VOLUME XLI, NUMBER 7

Annette, Peterson, Marion Wallesverd, Kathleen Miller and Beulah Dahlberg candidates for chairman of RFSC's Winter Carnival. Election is Monday, January 18.

Senate Nominates Four Coeds For Winter Carnival Chairman

Preparation for RFSC's annual Winter Carnival—to be held this year on February 5 and 6—got underway last week with the nomination of four candidates for the chairmanship of the event. The four women, nominated by the Student Senate, are Beulah Dahlberg, Kathy Miller, Annette Peterson, and Marion Wallesverd.

The four candidates will be presented to the student body at an all-school assembly Thursday, January 14, at 11 a.m. The election of the Winter Carnival chairman will be held on Monday, January 18, from nine to three in South Hall.

Beulah Dahlberg, senior from Frederic, is majoring in biology at River Falls. Her campaign manager is Bill Pence.

Marion Wallesverd is a junior from Wilson, majoring in chemistry and math. Bill Shay is her campaign manager.

"The deadline for nominations for Winter Carnival King is Wednesday, January 20," Student Senate President Margery Deans said. "Candidates must be nominated by a petition signed by at least 50 students and are to be turned into the deans' office. Only the first three nominations will be accepted. Junior and senior men are eligible for nomination."

The king candidates will be presented to the student body at an assembly on Tuesday, January 26, at 11 a.m. Election of the 1954 Winter Carnival King will be held on Friday, January 29.

A new feature of the Winter

Carnival this year is the beard growing contest, formerly a Home-coming institution. The contest opens officially today. Prizes will be given for the longest and most novel beards.

The F. F. A.'s annual Talent Show will again be held as a part of the Winter Carnival, chairman Allan Nelson has announced. Students interested in participating in the Talent Show Feb. 5 are asked to contact Nelson or Stan Lehman. Four prizes will be awarded this year to Talent Show winners. The Winter Carnival King and his queen will be presented at the Talent Show.

Arrangements are being made this week by the Student Senate and the four chairman candidates for other Winter Carnival activities. Besides the usual Saturday bowling tournament and the card tournament Friday afternoon, plans are being made for a skating exhibition at the high school rink Friday, a ski movie and lecture by a professional skier from the Twin Cities, and ski demonstrations by instructors from a Wisconsin ski resort. The Sitzmarker Ski Club is in charge of skiing arrangements.

Dances will be held both nights of the Winter Carnival. A record dance at Hathorn Hall will follow the Talent Show on Friday night and a dance will be held after the River Falls-Eau Claire basketball game Saturday night.

River Falls to Play Host At 'B' Debate Tournament

River Falls State College plays host to debate squads from several college in the area on Saturday, January 16, at the annual invitational "B" debate tournament. College besides RFSC which plan to participate include Augsburg, Northwestern Schools, Eau Claire State College, St. Catherine, Hamline University, St. Thomas College, and Carleton. Other confirmations are expected this week.

Registration for the "B" tournament will begin at 8:30 Saturday morning, with four rounds of debate scheduled for 10, 11, 2, and 3. A banquet for contestants and judges will be held in the college cafeteria at 12:15, with Dr. E. H. Kleinpell as guest speaker.

The after dinner speaking eliminations will take place at 9 a.m. The subject, "Teachers", was chosen by the debate squad. Finalists will compete for top honors by giving their selections at the noon banquet. River Falls contestants will be Marie Holmes, senior, Shirley Engleman and Jerry Murphy, freshmen.

Results of the debate rounds will be announced in the cafeteria at 4:30 Saturday afternoon. A trophy will be awarded to the winning team with merit certificates going to the all tournament team, which will be comprised of the four top debaters of the tournament. A medal will be presented to the winner of the after dinner speaking contest.

Judges at the "B" tournament will be River Falls faculty members, student coaches, and former debaters. They include: Dr. Walter Engler, Bernard McCarthy, Dr. Gilbert Smith, Dr. Geo. Gilkey, Dr. Blanche Davis, Miss Opal Knox, Louis Daniels, Ambrose Murphy, Margaret Helmer, Bill Schoenwetter, Halbert Belt, and Annette Peterson. Dick Granum, junior, is student manager of the event.

Four RFSC debate teams will participate in the tournament. They are Marie Holmes, Dido Overgard, and Bob O'Neill, who will work as a three-man team; Larry Henneman and Jerry Murphy; Bud Ridley and Roger Hanson; and Shirley Engleman and Beverly Domaika.

Miss Marion Hawkins, RF debate coach, has asked that students interested in acting as tabulators and timekeepers at the "B" tournament contact her as soon as possible. There will be a meeting at 4 o'clock, Thursday, January 14, for those helping with the tournament.

Clafin to Speak At F.F.A. Banquet

Foster C. Clafin, manager of the Equity Livestock Marketing Association will be the principal speaker at the annual F. F. A. banquet, to be held in the cafeteria Thursday, January 21. Mr. Clafin graduated from River Falls State College in 1923.

St. Paul Newspaper Features RF Growth

The St. Paul Sunday Pioneer Press carried a three page feature story on River Falls State College as part of a series of articles to appear about colleges throughout the upper mid-west.

Dr. E. H. Kleinpell, RFSC president, in an interview with reporters last week, released information concerning the college's proposed expansion of the academic, athletic and social programs.

Plans for increasing student facilities at River Falls are being prompted by the steady increase in enrollment during the past few years. An enrollment of 1,200 students is predicted for River Falls by 1970, in the article.

Proposals for physical expansion of the campus are outlined in the story as well as information about recent curriculum changes.

River Falls' athletic program is dealt with separately on page three of the sports section. Objectives for an expanded physical and recreation program in the near future are cited by Coach Belfiori. Special mention is made of the school's annual basketball-football clinic held in June.

Pictures of President Kleinpell; Dr. William Solley, intramural director; Phil Belfiori, athletic coach; and the college campus appear with the feature.

C.W.A. to Hear Girl Scout Leader

Mrs. Gene Templeton, National Field Staff Director of the Girl Scouts will be on campus Tuesday, January 12. Mrs. Templeton will speak at a tea sponsored by the CWA for all women students in the social room from 3:00 to 5:00 p.m.

Mrs. Templeton will discuss opportunities in scouting as a career. Experience in the fields of education, sociology, and psychology is good background for jobs as directors and supervisors.

In charge of the tea will be Faith Erickson, Mary Sykes, Colleen Ryan, Doris Lindemann and Marlys Meents. Donna Proue, LuAnn Larson and Elaine Solum are in charge of publicity for the event.

ENROLLMENT NOW 619

RFSC's enrollment winter term is 619, reports Registrar E. J. Prucha. The total includes 431 men and 188 women, which means 2.3 men to every girl on campus.

KC Arranges RF-St. Thomas Debate Tomorrow

Debate teams from River Falls State College and St. Thomas College will hold a public debate on January 12, at 8:15 p.m. in the St. Bridget's Church Hall, River Falls.

Special guests at the non-decision contest will be the joint councils of the Hudson and River Falls Knights of Columbus, and their wives.

Bill Schoenwetter and Margaret Helmer, representing River Falls, will debate the affirmative side of the question, Resolved: The U.S. Should Adopt a Policy of Free Trade. The debate team from St. Thomas College will defend the negative side of the question.

Arrangements for the debate are being made by Lawrence P. Gherty, District Attorney of St. Croix County. Mr. Gherty is a former debater and a member of Pi Kappa Delta.

Masquers to Stage Stalag 17 Thursday

Actors, stage crew, and director are all working overtime this week as the Masquers apply the final touches to their current production, Stalag 17, to be presented in the auditorium Thursday, January 14, at 8 p.m.

Most of the all-male cast members will be appearing on the RFSC stage for the first time in Stalag 17. The play, recommended for adults only, is a comedy melodrama about a group of American sergeant in a Nazi prison camp at Christmas, 1944, trying to escape and to embarrass and irritate their German captors.

The plot of Stalag 17 revolves around the escape of Dunbar, (Jim Tilly), an American who will face serious punishment for sabotaging a train. His fellow prisoners manage to hide him, at the same time finding out which prisoner has been a stool pigeon for the Nazis.

Other cast members include Bill Bittner as the German corporal who can't control his prisoners; Reg Hansen as Animal, the barracks clown; and Bob Margatto as Horney, the shell shocked sweet potato player.

The cast also includes Bob Spaete, S. S. Captain; Bob Strain, Stosh; Herb Voss, Price; Leigh Marquardt, Hoffman; Kenneth Lundeen, Herb; John Bos, Sefton; Bill Howard, Duke; Joe Faulkner, Marko; Tom Haugen, Reed; Noel Falkofske, Peterson; Dale Wagner, Red Dog; Marvin Lansing, S. S. Guard; and Bob Krueger, Geneva Man.

Mae Wiskerchen is stage manager of Stalag 17, Marilyn Murphy and Lois Howard are electricians, and Peggy Weiss is prompter. The play is directed by Dr. Blanche Davis.

THE EDITOR SPEAKS---

Fraternities, Sororities?

The president of the student senate asked us recently of the Student Voice staff would assume the responsibility of conducting the annual March of Dimes drive on campus. We declined, because we felt that the staff is not large enough to carry out such a campaign successfully.

So we discussed with her what other organizations might be asked to handle the drive. Something seemed to be wrong with nearly each group we mentioned—it was too small, or too unorganized, it did not have responsible, aggressive leaders, or it was not the type of club for such a purpose.

Sigma Chi Sigma will handle the March of Dimes campaign on campus this month. We feel they are well qualified to do the job because the campaign can best be handled by a social organization, which has the time and personnel to conduct such a project.

Most other state college campuses have a great many social organizations—i.e., sororities and fraternities. River Falls has but one—Sigma.

To tabulate the pros and cons of sororities and fraternities on a campus would be a tiring job. But generally, the trend has been to accentuate the negative.

The above instance prompts us to believe that more social organizations on the RFSC campus would be beneficial. Not only could they take charge of similar projects as the March of Dimes campaign, but they could provide that much needed social stimulus at River Falls.

The Illiberal Generation

Consider if you will the everyday conversation about campus. What subjects do you talk about? The unshoveled sidewalks on campus; your home town's basketball team; who was out with whom where last night; your home town's good looking women; that bar up in the north woods; which new car is best.

This is approximately the level of conversation at River Falls. One hears it in the cafeteria, classrooms, downtown, and even in instructors' offices. Everyone seems to be primarily interested in talking about the activities of their own little realms, rather than attempt conversation about subjects that do not directly concern them, or which might require them to develop imagination or do some "intellectual" thinking.

Could it be that the River Falls student is not capable of discussion on a plane above his immediate circle? We hope this is not true; we have no way of proving it is not however, unless we begin to hear some conversation that actually is above the gossip level. It is true that classroom work has been done in analyzing campus conversation, but classes have only observed this conversation and not attempted to improve its quality.

This seems to indicate that the pollsters are not exactly correct in calling us "The Silent Generation." They might have rather called us "The Illiberal* Generation."

Portly Coed Demands Fairer Sex Ratio Around RFSC in 1954

by Lotta C. Hange

Now that 1954 has come into its own, some of the students at River Falls have recognized the need for some changes. Always ready to help a worthy cause, I've prepared the following list of resolutions which I feel should be made and kept at River Falls.

I feel that the Students should hereby solemnly resolve the following things:

- 1. To spend less time in the library and more in the cafeteria.
2. To file all books in the appropriate places (preferably the nearest wastebaskets.)
3. To cut more classes oftener.
4. To assign no homework or the supply of men. (The women at RFSC are outnumbered 2.3 to 1, but some girls must have 4.6 of them! Let's be more fair and divide up a little, providing boy friends for all unattached girls.)
5. To schedule classes only every other hour, thus providing opportunities for recuperation between them.
6. To establish more clubs where girls may meet unattached boys, and vice versa.
7. To hold all club and committee meetings at the C & S, after 9:30 in the evening.

Since the students are making so many good resolutions, I feel that it is only fair for the faculty to resolve certain things, too. I recommend the following:

- 1. To hold more classes in the cafeteria.

- 2. To come to more classes 15 minutes late.
3. To give shorter and fewer tests.
4. To assign no homework or reference reading.
5. To abolish all textbooks.
6. To schedule no 8 a.m. classes, and no 3 or 4 p.m. classes, especially on Fridays.
7. To arrange classes so there are at least 2 boys to every girl in each class.
8. To establish co-educational phy ed courses.
9. To give no grades below B. I also feel that the librarians should make two resolutions. One, to abolish all library fines; and two, to forbid the use of the word "overdue."

It has also been suggested that Mr. Gage resolve to supply free coffee in the cafeteria at all times.

And lastly I feel that the administration, too, should make some resolutions. May I suggest:

- 1. To install elevators or escalators in both South and North Halls (for us fatties!) If this is not possible, then perhaps wider bannister railings could be installed for the descent, and ski tow ropes rigged up for the ascent.
2. To dig tunnels between buildings, so the students may go from one to the other without coats, and without danger of catching cold.
3. To set the maximum credit load at 6 hours per quarter.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

by Dick Bibler

"It's obvious this course just doesn't have anything to offer anymore—so we'll just have to make it a 'Required.'"

Literarian Reviews 50c Culture Book

by Marie Holmes

I'm recommending ownership and perusal of Edith Hamilton's "Mythology", a Mentor book and therefore very inexpensive. The Christian Herald says of it that it is: "The greatest volume ever written in a field that can never be exhausted." Not having read all of the volumes in the field of mythology I will not go so far as to say that it is the greatest volume written. I will, however, say that it is, without a doubt, the best one I have read, and having a decided liking for mythology, I've read a few books in that field.

I recommend "Mythology" not only for entertainment (and its entertainment value is superlative), but also, because I believe the book enhances one's understanding of all literature, and of people, and of other cultures. Many allusions made in other literature, yes, and in conversations, too, become less vague and obscure if one has at least some acquaintance with the old legends and myths.

There is appeal in the old myths for almost any reader I feel, for there are bawdy tales and gawdy tales, tales of deeds of "derring do". There are blood-and-thunder epics and tales of deathless loves that should satisfy even the most adolescent readers.

There are a few misprinted words for the persnickety reader to rail at; but, for only 50c, plus long hours of reading enjoyment, we should complain about a few printing errors?

Sanctuary No Longer Offered to Game in Refuge

By Bo Peep

Within the memory of the youngest child an industrious chipmunk enrolled at a game refuge for courses in woodlore (senior division). He signed up for Moose Calling 51, but discovered after three days that he couldn't get the accent.

So the chipmunk filed a drop-add card with the secretary bird's office and signed up for a class in Techniques in Snare Detecting and Trap Tripping 115, taught by a wolverine with experience.

Well, all went well through the fall foliage season. The chipmunk minded his business (or should be say he tended to his traps), and finished the course before the snow flew. He went home to his family at the bottom of an oak tree to await his blue slip showing just how intelligent he was. But instead of a slip, there came one day a letter from the secretary bird.

"We are sorry to inform you, Mr. Chipmunk," the letter said, "that we do not have your card for dropping Moose Calling and adding Trap Tripping. Therefore, we must give you an F in the former and no credit in the latter."

Horrified at this news, the chipmunk hastened to his adviser at the game refuge, a literary

COMMUTERS CONTINUE CARAVANING

by Pat Williams

If you have glanced around the campus lately, you no doubt have wondered to whom the many cars belong. Of the school's enrollment, approximately fifty are commuters, according to the Student Directory. Students come from Ellsworth, Somerset, Prescott, Elmwood, Hudson, Baldwin, Beldenville, St. Croix Falls, Glenwood City, New Richmond, Spring Valley, Arkdale, Roberts and Baldwin. Some from Minnesota represent Lake Elmo, South St. Paul, Bayport, Hastings, and Stillwater.

One of RFSC's most faithful travelers is Miss Rhea Gibson, school librarian. Miss Gibson drives thirty-two miles each morning from her home in Marine-on-St. Croix, Minn. She says extra hour she spends driving each morning gives her a chance to think and be away from the many faces she sees every day. After six years of commuting, Miss Gibson does not find the 65 mile round trip boring, as she greets friends along the way.

When asked for comments, some of the commuters had the following to say: "Could be worse..." "It's no good; you miss out on too much." There are no library facilities for commuters—I can't wait until 8:30 p.m. to check out a book." "Sure, I like to get up at 6 a.m. (Ha! Ha!)"

So here's a salute to those who do get up at 6 a.m. They're probably much more awake than those of us who crawl out just in time to be only ten minutes late.

prairie dog. He too, was horrified at this news, and he suggested the chipmunk plead his case before the Committee on Red Tape. So the chipmunk made an appointment and appeared before the committee the next morning.

There were six animals on the committee—a magpie, a quasi-owl, a snipe, a New England snow wassett, a dickey bird, and a cinnamon bear. The quasi-owl presided. The Red Tape committee was busy dissecting ants as the chipmunk entered, and he was forced to wait while this matter was taken apart before they would hear him.

"Speak up, speak up, my boy," said the quasi-owl. "How many degrees have you? We have 37 among six of us here, so you see we're most capable of handling your case."

The chipmunk told his story. When he had finished the committee members huddled together for a minute or so and then turned and looked at him. The expressions on their faces were stern, very stern.

"You," scowled the quasi-owl, "are guilty of serious infraction of protocol. You did not fill out a drop-add card."

"Yes, who do you think you

Senate Minutes . . .

Tuesday December 15

The meeting was called to order by the president Margery Deans. The secretary's minutes were read and approved.

Discussion was again taken up on the subject of purchasing a larger television set for the cafeteria. Beverly Rasmussen made the motion that the Senate purchase a 24" set and keep the old set for one of the smaller meeting rooms. The motion carried.

Various suggestions were made as to new ideas for Winter Carnival activities. The most satisfactory one seemed to be one in which the Masquer's Cabaret and some faculty talent be presented in conjunction with the Carnival. However, this matter will have to be investigated more thoroughly and brought up for discussion again.

The Senate made nominations for Carnival chairwoman. They are Beulah Dahlberg, Kathy Miller, Marion Wallesverd, and Annette Peterson.

The meeting was adjourned.

Secretary, Rita Ruemmele

Present: Deans, Guelder, Strain, Garnett, Ryan, Ruemmele, Belisle, Rasmussen, Verkuilen, Moen.

Tuesday January 5, 1954

The Student Senate meeting was called to order by the Pres. Margery Deans. The secretary's minutes were read and approved.

The Hoedown Club submitted a request to change their Friday night meeting to the last Thursday of each month. This request was granted.

The motion was made and carried that the Senate table discussion on the March 25, 26, 27 meeting about the U. N. at the University of Wisconsin until a future date.

The date for the assembly to present candidates for chairwoman for the Winter Carnival was set for Thursday, Jan. 14 at 11:00 and the election for Monday, Jan. 18.

The Senate members decided to continue the policy set in previous years of selecting candidates for Carnival King by accepting the first three petitions with fifty signers each which have been submitted to the Deans' Office. The deadline for the petitions was set for Wednesday, Jan. 20, the presentation assembly for Thursday, Jan. 26 at 11:00, and the election for Friday, Jan. 29.

Several suggestions for activities for the Winter Carnival were discussed among them being an assembly featuring Otto Hallus from Schuneman's Ski Chalet, exhibitions by St. Paul skating clubs and ski instructors from Mt. Telemark, a warm-up party at Hathorn Hall, and bowling and card tournaments. Reports on these activities are to be presented at the next meeting.

The meeting was adjourned.

Secretary, Rita Ruemmele

Present: Deans, Guelder, Ryan, Verkuilen, Garnett, Rasmussen, Ruemmele, Strain.

Absent: Kind, Belisle, Moen.

are you insignificant chipmunk", screeched the magpie.

"There is nothing we can do but punish you for this insubordination", declared the cinnamon bear, as he licked his fur paw with his tongue.

The dickey bird and the snow wassett were still too busy pick-the meager little chipmunk. But ing at their ants to bother with the snipe, who was the most caustic of the sextet suddenly snapped, "Don't get tough with us, young chipmunk, or we'll get tough with you. You may not know it yet but we can make things damn hard for you here at the game refuge."

The poor little chipmunk slinked away and ran home crying to its mother.

His mama, like most mamas, wanted her little chipmunk to be happy. She wrote a nasty communication to the Red Tape Committee and told them if they wouldn't let her little chipmunk stay at the game refuge she would set fire to the woods and burn all their little shelters down.

Being afraid of mama chipmunk, the committee reconsidered the case and gave him credit not only in the former but in the latter as well.

THE PROVERBIAL SLUMP...
As this is being written, our Falcons find themselves in that invisible fantasy, "a slump". After winning their first four games they have now dropped their last two and have everyone asking, WHY? ? ? Some blame such a slump on overconfidence, others on lax training and indifference on the part of the players. Perhaps many of you reading this can find your own reasons or excuses for it as the case might be.

From this corner it appears that none of those mentioned above fit the whole team, while we are not discounting the possibility of such items affecting the performance of individuals on the squad. It appears to this correspondent that the core of the trouble (?) might well be the fact that the new members of the team have not developed as fast as expected. Consequently, after four winning efforts, when the veterans have slowed down to catch their second wind, the new boys have not been there to take up the slack.

No one expects an undefeated season, but the miserable showing at Eau Claire and the loss to Winona, who had previously fallen under the Falcon onslaught 105-80, are not the types of performances complimentary to a first division club. Such a team is River Falls!!!! The paltry output at Eau Claire, both in points and general floor play, was a shocking jolt after the four previous winning trips to the post. We feel this team is capable of a better performance and, for the good of all, hope the freshmen will make a New Year's Resolution to work as a team and put River Falls back on the victory side of the ledger.

However, after all is said and done it must always be remembered that our team is at a distinct disadvantage when playing on the big floor of these other teams. After being "cooped up" in our "crackerbox" for practice, they feel lost in the wilderness of a bigger "regulation" size gym.

It has been called to the attention of this writer that River Falls should make the issue of a men's dorm a secondary one to a new fieldhouse. We feel completely in tune with this expression and hope to see it develop.

The mere fact that all four victories came on small floors, and both defeats on larger ones should be enough testimony to the need for a modern, large, and well planned field house.

I would like to take this opportunity to wish all the readers of this paper and this column a very happy and successful year in 1954.

Winona Beats Falcons, 81 - 77

Winona Teachers avenged an earlier 105-80 defeat at the hands of River Falls by trouncing them at Winona Tues. Jan. 5, 81-77. Three Winona players hit for 20 or more points in the victory. Polus had 24, trailed by Hoef with 22 and Knowles with 20. "Zeke" Wells banged in 18 to lead the locals, as they suffered their second straight defeat in six games. The win gave Winona four victories against three losses.

W.A.A. Organizes Intramural Teams

This year the WAA is sponsoring a girl's intramural basketball program in place of the usual system of limiting participation to WAA members. Organizations with enough women members are being asked to submit teams representing the organization.

If enough teams are submitted, permission will be obtained to use the South Hall gym one or two nights a week for practice, and later for tournament games. These practice periods will be in addition to the regular WAA practice periods on Mondays and Wednesdays at four p.m.

Although girls do not need to be members of WAA to take part, those who are members will earn points for their participation. Independent teams, not representing an organization, may take part, as well as the organizational teams.

Teams should consist of six players (three forwards and three guards), and one or two substitutes if desired. All teams must be turned in to Sue Chinnock before Friday, January 15.

Fighting Falcons Freeze Superior

Led by the tremendous individual scoring performance of "Zeke" Wells, River Falls struck for its second victory against one defeat, Saturday, January 9, at River Falls. The Falcons beat Superior 76-70 in a real battle. The win left River Falls tied with Platteville and Milwaukee for second place in the conference.

The home town team had to come from behind for the victory, after trailing 42-37 at half time. The Falcons, after overcoming that five point deficit, went on to score 44 points in the last 20 minutes to get back in the winning way. No small part of that performance were the 31 points poured in by Wells.

Eau Claire stayed on top of the heap with a 76-57 triumph over hapless Stout; Platteville scored a decisive 86-68 victory over Whitewater on the victor's court Friday night; and Milwaukee stayed within striking distance of the leaders with 67-59 win over stubborn Stevens Point on the loser's court. The defeat by River Falls dropped Superior to the cellar with Stevens Point and Stout. Oshkosh and La Crosse were idle this week-end and thus were joined in the middle of the standings by White-water.

Friday night of this week, the Falcons will host Milwaukee in a battle for survival of second place.

Eau Claire Hands Falls First Loss

The Eau Claire Bugolds took over the conference lead by handing the River Falls Falcons their first defeat Sat. Dec. 19, at Eau Claire. The score of the game was 94-68. River Falls took an early lead but saw that fade away midway in the first quarter, and at the end of the first frame were trailing their hosts 22-17.

The second period was a disastrous one for the Falls as they scored only 14 points. The forwards Wells and Williams were cold in their shooting and play by the whole team was ragged.

With big Rog Hanson, the Blugolds were controlling the rebounds and thus added the final blow to the defeat of River Falls. Morgan was the leading scorer for Eau Claire with 24 and Williams got 18 for the Falcons.

The two Falls forwards took 29 shots and made only 7 while Eau Claire was hitting at a 31 percent clip. In the later stages the fouling of a little out of hand as the Falcons tried to get possession of the ball. Eau Claire got 94 shots as compared to 76 for R.F.

Dean Warner Imig To Direct Choral Workshop at RFSC

Warner Imig, Dean of the College of Music at the University of Colorado, returns to RFSC January 18, 19, and 20 to direct a choral music workshop for high school musicians in west central Wisconsin.

Dean Imig, who is one of the outstanding choral directors of the country, visited River Falls to conduct a similar workshop in the fall of 1952. He has been called to Minneapolis twice this past year to direct large Minnesota choruses.

The choral workshop at the college will be carried to six high schools in the River Falls vicinity for preliminary rehearsal prior to January 20, when the high school choirs will rehearse together at RFSC. The following itinerary will be observed:

Monday, January 18: Morning, Glenwood City; afternoon, Baldwin; evening, Ellsworth.
Tuesday, January 19: Morning, Spring Valley; noon, River Falls; mid-afternoon, New Richmond.
The big event of the three day workshop will be the final night when 300 selected voices from the six high school choirs will present a concert in the college auditorium, Dean Imig conducting. In addition, each high school will be heard in one selection under its own director.

Willink-Erickson Wedding

Thelma Erickson, daughter of Col. and Mrs. C. P. Erickson, Hudson, became the bride of Paul Willink, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Willink, Baldwin, at an 8 p.m. ceremony on Saturday, Dec. 26, at the First Presbyterian Church, Hudson.

The bride is a senior at River Falls, majoring in English and speech. The groom graduated from RFSC in 1953 and is music instructor at Elmwood High School. They will make their home in River Falls.

Voice Receives First Class Rating

The Student Voice has been awarded a first class honor rating by the Associated Collegiate Press for the second semester of the 1952-53 school year.

The first class rating was given the Voice in the 49th national newspaper critical service, sponsored by the ACP at the University of Minnesota in November.

Meletean Schedules Individual Pictures

Underclassmen pictures for the 1954 Meletean will be taken in the Meletean room on third floor, South Hall, beginning January 18, according to the editors.

A list giving the time underclassmen may report for pictures will be posted on the bulletin boards soon. Only one picture, with no proofs will be taken. A charge of one dollar will be made, to be paid when the picture is taken. These will be the only underclassmen pictures acceptable for Meletean use.

Seniors who do not wish to have an outside photographer take their pictures may have them taken under the same conditions as the underclassmen during the week of Feb. 22-26. Seniors who have another photographer take their picture may turn in a glossy print, 2 1/4 by 3 1/4 inches, with a two inch head size, for inclusion in the Meletean.

Official Notices

RABBI MORDECAI SIMON of Minneapolis will speak to River Falls College students Monday, January 25, at a convocation. The lecture is sponsored by the Jewish Chautauqua Society of New York City.

W. J. ENGLER, Ch. Convocation Com.

Freshman tests will be given at 10 a.m. on Tuesday, January 12, and 10 a.m. on Thursday, January 14, in 121 South. All freshmen and transfer students who are registering for the first time this quarter or those who have not previously taken them are required to take these tests. This takes precedence over all other classes. A fee of $2 is charged all students who do not take the tests at the scheduled time.

Perhaps you have received a card which reads as the following: "You are parking illegally and inconveniencing many other people. If you continue to do this, we will have to refuse permission for you to drive your car on the campus." This is just a warning. Please do not park cars in the driveway or in the "NO PARKING" zones, as this interferes with deliveries to the cafeteria and with general traffic.

Tuesday, January 12, at 11 a.m. is the last time when caps and gowns for graduation may be ordered. Graduating students who wish to order caps and gowns may be measured for them in the auditorium at this time. Students who have not paid their cap and gown fee may do so in the auditorium or the deans' office on Tuesday, January 12, between 10:45 to 11:15. Practice teachers who can't be at the auditorium Tuesday may order them at the deans' office until January 15.

The Record I'm most proud of —

Chesterfield is the largest-selling cigarette in America's colleges for the FIFTH straight Year

Again, in 1953, they've made a survey audit of actual sales in more than 800 co-ops and campus stores from coast to coast. And again, Chesterfield tops 'em all.

Only Chesterfield gives you proof of highest quality — low nicotine. Proof that comes from actual "tobacco tests" in which all six leading brands were chemically analyzed.
