Frosh elections Wednesday

Campaigns are now underway for the election of freshman class officers which will be held Wed., Sept. 25. Competing for president are Steve Andersen, Mike Houliston, Charles Barlow, and Bill Rasmussen.

Steve Andersen graduated from Glenwood City High School in Wis., where he was active in football, basketball, track, baseball, debate, state forensics, school newspaper, Letterman's Club, Ski Club and Student Council. He was also president of the local 4-H Chapter. Through his participation in these activities, Andersen believes he is qualified to represent the class.

After the death of their father two years ago, Anderson and an older brother took over the job of managing the 400 acre farm. He is not interested in agriculture, he prefers working with animals and medicine. He is taking pre-professional courses in veterinary medicine.

Charles Barlow is campaigning for president because he enjoys being involved in student affairs and working with people. He graduated from Bloomer High School where he was in Student Council, chorus, band, Pep Club, AFS, school newspaper, annual, baseball, football, track, cross country, volleyball, basketball, debate and dramatics.

Barlow, a pre-medicine student, has been talking to students informally to get their opinions. If elected he will represent the students by working on their ideas and trying to get them into effect.

The third candidate vying for the presidency is Bill Rasmussen. He graduated from Tomah Senior High. Rasmussen was active in band, debate, Student Council, speech and dramatics. He is taking pre-medicine courses.

Rasmussen feels that a presidential candidate should be willing to put forth a lot of time representing his classmates. "The freshmen class needs organization," he commented. "I admire individuality, but the class cannot prosper without working together."

"Ras" stated that the Student Senate is given $120,000 in student fees to be spent on different projects. He stated, "Out of 13 senators, only one is a freshman. Therefore the freshmen need a strong voice to make sure the money is allotted to their best advantage."

Also campaigning is Mike Houliston, a graduate of White Bear High School in Minn. He is planning on majoring in French and minoring in speech. His high school activities included FTA, dramatics, French Club, school newspaper, chairman of Sno Daze, National Honor Society, and wrestling team manager.

Houliston stated that his talent if elected, would be "to draw out the talented people in the class and use them in the best way possible."

If chosen to represent the class, Houliston will devote his time "to keeping in touch with fellow classmates."

VICE-PRESIDENT

The vice-presidential candidates for the freshman class are Glen Gesler, Douglas Lenzen and David Aschebrook.

Doug Lenzen graduated from River Falls High School and has lived here 10 years. Through a job on campus this summer, Lenzen has met most of the administrators and faculty. He feels that his background would help him in working with them, thus giving him a headstart if he were elected vice president.

During high school, he was involved in swimming, baseball, junior class play, forensics, speech, chorus, and band. He is working for a Liberal Arts Degree.

Lenzen stated that his reason for running is because the freshman class is the most important class. "They are new on campus and need experienced leadership," he stated. "If elected, I would work for a student unification and loyalty to the school."

"A good candidate," according to Lenzen, "would be a person who is aware and completely willing to put himself into the job. He's going to have to lead the class and unify it."

All election information in this issue of the STUDENT VOICE is accurate as of 5 p.m. Friday, Sept. 20. It may be subject to change, however, because the deadline for filing petitions for office is 5 p.m. Monday.

Information on candidates who are running for the two new Student Senate seats may be found on page 5.

Glen Gesler, third candidate for vice-president, would like to work for more representation of the freshman class. "We have the smallest amount of say," he stated, "for the largest group on campus."

A graduate of Bloomer High School, Gesler was active in FFA, AFS, Projec-

Glen Gesler

Dave Aschebrook

tionist Club, bowling, Officials Club, track, cross country, National Honor Society, and class vice president. He is taking pre-engineering courses.

If elected, Gesler would take the responsibility of representing the student body to the best of his ability.

The fourth and final candidate for vice-president is Dave Aschebrook. He comes from Stratford, Wis., and will major in business administration. During his high school year, Aschebrook was active in basketball, track, Chess Club, Math Club, Industrial Arts Club, and Lettermen Club.

He does not think the vice president's job will be easy. If elected, he will have to get out with the people and act as a go between, between the students and the president.

An ideal candidate, according to Aschebrook, would be one who can get up and talk, has ideas, can express himself well, can accept other ideas, can get along with others, and can think things through in the proper perspective.

Acting chairmen named for IDC

Dolly Center and Dorothy Mack were elected acting co-chairmen of the Inter-Dorm Council at the IDC meetings last Wednesday. Mike Tuma will serve as acting secretary-treasurer.

The procedure for nominating officers was discussed. Each floor in the dormitories will submit names of possible candidates to the hall dorm council, who will then submit the names to IDC. This procedure in nominating officers "will bring it to the residence hall population--where it belongs," said Miss Center.

The deadline for nominating candidates is October 2.

Enrollment figure tops 4,000 mark ; sets record here

This year River Falls has hit a record enrollment of over 4,000 students. The class break up is not available at the present time because the new computer system requires four IBM cards made up for each student. At this rate, over 16,000 cards must be completed before any computation can be processed.

The cards include all the information the students have been copying down in triplicate during registration procedures.

Junior class post to be decided, too

Miss Dolly Center and Miss Phyllis Jensen will seek the office of junior class secretary on Wednesday. The two women tied for the position in the spring election.

Miss Center, a history major and an English minor, is from Chicago, Ill. She was vice-president of her junior class in high school and is currently chairman of Inter-Dorm Council (IDC); secretary of Phi Delta Theta; secretary of Legislative Action Committee (LAC) and vice-president of McMillan Hall.

Miss Jensen is a political science major and an economics-history minor. She is from Hudson, Wis. and is a member of Delta Iota Chi. Last year she was the sophomore class secretary.

SECRETARY

Candidates for secretary are Mary Johnston, Chris Nabkey, Carol Sobkoviak and Kristen Stromberg.

Miss Johnston, a physical education major and speech minor, comes from Red Wing, Minn. During high school, she was active in cheerleading, Tri-Hi-Y, GRA, Job's Daughters, choir, various class plays and high school Thespians.

Asked her reasons for running, she said, "I have had a lot of experience as a secretary and I like this kind of work and the chance to meet people. I feel I can get to know the school and to become involved with it and with other students."

Miss Nabkey, previously of Sydney, Australia, is majoring in political science and minoring in journalism. In high school, she was a member of student council, Junior City Officials Club, Orchesis, homecoming chairman, Christmas Ball chairman, Pep Club, church youth group, French club, Folk Music club, President's club and FHA.

The freshman class is characterized by inexperience and is often the scapegoat for the upperclassmen blunders," stated Miss Nabkey. She continued, "With the experience I have had in high school student government, I feel that I am qualified to give the Freshman class the leadership and experience it deserves."

Miss Sobkoviak, from Bruce, Wis., was a representative to Badger Girl's State, a DAR winner and co-valedictorian of her high school class. In high school, she served as secretary for her sophomore class, Science club and FHA. She was also vice-president of her senior class, secretary-treasurer of GAA, treasurer of band and president of the forensics group.

Miss Sobkoviak feels if she were elected secretary it would be "the best way to get involved with individual members of the class." She also stated, "I have had much experience and I think I could do a good job. The job would allow me to make many more friends."

Miss Stromberg, from St. Paul, Minn., is a physical education major. During her high school career, she was active on her class council, annual staff, school paper, GAA, Pep Club, Young Life and her school's skating unit. She also held the offices of recorder, Chaplain, second messenger and fifth messenger in Job's Daughters.

Miss Stromberg believes that as secretary she will have "one of the best of opportunities to meet kids and to get more acquainted with the school. If elected I will do my best."

TREASURER

Candidates for Freshman class treasurer are Veralee Falkenberg, Gloria Freier, Dennis Janz and Lowell Lindstrom.

Mary Johnston

Veralee Falkenberg, a math major, is from Cadott, Wis. While in high school, she was active in forensics, GAA, AFS, and the annual staff.

"I want to meet all the kids I can," said Miss Falkenberg. "I'd like the experience of being an officer in an organization like that."

Miss Frier, from Hastings, Minn., is majoring in elementary education and minoring in speech. She was active in the science, math, pep, office and library clubs while in high school. She was also a member of GAA, the National Honor Society, the National forensics league, and debate in which she won a letter and earned two certificates in competition. Miss Freier held the office of historian in the FTA, treasurer in the FHA and secretary of the Latin Club.

"It would be an opportunity for me to do things for and with people of the Freshman class," Miss Freier said when asked about her candidacy. She added that she would like to use Freshman funds for the benefit of the class.

Dennis Janz, an Air Force veteran and major in agricultural engineering, is from Berlin, Wis. While in high school, he was a reporter and president for FFA and a library assistant.

When asked about his candidacy, Janz said he wants "to help achieve higher goals for the Freshman class."

Lowell Lindstrom, from De Forest, Wis., is a history major and physical education minor. He participated in baseball, football, basketball, track and the Lettermen's Club while in high school. He was also active in the Library Club, AFS, the Senior play, the annual and newspaper staffs, forensics and the National Honor Society. Lindstrom served as a church convention delegate, treasurer of Luther League and senior committee chairman.

Lindstrom commented on his candidacy: "I have held the position in the past and I feel this is how I could best help the students. I would like to become acquainted with the students' problems and as treasurer I would be able to relay them to the president."

Election information carried in this section was correct as of 5 p.m. Friday.

Committee to study finals suggested

An ad hoc committee, composed of members of the administration, faculty, and students, was proposed to study the present final examination system. This proposal was introduced to the Student Senate by Dr. Richard Delorit, Vice President of Academic Affairs.

The committee will evaluate the W.S.U. - River Falls exam policy and will study those of various other universities. They will decide either to adhere to the present policy or to recommend the possibility of an improved exam system.

Dr. Delorit stated that final exam week "leaves much to be desired" and hopes something will be accomplished.

Forensics; debate plans are outlined

Plans for the intercollegiate debate and forensic activities were outlined during a meeting with the Forensics Union.

Pete Seguin, president of the Union, explained the activities and goals of the organization and also spoke on the area of original oratory and its requirements in competition. Margaret Kitz introduced the debate question for this year which is, "Resolved: That executive control of foreign policy should be significantly curtailed." Kathy Graham spoke on the issues arising from the resolution and explained the research being currently developed. Paulette Gergen explained extemporaneous speaking and its requirements to the students.

Mr. Carstens, advisor, outlined the coming years' activities highlighted by the Pi Kappa Tournament to be held in Tempe, Arizona in April. Other activities include the Twin City Debate League Tournaments and the River Falls traditional tournaments to be held for area high schools on Nov. 2 and Jan. 18. A spring tour with Purdue and Ball State Universities is also being planned.

Interested debaters journeyed to Stout State University at Menomonie on Wednesday, Sept. 17, to hear Rep. Alvin O'Kanski speak on the debate question. He explained the implications of the war in Vietnam and the President's failure to handle foreign policy successfully in the past.

Senators working on discount program

The Student Senate subcommittee, consisting of Student Senators John Chudy, Laverne Herberg, Dave Welles and Duane Roen, is trying, through the National Students Association (NSA), to enroll R.F. in the Minnesota Student Association Discount, according to John Chudy.

Although this plan is not definite, Chudy explained the operations of the student discount program in Minnesota. Discount cards bearing the name of the participating members are sold to the Senate and they are in turn sold to the students, and can be used for a discount in the merchant's store.

Chudy said the Senate would like to establish the discount program by winter quarter but there is a lot of work to do.

Last year there was a move to start a discount program in River Falls but there was a very poor response from the merchants. This year there is one merchant participating in the Student Discount Program, and that is Roen Ford who is offering a 10 per cent discount, according to Chudy.

In the past, when the program was presented to the merchants of River Falls, they responded by saying that the town was too small, different stores gave stamps, and they saw no reason to have the discount. The merchants told Chudy that students charged things and then never paid for them, when they did pay for items bought, their checks were not accepted.

The Senate hopes to distribute discount cards bearing the name of our sole participant. They plan on increasing the number of merchants participating in the plan. According to Chudy, the program would include the downtown merchants, whose names will be put on the discount card. They would offer a discount on the merchandise in their stores, and the cards would be sold to the students. The money from the cards would then be used for the placement of ads in various papers and to cover the expense of printing the cards.

When asked if they would like to join, the merchants replied that it was a seasonal selling job. In order to make up for their business loss during the summer, River Falls merchants capitalize on students during the school year and are reluctant to go into this discount program.

Chudy also said the bus service now in operation could be of use to the River Falls student on the discount program. The service could be used to go shopping and the student would not be obligated to find a ride into the Twin Cities. Chudy also said that the discount program of the University of Minnesota could be used as a coercive factor to get River Falls merchants to join the discount program that the Senate subcommittee is proposing.

Senate investigating book exchange

Under the chairmanship of Student Senator Jerry Gust, a committee has been set up to look into the possibilities of establishing a book exchange.

Objectives of the book exchange would be to make used books of high quality content and used books assigned in class, available to students at drastically reduced prices, about one half the new price for books in good condition.

The book exchange is also to provide students with an exchange market.

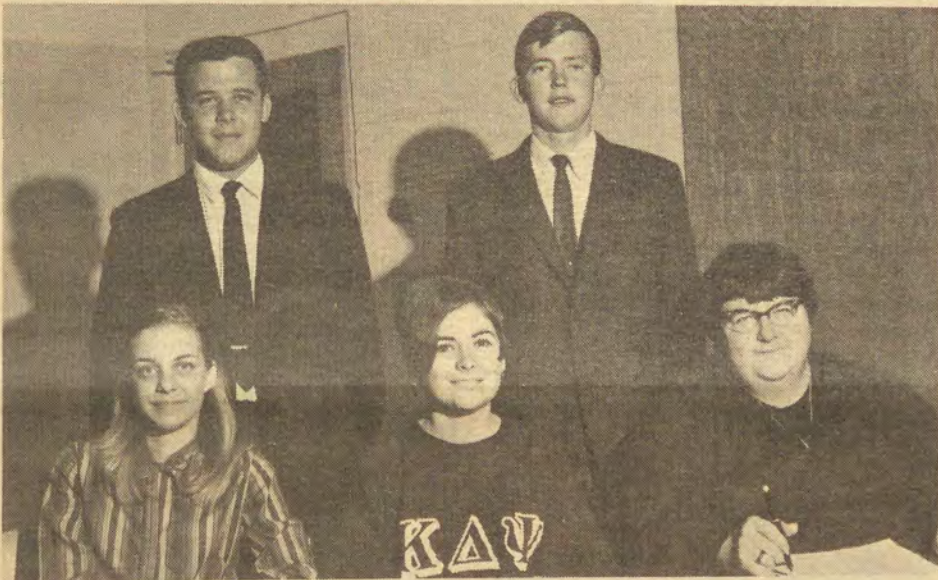

This exchange will be under the jurisdiction of the Student Senate. Tentative plans for operating procedures indicate that, books will be accepted on consignment from students at the discretion of the directors of the exchange.

The exchange will try to sell the books at a ceiling price set by the exchange, which will be approximately one half the new price, and will sell books of a kind in the order received unless, a prospective buyer rejects the book because of poor condition. In the event of rejection the next book will be offered him in sequence, and so on, until the buyer is satisfied. Identity of the seller will not be disclosed to buyer under any circumstances.

The main problem now is that permanent faculty or faculty wives are needed to give direction, performance, and overall organization to the exchange.

There have been some replies in the means of assistance. The History Club and the National Council on Teacher Education have volunteered to provide members of their organization to operate the exchange, and also the Campus Ministry has offered to house the exchange in their building, across Cascade from the Student Center.

"Squash LaCrosse" Homecoming theme

Stratton; parts of Hathorn hall empty

According to Dr. Daniel Parker, the 200 dorm rooms now vacant in Stratton Hall will undergo renovation and be ready for reoccupancy in the near future.

Stratton Hall, the oldest boys' dorm, was vacated in favor of the new Crabtree Hall on the east end of the campus. The eleven year old residence hall will receive a paint job and some remodeling work.

The oldest section, third Center, of Hathorn Hall, has been closed down and the students have been redistributed to other girls' residence halls. Parker said that the administration hoped to carry out some improvements in this section as well.

Rather than concentrate vacancies in either McMillan or Parker Halls, one wing of the fourth floor in each were closed and the girls were distributed evenly between the two.

off on Monday with a convocation featuring campus organizations who will present skits which will be judged. This event is in place of the customary "Crazy College Capers."

On Tuesday, Students will vote for the Homecoming Queen and the coronation along with entertainment, will be Wednesday evening.

On Thursday, a Spielhaus Dance is tentatively scheduled. Friday will feature judging of floats and window displays, as well as a bonfire, snake dance and pep fest that evening.

The Homecoming Week Celebration will conclude on Saturday, Oct. 19, with a parade at 10 a.m.; the game with La Crosse at 1:30 p.m.; receptions and lunches for the alumni; and a dance in the evening.

Organizations are reminded that they must have their window displays finished by Oct. 16. In this way, more people will have a chance to view them thus giving the downtown area more of a homecoming spirit.

This year's Homecoming Planning Committee members are: Glen Denk, chairman; Judie O'Brien; Bonnie Robertson; Jim Thompson; and Barbara Wild.

LAC will hold interviews for 4 members at large. These interviews will be held at 6 p.m., Tuesday, Oct. 1, in the Student Senate Office.

Abbott explains reasons for resigning from post

Dr. William Abbott, chairman of the music department for 11 years, announced his resignation from that chairmanship in a letter dated Sept. 14.

The letter was sent to Dr. J. J. McLaughlin, Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences.

Abbott asked Dean McLaughlin to "consider this letter my resignation as chairman of the music department of this institution." He said he was willing to remain in his position until a successor could be named, but it should be done in the near future. Abbott intends to continue as a teacher of theory, piano and music appreciation in the music department.

Abbott explained in the letter that the

New gallery show to open on Oct. 6

The second exhibition at the University Art Gallery will feature recent Art Faculty works. The show opens with a reception at the Gallery on Sunday, Oct. 6, from 2-4 p.m. when everyone is invited to meet the artists and enjoy refreshments.

The show will include a variety of art media; painting, graphics, fiber, sculpture, metal works, and ceramics.

The exhibition will run through October 27. Gallery hours are Sundays, 2 to 7 p.m.; Weekdays, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.; and Monday and Wednesday evenings, 6 to 9 p.m.

plans for a University marching band were what prompted his resignation. He said, "Over a number of years, I have frequently made the statement, both privately and publicly, that as long as I was departmental chairman, there would not be a marching band in this institution."

"Now, because of interest on the part of the administration as well as on the part of a majority of faculty members of the music department, the decision has been made to have a marching band."

Abbott said that he had known the interest existed, but had been "hoping to quell this interest and to persuade the administration and the faculty that to initiate a marching band program would be, in fact, not in the best interests of the department or of the institution."

Abbott explained that it had been the intention of the department to conduct an in-depth study into beginning a marching band. He said had it been decided at the conclusion of such a study that having a marching band was a proper undertaking, he would have promoted it to the fullest, though he felt that a resignation at that time would have been necessary.

However, he said, "since the beginning of a marching band program is a 'fait accompli', I have no alternative to resignation."

Abbott said that he felt the initiation of a marching band would be a step backward musically, educationally and philosophically.

"It disappoints me," Abbott said, "to see my university willing to forsake its position of leadership in this instance and capitulate to the non-educationally and non-culturally motivated desires of certain forces."

A memorial destroyed

Last fall a fountain was donated to this University by Mrs. Melvin Wall as a final honor to her husband. Dr. Wall was an agriculture professor who was killed in an airplane crash in 1967 while touring Vietnam.

This fountain has been referred to as "irrelevancy" and a product of "spontaneous and unthoughtful taste." It has been ridiculed, splashed in, knocked down and finally destroyed.

The fountain, which should be standing between the Student Center and South Hall, is now stored in-part in the basement of South Hall. The remaining bits and pieces are in the hands of the thieves who broke the fountain into pieces and then stole what they could carry.

The critics of the fountain were offended by the "archaic and victorian" aspect of the fountain. They objected to the cherubs and the central figure which comprised the memorial - - even terming it an "eyesore."

Well, now the "eyesore" has been permanently removed by a group of vandals and in its place stands a masterpiece of beauty. An iron pipe emerges from the ground with an occasional spurt of water billowing from its lovely, gaping hole.

The masterpiece of art and beauty which was "created" by the vandals and their inspired work leaves an unforgettable stamp upon this campus. A mark which is constantly on display to the public and to the students and faculty who must pass it each day.

This type of monument is certainly not a memorial to anyone... except, perhaps, to the warped minds which fashioned it.

An outdated tradition

Last week was the week freshmen had been so eagerly awaiting - - they were officially allowed to meet the mighty sophomores. But where were the frosh those days? Did you notice the scarcity of red and white beanies, the youthful looking (and unfamiliar) junior and senior faces? And that stone you kicked down the street, did you unearth a quivering, quaking frosh hiding beneath it?

If this was what you noticed wasn't the purpose of freshmen initiation lost?

What, might sophs, was the reason you didn't meet three-quarters of the class of 1972? (Are you still dateless super soph boys?) And why, oh lowly frosh were you so afraid to tread the sidewalks of our campus and meet those friendly and outgoing upperclassmen? Could it be, oh classes of 1971 and 1972, that there was a flaw (oh, no!) in this hallowed tradition, in which we alone, of the nine state Universities, persist?

Susie Coed probably will cherish forever meeting the Big Man on Campus and carrying his eight books, his overcoat and her own books from the main campus to Rodli Commons.

And, Freddie Frosh will never forget the friendly sophomore who made him get down on his hands and knees in the mud, in a suit, to pick up fallen leaves with his teeth.

Why should his fellow freshman girl ever forget that time when she met everyone in Rodli Commons as she stood on the table and told them she wished she was an Oscar Mayer weiner?

Is it a wonder when its over that the freshmen are disgusted with this antiquated and unrealistic method of meeting people?

Freshmen, it is now up to you to find more constructive ways to meet next year's class. Things uniting the classes, such as the Beanie Dance and the Tug of War should not be eliminated, but it will be necessary for you to organize activities from which both classes will benefit rather than use the humiliating methods and terror tactics now employed.

Senior plays carillon

"The Battle Hymn of the Republic" and "I'm Gettin' Married in the Morning" are two selections one hears from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. every hour on the hour from the University carillon. The carillon is a memorial to former President Dr. E. H. Kleinpel.

Ruth Ann Wood, a senior music major from Clear Lake, Wisconsin, is currently the official carillonneur for WSU-River Falls.

"A carillon," as Miss Wood explained, "is composed of cast bells that are struck from a keyboard and amplified."

In June she and eight others attended the Schulmerick School of Campanology for one week. Most of the other students at the school were sponsored by churches that had larger carillons than the one at River Falls.

Since there are very few pieces of music written especially for carillons, Miss Wood writes most of her own music. She has to transcribe music written for other instruments and re-write the music according to the various notes and sounds of the carillon.

Miss Wood plays the carillon for the University on a student assistantship. She also is trying to collect carillon music for a music library.

There are also music rolls which are similar to piano rolls that are set to begin playing automatically on the hour.

Miss Wood is looking for someone to take her place next year and during winter quarter when she student teaches. "I'm looking for someone with some keyboard experience and some knowledge of music theory so I can begin training them right now," she said.

UCM sponsors Kerner report. retreat Oct. 4

"Our nation is moving toward two societies, one black, one white--separate and unequal."--Kerner Report.

The summer of 1967 again brought racial disorders to American cities, and with them shock, fear and bewilderment to the nation.

The worst came during a two-week period in July, first in Newark and then in Detroit. Each set off a chain of reaction in neighboring communities.

On July 28, 1967, the President of the United States established the National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders. The commission was directed to answer three basic questions:

What happened?

Why did it happen?

What can be done to prevent it from happening again?

"We have seen in our cities a chain reaction of racial violence. If we are heedless, none of us shall escape the consequences."--Kerner Report.

The United Campus Ministry will sponsor a retreat on Oct. 4 and 5 at Camp Mishawak, Birchwood, Wis., to study the report of the commission, commonly known as the Kerner Report.

Dr. Robert Bailey, chairman of the sociology department, will be the guest speaker at the study retreat.

The total cost of the retreat is $2. Any interested faculty members or students may contact Rev. Dan Jonas, UCM Center, by Oct. 1.

Prologue work at a standstill

Work on this year's issue of "The Prologue," the student literary magazine, is presently at a standstill. The English Department says that it is waiting for the Student Senate to take action on the publication rights before any work on the magazine will be done.

Five battle for Senate seats

As of 5 p.m. Friday, five students had filed for the two Student Senate openings. Candidates filing petitions with Dr. William Munns, vice president of student affairs, were Mary Ellen Betz, Duane Roen, John Hanna, Gary Bastian and Steve Voss.

Mary Ellen Betz, a senior from Byron, Wis., is an English major and library science minor. While attending WSU-RF, Miss Betz has been active in the following: Hathorn Hall council, president and judicial secretary; Associated Women Students (AWS), executive board; Greek Letter Council, Phi Delta Theta Sorority, parliamentarian; Young Democrats; Senate Elections committee; Board of Directors for the Coffee House and at present the secretary; and the Senate "Roger Wagner Chorale" committee.

"The main reason I am running for Student Senate is because I feel I have the qualifications necessary to be a good senator," said Miss Betz. "I have had three years experience in Student government. Most of all I am deeply concerned about the problems confronting the students at River Falls and know that being a senator will enable me to serve them to their best interest."

Duane Roen, a sophomore from Hammond, is a business administration major and psychology minor. Roen has been active in student government, serving on the Student Senate discount committee, United Council, Legislative Action Committee (LAC) and the National Student Association service coordinator.

Roen advocates financial support of the hockey team, a noon meal plan and better parking facilities for commuters, and a student discount in his platform.

When asked his reasons for running for Senate, Roen commented: "I would like to see more cooperative efforts of faculty, students and administration in solving their unique and common problems."

The Student Voice reporters were unable to reach Hanna and Bastian for comments and background information.

After being a representative for two years in the Watertown high school senate, Steven Voss is now campaigning for a position on Student Senate. Voss stated that he is running because he feels that the Senate is presently top heavy and that the lower classes have not been adequately represented.

Voss's platform includes a policy of close ideals with fellow governmental workers to establish a powerful administration. He is also concerned about the issues of the student discount, committee recruitment, and the President's Roundtable.

Dean Bruce O. Peterson

RF has new dean of men

Dr. Bruce O. Peterson, a native of Chetek, Wis., assumed the office of Dean of Men at Wisconsin State University-River Falls this fall. The new Dean of Men took over from Dr. William Munns, vice president in charge of student affairs.

Although this is his first position as Dean of Men, Dr. Peterson worked in student affairs at New Mexico State University prior to coming to River Falls.

Dr. Peterson, 29, attended Northland College where he received his B.A. in 1961 with a major in psychology and minors in math, physics, and French. He then taught for two years in Barron, Wis., before attending New Mexico State University where he received his M.A. in psychological services in 1965 and his Ed. D. in Education administration and research in 1968. While working on his degrees at New Mexico State, Dr. Peterson served as head resident counselor and then as director of scheduling at that university.

Dr. Peterson gave three main reasons for coming to River Falls: the professional opportunity involved, the excellent people on the staff, and the opportunities for faculty-student involvement available at a university of this size. He feels that River Falls is the right size for a person to have "an opportunity to have an impact," and to be "an individual."

Speaking of his new position, Dr. Peterson said, "I intend to do a good job. Rules and regulations must be enforced --but there's a way of doing it."

RF student in coma

Rodney Janowski injured critically in an automobile accident on September 22, 1967, has been released from a University of Chicago Hospital. The WSU-River Falls junior is a member of the Sigma Tau Epsilon (now Theta Chi) fraternity. Because of the many inquiries about his condition the VOICE has learned that he remains in a semi coma at his Chicago home. According to his mother he is receiving physical therapy to prevent deterioration of muscle tissue.

Use of computers replace 600 man hours in grading

Last spring, River Falls issued its grade reports by computer for the first time. Quarter grades were computed and permanent records prepared in approximately two hours. This step took months of planning and preparation.

Wayne Peterson, assistant registrar, reported that the new system replaced more than 600 man hours usually spent in sorting, mailing and posting permanent records under the old system. In another seven hours, an auxiliary computer printed the reports for both the students and the permanent files. Full development of the Computer Center is expected to take about a year.

Computerized grading and registration will provide greater accuracy and time efficiency, said Peterson. The time saved was noticeable by the students at spring pre-registration.

Peterson added that the Registrars office can now provide information to departments on their majors and minors. Cumulative grade point average (G.P.A.) status can also be obtained for use by financial aids, graduate schools, honorary and social fraternities, and so on. Various other computations, such as type of residence, male-female ratio, etc., will give the University a better picture of its student body.

Also new equipment expected this December will enable the Center to speed up the grading process. A civil service employee, who is to assist in the Center management, was expected in August, but hasn't come as yet. The present director and faculty assistant have teaching loads in addition to their work in the Center.

A listing of courses, grades received in each, updated number of credits carried, the cumulative G.P.A. and current G.P.A. of each student are included in each grade report.

Students will pay $2 for 1969 Meleteans

Craig Middleton, editor of the Meletean annual, said that a two dollar retainer fee will be attached to the 1969 Meletean. The Student Senate will appropriate three dollars per student subscription. The money Senate gives to the Meletean is drawn from the student fees. This money will cover three-fifths of the total cost of printing.

The total cost of each Meletean is $5.00; $3.12 for printing, $1.80 for operation and $.08 for miscellaneous cost. This comes to a grand total of $5.00 apiece. The $2.00 retainer will supplement the $3.00 appropriation by Senate. The retainer fee will give the Meletean Staff a better idea of how many annuals to order. This will alleviate the problem of excess Meleteans.

The 1969 Meletean will be in black and white. In 1968, Meletean operations cost $16,550.00. A color 1969 Meletean would cost $21,000.00, or an increase of $4,450; whereas a black and white Meletean would cost $19,000.00, or an increase of $2,450.00. Accordingly, the 1969 Meletean will be in color.

Middleton hopes that the 1970 Meletean will not, in anyway, be dependent upon Student Senate appropriations. The students would pay the entire price of the Annual. In this way the Student Fees that would be used for the Meletean, can be used in other ways by the Senate.

Hathorn has new house director and counselor

Mrs. Helen Fett joined the Personnel Staff this fall replacing Mrs. Ruth Harrigan as counselor and house director of Hathorn Hall. Mrs. Fett was formerly retired after 22 years of teaching elementary school.

Two main factors influenced Mrs. Fett's decision to accept the position at Hathorn. First, she finds working with young people very rewarding. The second factor being that she was greatly impressed by the school and the community. "This part of the country is beautiful," she remarked, "and the people are all so friendly."

Commenting on dorm rules, Mrs. Fett noted that at WSU-RF as compared to colleges in other parts of the country, the students make the decisions. "Here the students are a part of it by being able to express their ideas and opinions in the self governing bodies of the dorm," she explained.

Some of Mrs. Fett's main duties include interviewing those on deficiency and probation lists, making roommate changes, directing fire drills, taking care of the desk at times, mail, and inventories, counseling, helping solve problems, and controlling the budget. She also works with Genevieve McCracken, head resident counselor at Hathorn.

A graduate of McKendree College in Lebanon, Ill., Mrs. Fett received a B.A. in education and art.

First WSU-River Falls delegation travels to 21st NSA convention

Kansas State University at Manhattan, Kansas was the August setting for the 21st United States National Student Association (NSA) convention. Wisconsin State University--River Falls, a new member as of last spring, was represented by Chuck Feltes, Linda Graves, John Peterson and Duane Roen.

The nine day convention was filled with heated discussion and vigorous debate according to the delegates. In the end, however, the somewhat "leftist" NSA produced eight new pieces of legislation.

"Whereas the placement of students by an institution is in the final analysis a service to the individual student and to the individual employer". The NSA adopted a resolution which would lead to new and more competent job placement. The system results from the matching of detailed questionnaires filled out by students with a job specification form filled out by companies.

A resolution supporting the farm workers in their struggle for more adequate working and living conditions as well as for an adequate minimum wage was enacted by the convention. Regarding this resolution and in light of recent developments in California concerning the farm workers and the grape producers, the Senate has confronted Food Service Director Donald George asking him to support their stand and to refuse to serve any grapes with meals in the cafeteria.

Resulting from a resolution designed to eliminate any racism on campuses the Student Senate is obligated to report to the NSA informing them of its attempts to deal with problems of racism at River Falls. Other resolutions passed at the convention provided NSA support of an 18 year old universal voting law, new and improved student services for member schools, increased student rights, improved relations in the Middle East and a more equitable selective service program.

River Falls, the first Wisconsin State University to become a member of NSA, is one of 300 member universities throughout the nation. The NSA program, which is now in effect on the River Falls campus offers many new services to the student. Some of the student services are life insurance programs, travel discounts, student discount cards, cultural programming and record and book clubs. These and other services were granted to River Falls on a "trial membership" basis for a cost of $21.00 a year. The Senate feels it is an insignificant sum for the services rendered by the NSA.

Competition nearing close for study abroad grants

The competition for United States Government grants for graduate study or research, or for study and professional training in the creative and performing arts abroad in 1969-70, is nearing its close.

The awards are available as part of the educational and cultural exchange program of the U. S. Department of State. The

UAB sponsors Chaplin greats

An anthology of Charlie Chaplin "greats" will be sponsored by University Activities Board (U.A.B.) at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday in the Student Center Ballroom. This is in their series of free films.

Included in the presentation is "Behind the Screen" (1916), featuring Chaplin in a rise from movie set property man to actor using the traditional pie-throwing sequence.

"Easy Street" (1917), the second film is a subdued comedy with overtones of social criticism. Chaplin plays a derelict, and the action centers about a mission where he succeeds in reforming the residents of Easy Street.

"The Adventurer" (1917), is the third film to be shown. It is an action-filled, old-time slapstick comedy. Chaplin appears as an escaped convict and is invited as a house guest by two women who believe he is a gallant sportsman.

Sentiment and social satire are combined into a story about a newly arrived immigrant and the girl he befriends and marries. This final film to be shown is entitled "The Immigrant" (1917).

All students are invited to attend.

general purpose of the program, administered by the Institute of International Education, is to increase mutual understanding between the people of the United States and those of other countries.

With competition greatly increased and reduction in Congressional funding, only candidates who fully meet eligibility requirements and other selection criteria will be considered. Applicants must be U.S. citizens at the time of application, must generally be proficient in the language of the host country, and must have a bachelor's degree or its equivalent by the beginning date of the grant.

Selections will be made on the basis of academic and/or professional record, the feasibility of the applicant's proposed study plan, his personal qualifications, and evidence that his selection for a grant would help advance the aims of the program.

Two types of grants are available under the Fulbright-Hays Act: U.S. Government Full Grants, and U.S. Government Travel Grants.

Application forms and detailed information are available from the campus Fulbright Program Advisor, Dr. Robert Bailey III, Room 226 South Hall. The deadline for filing such applications on this campus is Oct. 15.

Falcons whip Yellowjackets

by Rob Orcutt

The River Falls Falcons defeated Superior Saturday night 27-7 in the Falcons first home conference game of the season.

The Falcons did all of their scoring in the first three quarters while Superior picked up a consolation touchdown in the fourth quarter.

The game started out as a bruising defensive battle with neither team being able to move the ball. Finally after keeping the Yellowjackets in their own territory, the Falcons took over on the Superior 46 yard line after a Yellowjacket punt.

Jerry Trooien took the Falcons the distance in eight plays with a pass interference penalty on Superior sandwiched in the drive. The key play of the drive besides the interference penalty was a 21 yard scamper by sophomore Ed Gruenwald. John O'Neill hit pay dirt with a three yard run that finished the Falcons first drive. John Cahalan missed the extra point attempt which left the Falcons in front of Superior 6-0 with 5:35 left in the first quarter.

Midway through the second quarter Doug Sutherland, last years leading punter in the conference punted into the endzone. The Falcons took over on their own 20 yard line. O'Neill gained nine yards up the middle and Jerry Trooien found Tim DeLawyer open for a nine yard pass. Ed Gruenwald found daylight and ran for 12 more yards. Trooien went back to pass again but had to scramble and did for 21 yards. O'Neill was then held for no gain, but the big sophomore came right back however with a five yard gainer through the middle of the line. With the ball on the Superior 24 yard line, Trooien hit DeLawyer with an eleven yard pass. John O'Neill did the rest as he bulled the last thirteen yards on his own. Cahalan's kick was good and the Falcons lengthened the lead to 13-0.

Late in the second quarter Superior took over after Brian Kreibich punted to the Superior 20 yard line. On second down Steve Sirianni intercepted a Superior pass and returned it 37 yards down to the enemy three yard line.

It took the Falcons four plays but Jerry Trooien took the ball over on a quarterback sneak to put the Falcons ahead at the half 20-0.

The third quarter was mostly a defensive struggle. Finally late in the quarter David Sempf partially blocked a Superior punt and the Falcons were in business on the Superior 33 yard line.

Trooien needed only two plays in this short drive as he hit Harold Blank with a 23 yard pitch and followed up with another pitch to Blank this time covering 10 yards and the touchdown. This made the score 27-0 with only seconds remaining in the third quarter.

After being shutout by the Falcons strong defense, Superior finally put together their only drive of the evening. The Yellowjackets went 71 yards in eight plays. The final 27 yards was covered on a pass from Paul Hammerbeck to Craig Kuntz. This made the score 27-7. The rest of the game was fought with neither side putting anything together offensively.

Next week St. Norbert will invade

River Falls. Word is that St. Norbert will not be an easy foe for the Falcons. The game will start at 1:30. The next home conference game will be Oct. 12 when Eau Claire invades for a night game.

River Falls has finally come up with a backfield combination. Behind junior quarterback, Jerry Trooien, three sophomores did all the rushing and was very instrumental in River Falls' 27-7 triumphing of Superior.

In previous games the running attack has been far from spectacular, but Saturday night the holes opened up and long yardage was the result.

Ed Gruenwald and John O'Neill each rushed for 63 yards and John Cahalan scampered for 33. Trooien, who was tagged for -37 yards last week at Platteville, was in the plus column this week with 22 yards.

Despite the score, the statistics were fairly close. When Superior started a drive, they would gain big yardage on the first one or two plays, then be stopped by the defense.

Tim DeLawyer led the receivers with four receptions for 67 yards and Brian Kreibich punted 11 times for 412 yards. So far Kreibich's punting average for the year is 39.15 yards per kick.

Kreibich also had two interceptions and Steve Sirianni had the other.

The Falcon defense really cracked the Yellowjacket ball carriers. Many bruises were obtained Saturday night trying to run through Jim Kiesow, Paul Juckem, Tom Carroll, Mike Jensen and Dean Christensen. All were defensive standouts to say the least. Kiesow lead the tacklers with 12 tackles and six assists and Tom Carroll had eight tackles and seven assists.

Dave Sempf, senior from Glenwood City, blocked a Yellowjacket punt with 7:30 left in the third quarter to set up a Falcon score. Trooien hit Blank in the endzone at the 6:58 mark.

It was a great game to see, especially for the 1938 football and baseball teams. Members of the two championship teams came from all over the United States to be honored guests at the football game.

The grass is green sure is beautiful isn't it? It must really help the cross country team because they lost to Eau Claire by only two points.

The Rodeo is next weekend and the Falcons host St. Norbert College. The cross country team is also home, so don't complain that River Falls is so dull on Saturdays!

St. Norbert is a tough team to beat. Coach Christensen will really have to get the team up for this one.

My prediction for the Superior game wasn't too bad. Before gametime statistician Pete Palmer asked my prediction. "28-6", I said. What's a guy to do, huh?

Eau Claire nips RF in cross country meet

by Pete Holmlund

Eau Claire State with some good depth, managed to nip River Falls 38-40, in a quadrangular cross country meet, held at Menomonie Saturday. Running in a constant downpour, the Falcons placed a close second, far ahead of Stout and University Extension at Rice Lake.

The Eau Claire Bluegold's Jean Alm, covered the shortened 3 1/4 mile course in 15:32, with Falcon junior Larry Rud pushing him all the way at 15:37. Alm and Rud, who were both far ahead of the pack from start to finish, missed a flag marker early in the race, causing them and the rest of the field to run 3 1/4 miles instead of the usual 4 miles.

Although Eau Claire had depth, the River Falls harriers were well represented, as Marion freshman Ron Radies placed 4th, followed by junior Greg Zwadlo 6th, Soph. Darrell Anderson 8th, and fifth man Tom Cook 20th, out of a field of twenty-eight runners.

Head Coach Rial Smith was surprised at Eau Claire's first place finish, as he had expected Stout to be in the front of the field. "It was disappointing not to win, but it gave me a good chance to see what the fellows can do," commented Smith.

This Saturday, Sept. 28, at 11 a.m. the River Falls squad will hold its first conference triangular meet, hosting WSU-La Crosse and WSU Superior. Coach Smith expects the La Crosse State Indians to be "extremely tough, due to their large number of returning lettermen, plus Dale Roe, a transfer student from Stevens Point." Superior which is in its first year of cross country, is an unknown quantity.

The little over four mile race will start and finish on the new Grasstex running track at Ramer Field. The course will be run mainly through the campus, out sixth street, and back down the railroad tressel on to Ramer Field.

The meet looks to be interesting, with the young Falcons (all underclassmen) attempting to upset the veteran La Crosse State seven. Coach Smith says that 80% of the race course can be viewed from the football bleachers, and all students and faculty are encouraged to come out.

Area college report

by Harley O'Brion

Whitewater-Still undefeated this season with a 20-0 win over Stout. Northern Illinois defeated Whitewater 21-35 in cross country on Sept. 14. Tom Hoffman (WW) turned in winning time of 20:43 for four miles. Player-of-the-Week (Sept. 14) - Al Equi, Senior linebacker from Glenbard, Ill. Equi had three tackles, nine assists and knocked down three passes against Stevens Point.

Stout-Player-of-the-Week (Sept. 14) - Nick Misch, sophomore from Blair, Wis. Also WSCU Player-of-the-Week, Misch, a 6'2" offense and defensive halfback, scored on a 50 yard punt return and runs of five and twelve yards.

Blue Devil head football coach, Max Sparger is in the hospital with an illness and assistant coach Sten Pierce is taking over.

Oshkosh-Player-of-the-Week (Sept. 14) - Ron Cardo, a 6' 200 pound sophomore from Milwaukee, rushed 20 times for 87 yards and caught three passes for 37 yards. He also scored on an 11 yard run.

Platteville-Player-of-the-Week (Sept. 14) - Senior Paul Jesberger from Sun Prairie, Wis. had seven tackles and 10 assists in Platteville's 41-7 victory over River Falls.

Stevens Point -Player-of-the-Week (Sept. 14) - Steve Johnson, a 5'10", 185 pound senior linebacker from Galesville, Wis. had 15 tackles and according to head coach Duaine Council, "He played probably the best game of his life."

La Crosse-Player-of-the-Week (Sept. 14) - Tom Mancusco, a two-way lineman from Wauwatosa, contributed 12 solo tackles in their defeat to Oshkosh.

River Falls-Player-of-the-Week (Sept. 14) - Linebacker Jim Kiesow, senior from Waterloo, Wis. made 12 solo tackles and his pass interception led to the Falcon's lone touchdown.

Upper Iowa - Head football coach Everett "Eb" Eischeid resigned after eight campaigns. Mike Olson, assistant football and head wrestling coach, will assume Eischeid's duties as acting head football coach.

St. Norberts College- The Green Knights of West DePere, Wis. plays five WSUC teams this fall. These are: Stevens Point, River Falls, LaCrosse, Whitewater and Oshkosh. Head coach Howie Kolstad has compiled a 47-21-4 record in eight seasons.

Bethel - The Royals have 20 returning lettermen with senior quarterback Al Selandier, NAIA Little All American honorable mention, returning also. Last year he passed for 1228 yards.

Falcons Frontier Days this weekend

by Tony D'Alessio
Voice sports writer

The River Falls Collegiate Rodeo Association will host the Fifth Annual National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association NIRA Rodeo for the Falcon Frontier Days, Saturday and Sunday on the college farm rodeo grounds.

The Rodeo Association has been active on campus for the past seven years. It is composed of about 25 active members including a traveling rodeo team which competes intercollegiately in the Great Plains Region. Teams compete for points toward Regional Championships and a chance to compete in the National Finals NIRA Rodeo.

In addition to sponsoring a rider and competing at other college rodeos, the association also sponsors an American Quarter Horse Association (AQHA) approved horse show in the spring.

There will be eight schools competing this year from the Great Plains Region: Wisconsin State University-River Falls, Iowa State University, Kansas State University, University of Kansas, University of South Dakota, Northern State College, South Dakota State University and Black Hills State College. Last years champion was South Dakota State University.

This year as in the past there will be a queen contest. The queen contest is open to all RF Rodeo Club girls and is judged on horsemanship, personality and appearance. The girl chosen as queen is eligible to compete in the National College rodeo queen contest at the National Finals Rodeo.

Events to be held this year will be as follows:

BAREBACK BRONC RIDING:

Bareback Bronc Riding is an eight second contest between man and horse. The cowboy rides with one hand to his rigging and the other free and in the air. If the rider touches himself or the horse with his free hand or fails to spur the horse out of the chute he is disqualified.

CALF ROPING

Calf Roping is a timed event in which the cowboy on his horse starts from behind a barrier after a calf which has been given a head start. The cowboy then ropes the calf, dismounts, runs down the rope to the calf, throws it to the ground and ties any three legs. In this event the rope horse is an important partner; running rapidly, stopping quickly and keeping tension on the rope, it makes the cowboy's job easier.

BARREL RACE

This women's timed event is run in a cloverleaf pattern around three barrels. Most girls choose the speedy Quarter Horse for this event.

SADDLE BRONC RIDING

Big, rangy, powerful horses are used in this event. The cowboy rides a special saddle built especially for contest riding. He is allowed to hold a bucking rein in one hand. He must spur his horse out of the chute and keep one hand free and in the air.

RIBBON ROPING

Ribbon Roping starts like calf roping. Instead of throwing and tying the calf, he pulls a ribbon off its tail. A mucker usually assists by holding the struggling calf so the roper can quickly get the ribbon off the tail. After he has the ribbon the roper must run with it back to the roping chutes.

GOAT TYING

In this women's event each contestant runs her horse into the center of the arena where a goat is staked out on a ten foot rope. She must dismount, run to the goat, throw it and tie any three legs. Her time starts as she begins her run and finishes when she signals time after completing the tie.

STEER WRESTLING

Steer Wrestling or Dogging is a timed event in which two men on horseback line out a horned steer when it leaves the chute and chase it until the dogger gets in position to jump. After he leaves his horse, the horse and the hazer run past while the dogger struggles to twist his steer to the ground.

BULL RIDING

A rough one, a cowboy attempts to stay in the middle of a rank, ornery Brahma bull. The clown is very essential in this contest as he is the one responsible for the riders' safety. He will draw the bull towards himself, allowing a downed rider to get to the fence.

ALL AROUND COWBOY AND ALL AROUND COWGIRL

The All-Arounds are selected on the total number of points won at this rodeo. The 300 points of each event are divided among the top six contestants. The man and woman with the most points at the end of the rodeo receive the All-Around Awards.

CHAMPION TEAMS

The High Point Team trophy is award-

50 mile swim set

The physical education department in co-ordination with the national Red Cross is offering a 50 mile swim for students interested in exercise.

A student must swim a minimum of one quarter mile at each attempt to get credit for a distance.

If interested, contact Mr. Smith, director of intramurals, in room 115 Karges.

Peterson manuscript accepted

Dr. E. N. Peterson, head of the history department since 1962, had a manuscript accepted for publication by the Princeton University Press in May.

The suggested title of the manuscript is "The Limits of Hitler's Power: Resistance and Diversion in Nazi Germany."

The study, begun on a research grant in 1963 and continued on another in 1966, traces the chain of power from Hitler to his Reich Government, the ministry of the Interior, the Bavarian Government, the cities of Nuremberg and Augsburg and to two small towns and various villages. It argues that power relationships in a "totalitarian" state are much more complex than one would assume from histories written by either critics or defenders.

Dr. Peterson received permission from the Department of the Army, of Aug. 30, to use classified army documents for a continuing study of these communities under the U.S. Army occupation 1945-49. He hopes that he can show something of the same phenomenon in the power relationships of a conquering army of occupation as it occurred. Research of what the United States accomplished is more difficult than that of the Nazi period because the Nazis were in no position to prevent documents from being used, said Peterson. Assuming the cooperation of the military, Peterson said he expects to research the subject in the National Archives collections in Washington and in Kansas City, Mo. during Christmas vacation, and also during Easter vacation.

Peterson said he will be going to Germany to spend as much time as needed, possibly one or two quarters, to estimate the actual impact of American policy. Peterson plans to spend his time in southern Germany Bavaria. In Bavaria he is going to spend his time in Augsburg, Nuremberg and Munich, researching his book.

Peterson stated that he had already spent some time in Germany in 1964 and again in 1966.

Most of his research in Germany would be in local archives, in the state archives in Munich and the National Archives in Koblenz.

Peterson had asked for permission to use the National Archives in East Germany but was refused permission with no reason given.

According to Peterson, he will be going to East Germany and will talk to the people and take some photographs, but he would not speak to any officials. He also said that the Communist newspapers probably would not give him truthful information and the free newspapers would not have all the necessary information.

Research for the manuscript may take a year, said Peterson. After researching during the vacations throughout the year, he would like to spend next summer and the following year finishing up.

Peterson said that he was not worried about material, because he will have the army documents to work with, he may not see all of them. He said no government releases full documents because there are many "touchy areas" that are too close to national security. These he is sure he will not see.

Peterson said he would use the American documents to compare what the government said was going to be done with what was actually done.

Y-Dems meet Tuesday night

The WSU-River Falls Young Democrats will meet tomorrow night, Tuesday, Sept. 24, at 7:30 p.m. in 203 Student Center, according to Don Miller, chairman of the group.

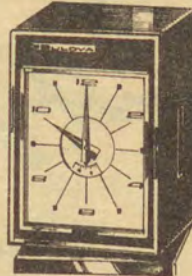

Miller said that the meeting will be an orientation session for any new members and a strategy session for implementing their first three goals of the year, which includes 1) supporting all state Democratic nominees; 2) working for those candidates, and then later the November election concentrating on local and campus issues; and 3) organizing a membership drive.

Miller made a point of emphasizing that the local Young Dems will support more readily those candidates who are against the war in Vietnam. "The Young Dems will be involved in an anti-war campaign and will work for those Democratic candidates who agree with our views," Miller stated. "Those views are an immediate cessation of the bombing and a withdrawal of American troops." He said that the group will make a formal platform statement later.

Meetings will be held monthly on the 2nd and 4th Wednesdays in 203 S.C. For more information contact Don Miller, 425-7021 (chairman); Mike Reigert, 410 May (vice-chairman); or Mary Duffey (secretary).
