road equipment factories, where the board members eat too many steaks and eventually spend too many dollars on too many pieces of equipment.

There are too many county courthouses which were originally established when not too many people had automobiles, and therefore needed a central courthouse that they could reach in a single day's journey via horse and buggy.

In today's modern, up-to-date world, he finds, there are too many outmoded agencies that drain away too many of the taxpayers' tax monies.

Although The VOICE does not usually agree with too many things the Governor does and (or) doesn't do, Reynolds has, in this instance, an extremely well-taken and important point.

There ARE too many units of government in the state. Precious money is being siphoned from the taxpayers' pocketbooks. Reorganization of government can be accomplished without destroying the fundamental closeness of local government to the population.

It is hoped, therefore, that both Democrat and Republican legislators will see fit to act favorably on the Governor's proposal. If he keeps talking about it in every speech, year after year, they just might.

The Wheat Deal

Currently in the wake of the news in the possibility of the United States granting export licenses to businessmen to sell some surplus wheat to the Soviet Union. A group of United States grain traders have tried to work out such a deal with Russia in Ottawa, Canada. They are presently awaiting the green light which must be given such a venture by President Kennedy.

Because of the request, the government's policy on exporting surplus agricultural products which are subsidized has been under review by high government officials in both the department of state and commerce.

Our present policy is not to ship subsidized agricultural products to communist countries, although since 1957 we have authorized the export of some commodities to Poland and Yugoslavia as part of our national policy of encouraging friendly relations between these two countries and ourselves.

If the export license is granted, we are told that certain restrictions would have to be met in the sale agreement. These are:

- 1) Payment for such goods must be in United States dollars or currency convertible to United States dollars.
- 2) A commitment must be obtained from the importer in the block country that the commodity will not be re-exported to another country without the expressed approval of the United States government.
- 3) No barter transaction (goods exchanged for goods) would be involved.

More important, however, is the fact that the sales of surplus commodities would be at the prevailing world price. This would indeed be a complete reversal of our policy, except for the Poland and Yugoslavia exceptions.

The current world price for wheat is between $1.75 and $1.80 a bushel. The government is currently subsidizing the price of wheat around $2.30 a bushel.

The debate on the question is now on and our national representatives are voicing their opinions strongly. One representative has said the administration will OK the licenses because it is the humanitarian thing to do. Another has said we should not sell the wheat because the "deal makes a mockery of the noble and costly struggle we have made against the Communists."

The administration's decision is due any day now and whichever way the decision goes, it will become a major plank of American foreign policy and an item which will cause a good bit of discussion, especially during next year's political campaigns which are soon to get underway.

Dates, Cast All Set For Thurber Carnival

The dates of production and the cast for "A THURBER CARNIVAL," a review with music, have been set by Masquers. The review written by the late James Thurber will be presented in the Little Theatre from Oct. 28, thru Nov. 2. Sanford Syse, new member of the River Falls speech faculty will direct the show. Syse last taught at the University of Illinois.

Involved in the production of the comedy are the talents of several veterans in college theatre as well as some new faces. Alphabetically listed they are:

Dennis Baston, freshman from Balsam Lake.

Thomas Bauman, freshman from Watertown.

Franklin Blodgett, junior from Boyceville.

Thomas Brucks, a senior from Elm Grove.

David Gilstad, a junior from Eau Claire.

Mavis Grover, a senior from Nekoosa.

Judi Hilstead a freshman from Spring Valley.

Barbara Kepner, a freshman from Cannon Falls, Minn.

Nolan Smith, a sophomore from Ellsworth.

The show has a musical accompaniment which underscores the entire action. The musical portion of the production will be provided by William Abbott and Robert Samarotto, both members of the music department at River Falls. Also in the combo will be Gordon Myers, freshman from St. Paul Park, Minn.

Eau Claire sends professors to teach western civilization classes at Bloomer and Withee and has other classes at several other cities. The college at River Falls has classes at Osceola, Turtle Lake and Cumberland, and La Crosse offers extension courses at Elroy, Viroqua and Blair.

NEW RICHMOND STUDENT GIVES STONE TO BIOLOGY DEPARTMENT

Jackie Stefonek, senior from New Richmond, has given Dr. Martin Laakso of the biology department a stone once used by a dinosaur to grind its food. The stone, a gastrolith, was used by a dinosaur in the same way that a chicken uses gravel in its stomach, Dr. Laakso said. Stefonek found the stone on a mountain in Montana.

Work Scheduled to Start On North Hall Parking Lot

Work is to start soon on a new campus parking lot for faculty and official visitors of the college. The lot, located next to the east side of North Hall, occupies the former playground for the campus school and is presently being used as a faculty parking lot.

Since the campus school has been relocated southeast of the library, that space is now available for parking.

Dr. E. H. Kleinpell, President of the College, initiated the action to provide more permit parking space. Neil Barron, chief engineer, assumed responsibility for working out the details.

Barron said that this is the first time the College will have off-the-street parking facilities near the administration offices. Now, he added, official visitors will be able to park near where they usually make initial contact with the College.

Barron indicated that certain stalls will be designated as spaces for the College guests, department heads and academic deans.

Plans have been made to get the lot graded and curbed. Crushed rock will be spread this fall. Paving is to be done later.

A hedge now extending from the driveway to the northeast corner of the lot will be transplanted to the south edge of the new lot. Curbing will be installed on the north and east boundaries.

The lot is to have a 50-car capacity when finished.

Playground equipment has been moved to the southwest corner of the new campus school.

The lot was first used for vehicles this summer, when construction companies engaged in the North Hall renovation, were able to park their equipment near where they were working.

a need for funds for attending meets in other areas. Another factor is the annual high school debate meet held at the College.

One of the expenditures in the budget of the theater department, as explained by Dr. Blanche Davis, is money for costume rental. Several productions are anticipated throughout the year, including a Shakespeare production sometime next spring.

Representing the STUDENT VOICE was Donald Brod. He said that because the editor's salary is being paid by the Senate rather than from the student assistant fund, an increase in the budget was inevitable. An increase was also necessary because of the enlargement of the VOICE, although a savings per page has been made because of the off-set process in printing.

Walter Bunge, in behalf of the Meletean, reported that an increase over last year has been made in the number of year-books printed, thus increasing the budget.

A letter was then read from Miss Marilyn Hinson of the WRA, who could not attend the hearing. She indicated an increase in the budget for the annual swim show sponsored by the Synco-Paters.

The last hearing of the evening was that of the Prologue, represented by Louis Tyler. Some of the anticipated expenses, in addition to printing costs, are an art and essay contest and a short story contest.

In other matters, it was announced that there is a vacancy on the Library and Archives Committee. Any student who is interested in serving on this committee is asked to attend the Senate meeting tonight at 6:30 in Room 200 of the Student Center.

Anyone who wishes to apply for a position on the Social Committee should attend that committee's meeting instead of the Senate meeting, as previously announced. The social Committee meets at 6 p.m. in the Falcon Room.

There has been some interest lately in a course in parliamentary procedure, according to President Larry Feltes. A study will be made to determine student interest in the proposed course.

The River Falls Panamanian and Iranian students displayed their native costumes and folk songs. Faramarz Salmassi featured with harmonica and vocal solos.

Through "Dance of the Spring Wind," a classical Chinese piano selection, Irene Woo represented her Hong Kong culture. To conclude the evening's performance River Falls students appropriately led the audience in the singing of "Getting to Know you."

Miss Marion Hawkins, adviser to the Foreign Students Association on campus, accompanied River Falls students to New Richmond.

At 9:45 a.m. Friday, classes will be dismissed and the events of the day will begin with the sophomore vs. freshmen tug-of-war at 10 a.m.

The pepfest and bonfire will begin at 7 p.m. at Ramer Field. At this time the Homecoming Queen will also be announced and crowned by last year's queen, Mrs. Mary McDonald. The coaches will introduce the football players.

The events will be followed by a snake dance through town and the pepfest dance in the Student Center at 9, sponsored by the Greek Letter Council.

The Homecoming parade is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. Saturday through downtown River Falls. All units for the parade must be in place by 9:30 or they will be disqualified.

At 1:30 p.m. the Falcon football team will attempt to "press the pioneers" from Platteville. The results of the contests held during the week (skits, lawn and window displays, float and Homecoming Queen) will be announced during the halftime of the game.

Following the game will be the annual alumni reception, sponsored by the Alumni Relations Committee, the Foundation Committee and the Homecoming Committee. The reception will be held in the Student Center and all alumni, seniors and faculty members are invited to attend.

Bringing Homecoming week to a close will be the Homecoming Dance at 9 p.m. Saturday in Karges Center. Music will be by Sonny Raye Orchestra. Advance tickets are $2 but $2.50 will be charged at the door.

ATTENTION SENIORS!

All members of the senior class must take their pictures to the Meletean office by Dec. 1 if the pictures are to appear in the Meletean.

TEA WAS SERVED in the lobby of Karges Center after a AWS meeting last week Thursday evening. Mrs. James Roy, an alumnae of the College was the featured speaker.

Harriers Drubbed in Second Straight Loss; 15-45

The River Falls crosscountry team suffered their second consecutive loss of the season on a beautiful, sunny, Saturday in La Crosse. The score was not to beautiful however from River Falls' point of view. The Falcons were clobbered 15-45.

The Indians pranced over the three mile course in La Crosse's Myric park to take the first five places in the meet. La Crosse's Draws took first place with a time of 17:18.

Oscar Skoug, a mainstay of the Falcon harriers for the past several years was sixth for the top finish of a River Falls' man. Dick Armbruster and Mike Callies also ran for River Falls.

Next week the Falcons will seek their first win in two years in a meet at Stillwater.

FROM WHERE WE SIT . . .

They said it couldn't be done, but the Dodgers did it. By taking four straight from the once seemingly invincible Yanks, they not only took the World Series, but also proved a certain Sports writer (Don Riley of the St. Paul Pioneer Press) to be full of hot air.

Now that the intramural football program is beginning its third full week, I believe it is about time for a few of the referees to get together and compromise a set of rules governing play. I understand there is such a "set of rules" in effect, but from the way they have been interpreted in recent games, "this set of rules" truly must be regarded as mythical or a figment of some optimist's imagination.

It is encouraging to see that this year's intramural football program has been so well accepted by the students. There have been very few forfeits compared with last year.

It is hoped that this same spirit can be carried into the basketball and softball programs.

This year's cheerleaders seem to have the spirit and know-how we like to see, but the cheering on the whole could be improved if the cheerleaders would do two things: first, get closer to ALL the fans by moving along the field and in front of the various sections of the stands instead of just staying in one place throughout the entire game: Secondly, by ending the cheers with the same enthusiasm and promptness with which they began.

If you remember, last year there was cheering competition between the dorms at football games. It seemed to go over pretty well. We hope this will be continued.

As long as we're on the subject of River Falls' cheering, we may as well keep going. It was heard remarked at the Eau Claire football game by a high school student, "The cheering is really dead."

We can't blame the cheerleaders for it this year. Contrary to popular opinion, any lack or deficiency of cheering at River Falls' games is primarily the fault of the STUDENT BODY and not the cheerleaders.

We understand that some of the cheerleaders are introducing cheers to the group. These new cheers are needed.

The Kegler's Hop which was held last Thursday evening was a huge success and netted over $45.00 toward the purchasing of uniforms. This is enough for slightly more than half of the needed uniforms. It is indeed a shame, however, that a college athletic team has to work for its own uniforms. Doesn't bowling rate with the other sports on campus?

Game Breaks Open With Late TD Trade

River Falls stalked off with a 12-9 victory Saturday night over the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee on Shorewood High School field in a Wisconsin State College Conference battle that was jam-packed with final period action.

For fleeting moments 3,000 rooters saw UWM go ahead 9-6 on a 11 yard touchdown pass from Dick Baker to Dave Roventini.

Four plays later, however, the Cardinals fumbled a Ted Ragatz punt. Reno Rizzo recovered for River Falls on the Falcon 47 yd. line and on the first play full-back Jim Baier broke loose off right tackle and went all the way. The Cardinals had worked all week on stopping this very type of play.

On second down after the next kickoff, the Cardinals connected on a 52 yard pass to the Falcons 25 yd. line but four more desperation passes failed in this last threat. An alert Falcon pass defense held UW-M to only 9 completions out of 23 attempts.

Baier, once again the Falcon's leading ground gainer, scored the River Falls first touchdown with a 21 yd. sprint around right end. The play climaxed an 80 yd. march as the Falcons seemed bent on doing it the hard way. This march had been interrupted when 50 yd. run by Baier over the goal was recalled because of an offside penalty. River Falls outrushed UW-M 200 yards to 39 yards.

Late in the second period, UW-M got possession on the Falcon seven when River Falls tried a pass from punt formation but had an illegal man down field. After three line plays gained only two yards, Roventini kicked a field goal from the twelve.

The third period resolved itself into a punting duel, but things perked up promptly in the final quarter in UW-M's favor when the Cardinals blocked Chuck Madsen's punt and recovered the ball on the 32 yd. line to set up a UW-M touchdown and lead. A double-pass play brought the ball to the Falcon two.

The Cardinals lost yardage on the next two plays before quarterback Dick Baker hit Roventini in the end zone. Roventini's kinck failed.

Hardly had the cheers subsided when the Cardinals fumbled and Baier got off his 53 yard run. The victory was the third for River Falls, all in conference action. UW-M is now 1-1-1 in the conference and 1-2-1 overall.

The River Falls rushing attack accounted for the bulk of the Falcon gains. Gwynn Christensen's team ran for a net gain of 200 yards. This was contrasted by the meager net gain of 39 yards gained by the Cardinal rushers.

Alert secondary defense resulted in the Falcons intercepting one enemy pass and held UW-M to only 36 percent success on pass completions. In contrast to this, the River Falls passers completed 8 of 15 attempts for 53 percent.

These are the results of the action in the WSCC which took place last Saturday.

River Falls 12; UW-Milwaukee 9. Eau Claire 19; Oshkosh 13. Steven Point 20; La Crosse 0. Whitewater 35; Stout 0. Superior 13; Platteville 0

ACTION FROM THE PLATTEVILLE Game of last year. Exciting action is in store as the Falcons and the Pioneers go at it again this Saturday.

Crucial I-M Games Slated

by Mark Anderson

Two teams in each of the intramural football leagues remained undefeated through last weeks action and will meet this week in games that may decide the respective league championships.

Unbeaten May 1st, with five wins under its belt, takes on Prior 4-0, this afternoon at 5 p.m. in the feature game of the Dorm League. In the Campus League, the powerful Ineligibles tangle with co-leader Rec's Reck. The tilt is scheduled for Ramer Field Tuesday afternoon with the victor probably destined to capture the league title. Both squads sport 4-0 records.

In last week's action May 1st overpowered Cegielski's Shysters 20-7, and nipped a stubborn Tappa Kegga Dae team 13-12. In play against the Shysters, May 1st quarterback Mark Hostland, fired touchdown passes to Fred Johnson and Duane Fanzler, and tallied the third score on a ten yard scamper of his own.

In battling Tappa Kegga Dae, May 1st encountered one of its toughest games to date. Again Hosland tossed two TD passes, one a 35-yard "bomb" to Dennis Rachiel, but the game was won by stopping Tappa's extra point bids and recovering two fumbles.

The other Dorm League leader, Prior, continued its winning ways by topping Pratt 20-7 and shutting out Tappa Keg, 13-0. Dick Ricci accounts for all of Prior's points with five TD passes during the week. Prior defense has given up only one tally this year.

In their big game this week, Campus League co-leaders, the Ineligibles slipped by the previously unbeaten 69'ers, with an 18-12 triumph. In a see-saw battle, the Ineligibles scored the winning touchdown with only 3 1/2 minutes remaining on a Bill Swartz to Porky Lloyd pass.

Defensive play by linemen Tony Jilek, Bill Linse and Art Phiel was a deciding factor in the victory.

Also in last weeks play, the Ineligibles rolled over the Howse Boys 37-0. Swartz hit Don Koepnik, Ed Gregorich and Ted Fetting for touchdown tallies. Guard Mike Nordeen intercepted two passes for the victors.

Tied for the Campus League lead is Rec's Reck, who defeated the ReEntries 19-6, and nipped the Chinese Bandits 21-14, during the past week.

In other Campus games, the Cellar Dwelling Ceiling Seekers beat the Neat Nine and lost to the 69'ers 16-6. The ReEntries shut out the Howse Boys 24-0.

In the Dorm League, Pramm and Prism scored a pair of victories with wins over Pratt and Proxy by identical 26-12 scores. The Meat Balls also notched two wins by nipping Cegielski's Shysters 12-7, and winning by forfeit over Proxy.

Two weeks of intramural football action are remaining and the schedule will be capped with a meeting of the league winners.

THE HOMECOMING BONFIRE of last year drew a large crowd of heavily bundled spectators.
