Wold named chairman of music dept.

Elliott Wold has become the new chairman of the department of music at WSU-River Falls. Wold replaces Dr. William Abbott, who resigned during the quarter, leaving the vacancy.

Wold, who received his undergraduate degree from Concordia College, Moorhead, Minn., and his master's degree from the University of Wisconsin, taught 6 years at Luther College, Decorah, Iowa, and one year at his alma mater, Concordia, before coming to River Falls six years ago. He has been director of the choir here at River Falls while teaching music education courses.

The new chairman just returned from a two year leave of absence while working toward a doctorate in performance at Northwestern University. He feels River Falls has one of the "strongest" music curriculums with which he had been involved.

Expanding the department's programs to reach the local communities is a major task Wold hopes to accomplish. Promoting greater public relation, the department plans to host high school music festivals, and to send instructors from the department to local high schools to aid in music clinics.

Wold would like to see more student interest in music activities and is optimistic that these new programs will be beneficial to that end.

Dr. George Reed Field

national chairman of the State Alumni Association.

State Senator Robert P. Knowles will extend greetings from his brother, Governor Warren P. Knowles, and the state of Wisconsin. Other officials who will greet the new president will be William E. White, associate director of the Coordinating Council for Higher Education; Eugene R. McPhee, executive director of the Board of Regents of Wisconsin State Universities, and Regent Norman L. Christianson.

Immediately preceding the inauguration, the University Concert Choir will sing, "Let Thy Hand Be Strengthened" by Handel.

Field will be installed by Eugene W. Murphy, president of Board of Regents of Wisconsin State Universities. Field's inaugural address will follow.

IDC officer elections set for Tuesday

Competition for Interdorm Council (IDC) offices will reach a peak from noon to 9 p.m. Tuesday when IDC elections will be held.

IDC is the coordinating body for the nine University residence halls. It is made up of representatives from each dorm, with a ratio of one representative for each 100 residents.

Candidates will be competing for six positions, president, first vice-president, second vice-president, recording secretary, corresponding secretary and treasurer.

High School: River Falls High School
 For qualifications she listed: Member of Phi Delta Theta, Student National Education association, National Council Teachers of Education, Educational Improvements Committee.

Reasons for running: "It has been customary for students on weekends to flock to other towns or to their homes since the campus proves to be too dull. As a result of this I feel that with the guidance of Inter Dorm Council (IDC) the dormitories can sponsor more activities which would meet the demands of the students. For instance entering actively in Homecoming and Winter Carnival events, sponsoring service projects, etc. Once the dormitories are working together as a unit then progress can be made," Miss Peters stated.

Not an uncaring interest, but a person willing to get involved, to do and work for the people on this campus. All the people. One way to do this is through IDC. It is a budding and growing organization, one with guts enough to get involved. For that purpose I'm running. I care and I've got guts," Miss Johnson said.

I would very much like to spend the time and the effort that the success of IDC needs," she stated.

He is a graduate of Bowdoin College and has taken graduate work in international law at Harvard University. He served as clergyman and chaplain at Brandeis University before coming to Minneapolis five years ago. He is past president of the United Nations Association of Minnesota.

Home Town: Somerset, Wis.
High School: Somerset High School
 As qualifications Miss Martell listed Dorm council officer, Newman Club executive board, Curriculum committee.

Reasons for running: "With so many River Falls students living in the dorms, it is important that IDC should be an active organization. I think it's about time to get going," Miss Martell stated.

Name: Chuck Vandermause
Running for: Treasurer
Class: Sophomore
Major: Pre-Veterinarian Medicine
Home Town: Pulaski, Wisc.
High School: Pulaski High
 He lists his qualifications as: Grade point 3.31, Vice-President of Dorm Council, High school student council representative.

IDC can represent these students. At the present time IDC is not an efficient representative body, nor is it well looked upon. I feel that this organization can come into its own under a new administration."

Pemble says Knowles has 'poor record'

Thursday's debate between incumbent State Senator Robert P. Knowles and challenger Carl A. Pemble flared up during the discussion on conservation in an open forum sponsored by the Legislative Action Committee.

Pemble, Democrat, accused Knowles, Republican, of having a poor record on conservation. "He has consistently voted against conservation," said Pemble.

Knowles, 52, of New Richmond, Wis., retaliated by asking Pemble to document his statement. Knowles then defended his position for his dissenting votes and added, "Mr. Pemble when you say my conservation record isn't good, I think you should check it again. I think you will find my record excellent."

The president protem of the Wisconsin State Senate also said, "I have served on conservation committees," and "I have been known as proponent of conservation."

In the course of the debate, Knowles said he was "most enthusiastic about a reciprocal agreement between the states" concerning out of state students.

Speaking on the 25 per cent limitation now imposed, he said, "I would like to break down that barrier."

Pemble, 64, of River Falls, would like to see a change in the state tax system. He said, "At present the tax system rests pretty much on property. We should shift all the school taxes on to the income tax." At present school funds come out of property taxes. "This isn't really such a drastic proposal as it might sound like. We are already doing some with school aid programs," added Pemble.

Pemble would like to see much of the property tax shifted to the income tax to make a more fair tax system in his opinion. He feels the present property tax acts too much as a deterrent for private property improvement.

Knowles disagreed saying, "Our income tax is already second highest of the states. Knowles agreed that the property tax was most unfair and needed relief but "it is ridiculous to raise the income tax."

"We can't do away with property taxes and depend on income taxes," said Knowles. He added, "The bulk of taxes must be paid out of income anyway."

Pemble claimed, "The Republican Party has traditionally seen itself as a referee to see that the rules were followed. It yields rather late and grudgingly to such things as welfare and social security."

Pemble called on the audience to "remember the Democratic Party is the party that got us out of the Depression, tackled social security and civil rights." He expressed "great hopes for the Democratic Party as the party that can most truly represent the people."

Knowles and Pemble both were in disapproval of gun control proposals as they now stand.

They did disagree on the question of lowering the voting age to 18. Knowles said, "I have opposed in the past the lowering of the voting age to 18. I still oppose the 18-year-old vote." He continued, "I will take some convincing before supporting lowering the age." He did say that he knew many 18-year-olds who were qualified to vote and many 35-year-olds who were not.

Pemble followed the argument that "anyone who can fight a war should also be allowed to vote."

Knowles rebuked this by saying that different qualifications were involved. Being able to vote was different from being able to carry a rifle and fight a war said Knowles.

Knowles, the veteran of seven terms on the State Senate hit another issue when he said, "I believe firmly in the two party system. If we start splintering off, we will end up like France."

Pemble answered, "It's not a question of preference. We are stuck with it. The system in France is more responsible to the people."

Pemble continued, "The way our system is set up, if you want something started, you will have to do it through one of the major parties."

Knowles, who graduated from River Falls Teacher's College 30 years ago accepted the invitation to the debate because, "I didn't know what my opponent stood for. I want to know our agreements and disagreements." He also said, "I didn't want to miss the opportunity to speak to young people."

Pemble, a graduate of the University of Minnesota in 1927 and also a former student of River Falls, said, "I think we had better pay some attention to the problems we are facing."

"We are going to get in trouble if we don't attack the problems more fundamentally," continued Pemble.

Knowles said he believed "in ascertaining what the people want with what they are willing to pay for." He continued, "We have a costly government in Wisconsin. We are a high tax state, but people seem to want the services that come with it."

In his opening statements Knowles said, "I love politics and government."

Pemble said, "I can't really say I'm enamored with politics. I'd much rather go fishing, but sometimes a person feels obligated."

Knowles explained the hardest thing he learned in government was that "you simply can't please everyone. A legislature should call them as he sees them."

He added, "I make no bones about appealing to the independent parties and the Democrats as well as the Republicans."

"Election" is topic of discussion

The First Amendment, formerly known as the Coffeehouse, presented the first program in its Contemporary Man Series Oct. 15. A discussion led by Dr. Richard Darr, professor of economics, and Dr. Edward Peterson, chairman of the history department, concentrated on "Election '68" and the Democratic National Convention held in Chicago.

Darr, a delegate to the convention representing the 3rd Congressional District, recalled many events and personal experiences for the audience. He commended Don Peterson, chairman of the Wisconsin delegation, as an "outstanding person" who worked hard for McCarthy and the minority plank. Peterson, who was dismayed with the prescribed bus route which passed eight foot redwood fences hiding the slum areas near the Convention, walked to the amphitheatre as part of a protest move.

Darr also condemned the Daley tactics which he said were so evident during the convention. He accused Mayor Richard Daley and Governor John Connolly of Texas of controlling Carl Albert, the chairman of the convention.

According to Darr, Wisconsin and McCarthy supporters were given a difficult time throughout the four days. Phone calls to the "Daley switchboard operators" would not give the Wisconsin delegation the numbers of other key McCarthy delegations on the floor.

On the night of Humphrey's acceptance speech, Darr said, some delegates still feared possible Wisconsin tactics. The delegation was surrounded by ten to 15 plain clothesmen and individual pictures of each delegate were taken. Darr is still wondering into whose file the pictures were placed.

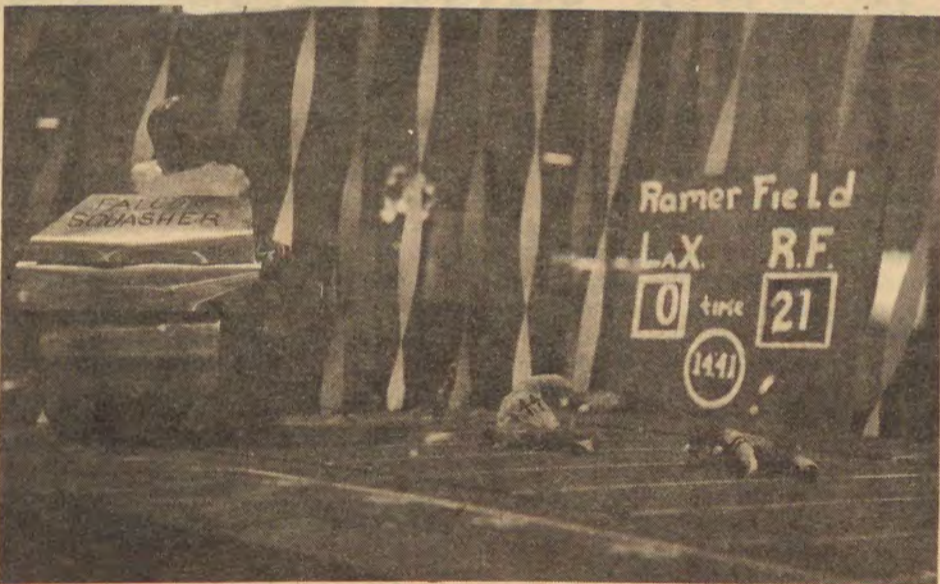

Some positive aspects of the convention enumerated by Dr. Darr included the abolishment of the unit rule, the compromise vote in the Georgia delegation, and the new Democratic Coalition Committee.

Peterson compared the attitudes in America during the Election '68 to the German mood in 1932-33. The Germans elected an elderly conservative who in turn appointed Hitler as chancellor within a short time. The Americans, according to Peterson, are expressing the same kind of hatred and fear which the Germans were expressing then.

Peterson stated that if the Democrats or the Republicans had had any insight they would have nominated a protest candidate to meet the needs and wants of the country.

At this point in the campaign, Peterson feels that President Lyndon Johnson could help Vice-President Hubert Humphrey tremendously if he declared a bombing halt. The North Vietnamese could also cease operations, especially if they dread the thought of an expanded war. Either way, Humphrey would be helped and the conservative elements would not gain control of the government.

In their final statements, both speakers said there should have been an opposing point of view to confront them.

Theta Chi's "Falcon Squasher" cruised around the field in the display window of one of the downtown stores.

LAC seats new member

Doris Brown, a native of Chicago, and a graduate of Jean Point Du Fable High School, was selected as a new member of the Legislative Action Committee (LAC) at its meeting October 15.

A freshman, majoring in history and minoring in physical education, Doris also participates in extramural volleyball.

At the meeting Doris joined LAC's new subcommittee, Campus Affairs, and became LAC's representative on the election committee.

Three investigative committees were organized. A committee to investigate the policy of the Academic Standards Committee on its policy of drop/adds includes Shirley Merry, the Young Democrats representative, Dolly Center, Dale Welles, and John Peterson, LAC chairman.

The campus affairs subcommittee will investigate the problem of advisor-student relationships.

On a suggestion from the Senate, LAC will investigate state printing procedure related to the Meletean. John Peterson, Shirley Merry, and Joe Koutney are members of this committee.

LAC will sponsor mock elections on October 29 and 30 during registration. Any campaigning by campus organizations will be welcomed, LAC representatives state.

Freshman, Steve Voss, was chosen alternate voting delegate to the United Council meeting at Eau Claire, November 1 and 2. Barb Stouffer is LAC's regular voting delegate.

Diane Truitt is on a leave of absence from LAC for the rest of the fall quarter and will return in winter quarter.

Active dorms for campus

This week may mark the beginning of active dormitory participation in campus life. Participation which will co-ordinate dorm activities and bring a fresh, enthusiastic outlook to dorm existence.

How can this enthusiasm be achieved? Hopefully through the planning and work of an active Inter-Dorm Council (IDC). Dormitories no longer need be the sum total of four brick walls. Potentially the re-organized IDC offers social, academic and athletic activities that never before could be organized in dorms.

Students who are not especially active, now, can become active and gain a voice in their campus through the council. The council hopes to reach deep into dormitory life, by opening their organization to every student in the resident halls.

Through the constitution, any student can propose amendments to the IDC constitution.

Student representation in the council will include a representative for every 100 students. Those men's dorms that use the House system will have a representative from each wing.

IDC officers will be elected Wednesday and dorm representatives will be chosen in the next few weeks. These students will hold the power which can make IDC a success. Dorm residents hold the power to elect responsible officers and representatives.

Enthusiastic election participation can initiate the full-potentials of the council. Only active dorms can insure an active council and active dorms are composed of students willing to participate in offered activities.

A campus which has many competing organizations is a dynamic campus. River Falls will become a more dynamic University when organizations other than the Greeks are entered in University competitions. If IDC meets its potential goals, next year the dormitories will be active participants in Homecoming, Winter Carnival and all other University events.

IDC has a responsibility to the students but first the students have the responsibility to make IDC as effective and spirited an organization as possible. The first step in achieving this end will be presented in the residence halls on Wednesday when an election for officers will be held. Do your part - - pick up a ballot when you pass the main desk and vote.

Abused ID cards

The Student Senate election committee has continued to follow an established practice which has been used for many years. They punch, scratch, bend and use magic markers on the I.D. to record the fact that the student has participated in various elections.

Some students have used the same I.D. for three or four successive years. It is almost unrecognizable after all the abuse it takes from election workers.

Does presentation of the I.D. really insure the eligibility of the student voting in an on-campus election? Not necessarily.

While students are told to return their identification card if they withdraw from the University, few comply with this ruling and it is not strictly enforced by the administration. Many students not attending classes are still in possession of these I.D.'s. Since only one I.D. is issued to incoming freshman, it would be a simple matter to use it even if one is not presently enrolled at River Falls.

In the case of the recent Homecoming queen election, an "x" made with a felt tip pen on the back side of the I.D. was used to record the fact that a student had voted. It would have been quite easy for an unscrupulous or over-eager supporter to remove the mark and vote again at a different location.

Fee cards have also been used, but not consistently, and many a student has not been eligible to vote because he has brought improper voting identification with him.

This ineffective method of checking voting eligibility should be corrected to insure just and legal balloting results.

The STUDENT VOICE suggests that election cards be issued to each incoming student and that they be discarded at the end of each quarter. This would insure that a student had registered and paid his fees and would be eligible to vote in student elections.

The cards could be numbered and punched to correspond to a specific election, numbered similarly. The type of election would be immaterial to the numbering system since this would be done consecutively and even invalidation would be handled in this manner. Once a card was punched, a voting worker would know that a student had voted at some location on campus in that specific election.

Duplication, ineligible voters and the need to think of a new way to mark the old I.D. would be eliminated.

40 organizations may cease to be recognized

Nearly 40 university organizations will cease to be officially recognized by Nov. 1, unless they turn in constitutions and lists of officers, according to Jim Ochiltree, student senator. The following organizations must turn in the required items to either Jim Ochiltree, 204 SC, or Dr. Bruce Peterson, dean of men.

Groups that need to file constitutions include the Freshman Class of 1972, Hawthorn Hall, Lutheran Students Association (LSA), May Hall, Parker Hall, "R" Club, Young Democrats, Masquers, Crabtree Hall, Omicron Delta Epsilon, Delta Iota Chi, Sigma Tau Gamma, Theta Chi. The Class of '72, LSA, May Hall, "R"

Senate appoints 4 to committee seats

Student Senate unanimously accepted four students on Senate committees last week.

The students are Don Getinger, Superior Student Committee; Mike Houlistan, alternate for the Alumni Relations Committee; Marlene Norden, Library Committee; and Marv Smith, Educational Improvement Committee.

Getinger, presently holding a 3.82 grade point average, would like to see more independent study. At present he is involved in no other extracurricular activities.

Houlistan, a freshman, said he likes to work with adults.

Miss Norden worked as a librarian at the Ellsworth library for three years. She would like to see some changes in the library hours and rules.

Smith would like to see a cooperative bookstore where second-hand books could be sold at a discount. He said, "I'm in favor of eliminating final exams as they now stand."

Club, Masquers, Crabtree Hall and Omicron Delta Epsilon also need to file a list of officers.

Organizations which must file lists of officers include the Agronomy Club, Chemistry Club, Chess Club, Council of Religious Organizations (CRO), Demosthenian Club, Future Farmers of America, German Club, Grimm Hall, Interdorm Council, Johnson Hall, Junior Class, Music Educators National Conference, National Council of Teachers of English, Rodeo Club, Class of '69, Sitzmarkers Ski Club, Student Youth Volunteers, Pre-Law Club, Judo Club, Class of 1971, Gamma Delta, Lambda Phi, Sigma Alpha Eta, Alpha Psi Omega, Delta Theta Sigma.

Without official recognition clubs cannot use the student center facilities, student publications and cannot apply for financial aid from the Student Senate—a maximum of $50 per organization a year.

Chamber concert planned on Sunday in North Hall Aud.

A Chamber Concert is planned by the music department at 8 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 27 in the North Hall Auditorium. The program will consist of a woodwind quintet, a brass choir and a clarinet ensemble.

The tournament is one of seven sponsored each year by the League and open to its member schools which include the University of Minnesota, Hamline College, Bethel College, Macalaster College, WSU-Eau Claire, WSU-River Falls, and Stout State.

The purpose of the tournaments is to provide experience for area college debaters early in the year. Competition is not limited to traditional style debate; some of the tournaments concentrate on cross-examination and British style debating.

Student committee seats remain empty

"Our thing is your thing--that being the case it would be most appropriate to see those who are 'concerned' at the Student - Faculty Committee interviews," said Student Senator Rod Nilsestuen.

Several Student-Faculty Committees and a Senate sub-committee are still unfilled after two weeks of interviews.

The Academic Standards committee has two openings; Concerts and Lectures, one; Superior Students, one; Curriculum, two and Institutional Development, one. The Educational Improvements sub-committee of Senate has two openings.

Student Senate President Chuck Feltes said, "These committees present a real challenge for students to make a significant contribution to the educational process as it is found at River Falls. It perturbs me that Curriculum and Academic Standards Committees are still unfilled. On other campuses the students are sitting in the halls for a voice in these areas."

The Educational Improvements Committee functions in much the same manner as the Legislative Action Committee, only in the educational spectrum, not in the political scene. Projects include elimination of finals, a tutoring system, development of a free university, pass-fail grading system, and course evaluation.

A member of the Academic Standards Committee is responsible for developing and recommending to the Faculty Senate and president academic policies in the following areas: admissions, retentions, scholastic standards, student academic load, and student program modifications.

The committee hears appeals relative to the academic policies of the University (this means probation for academic reasons, dropping classes after drop-add has been closed, etc.)

Locating speakers and artists in a function of the Concerts and Lectures Committee. The main objective is to bring in cultural, social and educationally enriching groups for the students on campus.

An honor student is needed for the Superior Student Committee. This committee helps plan, develop, administer and evaluate the three phases of the superior student program.

The purpose of the Curriculum Committee is to continuously examine and evaluate the overall curriculum of the University for possible improvements, recommending revisions and initiating suggestions for study or action.

The Institutional Development Committee functions as a center for and innovator of ideas for buildings, parking lots, etc.

Interviews for these committees will be held at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Student Government Office.

"These interviews offer an extremely wonderful opportunity for all concerned students to show that they are not as apathetic as they appear to be," said Senator Duane Roen.

APEs plan war protest

WSU-River Falls members of Apple Pie Enthusiasts (APE) will participate in the International Protest Week being held this week to protest the war in Vietnam.

Chris "Caesar" Thompson, one of the organizers of APE explained that students in other countries, including France, Great Britain and Japan, will take part in the demonstrations.

According to APE member, John Peterson, faculty members were "informally" asked to "set the mood" for the week with class room discussions or by mentioning the program in their classes Monday. Monday evening at 8 p.m. contemporary poet, Allan Dugan, will read his poetry in North Hall Auditorium.

Tuesday will feature an open mike forum in the Student Center dining area. Students, faculty members, and administrators are asked to participate in the all day forum. At 8 p.m. a John Birch Society film, "Anarchy U.S.A.," will be shown in the Student Center Ballroom, sponsored by the Y-GOP's. The film will be followed by a discussion at the First Amendment Coffee House.

Wednesday from 3 to 5 p.m. the Vets

Poet Dugan to be on campus tonight

Alan Dugan, poet, will be on campus today, presenting a poetry reading in North Hall at 8 p.m. Dugan appeared in two English classes during the day. An afternoon coffee hour from 3:30 to 4 p.m. in 105 Student Center was also held for the visiting poet.

Dugan was born in 1923 in Brooklyn, New York, and graduated from a university in Mexico City, Mexico.

Dugan is the author of two books of poetry, "Poems" (1961) and "Poems 2" (1963). Many of his poems have been published in various magazines. He has won many awards including an award for poetry in 1946, the National Book award in 1961, the Pulitzer Prize for poetry in 1962 and the Guggenheim Fellowship in 1963-64.

Club (pro-war) will debate an APE speaker (anti-war). "Angry Arts", a program including readings of anti-war poetry, singing, a jug band, and Orchestis, will be held in the Little Theatre from 8-11 p.m. Both students and faculty members will participate.

At 7:30 p.m. Thursday, the movie "Fahrenheit 451" will be shown in the Ballroom.

The Protest Week will be culminated Friday with the first edition of "Liberation News Service," APE's newspaper. This edition will be entitled "The Week That Was" and will analyze the week's events.

According to Peterson, a march starting at the University and ending at the River Falls city hall will begin on Friday at 2 p.m. At City Hall the marchers will put up a list of "reasons we are opposed to the war."

Peterson said that his reasons for participating in the demonstration are "purely educational, plus I'm against the war." John Corey, another APE member, said that his participation in the demonstration is "basically a means of expression against the atrocities and war crimes being committed in my name in Vietnam."

Peterson explained that APE is interested in "providing a new, stronger voice for students in campus affairs" and that the organization feels that the "University should be more relevant to the outside world."

The organization which just recently had its constitution approved by the Senate hopes to get a printing press and start an underground newspaper. They also hope to publish an anti-Meletean in protest of the cost of this year's Meletean. The yearbook will place emphasis on "campus life rather than on organizations."

Falcons lose to La Crosse

Homecoming was a happy event at River Falls this year in many respects but on Saturday afternoon the LaCrosse Indians spoiled the main event of the Homecoming activities by defeating River Falls 26-14.

For the Falcons it seemed like two games. In the first half the Falcons seemed to be in control, leaving at the half with a 14-6 lead. In the second half however, River Falls couldn't get un-track and LaCrosse did. LaCrosse controlled the ball for most of the second half with a time consuming ground game. LaCrosse received the opening kickoff and drove deep into Falcon territory only to see a field goal attempt miss the mark.

River Falls started with the ball on the 20 yard line after the missed field goal and drove deep into enemy territory only to see a 26 yard field goal attempt fall short. The highlights of the drive were a 29 pass from Jerry Trooien to Tim DeLawyer and a 33 yard broken play scramble by Trooien.

The scoring was started when Jim Kiesow fell on a LaCrosse fumble on the Indian 19 yard line. From here the Falcons drove into score in 6 plays with Trooien going in a quarterback sneak from the two inch line. John Cahalan's extra point attempt was good and with 12:39 remaining in the second quarter River Falls took the lead 7-0.

The visitors from the south came right back after River Falls kicked-off. The Indians started on the 33 yard line and drove 67 yards in seven plays to score. The big play on the drive occurred when on third down and four yards to go from the LaCrosse 39 yard line fullback Tom Gorski went 39 yards on a draw play. The last seven yards was cover on a pass from Rocky Falaschi to Dale Baker. The extra point went wide of the mark and the Falcons still lead 7-6.

Midway in the second quarter the Falcons took over on their own 38 yard line after a LaCrosse punt. Steve Vail carried the ball for four yards. Trooien gained one yard on an option play. On third down Trooien hit Dave Rosga on a short side line pass and from here the flanker from St. Paul weaved and dodged through the enemy secondary for 29 yards. After an incomplete pass, Trooien went to the air again and this time found Joe Rozak behind the secondary and hit the former Weverhauser prep for a 28 yard touchdown pass. The point after was good and the Falcons left the field at the half with the lead 14-6.

The second half was a complete turn about compared with the first half's events. It started out innocently enough when Mike Jensen fell on a LaCrosse fumble on the River Falls 47 yard line. With a second and situation Trooien decided to run with the ball after he found that his pass receivers were covered; The Falcon quarterback was hit hard and fumbled the ball. The ball was snatched in mid-air by Jim Johannes of LaCrosse and before he could be brought down, the Indian halfback carried the ball down the side lines to the Falcon 25 yard line.

LaCrosse needed only three plays to score. Indian quarterback Rocky Falaschi rolled around the Falcon left end for the final 12 yards and the touchdown. The extra point attempt was no good but the former eight point lead River Falls had become a two point lead 14-12.

Midway through the third quarter River Falls was faced with a fourth and one situation and decided to punt. Brian Kreibich boomed a towering punt deep into enemy territory. John DeMerit of LaCrosse caught the punt and seemed to be surrounded by red shirts, but with some fancy foot work and some crushing blocks, galloped 77 yards with Kreibich's 54 yard punt down to the Falcon three yard line. The Falcons put up a good goal line stand but finally on fourth down Falaschi took it the last six inches for the score. The kick was good on the point after attempt and LaCrosse had its first lead of the afternoon which it never relinquished with about five minutes remaining in the third quarter.

River Falls was forced to punt after making one first down after the LaCrosse kick-off. LaCrosse started on their own 37 yard line and rolled in for the score in eight plays. All of the 63 yards that LaCrosse covered on the drive was made on the ground. Falaschi did a lot of the damage with his roll-out tactics which the Falcons couldn't handle. It was Tom Gorski however, who hit pay dirt for LaCrosse with the Indian final touchdown going seven yards. This put LaCrosse ahead 26-14 and the Indians seemed in complete control of the game with 13:06 left in the game.

The Falcons could get off only 7 plays in the remaining time as John Cahalan fumbled on a second down situation as a crushing tackle separated the sophomore halfback and the ball. From here LaCrosse marched deep into Falcon territory. The drive ended as time ran out but it consumed 10 minutes and 22 plays.

Next week the Falcons will travel to Whitewater to take on the Warhawks. The last home game of the 1968 season will see Stevens Point invade the week after and the following week the Falcons end the season by traveling to Stout to take on the Bluedevils.

By Sports Editor
Harley O'Brion

The Falcons played two games against La Crosse Saturday. The first game saw the Falcons holding a 14-6 halftime lead and in the other game, La Crosse smothered River Falls.

Big Ted looked fairly good the first half as Trooien sneaked in from the two-inch line and he hit Joe Rozak on a pinpoint pass from 28 yards out. The pass had to be perfect and the St. Paul quarterback threw it where he had to.

It was all La Crosse in the final half eating up yardage and time on the ground. The Indians rushed for 235 yards in the second half, with quarterback Rocky Falaschi gaining 133 yards. Falaschi gained 150 yards on 19 carries for the game.

Brian Kreibich, defensive back and punter from Alma, tied a conference record with six seconds left in the half. The senior standout intercepted his seventh pass in conference play to tie the mark held by Ted Ragatz (River Falls) 1966; and Tom Carroll (La Crosse) 1967. Kreibich has intercepted one or more passes in every game this season. He also punted five times for a 38.9 average. One punt went for 54 yards, but he has a 63 yarder to his credit against Platteville.

Ray Hoerth played a fine game in the defensive line. A sophomore from Chilton, Hoerth (No. 50) made seven tackles and was credited with three assists. Tom Carroll was the leading tackler with 10 tackles and seven assists.

The cross country team lost to Macalester 15-50 and took second place in a dual-dual meet here Saturday morning. Stevens Point defeated the harriers 15-43 and Eau Claire 20-39. The Falcons in turn beat Eau Claire 23-32.

In flag football action, last year's champions, Phi Nu Chi was defeated 13-6, and Phi Sigs, last year's runner-up rolled to its fourth victory. AGR, Record Breakers and Sig Tau are also undefeated with two weeks left remaining in the season. If you want to see some rough and tough (!) football at its finest, venture down behind the Ag-Science building this week, you'll see what I mean by rough and tough.

Well, I picked three of five games correct this week. The big surprise was Eau Claire defeating Whitewater 20-14. As you recall, Whitewater beat Fairmont, W. Va., 16-14 to open the season. Fairmont was ranked No. 1 in the nation for small schools.

I predicted Stevens Point to nip Stout 21-14 and the score was 20-14. Pd say that was fairly close.

The Vikes got beat 20-7. Breaks me all up. The World's Champion Green Bay Packers tied the Lions 14-14. What's a guy to say?

I'm predicting River Falls to upset Whitewater. Don't laugh! I feel it's about time for the Falcons to show that they do have a good team. It's Whitewaters' Homecoming and they will be up for the game, but Big Red isn't traveling 300 miles to play tiddly-winks.

4 teams remain undefeated in league

By Tom Alex

Only four teams remain undefeated in the two flag football leagues this week. In the Northern League the Record Breaker and Phi Sigs both own 4-0 records. Sig Tau and AGR share the top position in the Southern League with the same win-loss figures.

The Phi Nu Chi Gremlins lost an important game to Ron Presley's Sig Tau team last Wednesday by a 13-6 score. At one point in the game, three varsity Phi Nu Chi players, returning from practice, went out on the field to let the referees know where they were making their mistakes.

For the Gremlins to regain their league standing, they must upset undefeated AGR today and AGR must defeat Sig Tau Wednesday.

The first place Phi Sigmachine was oiled and working well last week as it whaled on Sinclair House, 45-12. Sinclair House was the first team to score on Phi Sig. George Voss led the Phi Sigs with five touchdowns with the other two being scored by Dave Olson and Harley O'Brion on pass plays.

The Record Breakers edged Newman Club with a one touchdown margin to hold them even with Phi Sig.

There are several other games to watch this week besides the games previously mentioned. A possible upset could occur today when Theta Chi meets the Record Breakers. Phi Sig plays the Record Breakers next Monday and AGR meets Sig Tau, Wednesday, Oct. 30.
