THIRD QUARTER—LUTHER 16, RIVER FALLS 6

The River Falls basketball team returned from a short visit to Luther-Phalen on the short end of a 16 to 6 score.

A large crowd of steam pipes were present and also the band. Between halves the team and spectators were requested to leave the floor to give the band room to play "On Wisconsin" Touch Down Sure This Time.

One basket was centrally located on the stage surrounded by a wild assemblage which was held spell-bound by the wall-scaling Lutheran basketball tossers. The other basket was firmly secured above the open door which was a strong defense as the cool winter breezes of 15 below blew through the open door, stopping the Normal offense cold. Between the two baskets two lines of spectators, musical instruments, substitutes, and coaches were placed to keep the steam pipes and players from mingling too freely.

For the ministers Ullrich was the big star, several times climbing the steam pipes and thus mounting the stage and caging a basket. Conrath, the big Luther center, although laboring under the weight of a 20 or 25-lb. steel knee guard, was able to push his way through the visitors and the open door several times.

For the visitors, Butenhoff excelled at the short passing game, handing out passes freely with either hand. Betzel played a fine floor game, time and again carrying the ball from 10 to 20 yards only to be stopped by the protruding stage or the cold north wind. Capt. Carolan made several good gains only to be stopped by the steam pipes. In the middle of the second half Melvin, quarterback on the football team, was sent in to call signals. On a pretty shoe-string play Carolan got the ball near the steam pipes when he was stopped by the ever alert Bloede. Referee Mitchell blew the whistle and decided to send the two men to the showers to cool off after their violent contact with the hot steam pipes.

Coach Eggebrecht, realizing that he had other games to play and might need some men, decided to call it a night before the crowd and the steam

EXTEMPORANEOUS SPEAKING CONTEST

The first preliminary of the extemporaneous speaking contest, organized by the Public Speaking department between the different organizations of the school, took place at the Thursday's assembly. The organizations that took part in this first preliminary were the Lincolnian, Civics Club, and Aurelia. The Lincolnian took first and second place, being represented by Mr. Bird and Mr. Thomson, Mr. Bird taking first place and Mr. Thomson second place. Third place was awarded the Civics Club through its representative, Mr. Chapman, the other representative being Miss Van Wyke. The Aurelia was represented by Miss Cheney and Miss Alice Mackin.

WITH THE AG. MEN

February third we have a District Stock Judging Contest at River Falls, and the following schools will send judging teams to represent their school in the Ag. department: New Richmond, Roberts, Ellsworth and River Falls High. Sam Paynter and Gilbert Anderson are the two coaching the R. F. H. team, and as they are two of the best Ag. men we have, we are expecting something from their team. Winners of this Contest go to the Madison State Contest about the first of April. Come on Sam and Andy, let's go to Madison.

A very good meeting of the Agrifallian was held last night. Liebenberg gave a very interesting talk on "The Maintenance of Forests," which was a benefit to all that were there. Milton Stelzer gave a talk and explanation on parliamentary practice. The last thing on the program was a try-out for the speakers who will compete against the G. O. P. and Rural Life Club to be held a week from Thursday at assembly.

Scottie is going to be Mr. Prucha's assistant in gardening this spring. He is also popular in other respects, being the man elected to sit on the lid for the Graduate Seniors for the next semester.

ST. PAUL Y. M. C. A. SNOWED UNDER

Playing in exceptional early season form the Red and White quint held their opponents to eight points while scoring thirty.

The locals missed their first chance to score by missing the first free-throw. St. Paul started the scoring with a long shot and immediately after Betzel scored a free-throw. The visitors boosted their score by two free-throws for a total of four which ended their scoring the first period. Capt. Carolan scored a close-in followed by another from Betzel which gained the lead and from then on the Normal team gradually increased the lead. Although Butenhoff played against a taller opponent he out-jumped him, giving the locals an advantage. After the first ten minutes of play Melvin was substituted for Betzel and a little before the end of the first period Bergman replaced Melvin. (Dubre) Carolan featured strong in the scoring by caging five field goals the first half and on one occasion intercepted a pass and dribbled past his opponent and scored a close one. The first half ended 15 to 4 in favor of the locals.

During the first few minutes of the second half neither team scored, and again the Y started the scoring and for a while held the locals down. However, this did not last very long and the red jersey men kept on boosting their total beyond reach of the opponents. Because of the strong defense of the Normal team the visitors resorted to long shots but were unable to score only two field goals the second half. Bergman added two field goals to the team's total and just before the final whistle Claffin caged a close-in.

The Normal attempted very few long shots, always working the ball up for a close-in. Butenhoff played a stellar floor game and showed accuracy in his passing, often passing to a man near the basket when he could have attempted shots. Capt. Carolan scored sixteen points for his team and also played a good floor game.

DOES THIS MEAN YOU?

Once more it has been brought to our attention that students are clipping from current magazines in the library. For the benefit of those who apparently do not know how to treat the material that has been provided for them in the library we quote from an editorial in our issue of December 2, 1921.

"There is another objectionable practice which some thoughtless people do. That is the disfiguring of books and magazines and the clipping of articles from them. Articles may be clipped from certain newspapers if permission is secured from the librarian, but under no circumstances should any one clip pictures or articles out of current magazines or books from the reference library. The Magazines are sent away at the end of the year to be bound and if articles have been clipped from them it means that a certain volume will be incomplete and students desiring the use of it for future reference work will be handicapped. It seems strange that people will do these things. They evidently do not realize that it is the money that their parents pay to the state in the form of taxes that goes to pay for the magazines and books that are in our library."

LYCEUM COURSE

Tonight the fifth of a series of lectures and entertainments will be given in the auditorium at eight o'clock.

Nelli Gardini, a soprano, whose operatic talent is well known in both Europe and America, will sing. Margaret O'Connor will play selections on the harp.

NORMAL SECONDS DEFEAT LOCAL HIGH

The Normal second team, composed of Raab, Eggars, Weber, Hoffman, Swoboda, and Cole played a spectacular game against the local High school quint as a curtain-raiser last Saturday night. The Normal seconds took the lead early in the game which ended with their opponents trailing at the rate of 13 to 4. "Baldi" Davis was drafted to boss the job and reports a rather difficult undertaking to stop all unnecessary roughing and prize-fights.

The Normal seconds expect to play several of the high schools in the vicinity.

DEBATE SQUAD HARD AT WORK

The debate squad of ten men has been hard at work during the past week staging a series of three debates. The final debate will be given this afternoon after which Coach Mitchell will announce the personnel of the two teams which will clash with Superior and Eau Claire in March. The Negative team will debate Superior while the affirmative team will remain at home to meet the Eau Claire team.

Laparda Goetzman of the class of '21, visited Irene Stewart last week.

Ellen Melsby, Lucille Kay, and Dwight Chinnock attended the basketball game last Saturday.

LOCALS

Mrs. Malott has been ill all week. Mrs. Hayward, Miss Flasch, and Miss West entertained the Women's League at Mrs. Hayward's home last Monday.

Miss Tilton is ill, and has gone home until the end of the semester.

Joyce Taylor will finish school at the end of the semester.

Miss Mosher announces that all periodicals have been returned from the bindry; so that those debators who have been anxiously awaiting them may now have access to them.

G. A. A. will sell candy at the game Saturday.

Blanche Hanson and Marjorie Brewer had a bob-sled party at Hudson last Saturday.

The Educational Tests class weighed and measured the grade children in both the Normal and high school.

Mr. Sid Nygard, editor of the Honest Scrap (Hudson) visited the Normal Monday.

Anna Hagestad gave a party Monday for Lois Mitchell, Mary Carroll, Stella Collins, Pauline Severson, Peg Follansbee, Theresa Collins, and Irene Marquardt.

Nettie Chincock has a new job at the photographer's: to make the children, who are posing, smile.

A shipment of new books has just been received at the library. They are on display on the table at the right of Miss Mosher's desk.

Mrs. Delos Krauth, formerly Verna Webster, was ill the first part of the week.

Mr. Leu Shomer spent Monday afternoon at his home on business.

Mrs. Stubblefield will teach in De-ronda, Wis., next semester.

Lois Mitchell and Anne Hagestad attended an informal dance at the University of Minnesota Friday night.

Mrs. Malott will entertain a group of Normal girls tonight.

River Falls vs. La Crosse Saturday, Jan. 14. Doors open at 8:30. Game starts at 9:15.

St. Mary's College here Jan. 20th. St. Mary's College is represented by a strong five, having defeated Gustavis Adolphus, St. Thomas, and the Winona American Legion. Reserved seats for sale Jan. 17th.

Be on the lookout for announcements concerning a movie in the Normal auditorium on Jan. 24th, for Athletic benefit.

The Freshmen girls entertained their mothers at luncheon Wednesday.

The goloshes belonging to Florenz Parsons, which disappeared from her locker some time ago, have not yet been found. Any information as to their whereabouts would be appreciated.

The Judge—"What was the last bit of real work you did?"

The Accused—"Me? That was when I was a photographer's model at the police bureau of identification."

Ruth Heebink went home Wednesday because her mother is sick.

Several young people surprised Lucy Demulling at her home last Sunday evening, the occasion being her birthday.

Carrol Smith went home Wednesday.

Y. M. C. A.

A very interesting meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was held last evening in North Hall. Special music in the form of a vocal duet was given by Miss Norseng, pianist, Miss Heidbrink and Mr. Dodge. After this, was a general discussion on religious topics led by Mr. Garrison. These discussions are very interesting and instructive, and are well worth the time spent.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB ELECTS

After a period of enforced idleness extending over a period of six weeks, which was due to physical disabilities of Mr. Powers, the Men's Glee Club has gotten under way again. At the meeting last Monday evening there was an election of officers as follows: Gilbert Anderson, Pres.; Lowell Bird, Vice Pres., and De Forest Pratt, Sec'y and Treas.

EXTEMPORANEOUS SPEAKING CONTEST

Mr. Bird spoke on the "Limitation of Armaments," bringing out very forcibly the fact as to why a limitation of armaments should be considered, and basing his argument on these points: that disarmament is necessary to stop war, and favor views of humanity. Mr. Thomson also spoke on the "Limitation of Armaments," taking the view that its co-operation was necessary and the limitation of armaments would come about by an evolutionary process, rather than through conference.

This same topic was ably discussed by Mr. Chapman, bringing out the great importance that this held to the welfare of the present generation. Miss Van Wyke took for her topic, "Should final Exams be Abolished?" Her opinion, which she ably proved, was in the negative, basing it upon the fact that the exams are the final test and proof of the student's knowledge. "Immigration" was intelligently discussed by Miss Cheney, who brought out the matter of exclusion could be simplified by having the examination take place in the foreign countries, thus leaving no doubt as to the question of entrance upon arrival at this country. Miss Mackin, the last speaker, took for her subject, "Should the Library be Open Evenings?" and showed how it would greatly benefit the students, especially those who have outside work.

Every one of the speakers spoke wonderfully, considering the time for preparation, making the decision of the judges a very close one.

This contest will be continued next Tuesday when representatives of the Rural Life Club, Agrifallian and G. O. P. will try out for first place. The finals will be staged at the Thursday's assembly, Feb. 9.

LINCOLNIAN

At a meeting of the Lincolnian Forensic society last Wednesday evening, a general extemporaneous speaking contest was held. Each member was given four minutes to prepare his speech. Mr. Goble, Mr. Junkman, and Mr. Mitchell acted as judges.

Mr. Thomson and Mr. Bird were selected to represent the society in the contest held at assembly yesterday. In this contention Mr. Bird and Mr. Thomson carried off highest honors in the name of the Lincolnian.

Y. W. C. A.

At the Y. W. C. A. meeting last night the program consisted of the topics that were to be discussed last Thursday had we met. Mrs. Larson gave a reading, "The Two Roads." Zelma Lomness talked on the "Science of making New Year's Resolutions." Misses Allie and Althea Seifert gave a duet. Vivian Bergh's topic was, "How to Keep Our Resolutions." Marcella Gunderson spoke on "New Year's Resolutions in Relation to Character Building." The meeting closed with a hymn and the benediction.

Marjorie Kromery has returned to school.

The G. O. P. held its regular meeting Wednesday evening. The entire meeting was devoted to a discussion of business matters.

RURAL LIFE CLUB

A meeting of the Rural Life Club was held Tuesday evening. A long program had formerly been planned, but as the majority of the students on the program were unable to be present it could not be given. The meeting was called to order, but immediately adjourned. The rest of the evening was spent in singing and dancing. An interesting program has been planned for next Tuesday evening, and every member should be present.

NEW FACULTY MEMBER

A new member has been added to the faculty. Mr. W. A. Baldorf of Wisconsin Rapids arrived Wednesday to teach in the Mathematics and Science departments.
