Committee Completing Final Plans For Gala 1957 Homecoming Events

With the 1957 Homecoming less than two weeks away, the committee reports good progress in organizing events. With the cooperation from the entire student body, this year's Homecoming should be the "best yet."

Campus organizations have signed up to decorate 12 different locations around the campus, but there are still several spots available. Any group that has not selected a spot should see one of the committee members for details.

Organizations wishing to decorate a window may sign up with a member of the Homecoming committee in the Knotty Pine room from 10 a.m. to noon on Tuesday, October 1.

The junior class will assist the freshmen in decorating Ramer Field.

Groups that want to present a skit at the Pep Fest Friday night should see Marlin Huppert within the next few days.

To enable planning and arrangement of the parade, all groups interested in entering a float must contact Dale Crisler as soon as possible.

The committee again urges those who want to attend the Homecoming dance Saturday night to buy their tickets in advance. If advance ticket sales show that expenses can be met, the dance will not be opened to the public.

'Snare Eau Claire' Chosen As Slogan

"Snare Eau Claire" was chosen, because of adaptability to decoration, as the official 1957 Homecoming slogan.

At a meeting Friday afternoon the selection committee composed of Mike Dodge and Marlin Huppert, Homecoming candidates, and two faculty members picked the winning entry. It was submitted by Mary Fuller, junior from River Falls; George Marx, senior from Antigo, and Charles H. Nelson, junior from Hudson.

Homecoming buttons bearing the slogan will go on sale this week and may be purchased from members of the "R" Club.

Several non-competitive demonstrations by students from the surrounding area are also on the program. Students from St. Croix Falls and Prescott will present interpretations, Hudson and Balsam Lake students will give original speeches, and a play reading will be presented by students from River Falls High School.

A discussion group on the topic of speech problems will be open to all teachers in the district.

Sponsoring this institute are the Wisconsin High School Forensic Association and RFSC.

The public is invited to attend.

GYMNASTICS PLANNED

Interested in gymnastics? Prof. Clarence Storla, of the social science dept., will meet with students who would like to do tumbling, hand-balancing, trampoline work, apparatus work, etc., in North Hall gym on Monday and Thursday at 8 p.m.

WALTER WEST KILLED BY FALLING TREE

A 21-year old River Falls senior was killed Friday afternoon when a tree he was cutting near his home in Black River Falls fell on him and fractured his skull.

The victim, Walter West, an agriculture student, had a part-time job on the farm where the accident happened.

He had been married just three weeks and his recent bride, the former Patsy Murphy of Black River Falls, witnessed the tragedy.

A group of senior ag students attended the funeral today in Black River Falls.

STUDENT PICTURES TO BE TAKEN TUESDAY, OCT. 1

All students who must have their registration pictures retaken and all late registrants who have not yet had photos taken must report to the Meletean office tomorrow from 2:30 to 3:30 or 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. A list of persons needing retakes is posted on the Deans' bulletin board.

Senate Appropriates Funds for Activities

Last week President Kleinpell announced the distribution of the student activity funds for the 1957-58 school year. A committee of three Student Senate members and the president allotted $31,000 to subsidize ten campus organizations.

Athletics were allotted $6,000; Health, $3,600; Student Senate, $3,270; Music, $1,300; Convocations, $2,100; Forensics, $1,850; Drama, $700; Student Voice, $4,500; Meletean, $8,000, and Miscellaneous, $480.

From each $10 activity fee per quarter, the organizations will receive the following: Athletics, $1.89; Health, $1.13; Student Senate $1.03; Music, 41 cents; Convocations, 66 cents; Forensics, 58 cents; Drama, 22 cents; Student Voice, $1.41; Meletean, $2.52, and Miscellaneous, 15 cents.

The three Student Senate members who worked on the committee were Louie Johnson, senior from Barron, Clarence Duke, junior from Thorp, and Richard Kinney, senior from Hudson.

GETTING THEIR HEADS together on Homecoming plans are the candidates for chairman, Mike Dodge, Marlin Huppert and Dale Crisler.

Campaign Managers Seek Support for Candidates

With the campaign for Homecoming Chairman officially underway, the campaign managers have made statements about their candidates, Marlin Huppert, Mike Dodge, and Dale Crisler.

The presentation of candidates is set for tomorrow at 11 a.m. in North Hall auditorium, with the election to be held in the cafeteria October 4.

The campaign managers are Jerry Anderson for Mike Dodge, Jim Johnson for Marlin Huppert, and Curt Larson representing Dale Crisler.

MARLIN HUPPERT, senior from Ellsworth, is majoring in economics and minoring in psychology and history. Mr. Huppert has been active in Newman Club, Masquers, and is a member of Phi Sigma.

Jim Johnson stated that the Huppert campaign headquarters has been a busy place for some time now in preparation for the approaching week. "We here at the headquarters," said Johnson, "are well aware that our only task is informing the student body of the qualifications of our candidate. Our strategy will be merely to inform the student body of the accomplishments and potentiality of 'Hoop' Huppert." Rallying behind "Hoop for Homecoming" is a very enthusiastic, confident campaign headquarters.

MIKE DODGE, junior from Hudson, is majoring in history, and minoring in political science. He has been active in dramatics, debate, and is a member of Masquers.

Jerry Anderson stated that the campaign headquarters of Mike Dodge is shrouded with mystery. The candidate, looking pale and wan, is frequently arriving at his headquarters surrounded by his entourage including body guards, private barber, manicurist, personal physician, and several women. Off the cuff reports indicate that the consumption of tranquilizers is staggering. In the corridors outside the headquarters, passersby are conscious of the aroma of cigar smoke, the unexplainable clinking of glasses, and an occasional gun shot; otherwise all is quiet.

Mr. Dodge's tight-lipped brain-trust will only say that they have the utmost confidence in their clean-living candidate. Only one other official word from the Citizens for Dodge Committee, and this is in the form of a public service, "Step into the Wonderful World of Dodge—Dodge for '57."

DALE CRISLER, senior from Barron, is majoring in math and physics. He has lettered three years in baseball, has been a member of the R Club, Math Club, French Club, and is a member of Phi Sigma.

The managers and body guards of Dale Crisler, who recently fled the United States to escape the thousands of screaming fans of "Cris", have reported a snag in their plans. They have made the statement that the African natives, especially the members of the 'no-eyed' Bongo tribe, have organized fan clubs far more complex than those in the United States. It seems that "Cris" is even more popular with people who can't see. His popularity is so great that it is now evident that the jungle has found the answer to the American Rock-n-Roll in its new Double Bongo Duplex chant, which features a soloist who does nothing but chant; "YOU CAN'T MISS IF YOU STICK WITH CRIS". The managers of Dale Crisler's want to make it clear that he is returning to River Falls to run for Homecoming Chairman, and to get away from the "no-eyed" Bongo tribe.

Students to Start Work On Unique Movie Project

Starting on a project that will certainly be unique for RFSC and probably for the majority of other schools in the nation, three students will "start rolling" soon on the actual shooting of a feature-length motion picture.

The film is unique in that it will be entirely produced, directed, and written by students from the first credit to the last frame. Plans for the movie started over a year ago.

Since that time the production group, calling itself "Aldoflem," and made up of Arlin Albrecht, Richard Doetkott, and Mike Fleming, have been acquiring all the necessary equipment. This includes a 16mm sound camera. The screenplay, written this summer by Mr. Doetkott and Mr. Albrecht, with help from Henri Elzinga and William Hagestad features a college town setting. According to the producers, the multi-million dollar main sets have already been constructed. These include North and South Halls plus the business section of River Falls.

An original musical score for the production is being composed by Harry Elzinga. He will also handle the actual procedure of putting the music on the film.

Running from an hour and 15 minutes to an hour and a half in length, the film will be completed during spring term. Estimated production costs, including the price of equipment, will be between $1200 and $1300.

CHECKING THEIR SCRIPT for a student-produced movie are Arlin Albrecht, cameraman; Henri Elzinga, who plays the leading role, and Richard Doetkott, director.

The Editor Speaks . . .

A good book is the precious life-blood of a master-spirit embalmed and treasured up on purpose to a life beyond life.—MILTON

The library may be the key to the opening of a door which will reveal a whole new vista. River Falls is fortunate in having a library which is well-stocked with a wide range of books, records, and audio-visual aids. This year some very fine additions have been made in all departments of the library. It is hoped that with the increased enrollment, more students will take advantage of these offerings.

College is a place of higher learning. It offers opportunities which may not come again in later life. It is easy to step into the library in spare minutes to broaden fields of interest by browsing in a book or magazine in a field foreign to your own, or to listen to music that you don't generally hear at home.

One of the aims of college is to prepare you to go into a world with with broader views. Even in your chosen field you will make acquaintances who will want to talk of something other than business constantly. Widening your interests at college will offer areas of personal enjoyment, social ease, and perhaps even professional goals that before were closed to you.

Although the library is a place to study, it should be more than that. Learning to see it as a place to go when studies are completed and you want relaxation, escape, or mental stimulation is important.

The demand for physical nourishment has kept the cafeteria busy the past few weekends. Probably no one would be more delighted than the librarians if the demand for mental nourishment was equally great.

POINT OF VIEW

The Monday, Sept. 16, 1957 edition of the Madison (Wisconsin) Capital Times carried on its page 28 two pictures; they show 1) President Eisenhower lolling on the golf course at Newport, R. I., and 2) an elementary school in Nashville, Tenn. after it had been demolished by a dynamite blast. The pictures are located under a 6-column head which reads, "Two Pictures Illustrating the Week's News."

Beneath the pictures, a long caption concludes with a line from an Associated Press story from Newport: "He (the President) was on the links when newsmen told Hagesty (the President's news secretary), one of his companions, about the North Little Rock disorder. He was still golfing when police escorted Negro pupils to school through a threatening crowd of whites at Nashville." On the editorial page of the same edition, Times editor, Wm. T. Evjue, asks, "Can Rebellion Against Government be Settled on (the) Golf Course?"

With these two items, editor Evjue and his Times are suggesting—with cautious indirection—that the President has failed, through irresponsibility, to cope with Southern troubles over integration—southern "rebellion." Now, if by "rebellion" the Times means resistance to integration by "legal" means—southern legislatures enacting "circumventing" laws and the like—then its suggestion would seem to be misplaced; for it is the Department of Justice whose job it is to deal with these matters. And if the Times is referring to southern school boards' seeming delay in going ahead with integration, it might well bear in mind an observation Robert Penn Warren made last year in his book, Segregation, in which he says the South is not dealing primarily with the simple matter of integration, but with the more complex one of 150 years of history.

But if the "rebellion" in question consists of those more notorious occurrences—dynamited schools, angry mobs, mistreatment of Negro pupils and the like—and the Times is saying the President is responsible for these, then the Times, in this writer's opinion, is mistaken. If Mr. Evjue's purpose several weeks ago was to seek out the individual responsible for the outbreaks of violence noted above, he might well have turned his attention not toward the East and Washington, but toward the South and Little Rock.

For Little Rock is the capital of Arkansas; and the governor of that state is Orville Faubus. It is he whom this writer believes to be responsible—though not deliberately—for what the Times has called the South's "rebellion." The motives behind the recent actions of this man are not in question; what matters most, perhaps, is the results of those actions. As suggested above, those results are outbreaks of mob violence, the mistreatment of Negro pupils and the bombing of schools.

Should one be able to put his hands on some sort of graph showing by area the activity of this nation's lawless element, he would doubtless see recent sharp rises in the states comprising the "solid south." What these people have been doing in the past few weeks there has been admirably described in a national publication.

Newsweek magazine (Sept. 23, 1957) in an article entitled "Who's Stirring up the South?" goes on at great length about them. The mobs, while allowing for persons moved by curiosity, are largely made up of "drifters," "trash," and "riffraff." Of them, (Continued on page 4)

Knowledge for College

ORIENTATION

by R. E. Manchester, Dean of Men, Kent State University, Kent, Ohio

"Orientation" is a big word for freshmen to meet and conquer. When first they hear it spoken or ogle the printed word they start thinking of China or Japan or Shangri-La. In some cases they never think beyond this point.

When people get important enough to wear clean shirts daily (whether or not new starch is needed) and have learned enough to look at cross-word puzzles instead of "Blondie" and brave enough to order ham and eggs from a menu printed in French, they develop likings for words that have plenty of syllables and much curiosity appeal. "Orientation" is one such word and when thrown at unsophisticated human creatures it has an impact that staggers the receivers. As an item of ammunition for an attack on the Fresh Legions it is potent.

For the dink wearer it is something on the class program to take and also something he is supposed to catch (like the measles) when he listens long enough to the prof. He sits through the lectures, he writes themes, he passes the tests and he gets a grade but, when it is all over, if you asked him is he is oriented he will blink and say "What?" If he is asked the same question three years later when, as a senior, he becomes a person with an academic past he will blink again and say "I'm just beginning to get an idea of the thing."

The fellow who gets a job in the sash and door factory is told to "scout around and get the hang of it" before his pay check starts to expand and that is meet and proper. The fellow who goes to college gets the "Big Word" instead of being told to scout around and, since higher education boys are supposed to get something a little more elaborate, this is also meet and proper.

"Scouting about" or "Orientation" is a part of the accepted plan for getting adjusted to the particular activity one may be tied up with. It is a matter of good sense to study the situation one may be tied up with. It is a matter of good sense to study the situation one may be in at any moment and perform on a basis of information and understanding. "Orientation" is a formidable collection of letters but the wise freshman may find it does name an important part of campus business.

Falls Gridders To Meet Superior In Saturday Tilt

"Loaded! Watch out for 'em!" That's what most observers have to say about Superior State Yellowjackets, whom the Falcons will face this Saturday at Superior.

The 'Jackets boast three of the things that a successful small college team needs — experience, good size, and excellent speed in both the line and backfield. SSC's roster lists a total of 23 returning lettermen, four experienced transfers, and two returning servicemen.

Co-captains Lyle Smith, HB, and Don Barnabo, tackle, head the host of returning letterwinners. Both earned a spot in the "Little All-American" honorable mention list last season. All-Conference halfback George St. Catherine is another important returnee.

To put it mildly, the Yellowjackets' line is huge. Jim Tracey (6-5, 255), a tackle, and Les Korhornen (6-0, 225), a hulking defensive guard, will be the mainstays in the northerner's forward wall. Tracey was an all-navy choice at Great Lakes Naval Base. Center Don Greenwood (5-9, 212) was honorable mention in the Big Seven conference while playing for Colorado two years ago. Dick Perri, a transfer student from the University of Arizona where he played last season, is 6'2" 235 lb. guard. Then there is George Tartan. He's a 6'2" 250 lb. tackle.

Two transfers from the University of Wisconsin have given SSC added strength. Jim Langlois, a stock 5'9" 210 lb. guard and Dick Zell, a fleet-footed halfback both played freshman football at Wisconsin.

Coach Americo Mortorelli's team enters the game with a 0-2 record. Oshkosh, supposedly a "weak sister" in the league this year, dealt the 'Jackets a 6-0 loss and Eau Claire beat them 18-6 Saturday night.

Game-time is slated for 7:30 at Memorial Field in Superior.

Falcon Fanfare

by Milan Brecka

"He's a good, dependable, all-around ball player. He can play offense or defense equally well." These were the words of head football coach Fran Polsfoot as he described Ken Ellingson, a senior halfback from Amery.

Although Ken is not a starting back this season, he is one of Polsfoot's most reliable and versatile replacements. Ken's being listed as a right halfback on your program might be deceiving. He also may be called upon to play left halfback or the fullback slot with equal finesse.

Even though River Falls has had such outstanding backs as John Steffen and Bucky DiSalvo playing for the past few seasons, Ken did manage to see enough action to receive varsity letters in his sophomore and junior years.

Ken was one of Amery's outstanding high school athletes. In each of his last three years in high school he lettered in football, baseball, and track for a total of 12 letters.

Naturally, Ken had many great thrills in his high school career, but his biggest thrill came in 1955 when River Falls handed La Crosse their first conference loss since 1948.

Following graduation, Ken, who is majoring in social science and history, plans on a teaching and coaching career.

INTRA-MURAL SPORTS NEWS

BOWLING

Twelve teams have signed up for the intramural bowling competition that begins tonight. Bowlers will participate in one round-robin (about seven weeks) of bowling. Then the bottom four teams in the league will drop all averages, etc., and join the B league which will be formed around Nov. 18.

There will be openings for four additional teams in the B league at that time. Teams that have varsity football players on them or that have players that participated last year will have priority on team entry.

Bowlers should check the schedule on the North Hall bulletin board as to what day they are to bowl. Those captains who have not given a team nickname to Dick Patin are asked to do so before the first week of bowling is completed.

Pinsetters are still needed and are asked to get in touch with Patin sometime this week.

FOOTBALL

A 10-team touch football league has been formed with the first games of a single round-robin being played tonight.

All contests will be played on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday nights starting at 5 p.m. Two games will be played each night at the practice field next to Ramer Field.

A complete schedule will be posted on the bulletin board outside the coaches' office in North Hall.

WRA WILL SPONSOR PING PONG TOURNAMENT

Anyone interested in ping pong is asked to sign up for the Mixed Doubles Ping Pong Tournament sponsored by the WRA. A Harvard gold medal will be awarded the winner. A table will be set up in the cafeteria for those who wish to register. The exact date of the tournament is undecided.

A SURE CATCH turned into a near miss when Stout halfback Glen Harte let this first quarter pass from Joe O'Leary slip through his fingers. Defending is Falcon right half Darreld Johnson.—Photo by Doetkott.

The River Falls State football Falcons upset the dope sheet and vaulted into a six-way tie for third place in the Wisconsin State College conference by way of a stunning 20-6 victory over previously undefeated Stout before almost 3,000 Dad's Day fans at Ramer Field Saturday.

Coach Fran Polsfoot's team is now one of six WSCC squads with records of 1-1 after the first two league games. Platteville and Whitewater, with unblemished 2-0 marks, lead the conference.

SUPERIOR BLOCKING and tackling by the Falcons paved the way to the victory. These factors, combined with effective faking and rapidly developing offensive threats, aided River Falls in defeating a team that was fresh from a 20-0 upset of favored Eau Claire the week before.

End Tom Shield, tackle Bob Koplun and guard Dick Shimel all threw key blocks to clear the field for the game's longest run, a 77-yard kickoff scamper by freshman quarterback Tom Everson from the Falcon eight to the Stout 15 late in the third quarter. Four plays later Everson tossed a 10-yard pass to Darreld Johnson for the Falcons' final TD.

Precision blocking in the first quarter allowed Mick Lauber to roll downfield 65 yards with a Stout punt for the first Falcon touchdown. Lauber faked a hand-off to Johnson, then set up block after block as he cruised down the right sideline to the tally. Jack Neurer erased the final Stout defender on the 10.

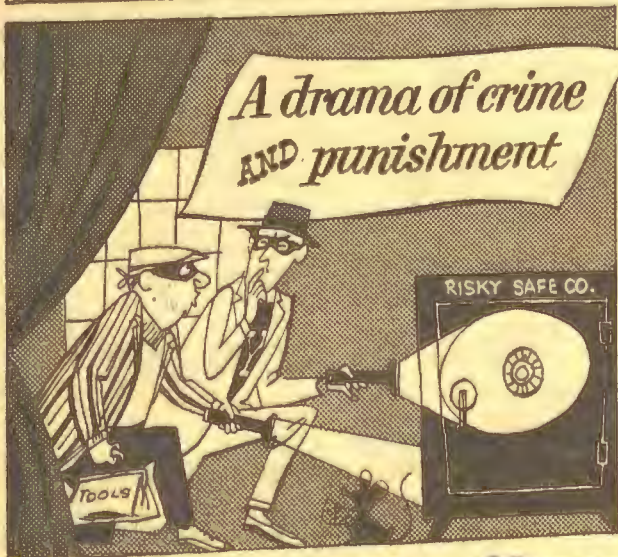

The other Falcon score came on a four-yard burst by Jack Omer in the third quarter. Jim Hallen booted two extra points.

STOUT TACKLE Jim Nadeau brought the Blue Devils into the scoring column when he picked off a Falcon flat pass on the RF 41 and dumbled all the way to a touchdown. Neurer blocked the try for point. Stout's offensive machine, however, came no closer than the River Falls 28-yard line.

Eight Falcons collected five tackles or more, led by Shimel with nine, tackle Howie Madsen with eight and Neurer with seven.

Lutherans Expand Services And Call Resident Pastor

says Newsweek, "... they are those who rally first to the cries of the demagogue, men and women alike, their hatred of life itself feeds the hatreds of others." Out of the hills they came, from "... nearly forgotten Tobacco-Roads and back-alley tenements" they descended. The law is the device which traditionally keeps these people bottled up.

Though not deliberately, Orville Faubus pulled the plug — an action which sent these people into Little Rock last week. Orville Faubus did not break the law; he merely touched it where it is most sensitive. His actions were neither a "desecration" nor a flouting of the law; one might say that, without meaning to, he created a situation which encouraged lawlessness.

A resident campus pastor and additional services to students and townspeople will be offered by the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, at River Falls.

The changes came due to a reorganization meeting Monday evening at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, founded here eight years ago, was dissolved and a new congregation was organized and incorporated under the name of Memorial Lutheran Church and Student Center, River Falls.

The reorganization meeting was attended by a special committee headed by the Rev. Wm. Ludwig, Co-ordinator of Lutheran college and university work for the North Wisconsin District; Pastor Alvin Klug, representing the District president of the church body, and parishioners of the church.

An entirely new constitution was adopted and temporary officers were elected to serve until the annual meeting in January. President is Gerhard Bohn, of the agriculture division at the college; David Jacobson, senior from River Falls, secretary, and Fred A. Kurtz, treasurer. Men students, 18 years of age and over, are eligible to become voting members of the new congregation.

Purpose in opening the membership to those under 21 was to give younger persons experience in church work with responsibility and a sense of belonging while away from their home community, a spokesman for the group reported.

Operating just off-campus for the past eight years at 550 S. 4th street, the original congregation with its chapel served Lutheran students of the Synodical Conference and also non-student residents of the community.

Pioneering in the work were Pastors Harold F. Winter and Martin Dicke of Hudson. During a change of pastorate the local parish work tapered off until the fall of 1956 when student and parish interest was re-activated under the leadership of the Rev. Martin H. Mueller, Old Emanuel Lutheran Church, South St. Paul.

Work at River Falls progressed beyond expectations and the need was felt for a full-time resident worker. Local residents of the parish petitioned for a resident pastor with campus experience and the request was granted by the North Wisconsin District Board of Directors with the provision that "the congregation at River Falls reorganize and incorporate under a new name and call a resident pastor serving congregation and students, Town-Gown."

Pastor Mueller will continue to serve as interim pastor until a resident campus pastor is called Oct. 6.

Memorial Lutheran church operates a Student House for 15 resident students with a student chapel open day and night for prayers. Mrs. Gerhard Bohn has been house-mother during the past seven years.

Forensic Group Sees Membership Increase

Forensics coach Walter E. Simonson forecasts a bigger and better forensics squad for this year. With an expected membership of 50, it will be one of the nation's largest college forensics associations.

Mr. Simonson urges all interested students to join the association, declaring that all members will actively participate in contests. The program will include debate, extemporaneous speaking, original oratory, oral interpretation, and other divisions.

The 1957 debate question has been stated as "Resolved, that the requirement of membership in a labor organization as a condition of employment should be illegal." The discussion question deals with what to do with college enrollment problems.

Debate and forensic meetings will be held every Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in room 212B.

Falconettes Open Year at Dad's Day

The Falconettes, all-girl marching band, made their first appearance of the year Saturday evening, Oct. 28, leading the Dad's Day torchlight parade.

The group, which is the only all-girl college marching band in Wisconsin, is comprised of approximately 45 members, with Marlys Olson, senior from Baldwin as student director. Majorities this year are Judy Axtell, freshman from St. Paul; Mary Dougherty, head majorette from Spooner; Ruby Enloe, sophomore from River Falls; and Kathleen Hartwig, freshman from Hammond.

Last year the unit marched in Ellsworth and Chippewa Falls for the American Legion and for Woodville's Norwegian Festival. The Falconettes will perform at Homecoming and all home games this year.

MOST POPULAR GAME that ever went to college—that's Sticklers! Just write a simple riddle and a two-word rhyming answer. For example: What's a big cat shot full of holes? (Answer: peppered leopard.) Both words must have the same number of syllables—bleak freak, fluent truant, vinery finery. Send Sticklers, with your name, address, college and class to Happy-Joe-Lucky, Box 67A, Mt. Vernon, N. Y. Don't do drawings! We'll pay $25 for every Stickler we use in our ads—and for hundreds that never see print. While you're Stickling, light up a light smoke—light up a Lucky. You'll say it's the best-tasting cigarette you ever smoked!
