Final Pep Meeting For LaCrosse Tilt In Charge of Gops

Team, Primed for Superior, May Drop Into Slump Unless Collegians Back Them

G. O. P.'s First Organization To Take Charge of Pep Fest; To Be Held in Assembly

The final mass meeting of the '28 football season will be held next Thursday morning in the college auditorium during the assembly period under the direction of a committee of G. O. P. girls. The occasion will be the grid tilt with La Crosse. La Crosse has begun to create a little uneasy feeling in the River Falls team, and this mass meeting is expected to dispell it.

Falls Boasts Good Team

River Falls has had this year what will go down in history as one of the best teams that has ever played for the Red and White. All through the season they have played with punch and decided ability. They have kept their goal line unstained by any conference foot, have won all except one game in a hard schedule, and have tied that other one with a team that was boasted to be the greatest in the North.

Gops First to Take Charge

This is the first time in the history of mass meetings that an organization has taken over the program of a mass meeting. Up to this time the responsibility has rested upon the shoulders of one person appointed by the athletic council. With a committee working out a program a more diversified and more entertaining form of program will be drawn up so the student body may rest assured that all of the pep won't have to be self generated. Everybody out for that final mass meeting.

Tryouts Given For Would be Masquers

The new Masquer's Society held an open house meeting last Thursday evening for the purpose of giving the girls of the school to try out for membership in the society.

The Masquer's Society is a dramatic organization aiming to study staging of plays, costumes, lighting effects, make-up and some past and modern plays and players. The members of this society will also give several plays of which the first will be "The Knave of Hearts" to be staged for the training school sometime before Christmas. The Masquers also hope to go as a group to St. Paul to attend one of the out-standing plays staged there this year.

The officers of the Masquer's Society are as follows: faculty advisor, Miss Schlosser; president, Helen Mooney; secretary and treasurer, Norma Haunschild.

Try-outs for this organization were held Thursday night. One more try-out for girls will be given before Christmas, after which the college men will be admitted as members. The membership is limited, and from this limited number Miss Schlosser will select the characters for the college plays to be given this year.

Mabel Bridges, supervisor of the grades, has been out of school Wednesday and Thursday of last week because of an infected hand.

Margaret Bailey, former River Falls graduate, and teacher in the River Falls Junior high school, has been offered a position in the Junior high school department of Burlington, Ill.

DR. SWIFT TO SPEAK TO WOMEN OF COLLEGE

Dr. Edith Hale Swift of the American Social Hygiene association of New York City will give a course of four lectures to the women students of the college. The series of talks will begin Monday, Nov. 12, at 4 p. m. at the college auditorium.

Dr. Swift is at present speaking to students at Carleton, St. Olaf and other Minnesota colleges. She will go to Whitewater from here.

Miss Bridges and Miss Druley View Hudson Art Exhibit

Two Falls Teachers Entertained by Graduates of College at Afternoon Picnic

Miss Mabel Bridges and Miss Helen Druley, local faculty members, attended an exhibit and program given by the Woman's club of Hudson last Tuesday.

The art exhibit was a colonial type similar to that which Miss Alberta Greene gave here last year. The pictures were hung on three sides of the gymnasium in an attractive manner. During the exhibit the teachers gave the children picture lessons.

Admission Charged

A small admission was charged each student in order to create more of an interest in the pictures and to create a fund for the purchase of pictures for the school. Some of the pictures were the same as some here in our training school.

Miss Bridges gave a talk on the arrangement of flowers; Miss Druley spoke on pictures, illustrating her talk with some pictures which hung on the walls.

Have Picnic Lunch

The teachers in the grade schools of Hudson were hostesses to Miss Bridges and Miss Druley at a picnic lunch at the home of Mrs. W. S. Davis. Miss Bridges reports that all the girls were anxious to get the "news" from college. They all had a very enjoyable social time.

The girls who were hostesses are Ida Berle, Beatrice Roe, Fern Hovde, Mabel Thorpe, Mable Jacobson, Jenny Lee, Mrs. Murphy, Ann Murphy, Katherine Ryan, Agnes McClurg, Mildred Engals, Mary Bush and Orpha Olson.

A Placement Record

All but one of the grade teachers of the Hudson public schools are River Falls graduates.

Biographies Aquired For Library Shelves

There are some very interesting new biographies in the library which might interest the English Composition classes. Some of these are listed below:

Amundsen's "My Life as an Explorer," Beveridges' "New Life of Lincoln" (which is considered superior in comparison with other biographies of Lincoln.)

Dodd's "Lincoln or Lee" (a comparison of the two greatest leaders in the war between the states.)

Clemmon's "Life on the Mississippi," a new copy, The Diary of Gideon Wells.

What is thought to be an outstanding book of travel is Lawrence's "The Revolt in the Desert." This is an account of the adventures of a young Oxford graduate during the last two years of the nationalist revolt of the Arabs against the Turks.

Collegians Regard Election As End of Long Waiting

Culmination of Interest Comes When Davison and Norseng Speak for Hoover, Smith

Dope on Campaigns and Elections Shows Hoover Slight Favorite Over Smith

As a climax to what has been termed the most interesting presidential campaign in the history of the country, the students and faculty of the River Falls Teachers College went to the polls yesterday to cast their ballots which would decide whether Alfred E. Smith or Herbert Hoover would be president of their nation for the next four years.

A great deal of interest has been shown in the college for weeks as to the outcome of the election so that now that the day of election is over, everyone is eagerly awaiting the final returns so that they may determine whether or not their favorite has succeeded in his efforts to reach the highest position of the land.

Norseng, Davison Talk

The culmination of student interest came in the Thursday morning assembly last week when Marshall Norseng and Jack Davison, college debaters, spoke before the students of the school in the effort to persuade the voters of their audience to vote for their men. Davison spoke for Hoover, and Norseng took up the cause of Smith.

Their speeches took up practically the entire period, and during that time they held the interest of the student body without an effort. During the remainder of the day students argued up one side and down the other as to which man was the better speaker. The consensus of opinion was that both were so good that to say which was the better would be an impossibility.

Debaters Complimented

Mr. Williams, head of the forensics department, said the speeches by the two college men were the best campaign speeches he has heard this year, and he has heard most of them, he said.

The vote of the students in the straw vote contest conducted by the Student Voice gave Al Smith a plurality of one, but as there were only 41 votes cast, this does not prove much. If the vote of all the students in the country, however, is of any significance, Hoover will win two to one, but the actual results can only be conjectured.

COLLEGE JUNIOR GRIDDERS TROUNCED BY HI SCHOOL

The Junior high school was trounced to a tune of 24-0 by the River Falls high school ninth and 10th grades last Monday evening. Coach Carl Klandrud, Jules Reinhart and Johnny Schlick administered the strategy for the college Junior high team.

ing are said to be among the best.

Decker's "Reader's Guide Book," Bennett's "What Books Can Do For You," Repliers' "In Our Convent Days," Kabell "Beyond Life," Harrison's, "The Choice of Books," Law's "Modern Essays and Stories," Meredith's "Essays on Comedy," "The Use of the Comic Spirit," Tanner's "Modern Familiar Essays."

The library is essentially a place for reference work. Oftentimes, however, the students are unable to find what they want on the shelf and do not get anything at all. The librarians are very glad to assist anyone who wishes to find a book on any subject. Substitute books for the one desired may oftentimes be procured by asking the librarian.

COLLEGE HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS STAGE PARTY

A Hallow'en party was given for the college high school students last Tuesday night in the girls' gym. The first part of the evening was given over to stunts. Each grade put on a stunt. The last part of the evening was spent in dancing. Music was furnished by the school orchestra. The refreshments consisted of pumpkin pie ala mode and pop corn balls.

Miss Delander with the help of the practice teachers put the party across in fine shape. A good time was reported by all.

Date Unsettled for Band Benefit Show at Falls Show House

Band Procures Twin Ducky Entertainers, Tambo and Bones For Part of Program

The show, which will be given for the benefit of the band to defray the suit debt of that organization, has not been selected as yet by Mr. Paynter, manager of the Falls theatre where the show is to be given, so that the time of the show presentation can not be ascertained as yet. It is expected by next week the name of the show and the time of its presentation will be known.

In the meantime, preparations to make the show a huge success are going forward. A former member of the River Falls band, being well acquainted with the large circuits has through his influence and generosity procured the services of the noted ducky twin entertainers, Tambo and Bones.

These two young negroes have made a hit wherever they have appeared. Their program consists mostly of dialogues and songs. Along with these they generally have some novelty act, with which they amuse their large audiences.

Journalism Students Hear County Agents

The ag. journalism class have had opportunities to get much good material for feature articles and editorials on local agricultural problems and projects during the past few days.

Last Friday morning County Agent H. G. Seyforth of Pierce county visited the class and in the class period to which he was limited gave a brief but very interesting and to the point review of the Pierce county work which had been accomplished during the year.

Monday morning County Agent G. W. Lycan of St. Croix county presented the class a review of the main problems taken up in St. Croix county.

Both men considered 4-H club work a very vital part of the farm boys' and girls' education. Progress in cooperative marketing, soil analysis, live stock breeders, sales associations in the two counties was also given.

GRADERS HEAR DAMROSCH

Through the courtesy of Miss Arnold and the local Majestic radio dealer the pupils of the training school heard the weekly children's concert broadcast from WEAF New York City, by Walter Damrosch and his national orchestra.

These concerts are given by the radio corporation of America. The concert consisted of three selections with explanatory remarks by Mr. Damrosch.

"If" Becomes Word Of Interest At End Of Grid Season

River Falls Must Win Tilt With La Crosse to Remain in Running for Championship

Season May End in Two, Four or Five Cornered Tie With Superior Only Certainty

Last week's games brought the standings of the teams in the conference to a very interesting deadlock for first place with a percentage of 1000. Those tying are as follows:

Superior	3	0	1
River Falls	3	0	1
Oshkosh	2	0	1

With such standings staring at the observer, he can draw some rather disconcerting possibilities as conclusions.

Race Uncertain

Oshkosh has Milwaukee and Stevens Point yet to play. If Oshkosh wins from Stevens Point and loses to Milwaukee they will drop to 750 per cent. Stevens Point has only Oshkosh left to play, and if they win they remain 1000 per cent, but if they lose, they will drop to 750 per cent. Whitewater still has Stout and Milwaukee to play. If she wins one or ties one and loses one, she will drop to 666 or 500. If River Falls wins from La Crosse, its standing will remain at 1000 per cent. Superior has no more games to play; so they are sitting securely on a 1000 per cent seat.

"Ifs" Have Chances

All of the above is simply "if," but most of the above are not only possible but are, also, quite probable. At any rate, River Falls must win to stay in the running. The season may end with two teams tied for the state championship, and it may end with four teams claiming first honors. Either Oshkosh or Stevens Point will be eliminated from the running unless there is a tie, when there will be five teams with 1000 per cent standings.

Undisputed championships are almost impossible to obtain under the new schedule of games.

Field Hockeyists Swing Cruel Sticks

"Ouch! Stop wrapping that hockey stick around my neck. Scoot, you shin digger!" These and other remarks quite similar can be heard on the hockey field any Wednesday or Thursday afternoon from four until five o'clock. Here we find the hockey enthusiasts battling indiscriminately.

Field hockey, the sport which was introduced by Miss Curran, has interested about 25 girls; this number is equivalent to two teams. The hockey team is composed of 11 players. The positions of the players are: five forwards, one of which is center; three halfbacks, two fullbacks and one goal keeper or goalie.

The equipment needed to play this game is as follows:

A hockey stick for each player, one hockey ball, shin guards for each player, suits—come and see for yourself.

The idea of the game is somewhat similar to basketball. Instead of throwing the ball, the players must use the sticks to hit the ball toward goal. The game starts with the ball in the center's circle. Each center forward tries to strike off to their

SATISFACTION

No matter what way you look at it, River Falls nor any other team can lay undisputed claims to the championship of the conference this year. There will be at least two teams tied for first and quite possibly more.

If two teams are tied for the championship, they remain that way for there is no ruling which can remedy the congestion of schools claiming first place.

A few years ago the football contests were divided into two brackets, the north and south divisions. Each bracket would play the teams in his own group to decide the championship of that bracket. When that was settled, the winning teams of both brackets would meet to decide which team was the champion of the state. In that way no one besides the winning team of the final game could lay claim to the championship.

The value of the championship and the desire for the championship were much greater under that system than under the present where a team may easily slide in to first place when everyone knows that they don't deserve it. There was a great deal more honor in winning the championship in those days for the simple reason that it was harder to obtain and was in reality the championship of the state while at present it can very easily be anything but that.

This year if River Falls beats La Crosse, the Falls will be tied for the championship, of the state. So will Superior and maybe, some others. Each school will stage a celebration when only one school is entitled to it.

Every school is eligible for the championship as long as it plays four conference games. Everyone knows that all the teams in the state are not equal. Still, any four teams are all right as long as they win enough games. Half of the honor in winning the state championship must be divided with some one else, and who cares to do that.

Let's get back to the old schedule where we know exactly where we stand at the end of the year. Let's get rid of these absolute percentages and win the championship on merit alone.

SUPERIOR MINUS SUPER

Well folks, what do you think of the team and River Falls team now. Of course, we only tied the Northmen, but they expected to run away with us; so they are probably beginning to wake from the daze by this time. Everyone down in this section, who knew River Falls for its indomitable spirit, prophesied that the game would be close while up in the lake region everyone conceded Superior a very decided edge. Guess we wiped the edge off, though.

About 150 Red and White supporters went a long ways last Saturday to give the team the backing that they needed to hold Superior and drive them down the field almost to a touchdown. That isn't one of the best illustrations of loyal spirit that can be found, some evidence to the contrary may be offered, but it will have to be mighty good evidence. Now, if we can only do the same thing for the La Crosse game, the team will be sitting pretty.

Remember this, however, the season is not over yet, for we have La Crosse to beat, and that won't be applesauce. The team was primed for Superior if there ever was a team primed. That means that it will be very easy for them to drop off a little this week; and if La Crosse is primed as we were, there will be a hot time in the wrong town next Saturday night.

The G. O. P. is taking charge of the mass meeting this Thursday night, and it will undoubtedly be a good one. A mass meeting can't be much of a success, however well planned, if there isn't someone there to put it across. Last Thursday evening there was a very large group of students at the meeting during the latter part of it, but during the first half of the program, there was a very sickly looking sized crowd present.

If you intend to come to a mass meeting, get there on time so that it may be worth the time spent in preparing a program and so that it may actually accomplish the end for which it was called. Furthermore, don't be afraid to use a little of your lung power after you do get there for, what's the use of coming if you don't let anyone know that you are there.

The members of the team ought to be present in full force and up at the front. What is the use of hanging back. You can't be a hero all your life, and besides the student body would like a little inspiration for their pep.

Friday morning the team will leave again by bus. The students turned out in good shape for the farewell last Friday, but there have been many demonstrations of pep that exceeded the show last week. This week go out there and yell as if you meant it, not as if you hoped that they will hurry up and leave. NOVEMBER 8, 1928.

"The Lowdown"

Well here we are again after failing to appear last week. According to the law of something-or-other we should have lots to say this week, because of our rest last week. But—we haven't.

The proper thing to do when a team plays a tie game is to claim a moral victory since the opponents were supposed to be so good, etc., but the Lowdown is going to pass up this golden opportunity, and "call 'em as we see 'em."

We don't even say River Falls had the better team. We only say we're proud of the gang for the fight they put up and give Superior a hand for holding River Falls scoreless. There were two good teams up there Saturday and they played good ball. No alibis, whatsoever.

But what we do want to rave about is that old never-say-die fight that made our bunch a constant threat to Superior's goal, that drive that was still there in the last five minutes of the game when Superior was rapidly tiring and let the Falls get down to the seven yard line. Pretty lucky for Superior when Fate and the referee stepped in to call the play that brought the ball to the four yard line, back and penalized the Falls 15 long yards.

Now that the game with Superior has passed in history we must consider the future. The coming game, as everyone should know, is at La Crosse. It is also the last game of the season. To win gives us a bid for state championship. Therefore, we must win. Then, of course, celebrations will be in order, but we will not go into that today. Now why not traverse to La Crosse to give your support and see the final game? We are sure rides may be secured for a minimum fee. The "dope" seems to be an easy victory, BUT that has been the "dope" before when things didn't turn out so good. We remain a little pessimistic, as we expect no walkaway, but a nice evenly matched game of football.

Let's go down to La Crosse! Good bye and write your own ticket.

The Y. W. C. A.

With the help of Miss Hamilton and Miss Hathorn a scheme for the general program has been worked out. The topic to run throughout the year is "Being at Home." During November, which is World Fellowship month, "Being at Home with the World" is to be the theme. Problems and situations of interest to girls will be discussed. Our first meeting Nov. 6, will be taken up with a pageant, showing the universal qualities of youth.

Some of the other topics will be Being at home in your community, in your school, and with yourself. At the end of every topic a real party is planned. When we have talked for a time of world fellowship, we hope to put on a national masquerade.

All girls who are interested be out Tuesday night, on the third floor of South Hall.

The Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Babcock, former "Hi Y" director, was the speaker at the Y. M. C. A. last Thursday evening. He spoke on the methods of organizing and conducting High school Y. M. C. A. clubs.

Mr. Babcock emphasized the fact that teaching was not all that was required. "The by-products," he said, determined the profits that one would get from the job.

Tonight Mr. Karges will be the speaker. His topic will be, "Some Things that Science Does Not Teach Us."

On Nov. 9 the practice teachers will attend the M. E. A. at St. Paul. The children will enjoy a one day vacation.

Question Mark

Ques. What is one characteristic of an ideal co-ed?

A. Mr. Prucha, L-o-v-liness.

A. H. Benson, One that would once a week clean out the smoking room for the boys.

A. Orvis Olson, She must be beautiful but dumb.

A. Elling Flattarn, An outstanding characteristic of any co-ed is dumbness.

A. Joe Chopp, One that once a week will treat the faculty to cigars.

A. Walter Pauling, She must have the ability to compete with other pretty women.

COLLEGE GIRL WINS $50 FOR FIRST PLACE ESSAY

Miss Grace Latshaw, feature editor of the Student Voice, recently received a check for fifty dollars from the League of Women Voters for first prize in an essay contest, which she took part in during her last year of high school, at Chetek.

All high school students in the state were eligible to competition. The subject for the essays was: "Aviation as a factor in World Co-operation to Prevent War".

Miss Latshaw said that she was as surprised as anyone to receive the fifty dollar prize.

Mrs. Henpeck—You said when you proposed that you'd rather live in eternal torment with me than in bliss by yourself.

Mr. Henpeck—Well, I've had my wish.

Gene—What is your worst sin?

Jane—My vanity. I spend hours before the mirror admiring my beauty.

Gene—That isn't vanity—that's imagination.

"I've let my mustache and beard grow and am wearing blue spectacles. How did you recognize me?" "By my umbrella."—Paris Pele Mele.

Modern Girl—I understand that the girls of your time "set their caps" for men, Grandma.

Grandma—Yes, child, but not their knee-caps.

Cora Larson, graduate from the Intermediate course last year, has accepted a position as teacher of the Intermediate grades at Cornell, Wis.

The people graduating this year seem to show a great deal of interest in the ring or pin that is to be picked. The rings were put on display last Wednesday. Six people were in to see the rings and three of the people that came were on the ring committee.

Myers—My wife never goes to bed before two o'clock in the morning. I can't break her of the habit.

Ouderkirk—What time do you usually get home at night?

Myers—Two o'clock.

Touted Superior Eleven Held by Falls to Scoreless Tie

River Falls Goal Never in Danger Of Superiorites

Captain Manion Saves Game for Falls and Gains Glory for Self by Spilling Ball Carrier on Road to Touchdown in Spite of Two Man Interference; Falls Nearly Scores.

Two of the strongest teams in the Wisconsin state teachers college conference played a 0-0 tie Saturday, Nov. 3, when the Red and White River Falls Peds met Superior Teachers on Gates Field as the feature of Superior's homecoming.

This is the second time in the football history of the two schools when the final score resulted in a tie, the other time being in 1920 when the two teams played a 7-7 game.

The game was featured throughout with tight football by both sides. Neither team fumbled to any extent, although the field was somewhat slippery. River Falls held the advantage in punting. They averaged six yards more than did the Superior team.

The most spectacular play of the game came when Superior broke loose on a long end run. They succeeded in getting past the entire River Falls squad with the exception of Captain Manion. He evaded two Superior men who were running interference to pull down the man with the ball.

River Falls Threatens

River Falls threatened Superior in the last frame when they had the ball on the Superior nine yard line with a first down. They were penalized 15 yards but brought the ball back to within two yards of its position where they lost on downs. Superior never seriously threatened the River Falls goal line.

As the game started the Superior team kicked to the River Falls 15 yard line. The ball was carried back to the 25. Claffin made eight yards. MacDonald followed with three and a first down. After two line plunges River Falls punted to the Superior 20 yard line. Superior punted to the 50 yard line. River Falls tried the line for a couple of yards. They tried a pass which was not completed. A punt went out of bounds on the Superior five yard line.

Superior punted to their own 25 yard line. MacDonald made nine yards. River Falls lost the ball on downs. Superior made five yards in three plays and punted to the River Falls 30 where Manion ran the ball back to the 47 yard line. Claffin and MacDonald made 13 yards in two tries, for a first down. Standish made eight yards in two runs. River Falls tried a pass which was incomplete and they punted to the Superior five yard line where the ball went out of bounds. Superior made a yard in two plays and punted to the River Falls 40 yard line.

Claffin Makes Yardage

Claffin made 12 yards in two line plays for a first down. MacDonald made five yards. Superior intercepted a pass on their own 35 yard line. They made nine yards in two plays. On the next play they fumbled, but a Superior man recovered the ball for a nine yard gain and first down. Superior made nine yards in three line bucks as the quarter ended.

The second quarter started with Superior in possession of the ball on the River Falls 36 yard line. They made two yards for a first down. Manion of River Falls intercepted a 10 yard Superior pass on the River Falls 20 yard line. River Falls punted to the Superior 35 yard line. River Falls intercepted a Superior pass on the River Falls 48 yard line. River Falls made six yards on line plays and punted to the Superior 15 yard line where the ball went out of bounds. Superior got away on a long sweeping end run which looked like a sure touchdown, but Manion, the River Falls quarterback, evaded two Superior blockers to get the man with the ball on the Superior 35 yard line. Superior made a first down in three tries at the line. They were penalized five yards after getting two incomplete passes and punted to the River Falls 15 where Manion ran the ball back five yards. River Falls punted to the Superior 40 yard line.

Play Straight Football

They made two first downs thru the center of the line. They lost 10 yards in three line bucks and punted to the River Falls 18 yard line. River Falls punted to the Superior 40 yard line after making eight yards thru the line. On the exchange of punts the River Falls team gained six yards which put the ball in possession of Superior on her own 34 yard line. Superior made a first down in two tries. On the next play they lost 10 yards. Hunt intercepted a pass on the Superior 40 yard line as the half ended.

River Falls kicked to the Superior 35 yard line to start the second half. The ball was brought back five yards. Superior made a first down in four tries at the line. They made another in three tries. They lost 12 yards on two end runs and punted to the River Falls 15 yard line. The ball was brought back to the 30 yard line. River Falls made four yards and punted to the Superior 20 yard line. Superior made eight yards and River Falls was penalized five yards to make it first down for Superior. Superior made eight yards in three tries and punted to the River Falls 30 yard line. After making three yards through the line River Falls punted to the Superior 35 yard line. Superior made a first down in four plays. River Falls was penalized 15 yards. Superior lost five yards in two plays and punted to the River Falls 15 yard line. Superior received a River Falls punt on the River Falls 40 yard line and brought it back four yards as the quarter ended.

Superior Penalized

Manion recovered a Superior fumble on the River Falls 20 yard line. River Falls punted. Superior clipped and were penalized 25 yards putting the ball on the Superior 34 yard line. Superior made a first down in three tries. They lost the ball on downs after making nine yards in three plays. River Falls made five yards. A pass Claffin to Standish to MacDonald put the ball on the Superior nine yard line. River Falls received a 15 yard penalty. Standish made five yards. Two passes put the ball on the Superior 11 yard line. River Falls lost the ball on downs. Superior made two first downs in three plays, and punted to the River Falls 40 yard line. River Falls lost seven yards and punted to the Superior 33 yard line. Superior made a first down. Superior broke even on three plays and punted over the River Falls goal line. The ball was brought out to the 20. Claffin made nine yards as the game ended.

forwards, who, in turn, try to carry the ball to the goal. The back fielders guard the opposing forwards, and also, must feed the ball to their own forwards. The goal keeper is within the striking circle. She has the most privileges of ways to handle the ball. She may strike, throw, or kick the ball out of the striking circle.

The coach for this sport is Miss Curran. She is considered an excellent coach by all of the players.

On Wednesday and Thursday afternoons of this week, the two teams which Miss Curran has organized, will have a chance to determine the superior team. Everybody is urged to come out and see the two outstanding events of the week. There will be no admission charges.

JUNIOR HIGH TO PRESENT TWO ONE-ACT PLAYS

The Junior high school will present two one-act plays Dec. 7. The proceeds will go to finance athletics of the junior department. The Junior high school has a large basketball schedule for this winter. They will play several games out of town and will play preliminary games before the college games.

The Junior high school has not had a basket ball team since 1922.

The plays selected are "Sauce for the Gosling," and "Our Aunt from California." The cast has not been selected yet, but will be in the near future. The Junior high school orchestra will play between acts.

HEGEN TO SELL FURS

Hegen was judging dairy cattle as all ag men must do sooner or later. After everyone had looked the group of animals over, Professor Johnson turned to the men and said to Hegen, "Why did you place this one over that cow?"

"I thought she had much better fur," replied the accomplished judge. He went down in the books for an "A" plus for explaining so well.

RIVER FALLS, WIS.

Falls and LaX Formerly Played on Equal Terms

With their goal line still uncrossed by any conference team, River Falls State Teachers college will meet the La Crosse State Teachers college at La Crosse in the final game of the season next Saturday. This promises to be a very exciting game. Last year River Falls and La Crosse tied each other at 13 all. La Crosse was the state champions last year.

La Crosse Shows Improvement

During the early part of this year and up to the middle of the season La Crosse had not been going at a very fast rate. They seemed to have been in a slump. They also had bad luck when two of their star players were expelled from school, but now toward the end of the season, they seem to have found their stride. They did not play last Saturday so they will be in good shape for the game this Saturday. This is also their last game and due to the fact that their season has not been as successful as it might have been, they are out to beat River Falls.

Offense Built on Frey

Their offense is built around Captain and quarterback Frey. He is a smart football man and a good punter, but if Claffin can keep up the punting that he did at Superior it is highly doubtful if they will have anything on the Falls in that department of the game. Claf's kicking was the best ever done by any River Falls man as far as can be remembered, it is said. Their offense is a great deal of passing.

Falls Wins 3 of 5

Since 1919 these two teams have met five times. Three of these five times it has meant the state championship of one or the other teams.

The record is as follows: 1919, River Falls 0, La Crosse 14, (for the state championship); 1920, River Falls 7, La Crosse 0, (also for the state championship); 1921, River Falls 3, La Crosse 0; 1922, River Falls 10, La Crosse 7.

There were no games played again until last year when the Thanksgiving classic ended in a 13 to 13 tie, giving La Crosse the state championship.

FRESHMAN PRODIGY PROMISES "SCOOP"

As you all know, the "Student Voice" staff has a new work room in the south wing of south hall. There is quite a story connected with it (or there will be.)

Last Tuesday at exactly 12:10 1/2 as the staff was sedately assembled to be assigned their work for the following week, an unexpected, uninvited Freshman burst suddenly into the room. Evidently he had, by mistake, taken our room for some other of his many destinations. Not wanting to appear intrusive he tried to adjust himself to his false surroundings.

From the depths of his anatomy the editor produced the heartless remark. "Freshman, did you see the sign on the door? It means 'keep out.' This is the Student Voice staff room and not a skating rink."

"Yes, sir, Mr. Editor," stammered the embarrassed Frosh, "I saw it and er-J just-er-came to ask you if I might write a nice long story for your paper. Might I? And er-I should kinda like to choose my own subject—and-er-please, Mr. Editor."

"Well, I should guess!" vollied Editor Wolfe. The prodigy's retreating frown received the biggest grins the staff of a college paper is able to give. They don't grin very often.

Folks, let's all watch for the Freshman's big original story coming in next week's issue. Maybe!

Voice Unappreciated by College Students

The Student Voice as originally published was the voice of the student body, but now it is but the voice of three or four people. The Student to most students is a paper which is supposed to come out every Tuesday noon, but really doesn't get out until Wednesday morning because of the incompetency of the editor and the staff to compile the news before that time.

To most students the printing of the Student Voice is the matter of a couple of hours time when in reality it requires around sixteen to eighteen hours every week to set up the stories on the linotype and arrange them so that they will appear to the best advantage in the paper. Most students do not realize that every line in the paper is set up separately in lead and that there are a great many chances for error in each line. A mark of punctuation left out or a misspelled word are very easy to allow to happen as each letter in each line is dropped separately by the working of a keyboard of a typewriter.

Still students wonder how anyone so dumb in English composition can be a member of the staff. Even after the paper has been read over a couple of times, which it is every week, some of these errors slip by unnoticed, not because the proof-reader does not know that such a construction is an error but because he gets so tired of reading everything handed in that some errors cannot help slipping his mind.

On Wednesday noon every week the staff of the Voice is supposed to meet with the editor to get their assignments for the week. If they have nothing else to do they show up, otherwise the editor has to look for them to give them their assignments. The editor has the job of finding subjects for stories, and as his scope of vision is necessarily limited the number of stories written up compared with the number that might be written up is rather low.

After the stories have been assigned the next job is to get the writers to get their material handed in in time to be set up for the paper. Sometimes outside students are asked for stories, and usually they seem to think that they are doing a favor for the editor, which most of the students are not over-anxious to do.

Every week a great many of the students do not know it there are some editorials printed on the second page of the Voice. These the editor has to write. Sometimes he has something to write about, but most of the time there is nothing but high sounding phrases on school spirit to fill the column with. Some one might ask why there is such a column when there is nothing to put in it. The reply to that is that something must be used to fill the paper, and that makes a fairly good form of filler.

Besides the stories assigned to the staff there are always a large number of last minute stories which must be written up, and as there is no one to write them but the editor, he gets that job. Quite often there is not enough material to fill the paper; so the editor has to use his imagination for some story (this is a good example) or else fill the paper with jokes which some students would be very glad to see.

All material handed in must be looked over and inspected. If it is not written in quite the correct style, and if something is left out, the editor has to fix that up. The reporters work hard to get their stories so it is probably no help to their vanity to see their stories changed around, but they work on without complaining. Many times when a reporter interviews someone that person refuses to advance the information wanted, though it possesses real news value and would hurt no one to be published. The line of a reporter has a great many disadvantages and no advantages. The staff would like a few more reporters.

After all the stories are written and handed in, the editor must determine how they should look. All heads must have symmetry as must

G. A. A. Party Held In South Hall Gym

"Get your partners for a quadrille. Down the center and cast off six." This sounds familiar to about 40 G. A. A. girls. Anybody wandering through the corridors of South Hall on Hallowe'en eve would have believed that the revival of old time dances had come. Anybody who attended the G. A. A. party will say it is more fun to dance old time dances to modern music than—well, try it yourself.

Beside dancing, everybody present joined in playing other games. No one was given time to occupy the sideline benches.

As in accordance with all parties, refreshments were served. Miss Curran chaperoned the party.

Patient—Doctor, I am troubled with insomnia.

Doctor—Take one of these tablets every night for a week.

Patient—But how can I get my girl's father to do that?

Minnie (somewhat portly)—Did George fall for me? Say, he worships the very ground I stand on.

Jerry (rejected suitor)—Well, George is in the real estate business and he knows values.

A drummer employed by a Scotch firm telegraphed from a distant town: "Held up by the storm. Wire instructions."

The firm replied: "Start your week's vacation as from yesterday."

the arrangement of head on the page. Articles are sometimes handed in with a headline attached, but the headline attached, but the head has no symmetry whatsoever and cannot be used.

With the heads all written the paper is ready to be put together which requires a couple of hours. Most students have never noticed how every column comes out to be the end and every line just cuts the end. All these things must be worked out in compiling the paper. The paper is then ready to print. That is a short job if the press holds up, but something is liable to happen to that so that some more time is lost. The first copy of the paper is read for errors, and these errors are corrected. Seven hundred copies of the paper are then printed, and the folding job begins. Every fold in the paper is done by hand. Last week one person did it alone and finished about 12:30 a. m.

The next morning the papers are brought down to school where the students glance them over and throw them in the waste paper basket after thinking, my! what a rotten paper this week.

STUDENTS SHOW DESIRE FOR DANCING AT PARTIES

Dancing or cards was the choice of entertainment for school parties selected by the students of the college in the assembly yesterday morning in a ballot conducted by the student social committee for the purpose of determining the wishes of the student body as to the form of entertainment they would like to have at school parties.

Although some of the ballots contained wishes impossible to grant most of the students took the matter seriously and designated some form or another of amusement that they would like to have at the mixers.

The choice of the students and the number of students choosing each are as follows: Dancing, 234; games, 27; cards, 85; dancing and cards combined, which received one-half of the total ballots cast. The total number of votes cast were 346.

With the results of this vote before them, the student social committee feels that they can choose the type of amusement that the students want most and that the parties staged will be as successful as is possible.

"What a dead play! It's a wonder the audience doesn't hiss it."

"Well, they can't hiss and yawn at the same time."

"My good man, is your milk quite fresh?"

"Indeed yes. Why half an hour ago it was still only grass."—London Passing Show.

Diner—Waiter, there's a fly in my soup.

Waiter—I don't understand it unless it's one of those vitamin bees you hear so much about.

Auntie—Bobbie, I don't see how you can let the dog lick your face the way he does.

Bobbie—Oh, I think he does very well for a pup his age.

Mrs. Jacobson—They say Mrs. Aronoff treats her husband like a banjo.

Mr. Jacobson—What do you mean? Mrs. Jacobson—Why, she's picking on him all the time.

Hingus—What do you do for a living?

Dingus—Oh, I follow the medical profession.

Hingus—A doctor of medicine, eh?

Dingus—No—undertaker.

Prospective Buyer—What an odd room this is with no ceiling and open to the sky.

Agent—Yes, it's the shower-bathroom. The house was built by a Scotchman.

"Heavens! That's my new hat you're sitting on!"

"Oh, yours, is it? You see how lucky I am; I thought it was mine."—Madrid Buen Humor.

Hubby—I don't believe that fable about the whale swallowing Jonah.

Wifey—Why not? That's nothing to what you expect me to swallow sometimes.

First Burglar—Hello, Jim! Why, you look as if you had been in a railway accident since I saw you last. What's wrong?

Second Burglar—I got into a house where the woman was waiting up for her husband, and she thought I was him.
