RED AND WHITE HOLD GOPHERS TO CLOSE SCORE

On Saturday night, Dec. 17, River Falls engaged in battle with the Gophers, taxing them to the utmost and giving them only a four-point lead.

Immediately after the game started a double foul was called, both Betzel and Kierney making the free throws. A few minutes later a second double foul was called, Capt. Kierney making his chance while Betzel missed. Swanson, Minnesota's left forward, scored twice in a short period of time, boosting Minnesota's score to six. Another free throw gave River Falls another point but very shortly the Gophers came back and scored another basket. Betzel started scoring for the Red and White by dribbling past Kierney. Captain Carolan followed by a close in from a pass directly under the basket. Claffin came through caging his usual basket which boosted the score 8 to 9 in favor of the Red and White. For five or six minutes no baskets were made, but toward the last part of the first half the Gophers resorted to long shots and netted their total to 18. A free throw and a basket by Butenhoff raised our total to 12. Claffin received a slight injury but remained in the game.

The second half started with a rush, Capt. Carolan being the first to score. Melvin replaced Claffin and dropped in a pretty one from the foul line. Swanson, the Gophers' star, who made four baskets the first half, was very closely guarded by Fields. Fouls called equally on both teams raised the totals a few points. Just before the final whistle Butenhoff caged a long one giving the Red and White a two-point lead the second half. There was a large number of River Falls Alumni to witness the game. The final score was Minn. 26, R. F. 22.

INTER-SOCIETY SPEAKING CONTEST

Have you ever been asked to make an impromptu speech and found yourself unable to do so? Then you will appreciate the fact that training in extemporaneous speaking is quite necessary. Six of this school's societies are to compete to determine which one has the best ability. Two representatives from Aurelia, Lincolnian, and Civic Club will talk in assembly Thursday, January 12. The two best will be chosen. Two from the G. O. P., Rural Life, and Agrifallian will talk the following Tuesday and the two best from that group will meet those chosen from the first group the next Thursday. The club, which the winners represent, will, if present plans materialize, have its name engraved on a silver loving cup. If any society has its name placed on the cup three successive years, it will become the property of that society.

The plan is that each speaker will be given a list of six subjects ten minutes before he is to speak. That length of time and no more is given him to prepare a three minute talk. This quick thinking and good expression of meaning is developed in the individual. This type of contest is considered more beneficial than either the present style of oratory or debate.

TWO GAMES THIS WEEK

Tonight the Red and White quint will meet the Luther Phalen tossers at St. Paul. In a game before this season the seminary boys met defeat at our hands and surely will put up a strong fight to try and return the compliment.

Saturday, the St. Paul Y. M. C. A. team will meet the locals in the North Hall gym. This promises to be a good game as the Y. M. C. A. quint has made a good showing against the Minnesota Aggies, who, in turn, defeated Macalaster College and Luther Phalen. Game starts 9:15.

Mildred Will visited River Falls a few hours Monday night on her way to Madison, where she teaches.

Marion Sylvester spent part of her vacation in Minneapolis and part with her sister at Mound, Minnesota.

WITH THE AG. MEN

Hurray for the Ag. Men! They have always been noted for taking the lead in everything, this time on the Matrimonial Sea. Howalt and Nohr stepped into the double harness during the Christmas vacation. Both men resumed their school work. We surely expect the "treats" at the next Ag. meeting.

What could the New Year's resolution have been?

The week before vacation the Ag's had their first feed of the year, and it certainly was a grand success. Mr. Jacobson, known as the best cook around, prepared the feed which consisted of an oyster stew. There were about forty fellows there and all had at least two if not three helpings. But wait until the last feed of the year, it is customary to sell a cow to get funds for the wind-up, so everybody better look forward to at least one more feed.

Don't forget the Ag. meeting Tuesday night—7:15, in Mr. Johnson's room.

Strong came back stronger than ever.

Did any of you ever stop to think that a hayseed may eventually become a dude? But a dude could never become a hayseed.

FIRST CONFERENCE

GAME JANUARY 14

The first conference game which was scheduled with La Crosse for Jan. 13, has been changed to Saturday, Jan. 14. La Crosse is an old enemy of River Falls and is still smarting under the defeat handed them in football. La Crosse held the U. of Wis. to a 32 to 40 count and has made good showing in other games.

Baul Cudd, John Williams, and Harvey Reardon of the 1921 class spent some of the holidays in River Falls. Since completing their school work here, they have been successfully engaged in a career of select advertising and salesmanship.

WHAT SHALL IT BE?

With the ushering in of the New Year comes the call to be back at work. Most of us have answered that call, bringing with us the best wishes of our parents and friends for success and happiness in this new beginning of our work. We may be certain, also, that accompanying these wishes of our parents and friends, are the wishes of our fellow students. The outlook is bright and encouraging and at once the question rises in our minds: What Shall It Be? What will be the outcome of the year 1922? What will the now clean slate of 1922 record at its close? Will it be a record that we will be proud to preserve and show to our friends, or will it be one with which we are disgusted and wish to hide? The answer may be said in a few words. It will be what we make it. That record, whether it be one of which we are justly proud or one with which we are disgusted, will be what we make it. It will show that mark toward which our work will ultimately lead. It will show that height toward which we have been striving, although it may seem at the time that we were striving toward higher ideals.

So, with all the good wishes of our parents, friends, and fellow-students, let us strive to verify those well wishes and show the ones that extended them that they were not falsely based. The slate is clean, as with the passing of the old year there was also wiped out the events and misfortunes which seemed to blight our lives in the year of 1921. So with this clean record slate before us, let us strive to do nothing but which will go toward making this new slate a permanent, faultless record of our lives, and to strive for higher ideals which will also go toward making this record a better one than the ones of the preceding year.

Perfection, we learn, is a standard which is reached only by endlessly and unceasingly striving toward that point. It is a good standard to follow, so let's use it for the ideal toward which to strive in making 1922 a pleasant and lasting memory, toward which, in the future, we may look with pride.

MACALASTER AND DUN- WOODY MEET DEFEAT

The following Monday the Red and White quint met Macalester at the St. Thomas Armory. Macalester scored first but was quickly overtaken when Butenhoff dropped one in. Bergman started in place of Betzel and played the first ten minutes. Throughout the score never varied over two points.

The second half River Falls very quickly gained a five-point lead and Vicheds of Macalester quickly closed the gap by caging two field goals. The Red and White put forth a burst of speed and took a nine-point lead which made the game safe. From this point on River Falls played a stalling game. Score—24 to 17.

The third game during vacation was played against Dunwoody with a crippled team. Both Betzel and Claffin were kept out of the game. The game was played in a small gym which made short passes impossible and pivoting a big feature of the game. Hyatt, subbing for Claffin, played well with the exception of occasionally over-running his man. Melvin, who started in place of Betzel, had hard luck in shooting. Although Dunwoody threatened several times they never took the lead. Score—17 to 23.

SOCIAL CALENDAR

You need no longer get your "dates mixed." A social calendar has been hung on the wall of the lower corridor. Here all social events for the next two months are to be posted, so that no complications will arise from having planned two affairs for the same time. Before calling a meeting of any sort, inspect the calendar first.

LINCOLNIAN

A meeting of the Lincolnian will be called at seven o'clock next Wednesday evening in Mr. Mitchell's room. Short extemporaneous speeches will be given by the members on the important topics of the day. A full attendance must be had at this meeting.

Just Girls are working on the Style Show and will have a meeting after Tuesday's assembly for suggestions and announcements.

TRIBUTE TO PROFESSOR CLARK

The Normal school has published its quarterly bulletin in the form of a tribute to Prof. Clark, who served as head of the department of mathematics for nearly 30 years and in Dec. of 1919 retired to a beautiful home in Hanford, Washington.

The book contains a biographical sketch of Mr. Clark's study and work. It also gives an account of the special assembly held in his honor upon his retirement from the active faculty. At this assembly President Ames gave a summary of his work in our school, touching upon his influence here and the loss the school sustained by his resignation. Mr. Hunt spoke of Mr. Clark's great work as an educator in this state, and of the prominent places he has held. Miss Weld expressed the appreciation of the Alumni for the help and fair treatment they received at his hands. Miss Pardee's "An Appreciation" voices admirably the thoughts of many others who knew Mr. Clark and his accomplishments here. An account is given of the faculty banquet at which Mr. and Mrs. Clark were guests of honor. Miss Regan, assistant supervisor of the training department at the Eau Claire State Normal school, contributed to the bulletin a high and well written tribute to Mr. Clark. A short description of Mr. and Mrs. Clark's home in the West concludes the booklet.

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. meeting Thursday night in North Hall furnished a very good program, which was interesting and instructive. Alumni members of the Y. M. C. A. while attending school, spoke on the value of the Y. M. C. A. and the good obtained from being connected with it and having the experience, and also the individual value which they obtained from their connection with the Y. M. C. A. in their experience in teaching.

Special music also formed an important part of the program.

ASSEMBLY TALKS

At the Tuesday assembly President Ames spoke on the average student's disposal of time and how a student could, with a wise arrangement of time, easily make good in all of his subjects and still have plenty of spare time for recreation and other necessary duties.

THURSDAY'S ASSEMBLY

The opening number of Thursday's assembly was a selection by the orchestra. The rest of the time was devoted to the discussion of the viewpoints and policies of the nations concerned in the Limitation of Arms Conference at Washington. The policies of America and Great Britain were given by Chalmers Dawee; those of China by Ruth Heinman, Japan's by Lorin Strong, and those of France by Mr. O'Brien. Assembly was closed with the singing of "New America" by all.

CIVIC CLUB

The Civic Club held its regular meeting Tuesday night, Jan. 3, 1922, and, as usual, those present had an opportunity to hear some live discussions.

The main part of the program was devoted to tryouts for the extemporaneous speaking contest that is to take place between the different societies. Those who will represent the Civic Club in this contest will be, Miss Romola Cheney, Miss Van Wyk, and Mr. Chapman.

The next meeting will be in the form of a party. Every boy is to bring a girl, and every girl is to invite a boy. Now is the time for you to join the Civic Club and get in on its good programs and good times.

Miss Schlosser is ill at the present time.
