EXTRA GRADUATE SENIORS BANQUET

Special by leased wire to the "Voice."
Mr. Karges, with eleven of his graduate seniors banqueted in the dining room of the Domestic Science Rooms.

The room was appropriately decorated, and the feast was prepared by the girls of the class under the supervision of Miss Audrey Armstrong.

While dinner was being served, music was furnished by the Benson Orchestra of Chicago.

Mr. Roy Earl Melvin was toastmaster. After introducing each person with a somewhat lengthy speech, each one responded with a toast significant to Mr. Melvin's own career.

This is only the first of a series of functions in which this class will be the main participants.

ALL SCHOOL DANCE WELL ATTENDED

The dance given at the South Hall Gymnasium last Friday night after the Superior game was well attended. The music started at 9:15 and the dance closed at 11:30.

The chaperones for the evening were Miss McMillan, Miss Hathorne, Miss McKensie and Mr. Mitchell.

The dance served as a medium to calm us down after the exciting and interesting game.

The music was furnished by a local five piece orchestra, consisting of Piano, Traps, Clarinet, Violin and Cornet.

TRIBUTE TO ALICE H. SCHULTES

The pink roses which stood under the picture of Miss Schultes, in the Library, on Monday, were a tribute to the memory of Alice H. Schultes, who before her death, February 28, 1915, had been intimately connected with this school for thirty years.

Mrs. Sophia Schultes Jackson of Northfield, Minn., a niece of Miss Schultes sends the pink roses each year as an anniversary tribute to Miss Schultes. Pink roses were her favorite flower.

Prof. Hunt is away for ten days, attending the N. E. A. Department of Superintendents' meeting at Atlantic City, New Jersey.

Ellen Melsby, Helen Churchill and Marion Davis spent the week end at Lucille Kay's home at Spring Valley.

The Tubbs family are quarantined with Scarlet Fever.

SUPERIOR QUINT SHOWS CLASS BUT FALLS BEFORE DAZZLING ATTACK OF CHANDLERITES

Battling valiently and with grim determination to do what all other contenders have failed to accomplish, the Superior normal aggregation gave the local tossers one of the wildest encounters of the season last Friday night. The historic Eau Claire engagement being the only one to which a slight edge must be concealed.

Although the game Up Staters failed in their stupendous task, they nevertheless branded themselves as being the classiest performers seen on the local floor this season. Their speed and drive was really remarkable and at no time during the fray did their splendid morale show any signs of depression.

Both teams started at a terrific clip and showed great condition by maintaining the pace as the game progressed. The Champs were not long in discovering that they would be obliged to uncork all their speed and to utilize all the tricks of their trade in order to get the edge on their formidable foe; but they were not to be denied, and again when the timers gun ended the milling they were leaving the scene with the serenity that bespeaks victory and with the satisfied feeling that only one obstacle remains to be polished before their 1000 per cent dreams become a realization.

To win over the Chandler machine when functioning as it has been in the major portion of the games played this season, would be a huge task for any team and it is highly improbable that any conference rival can rise to the occasion. It is something that is not being done now days.

A few slants on the game

The visitors appeared on the floor somewhat prematurely and utilized their time in acquainting themselves with the baskets and the environments in general. Their preliminary work was big and foretold in some degree what was to follow.

Immediately after the arrival of the zero hour, when referee Smith was seen pacing it off toward the center ring, fur began to fly. The invaders threw every ounce of energy into the skirmish from the very start evidently in hopes of getting away to a lead before the local aggregation would find themselves and get their puzzling short pass in working order.

GIRLS SHOW ATHLETIC ABILITY CHARACTERISTIC OF SCHOOL

Playing with ability and team work which surprised some of the spectators who had come to laugh at the pokiness of a mere "girls game," the first representative all-school girls basket ball team defeated the St. Paul Institute team by a score of 33 to 20 Saturday evening, thus upholding our 1000 per cent basket ball record.

The team which distinguished itself not only by exceptionally good playing but by a fine spirit of good sportsmanship, had the following line up:
Anna Hagestad—Forward
Forward—Honor McNally
Center—Helen McNally (Capt)
Guard—Mae Brown
Guard—Marie Moynihan

The visiting team was at a disadvantage in that two of their strong players were unable to make the trip, so their playing suffered by the use of substitutes.

DEBATE HONORS TO BE DECIDED FRIDAY NIGHT

Debate honors in the north will be decided next Friday evening when Superior, Eau Claire, and River Falls meet in a triangular debate on the Esch Cummins Law. The local affirmative will meet the Superior Negative on the home platform, while the negative will clash with the Eau Claire affirmative at Eau Claire. Eau Clair's negative will meet the Superior affirmative at Superior.

The River Falls negative team was dealt a hard blow yesterday when it was learned that Edwin Schroeder leader of the team, must return to the hospital immediately for another operation. Schroeder has been back from the hospital but a couple of weeks. Alvin Howalt, Leo Shannon, and Edward Casey, however are hard at work on the case and the debate at Eau Claire should be very closely contested.

The local affirmative team will consist of Laura Kellar, John Williams, and Melvin Thomson. They will meet the strong Superior negative on the home platform.

Superior has a very imposing record in debate and according to "The Peptomist," the Superior weekly, is confident of another victory over the Red and White this year. Those who have heard the affirmative are of the opinion that the Superiorites are in for a rude awakening. The debate is sure to be closely contested and every student should be there to back

Carolán begins scoring

Nelson, left forward for the visitors was caught traveling by referee Smith immediately after play had commenced and Carolán counted on the gift.

Holstrom, the invaders speedy center, evidently disliked being a trailer and shoved his team into a one point lead when he trained his long range artillery on the objective and whiffed one through from mid floor. The Superior defense was tight and the locals attempted several long shots none of which materialized. Carolán drew a technical and Johnson counted. Then came the most sparkling play of the game. Morrow intercepted a Superior pass well up in the danger zone and whizzed the ball the full length of the court to Carolán. He then followed in and counted on a snappy return from the nimble southpaw who was covered and unable to score himself. It was great work and the mad mob responded with wild cheers. Carolán then came across with his first two pointer on a shot from the foul line, and Gurnoe, who was showing great form soon followed with a "bat in" shot.

The score board said 7 to 4 and Superior called for time. When play began Carolán immediately increased the lead by dropping in his second shot from the free throw line. Superior worked the ball under with some neat passing but Holstrom missed his shot. Johnson, the visitors captain, soon got a similiar chance and did likewise. Nelson then completed his team's scoring for the first half by dropping one through from the side line. Two more field counters by Carolán and another by Wright ended the scoring for the first period. The count stood 16 to 8 at intermission time. The locals had scored seven times from scrimmage to their opponents two but the visitors captain was showing great form in his free throwing, having made good in every one of his four attempts.

The second half showed Coach Loop's charges coming back with renewed vigor and field baskets by Johnson and Holstrom and some more accurate free throwing by Johnson soon brought the count up to 14 for the opposition while the Chandlerites were going from 16 to 19. Gurnoe then began a scoring spree for the home team by caging a sensational "over head" shot and followed immediately with a close under basket on a pass from Wright. Wright was next to count on a pretty follow in shot. A personal was then called on Carolán. The crowd resented the referee's decision and in so doing gave the sharp shooting Johnson two chances instead of one, by drawing a foul for their unsportsmanlike tactics. The attitude shown by the crowd was wholly uncalled for and the counter blow struck by referee Smith in calling the foul was well directed and should prove a valuable lesson to those who are in the habit of starting altercations with officials.

Another basket by Gurnoe from the center and a long one from the side by Holstrom for the visitors ended the scoring for both teams and gave the final score a 29 to 18 appearance.

EAU CLAIRE HERE

FRIDAY NIGHT

Unless a post season championship series is arranged with Oskosh, next Friday night's contest with the strong Eau Claire combination will be the closing event of the 1921 campaign.

The week end card needs no introduction to local sport followers and will no doubt prove to be a fitting climax for a truly remarkable season.

HARRY ROESE HAS WINNING TEAM

Harry Roese, a school alumni, who is at present teaching and coaching athletics at the Alexandria high school, Alexandria, Minn., is making a strong bid with his basket ball team for a place in the state tourney at Carleton college. His team cinched the sub district championship recently by virtue of a win over Asakis, Minn. If Fergus Falls or Moorhead can be disposed of, the district championship will go to Alexandria.

N. C. A.

The program for last week's N. C. A. was as follows:

Talk— Mr. Hauck

Talk— Mr. Reardon

Discussion—by members

The attendance at these meetings

Candy Bars

has been falling off and next week each member should take it upon himself to be present.

G. O. P.

The G. O. P. elected its officers last Wednesday. The result was as follows:

President— Sis. Perkins.

Vice President—Ellen Melsby.

Secretary—Florence Elliott.

Treasurer—Irene Larkin.

After the election the meeting adjourned to the Gymnasium to pep up some pep for the game Friday night. Those present, and of course all were present, at the game found out that the G. O. P. can be just as peppy this year as ever before. "Go to it girls, say we, keep it up."

Y. M. C. A.

The meeting held last Thursday evening was very successful. An excellent program of speeches, vocal and musical numbers were given before a large audience.

The three sides of the triangle were discussed by three young men of the Y. M. C. A. Harold Stroede discussed the mental side of life, and Melvin Thomson emphasized the physical side's importance, while Frank Nelson presented the spiritual element in its relation to the other sides of the triangle.

These talks were very well rendered and showed the need of developing all sides of nature, instead of specializing in some line to the exclusion of the other.

The male quartette consisting of Prof. Jacobson, Prof. Hanna, Prof. Powers, and Mr. Skifstad gave two very good vocal selections, and Orlando Nelson and Willard Segerstrom rendered a pleasing piano duet.

THE PEP MEETING

The Normal basket ball fans were in session at the North Hall Gym last Thursday evening, and any one that was present knew that a defeat was inevitably in store for Superior.

Mr. Percy Clapp directed the proceedings, and Percy can surely put things across.

Speeches were given by Prof. Davison, Pres. Ames, "Peenie Morrow, and Coach Chandler.

This was a good exhibition of our real spirit. We have not been enthusiastic enough about the team up to date. Don't you realize that we have the best team in the conference? Let's let the team know that we are with them.

Audrey Armstrong has changed her place of abode. Those who wish to see her will find her at the Wm. Smith home.

TRAINING SCHOOL CHILDREN GIVE PROGRAM

Florence Miller of the student body gave a very interesting current event Thursday at assembly. Her subject was, Germany's War debt.

The children of the training school, under the direction of Miss Wirt, gave a series of folk dances and gymnastic exhibitions. The pupils from each grade took part. The boys of the eighth grade performed with dumb bells. The program was very well given and enjoyed by all.

LINCOLNIAN

At the meeting held last Wednesday Mr. Olson gave some very pleasing vocal selections. Ray Gross gave a reading. Following this Mr. Reno was elected temporary chairman and a practice in parliamentary procedure was held.

A good program has been arranged for this week's meeting. All members are urged to be present.

Marie Swanson has returned to school after a brief illness.
