Election results invalidated

Uninitialed ballots, infractions of the rules governing campaign signs and objections by candidates combined to invalidate the results of the general election held Wednesday.

The Elections Committee, chaired by Student Senator Richard Feldman, voted to hold new elections this Wednesday, Oct. 2.

While counting the ballots cast in the race for freshman class officers, the Elections Committee uncovered 47 ballots that had not been properly initialed by poll workers. Evidence indicated that the majority of the unmarked ballots could be linked to a poll worker's oversight, but because first and second place in the race for freshman class president were divided by one vote, the committee voted to throw out the results.

Charges that some campaign signs have been removed illegally and that others had been posted illegally also contributed to the committee's decision.

The committee had completed counting only the ballots cast for the freshman presidential and five-presidential posts. Only 424 freshmen cast ballots.

After discarding the results of last week's election, the committee decided on the Wednesday election time.

A few of the Elections Committee members felt that the elections should be post-

LAC to sponsor candidate forum

The Legislative Action Committee (LAC) will sponsor a forum on Tuesday at 2 p.m. to introduce the five candidates for the student Senate positions and the four candidates for the freshman class presidency.

LAC president, John Peterson, said that he and Bob Rasmussen, president of United Council, would direct questions concerning current issues at the candidates. The candidates would also be open to questions from the floor, Peterson said.

Peterson invited all interested students to come and participate in the forum.

UC gets budget

An expanded budget for the United Council (UC) of Wisconsin State Universities Student Governments was made a reality through the action of the Presidents' Council of the Wisconsin State Universities Thursday morning at the Barron County extension campus, Rice Lake, Wis.

The maximum contribution of $1,000 per school has been supported by all nine of the state universities student governments. This is, as was the previous $164 annual commitment per university, completely voluntary.

Bob Rasmussen, president of UC and previously president of the Student Senate here at WSU-River Falls, said that the increased budget will provide an array of activities in which UC may participate in now, but could not previously because of lack of funds.

UC, through an enlarged public relations effort, will work on gaining a better representation of the 58,000 students in the state university system this year.

The first Council of Presidents meeting for student government presidents for this year will be held this coming weekend on the River Falls Campus.

poned until the present election procedures and rules could be investigated and re-evaluated. They feared that a new election under the same rules would result in similar problems.

The majority of the committee, however, voted in favor of the Wednesday election date after hearing testimony from a number of the candidates who felt that they had neither the time nor the money to wage another campaign.

The committee voted to place a moratorium on all types of campaigning by the candidates, except for a short biographical sketch in the VOICE. (See inside pages for candidate information.)

The posts that will be filled by the election are president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer of the freshman class; secretary of the junior class; and two seats on Student Senate.

UC budget; disciplinary guidelines discussed by Board of Regents

During this past summer, the Board of Regents for the nine Wisconsin State Universities discussed the proposed budget for the United Council of Student Governments (UC), guidelines for disciplinary procedures and "subversive organizations."

According to Robert Rasmussen, a WSU-River Falls student and president of UC, the proposed $9,000 budget was presented to the presidents of the nine universities at the Council of Presidents on May 22. The budget was discussed and the presidents decided to discuss the proposed budget with their respective student body presidents.

The presidents and regents met again in June and the proposed UC budget was once again discussed at length. Rasmussen, a senior from Tomah, Wis., said that the amount of money did not seem to be the main problem. The argument was one over "student power." Some of the presidents raised questions over students from the Universities dealing directly with the legislature as the proposed budget would allow them to do.

The present UC budget is $165 per school per year. This is a total of $1,485. The proposed budget would raise each school's share to $1,000. Only the student governments at Eau Claire, LaCrosse and Platteville have not committed themselves to the proposal in either student allocations or fund raising projects.

In place of the budget proposed by UC, the presidents entertained a motion to allow each school to allocate $300 for UC. The $2,700 dollar budget would nearly double the present one.

The motion was discussed and tabled until the September Council of Presidents that met this weekend.

GUIDELINES

The guidelines for disciplinary procedure stemmed from the "Uniform Conduct Code" passed by the Regents. The guidelines were adopted by the Regents at their July meeting.

The introduction of the guidelines reads: "A student charged with conduct which may subject him to substantial disciplinary action should of course be afforded reasonable notice of the offense with which he is charged and the general nature of the evidence on which the charge is based, a reasonable opportunity to prepare and present any defense he may have, and adequate and fair hearing and generally procedural due process of law."

The guidelines provide for the establishment of "a standing tribunal" on each campus "to hear disputed charges of misconduct against students and make findings as to guilt or innocence."

Rasmussen said he had one objection to the wording of the guidelines concerning this tribunal. The rules call for a tribunal consisting of faculty or administrative officers or both that "may or may not include students; and if it includes students they may or may not be given voting rights." Rasmussen feels that this phrase should be changed to read "should include students." He feels that students have the right to a trial by their peers.

The guidelines also provide for an appeal tribunal. The President of each university is empowered to appoint members "from the senior faculty or administrative officers or both." Once again, Rasmussen felt that the tribunal should include students.

The guidelines say that the president of each university shall appoint an "official to whom complaints and information regarding student misconduct shall be made, and who shall investigate the same." The official will prosecute the charges, too.

According to the new guidelines, an accused student must be given a written statement of the general nature of the evidence against him and a written notice of the time and place of the scheduled hearing.

The guidelines also provide that "Except under emergency circumstances (and then only in University dormitories), rooms occupied by students and the personal possessions of the students shall not be searched by university personnel unless a search warrant has been obtained. Rasmussen questioned the wording of this section, too. He asked who would be empowered to determine what "emergency circumstances" were.

SUBVERSIVE ORGANIZATIONS

The board of regents adopted the following resolution at their June meeting.

"A wholesome atmosphere for living and learning must prevail on our campuses for the educational process to be successfully accomplished. Free intellectual inquiry requires order, discipline and responsibility, and can take place only in a situation which is devoid of violence, threat of violence, or deliberate disruption of University activities.

"It is therefore the stated policy of the Board of Regents of the Wisconsin State University System to refuse to approve, recognize or encourage any disruptive, subversive or anarchistic organization or activity, whether national or local in origin, having such violence or disruption as an objective or likely consequence.

"The authority to implement and administer this policy is delegated to the Presidents. The Presidents may seek and welcome assistance, suggestions and recommendations from faculty, administrative staff or students. The obligation for final decision at the University, however, rests with the President, who in turn is responsible to the Board of Regents."

The resolution seems aimed at chapters of the Students for Democratic Society (SDS). The members of the La Crosse chapter of SDS has already filed a petition for review with the circuit court of Dane county.

First Amendment to open this week

The First Amendment, sponsored by the Coffee House Association of River Falls, will present its first program of the 1968-69 school year at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 1.

The program will include music by the Harrison Trio and an exhibition of photographs by Mary Barrett, an instructor in the WSU-RF art department.

The First Amendment, located at 220 S. Second St., will be open from 7:30 p.m. to mid-night, seven nights a week this year. Four persons, two students and two non-students, either faculty or town's people will be serving as hosts and hostesses each night.

The old "Coffee House" underwent renovations this fall and was renamed by the new Board of Directors. At their meeting Thursday night, the board voted to begin legal procedures to incorporate as a non-profit making organization. Proceedings should be finished within the next few weeks, according to John Mercer, chairman of the board.

The new board of directors includes a large number of faculty members and students from WSU-RF and representation for the people of River Falls.

The list of WSU-RF faculty members on the board includes: Dr. Philip Anderson, a professor and Dean of the Graduate School; John Mercer, an instructor in political science and chairman of the board; John Lorence, associate professor in art and director of programing; Nancy Brod, publications director for the University and director of public relations for the board; John Buschen, associate professor in history; Dr. Blanche Davis, chairman of the speech department; Dr. Donald Nitz, associate professor in music; Dr. Edward Peterson, chairman of the history department; Dr. Donald Pollock, associate professor in education; Dr. Richard Swensen, professor in chemistry; Donald Steinegger, assistant professor in agriculture; and Dr. Nicholas Karolidis, associate professor in English.

Students on the board of directors are: Kay Brown, a history major and deputy chairman of the board; Ellie Betz, an English major, member of Phi Delta Theta sorority and secretary of the board; John Chudy, student senator and member of Phi Sigma Epsilon; Rich Marshall, editor of the STUDENT VOICE; Dave Michealson, a music major; Rod Nilsestuen, student senator and member of Theta Chi; Mrs. Jennie Pederson, an art major; Bob Rasmussen, former Student Senate President, present president of United Council and member of Theta Chi; Michele (Mickey) Stevens, member of Kappa Delta Psi sorority; and Dick Wal-lin, a journalism major.

River Falls town's people on the board are: Dr. Arden Thorsbakken, dentist; H. L. Stolzman, Fall's Theatre; Harley Roen, Roen Ford; Rev. Bernard Lien, assistant pastor at the Ezekiel Lutheran Church; John Kauphusman, Bojon's; and George Kind, vice-president of the 1st national bank and treasurer for the board.

Programing this year at the First Amendment will include a Contemporary Man Series, discussions following the University sponsored foreign films, three art and photo exhibits, and the annual Christmas concert by the WSU-RF music department.

The first of the Contemporary Man series will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 15. It will be titled "The Election 1968." It will feature a discussion led by Dr. Richard Darr, professor in economics and Dr. Edward Peterson.

On Oct. 16, there will be coffee and discussion at 9 p.m. following the foreign film, Elvira Madigan. There will be a coffee reception Oct. 17 after the performance by the Concerts and Lectures committee sponsored Pro Arte String Quartet. There will also be a coffee reception after the Alan Dugan poetry reading sponsored by Concerts and Lectures on Oct. 17.

The Second in the Contemporary Man Series will be presented on Oct. 29 at 8 p.m. The topic will be the "New Theatre--Environment, Sound and Space," with Ronald Neuhaus of the English Department leading the discussion.

The final program in October will be a coffee and discussion period after the foreign film, "The Ladykillers," at 9 p.m., Oct. 30.

The program committee has also arranged for a number of programs in November and December that will be released later.

The First Amendment will also be open to any group that wishes to hold a meeting there. The only exception will be that no meetings will be allowed that are closed to the general public. Groups wishing to hold meetings at the house should call to make arrangements. The number for the First Amendment may be found by calling River Falls information and asking for either the "First Amendment" or the Coffee House Association of River Falls.

Sen. Ochiltree announces plans for new communications center

Plans for the Communication and Information Center, introduced by Jim Ochiltree, vice-president of Student Senate, were approved and are expected to be utilized by the end of October.

To destroy the poor educational environment and to create a liberal arts atmosphere is the purpose of this center. Mr. Robert Brock, Center Director, approved the designated area (under the steps along the west wall opposite the student dining area), and the project will begin immediately.

An opinion board, teletype device, and social board will be the three categories covered in this new proposal.

The University opinion board will consist of a roll of paper similar to a window shade attached to the wall near the teletype machine. Its placement near the news device is to enable any one to write comments on the immediate happenings or any matter of concern. Ochiltree stated, "I want it to provide an airing place for all University personnel's opinions, be they campus, state, national or international." He stressed that this opinion board be used by the administration, faculty, students, and custodial staff.

Either an AP (Associated Press) or UPI (United Press International) wire service which will be purchased through the Student Senate, will also be installed. It will act as a stimulant for the opinion board and also as a means of informing of the happenings throughout the world, nation, and state. "This is to get the student involved in the world outside the University womb," remarked Ochiltree. Other uses would include a source of information for research topics and also class discussions.

The drawing card for the Center will be the social board consisting of notice boxes for the various recognized student organizations on campus. These organizations are to provide their own boxes, which should contain the name of the organization or the emblem.

If there is sufficient space, a fan mail board will also be set up. "Students not directly involved in social organizations would be given an opportunity to communicate with one another. Indirectly, it would be a drawing card for the Communications Center itself," commented the vice-president of the Student Senate.

Ochiltree also stated, "It would be my sincere hope that the entire communications center concept could be implemented by the end of October. The teletype will, most likely, take longer to install, but the opinion board and social board, I hope to have in operation within the next two weeks."

Mock election set

On Wednesday, Oct. 30, the Legislative Action Committee (LAC) will sponsor state and national mock elections. LAC hopes to get area high schools interested in similar elections in order to compare results with ours.

The philosophy of the mock election is to get student opinion on candidates and political parties as compared to the national election.

In conjunction with a free spirit forum LAC hopes that State Senator Gerald Leonard and U.S. Senator Gaylord Nelson will choose the River Falls campus as a place of debate for the entire area.

Leonard has agreed to debate on the campus but no reply has been received from Nelson.

Regents open Barron county branch

The Wisconsin State University Systems-Barron County Branch Campus was dedicated in conjunction with a recent Board of Regents meeting at Rice Lake, Wis.

Governor Warren P. Knowles, governmental officials, various WSU regents and presidents took part in the dedication.

Operated by WSU-Stout, the Barron County Campus opened in September, 1966, with 116 freshmen attending classes in Barron County Teacher's College building. In 1967-68, the program was expanded to include sophomores, and several new campus buildings were completed. Enrollment in September totaled 329.

Barron County is the second campus to be opened by the WSU system. Two-year branch campuses are in operation at Richland Center and Fond du Lac, with a freshman program scheduled to begin in 1969 at Medford, in Taylor County.

Radio station broadcast date postponed

"I guess I'm just overly optimistic." That's how Lorin Robinson, faculty director of the University's as yet silent radio station, summed up problems getting the FM facility on the air.

Robinson said he had planned to have the station on the air by today, but that technical difficulties and a "turtle-like" Federal Communications Commission

(FCC) in Washington, have postponed the station's debut for about two weeks.

The station's 250-watt transmitter, which was purchased used to save money, had a faculty power transformer which had to be replaced with some difficulty. This problem slowed the necessary testing of equipment. In addition, the FCC is behind in granting broadcast licenses, and "we can't go on the air until we get permission."

Robinson said that the station staff has been selected. It includes about 10 announcers, 15 news personnel (including students in a broadcast journalism course), five sports personnel, several engineers and a number of people in other positions.

The announcing staff includes Karol Sir, Paulette Gergen, Warren Knowles, Jim Paulson, Don Cline, Tom Witschen, Ron Koci, Ken Day, Dave Hegre.

The news director is Mike Norman, sports director, Rick Jaglinski. Allan Van is director of special programming. The station's chief engineer is Tom Anderson. Helen Alexander is assistant editor of "Forecast," the station's 20-page monthly program guide magazine which will circulate 3000 copies in the campus and community.

Robinson said that the first issue of the magazine has had to be delayed because of the delay in getting on the air. The magazine should be available late in October.

The radio station, which has been designated WRFW and will operate at 88.7 megacycles, is also launching a "Yearbook in Sound." The yearbook will be a long-playing record which will document the school year as it was broadcast on WRFW. The record will include Homecoming, athletic events, the inauguration of Dr. Field, and other activities that take place during the year.

Profits from the record will be put back into the station to help improve equipment, programming and make salaries available to personnel. The record will be sold to students for $3.00. After January 1, Robinson said the record will cost $3.50.

"We have to get our order in as soon as possible, and the only way we'll know how many to order is by pre-selling the record. That's why we're giving a break to those who buy right away," Robinson said.

Robinson said that he's had the cooperation of many people on campus and in the community during the station's construction. He especially cited Jerry Borner, senior physics major, for the help he gave in setting up the station facilities.

University Activities Board lists Homecoming schedule

Upcoming events at WSU-RF were discussed at last Monday's meeting of the University Activities Board (UAB).

The activities scheduled by the various committees are as follows:

Wednesday, Oct. 2 - The Spielhaus Dance.

Monday, Oct. 14 - Kickoff Convocation and later that night, Skits.

Tuesday, Oct. 15 - Voting for Homecoming Queen.

Wednesday, Oct. 16 - Coronation of Homecoming Queen.

Thursday, Oct. 17 - Eating Contest.

Friday, Oct. 18 - Pep Fest and Snake Dance.

Saturday, Oct. 19 - Parade and Homecoming Dance.

The Patrick Henry Marching band will play in the parade, and the La Crosse Chiefs will play during half time. For the Homecoming Dance three bands are being considered, Danny Reasons, Jim Sutherland and the Underbeats. The dance will be from 9 to 1 a.m. in the Ballroom.

Saturday, Oct. 26 - Flaming Mamie. This dance will be in place of Caberet this year. It will have an 1890 motif.

Thursday, Oct. 31 through Saturday, Nov. 2, the Coffeehouse will open with Shipley & Brewer, a folk-singing pair that have a sound like that of Simon & Garfunkle.

Dec. 15 will be designated "Snow Day". It is hoped this event will instill in the students a Christmas spirit. The committee in charge of this event are now looking for a place to hold this off-campus activity.

Other business included Chairwoman Sharon Sielback's remark that UAB should try to get activities scheduled for the weekends, in an effort to fight the five day college image.

Also UAB was dissatisfied with the interviews held two weeks ago. The board is considering ways to speed up the system. Mentioned was the idea of a questionnaire to be filled out prior to the interview.

Speakers rap 'establishment'

"Nobody gets terribly upset when a white person says he's gonna do his own thing, but when a black man says it everyone gets upset. We just want to do our own thing and be human beings," stated Alvin Taylor, University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee graduate student, who recently spoke at a Free Spirit Forum in the Student Center dining area.

Taylor, a Negro, studying urban affairs at UWM, was joined in the Forum by Jerry Cross, Campus Minister at UWM.

The forum was titled, "Racism and the American Police State."

Cross stated the recent disturbance at Patterson, N.J., where the police force admitted that they were wrong when breaking-up a non-violent protest, is evidence of "the Establishment's trend toward militarism."

"People are becoming disenchanted with this type of police-state action--Chicago more than proves this," he said. "How are people to be heard, if when they express themselves they are immediately put down?"

Cross also commented that "these people in authority who think they can stamp-out non-violent expression are only deceiving themselves. They should find out why people are dissenting."

Taylor stated that police brutality has always been a reality to the black man. When white people were getting "their heads cracked," like during the Democratic Convention in Chicago, black people had to "sit back and laugh." He said "when black people get their heads cracked by police nothing much is thought about it. But when a white person gets his head cracked, it's a different story!"

"Now we're gonna decide what's best for us--just like you. We aren't letting you whites appoint our leaders, we're appointing our own. We have to contend with White Society, even as we get together in the ghetto. But while we're doing it we'll be after our own interest--black people for black people!"

The forum was concluded with a question-and-answer period in which students and faculty questioned the two men.

Roger Wagner

Roger Wagner Chorale's only show in area is here

When the Roger Wagner Chorale appears Wednesday, Oct. 9, at 8 p.m. in Karges Center, it will be the group's only appearance in Minnesota or Wisconsin during this season's tour.

The Chorale's 1968-69 tour of major U.S. cities will be the 12th annual trip around the nation. Last season the Chorale performed in more than 50 cities during its 10-week tour. In its 20 year history the group has appeared in North and South America, Europe, and the Near East, as well as Central America and Mexico.

The current season tour will last approximately three months and will cover close to 60 cities on this continent.

In addition to directing the Chorale, Roger Wagner is head of the choral department at two University of California campuses--UCLA and Irvine--and conducts several choral workshops each year throughout the nation. He holds the post of musical director at St. Joseph's Church in downtown Los Angeles.

Tickets for the Roger Wagner Chorale performance Oct. 9 may be purchased at A.W. Lund Co., downtown River Falls, or at the University book store in the Student Center. Tickets for main floor seats are $3.50, $3.00 and $2.50; seats in the bleachers will be $2.00. University students currently enrolled will receive a $1.00 discount on any one ticket.

University approved

"Junior and Senior students under 21 years of age, as of September 1, 1968, may live in approved off-campus housing. . . . A check is now in progress to insure that the students are following the guidelines."

This is part of a memo sent to the Student Voice by Daniel W. Parker, director, university housing.

We feel that a check should now be in progress to insure that housing approved by the University meet standards of safety and comfort for the students who must comply with this edict.

Supposedly, the only physical difference between approved and unapproved housing is the presence of cooking facilities in the latter. While some unapproved housing is also substandard, it is the student's prerogative to accept or reject these conditions. If a student under 21 wishes to live off-campus, he is often forced to accept the "approved housing" sanctioned by the University whether or not it reaches a standard of comfort or liveability.

In some instances "approved housing" is far less conducive to living and study than much of the unapproved housing which the University considers off-limits.

When a student signs a contract for a year's lease in approved off-campus housing he should be assured of adequate heating for living quarters during winter months. He should be assured of study facilities and proper lighting which meet standards similar to those of the dorm.

Living in off-campus housing should not mean the student's supply of hot water be rationed or that his rights to privacy be violated.

Students now living in "approved off-campus housing can testify that these and other problems exist.

We of the Voice feel that closer and more frequent inspection of this housing is necessary. We suggest that students also be permitted to help inspect these houses and their facilities since they realize what qualifications are necessary for comfortable living.

Students now living in "approved housing" should be allowed to submit critiques each quarter in order to improve the conditions in some of them and bring inadequacies to the attention of University authorities.

Non-voters luck out

Non-voters - - You lucked out this time. Next week you will be given another opportunity to participate in one of the most important events on a college campus - - a student government election.

Last week's election was disqualified because of election procedure. Another election is scheduled for Wednesday.

You are being offered a chance to rectify the mistake you made when you forgot or didn't take the time to remove your I.D. from your pocket, walk to Rodli Commons or the Student Center and vote.

Freshman, do you realize how important this election is to you? You have, undoubtedly, discovered how little authority freshman have on a college campus. Do you know that your most important class officer is your president? This officer is the one and only freshman who is an active, VOTING participant in University government. He will be your only representative in Student Senate decisions for the entire year.

Upperclassmen have no excuse for not voting. You must realize the far-reaching and momentous decisions which the Student Senate makes. You must be aware of how essential a good senator is.

How does any large institution insure itself of a good government? The only way is through active participation of the majority and intelligent voting of the total population. That means you.

So, join the minority from last week. Remove your I.D. from your pocket, walk to Rodli Commons or the Student Center and VOTE. Take advantage of your second chance.

An Open Letter to Dean Knaak:
As you know, we on third floor east Hathorn Hall are faced with the problem of either moving and uprooting our floor and being spread out among other floors of Hathorn or having other girls move into Hathorn from other dorms.

At our meeting the week of the sixteenth you agreed to notify the other dorms of the possibility of their moving to Hathorn to fill it up. It has now been over a week; and no one in the other dorms, to our knowledge, has heard a word about this. As you know, the sixth week is approaching, and our decision has to be made by then. Is it possible that action has been started, and we have not heard about it?

RF problems discussed at leadership retreat

The problems facing WSU-RF; "Are not student issues--not faculty issues--but University issues," said Dr. James Reeves, assistant dean of students at the University of Minnesota, at the Third Annual University Retreat, held at Whispering Pines Camp, Frederic, Wis., Sept. 20 and 21.

Dr. Reeves included faculty tenure, textbook rental, library facilities, academic freedom for students, social activities on weekends, racism and the need for a University Council as problems facing River Falls.

The retreat, sponsored by the Student Senate, was an opportunity for administration, faculty, and students to discuss common problems on an informal basis.

The group was divided with faculty, students and administrators in each group. Ideas voiced by the various discussion groups included a student communications center, with organization boxes, and opinion board; legislative assistants and a propaganda expert for the Student Senate; a Student Senate faculty liaison; a weekend activities committee; a student rating of faculty; and a University Council.

The Student Senate was severely criticized for its strict adherence to structure and mechanics. The group seemed to think that the Student Senate has become bogged down with too much committee work and is unable to function as a governing body. "The Student Senate can't do everything," said Senate President Chuck

Feltes. "We don't have the manpower or organizational structure to do it."

Feltes expressed disappointment that no concrete ideas came out of the retreat. But Feltes added that he felt the retreat was extremely successful for improving student-faculty relations.

The five faculty members attending the Retreat were Richard Swensen, chemistry; Donald Brod, journalism; Richard Gray, agriculture; Nicholas Karolides, English; and John Mercer, political science.

Students attending the Retreat represented the following: Student Senate, Student Voice, Meletean, University Activities Board, Legislative Action Committee, United Council, WRFW radio station, Delta Iota Chi sorority, Kappa Delta Psi sorority, Delta Theta Sigma fraternity, Theta Chi fraternity, and a candidate for Freshman class president.

Members of the coordinating committee for the Retreat were Feltes, Rod Nilsestuen, Linda Graves, Jim Ochiltree, and John Mercer, advisor.

Discount plan gets salesman

The Student Senate Discount Sub-committee has taken the first step in making the Student Discount Plan a reality. Thursday, Senator John Chudy announced that Al Schwartz has agreed to work as salesman to the River Falls merchants, on behalf of the discount program.

The sub-committee is continuing its efforts to become affiliated with the Minnesota area discount service. Chudy said it is hoped that by Winter Quarter, both the Minnesota and the River Falls discount service will be in operation.

Chudy explained that if the discount program was operational by winter quarter, University students could buy the discount cards from the Student Senate. The price for the card has not been announced.

The money collected from participating students, would be put into advertising for the stores participating in the program. Each store will receive some free advertising, and the price of the cards will be compensated for through the discounts.

Last year, River Falls merchants turned down a similar discount program. Chudy said that this will be the last chance for the town merchants to be a part of the discount program.

Delta Theta Sigma asks to go national

Delta Theta Sigma, newest fraternity on the River Falls campus, submitted a request for national affiliation at the September 23 meeting of the Greek Letter Council (GLC).

Delta Theta Sigma is a social agricultural fraternity. Their probationary period as a new Greek organization will end on October 29.

Phi Sigma Epsilon's petition for national affiliation was found by the committee to be incomplete. A format outlining procedures for national affiliation has been established. Phi Sig's petition will be resubmitted when it is completed.

Greek organizations took part in Falcon Frontier Days on Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 28 and 29. Sororities tried their hand at goat dressing on Saturday and fraternities competed in steer riding contests on Sunday.

The Public Relations Committee of GLC is looking for a date to have a GLC-sponsored party signifying the start of fall pledging.

In other action, Tim Popp was elected as treasurer.

Hathorn girls fight move

A decision by the administration that girls now living on third floor east in Hathorn Hall must vacate their assigned rooms and fill empty rooms elsewhere has met with considerable resistance from the girls involved.

Dean of Women, Dr. Nancy Knaak, announced the decision at a meeting with the girls on the floor on Thursday, Sept. 18. Dean Knaak said that the decision was an attempt to cut expenses on utilities and janitorial services but was unable at that time to give an estimate of the money to be saved. Approximately 30 girls will be affected by the plan.

One of the girls asked, "What if we decide not to move?" Dean Knaak replied, "Don't make any threats."

"It's a matter of economics," said Daniel W. Parker, director of university housing, when asked about moving the girls. Parker said that he did not know if much money would be saved on utilities but felt that the custodial services could be better utilized. He also said that when the rooms were assigned by preference, the administration did not realize that there were vacant rooms in Hathorn.

Parker feels that there is "no real problem." The girls "don't understand why they're being asked to move," but they "will cooperate once they understand."

One of the girls on the floor stated, "Every girl on this floor is really upset," because "lot of girls worked really hard to get on this floor."

Mrs. Helen Fett, Hathorn Hall counselor, said that the decision to move the girls was made because there are 15 empty rooms in Hathorn. She said that "It was given to me just to do," and felt that the decision must involve "Quite a saving, or they wouldn't bother about moving them."

Dean Knaak declined to comment on the situation saying, "Things are up in the air right now." The Dean of Women added that she had agreed to see about the possibility of moving girls from other halls into the empty rooms in Hathorn.

Fee to provide annual count

The $2 retainer fee for the 1969 MELETEAN has left many students wondering. Sue Ackerman, a senior, stated, "I'd rather pay the $2 and have a good quality yearbook than not pay and have one like this year's."

There is of course, an explanation for the fee. It is necessary to have an accurate account of the number of books needed. This is to prevent repetition of this year's 600 book excess, representing a $3,000 loss of student money.

Secondly, the Student Senate wants the MELETEAN to be independent so Senate funds usually appropriated to the MELETEAN can be used to sponsor other student activities. If the yearbook were to remain under Senate jurisdiction the activity fee paid by the students would go up, due to rising publication costs.

Freshman, Judy Hanson, summed it up, "Anyone who really wants an annual will be more than willing to pay $2 to reserve one."

Annual deadline set

Yearbook sales deadline will be Oct. 25. The goal for sales is set at 3000 annuals.

Seniors may sign up to have pictures taken for the '69 yearbook in the Publications Office, 209 Student Center.

Seniors are to hand in class pictures to Room 209 Publication Office, Student Center by October 12.

Knights romp over Falcons

The River Falls Falcons were soundly beaten Saturday by St. Norberts Saturday 42-13. This might well have been the Falcons toughest opposition of the season. St. Norberts ran up 579 yards against the Falcon defense with 449 of those yards being pounded out on the ground. The Falcon offense, guided by quarterback Jerry Trooien, ran and passed for 339 yards. The game started out on an exciting note when Trooien hit Harold Blank with a 44 yard bomb. The next play resulted in a 25 yard pass from Trooien to Tim DeLawyer which put the ball on the enemy one yard line. Trooien got the last yard on a quarterback sneak and scored the Falcons' first touchdown. Cahalan's kick was good and the Falcons led 7-0 with only 1:28 gone on the clock. St. Norberts, momentarily stunned by the Falcons passing game, took the kick-off and returned it to their own 36 yard line. The Green Knights then marched 64 yards in 12 plays. Larry "Moose" Krause ran the last three yards for his first of five touchdowns. The kick was good and the game was tied 7-7 with 8:27 left in the first quarter.

be driving when Tom Schoen intercepted a Trooien pass on the St. Norbert 36. Mixing Krause and Maier, Wilmet drove St. Norbert 64 yards in 12 plays with Krause again going over, this time from 10 yards out. The kick was good by Kretz and the score mounted to 35-13.

St. Norbert lit the scoreboard one more time before they left the field. This time for a change it wasn't Krause but it didn't make any difference. Jim Beaver galloped 64 yards and the scoring was completed for the day 42-13.

Between Maier and Krause, the duo accounted for 355 of St. Norberts 449 on the ground. Krause was the leading ground gainer with 185 yards but Maier wasn't far behind with 170.

Most of the Falcon offense was through the air. Jerry Trooien threw for 200 yards while the Falcon ground game ran up 139 yards. The big difference in the game was the St. Norbert ground game however. With a quick offensive line the runners had things their own way most of the afternoon.

Next week the Falcons will travel to Oshkosh to take on the Titans. The next home game will be in two weeks against Eau Claire.

by Harley O'Brien

Superior will have their problems with Whitewater at Whitewater. The Warhawks should win easily 28-0.

Stevens Point plays at Eau Claire. Even though the game is at Eau Claire, Point will win 13-7.

LaCrosse will have their hands full with St. Norberts. The Green Knights will remain undefeated with a 24-14 triumph.

LaCrosse ran away with all honors in the cross country meet Saturday. The first five runners to finish were from LaCrosse. Ron Dale won the event in 24:15. They could be tough!

The Wisconsin Womens Recreation Association had a convention here Saturday. I bet there was a lot of athletic chatter there. At first glance, I thought they were holding the womens' Olympic weightlifting tryouts.

My hometown of Fall River, Wis. hasn't scored a point in football yet this season. Who was it that once said, "Things could be worse?"

River Falls at Oshkosh, 1:30
Stout at Platteville, 1:30
Superior at Whitewater, 1:30
Stevens Point at Eau Claire, 7:30
St. Norbert at La Crosse, 7:30

Question of the Month: Was that St. Norberts or Green Bay?

It looked like the Green Bay Packers, 1965, playing the Atlanta Falcons, 1968.

Junior halfback, Larry Krause, 6' 205 ran Jimmy Taylor and score like Paul Hornung. Krause is unbelievable! In 18 carries he net 185 yards and scored five touchdowns with runs of 71, 10, 3, 1, and 27 yards. His five TD's overshadowed a brilliant performance by the other running back, James Maier. Maier gained 174 yards on 21 carries. The Krause-Maier duo must rank among the best for backfield combinations in the NAIA.

Halfback John Cahalan, sophomore from Mason City, Iowa, scored on a brilliant run of 63 yards and the touchdown came with 48 seconds left in the first half. He got good downfield blocking and it was the best run I have seen all year for the Falcons.

Jerry Trooien is improving with every game. So far this year, the St. Paul quarterback has completed 47 of 100 passes for over 500 yards.

Trooien's favorite target is Tim DeLawyer. DeLawyer, a sophomore, caught seven passes for 84 yards. He made some nice grabs against the Green Knights.

Jim Kiesow turned in his usual great defensive game. Kiesow, a senior from Waterloo, Wis., had 10 tackles and 11 assists. Defense is more than a one man job though. Tom Carroll had 11 tackles and was credited with four assists. He was cracker very hard in the first quarter, but came back to do some hard hitting himself.

The Falcons missed many tackles. Sometimes the Knights would bounce off four or five men before being brought down.

I predicted that Platteville would defeat Whitewater and what-do-you-know, Platteville was victorious, 6-0. Let's see now, what does Harv's Fearless Forecast predict this week?

First of all, the Falcons will rebound for a 14-12 victory over Oshkosh. The Titans will get one touchdown and two field goals.

Platteville plays at home against Stout, so I will have to go with Chris Charnish and Co. 35-20.

For all men interested in gymnastics, there will be a short meeting in Room 127 Karges at 4:30 p.m., Tuesday, Oct. 1. Please be present.

The Falcons had to punt again after their first set of downs after the enemy kick-off. This time the Falcon defense was equal to the occasion and stopped St. Norbert.

Late in the second quarter St. Norbert punted to the Falcon 13 yard line. Trooien hit Joe Rozak for five yards and found DeLawyer open for 10 more. Trooien mixing the plays handed off to Gruenwald on a draw which gained eight yards. The next two plays resulted in incomplete passes. With fourth an two on their own 37 yard line and time running out in the first half the Falcons went for the first down. On a delay off tackle, John Cahalan broke into the clear and with a caravan of blockers to ward off the defense, raced 63 yards to put the Falcons back into the game. Cahalan's extra point try was blocked. The score at half-time was 21-13 with St. Norberts holding on to an eight point lead.

St. Norbert, college where the Packers train during the preseason, came out to tuck the game safely away and it didn't take them long. After an exchange of punts Larry Krause took a pitch-out from Wilmet and raced 71 yards around the end for his fourth touchdown of the game. This put the visitors in a safe lead 28-13.

At this point the Falcon offense put together three first downs and seemed to

The Savage Falcon

By

Harley O'Brion - Sports Editor
Oshkosh ball carriers beware! Within the next week you may encounter a very savage Falcon, namely, Tom Carroll. But, don't get me wrong mighty Titans, Carroll isn't savage ALL the time----just on the gridiron.

Softspoken Carroll, a Rosemount, Minn. product, will be keying on enemy ball carriers next week to continue his tackling rampage in the Wisconsin State University Conference.

The 5'10", 195 pound linebacker looks to Oshkosh as the biggest hurdle this season. Asked how he felt the Falcons would do in the remainder of the season, the senior Co-Captain replied, "If we beat Oshkosh we will be on our way. Oshkosh will be the team to beat. Carroll also feels that "If we go to Whitewater (Oct. 26) with just one conference loss, we will take em'."

Reminiscing a bit, Tom feels he played his best college game against Oshkosh last year. I'm sure the Titans remember it well also because "Rosey" had 12 solo tackles and was named Defensive Player-of-the-Week for the Falcons.

Just looking at his helmet would be enough to scare most enemy gridders. He led the team in tackles twice this year to earn two skull and crossbones, which is placed on the helmet. One star is placed on the helmet for each interception and Carroll has one steal.

In Saturdays game with St. Norberts he had 11 solo tackles and four assists. Carroll had one more tackle than his close competitor Jim Kiesow who had ten.

"He is the best team man we have," commented Coach Christensen. "Tom has tremendous leadership because he works so hard and because he works so hard he is so good." Christensen also stated that "Carroll has to be one of the defensive men in the conference."

This is the third year "Rosey" earned a letter in a Falcon grid uniform. He lettered as a sophomore and last year was the Falcon Defensive Player-of-the-Year. Carroll was also selected honorable mention All-Conference and Second Team All-District.

As a student at Rosemount High School, Carroll played center and tackle on offense and linebacker on defense. He was active in other sports also as he played basketball his freshman and sophomore year; ran the 440 and threw the shot as a sophomore and junior trackman.

An elementary education major and physical education minor, Carroll hopes to be a phy-ed teacher and coach. But, if he had the chance, Tom would take up semi-pro ball before settling down to teaching.

So, Titan ball carriers beware! If you feel the savage, brutal, attack and the weight of no. 62 pounding you into the ground next Saturday, don't say I didn't tell you so.

A check totaling 10,256.67 was presented to the Whitewater State University Foundation Stadium Fund drive by the Whitewater Quarterback Club. The money was raised from the Whitewater-Fairmont, W. Va. football game.
