Doc Karges is presented with an "R" Club jacket and bound volume of letters by Jerry Easton. In the background is "Boscoe" Farrell.

'R' Club Pays Tribute to 'Kargie' At Testimonial Dinner Saturday

An overflow crowd pushed its way into the college cafeteria Saturday night to pay tribute to the man they dubbed "Mr. River Falls"—Dr. Rudolph A. Karges.

The occasion was a testimonial dinner sponsored by the "R" Club. Jerry Easton, president of the organization, presented "Kargie" with a bound volume of more than 200 letters sent by well wishers of the retiring faculty member.

On behalf of the "R" Club, Mr. Easton gave Dr. Karges, who has been the River Falls representative on the Wisconsin State Athletic Board since it was formed in 1912, a jacket usually awarded to a three-year letterman in any major sport. Said Easton, "Dr. Karges hasn't won three letters in any major sport, but forty-two letters in every sport—one every year he's been here."

Toastmaster R. E. "Boscoe" Farrell introduced (in a flippancy way) a number of guests who spoke briefly. Included were H. T. Hagestad, former River Falls tackle; Ed Rock, first president of the "R" club and president of the River Falls State College Foundation; George Schlagenhauf, former coach who returned Maiden Rock high school had as its commencement speaker Dr. L. Gordon Stone, head of the Professional division. His address was delivered at graduation exercises May 16.

Dr. Walker D. Wyman, head of the Social Science department, spoke to the graduating class at Osceola May 16 and will speak at Barron on May 22; Nelson on May 23, and Durand on May 29.

Bob Fislser speaks tomorrow evening at Plum City and Dr. Ray Garnett will speak at the Commencement exercises at Taylor County Normal in Medford May 30.

Rehearsing for "The Corn Is Green" are Donna Jones (as Mrs. Watty), Donna Sammons (as Bessie Watty), Heather Dopkins (as Miss Moffatt), and Marie Tweit (as Miss Ronberry).

Masquers to Offer Famous Play Of Welsh Mining Village

Band Announces Open Air Concert

An outdoor band concert will be presented by the River Falls State College band at its annual Spring concert, Thursday evening, May 22. The campus lawn will provide the bandstand, Nicholas Jadinak the directing, and RF students the music. All this entertainment will be made possible by a free-will offering from band enthusiasts.

The program is composed of many favorites and has been selected for audience appeal. After "Strike Up The Band," features of the concert will include Stephen Foster melodies, Victor Herbert favorites and always popular band marches.

The complete program includes the following numbers: Strike Up The Band—Gershwin Three Rhythmic Dances—Heywood Jones

- a. Russian Caravan Dance
- b. Indian War Dance
- c. Danza a la Flesta (Cuban Rhumba)

Memories of Stephen Foster Featuring various soloists of the Band and a Brass Quartet.

Spiced with amusing combinations, eccentricities and a leaning toward caricature, "The Corn Is Green" offers River Falls playgoers a serio-comic ending to the year's productions. In the college auditorium at 8 p.m. Wednesday, May 28, the lively lines of Emlyn Williams' Broadway hit will be portrayed by college students.

The plot is concerned with a bold-minded and surprising spinster (Heather Dopkins) who sets up her own school in a remote Welsh mining village and discovers there a young genius (Arden Buchholtz), potential Oxford material. Hampered by local distrust, but a master of skillful flattery, she finally adds to her cause the local squire (Richard Granum), a tweedy influential ass who exclaims "The early 18th Century! When was that?"

Other complications beset the schoolmarm with her protegee's momentary rebellion against the intellectual forcing process and the entrance of the village temptress (Donna Sammons), a remarkable blend of brat, slut and pathetic girlhood.

Among the variety of comic characters who will draw interest is Mrs. Watty (Donna Jones), reformed pickpocket, salvationist and housekeeper.

In addition to these persons, lively characterizations are announced.

Eight Faculty Members Planning Change of Jobs Next Fall

Three faculty members have been granted leaves of absence from the staff at River Falls State college and three others have resigned.

Dr. Carleton Ames, member of the history department since 1938, has been granted a leave of absence in order to work for the United States Foreign Service. Dr. Ames reports in Washington June 1. Following nine months of training there he will be given a foreign assignment.

A 1924 graduate of River Falls, Dr. Ames taught in Wisconsin high schools before joining the faculty here. He has been advisor for the MELETEAN for a number of years, and was the charter advisor for the Alpha Psi Omega Dramatic Fraternity when it was organized here in 1943.

Bernard McCarthy, also of the history department, is taking a leave of absence in order to finish his doctorate. It will be necessary for him to spend two years in residence at the University of Chicago.

Zelma Whittenberg, first grade supervisor in the campus school, has been granted a year's leave of absence for further graduate work. She will study at the University of Colorado at Boulder. Miss Whittenberg holds a master's degree from Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene, Texas.

How Wild Are College Students?

Robert Stein, author and editor, recently took a tour of 100 colleges and decided that today's college student is more mature, responsible and studious than his predecessors. He gives his report in an article on "How Wild Are College Students?" in this month's issue of U.S.A.

He says the big switch toward sobriety has gone practically unnoticed by the public. This is because "an account of several dozen brawling, rioting students makes more dramatic reading than the story of 2.5 million young men and women quietly and efficiently going about the business of learning."

He says the old "rah-rah" exuberance if giving way to a quiet purposefulness and that hazing is being replaced by acts of community service. Students, he concludes, are solemnly preparing for the "grave responsibilities which will soon be theirs."

The Wizard Says

Since six girls on the first floor of Hathorn Hall acquired poodle cuts as their new coiffures, the telephone is answered in the following manner: "First floor dog pound, which poodle is yours?"

Parents of most students have come to know two types of letters during the past year: "Pop, I need some money," and "Thanks for the money." Students at Holy Cross College, Massachusetts, have published a pamphlet entitled "Picking Pater's Pocket," being keenly aware of the financial status of most students. Some sample suggestions of what to tell the old man when you want him to shell out include: "...and I contributed all of last month's allowance to the Ubangi Missions," or "How was I to know they were using a Canasta deck?" If these methods fail, the pamphlet suggested that you insure your roommate, with you as beneficiary, and then either push him out of the window or smother him with a pile of dirty laundry.

Thanks for a Swell Rec Day, Committee

To the Rec-Day committee, Marge Lund, Art Jevett, and Carver Foukes, thanks for a successful day. The morning duties were accomplished in short order with excellent cooperation from the students. Some of the faculty had rolled up their sleeves, too, and we hear one member is a very talented straw boss.

Everyone participating in the afternoon sports and the spectators seem to have enjoyed themselves immensely, if we can judge by the various sound effects and smiles.

The winners of the tournaments were: Golf—(tie for high) Nate DeLong and Clark Houston; (low score) Bob Adamson; (low put) Delmer Dietsche. Archery—(high score) Hagstrum. Tennis—(mixed doubles) Mary Eck and Doc Greenquist.

Of course the ball team came through with that win over Stout we had promised you.

The dance floor was pretty crowded, too, especially for the slow numbers. Could it be some were a bit too tired to tackle the fast ones?

From Our Notes---

Eleven Years Ago

The play, "Our Town," was presented by the senior class.

Fourteen Years Ago

Double header with Mankato Teachers; Mankato won the first game 4 to 3.

Fifteen Years Ago

Twenty-one years ago this month the first issue of the Student Voice, the student weekly of RFSTC, came off the old job press as a result of the efforts of the class of '17.

A three run rally by the Falcons in the fifth inning against Gustavus last Friday was just one run short, and the River Falls boys lost a close game 4-3.

The thirteenth annual district high school music festival was held at River Falls on April 29-30. 1200 students from fifteen schools took part.

River Falls won a double header from Mankato Teachers 6-3 and 3-2. Erickson and Teeples were the winning pitchers.

Seventeen Years Ago

Preparations for Spring prom were begun; a snow theme with igloos, penguins, and icebergs was used for decorations.

Nineteen Years Ago

French and German classes presented three plays in the French and German languages.

Twenty-one Years Ago

Forty-five students received degrees in the Senior class of '31.

RF'ers Air Pet Peeves, List Gripes on College Social Life

by Roger Knieff

Following is another part of the Student Senate survey which was conducted last October. A total of seven parts was asked in the questionnaire. Two parts were taken up in the last issue of The Student Voice and two more are presented below.

Students were asked to list their pet "gripes." About the only conclusion to be drawn from the freshman gripes is that they don't like 8 o'clocks; in fact they just don't like much of anything. It is evident that they are just out of high school and came here with many illusions about college.

The sophomores seem to be past this stage and are now thinking more about what they want to get out of college. This is noted in their gripes about the faculty and classes.

The juniors not only griped about classes and teachers, but also the Deans, library, school spirit, and the Agriculture Department.

Dissatisfaction with the Education Department is the big gripe of the seniors, with the Deans a close second, and the faculty a poor third.

As might well be expected, the longer one goes to school here, the more he has to gripe about. This can be seen in noting that the seniors had only one "no comment" while the juniors had six, the sophomores nine, and the freshmen 12.

Next the students were asked what features they liked about our social program. In answer to this question almost all the students mentioned the dances. A difference did show up between the freshmen and seniors. More freshmen like the concert and lecture series than like the dances. More sophomores liked dances than assemblies, but it was still very close. In the junior and senior replies, dances far outnumbered anything else. The students were divided about evenly on the matter of preferring dances on week-ends or during the week. From the miscellaneous items three conclusions can be drawn. They are: (1) Students realize we don't have the facilities for a better social program. (2) The social program is as good or better than it has been. (3) We have a good social program for such a small college.

When asked what they didn't like about the social program, almost half the freshmen had some complaints about the dances, but only one mentioned "nothing to do on week-ends." This might indicate that most of the freshmen go home week-ends. Of the sophomores half as many complained about week-ends as did about the dances. Of the juniors almost as many complained about student participation as complained about week-ends than did about the dances. The complaints about the dances were divided about equally between too many dances and too few dances, and between not enough on week-ends and not enough in the middle of the week.

From the miscellaneous answers on the social program, the following conclusions can be drawn: (1) It lacks variety, (2) Too many restrictions, and (3) Not enough social life.

The main suggestions for improvements were: (1) More cafeteria dances, (2) More week-end dances, (3) More mid-week dances, and (4) Some old-time dances.

From the miscellaneous items the following conclusions can be drawn: (1) Get "parties," (2) Have more for a recreation room for playing ping-pong, etc., something to do beside drinking alley, and free movies, and (5) The social events should be better advertised.

Dear Suesen: Maa Tech Ain't No Place to Catch a Man -- Mr. Fixit

by Mary Eck

Dear Mr. Tryan Fixit:

I am a student at Fall River Learnum College. In all my educational classes I have been told that one must make the objectives clear and then meet the needs and interests of the children to be a successful Learnum. The idea sounds good but since I am now a student shouldn't someone be interested in meeting my needs and interests? Obviously my objective is landing an eligible male, so my need is to have eligible males available to choose from and my interest is to make myself attractive enough to land one. First of all Uncle Sam is making it difficult for me to meet my need since he is cutting down on the eligible males by inviting them to sojourn with him in far away places. This, of course, makes competition keener for the remaining candidates. As if that isn't bad enough the college requires so much non-essential work that I frequently lose my beauty sleep to say nothing of not having time to put up my hair every night. What can I do to keep from being frustrated?

Suesen Sless

Dear Suesen:

You have a real problem. You certainly have a right to expect to have your needs and interests considered. You seem to have a choice of two decisions—either how to keep the eligible males available, or how to make the most of a bad situation. I have referred your questions to the proper authorities and list their answers below.

"At the present time nothing can be done about excusing the young men from a tour of duty. The young lady in question may try joining the civil service, the Red Cross, or one of the services."

Military Mismanagement

"The young lady should sleep in the classes where she is seated by girls so she can be at her best in the classes where she is seated by boys."

Stupid Senate

I hope this helps you solve your problems.

Coolidge Offers Retort To the 'Hen' Question

This and That

Calvin Coolidge was at one time a member of the Massachusetts Legislature. In an attempt to heckle him another member asked, "Say, Cal, is it grammatical to say 'a hen sits' or 'a hen sets'?" "Well," drawled Coolidge, "it's a good deal more important question where I come from to know, when a hen cackles, whether she's laid or lied."

"The practice of asking the same questions of consecutive classes saves the teacher from thinking more than once—and teaches the students the value of collaboration. And one of the surest methods of giving teachers a 'constipation of ideas' and the students a 'Diarrhea of words' is that of asking loose, general questions that make definiteness impossible."

RIVALS GRANDMA MOSES...

William Kohl's Enamel Paintings Featured in South Hall Corridor Exhibit

by Gladys Sigvaldson

How William Kohl preserved the memories of his youth is revealed in his paintings displayed in the main corridor of South Hall. They describe his youthful home and surroundings in Clifton Hollow on the banks of the Kinnickinnic River.

Mr. Kohl is a maintenance man at River Falls State College. He does not, however, let the routine of his days drown the interest he takes in the world around him.

Only one of the paintings, the scene on Pine Lake, is done in oil. The others employ what appears to be a new medium. "I painted them with enamel," explained Mr. Kohl. "Finding it impossible to get a brush to use with enamel in such fine lines, I made my own. Yes, it may be hard to believe but I chewed the wooden end of a match to the correct shred and there I had my brush. And with little expense I had a new brush whenever needed."

Nostalgia personified looks out at one from the enamel paintings. The colors are bright and the settings homelike, making

Second Tennis Court Dance Wednesday

Another tennis court dance for the benefit of the River Falls State College Foundation will be held Wednesday evening, May 21, it is announced by Dick Armstrong, chairman of the Social Committee.

Playing for the Wednesday night dance will be the "Toonful Tutors." Ribbons entitling the wearer to attend the dance will be given during the day at the entrance to South Hall to those making a donation for the Fieldhouse.

A similar dance was held last Thursday evening with approximately 200 students attending.

"Grandpa" Kohl too portrays scenes of his childhood. There is the old schoolhouse with a huge rock nearby on which schoolboy Bill often sat to eat his noon lunch. That landmark has since been blasted away, but not in Bill's memory.

The Kohl home with its farm buildings was swept away in a flash flood in 1911. With the aid of photographs and his memory Mr. Kohl pictures with exactness the setting of this rural community. "I had time evenings this last spring," he said, "and I couldn't think of a better way to use it than to help me remember where I spent so many happy days."

Hudson Junior High Here for Speech Meet

A similar program was held last year.

Students will be competing in the following divisions: extemporaneous speaking, extemporaneous reading, humorous declamation, serious declamation, and four minute speaking. Judging the events will be college speech students.

Bob Fiesler will arrange film showings for students who have competed or are waiting to compete.

A lunch will be served in the cafeteria.

John May Edits Ag Workbook

John M. May, head of the River Falls Ag department, in co-operation with Ivan G. Fay, has just published a "Farm Management Workbook" for teachers of vocational agriculture.

Mr. May has been working on the book for about one year. It is an experimental book aimed at helping the beginning teacher by serving as a guide in the teaching of Farm Management in high school.

The book is being published by the Interstate Publishing Company of Danville, Illinois.

Ag Department Adds Moisture Testing Machine; Free Use for Area Farmers

The college will offer a free service to the farmers of this community who wish to test the moisture content of their grains this summer.

Former Student In 'Who's Who'

Listed in the 1952 "Who's Who In America" is Joseph Peter Schaezner who attended River Falls State College from 1915-16 and received his B.S. degree in agricultural engineering at the University of Wisconsin in 1921. He did graduate work at the University from 1921-27 and in 1930.

Mr. Schaezner is prominent in the agricultural field, working with the Soil Conservation Service for four years as a specialist. In 1936 he was appointed assistant director of the Commission on Relation of Electricity to Agriculture. This position he held until 1939. He has continued in work dealing with the R.E.A. and at present lectures about the R.E.A. throughout the nation.

A new Electronic moisture tester has been added to the facilities of the Agronomy Department at River Falls State College. This machine gives a rapid and accurate test of moisture content of small grains.

This service will be available in the Agronomy building at the College under the direction of Professor M. L. Wall, head of the Agronomy department.

The moisture content of the grain determines if it is ready for combining and storage. A farmer may bring a one pint sample of grain in to be tested in the morning or after a shower and determine if it is dry enough to combine.

Grain stored with too high a moisture content such as last summer and fall resulted in excessive grain spoilage and low germination of seed grain this spring. Much of this trouble could be prevented if the farmers could have tested their grain and stored it at the right moisture content.

Anyone interested in this service may contact Prof. M. L. Wall, in care of the Agronomy Department, State College, River Falls, Wis.

Falls Splits St. Cloud Doubleheader

Mills Homers For Victory

John Mills smashed a 360-foot home run with one on board in the sixth inning to dissolve a Falls deficient against St. Cloud Saturday, handing freshman Kenny Barrows his fifth conference win in a split doubleheader, 3-2, 12-2.

Barrows, touched for one run in the first stanza, shut the door to St. Cloud scoring for the following five frames before giving up the final counter in the last inning, a fielder's choice scoring Pitman.

But River Falls went through the first five innings without scoring either, collecting three hits and three walks, leaving six on base for the third out.

Joe Burgoyne started the fireworks in the sixth, reaching first on a walk and advancing to second on Anderson's fielder's choice. After fanning and flying to center, Mills connected on a two nothing outside curve that went over the left fielder's head for four bases, scoring Anderson from second base and pushing River Falls to a 2-1 advantage.

Barrows added a personal touch to his fifth win, authoring a pair of doubles, one in the third and one in the last stanza, to lead the Falcon batting machine to its sixth-straight victory.

But St. Cloud dropped the axe on a trio of Falls twirlers in the second game of the twin bill, shelling out four home runs and 13 safeties, while St. Cloud's Branca exhibited his name-sake's mound prowess and passed out two scores on four base knocks.

Cabby Wild took over the mound chores for River Falls in the second bill but had trouble getting by the bats, allowing four homers, a three-base blow and a pair of singles.

Barrows took over in the top of the third to put out the fire, two away and two men on base. The blaze smoldered but never

Nelson-Barrows Spark 6-5 Win

Harley Nelson wrote his own superlatives in plate performance, freshman Kenny Barrows turned in another upperclass mound exhibition and River Falls edged highly-rated Eau Claire 6-5 last week, thanks to a big eighth inning.

Nelson, leading off in the top of the first inning, singled into left field, advanced to second as Doc Weber grounded to first, then came home on Don Barlow's double to deep center.

Mills scored in the second stanza on a safety over second and River Falls grabbed an early lead only to be touched for three runs in the fourth frame on three hits and a walk. Barrows settled down after the fourth and blanked the Blugolds into the eighth inning.

And in the eighth Hoy-Connelly & Co. caught fire for three counters on three Eau Claire bingles and two singles, Murphy and Burgoyne supplying the bat power.

Nelson singled with the score tied in the last frame and Burgoyne brought him home with a safety over second base to end the scoring and wrap up the game with a River Falls ribbon.

Freshman Barrows gave up six hits over the distance, fanned seven and walked five for the victory.

Champions have been named in the W.A.A. play tournament. Eliminations began early in April and were recently completed. The winners of the badminton doubles tourney were Jean Allie and Janet Reed. Winners of the ping-pong doubles tourney were Carol Jones and Mary Murphy.

Golf - Track Teams Win

River Falls golf and track men placed third and fourth Saturday in Bi-State competition at Winona Teacher's College.

But Falcon thinclads could muster only four points in the track and field events as John Odesma fired to a fourth in the discus and fifth in the shot, counting three points. The River Falls relay team also scored one point in the meet.

Mankato, pre-meet favorites, walked off with the match as expected, but found close competition in St. Cloud, finishing second, and Winona and Eau Claire in the third spot.

River Falls golfers found the competition a little more cordial, however, Chuck Beaver carding a 34-36-70 for medalist honors in the Bi-State golf meet at Winona.

Stout walked away with first prize with a team score of 311, lead by Bob Takasaki, number one man and runner-up to Beaver for medalist honors.

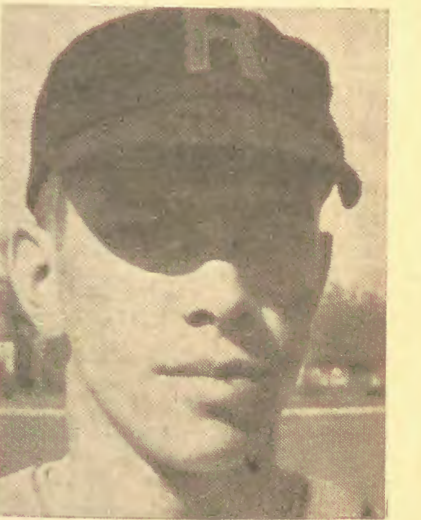

Jim Chaffee, for River Falls, fired a pair of 40's, good for sixth place in the meet.

Falls Divides Two Contests Against Stout

A four-run fourth inning and the seven-hit pitching of Kenny Barrows pushed River Falls to an 8 to 3 victory over Stout last week in the Falcons' second home appearance.

Barrows scattered seven safeties over the distance, passing out only two bases on balls while fanning six in his second win of the season.

Doc Weber started the fourth stanza revolt, taking first when hit by a pitched ball. Murphy skied to short center field and Tom Linehan hammered a triple, scoring Weber from third. Burgoyne worked Stout's Kort on the mound for a base on balls before Barlow singled into left field to score Linehan from third. Mills fanned on a two and three count and Troy Rudesill brought Barlow home on a single through second to end the scoring.

Ken Barrows

Stout's attack floundered erratically until the fourth, fifth and sixth innings, drawing three runs in those stanzas on three hits, a walk and an error.

Stout's golf team put in a more profitable afternoon at the expense of River Falls, however, beating the Falcon clubmen 11 to 4 in 18-hole match play.

Chuck Beaver, captain of the River Falls aggregation, captured medalist honors, firing one stroke better than his opponent from Stout, 36-36-72, par for the course.

Wild-Barrows Win As

Falcons Take Mankato Twin Bill 7-5, 7-4

Freshman Kenny Barrows and Cabby Wild twirled River Falls to a double-header victory at the expense of Mankato Teachers, 7-4 and 7-5, last week.

Barrows, carrying the mound chores in the opener, held the Teachers' to one hit, scoreless in the last stanza before Mankato opened the door with two singles, scoring twice as runners from third were forced home as walks advanced to first.

River Falls' Hoy-Connelly & Co. counted in the first, third, fifth and sixth innings, working six safeties and three Mankato miscues for the winning total.

John Mills and Joe Burgoyne led the Falls plate attack with two hits for three trips, driving in three runs.

Harley Nelson started the fireworks in the big third inning, working Mankato's Mintz to first and advancing to third on a double by Burgoyne. Barlow followed suit with a two base knock scoring both runs, moved to third on a passed ball, crossing home plate as Mills knifed a single to short left.

Barrows issued six walks, fanning one man. Mintz allowed five passes to first and sent eight Falcon stickmen back after third strike for the time worn drink of water. Barrows gave up three hits, Mintz threw six.

Cabby Wild carried the mound chores in the second game, spreading four hits over this distance.

Five Falcon fumbles counted in three Mankato runs as the visitors found the mark in the fifth frame for three scores to back up a pair of counters in the second and third innings.

But River Falls hit steadily, producing runs in the second, third, fourth and seventh frames to finish off the afternoon workout.

Doc Weber led in plate diagnosis with three hits for four trips to the plate, scoring three times from the field and driving in two runs.

Wild gave up seven walks and fanned five in allowing four hits in his stint on the mound for River Falls.

Zeke Wells, Falcon catcher, has been sidelined for the season with an elbow injury placing the catching chores on Troy Rudesill.

Henry Wants To Start Again But Not With Uncle Sam

by Les Neville

Hisashi (Henry) Yoshihara, junior majoring in math at River Falls, could have joined the navy and seen the world. But he didn't have to. The army gave him an all expense tour that took him from Hawaii to continental U.S., then to such scenic places as North Africa, Italy, and Southern France.

As for Henry's beautiful Pacific island birthplace, he remembers especially the easy going prewar tempo, made up mostly (as he puts it) "...of surf board riding, sitting on the beaches under coconut trees, and looking at pretty girls." Then the tempo changed.

In June of '41, with friction growing between the U.S. and island-hungry Japan, our government decided that it needed Henry—just in case. Pvt. Yoshihara got his initial training that summer and fall at Schofield Barracks—then that dreadful Sunday morning, December 7, Pearl Harbor had been bombed.

Some months later Henry and about 1200 other sun-tanned Hawaiians found themselves in a strange land called Wisconsin with strange people. It was ordinary now, however, that aroused their curiosity most. They had seen the stuff before, on high mountain peaks miles distant, but had never had the treat of romping around in it.

With hard, tough training, the novelty quickly wore off, as the now famous 100th Infantry Battalion (made up of Japanese-Americans) took shape. After six months at Camp McCoy, the outfit moved into the deep South for maneuvers, then sailed for Africa to join Mark Clark's Fifth Army. At Salerno beachhead in Italy the 100th made its name and won three Distinguished Service Crosses, 21 Bronze Stars, 36 Silver Stars and 900 Purple Hearts, and a Presidential Unit Citation. Henry earned his share—a Purple Heart with one cluster (he was wounded twice). In addition to his theatre ribbon, he managed to get the good conduct medal.

Hospitalization in Italy and Africa, a "vacation" at a rest camp in Southern France, then 21 days on a liberty ship, and Henry was back in America. A civilian again, he took high school in two years in Hawaii, after which he started his college career, which has taken him to San Francisco State, San Mateo junior college in California, Iowa State at Ames, and finally River Falls.

When asked about the future, he didn't say anything for a moment. Then, with a far away look in his eyes, he said dreamily, "I'd like to start all over again—surf board riding, sitting on the beach under coconut trees, and looking at pretty girls."

But probably he hopes that next time the tempo won't change.

Falls Splits Twin Bill At St. Cloud

Doc Weber took the final nod and covered the remaining two innings after Barrows' arm kicked up in the sixth frame.

For St. Cloud, John Pitman did most of the dirty work, with four for four at the plate on a homer, a double and two singles, driving in four runs with a perfect day. There were no more perfect days for St. Cloud. But there were some mighty fine averages and the accent was on fattening batting percentages.

Harley Nelson, hitting over the .500 mark in six games to date, continued his plate power mastery with a three base rap and an ace for three trips to lead the Falcon hitting attack in the second contest.

River Falls committed three river behind a trio of hurlers, one good for a run in the first inning. St. Cloud played errorless ball for the distance.

Stratton Draws For Gov't Book

C. G. Stratton, retired faculty member who has been the cooperative weather observer at River Falls for 34 years, has contributed to a recent publication by the U. S. Dept. of Commerce Weather Bureau.

Mr. Stratton, an amateur cartoonist, drew two cartoons which appear in a booklet entitled "The Cooperative Weather Observer." In a letter to the college from the Milwaukee office of the Weather Bureau, H. J. Thompson, section director, writes, "Professor C. G. Stratton has been the cooperative weather observer at River Falls since April 1, 1918, and his records have made an excellent contribution to the climatological history of River Falls and Wisconsin. The observations have been taken daily, Sundays and holidays included, throughout the years, and have been forwarded to us promptly weekly and monthly."

from Dallas, Texas, for the dinner; Ed Thomas, former River Falls tackle; Dr. Rex Mitchell, president of LaCrosse State College and former Dean of Men at River Falls; Dr. H. E. Bauer of Lake City, Minn.; D. D. Chinnock of Stout Institute, a member of the State Athletic Board; Dr. John Vezina of Mapleton, Minn.; Dr. Dean Smith of LaCrosse, and President E. H. Kleinpell.

In replying to the many tributes paid him, Dr. Karges said, "By golly I'm not kidding myself that I was ever that good. You've taken the thought for the deed and I thank you for it."

Referring to his habit of pacing the sidelines at football games, Dr. Karges said, "I want to confess to you that with advancing age and a little extra fat, my responsibilities there have been heavier in recent years."

Becoming more serious, the retiring chemistry teacher, former coach and vice-president said, "In looking back, I realize there is no other job I could have done for forty-four years that would have given me more pleasure and more satisfaction. You people here tonight are the finest group in Western Wisconsin and on over into Minnesota. The contacts I have had with you and others like you over the years has been a wonderful experience. All I can say is thank you."
