'Mattress' Begins Wednesday

1st Musical Is Slated for 3-Day Run

The first musical comedy to appear on the River Falls campus will be presented in the Little Theatre, beginning on Wednesday, Feb. 21, and playing through Friday, Feb. 23. The show, entitled "Once Upon a Mattress", is filled with music, dance, and song.

It is being produced through the cooperative efforts of MusiCO-drama (music and drama departments) and is student directed by James Schwenk, a senior in music and speech.

The play itself has hit all the major theaters on Broadway with the original starring role played by Carol Burnett. The story is a musical take-off on the tale of "The Princess and the Pea".

The well-known lyricist Marshall Bauer has taken the original story and has produced one of the most rollicking and farcical tales ever known to modern musical comedy. The music was written by Mary Rogers, daughter of the famed Richard Rogers.

The cast, which is one of the largest ever to perform on the Little Theatre stage, is composed of a number of talented college students.

The instrumental accompaniment is handled by David Gerig and Rodney Nelson.

Tickets for "Once Upon a Mattress" will be on sale in the Student Center Book store.

Contemporary Art From Netherlands Now on Display

Contemporary prints from Holland are now on display in the Student Center and will be until approximately February 28.

These prints are part of an international print exchange program sponsored by Memorial Union, Oregon State College, Corvallis, Oregon. However, the exhibit here on campus is sponsored by the Student Center.

There are 100 prints in the collection and these will be placed alternately in the Student Center until all 100 have been displayed.

Each painting is numbered according to a chart posted on which the artist's name, birth date, title of picture and medium employed is given.

Judith Harmon Wins Honors in Discussion At Eau Claire Meet

Judith Harmon, senior from Clear Lake, won the discussion contest last weekend at the Eau Claire State College Speech Festival. She also took fourth place in the original oratory contest in the annual festival which attracted teams from 39 colleges.

Named "excellent discussants" were: Judith Runkle, junior from Dallas, Wis.; Beverly Bosinske, junior from Glenwood City; Ann Sjolun, sophomore from Spring Valley; and Tom Knutson, sophomore from La Crosse.

"Excellent debaters" from River Falls were: Anita Munson, senior from Minneapolis; John Rice, senior from Ellsworth; Kae Walker, sophomore from River Falls; Al Runkle, freshman from Dallag, Wis.; Robert Edwards, freshman from Woodville; Sharon Collamore, junior from Ellsworth; Miss Runkle; and Mr. Knutson.

Miss Collamore also got an "excellent" rating in public address.

Floor Show, Dance Band At Cabaret

With three night club acts for entertainment, a professional dance band from the Twin Cities for music and the Student Center decorated to the theme of "The Top Hat Lounge" the scene will be lacking only the guests for the 1962 Cabaret dance. The dance is scheduled for Saturday evening, Feb. 24, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

While Webster defines "cabaret" as a restaurant where patrons are entertained by performers who dance or sing, the River Falls interpretation will be somewhat more extravagant. "The Top Hat Lounge" will serve a soft drink mixture of pink-ladies, martinis, other "drinks" and hors d'oeuvres. It will have a cigarette girl, known on campus as Chris Kapun, dinner waiters and a coat check girl along with the usual setting of night clubs.

Vocalist Pete Leuna, guitarist Jim Parke and a trio "The Harmonika High Hats" promise to highlight the evening with entertainment. The Ted Guzman Quintet will provide dancing and listening music.

The women who are worried about what type of dress to wear are reminded by the committee that this is not the time for formals. Saturday night will be just the time to wear that sheath or cocktail dress that has been hanging in the back of their closet since Homecoming.

Because of the night club atmosphere the men need not buy their dates a corsage.

Two o'clock will be the bewitching hour for the women that night.

Sponsored and subsidized by the Social Committee, the Cabaret will be the third such evening entertainment at the college in as many years.

Tickets may be purchased this week in the Student Center from the Social Committee members for $2.00 per couple or $1.25 for a single admission. This will include all entertainment and refreshments.

Tickets may also be purchased at "The Top Hat Lounge" box office Saturday night.

Extension Meeting

A meeting will be held at 7 p.m., March 6 in the Little Theatre, for the purpose of organizing on-campus extension courses for the Spring Quarter. Anyone interested in any course should be at this meeting, according to L. G. Stone, Director of Extension.

'Grassroots' Draws Plaudits From 3 States

"River Falls is a college which is indeed living up to its motto, 'Where the free spirit prevails,'" an article in the Feb. 10 issue of the Madison Capital Times proclaimed.

The editorial comment was one of many appearing in the press of three states which followed in the wake of the College's fifth annual Grassroots Politics Conference on Feb. 7 and 8. The most publicized feature was an address by Robert Welch, founder of the John Birch Society.

"There couldn't have been a better example of democracy at work and what it does to men like Welch than his appearance at River Falls State College Thursday," the Capital Times article continued. "The reason why men like Welch and the Communists cannot prevail against democracy is that it is too strong for them. That was demonstrated by the exhibition of democracy in action that was put on at River Falls."

The St. Paul Pioneer Press of the same date carried an editorial saying, "Let ideas compete in the open market and Americans are intelligent enough to make their own good judgments. The River Falls pattern should be followed more generally. Some of the rows over 'Americanism' programs could be avoided by having liberal as well as conservative viewpoints presented."

An editorial in the Feb. 1 issue of the Milwaukee Journal looked forward to the conference and observed, "If students are taught to be discriminating and analytical, they should be able to judge whether Welch's ideas represent real Americanism or the opposite. In fact, after some students and nonstudents hear what Welch thinks the 'new conservatism' is, or should be, they may view it more critically."

The Chicago Sun-Times in its Sunday issue of Feb. 11, took exception to several references to history that Welch made in his speech here.

"Almost any student of American history at River Falls State College might have saved Welch from at least two of his errors had he but consulted them," the Sun-Times editorial said in pointing out that the Constitutional amendments providing for the federal income tax and the direct election of senators were submitted to the states before President Wilson's administration. Welch had blamed both on Wilson.

Trygve Ager of the Minneapolis Tribune commented in the Feb. 9 issue, "There was no noticeable rush for membership in the John Birch Society in this college town Thursday."

Miles McMillin mentioned in the Feb. 9 Madison Capital Times, "President Eugene H. Kleinpell of River Falls College and Dr. Walker Wyman, one of his faculty leaders, think that one of the purposes of education is to stir up controversy. Unlike some educational leaders," he said, "they do something about it besides talk. They have been blasted for proposing to bring a live Russian Communist to the campus from the Russian embassy so their students could question him. Another fuss was stirred up when Robert Welch was invited to speak on the campus . . ."

Gene Newhall observed Feb. 11 in the St. Paul Pioneer Press, "So the Birch leader had his say. His audience gave him a good, long listen. Then his critics, from both parties, went to work on him."

"The River Falls conference was another example of the strength and fairness and stimulation of academic freedom—the principle of listening openly to all sides."

The Grassroots Politics Conference, which also featured Dr. Francis G. Wilson, conservative political philosopher from the University of Illinois; Philip Kuehn, 1960 Republican candidate for governor; and Patrick Lucey, state Democratic chairman, was covered by reporters from most of the newspapers quoted and by the Associated Press and United Press International.

Four television channels from the Twin Cities also covered Welch's speech.

The College received telegrams from two members of Congress from Wisconsin.

Henry S. Reuss wired, "While I consider the views of Mr. Robert Welch of the John Birch Society outrageous I would defend to the end his right to say them and commend you for giving him a forum."

Melvin R. Laird's telegram said, "No group should be more acutely aware of our struggle for the survival of our nation and our system of government than our young people . . . I commend you for your efforts."

The Editor Speaks . . .

What is the function of a newspaper? Any newspaper — adult, high school or collegiate. One of the clinics during the College Editors International Affairs Conference in New York City last week dealt with this subject.

Many points of view were presented. Many persons felt that the function of the collegiate press is different than that of the "adult working press." The quotes are used here because this phrase is misleading. It is your editor's opinion that the collegiate press should fulfill the same functions as the working press. The only difference would be that the audience has different interests than the general public.

The collegiate press should, in my opinion, serve two basic functions. First, all or as many facts as possible should be presented in every news story. Second, after these facts have been presented, the paper should carry on a consistent campaign to cause its readers to employ their critical faculties. All of the facts that are available may not present a true picture of a situation if the reader does not take the time to decide what these facts mean.

A simple set of facts can be so organized that they will present a thoroughly distorted view of the real situation. It is the responsibility of a newspaper to present the facts as accurately as possible but only the reader can analyze these facts to discover their true significance.

Also, the readers should be active in their points of view. Letters to the editor are always welcome in the Voice but long periods have seen no response from the readers. It has been said that there is no hope for the satisfied man. Are all of the readers of the Voice satisfied?

Readers Comment on Politics Conference

To the Editor:

It was a pleasure for me to attend the 5th Annual Grassroots Politics Conference. After an absence of over 40 years it was nice to walk through the campus grounds again, see the fine new campus buildings and feel the present day campus atmosphere.

I had intended to get back for some time, but River Falls being off the path of my usual travels, the trip was postponed too long. News articles about the conference on "The New Conservatism" broke the long sojourn. While I do personally know alumni who disdain what they term the "too liberal" atmosphere on the campus and deliberately refrain from active association because of it, that certainly was not the reason for my prolonged absence; there are just too many pleasant recollections.

In candor I must admit, however, I was taken somewhat aback when upon arrival I was handed a conference program, the cover page of which was a college display of news headlines and lead paragraphs emphasizing "Super-Patriots", "Birch Members", "Minutemen", "KKK", "Besmirch Societies" and the like, immediately raising the question in mind as to just what was the real pretense of the conference.

In view of the report by M. Stanton Evans in his recent book "Revolt on the Campus", I had quite naturally anticipated that in keeping with the times the academy was now opening doors to keep abreast of change. This apparently was not the case; I had been a bit naive and presumptuous. Instead there seemed to be signs of a covert move to discredit conservatism on the campus by associating it with the extreme labels printed on the conference program cover, and the thought then arose that the invitation to Robert Welch had been extended in hope that he might be discredited rather than for any edification or enlightenment on the man's personality and what he stands for, unfavorable press reports notwithstanding.

If my observations were correct many listeners were somewhat surprised by Mr. Welch. They had rather expected from press, magazine and TV presentations that they were likely to hear a tirade of criticism and name calling from a misinformed speaker, and were not prepared for the scholarly presentation he made and the intellectual attainment he revealed.

Professor Wilson gave an excellent address on the conference theme — The New Conservatism — the evening before. His clear and concise presentation was alone worth the 400 mile round trip for me, but I now wonder if Professor Wilson would be welcomed as a faculty member at River Falls State Teachers College should the occasion present itself.

Robert Welch, as I understood him in speaking on Republics and Democracies presented clear historical evidence that we really do have heritage and tradition we should make all effort to preserve through conservative action, particularly the precepts of our Declaration of Independence and our United States Constitution.

After the Welch address the conference theme was departed from. The panel discussion was not principally directed toward "Grassroots Perspectives on the New Conservatism" as programmed, but largely toward discussion of the John Birch Society by un-informed amateurs.

Walter Butler of St. Paul, termed a "self-styled liberal democrat" (Minneapolis Morning Tribune, February 9, 1962) started the panel discussion speaking not on The Conservatism, but on his patently limited knowledge of the John Birch Society organization and a report of certain actions he believes or alleges were committed by persons who may have been members of the John Birch Society.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"OH, I THINK GOING TO COLLEGE IS GREAT - BUT DAD CAME UP LAST WEEK AN' SAID IF I STAY I'D HAVE TO TAKE SOME COURSES?"

Mr. Butler drew applause when he referred to Mr. Welch's concern over the decline and fall of the Greek and Roman civilizations as a hand-writing-on-the-wall comparison to the situation in our country today, then set himself somewhat out on a limb when he spoke disparagingly, to put it mildly, of the concern Wisconsin Republican leaders are showing about Americanism. One would be led to question, just what kind of "ism" is Mr. Butler interested in supporting, and does he have it sufficiently well established in Minnesota that he can now branch out and spread it in other states? Just why is Mr. Butler of Minnesota disturbed by the statements of leaders of the Republican party in Wisconsin that Americanism should be considered in the forthcoming political campaign?

Assemblyman Robert Johnson and news editor Curtis Gaylord made noteworthy presentations on the new conservatism as they see it, but assemblyman William Ward, while entertaining, rather did himself disservice with his cracker barrel approach to serious considerations. He rued the day when he might possibly have to retire and perhaps "start reading books." If Mr. Ward heard Professor Wilson's address the evening before, he must have missed a point entirely, that sensible conclusions can be reached only through sober scholarship. Mr. Ward should read books now, and something more factually authentic than "Listen Yankee."

At the Young Democrat - Young Republican dinner the discussion between Republican candidate for governor Philip Kuehn and democratic chairman Patrick Lucey returned closer to the conference theme. From appearances Mr. Lucey does not acknowledge there is room for conservatism in the Democratic party. It behooves Mr. Lucey to reassess sentiment in his ranks.

While the conference turned out entirely different than I had expected, it is reassuring to know some moves are being made in the area of conservatism on the River Falls campus. I am glad I got back in time to see what is left of the buildings of the old campus farm where I worked for my room and board while at school. And I would not have missed for the world the visit I had with Dr. Karges, my favorite educator, who laughed heartily reminiscing with me, the guy who blew up the campus farm milk house some 40 years ago.

Pagemen Hit Century Mark Downing Eau Claire 103-91

River Falls broke a six game losing streak here Saturday night by downing Eau Claire in a high scoring dual by the score of 103 to 91. This game marked the first time a Falcon basketball team has hit the century mark since 1957 when they turned the trick twice in a row, downing Oshkosh 100 to 88 and then came back to trip UW-M 105 to 89. The win gave River Falls a record of five wins and four losses in conference play and a 7-10 over all record.

The first half was a nip and tuck affair with the lead changing hands three times until with 8:56 remaining in the half Don Koepnick hit a 10 foot jump shot to give the Falcon's a lead they never relinquished. River Falls finished fast in the first half to extend the lead to 13 points 46 to 33 at intermission.

The second half saw a blistering pace set by both teams as 115 points were scored, 58 by Eau Claire and 57 by River Falls.

The Falcons started fast and led by as much as 22 points at 90 to 68 with 5:19 left in the game. Eau Claire then put on a late rally to close the gap to nine points but fell short and River Falls won its first conference game since they defeated UWM on January 22.

Don Koepnick led the River Fall's scorers with 31 points followed by "Big George" Wolf with 20. Pete Huus and Bob Blizzard led the visiting Blugolds with 29 and 27 respectively.

Matmen Handle Indians

The River Falls grapplers chalked up their sixth dual match win of the season Friday night when they out wrestled the La Crosse Indians 26-4. The Falcons did not lose a match but the Indians managed two ties for their four points. This left Coach Byron James and his squad with a 6-1-1 record in dual competition.

Falcon grappler Jerry Fehlen started the 'Red and White' on the right foot by decisioning Donald Keller in the 123 pound class. Fehlen scored a take down in the first period and an escape in the last three minute session for the victory.

La Crosse forfeited the 130 pound division to give the River Falls squad an 8-0 lead.

Jim Kanable upped the Falcon lead to 11-0 by decisioning 137 pound Chuck McPherson on a take down, an illegal hold, and an escape.

In the 147 pound division River Fall's Pat Mrotek and La Crosse's Andy Fenderson battled to a 1-1 tie for two team points apiece. Both points came on escapes with Mrotek's coming in the second period and Fenderson's in the last period.

The only pin of the evening came in the 157 pound class when the Falcon's Loren Nordahl pinned Tom Bigelow with 1:06 remaining in the second period.

The Falcon lead was increased to 21-2 after Jerry Halverson out wrestled the Indian's Robert Downing in the 167 pound division. Halverson scored on two take downs and an escape.

Dean Dix of River Falls and Roger Kussman of La Crosse could not score on each other to end the match as it began 0-0.

Heavyweight Larry Julien had enough riding time to edge La Crosse's Chuck Stusek 2-1. Both wrestlers scored on an escape. This ended the wrestling for the evening with the Falcons winning 26-4.

Star-Studded Alumni Falls To Varsity Wednesday Night

The River Falls Alumni squads last half rally fell short Wednesday night as the more conditioned and younger Varsity clutched a 67-61 lead when the final buzzer brought the end of the Fifth Annual Phil Belfiori Benefit Game.

The twelve veterans substituted freely and almost pulled a miraculous upset when they scored 14 straight points late in the second half to cut a 16 point deficit to three at 63-60. The Alumni rally was led by Don Fick, Dave Herum, Newman Benson, and Mick Lauber.

The Varsity squad took a 35-27 lead at intermission as the 'old timers' showed signs of tiring late in the first half. The Alumni jumped to a quick lead, 12-8 but the Varsity behind the scoring efforts of freshman guard Bob Pritchard overcame the deficit.

The inactivity of the veterans began to tell in the second half as the Varsity slowly pulled away to a 62-46 lead to set the stage for the Alumni comeback. Everybody in the stands was rooting for the Alumni to stage a winning rally.

Dave Herum, WSC's scoring leader for two years, showed a smooth touch jump shot, swishing 16 points. The fabulous Newman Benson besides dumping in 11 points thrilled the crowd with his fine passes and ball handling.

The star studded lineup at times, showed some of the brilliance and smoothness that brought them fame. Nate DeJong, the nation's leading scorer in 1949 and 1950, and Rog Kuse, the Helm's Foundation Player of the Year in 1953, although slowing down a bit showed some of the moves that brought acclaim to River Falls.

Mick Lauber, the latest graduate to play, showed cat-like reflexes, stealing the ball a number of times while accounting for six points.

The varsity was led by Pritchard and Don Koepnick in the point getting department with 16 each.

RF Athletes Set to Travel

The River Falls varsity squads are on the road this week as the basketball team travels to Stout tonight and to Superior on Saturday while the grapplers invade Stevens Point, also on Saturday.

Both Stout and Superior will be looking for revenge as the Falcons have beaten both teams earlier this season. The games were played in the familiar confines of Karges Gymnasium, helping the River Falls club to a 85-79 win over the Blue Devils and a 74-67 victory over the Yellowjackets.

Stout is led by Fred Seggelink and Gary Simonson while Superior relies on Jack Bohk and Gene Evans. In the previous game this season Seggelink swished 22 and Simonson had 18. Bohk and Evans accounted for 37 points against the Falcons.

The River Falls grapplers will be out for their sixth dual match victory Saturday against the Pointers. Their record now stands at six wins, one loss and one tie.

Kegler's Korner

by Duane Anderson

The second week of tournament competition in the All-Star league found the Crewcuts, the Minor-gay's, and the Braduwa's as victors. The Crewcuts managed to keep an undefeated tournament record by rolling over the Ding-Dang-Do's. The Braduwa's pulled an upset victory over Vic Londo and the IC plus 2's by a slim 7 pin margin. In other action, Mike Lukowicz, with games of 233 and 200, combined with the other two-thirds of his team to take a smashing 3 point victory from Elmer's Boys. The Elmer's Boys have been dropped from the tournament because of two losses.

Next week's action finds the Minor-gay's against the Ding-Dang-Do's and the Crewcut's against the Braduwa's.

In other intramural action the Gutter Dusters and the Scraggs angled in a match to decide first place in the standings. The Gutter Dusters were able to emerge with a close victory for that honor. About the only thing the Gutter Duster's will get is honor and prestige as no trophies will be awarded this year.

The Sleepers, the off-and-on again team in the league, proved they were on again, by taking a decisive victory over the Pin Busters to move the Sleepers into fourth place.

The Alley Cats, who seemed to have turned into tigers, murdered the hapless Intellectuals to injure what little prestige they had gained and give them the "cherished" cellar position.

Next week's tournament action finds the Gutter Dusters vs. the Sleepers; Scraggs vs. Pin Busters; and the Alley Cats vs. Intellectuals.

Swimmers Dunk St. Olaf For First Win in History

The River Falls swimming squad closed the 1961-62 season with a 56-41 victory over St. Olaf Wednesday afternoon in the Karges pool. The win capped a long hard struggle for Coach Russ Greber and his squad as they steadily improved throughout the season to cop their final win of the year and probably the first victory in the history of Falcon swimming competition.

Although taking only four firsts in the eleven event meet the Falcons showed strength in the second and third places to win the meet. Four team records were set by the River Falls poolers; the relay team of Jerry Sargent, Jim Hirschinger, Winfield Mitchel, and Ron Lindberg swam the medley relay in 4:45.6, Ron Lindberg in the 100 yard freestyle, Tom Cuskey in the 440 yard freestyle, and Hirschinger in the 200 yard breaststroke. Dick Siebold placed first in the diving event.

Every Falcon swimmer that entered an event placed in top three places.

On Feb. 8 the Falcon poolers were beaten by Hamline 48-46 and on Feb. 10 Carleton won 56-38. The Carls set six new Karges Pool records when they won the 400 yard medley relay, 220 yard freestyle, 200 yard butterfly, 100 yard freestyle, 200 yard backstroke, and the 440 yard freestyle.

Wayne Seebold copped the only first place by the Falcons by winning the diving competition. Cris Carisch set a new team record in the 50 yard freestyle and the 100 yard freestyle, and Mitchel set a new one in the 200 yard butterfly.

In the 11 matches that the Falcons have had this year Dick Siebold has placed first in the diving competition eight times, second twice, and third once. He placed third behind Winona's Fatchett and Foran. Fatchett placed eighth in the olympic tryouts last year.

Instructions Released By School of Education Secondary

Secondary education students who intend to enroll at any time next year in Education 180 (Secondary Student Teaching) must sign up immediately for an interview in 111 North, according to an announcement from the School of Education. Interview hours are posted on the office door. All interviews must be completed by March 9.

Information concerning academic and professional courses will be used by a Secondary Student Teaching Screening Committee which meets in March to determine each candidate's eligibility for student teaching.

As in the past year, the committee will encourage some students to postpone their student teaching until additional academic or professional work is undertaken.

Candidates for student teaching are expected to show: (1) sufficient academic competence in their major and minor fields as well as in professional education courses, (2) proficiency in writing and speech, and, in the words of the North Central Association, (3) an "ability to realize their own problems (academic and personal)."

The Secondary Student Teaching Screening Committee, composed of professors from all college departments and from the School of Education, will evaluate each candidate's application for student teaching and will recommend appropriate action to the director of secondary student teaching. Candidates will be notified of the action of the committee.

School assignments for those who will be completed by May. Students who plan to teach in fall or winter terms planning on teaching in spring 1963 will be assigned next winter.

Navy Team Here To Inform Seniors

The Navy officer information team will be on campus Thursday, Feb. 22 to fully inform all interested seniors of the advantages of serving their military obligation as a naval officer.

The Navy trains the college graduate in a concentrated 16-week course in naval science at Newport, Rhode Island. Upon successful completion of the course, he is commissioned an ensign in the Naval Reserve. OCS graduates serve three years of active duty, beginning on the date of appointment to commissioned grade.

Persons interested in the OC program, or who wish to have more information on it—without committing themselves in anyway—are urged to stop by and see the officer team in the Student Center during their visit. If you are unable to see the team, you may also write to the Officer Programs Division, U. S. Navy Recruiting Station, Federal Office Building, Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Elementary

The Elementary Student Teaching program is being reorganized. Beginning with the Fall Quarter 1962-63, students who are majoring in Elementary Education may, if possible, arrange their academic schedule to allow them to enroll in Education 180 for one quarter. Enrollment in Education 180 for one quarter means that student teaching will be for the full day throughout the entire quarter for 15 hours credit. In the sense that no other courses need be taken during that quarter, it is to be considered a "professional quarter".

Beginning with the academic year 1963-64, the reorganization will have been completed and it will then become mandatory for students to plan their academic work to allow a quarter for student teaching during their senior year.

Students should begin now to plan their future academic programs to include the "professional quarter".

All majors in Elementary Education who will graduate in 1963 should make their application for Education 180, Student Teaching, by March 1, 1962.

Any questions concerning the reorganized student teaching program may be directed to student advisors or Dr. Klink, Director of Elementary Student Teaching.

Application forms may be procured in the Campus Laboratory School office.

More Grassroots Comment

Letter to the Editor . . .

"The New Conservatism." This phrase has greatly attracted the American public in recent times and became most popular on our own campus just a week ago as we completed our Fifth Annual Grassroots Political Conference. It can well be said that this conference far exceeded its predecessors in arousing public participation and enthusiasm. I feel those who worked so diligently in seeing through this attempt to further education of grassroots politics are to be awarded a word of congratulations. Only hard work can account for its success. That is not withholding that such nationally known men as Robert Welch will certainly help turn out the people.

However, being of conservative philosophy and having followed the recent conference quite closely. I should like to take this opportunity to add a post script. Somehow or other I sensed throughout the two days of political atmosphere on campus an over association of conservatism with "Birchism." Given the circumstances, I doubt if this association could have been prevented; I do, however, feel at times it was over emphasized.

For this reason, I should like to point out that we conservatives do have persons, organizations, and ideas which portray a much more intellectual, realistic, and practical side of conservatism than does Robert Welch. Extremism can be found on either side. This is to say that where liberals question a Robert Welch, conservatives may question a Norman Thomas; where conservatives join a John Birch Society, liberals join a society of Americans for Democratic Action; when liberals defend centralism, welfarism, or socialism (if this is not being too harsh); conservatives defend individuals, individual rights and liberties, and constitutional self-government.

I think we should recall and be thankful that it was our own decision that brought us to school at River Falls and perhaps to the grassroots conference. Let us also be thankful that we are able to listen to men like Robert Welch and Norman Thomas express their thoughts. At the same time let's be wise enough to realize that neither speaks for all of those who may fall on his side of the continuum. I would then hope this realization stimulates us to investigate both sides so as to enable us to defend our philosophy, not on another's faults, but on our own merits.

Respectfully,
Bob Richardson
