Snow Queen Contestants To Appear on KSTP-TV

KSTP-TV will catch a big moment in the life of one of four young ladies Friday evening, December 16, when she receives the title "Miss River Falls Snow Queen" at the Coronation Ball in North hall. Three of the four finalists are Wisconsin State College coeds. They are Carol Anding, Marlys Meents and Pat Phillips. The fourth contestant is Dorothy Dopkins, a River Falls high school graduate.

The River Falls Chamber of Commerce has selected tall, graceful Carol Anding as their contestant. Carol, a sophomore enrolled in the elementary curriculum, is the drum majorette for the Falconettes, the colorful girl's marching band. The blue-eyed brunette works as a check-out clerk at the Red and White when she is not in school. Her home address is Hudson although she lives on a farm near River Falls.

The American Legion has selected lovely Dorothy Dopkins as their choice for the royal robes. Dorothy, a brown-haired, brown-eyed lass works at Gene's Candid Studio. She is a 1954 graduate of the local high school.

Marlys Meents, a junior from River Falls is the candidate of the Lions Club. She is an active member of the MENC, Wesley Fellowship, YWCA, Sigma Chi Sigma and the college band. The talented brunette, a biology major, also plays the violin. Marlys spends part of her free time, working at the River Falls hospital.

Pat J. Phillips, a pretty blond from Weyerhauser, has been selected as the College candidate. The brown-eyed freshman, was selected Friday evening over two other entries. Pat, an English major is interested in dramatics and had a leading role in the freshman class play this fall.

The girls will be judged at a banquet at Glen Park Lodge between 4:30 and 6 o'clock Thursday evening. Contestants will be judged on the basis of beauty, personality, poise and other general qualifications. The results will not be announced until the Friday night Coronation Ball.

Christmas Concert to Feature Music from Many Lands

Chess Club to Play University of Buffalo

Shortly after the Christmas-New Year vacation, River Falls chess club will start a postal match with the University of Buffalo Chess Club. The challenge by the University of Buffalo was read and accepted at last Wednesday's Chess Club meeting.

A postal chess match takes about a year to complete and is usually carried on by mail. Each member of the chess club in River Falls plays a member of the chess club in Buffalo. The move of each River Falls player will be mailed each week to the players in Buffalo and they, in turn, will reply with their moves the following week.

This manner of playing chess not only improves one's game but allows the participant to correspond with an individual with much the same interests. The River Falls chess club will enter about 12 players in the match. Anyone wishing a match with a member of the University of Buffalo Chess Club may get one by contacting the secretary of the River Falls chess club, Wm. Hagstad.

Christmas music from many ages and many lands will be featured at the traditional concert of the college choir Monday, evening, December 19.

The program ranges from 15th century German carols to music of contemporary American composers.

Participating in the program are 110 students. Of this group, 21 students have incidental solos. They are: Robert Dykstra, Dale Pearson, Gary Jensen, Margie Olson, Doray Steichen, Carlene Parrent, Joseph Alms, Charles Zellmer, Jerry Gibson, Carol Anding, Bernard Feld, Marlin Feld, Alan Voelker, Audrey Windal, Elaine Solum, Don Sundt, Marvin Ism, Shirley Olson, Sharon Ritchey, Gary Buck and Mary Jensen.

Also participating is a girl's trio formed by Shirley Olson, Mary Louise Olson and Elaine Solum.

This year's program is the 10th annual music festival program at the college. The performance in North hall auditorium is one of the most elaborate musical events on campus. It traditionally has attracted a number of persons from River Falls and surrounding communities.

The program will be presented under the direction of Prof. Chauncey B. King.

Yule Season Plans Include Open House; Dinner Parties

When the smell of holly and evergreens and the tinkle of bells invade the campus many organizations start planning their Christmas festivities.

The first Christmas party on the calendar is a combined supper meeting of the Math and Chemistry clubs Wednesday, December 14. Dale Iverson president of the Chem club announces that the supper will begin at 7 o'clock in the cafeteria and that gifts will be exchanged.

Open House

The girls at Hathorn Hall are inviting everyone to come and see how the "better half" lives, Monday, December 19 at their annual Open House. The dorm will be open for inspection from 9 to 11 p.m. Coffee will be served.

A lot of effort has been put forth by the girls to decorate the dorm in the true spirit of Christmas. Coffee will be served.

Vets Club

Probably one of the largest and most elaborate parties will be that held by the Vets club at the White Pine Inn at Bayport, Minn., Tuesday, December 20. The time for this event has been set at 7:30. Music for dancing will be furnished by the Falconaires and the Hut Four Quartet will also make an appearance.

Reservation cards have been sent to all veterans on campus and these cards must be dropped in a box that will be placed in the cafeteria, by noon, Wednesday, December 14.

Church Parties

Church groups are also planning Christmas activities. The YM-YW combined with Wesley will hold Christmas programs at Rest Homes. Following the program they will go to the Methodist church for refreshments. Anyone interested in going should sign on the South hall bulletin board. The group will meet Tuesday, December 13 at 6:45 in South hall.

Gamma Delta is planning a Christmas party for members and their friends, Tuesday evening at the Lutheran chapel. Everyone is to bring a 35 cent. Refreshments will be served.

The Catholic students on campus have decided to surprise Santa with a party in appreciation of all the favors he has granted throughout the year. A party will be held in St. Bridget's recreation room, Tuesday, December 13, at 7:30 p.m. Cars will be leaving from Hathorn hall at 7:15 for anyone who does not have a ride.

The Wesley Foundation has planned a post-game "Christmas Warm-Up" December 17 at the Church. Sunday morning, December 18, a Christmas breakfast will

COMMUNITY RELATIONS

An example of school and community relations will be demonstrated this week when the first Snow Queen Festival takes place. Initiated by the Vets Club on campus, who secured the invitation for the River Falls Snow Queen to attend the St. Paul Winter Carnival, the Chamber of Commerce, Lions Club and the American Legion have whole-heartedly cooperated in backing the movement. Next year, the businessmen will undoubtedly take over the entire affair themselves, now that a start has been made. We think this festival is a great idea as the recognition and publicity afforded River Falls (and the College) is invaluable.

NO WINTER FORMAL

We have heard many inquiries as to whether there will be a Winter Formal this year. According to the social committee, there will not be one—at least not before Christmas—due to difficulty in obtaining an orchestra, sponsorship and getting the use of the gym. However, the Snow Queen Coronation Ball, December 16, is a formal event and students who ordinarily would have gone to the Winter Formal may attend this. Since the Ball is less than a week away, we suggest that you fellows get busy and ask a girl—this is one of the "big" events of the college social season that you can't afford to miss.

Gad Books!

by Wm. Hagestad THE INEVITABLE ARTIST— IN FASHION?

A literature current, which most male magazine readers may not be aware of, I think, worthy of serious (if I may flatter myself) attention; this is saying that most magazine (slick) literature is rot—'tis, q.v., and completely undeserving of a legitimate reviewer's time and column—this last connotation I deny for, if ever the slicks come out with something besides tickets to never-never-land, I'll look at it.

Condé-Nast Publication's VOGUE for the past year has been running a series of articles, which, in a dilettante manner pays court to a host of English and continental artists—painters, sculptors, writers. Using material by Alexander Lieberman, which will be forthcoming in book-form by Skira next year, VOGUE does an extremely creditable job of being academic without losing circulation figures. Mr. Lieberman's photographs of the artists he writes about are very much art in themselves.

The publication of these articles is practically significant because of what I believe to be a completely new and vastly more realistic manner in which to definitely analyse and at the same time present an artist to an intelligent reading public. One might think that if the literary and photographic presentation of an artist were art in itself, it might not subtend the artist and his art as is its purpose, but so cast a shadow upon these two things as to make them simply a medium of art—rather a paradox: literary art using as its medium the semantic representation of art. This does not happen—but an interesting and engaging thing does. VOGUE has presented Alexander Lieberman writing a very difficult and delicate literary counterpoint.

We have in the text, the sympathetic and accurate representation of the artist and his works; and, in the writing, we have an example of the delicate matrix which may be erected by the competent writer of literary counterpoint.

The article, which I believe to be the most magical and the most entertaining (which activity these articles, by the way, are supposed to fulfill), is the one in which the man Alberto Giacometti and his art are presented; the article appeared in last January's issue. This is the Swiss artist-sculptor whose work is marked by the incredible tallness and thinness of its human figures—it looks much like African tribal art by its mobility, but is much less well-fed. Giacometti's words on his own art were particularly good and some follow:

"... a person walking is truer than when motionless — one sculpts him to get a clear idea of movement."

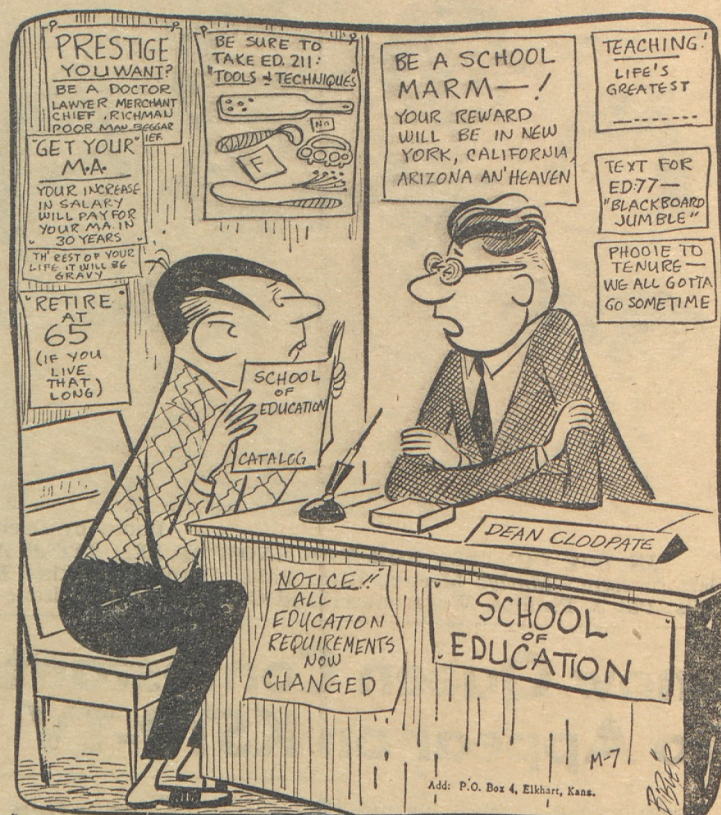

Naeseth Participates In Art Problems Panel

Hardean Naeseth, acting chairman of the art department of the College, participated in a panel discussion on "Problems of the Amateur Artist" Saturday at the ninth Western Regional Art and Crafts Show at Alma.

Mr. Naeseth also served as a member of the group which judged the entries and selected pictures to be exhibited at the State Rural Arts and Crafts Show in Madison next summer.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

CRITICS CORNER —

Shirley's Technique Challenge to Best

by Glenn Gill

To Don Shirley music is not a collection of notes but rather, it seems, a collection of ideas musically expressed. This became evident as Mr. Shirley and bass player Richard Davis performed a high quality program in the jazz idiom before the first convocation audience of the winter quarter.

Mr. Shirley's deep concentration, quiet subtlety, stormy dynamic climaxes, and humorous musical interjections (augmented by a raised eyebrow) showed that he was completely absorbed in projecting the emotional message of his music. His interpretation of "Autumn Leaves" was a stand-out illustration of this emotional projection ability.

Technically Shirley was a challenge to the best of concert artists—combining with his exceptional technique the expressive ability in accent and rhythm of a true jazz artist.

Mr. Davis, applying his talents to the string bass, gave an exceptional performance. Outstanding was his work in "The Man I Love" where the speed and dexterity of his pizzicato (plucked) passages displayed at times an "impossible" technical ability. In addition he gave us some arco (bowed) passages with the tonal beauty of a cello.

Together they made a fine musical team on most of the numbers played: especially on the Bach type fugue (second number on the program) and in their already commended version of "The Man I Love".

Most noticeable about the performance of this fine duo is their thorough enjoyment of the music they play. This enjoyment was reflected by their facial expressions.

As personalities your reviewer found both of these performers congenial and informal. Mr. Shirley, who has appeared in England and Canada as well as in this country, has a good working knowledge of the construction and theory of music.

by Glenn Gill

With Christmas near at hand we note some activity in the music department of a seasonal nature. The choir plans a somewhat unusual type of program in two parts; a program that should be enjoyable and inspiring rather than just entertaining for the audience. Part two of the program will give members of the audience a chance to sharpen up their own voices for the yuletide season. December 19 is the date.

On the following night, December 20, the campus school will present a special Christmas operetta. The cast for this production has been drawn from several grades. Rehearsals for the show have been in progress since the beginning of the quarter.

The band has been going through Christmas music too, in connection with the December 16 introduction of our Snow Queen Festival candidates. The band, however, has other things to consider—Mr. Rozehnal has tentatively set January 20 as approximate date for the band's first 1956 concert.

In the nether realms of music we note that Capitol records has produced as of December 3, nine and one quarter tons of "Sixteen Tons" a-la-master-pea-picker. How's that for popularity?

the practice was passed.

A letter from the University of Wisconsin inviting us to the Wisconsin Region of USNSG was read. We decided not to send a delegate to the conference this year.

It was announced that the Officers' Training School will be held Thursday, December 8 from 4 to 8.

The Snow Queen candidates will be judged this Friday, December 9 at 4:00 in the faculty Lounge of the Library. Charles Pace was appointed as the Senate member of the judging Committee.

Falcons Host to Superior In Last Pre-holiday Game

When the Falcons meet Superior at home on December 17, they'll be attempting to break a deadlock between two of the oldest rivals in Wisconsin State College Conference history.

The particular stalemate in mind dates back to the 1945-46 season. Since that time each team has won 10 games in the River Falls-Superior series, and there's no definite indication who'll be on top after this final pre-holiday game for both clubs.

Superior finished right behind the Falcons in a tie for third place last season, but suffered heavy losses through graduation. The replacement of Jack Hulmer, 6-3 forward who averaged 21.4 points per game last year, is the chief problem for Superior coach Carl Vergamini in '55-'56. The loss of Dale Westerbak, 6-6, and Bob Herubin, 6-4, will necessitate an emphasis on speed rather than experienced "big men" this season.

Coach Vergamini, who is noted for the tremendous record of 160 victories and 39 losses he compiled during a nine-year period at Hurley high school, has expressed optimism for the current season. The promising outlook is based on the return of 6-5 forward Tom Larsen, and the improvement of Captain George "Duke" Nelson, 6-6 center, and Ron Schultz, 5-11 guard.

Vergamini's speculations seem to be well-founded. The Yellow-jackets have notched three consecutive victories so far this season.

In non-conference tilts they whipped Bethel 83-68, then downed Bemidji 83-77. Last Saturday the north shore five opened the conference season by clipping a highly rated La Crosse team, 92-76. Nelson and Larsen both garnered 24 points to pace the 'Jackets. Superior plays another non-league game at Michigan Tech tonight.

HERUM SCORES 28 AS WINONA DROPS FALCONS, 97-84

Dave Herum poured in 28 points to lead River Falls last Monday evening as the Falcons lost a 97-84 battle to Winona TC at Alma, Wisconsin. It was the second non-conference defeat for Coach Belfiori's five in as many starts.

Every member of the Winona starting five hit in double figures with 6-3 center Al Svenningson leading the way. His 25 point output raised his season's total to 85 points in three contests for an average of 28.3 per game.

Falcons lead

Paced by Herum and Bob Hubert, the Falcons grabbed the lead as the game opened and stayed in front most of the first half. Herum counted 11 points and Hubert 12 as the red and white hit a sizzling 58 percent from the floor.

River Falls consistently cracked the Warrior defense for lay-ups and took only two shots beyond the 20 foot mark in the first half. The Falcons dropped in a dozen lay-ups and five short-range jump shots in the first 20 minutes of play.

Herum's basket made it 15-11 early in the game for the Falcons' biggest lead of the evening. Winona took over at 23-22 with 10:00 to go in the first half, but Belfiori's crew eased to a 46-43 halftime lead on the strength of 10 late period points by Larry Hanson.

Warriors Take Over

Winona displayed a reversal of first half form, switching from deadly long-range accuracy by Craig Currier and Lee Paul to equally accurate close-range firing. Currier and Paul, who kept the Warriors in the game with their long shots during the first half, took a back seat to Svenningson as the rugged center tallied 18 points in the second half.

The fellow who really made the difference for the Warriors, though, was 6-4 Gil Regnier. After Winona took the lead at 57-56 with 16:00 left to play, the scoring remained fairly even until Regnier hit four consecutive baskets to give the Minnesotans a commanding 73-63 margin with 11:14 to go.

Herum nearly matched Svenningson's second half total with 17 points, but the Falcons never recovered from Regnier's scoring spree. With some timely help from Darrell Youngberg, Herum led River Falls to within eight points with 2:15 left. The Belfiori-men picked up a number of costly fouls in an attempt to get the ball, though, and the Warriors notched most of their final points from the free throw line.

Falcons Bow to Eau Claire, 93-76, In League Opener; Steffen Scores 25

by Jim Laue

Eau Claire State guards Jim Bollinger and Bob Morgan combined for 45 points to lead the Blugolds to a 93-76 victory over Coach Phil Belfiori's Falcons Saturday at Eau Claire.

It was the first conference game for each team, and marked the third straight defeat for the Young River Falls club. Eau Claire suffered a previous loss to Hamline University, 74-71.

Steffen Stars

Starting his first game as a Falcon basketball regular, Johnny Steffen, 5-10 forward, turned in a sparkling performance. He was easily the most outstanding player on the floor as he hit 25 points, grabbed 11 rebounds and played a smooth floor game.

Steffen vaulted the Falcons into an early 2-0 lead with a backhand lay-up on a fast break. With Johnny hitting two more baskets and 6-5 center Dave Herum collecting a pair of free throws, Belfiori's quint led 8-7 with 14:42 remaining in the first half.

Rog Hanson, 6-9 senior center for the Blugolds, gave Eau Claire the lead seconds later with a short jump shot. Bill Zorn's five were never headed again although the Falcons tied it up at 9-9, 11-11, and 13-13.

Blugolds Increase Lead

Steffen clicked on his first five field goal attempts, scoring 10 of the Falcons' first 20 points. Midway through the first half Bollinger started connecting on long set shots to pace Eau Claire to a 38-25 lead with 4:22 left in the first half. Steffen with 12 and Herum with 10 led River Falls in the first 20 minutes, as the Falcons trailed 46-37 at half-time.

Morgan took over for the Blugolds and poured in 14 points in less than 7 minutes at the start of the second half, pulling Eau Claire to a commanding 73-46 lead. The 6-2 sophomore hit from every angle, time and again shaking loose for close-range jump shots.

The Falcons were hampered by the loss of Herum via the foul route early in the second half. Steffen and Bob Hubert carried most of the rebounding load but couldn't cope with the rugged Eau Claire front line.

Danny Corcoran, 6-0 Falcon freshman from Stillwater, Minn., played slightly over 10 minutes in the second half and looked especially good in his first college game. He hit three straight baskets for six points, and proved even sharper on the defensive boards as he came up with five rebounds against the tall Blugold team.

SKI IN THE SUN

by Zam

Have you ever wanted to ski in the sun all day long? Well, here's your chance. A group of students from the college are planning a ski vacation in beautiful Colorado. The group leaves on December 25 and returns on January 4.

Three visits to Colorado areas will highlight the trip. The first stop will be at Winter Park, which is located 75 miles northwest of Denver. The elevation is 10,700 feet. Skiers are serviced by three T-bars which make the climb to the summit in 15 minutes. The trails range in length from 5,000 feet to two miles.

Next stop will be Berthoud Pass, located on top of the continental divide. One of the highlights of this resort is the 13 mile trail which takes skiers down to Hidden Valley, one of the most beautiful spots in Colorado.

The last stop on the list is Arapahoe Basin, featuring skiing on the Norway mountain open slopes over two miles of rolling slopes and glades.

Planned by the ski club for this week are ski movies on Wednesday, December 14, in the Little Theatre. "Ski Thief" and "Snow Ranger" are a sampling of titles from this one and a half hour selection of colored movies. Starting time is 7 p.m. with admission price set at 10 cents. Tickets will be on sale in the cafeteria Tuesday and Wednesday.

Falcon Fanfare

by Bill Keller

The Falcons were strengthened again this year by the return of Jerry Carter, 6-0, 180 pound sophomore letterman from River Falls. Jerry is majoring in history with a phy ed minor.

CARTER

Jerry was a teammate of former RFSC great Rog Kuss on the 1948-49 River Falls high school teams which won two Middle Border Conference championships.

In 1952 he was voted the most outstanding athlete at the Navy Supply Depot, Boyonne, N. J. At Bayonne Jerry was first string quarterback in football, guard in basketball and first base in baseball. He rates this award, voted him by his teammates, as the top event in his athletic career.

Aggressiveness and leadership on the fast break, combined with good hard driving have earned this scrappy guard a spot on the first five. In two contests this season Jerry has averaged close to ten points a game. He'll be a valuable man for Coach Belfiori in the fast-paced River Falls offense this winter.
