Chad Mitchell (center) points the way in a number last Thursday evening.

Chad Mitchell Folk Singers Make "Mighty Big Night"

It was a MIGHTY BIG NIGHT for the 2000 spectators who swarmed Karges to hear and see the Chad Mitchell Trio perform last Thursday.

INTENSITY is the word that best describes the performance. No matter whether the song was the solemn "Four Strong Winds" or the satirical "Bright College Years," there was always an underlying intensity, a solid feel, that characterized it.

Another characteristic of the Trio's performance was their precision. In even the softest songs, the three singers paid absolute attention to what music instructors might call "hitting the note on the head."

Unlike many popular singing groups, the "Mitchell Boys" blended their voices so well that they produced a smooth chordlike effect. The Trio was met with powerful response from an awed, expectant audience.

At the intermission, members of the Trio remarked to a VOICE photographer that their audience was a very warm one.

"For the first time, we made money on something big," said publicity man Vince DiSalvo of the Social Committee.

"It's absolutely a profit," DiSalvo emphasized as he told of month-long efforts to publicize the Trio's appearance here. Money is yet to come in from three high schools, one fraternity and one sorority.

Nearly all Chad Mitchell Trio numbers received tremendous ovations from the spectators, and a few selections brought down the house.

If the house lights had not been turned on soon after the encore number, the audience might have called the Trio back for another encore.

Aptly ending the concert was a version of "Rally 'Round the Flag" which symbolized the effect on the American people of the loss of John F. Kennedy.

Attending the concert were high school students from at least 15 high schools, people from River Falls and the surrounding communities, and River Falls College students.

Skeptics No More

DiSalvo reported that receipts so far total nearly $2000 from the Chad Mitchell Trio concert in Karges Center Thursday night. Expenses, including $1750 to engage the Trio, came to about $1950, he said.

"I think the Student Senate has been conservative about entertainment on campus," DiSalvo said. "Now," he added, "the Senators have something to give them confidence in the future."

Last year, when the Four Preps were here on campus, expenses ran $1200 over ticket sales. DiSalvo said this had left the Senate doubtful about sponsoring other costly entertainment.

As DiSalvo told of the planning behind the Chad Mitchell Trio's appearance, he noted that several senate members had been highly skeptical about making any money, or even breaking even.

Members of the Trio said they were pleased with the spontaneous audience response here. DiSalvo said the Trio weren't prima donna's; they were easy going and nice to work with.

Film Society Sponsors

Ballad of a Soldier

Tickets are now on sale at the college bookstore for the Russian film "Ballad of a Soldier." The movie, sponsored by the Falcon Film Society, will be shown at 7 and 9 p.m. Wednesday at the Falls Theatre. The price is 75 cents.

Tickets may also be purchased at the theatre, but only those bought at the bookstore will benefit the film society.

This is the third series of movies sponsored by the Falcon Film Society. "Wild Strawberries" and "The Wrong Arm of the Law" were the first two films presented by the group.

ROISING

St. Thomas Graduate Joins Art Faculty

Lawrence Rosing, of Minneapolis, has been added to the faculty as a part-time instructor, and is teaching Art 11 and Introduction to Art. Rosing was born in Minneapolis, Minn. in 1935 and attended the Minneapolis School of Art, the University of Minnesota, and the College of St. Thomas, St. Paul, Minn. He graduated from the Minneapolis School of Arts with a BFA in 1958, and from the College of St. Thomas with a degree in MAT in 1963.

Rosing competed in the competitive art shows at the Walker Art Center, Minneapolis, the Minneapolis Institute of Arts, the First National Bank Show, and the Minnesota State Fair. He took second and two honorable mentions at the Minnesota State Fair, and first at the Minneapolis Institute of Arts Biennial.

He has been in group shows at the Instituto Allende, and Genova Gallery in Mexico, the University of Minnesota, St. Thomas College, and the Unitarian Societies of Minneapolis and St. Paul.

His one man shows include showings at the Kilbride Gallery, the Moorehead State College, and the Minnesota State Fair.

Rosing will be exhibiting his art in a two man show at the Minneapolis Institute of Arts in March of 1964.

Tryouts Set For Alum's Winter Play

Tryouts for the coming winter play will be held in the Little Theater tonight through Thursday from 7 - 9 in the evening. The play, "The Jester in the Hall of Dying Kings," was written by a graduate of River Falls, Elizabeth Wiskerchen Johnson.

Miss Blanche Davis, head of the speech department, will direct the first part of the rehearsals and Mrs. Johnson will direct the final part when it is presented here.

Birthday Party Is Tomorrow

The Meal Plan Birthday Party will be held from 3:30 to 4:30 tomorrow in Room 105 in the Student Center. Each student invited to attend this party may bring one guest. Those invited are: Cristeen Anlauf, James Baier, Linda Bergman, Amelia Brummund, Carlyn Bryngelson, Warren Carlton, John Carroll, Raymond Cress, Vance Cushing, Donald Fanslen, Noel Ferry, Phil Filiflet, Donald Froelich.

Brock Featured At Eau Claire Directors Meet

Student Union directors from the nine Wisconsin State Colleges met at Eau Claire November 13 and 14. The meeting was held to seek solutions to problems confronting the various directors.

According to Robert Brock, Student Center director at River Falls and a featured speaker at the conference, the meetings serve to make the solutions used by one director available to the others.

Brock indicated that the two biggest problems at River Falls were a lack of respect for the furniture of the center and building maintenance.

He pointed out that many students use the tables on the main floor of the Union for foot stools.

Due to insufficient janitorial personnel the building cannot be kept as clean as Brock would like. He urges all students to do their part in keeping the building clean.

Boy-Girl Dinners Prove Success At Men's Dorm

The experimental meal plan in May Hall is proving successful according to Dean B. J. Rozehnal, Lee Palmer, head of Ace Foods, and the Inter-Dorm Council president, Sanders House. The plan involves freshmen and sophomore women eating evening meals in May Hall.

The Inter Dorm Council plans to take a survey to make sure the majority of students approve.

So far the arrangement seems enjoyable to the students and will be continued.

The plan was formulated by Rozehnal and Palmer at the request of the Inter-Dorm Council.

Musicians Play In North Hall Tuesday Night

The music department will present a student recital on Tuesday, Dec. 10, at 8 p.m. in North Hall Auditorium.

The varied program will feature vocal, keyboard, woodwind and brass solos and ensembles in works by Scarlatti, Bach, Beethoven, Verdi, Menotti and other composers.

Admission is free and the public is invited.

Grad Faculty Grows By Eight: Now Totals 33

Eight faculty members were named to the graduate faculty last Monday morning, bringing the total graduate faculty to 33.

The new members are: Dr. Gerhardt Bohn in agriculture, Dr. Jack Bostrack in biology, Dr. Robert Calentine in biology, Dr. John Hill in chemistry, Dr. Leland Jensen in education, Dr. John Lankford in history, Dr. Gerald Randolph in English and Dr. Gilbert Smith in economics.

Graduate faculty are nominated to that position by the academic dean of the same school, and the nine-man executive committee (graduate council) has the power to accept or reject nominations by a majority vote.

Because Summer Session teaching appointments are made prior to Dec. 15, the new graduate faculty was selected at this time to provide a larger pool from which to draw Summer Session graduate faculty.

Summer Session faculty are chosen by the President, Dr. E. H. Kleinpell, upon recommendation by the academic deans.

Graduate level courses were first offered at River Falls College in the 1960 Summer Session, when 29 graduate students were enrolled. Since then, the students taking graduate work, which is offered only in the summer, have increased to 127 last summer.

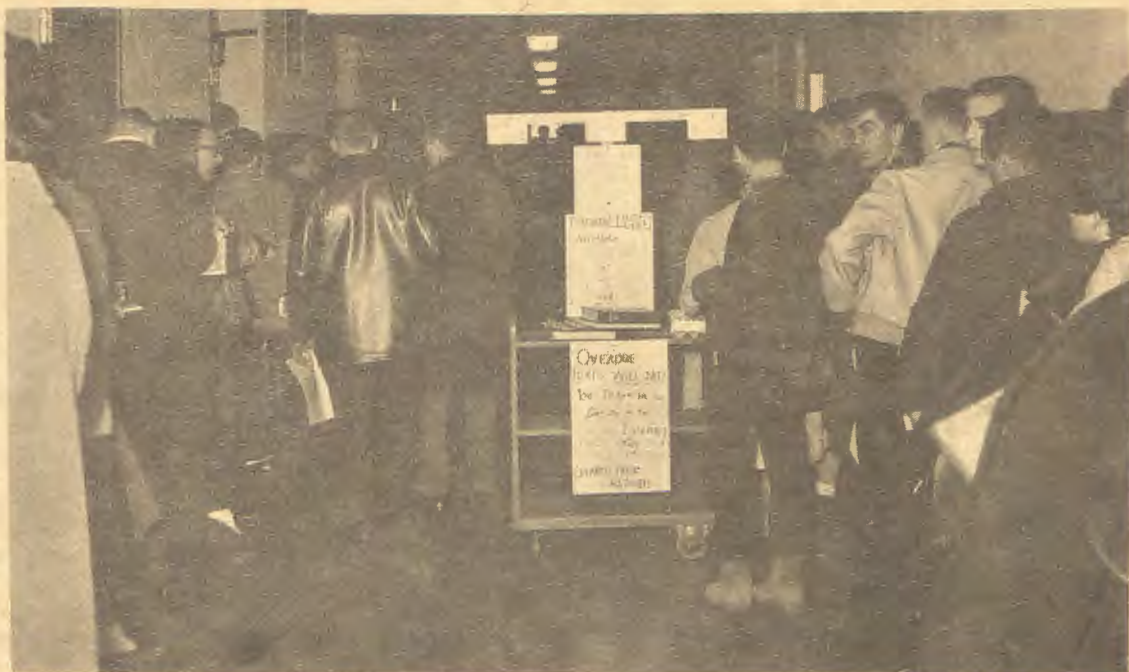

Choir Concert Will Feature Holiday Music

The River Falls College Choir, under the direction of Elliot Wold, will present its annual Christmas concert on Monday, Dec. 16, at 8 p.m. in North Hall auditorium.

The music encompasses many moods of Christmas. Selections from "A Ceremony of Carols" by Benjamin Britten will be featured by the Choir. The Brass ensemble, under the direction of Conrad De Jong, will join the Choir in presenting "In Dulce Jubilo," by Praetorius.

The Madrigal Singers, directed by Mr. Wold, will present traditional Christmas carols as well as more unique Christmas compositions.

There will be no admission charge.

STUDENTS WAITED PATIENTLY in line as they attempted to check out winter quarter textbooks at the textbook library last week. Despite signs explaining check-out procedures, many students had trouble exchanging textbooks.

European Study Tour Set for Next Summer

River Falls State College students will be studying in Europe again next summer, according to Walter Nottingham of the art department.

One group of students participated in the college's Quarter Abroad program this fall under the direction of Dr. Robert Bailey of the social science department.

Next summer's program, the European Art Field Trip, will consist of 40 days in Europe and will offer two to nine hours of college credit.

Total cost of meals, lodging and transportation from New York and back again will be $872, Nottingham said. In addition, the college will charge $8.75 tuition per credit hour.

Enrollment will be limited to 45 students. All must have at least sophomore standing and hold a grade-point average of at least 2.0.

Students on the tour will work on individual study projects and will visit Amsterdam, Cologne, Frankfurt, Munich, Venice, Florence, Rome, Pisa, Nice, St. Tropez, Arles, Lyon and Paris.

Credit will be offered in: Art 12, Introduction to Art; Art 75, History of Art; Art 76, History of Art; Art 105, History of Art; Art 31, Drawing; Art 32, Drawing; Art 33, Drawing; Art 190-191, History and/or Drawing.

In addition, two to six hours may be taken in art, Nottingham said, and three hours from another department with the approval of the student's adviser.

An orientation meeting, including pre-registration, is planned for 7 p.m. Feb. 20 in Room 103 of the Student Center.

Later, three meetings devoted to registration, immunization, securing passports, selection of individual projects and discussion of required reading will be held May 8, 15 and 22.

Further information is available from Nottingham or Dr. L. G. Stone, director of summer sessions.

Senate, Center Board Review Their Problems

On Monday, Dec. 2, the Student Senate met with members of the Student Center Governing Board and the Social Committee to make an analysis and review of activities and problems which have arisen on the committees.

One of the problems brought out was that of keeping the student body informed on the functions and the role of the Student Senate sub-committees.

The Student Center Governing Board is composed of students appointed by the senate and Faculty members. It establishes policies for the programming and functioning of the Student Center. The Activities Committee and the Public Relations Committee, sub-committees of the Governing Board, plan the Student Center program and coordinate social events of campus organizations. The Social Committee, appointed by the Senate, is a central organization responsible for scheduling and coordinating campus social activities.

It was pointed out that some organizations do not request the Student Governing Board's approval on events to be scheduled on the social calendar. This approval is necessary before the event can be registered with the Dean's office.

Members of the Social Committee proposed that additional members be appointed during special entertainment events, because more workers are needed during that time.

A need for improved parliamentary procedure on the part of the Senate and its sub-committees was indicated by the members of each. Senate president Larry Feltes urged review of Roberts' Rules of Order.

Meletean Asks Senior Information

Seniors who turned in pictures to the Meletean must also turn in a sheet containing the following information: name, home town, major, minor, activities participated in, including the year of participation and any offices held in campus organizations.

The information must be turned in to Room 21 or Room 267 in Hathorn Hall before Friday, Dec. 13, according to Diane Fansler, Meletean editor.

About 25 Newmanites played cards and checkers with St. Joseph Home residents last Tuesday evening. Prizes were given to the residents, and a light lunch was served. Apparently, both young and old enjoyed themselves.

The Spirit Was There

In one of the first meetings of the fall quarter, the Student Senate voted to finance the Social Committee's request to contract the Chad Mitchell Trio for a concert to be presented on the River Falls campus. In debating the issue, the Senate brought to mind certain misgivings concerning the possible failure of the venture. These misgivings were based mainly upon the large financial loss of the Four Preps concert last year, and the sometimes "lackadaisical" attitude toward "cultural pursuits" that prevails sometimes during "cultural moments" that crop up on campus like baby alfalfa buds.

Vince DiSalvo, student senator, was appointed as coordinator and publicity chairman of "Operation Chad". DiSalvo and all those who helped him, worked throughout the fall quarter to publicize the concert on campus and all over hell. Their efforts were immensely successful.

The Chad Mitchell concert provided a first-hand look at the brighter side of college life to the high-school students in attendance, and even to many RF students who, heretofore, had been dwelling in the darkness of the dormitories. It has paved the way for further big-name concerts, for more school pride, and for an enhanced reputation of "The College Where the Free Spirit Prevails."

Unfair Advantage

Foundation Week was supposed to have been slated for the WEEK of Nov. 10. Here it is, one month later and the committee has yet to announce which social organization will be awarded the prize for contributing the largest amount of money. Why is this?

The main reason seems to be that the committee is still permitting organizations to turn in more money. Yes, as odd as it may seem, organizations can still contribute to the worthy cause and have the money credited to them.

While this may be enriching the Foundation Fund, it certainly is not fair to the organizations who competed in Foundation Week for one week. In the future perhaps this event should be renamed "Foundation Winter."

This is the second consecutive activity in which the scoring of the competition among organizations has been confused. The changes in the point system regarding homecoming were never published and no one knows where the successful clubs garnered their points.

If this situation cannot be remedied in the near future, perhaps there will be a very light turnout of clubs when Winter Carnival comes around. After all, who wants to compete in a game without knowing the rules.

Responsibility of Brotherhood

Before the alleged assassin of President Kennedy was killed in Dallas, a reporter asked people there whether they felt ashamed or guilty because Lee Harvey Oswald was from that city. This question could be called foolish, even stupid, even though some interviewees felt that a stigma had been placed on Dallas.

The question was stupid mainly because, according to reports, the fatal trigger was pulled by only one person, not the city of Dallas.

Kennedy himself had said that the whole human race is in the struggle for survival together, and that we are our brothers' keepers, that each man is responsible for his brothers in the world.

The results of an FBI investigation into the assassination were sent to President Johnson last week. One point made in the report was that Oswald planned and carried out his "mission" alone. In fact, he had been a loner all his life. Where were his "keepers?"

Another question brought out during reports following the murder was, "How, in this civilization, in this modern time, could such a thing have happened?"

The answer is that wherever and whenever there exist relatively high levels of individual freedom and a high standard of living, there are bound to be people who have real or imagined inadequacies that make them feel cheated.

Perhaps Oswald was one who felt cheated. Perhaps by committing this one stupendous act, he felt he would get his long-awaited attention. He did.

In some quarters a cry has gone up demanding stricter laws in an attempt to remove from society the Lee Harvey Oswalds. That's not the answer. Education is needed to enforce the acceptance of individual responsibility to keep from becoming an obsolete word.

The one thing that freedom needs in order to survive as a way of life is individual restraint. External control can be compared to a lie. In order to make it stick, more controls must be added, as lies must be added, to prevent circumvention of the original.

A person feels that his own cause is righteous. If that's the way Oswald, and Jack Ruby, felt, society needs protection from both the righteous and those who know they are doing wrong.

Letters to the Editor

Mud or Cement?

Dear Mr. Editor,

Now that we have experienced a most successful Foundation Week scheduled just before final week, I would like to make a small suggestion to the members of that committee.

I know the Committee has their minds set on putting all the money made during Foundation Week into the South Fork, but I think they should consider taking a small part of it and have a sidewalk constructed across the lawn between the Union and Hathorn Hall. Now I am not trying to run down the South Fork project. I think it is a real good idea to put this area into some use. But I also think it is a shame to watch green grass being trampled down and out of existence by our light-footed coeds.

I have watched the grass in this area being killed off and reseeded every year for three years now and I think the time and money spent on this task, a nice sidewalk could have been built and a lot of time saved. A sidewalk would cut the area in two, but which is worse, a sidewalk or a dirt path? When the Committee thinks about beautifying the campus, I think they should consider what the visitor will see first, and a dirt path staring them in the face is not very beautiful.

Interruption

It is not often that I as a student feel compelled to question the moral judgment and good taste of any faculty members. However, to those instructors who happened to give final examinations at the time of the assassination of President Kennedy, I cannot help but to pose this question:

Why did several of you feel compelled to inform your students of the death of the President during the examination. Certainly you could not have been so naive as to assume that this horrible truth would not influence our work.

Many of us caught in this predicament either gave up completely or just simply "washed out." We asked ourselves, "What am I doing here" and we could not find an answer. We were sickened and felt lost. Indeed, it was strange how something as previously important as a final examination became senseless and futile within seconds.

As I understand it, a few instructors either imply or flatly stated that because of the assassination, we students should dedicate ourselves and write a better paper than we normally would. Although the intention of these faculty members may have been good, I cannot see how such an implication can be considered as anything less than prostitution of a dead man.

If this is an exaggeration, I will certainly welcome a rebuttal. For now, I can only say that it hurts when one's sentiments are so grossly misunderstood. For the faculty to assume that we really didn't care and that we had to be prodded into action was indeed an insult to our dignity. And believe it or not, we do have some dignity.

Individual Treatment

Dear Fellow Students:

Winter quarter registration is over, and as usual, voices are being raised in criticism of various facets of the college structure. In this case, the discussion centers around the class organization, and more specifically, class dues.

Graduation traditions place the burdens of many of the graduation expenses on the treasury of the graduating class, the main reason for the high class dues assessed. About 70 per cent of the total class dues are spent for rental of caps and gowns, the senior banquet, and other lesser expenses connected with graduation. Problems arise from inconsistencies in classification stemming from variations in the time spent in earning the credits required for graduation. Due to this situation, each class treasury bears the expenses for students who have not been assessed the full amount paid by the majority of the class, and on the other hand, some students pay dues to a class with which they do not graduate.

I would suspect that this system of graduation expenditures possibly originated with past classes which may have sponsored fund raising projects, rendering such a practice beneficial to the class members. If this is the case, the tradition has outlived its purpose, since it now serves only to make the senior class a middleman in the payment of graduation expenses. I do not advocate abolishing the class as an organizational unit. It serves many purposes beneficial to the college, and it can and should be made more effective in these areas. Graduation, however, is an individual matter, and under the current class system, graduation expenses could be handled more equitably and efficiently on an individual basis.

It is too late for the senior class to break this tradition, and the junior class may have proceeded too far in the tradition to be able to change. I would seriously advocate the concern of the freshman and sophomore classes with the elimination of this tradition.

Kennedy, A Man of Fame Before He Became President

Senator John Kennedy, Democrat from Massachusetts honored River Falls with the first stop of his Wisconsin tour on Nov. 12, 1959.

Kennedy already had received several distinguished citations including being voted one of the ten "Most Outstanding Young Men in America" by the National Junior Chamber of Commerce, and being awarded honorary Doctor of Law degrees by eighteen colleges and universities.

Senator Kennedy attained in 1957 the nation's most coveted literary award, the Pulitzer Prize, for his biographical history, "Profiles in Courage."

Plans for Kennedy's appearance, one of many prominent personalities to visit the campus that year, was made by the Young Democrats Club at the college.

The Massachusetts senator spoke to an overflow crowd in North Hall Auditorium. Mentioned as a possible 1960 Democratic presidential candidate, he was on a two-day tour in Wisconsin. Kennedy visited River Falls again on March 29, 1960.

Dr. E.H. Kleinpell and the then Senator John F. Kennedy.

Dinner Party Honors Students From Abroad

The Foreign Students Association honored three of its members at a dinner party at Miss Marion Hawkins' residence on Monday night, Dec. 2. The three students, who will be leaving River Falls soon, are Kwang Woo Lee, senior from Seoul, Korea; Vilas Nititham, senior from Bangkok, Thailand; and Leon Headley, senior from Camboja, Canal Zone.

Nititham, who has majors in political science and sociology; and Lee, who has a mathematics major, will go to graduate school. Headley will go on to his internship in medical technology.

The organization extended its good wishes to the three, and asked them to continue the work of better understanding wherever they go.

Also in attendance at the meeting was the newly formed Foreign Students Advisory Committee, Miss Hawkins, chairman.

Announcement was made of the annual Christmas dinner party, which will be held at the George Nelson residence on Monday, Dec. 16 at 6:30.

Editor's Note

(The following speech was delivered at the meeting by senior Iraj Amirarjomand of Tehran, Iran, on the occasion of the fall quarter graduation of three foreign students who all plan to work in different places in the United States before going on to graduate school.)

"I am very grateful to Mr. Chubby Checker who contributed the dance, twist, to society; from now on, when any speaker is shaking in his boots in front of an audience, and you wonder if he is nervous, he can turn and say, 'No, I'm just twisting.'"

"As the old song said, 'It's time to say goodbye.' Usually the hour of departure is not a very pleasant one, but it is a part of our job. Probably the most important one. For we are only a means of transferring knowledge and ideas back to our countries. Another part of our job is to keep our friendship alive, a kind of perpetual bond. We believe that if a foreign student learns only two words--just two words in this country and he goes back home and tells about these words, we have two more words in common. Probably by means of this commonness, we can enlarge world understanding, and we can prevent hatred, prejudice and disaster.

Association Needed

"Some years ago some foreign students here at River Falls College thought that a foreign student, in spite of his size, his intelligence, needs what is called basic essentials, and concluded that an association could supply and supplement his personal strength. If you want to really know what it means to the foreign student to be homesick, just ask any American who has lived abroad.

"Here I would like to quote from your late President Kennedy, for I call him the 'Comet' of the Twentieth Century-- 'I believe in the struggle of man with hate; in the darkness of ignorance there will be a comet which will light the whole Universe for one split second, and it's up to Man to take advantage of that split of a second to find his way in that Darkness of Ignorance in order to move ahead.' He went on to say, 'One of the characteristics of this Comet is that it will be destroyed physically, very fast, but spiritually it will last forever, for it has already shown the Way to Mankind.' He warned us, 'What we started will not be finished in the first 100 days, nor in the next 1000 days, but let us begin.'

Organized in 1959

"And we began in the year 1959-60, when five foreign students- Albert Hadawi of Jordan; Z Mann of Turkey; Zaf of Ghana; Vilas Nititham of Thailand, and Iraj Amirarjomand of Iran--met and decided that the best way to meet the needs was to form an association for foreign students. We needed a special advisor and we have her (Miss Marion E. Hawkins), an advisor who cares what we eat, how we dress up and whom we associate with. With the help of our advisor we have proven to this community that foreign students are more than a password.

"The foreign student is a person with intelligence, and he can contribute a lot to society if he is provided with the necessities of life, mainly love, care, attention, and guidance.

First Loan Fund

"We, the Foreign Students Association, are the first to establish a loan fund for its members in the State Colleges of Wisconsin; we were the first organization who thought of a tennis court dance; we were the first to bring another college band, Macalester, to play at the First International Costume Ball in a beautifully decorated hall; we travelled North, South, East, West, as far as time and other conditions allowed us to go.

"Little things and big things, as big as our mental capacity allows us to understand, we have contributed to the place in which we live and of which we are so proud to be a part--a real part of this student body. The place that has helped us to understand the final cause of man--happiness.

"On the basis that no man is a hero to his debtor, we will continue to contribute in the future, for we have to be heroes. With us we carry new ideas, new ways of life, and new images. Unless we are heroes, we will not be able to transfer these images, these ideas, from an ideal to reality and action.

Many Backgrounds

"Mr. Lee: (Kwang Lee) I would like to remind you that in our little United Nations we are dealing with nine or ten different backgrounds or cultures yearly. As soon as a sentence is said, it will be understood in 9 or 10 different ways. So in our small UN we have time for Crises too. In any of those critical moments Mr. Kester Lee stood by the constitution of this organization and the people who put all they had in it to see the success of our aim and for this we are grateful to you. We all wish you the best of fortune and someday we will meet here or there.

"Chief: (Vilas Nititham) You are one of the five people who contributed to the concept of this organization. I believe you have much to be proud of and a lot to be happy for, for the rest of your life.

"Butch: (Leon Headley) You played a vital role in the talent shows from which we derived the major portion of the money for the Foreign Student Loan Fund. The Panamanian number was professional and you were the driving force. We are grateful and hope you will find success and happiness. We will miss you."

Several members of the Foreign Students' Association gathered at Miss Hawkins' home to wish well three graduates in the organization who are leaving this area.

Social Committee Requests Organizations to Co-operate

The Social Committee has requested each campus organization to do two things when applying for a calendar date to sponsor an activity, during the winter quarter.

At least one week before sponsoring an activity, fill out an application in the director's office at the Student Center, listing the name, date, time, and place of the activity.

Then attend the Social Committee meeting on or before the week preceding the requested date to receive permission and complete any added information. The Committee meets every Monday at 6 p.m. in the Falcon Room, located opposite the Director's office in the Student Center.

Seniors to Hold Placement Meet On Wednesday

A placement meeting for all Liberal Arts seniors graduating during the 1963-64 school year will be held Wednesday, Dec. 11, at 1:25 p.m. in the Little Theatre.

The purpose of the meeting will be to introduce the placement director, Dr. Leland E. Jensen, who will discuss the procedures and opportunities for placement.

The Placement Office also announced that the Dow Corning Corporation will interview prospective candidates in the fields of chemistry, physics, agriculture engineering, economics and business administration on Friday, Dec. 13, from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Interviews should be scheduled with the Placement Bureau in Room 114, North Hall before Friday.

Faculty Art Is Displayed

William C. Ammerman, head of the art department, has announced a two and three dimensional faculty art show to begin today. Rugs, sculpture, pottery, oil paintings, water colors, drawings and prints will be exhibited in the lounge of the Student Center.

The six members of the art department, including Lawrence Rosing, who joined the faculty winter quarter, will have work on display.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANIES SALUTE: DON LIEBERS

Recognize the man below? You may have seen him on your campus. You see, Don Liebers (M.B.A., 1960) represents Michigan Bell on many college campuses—Don's a Staff Supervisor in the College Employment Section.

Don earned this important promotion after demonstrating his ability in both line and staff jobs. On one, as an Accountant in Comptroller's Operations, he revised the Revenue Accounting Department Instruction for billing directory advertising—a major contribution.

Seeing what he could do, Michigan Bell next put Don in charge of the 71 Data Processing people who, among other duties, issue the company's entire monthly payroll!

Again Don proved himself, and again his reward was a promotion—this time a full-level jump to Staff Supervisor.

Don Liebers, like many young men, is impatient to make things happen for his company and himself. There are few places where such restlessness is more welcomed or rewarded than in the fast-growing telephone business.

Anderson and Balke Lead Scoring As Falcon Keglers Retain 8th Place

The high school wrestling tournament slated for next Saturday will feature a host of strong schools from across the river.

The Perennial powers Alexander Ramsey and Robbinsdale will be stacked against such doming powers as Hastings, whose coach informs us that he will have a strong tournament team, and St. Paul Park, where hard driving coach Nyles Tolzmann is working to build a winner. Jim Hinz, (175 pounds) a runnerup in the state last year will lead the Parkers' assault on the established mat powers.

Karges Center will really be getting a workout on the 14th as the cagers will open their conference season against arch-rival Stout that evening.

The "spot light effect" which was used at the wrestling match last Wednesday was a pleasant innovation. The apparently lopsided drobbing of the weak Auggies could easily have been turned into a 17-18 defeat if the visitor's 167 pounder had made his weight.

Still the match showed some fine young prospects for Coach Evans, notably freshman Tom Bauman who pinned his man in 45 seconds. To say that Evans is fielding a young team would be a gross understatement as the varsity that took on Augsburg consisted of four sophomores and five freshmen.

Safest bet of the year is that the receipts for the wrestling matches will be in good hands. Gilbert Smith of the economics dept. is in charge of their collection.

The comment, "Lets do this again some time" was frequently heard during last week's volleyball tourney. With nearly 80 men participating, the event was a big success. We must heartily concur with the desire to do it again some time.

Tonight, during the half-time period of the Winona basketball game, the final match of the volleyball tourney will be held. This is a continuation of the policy of having some exhibition at half-time. We can remember how successful these half-time shows were last year when everyone tried to cram into the pool to see exhibitions ranging from diving to lessons in handling a kayak.

The Falcons Bowling Team traveled to St. Olaf on Nov. 16 in an attempt to advance in the Tri-State Conference standings, but returned to River Falls still in eighth-place.

The local keggers were completely outclassed as they met Mankato State in their first match of the day. Mankato rolled a 2116 series compared to the Falcon's 1980 to take three points and remain in first-place. Duane Anderson and Dave Balke provided the only team spark as they rolled a 557 and 508 series, respectively. Anderson rolled the high game of the day for the Falcons with a 223 finish.

River Falls and the University of Minnesota, Morris met in the second match with the loser dropping into the cellar. River Falls rolled games of 754-681 and 762 for a 2197 series compared to UMM's 742-639-611 and 1992. Duane Anderson rolled a 211 game and a 608 series and Dave Balke rolled a 222 game and a 594 series to give the eighth-place Falcons a three game sweep.

In the last match of the day, R. F. could have moved into sixth-place, but the local keg-lers were not up to the challenge as St. Olaf took all three points. R.F. rolled games of 647-673 and 699 while St. Olaf rolled games of 716 - 684 and 713. Our keggers lost the second game by nine pins and the last game by a total of 14 to remain in an unrespectable eighth-place.

The Falcons will host the next match at the Hill-Top on Jan. 11. The local keggers will face LaCrosse (7th place) and the University of Minnesota (3rd place). The River Falls Bowling Team can only expect to improve as Vic Londo and Jon Cook are expected to join the presently "fledgling and floundering Falcons."

After two weeks of Intramural action in both leagues, the Sleepers remain in first-place in the All-Star league followed by the Upsets. Both teams swept four points from their opposition last Monday night.

In the Regular league the Alley Cats and the Strikers both remain undefeated with perfect 6-0 records. This Wednesday, these two teams will clash with the winner probably going on to win the league crown.

Chess Champ To Challenge All Comers

Bill Finley, champion of the College Chess Club, will play all-comers in simultaneous matches next Wednesday, Dec. 11. The event will take place at 4:15 in the Student Center Dining Room.

Finley will play all who come at the same time. There will be an entrance fee of 10 cents. This will be refunded in the event that the challenger can defeat Finley.

Participants are requested to bring their own chess sets if they have any available. Others will be furnished by the chess club.

Finley stated that he expected to win "70 per cent of the matches."

BILL FINLEY, THE MAN WHO THINKS THAT HE CAN BEAT ANYBODY, warms up in preparation for this coming Wednesday when he will attempt to take on all available challengers at the same time.

DOWN AND NEARLY OUT is Ken Trudell, 191 pound Falcon grappler as he struggles with Chuck Schulz of the Auggies. Schultz pinned Trudell.

JOE JELIK APPARENTLY HAS HIS AUGSBURG OPPONENT, Win Stiefel, in trouble here in the 177 pound match, but Stiefel wiggled out and went on to win a 4-2 decision.

Young Matmen Pin Loss on Auggies

Led by an inexperienced combination of freshman and sophomores, the Falcon wrestling squad nipped a favored Augsburg team 22-13, in last Wednesday night's season opener in Karges Center.

Augsburg showed weakness in the light and middle-weight classes, but displayed power in the upper-weight classes. However, their late efforts were futile in the attempt to surpass the insurmountable 22-0 score the Red and White had compiled.

The grapplers will face strong opponent when Luther College appears in Karges this Friday. Luther captured the Iowa College Conference title last season.

Coach Al Evans, who was extremely pleased with the team's winning performance, mentioned that aggressiveness was the factor that counter-acted the squad's lack of experience. He added that aggressiveness plus conditioning will be highly stressed this season.

The young wrestlers scored points on four decisions, one fall and one forfeit for the 22 point total. The Auggies scored on two falls and one decision for their 13 points.

The only RF grappler to pin his opponent was Tom Bauman, freshman from Watertown. Bauman, a quick 130 pounder, added five points to the team score with a fall after only 35 seconds had ticked away.

Behind 22-0, with three matches remaining, the gray and maroon-clad Auggies finally lit the scoreboard. Joe Jelik, Rice Lake sophomore, lost a close 4-2 decision to the visitor's Win Stiefel. Ken Trudell, Hudson sophomore, and Ken Miller, a freshman from Woodville were both pinned in the late stages of their matches.

Tie Ends Volleyball Meet

Last Monday ten teams participated in the intramural volleyball tournament. The result was a tie between the "Grubbers" and the "Pan-Americans." Each team played four games with the grubbers and the Pan-Americans each winning three and losing one.

There will be a championship playoff on Monday night Dec. 9 in Karges Gymnasium during the halftime of the River Falls-Winona basketball game. Standouts for the winning teams included Bruce Neuenfelt and Fred McKenzie of the Pan-Americans and Dave Jensen and Tom Sempf of the Grubbers.

The intramural basketball teams have been split into two leagues.

O. B. Bergsrud, who is in charge of the intramural program has stated that he will try to find some teams to switch from the "F;" League to the "R"

League so that each will be balanced.

The "R" League is supposed to be composed of the better teams and will play on Thursday nights. The "F" League will begin action one week from tonight and play all their games on Mondays.

Presently the "R" League consists of Gremlins, Steve Allen All Stars, Mafia, Fabulous Five, 69'ers, Townies, The Initials, Floor Burns, All-Guards, Crabs, Badgers, Big 10 and Dorm Stormers.

The teams in the "F" League as of this time are Ric's Reck, Poor Souls, Beetle Bombers, Church Mice, Prior, Struve's Bingers, Desirables, Bob Cats, Kosy's Bohunks, The Shysters, 221 Kids, Basketeers, The Herd, Seagrams II, X-C's, West Wing Raiders, Chief's Chargers and Anythings.

Tank Team Sunk; Record Set

The swimming season at River Falls got off to a fine start Friday, inspite of the fact the Falcons lost to the Hamline Papers by a 50-38 score.

Several first year men scored impressive performances for RF, highlighted by Micheal White's race in the 500 yard freestyle. White finished third in the time of 6:49.4 for a new team record. The time was a full 35 seconds faster than the previous record held by Lloyd Nelson. White swam a determined, consistent race and kept pace with his fleet Hamline competitors.

The best competitive race of the day was the 200 yard backstroke in which Falcon swimmer Bob Machacek matched his endurance against that of Hamline's Branes. Machacek grudgingly refused to give up ground to the flying Branes. However, Machacek finally lost the race by .5 of a second, a mere arm's length.

Three fine performances were turned in by another first-year man, Dennis Muller.

Cagers Downed Twice Despite Good Shooting

Coach Page and his Falcon cagers kicked off the 1963-64 campaign by dropping a 71-66 decision to Hamline University on Nov. 30. The River Falls squad followed suit and were beaten by Macalester Wednesday night on the Scots home court, 93-77.

In both games the Falcons showed good shooting. Against Hamline River Falls made 25 of 48 shots for 52 per cent. Against Macalester the "Page-men" pumped in 30 of 66 attempts for a 45 per cent shooting average.

An ironic point about this fine shooting percentage that River Falls has enjoyed, is that they have attempted only 114 shots in two games while their opponents have shot 166 times. Coach Page says this is due mostly to the good shooting percentage and a lack of good rebounding. Page said, "The ball handling has not been what it should be either."

The big gun for the Falcons in the first two games has been sophomore guard, Ken Lee. Lee hit for 24 points against Hamline, making 10 of 14 field goal attempts and Wednesday night followed with 18 points against Macalester.

River Falls will be short on experience this season as there is only one starter left from last year's squad. Coach Page feels that as the team gains a little more experience that they'll "be a much better ball club."

Against Macalester Page had as many as three freshmen playing at one time. In the Macalester contest, freshmen Dave Knepel, Paul Kramer and Dan Collins chipped in with 15, 13 and eight points respectively. Other scoring in that game came from Lee with 18; Nate Schilling, 11; Roger Oestreich, 6; and Tom Roelke, Bob Pritchard and Tom Sempf with two apiece. The big guns for Macalester were Gary Davison, Scott Johnson and Ron Feist with 18, 15 and 13 markers apiece.

Tonight the Falcons will open the home season against Winona.

Burke Named MVP

Linebacker Gary Burke, senior from St. Paul, has been elected captain of the 1963 football squad and the most valuable player by his River Falls State College teammates.

The defensive standout also won the Falcons' tackling trophy, awarded to the player credited with the most tackles during the season.

Another honor for Burke is honorable mention on the all-conference defensive team. End Dick Pariseau, senior from St. Paul; Halfback Tom Sempf, junior from Glenwood City; and Tackle Mick Brandstatter, sophomore from New Auburn, also made honorable mention on the defensive unit and Jim Baier, freshman fullback from Elmwood, received similar mention on the offensive team.

Head Coach Gwynn Christensen awarded football letters to 32 players--including 11 freshmen, five sophomores, 12 juniors and four seniors.

Freshman lettermen are: Baier; Doug Dube, Milltown; Dave Hicks, Hastings; Joe Jelik, Rice Lake; Nate Landrum, Withee; Chuck Madson, Spring Valley; Ed Pohl, New Richmond; Ted Ragatz, Stanley; Gary Rau, Barron; Phil Waller, Janesville; and Dave Wirtala, Withee.

Sophomores receiving letters are: Brandstatter; Tom Hetzel, Tess Corners; Larry Madsen, Wheeler; Bill Murphy, River Falls; and Dennis Langkos, Centuria.

Juniors cited are: Sempf; Harv Ankley, Sarona; Tom Bosman, Baldwin; Wayne Burich, Chippewa Falls; Duane Johnson, River Falls; DeWayne Johnson, Cameron; Dennis Kaiser, Hudson; Glenn McNaughton, Durand; Orland Olson, Westby; Bob Pritchard, Lafayette, Ind.; Reno Rizzo, Lafayette, Ind.; and Bob Sommerville, Hayward.

Senior lettermen are: Burke; Pariseau; Leif Gigstad, Sturgeon Bay; and Mike Wiskerchen, Plum City.

Managers' letters went to: John Hammes, sophomore from Chetek; Ted Pastor, sophomore from New Auburn; and LaVerne Boettcher, senior from Chippewa Falls.
