New Organization Inaugurated This Year

School To Go On New Basis

The division of the thirty-six weeks of the school year into three terms of twelve weeks each instead of division upon the old two-semester basis is the chief feature of the new plan which goes into effect for the first time this year. To the old students this will cause slight change, if any, in courses or in the number of hours required for graduation, but those entering for the first time will come under the new plan applied to its fullest extent.

The main reasons given by the local authorities for the change in organization is that it provides better credit relations with other colleges and universities, and aids in raising scholastic standards by providing for one or two term classes which heretofore have run either too long or too

SEVERAL CHANGES IN FACULTY

There have been several changes in the faculty for this year. Miss Mary B. Kimball of St. Paul has taken Miss Lathrop's place as librarian. Miss Lathrop is now in charge of the public library at Oshkosh. Miss Kimball is a graduate of the Wisconsin Library School and has had wide experience in library work.

Miss Lemmer, our assistant music instructor last year, was married to Mr. John Donald Dewire of Chicago, Ill., Tuesday, September 16. Miss Lemmer is succeeded as music instructor by Miss Dorothy Hatch of St. Louis Park, Minn. Miss Hatch received her training at the University of Minnesota and the McPhail School of Music. She is an exceptionally talented violinist.

Miss Mable M. Parker succeeds Miss Howell as the third grade critic teacher. Last year Miss Parker held a similar position in the Albion Normal School (Idaho). She is a graduate of St. Cloud Teachers' College.

Coach Says Football Prospects Bright

Practice Starts First Night

An interview with Coach Eggebrecht disclosed the fact that he looks forward to the coming football season with the brightest of hopes. The old men who are back, and their number is not inconsiderable, will be given strong competition for their places.

Practice started Monday night with a squad of about 40 out in suits. While it is always hard to tell much from the first practice, if we may be allowed to hazard an opinion, the stuff displayed Monday promises a team of which the supporters of the Red & White may well be proud.

Coach Eggebrecht and Captain Myles Smith have both been busy the last few weeks looking up prospects, and persuading them that River Falls was the place for them to display their talents. Judging from

NOTICE TO BAND MEN

All men who play any sort of band instruments are asked to report at the city hall tonight 7:30 - 8:00 (with instruments). We want a band this year that will put the old pep into the rooters and team. Everybody out!

Inter County Stock Show Coming

Event To Be Biggest For Years

The Stock Show, which is an annual event in this school, will be held September 25, 26 and 27, on the Normal Campus. It will be put on, as usual, by the Agricultural Department of this school with the financial aid of the community. On Friday, the special feature will be a vaudeville and on the following day, a pure bred cattle sale. The Stock Show will not only be interesting, but will furnish excellent opportunities for the men in the Agricultural Department to develop managing ability. New students, as well as other, are advised to come, spend fifty cents (the admission), and obtain over a dollars worth of useful information. A more detailed article on the Stock Show will appear in the next issue.

BEGIN RIGHT

Vacation from school duties is at an end, but vacation from the summer work has just begun. We want you to make the best of that vacation by receiving all its benefits which offer themselves to the students in many varied forms. Every where you go you will find a welcome hand. Why not give in your return handshake the very best that you have. By so doing the spirit of welcome can be made the spirit of the times.

Athletics need the "everlasting team work of every blooming soul." If you can help the team by your presence in the field, then go out and give the best you have. If you cannot do your part in the field, you certainly can do it in the sidelines by filling the air with the spirit of victory. This year ought to be a year of victory, but it cannot be without the help of the new students. They are the new life and new blood of the school. To them everything in the school must turn for aid, and in return give the new student all of its benefits.

The many organizations do not exist for themselves, but for the other fellow. They help blend the school into one homogeneous spirit, the spirit of River Falls. The different types of organizations are for the various types of students. Before joining an organization, the new student should find out what organization needs his particular ability and what organization would be of the most benefit to him. All students should join some organization. "Join a few organizations and boost for them," should be the prevailing motto.

The normal school offers to the student many other advantages. For those who like public speaking, it offers many opportunities. Journalistic work is open in both the Meletean and Student Voice. The orchestra and band work needs the new students. The Glee Clubs are open for those that can sing. Everywhere the students can find a place for their particular talents.

The only great difference between high school and normal is in the system which the student uses in the preparation of the subjects on his program. The high school study period before each class provides an excellent system of study. The organization of the students working hours at Normal must be made, to a large extent, by himself. This will overcome your difficulties and take the word "grind" out of your vocabulary.

Remember that while you cannot pull the school on to victory unaided, you can join your efforts with those of your fellow-students, and together reach the goal toward which every River Falls student should be striving, the glorification of the Red & White.

A new section, Campus Life, will be featured in the Meletean. Various smaller departments of the former Meleteans are to be combined under this head. Another department will be the Administrative Department, in which the different courses of the school, such as the Science or Agriculture courses, will be portrayed. The new staff has its work definitely laid out and is prepared for action.

Though handicapped by several unexpected vacancies, the remnants of last year's Student Voice Staff had enough strength left after their summer vacation to hand in plenty of copy for this first issue. The temporary staff line-up is:

Acting editors—Carleton Ames and Bartlette Luttrell

Business manager—Marcell Lynum

Typist—Thelma Segerstrom

The positions yet to be filled are editor-in-chief, assistant editor, athletic editor, assistant business manager, agricultural reporter, and one or two reporters. Anyone wishing to try out for these positions should see Mr. Hanna, Bartlette Luttrell or Carleton Ames.

Mr. Everett Smith has been selected for the position of Editor-in-Chief of this year's Student Voice.

Mr. Smith will take charge of the second issue and will appreciate the support of the student body in making the Student Voice a real force in school life.

SUMMER SCHOOL REVIEW

This year's summer school was attended by over 400 students. faculty, which numbered about thirty, contained no new members, but several served in rather unusual capacities as substitutes for their colleagues who were enjoying their vacations. Miss Roherty was dean of woman (for one day); then she was succeeded by Miss McMillan. We can find no information about who acted as dean of men; although it is possible that no such office was necessary, since there was such a small number of men in attendance.

The outside activities of this summer school were not neglected. A faculty social committee successfully planned and sponsored an informal mixer party, an all school picnic, and four dances.

Many special programs were featured for the assembly hour. Foremost among the lecturers here this summer were Mrs. James Harvey Robinson and Miss Helen Parkhurst. The customary entertainment number by outside talent was a violin concert by Gilbert Ross. A five day Chautauqua, which was as good an excuse for not having lessons as the High School Basket Ball Tournament, was held in River Falls while summer school was in session. A girls' baseball league, consisting of teams representing the neighboring counties, attracted a great deal of interest. A list of outside activities would not be complete without mentioning the E. A. W. productions for the benefit of the Athletic Council, a concert given by the orchestra, and the twilight league.

the results so far, their efforts have been crowned with great success.

We start the season with four of last season's five backfield men on the job. The missing one is Ernie Ziebell, quarter and captain. His loss will place a load on the player who aspires to fill his shoes, but we do not doubt that such a one will be forthcoming from the wealth of material that has already reported to the coach.

The old men back are: L. Smith, Williams, Ingli, Quandt, Nelson, M. Smith (Capt.), Heggen, Maier, Radamacher and Jenson.

From River Falls High School, come the two Dawson Brothers, and Laurence Gibson, who will make the best of them step to hold their jobs.

Moore, another big tackle, hails from Stanley, where he held down that position, along with the captaincy. With him comes his teammate, Brown, a husky center.

Those who saw the high school basketball tournament, and track-meet last year will remember F. Bucholtz. Frank has already drawn a suit and is out on the gridiron determined to win a place with the Red & White.

By the time this goes to press there will probably have arrived three much-heralded athletes from Spooner; Koepf, Fundheller and Stahl. Koepf has played two years with St. John's and should prove a valuable man to Coach Eggebrecht. The two who accompany him have football reputations which have traveled before them.

We must not omit to mention the arrival of "Shorty" Halron, a personage well known to students of a year or so back. Shorty has returned, and made known his intention of drawing a suit and going back to the old struggle on the gridiron.

These are but a few highlights in the situation. It would be impossible to gather, or to print the names of all the candidates who will make determined bids for places on the team. Let it suffice that the coach is more than satisfied with the outlook and with his squad, and that he expects to mold a team from this promising material that will force the best of them to extend themselves to keep it from the top and the State Championship.

short a time for their best advantage. For example, a class scheduled for five hours a week and running for an entire semester under the old plan may have been crowded for time to complete the required work. This same class, organized on a two-term basis, will gain the necessary extra time to fully complete the work in the best possible manner, and thus provide better opportunities for good work.

The summer session of six weeks, where heretofore students could complete a full nine weeks work, is also affected by the new plan. In the future, students will do only half a terms work in the six weeks of summer school.

With the new schedule of rates and fees and the new term system, the old school is radically changed. But have you noticed! The 7:50 classes of last year are the 8:00 classes this year. "Every little bit helps."

The opening enrollment is above the average, 425 enrolling the first day with expectations that the enrollment for the first week will run to 500 or beyond. The heaviest enrollment is in the Department for High School Teachers, with large enrollments in the Rural Department and the Department for Elementary Teachers.

Indication are that students have come from a wider territory than customary. Members of the faculty in touch with students, report good talent for various school activities.

Classes and societies will complete organizations at an early date, so that all school activities may be under way with little delay.

The early comers who are recorded as the first ten to register are:

- Carroll Grubb
- Vernette Peterson
- Carleton Ames
- Sherman Biles
- Harold Edwardson
- Helen Mooney
- Clayton Holmes
- Sigrid Rasmussen
- Genevieve Stewart.

Senior: "You must be well read."

Lester Jacobsen: "Marie is a good looking girl and a nice one boot."

Matt Nelson: "Why you ought to be ashamed of yourself."

Dan Linehan: "Aw—d'yo want a poke in the nose?"

The only difference between the dime novel of yesterday and the novel of today is about a dollar and ninety cents.

Old as well as new students will need directions on how to reach the new location of the Student Voice office. The simplest directions we can give are these: Go into Mr. Stratton's room (when he hasn't a class), look out of any of the windows; try to locate a small vine covered entrance on the lower left hand corner of the south wall of the east wing of South Hall; leave his room and go out the east entrance, and look around for the above mentioned vine covered entrance. When you have finally found it, open the door and walk down seven steps, then you'll be in the new Voice office! The Voice office is, however, not a place for loafers, and Miss Weberg threatens to force us to leave her basement domain unless we behave.

After attending the summer session of the Kansas Agricultural College, at Manhattan, Kansas, Agnes McDonald made an extensive trip through Texas to California. She decided not to go into the movies, so she is back here in R. F. again.

Another important change in the building is the moving of the text book library. The door between the old girls' rest room and library has been opened, and the text books have been shifted into the rest room. This is a change that the librarians have been looking forward to for some time.
