A. N. JOHNSON WINS FREE THROW MEDAL

Says R. A. Karges when he presented the Freethrow medal to A. N. Johnson, winner when he threw 37 out of 50 balls into the loop. "The athletic prestige of the agricultural department came to the forefront again when its illustrious athlete threw his way into the athletic limelight."

Says A. N. Johnson when he responded to the ovation, "speech, speech!"

"Since I have attained the pinnacle of athletic success, I hope the achievement will be an example and inspiration to the student athletes of the school!"

A. C. Vogele presented a beautiful cabbage to the winner.

Y. W. C. A. Members to Have Novelty Dime Day, Mon., April 15

"Save Your Dimes For Us"
Say All Members Of The Organization

For April 15, the Y. W. C. A. is planning a Novelty day, called Dime Day. All members of the organization are bound to perform some service for the public for the sum of a dime.

All sorts of shops and establishments will be set up in the halls. Little willing helpers will be underfoot every where. Be sure to have your pen filled for a penny. You may buy stamps, or, according to your taste.

The purpose of the drive is the raising of more money for the treasury department.

ELEMENTARY ORGANIZATION CALLED ELIZABETH FLEMING SOCIETY

The first year students in the Elementary Department of the Training school have also become members of the Junior Audition Society and have called their organization the Elizabeth Fleming Audition Society.

The late Miss Fleming was for more than a quarter of a century a teacher in a State Teachers' College. Her love for nature was very outstanding and many children received inspiration during their contact with her.

The students belonging to this society receive special literature from the National Audition Society as well as regular bird pictures which are always sent to members.

Philanthropic individuals throughout the country have donated money so that all members of the society can receive material at less than cost.

Those interested in receiving bird pictures and books will receive the announcements by writing to the National Association of Audition Societies, 1974 Broadway, New York City.

A fair sized crowd attended the school dance held in the large Gymnasium last Saturday night. The King Midas Band furnished the music, and everyone seemed to be enjoying themselves. Miss Hathorn chaperoned the dance.

Tornado Victims Get Aid From Students; Boys Work Saturday

College Men Relief Corps
Organized by J. M. May and A. N. Johnson

Early Arrivals on Scene
Rescue Cows Pinned
Beneath Building

A good percentage of the men students of the school, gave valuable assistance in helping the unfortunates who were struck by the tornado which passed near here last Friday night.

Many relief squads made up of students were organized Saturday to go and straighten up the wreckage of the tornado. Dressed in old clothes, the collegiate shieks of the school showed themselves true students of an agricultural college by piling boards, cutting down the remains of trees and even shooting and dressing injured cows and pigs. A. N. Johnson and J. M. May of the agricultural department were the organizers of the students groups.

Even as early as Friday night students were on the scene to lend a hand where necessary. In fact Harold Segerstrom, Ronald MacNamara, Homer Kinney and Henry Hagen were the first to go to the stricken area, beating Editor Smith of the Journal out by ten minutes. These four were met near the first farm which had been hit. The farmer cried, "Come and help me lift the barn off the cows."

The remains of the barn and a goodly pile of cornstalks were heaped upon a dozen cows that had been in the barn when the storm hit. First the boys attacked the conrtalks and made them fly so that the neighbors were convinced that another tornado had followed the first. "Seeg" went into the cornstalks just as he used to go into the basket ball games; the others followed. They lifted, pried, and propped until the cows could be dragged out from under the barn. Most of the cows, while badly battered, could be saved.

By this time many of the neighbors were on the scene. Kinney, Hagen, "Mac" and Seeg" mounted their Fords and went to other farms.

"This tornado did tremendous damage, even taking the lives of a number of people. The people who were in the path of this storm, need all the assistance which can be given them, and we are glad to say the student body took a very good attitude and did their best for them." is the opinion of City businessmen.

"GIFT SHOP"

Speaking editorially under the caption "The Small College Fights for Life," the St. Paul Dispatch declare that "trouble afflicts increasing numbers of small colleges. Their history reflects great economic changes over which they have no control. The day mergers and consolidations, long a dominant note in the field of business has dawned in the educational world. Still many small colleges persist. They have their advantages, their charms, their appeal to increasing numbers of students who are averse to mass production as an educational enterprise." Speaking in the same vein, Professor Linn, of The University of Chicago, and editorial writer for the Chicago Herald-Examiner, says: "Sometimes I think the sun of promise never shines so brightly as through the plain glass windows of the small college, and the moonlight of association never sleeps so sweetly as on the narrow, dusty paths of small-college learning. What is Oxford but a collection of small, even tiny, colleges? The state universities are noble department stores. The small colleges are 'gift shops'. After all, a boy or girl who goes to college can read only one book at a time, listen to only one teacher at a time, learn only so many facts in a day, whether the college be large or small."

WHY THE FORMALITY

There is always a big cry that the school dances are not supported. It seems to be the idea that each and every dance should be as formal as possible. Just why everyone insists upon making out programs, and having them filled as early as possible is a mystery. This practice makes it impossible for unes-some students to enjoy themselves.

At a dance when everyone knows everyone else it seems that all formality should be dispensed with and everyone should mix and have a good time. All the large schools and colleges are getting away from the formal idea so why should River Falls retain it.

If the students want a formal, why, advertise it as a formal and carry the idea all the way through; then make the ordinary dances as informal as possible so all the students can come out and enjoy themselves. Let's have more school dances, and let's make them informal.

FAULTS OF RIVER FALLS GRADUATES AS TEACHERS TOPIC OF ASS'BLY SPEECH

Mr. Russell Johnston read some extracts from letters received as criticism of the teachers sent out last year during assembly period last Tuesday.

Mr. Johnston said that the greatest criticism seemed to be disciplinary troubles among these teachers. He said that he thought that could be traced to other causes and was itself a result rather than a cause. Mr. Johnston said that a lack of through knowledge of the subject matter to be presented, and a lack of this "Develish Certainty" which is necessary to enforce classroom discipline were factors in disciplinary troubles. Since Mr. Johnston's talk, various discussions have been held among the students concerning the various "don'ts" a teacher must observe and the psychology of discipline.

The Y. M. C. A.

Tuesday elections are to be held. Every girl is urged to come out and express her preference. It is one of the most important events which takes place in the organization this term upon the decision rests the success of next year.

A purely musical meeting is being planned. Several artists have been asked to appear. Group and individual singing will take up the rest of the evening. Bring your favorite songs. Negro spirituals will be led by Ruth King.

The Installation Service is to take place next week. Watch the bulletin board. A banquet precedes the service. Every girl is invited.

COLLEGE STUDENTS HELP WITH "CONGO" MUSICAL

College students will again furnish feature musical numbers when the Congregational young people give their annual Medley of Melodies, Thursday, April 11.

The numbers on the program in which they will participate include Glee Clubs, duets, solos, both instrumental and vocal. In addition to this the Harmonica band under the direction of Mrs. J. H. Ames will make its initial appearance. Other numbers include pipeorgan selections and readings of humorous and worthwhile in-

It's going to be a variety of good music and entertainment, said Le Roy Luberg, in charge of the entertainment, "and it's only two bits."

FREE THROW CONTEST

Prof. A. N. Johnson received the gold medal given by the athletic board for making the most free throws out of 50 tries. Mr. Johnson made 37, Glass and Beers were tied for second with 34 each.

CHILDREN OF TRAINING SCHOOL JOIN THE AUDUBON SOCIETY

Spring is here and with it the numerous birds from the south. Children in the training school in all grades are making a special study of bird life.

The fifth and sixth grades have sent in fees to the National Audubon Society to become junior members of the organization. This group of children elected as president, Gordon Clark, and as secretary, Mary Katherine Prucha.

These children have an aim to protect and care for the birds. Anyone seen harming birds is reported to the society. The society then sends a committee to this person to explain the benefit the surrounding community receives from birds.

These children are also making a special study of local birds so they will recognize them by appearance, songs, and calls. Bird trips are to be taken every Saturday. At the present time the society is meeting from 8:55 to 9:10 every morning, because of the numerous things to be taken up. The society at present consists of twenty six members.

The name of this society is the Baynes Junior Audubon Society. The children decided upon this name after reading "A Bird House by the Side of the Road" written by Earnest Harold Baynes.

We won't news and a lot of it. The Voice thrives on news and not a milk diet.

"Not too modern, please!"

Imagine the governor all set for a solid evening of comfort in his cozy old library—and finding that the women folks had "modernized" it with triangular sofas, conical armchairs, and July 4th rugs!

Now, imagine you bought some cigarettes, and discovered that they were supposed to do almost everything in the world except what you bought them for, i.e., satisfy your taste for tobacco. Maybe it's the modern idea, but—oh, well, let's talk about something else!

Chesterfields, now. They satisfy. Their only "specialty" is high tobacco quality. Friendly as your most comfortable armchair, as full of flavor as your favorite book. A splendidly made and blended cigarette. And—maybe we are old-fashioned—recommended to you for that very reason.

CHESTERFIELD

MILD enough for anybody . . . and yet . . . THEY SATISFY

The Ag. Department

Thursday evening the Agrifalian Society met in the auditorium of the College. The usual business meeting was held until Arno Dittbrenner took over the meeting.

Mr. Dittbrenner put on the best program given this year. It was every educational and interesting. The first thing on the program was a violin solo by Arno Dittbrenner. The second was a talk on selection and feeding of beef cattle by Edward O'Connell. This talk was very interesting because everything was discussed from the viewpoint of actual experience in the field. He told how he used home grown feeds and produced prize winning stock. Why can't the average farmer produce good beef on home grown feeds.

Carl Elmblade explained how to find a bee tree and get the honey. It was very interesting to any one interested in handling bees. He explained first how to prepare bait, set the bait and locate the path to tree. Sometimes as high as forty pounds of honey are found in a tree. Many times as high as fifteen pounds are found. Maybe it would pay for some of us nature lovers to look around a bit.

After this a movie on care and handling of apples was given. The movie howed how over 2,000,000 bushels of apples in Nova Scotia are handled. Expert cooperating of principles of cultivation, spraying handling and storage made orcharding a big job in Nova Scotia. The most modern machinery is used in handling of the apple crop. The movie was a benefit to those who are interested in horticulture.

Producing of sanitary, pure milk was showed in moving picture form. The movie showed how cows dairy barn and equipment, creameries and bottling of milk should be done in a sanitary way. The Ogonoda Dairy Corporation was the place where the scenes were pictured. The picture showed the latest devices for handling milk in a sanitary way.

After this the meeting adjourned.

Just about the time the Aggies get going strong somebody gets a notion that he isn't going to the meeting next Thursday because the weather is so nice outside.

Well the weather maybe nice but you won't gain anything to help along that course in agriculture. Next year Pat and Mike go out teaching and when the time comes for a business meeting of the people on the community, Mike doesn't know a thing about conducting a business meeting so Pat has to go ahead and take care of the meeting because he had experience in watching the Agrifalian meetings back in College days. Well poor Mike beter come out once in a while and get a glimpse at least, of the splendid programs given at the Agrifalian meetings and the way business is conducted. The Agrifalian is one of the best organizations in school so let every agriculture student get out and boost. Two weeks from last Thursday will be the next meeting. Lets talk it up and get out if you can.

"Y" SURVEY SHOWS STUDENTS CHARACTERISTICS

The national council of the Y. M. C. A. has made a survey to discover the factors which mark modern student life in the universities and colleges of this country.

The report has been approved by presidents of many colleges and universities, who say it is a true and honest finding.

These are the nine factors:
 "1. Growth of individualism and the breakdown of college spirit. No longer is any campus-wide student activity or organization receiving general support.

"2. Genuine interest in religion. It is probable that seldom, except in time of great spiritual vitality, has there been greater general interest in religion among college students than today.

"3. Interest in religion as 'philosophy' and 'experience,' not as 'challenge.' Students are approaching religion through their minds and their feelings but not through their will. The attractive words are 'interpretation,' 'explanation,' 'self-realization,' 'unity'; but not 'duty,' 'obedience,' 'conscience,' or 'sacrifice.'

"4. Revival of worship. A particular feature of the type of current interest in the reawakening of a spirit of devotion.

"5. Impatience with ecclesiasticism in all forms.

"6. Discussion of religion, as such, rather than Christianity.

"7. Relatively or moral standards; confusion in life philosophy.

"8. A spirit of relentless realism.

"9. A search for a fuller experience of life. There is present today a strangely unsatisfied hankering after some deeper and steadier experience of life which it is believed religion may be discovered to provide."

The W. A. A.

The W. A. A. held its regular meeting Thursday evening April 4. The usual business was dispensed with and the annual house party was discussed.

It was decided that the girls hold their house party the week end of May 17, 18, 19. This is to be held at Lake St. Croix in the same camp as last season. Reports from last year were that everyone had a very enjoyable time and it is expected that this year will be equally as enjoyable. Next week the spring sports are to be taken up. Monday evening at 4:00 has been given to archery with Louise Schwellenback as sport head. Tuesdays and Thursdays for kitenball with Ethel Engebretson as sport head. Wednesday is the day set aside for track with Mary Ellen Boffrey as sport head. It is expected that a great many girls will participate in these sports. Many of the girls will also prepare for Field Day which is to be held some time next month.

Tennis will be taught in gym classes and also some evenings after school or other convenient times. Miss Curran would like to have the names of those who would like to enter mixed tennis tournaments. These tournaments will begin as soon as the weather is permissible.

HOW'S THIS

In spite of the heated protest of the Leeds (England) professor of applied mathematics, our award for the month's best limerick is made to the author of:
 There was a young lady called Brigh.
 Who traveled much faster than light.

She set out one day
 In a relative way.

And arrived on the previous night.
 By a professorial mind, the lines are considered "a sign of mental disease" in that they indicated a disbelief in the "intelligibility of relativity." In spite of all this, we like the limerick.

"The Lowdown"

Well after spending Friday night under a culvert, to keep from being blown away, we are a little stiff and sore to-day.

Few students realize what famous people we have in our midst. Bill Hagestad, for instance, was elected constable for the second ward.

Spring is here! The signs of baseball, lots of cars, and not to forget the couples strolling in the balmy sunlight (and arc lights) Let's give it a good welcome.

One of the warming up dances was held last Saturday night. That is, warming up for the Prom and the "R" club dance. King Midas and his dance band presided.

Local college stars win fame playing with the Stratford Players! Some of the actors and actresses did very well as senators and otherwise in "Julius Caesar". Their ability to utter "Hurrah," "Kill him," and so forth were well done.

Another one of the favorite pastimes around school these days is writing letters of application. We are weary of correcting them. Not that we are experts, far from it, but they are panic stricken and anyone who will give a suggestion is "roped in".

The next big event is the music contest. The saying when they are here is to be their big brothers and sisters. This big brother idea works quite nice sometimes, just ask some of last year's men if it doesn't.

The athletes are going to celebrate their achievements soon with the "R" club dance. Watch them get in training for it.

Then the Junior Prom. The big blank in the fairer sex's mind is, "who is the Prom Queen"? At Wisconsin she kept the fact she was Prom Queen secret for one week. Wonder if our Prom Queen can keep the fact dark that long?

Rumor has it that next week
