Students Enjoy Lectures Of Dr. J. Stitt Wilson

Noted Lecturer Gives A Three-Day Series Of Addresses On "Values"

THREE GREAT PROBLEMS OF LIFE WERE GIVEN BY SPEAKER

Dr. Wilson Recommends Five Books

"SCIENCE, PHILOSOPHY, ART HISTORY, REVELATION TESTS OF VALUES"

Doctor J. Stitt Wilson, noted lecturer, delivered a three-day series of lectures on "Values," to River Falls Normal students and townspeople this week. This is Dr. Wilson's third visit to the River Falls campus during the past six years.

Mr. Wilson, in the opening lecture at a special assembly Monday morning, laid the foundation for his series of talks by stressing what he called the principal of dimensionality. He said, "We are on the verge of a new world of thought by virtue of a new mathematics" and quoted one of the outstanding writers of the day as having said that the greatest accomplishment of man in the last thousand years is his concept of depth.

Gives Tests for Values

Striking the keynote of his entire message, he said: "Man is a creature of ends, purposes, meanings, and values." In the second lecture of his series he proceeded to show how that science, history, philosophy, art and revelation are tests for values, and just as our geographers and statisticians draw maps of the world, so scientists, philosophers and founders of religion draw maps of our values for us.

HIGH LIGHTS FROM HIS LECTURES

You cannot stampede a man who thinks.

As a man thinketh, so is he. Man alone has the power to apprehend concepts that determine conduct.

Materialism deflates human values, our affections and our sense of responsibility.

Hunger and love rule the world. One of life's greatest tragedies is a misdirected vocation.

God is your creation, your synthesis.

Push up on values.

Three Great Problems of Life

He outlined three great purposes of the individual which are: 1. To find your work. 2. To find your mate. 3. To find your God, and cited the three fundamental ends of life as follows: To find your truth; to find your God; to find your meaning. He said, "No man's meaning can be your meaning, no man's truth can be your truth, and no man's God can be your God."

Five great books were cited by Dr. Wilson as outstanding exponents in the new field of scientific thought. He named them as follows: "Emergent Evolution" by Lloyd Morgan, "Cosmic Evolution" by Professor Boodin, "Science and the Modern World" by Professor Whitehead, "Space, Time and Deity" by Professor Alexander, and "Science and Religion" by Fairfield Osborn. Numerous other books and pamphlets were placed available to students during his stay here.

The River Falls State Teacher's College is one of the smallest institutions visited by Dr. Wilson and men of his calibre, and students have a right to feel justly proud and fortunate at having heard him.

Prof. Lloyd Goble Dies On Thanksgiving Day

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT HEAD PASSES AWAY AFTER YEAR'S ILLNESS

The Normal School faculty and the whole community were shocked to hear of the death of Professor Lloyd Goble on the afternoon of Thanksgiving Day. Mr. Goble had been in poor health for over a year and his physician gave not the slightest hope for his recovery. His optimism and interest in all that was going on in the world, made it hard for his friends to realize that his end was so near. A short funeral service was held at the home, after which Mr. Bird and Theodore Goble accompanied the body to Illinois for burial.

Lloyd Goble was born in Westfield, Ill., December 16, 1868. He was married in 1907 to Nelle Green, who with his son, Alfred Theodore, and daughter, Carolyn Nelle, survive him. His family life was happy and beautiful beyond expression, and the sympathy of the whole community goes out to the bereaved ones.

Comes To River Falls in 1907

Mr. Goble began his education in the Eastern Illinois Normal and Westfield College, from both of which he graduated. He spent the year of 1900-1901 as a graduate student in Harvard University, and received his Master's Degree from the University of Illinois in 1907. He taught for a number of years in Illinois, and spent two years as a teacher in the Philippine Islands. While he was stationed there, he used his vacations to travel in China and Japan. Upon his return from the East he taught in Paris, Illinois, and in 1907 was elected teacher of English in the River Falls Normal School. In 1910 he was made Head of the English Department, which position he held to the time of his death.

19 Years on R. F. Faculty

Mr. Goble brought to his work in the Normal School, wide and accurate scholarship, a mind broadened by travel, and a spirit of kindly courtesy that soon endeared him to faculty and students. Throughout the 19 years of his service he has been honored by his students for his vast and accurate knowledge and has been loved for his sympathetic insight into their problems. No matter how poor the student, it was always hard for Mr. Goble to fail him; at the same time, his standards of scholarship would not permit to pass a student who could not do creditable work. Often he would ponder for days on a case where it was a question between (Continued on Page 2)

UNWRITTEN LAW CODIFIED BY NORSENG-SCOVILLE CORPORATION. LIST WILL PROTECT UNINITIATED WHO FALL VICTIMS TO MACHINERY OF THE DATE BUREAU.

My Gosh! What next? The date bureau, originated some time since by two of the more enterprising young men on the campus has come forward with an exhaustive and exhausting list pertaining to the decorum of co-eds while fulfilling dates secured either objectively or subjectively through the offices of the date bureau.

Men's Welfare Considered

"Our purpose in submitting this list," explains Norseng, who has charge of the publicity of the Bureau, "is to provide an adequate basis for the young men to prepare for whatever may turn up on one of their blind dates. We do not hesitate to say that we trust this list to the contaminating influence of the Press for the sake of the unfortunate male of the specie, in the hope that they will find light and inspiration therein. The girls have conclusively proven that they can well take care of themselves."

Incidentally, the Bureau has proven very satisfactory in securing dates for needy members, according to reports from the campus. Donald Olson is especially enthusiastic over the services of the Bureau.

Here Is The List

1. Freshmen and Sophomore girls are expected to consume at least one and one-half onions before every date to insure proper chaperonage.
2. A Junior or Senior woman need only eat three-fourths of an onion, provided the young gentleman is duly approved by joint action of the faculty and trustees.
3. Freshmen and Sophomore girls should not wear their own clothes more often than once a week, lest people should think they do not have any more.
4. Junior and Senior women are exempt from this ruling, not being supposed to have many, after two or three years at the Falls.
5. Young ladies are not expected to slide down the banisters of North Hall—it is considered out-of-date.
6. Young ladies frequenting scenes of fire in other than knickers and slickers are making a terrible breach of etiquette, and shall be fittingly ostracized from polite society. (For further particulars as to the proper toilette for various occasions, consult Don Bannister.)
7. Young ladies should never whistle or say "prunes" in the presence of men—it places their mouths in too promiscuous a position.
8. Young ladies should never be caught wearing a winter hat after

CONTRACTS FOR NEW BUILDING TO BE AWARDED

The State Department of Engineering is now advertising its bidders for the construction of the new building.

It is expected that the contracts will be awarded about the 15th of December, which will enable construction to get under way very early next spring.

The contracts will call for the completion of the new building by September 1, 1927.

Mr. F. E. Johnson, Architect of Superior, Wis., is preparing the plans and specifications.

New Ice Skating Rink To Be Opened Soon, Is Report Of Gen. Manager

RINK IS COMPLETE; READY FOR FLOODING WHEN WEATHER PERMITS

The new ice skating rink which has been constructed this fall on what used to be the old baseball diamond, will be opened as soon as the weather will permit a smooth freezing over of the water, promise those who are supervising the rink.

The rink is complete except for the all important flooding and freezing. This has been hampered considerably by two uncontrollable elements, the weather and the condition of the ground.

Soil is Sandy

The soil in the field on which the rink is constructed is sandy, and therefore does not freeze easily in the comparatively mild weather that we have been having. Three attempts have been made to flood the rink, but each time the water seeps through and settles in the sand. However, reports say that the ground is freezing fast now, so that soon it should hold the water.

Ice to Be Ready Soon

If the present cold weather continues a part of the rink will be flooded and frozen so that those who are eager to skate may gratify their desires soon, is the report. The rink promises to be ready for use inside of a week, if weather conditions permit.

A new way of flooding is to be tried this year, according to Prof. Spriggs. Formerly, level ground was flooded, which caused the ice to freeze at a slight slant, and made a rough surface. This will be eliminated this year by the banks built around the rink on the lower ground. Hence, when the water is turned on in the lower part, it will flow up hill, thus freezing into a smooth, level surface.

Warming Shed Soon Ready

The warming shed will be completed in the near future. The city has offered to put up lights at the rink, so as to make better skating at night. A fire hose is also being furnished by the city to help in flooding the rink.

The student body is watching these preparations with keen anticipation. "When will the rink be completed?" is heard all about the campus. This sentiment describes pretty well the keen interest taken by the lovers of skating in the community, to judge from the comments heard on every hand.

She is so dumb she tried to make an outlet without any eggs.

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS IN "MARK OF ZORRO" DEC. 6

Douglas Fairbanks, filmland's most popular athlete, will make his first appearance here this year in one of his masterpieces, "The Mark of Zorro," at 8 o'clock on Monday night, Dec. 6. This photoplay is a forerunner of "Don Q," which will be shown here on Monday, Dec. 13.

In "The Mark of Zorro" Doug is at his best. Always a popular movie star, in this picture, he wins his spectators to him by his recklessness of consequences, his coolness in the face of danger, his sleight-of-hand tricks, his marvelous swordsmanship, and his protection of the oppressed. Then too, his superb acting abilities find full play in this movie, as they do in "Don Q" declare those who know Doug and have seen these pictures. Admission 15c and 25c.

R. F. Grads Coach Teams That Win at Madison

STOCK JUDGING TEAMS WIN HONORS AT STATE CONTEST

Judging teams coached by former graduates of the Ag. department won many of the high honors in the various classes of the judging contest at Madison.

The team from Bruce coached by Wm. Wichelman placed first in the grain judging contest, fourth in poultry, and ninth in egg judging.

The Roberts team coached by Harold Lawrence placed first when it came to judging beef cattle, sixth on sheep and eighth on horses.

Ezra Hutchinson, who is teaching at Clintonville comes in for a large winning with a first in judging guernseys, first in swine, fourth on apples and eighth on eggs.

Elmer Koesing, coach at La Farge, took fourth place on Guernseys, fifth on Jerseys and ninth on sheep.

The Nelson High School team coached by Glen Hutchinson, placed first in judging horses, fourth on Guernseys and eighth on Holsteins.

Other River Falls grads with winning teams were Harry Nelson, Ondonogon, and N. E. Eckley, Waterloo.

Such records as these speak well for the Ag. department and show that River Falls men can equal the best.

The tightest guy we know is the fellow who, on his honeymoon, sat home with his girl looking at a picture of Niagara Falls while he left the water running in the sink.

This is a section of the 1925 Poultry show, showing the grain and vegetable department.

North Hall gym will have a similar show Thursday and Friday next week.

Poultry Fanciers Will Show High Class Birds For Honors Next Week

COMMUNITY CLUB EXHIBITS A SPECIAL FEATURE OF SHOW

Poultry Show Receives State Aid

RURAL SCHOOL DEMONSTRATION TEAMS COACHED BY AG. MEN

The seventh annual poultry show, sponsored by the aggies, will be housed in North Hall gym next Thursday and Friday when local poultry men will compete for honors in the show pen.

The boys and girls club department is a special feature of the show, along with the community club exhibits, judging contests, rural school demonstration contests and two special programs.

First Show Seven Years Ago

In order to give the Ag. men some practical experience in this work and incidentally boost the community in general, the Agriculture department put on its first poultry show seven years ago. From a showing of 100 birds the first year the show has gradually grown until last year there were 650 birds in the show, 250 of which were in the boys and girls department. Each year, Prof. May, head of the department and promoter of the show, has been able to improve the event by adding new features until now it is the outstanding event of the kind in northern Wisconsin, and the only show in this immediate vicinity.

Poultry Show Receives State Aid

The organization belongs to the Accredited Poultry Show association of Wisconsin, and receives a certain amount of state aid. Five to six hundred dollars worth of prizes are awarded each year from funds raised by the annual Agrifallian play and by local boosters among the ever loyal business men of the city.

Boys' and Girls' Junior Club

The boys' and girls' department has been a live and growing feature of the show and probably one of the most valuable ones.

This year, all exhibitors in this section of the show must be members of boys' and girls' poultry clubs in order that the Junior show may be kept strictly a boy's and girls' show where only birds produced by the boys and girls can be exhibited. The young exhibitors and poultry breeders will make expert poultrymen in time, as a result of this early training.

Community Club Exhibit

A new type of exhibit which has been added to the show this year is the community club exhibit. Four clubs are competing in this contest, with exhibits which consist of farm produce, fancy work and canned goods, to be judged on the basis of quality, quantity, variety, educational value and arrangement. The South Fork, Trimble, Mann Valley and Glover Station clubs have entered exhibits in the contest.

Demonstration Contest

A demonstration contest in which rural school teams which have been coached by some of the Ag. students, will compete. This is another new feature of the show. Mann Valley team, coached by Flouion Martell, will demonstrate, "Feeding for Winter Egg Production;" the Glover Station team, coached by George Simon, and Milton Shuette, will demonstrate, "Culling the Flock;" the Kinnickinnic team, coached by Arno Gluhsen, will demonstrate, "Eradication of Poultry Lice and Mites;" and the Oak Knoll team, coached by Harold Walton, will demonstrate, "Proper Poultry Housing."

THESE VACATIONS!

Students never really appreciate Thanksgiving vacation until about a week after they are back. It usually takes that long to recover and get back into shape again.

And these exams are delaying that recovery another week. This leads us to wonder if we couldn't have done very well without a vacation at Thanksgiving time this year. We probably would have done better in our exams, anyway.

But then, who wants to miss turkey and mother's pumpkin pies?

Well, there are only two more short weeks until Christmas vacation begins. Two weeks, then, Oh boy!

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Perhaps the reason you do not like certain people is because you are not big enough. How much good will you ever do an individual you have no use for? How much better are you than he?

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

A girl in Oklahoma advertised for a husband and got him. The expense for advertising and the wedding were nine dollars. He died within a year, leaving her a life insurance policy for $11,000, and yet there are some merchants who say it doesn't pay to advertise.

NOTE BOOKS

Have you ever heard the story about the young lady who was educated abroad with a note-book?

Upon her return to her Wisconsin home, she accidentally dropped her note-book over board the ship. As the pages, which represented hours of midnight toil and oil were being absorbed, she wailed, "I have lost my note-book, my education! Think of all Dad's money wasted! My note-book is gone!" Her education was sunk, absolutely.

A practical man in business, farming, banking, or politics, never uses a student note-book to prompt him occasionally. A real teacher seldom refers to a note-book which she prepared at least fifteen years before, if someone asks her a pertinent question.

The real teacher pigeon holes her rudimentary material where she can touch upon it or she turns to reliable sources which contain the information.

An educator once said, "What earthly use have I for a student who sits in the library and deliberately copies verbatim, pages and pages of material, and then comes to my class to read it to me?" Spend that time not in Palmer practice on your copy book, but in exercising your lazy mind to hold some of the information which you need, and in giving it a few mental gymnastics in the process of thinking.

If you have used a note book as a staff for the past twelve weeks, how did you get through your term tests? Did you sit up until 3:30 a. m., hectically cramming a mass of meaningless material into your lazy brain which is almost dormant? Did you go to school with a headache and gaze at your final grade with some other kind of an ache?

If your note books are all you have to show for twelve weeks of hard labor, you ought to get 12 years of hard labor where note books aren't kept.

SCHOOL MOVIES

Two benefit movies, "The Mark of Zorro," and "Don Q," both featuring the agile and popular Douglas Fairbanks, have been secured by the Normal promotion committee to be shown at the North Hall auditorium in the near future. "The Mark of Zorro" will be shown next Monday night, December 6, and "Don Q," a week later. The former is a forerunner of the latter; so in order to get the maximum of enjoyment out of either one, both should be seen.

Both these shows are of a high quality. Douglas Fairbanks, ever a popular movie star, is at his best in these two pictures. Quick action, marvelous swordplay and romance offer a most excellent background in both shows for most interesting plots.

Superb acting adds the final touches to the real artistry that these pictures indicate. Whoever plans on attending either one or both of these shows can look forward to an evening of good entertainment and pleasure.

Normal Promotion Behind Shows

These shows are sponsored by the Normal Promotion committee in order to raise funds for the promotion of school interests, such as increase in enrollment, promotion of forensics, athletics, etc.

Last year the committee raised approximately $450 through the presentation of movies and similar attractions. The result of this program can be seen in the increase in enrollment, River Falls being the only Normal school that has not suffered a decrease over last year.

Thus, it can readily be seen that these shows are really a laudable school activity and therefore deserve support from the students and faculty. The twenty-five cent admission charge should in itself be an attraction, as some really good shows are often presented. We urge students to attend for two reasons; for entertainment and to promote school interests.

TERM ENDS

With this week ends the first term the first twelve weeks of school this year. What each one of us has gained during this time we shall know quite well when the last exam shall have been written. Of course, we have yet to learn our marks, but what are marks, anyway? In most cases they are only the instructor's confirmation of what we know—our work is worth. We do not need an arbitrary mark made by our instructor to tell us whether we have been a good or a poor student in this or that subject. Perhaps we may wonder whether we shall get an "A" or "B" grade, or a "C" or "D," but we do not worry whether our "A" or "B" will be a "D" and converse.

Opportunity for Self-Exam.

This break between terms offers a good opportunity for a little retrospective survey of wherein we have found ourselves lacking. Are we going to profit by our experience? "Experience keeps a dear school," and do we not then turn our experience to good account, our schooling will indeed cost us dear. We learn by experience. Schooling—education—is but a shortcut to experience; hence, it might be well to consider the weak points that we may have discovered the past term and set about the task of strengthening them.

Vacation in Two Weeks

Christmas vacation is but two short weeks away. Two weeks only, and at the beginning of the term, too. Soft, eh? Well, maybe! But if these two weeks are spent in stalling and in planning what is to be done during vacation, what will happen after New Year's? Two weeks' work to make up; two weeks' time lost. And school never really starts until after New Year's! That is when everyone settles down to serious business, profs, especially; so it might be well to be prepared. In other words, you had better take advantage of these two "easy weeks."

Any person who wishes to try out for position on the Student Voice staff is asked to turn in his or her name, or speak to Mr. Eide or the editor about it. There are vacancies on the business staff, for reporters and for an athletic editor. A position on the staff offers opportunity for valuable experience. Extra curricular credit is offered to those who make good.

BOOK REVIEW

Education as World Building by Thomas Davidson; Introduction by Ernest Moore

In 1840 at Aberdeenshire, Scotland, was born a boy whose name in later years was to go down in the London Spectator as the name of "one of the twelve most learned men on the planet." It is no wonder that this man was called such; for, added to the many other things in the way of philosophy and literature, he read and conversed in six languages besides English. The boyhood of this Scotch lad was spent with a mother and an aunt. They were far from being rich; his mother worked in the fields and even at sheep shearing at which she was very proficient. Even such, the home life was that which raised "pious and reverent" men. Thomas Davidson, this man, lived only sixty years; for he died after an unsuccessful operation in 1900.

To the statement of the Spectator might be added that he was one of the world's foremost teachers. He was a teacher in the truest sense of the word. As Professor James of Harvard said, he was "ready to sit up to any hour and talk with anyone lavish of help and information and counsel, a contagious example of how lightly and humanly a burden of learning might be borne upon a pair of shoulders." The introduction to this book, Education as World Builder, is one of the most interesting stories of an educational leader and his beliefs that is to be had. Is it not noteworthy for us to read?

The main part of the book, and it is not long, is an address which was prepared for delivery at the New School of Methods, Hingham, Mass. Mr. Davidson believed that education was not an end, but a means to an end. He dealt in the address with three important questions about education: "What is the being to be educated?" "Wherein does education consist?" "What is the result aimed at in education?" Then came the question: "How do we create the world?" Apropos to this he discussed three things which the teacher must understand: "Just what sort of world he wishes to create in the child's mind;" "In what order its objects must be presented in order to be appropriated and fitted into the world;" "What is to be the hierarchy of values in that world." The material here given is helpful and extremely interesting to the prospective teacher.

STUDENT'S OPINION

Must the girl terminate an evening call or must the young man be a self-starter?

Answer: The young man should be a self-starter, says the prominent advisors playing the role of Dorothy Dix. No lady should be put to the embarrassment of having to order a man out of her house, or even suggesting to him in the most delicate and tactful way that she is a-weary of his presence, and that he had better take the air.

If a man wishes to make a hit with the women, he can acquire no more winning art than that of making a speedy and winning exit. There is no man in the world of whom girls have such a horror as the one who stays on and on, and on, until the very clock yawns in his face, and who keeps threatening to go but never goes until he is put out.

A call is agreeable in proportion cracker said. The first half hour is peppy and thrilling. The next half hour may be interesting if the man is a fairly good talker, but by the end of the hour, things begin to drag. Before the two-hour limit is reached, the girl is shedding secret tears of boredom.

When you go to see your best girl say your little piece; make it snappy and cut it short.

When you leave don't linger. Go as if you were shot out of a gun!

Most girls wear shoes two sizes too small for them, so when you continue to stand saying, "Good-bye, good-bye," she is enduring untold agonies and wishing that she had a patent bounce to speed you on your way.

Bearing these suggestions in mind, the men of this school will receive the gratuities of their lady-friend's room-mate, land-lady, land lord and the deans will be relieved of much worry and responsibility.

Learning to say as much as possible in as few words as possible will qualify you in the lines of forensics, advanced English, and for practice bouts in the wedding ring.

the future good of a student and his present disappointment.

A Man of Wide Interests

While Mr. Goble was, in the very best sense of the words, the gentleman and the scholar, his interests ranged far beyond the walls of the Normal School. He was a good citizen and as such was interested in everything that is vital to the nation and to our community. He always gave liberal support and active work to the church. He was one of the most active men in the conservation work of the Rod and Gun Club and the Isaac Walton League. He was an enthusiastic hunter and fisherman and loved all of our outdoor life, especially our native birds and wild flowers. Mr. Goble also did good work in the establishment of our City Library and served on its board from its establishment to the time of his last illness. The fact that he had a well stocked private library and had access to the fine library of the Normal School did not dull his desire to see the benefits of the library reach all the young people of the community. Nothing shows

Mr. Goble Beloved Here

One of the finest things about the life and work of Mr. Goble was that he was appreciated by this community. The writer of these notes has been on the Normal faculty for eighteen years; in all this time he has known only one other person connected with the school who was loved in the town to anything like the extent that Mr. Goble has been. In these days when we hear too often that the rewards go to the self-seeker and the self-advertiser, it is an inspiration to know the high place which this community gave to the unselfish, considerate gentleman and the scholar, Lloyd Goble.

The piano pupils of Miss Wharton will give a public recital on Wednesday night, Dec. 8th, in the music room.

The program will begin at 7:15. The first part will be given by children from six to nine years of age and the last part by older ones and Normal students.

This will be quite an interesting concert and everyone is invited to attend.

Seventeen Men Chosen From Forty Candidates Who Were Trying Out

HAMLIN BASKETEERS HERE FOR PRACTICE GAME NEXT FRIDAY

Men Put Through Stiff Workouts

COACH SAYS NOTHING AS TO PROSPECTS BUT DOPE SOUNDS GOOD

Basketball practice is now in full swing. Out of the forty who responded to the call for men, a squad of seventeen have been picked. The following men were picked: C. Bliss, Standish, Cusi, Christopherson, Segerstrom, Dawson, Landis, B. Manion, N. Manion, Hunt, Paulson, Hocking, Bliss, Klimper, Evans, Rindahl and Yohnke. Coach Cox states that additions may be made to the squad later on.

Hamline Here Friday, Dec. 10. According to the dope, the prospects for a winning team are good. There are a number of high school stars on the squad. The season will be opened next Friday night when River Falls will play Hamline, here. Coach Cox is working the boys hard to get them in shape for this game. Hamline has afforded strong opposition in previous years and everything indicates that there will be a close game next Friday. The line-up is as yet unknown.

ORGANIZATION BASKETBALL STARTS NEXT WEEK

Fiveteams are in training for the annual organization basketball tournament which begins at an early date.

Teams reported thus far are the Y. M. C. A., the N. C. A., the Agrifallians, the Lincolnians, and the Webstonians.

Tournaments of past years have proved very exciting, and this year's "dope" promises a "hot" tournament at all hazards.

Class Takes Judging Trip.

On Nov. 23 the animal husbandry classes visited the Jensen Jersey herd of St. Croix County. A class of very good Jerseys were chosen for the judging practice. Access to herds of this nature is a valuable asset to the Agriculture Department of River Falls Normal.

FIVE CANDIDATES TRY OUT FOR BASKETBALL MANAGER

Five candidates are in the field for the assistant managership of the red and white basketball squad. Kahl, Overman, Adams, White and Mullendore are trying out to see who will assist Leo Smith, manager, this year in order to become next year's basketball manager.

The selection will be made at the close of this year's season.

NINE STUDENTS GRADUATE FROM COURSES AT END OF TERM

Nine students are graduating from courses at the end of this term. Although none of these have signed contracts at present, Mr. Johnston, head of the training school, states that some of them have prospects that look very favorable for a job this year.

Those who are completing their courses are:

- Alise E. Jensen.....Primary
- Erma G. Wenzel.....Grammar
- Russel E. Nelson.....High School History and English
- Christine Larson.....Grammar
- Myrtle Mable Lingren.....Two Year Principalship
- Elenora Irene Winge.....Advanced Rural

Vic and "Old Maud" Distribute Milk From Normal Dairy Farm

FAITHFUL OLD HORSE WITH REPLICA OF "ONE HORSE SHAY" MAKES TOUR OF TOWN EVERY EVENING.

Ninety quarts of milk and cream, yielding a daily income of $9.00, are delivered each evening to River Falls homes by "Vic" Peterson and his trusty horse, who are the traveling representatives of the Normal dairy.

Each evening, rain or snow, bottles of milk and cream are loaded into a replica of the historic "one horse shay" and Vic makes his circuit of the town. He will not allow a substitute to drive the route for him for he says that while he can depend on the horse to go all the way blindfolded without a driver, he cannot trust anyone to leave the proper amounts of milk at the different stops.

Both operatives of the route are veterans. "Vic" celebrates the anniversary of his second year with the "firm" while old Maud, his horse, recalls having passed eleven years in the selfsame occupation. Both are lauded by their customers for punctuality, reliability, and dependability.

Milk and cream for the Normal cafeteria is supplied from the same source and aggregates sixty quarts daily.

DATE BUREAU PUBLISHES DECORUM LIST FOR CO-EDS

Thanksgiving, or a summer hat after Easter.

9. A course in politics is recommended before taking active part in campus elections.

10. Young men should never be encouraged to smoke cigarettes—it is too effeminate.

11. Young women should never talk politics with a young man, for he might suspect she possesses some brains, and thus ruin the reputation of the matrimonial bureau.

12. The Bureau wipes its hands of all responsibility for intoxication of young ladies from excessive doses of moonshine, unless written permission from parents be filed there at least two weeks before commission.

13. Snoring in assembly is limited to Junior and Senior, and faculty women only; under classmen do it rather indelicately, and it is likely to wake up the speaker.

14. Thirteen being an unlucky number, the fourteenth rule reads that "ignorance of the law excuses no woman."

Note: A list, setting forth the standards for women will be published by the Bureau in the near future.

"Green Stockings" To Be Presented By Local Talent

"Green Stockings," a clever three-act comedy will be presented by the River Falls Parent-Teachers' association at Prescott, Monday night, Dec. 6, under the direction of Mrs. Alvin Anderson.

The cast of characters, of which seven are Normal students, is as follows.

- Colonel Smith....."Bud" Morton
- Mr. Robert Tower.....John Davison
- Celia Farraday.....Margaret Fox
- William Farraday.....Doug. Allard
- Aunt Ida.....Mrs. Vassau

$1200 A Year Makes Big Hit On First Appearance

The faculty play given last Tuesday evening, Nov. 23, has proven to the students of the River Falls Teachers College that there is imminent danger that all the pros, will give up the struggle for existence in this small school, and all go on the stage, where fabulous sums await this expert group. This seems to be the general opinion of all the students and townspeople who saw "$1200 a Year," in which Professor Jacobson as the leading character, instigated a revolution in the university where he taught economics for $1200 a year, and brought about very interesting situations.

"The play may be presented again when the old grads are back, they will like to see the teachers on the stage as well as will many townspeople who missed the first presentation," says Miss Schlosser, the director of the play.

A special meeting of the Agrifallian society will be announced soon. At this meeting the show committees, who will have charge of the various departments will be appointed.

The poultry demonstration teams from the near-by rural schools are getting their final instructions. The Senior Ag men who are coaching these teams, have worked hard hence we expect some very interesting demonstrations.

SEVENTH ANNUAL POULTRY SHOW HERE DECEMBER 10-11

Judging teams from the Bruce, Roberts and New Richmond high schools and the Dunn county Ag. school will compete in the grain judging contest.

These teams compete for a "traveling" silver loving cup which was won by the Bruce team last year.

Program for Thursday

The Thursday evening program consists of several numbers by the men's quartette, the hit of the season, an old time dance by the South Fork Community Club, a playlet by the Mann Valley Club, a novelty number by the Trimble Club and several musical numbers by the Gover Club.

John Jones, Commissioner of Agriculture, an excellent speaker, who has a very clear view of the farmer's problems will be the speaker of the evening and no doubt will have a lecture which will be of interest to everyone.

Friday's Program

Friday afternoon the program will consist of the demonstration contest, special music and a talk by Prof. Bewick, boys' and girls' club leader in the state.

Prizes Offered by Business Men

Local business men offer various prizes which will be announced later and C. F. Winter has given a silver loving cup for the winner of the community club exhibits.

That this show helps the ag. men in their work is proven by the fact that many of the graduates are holding similar shows in their high schools. Harold Laurence, '25, is putting on a show at Roberts this week.

The arrangements for the show are being made by committees of Ag. men directed by general chairman, and Friday will find the gym filled with a noisy bunch of cackling, crowing, quacking fowls, and a bunch of homesick co-eds and men peeping through coop after coop to see the display.

THANKSGIVING PROGRAM PRECEEDS HOLIDAY RECESS

A program of sacred music, consisting of six numbers, was given in the Thursday assembly preceding Thanksgiving recess by eleven faculty members, townspeople and students.

A mixed chorus sang a sacred song entitled, "The King of Love My Shepherd Is." Then Messrs. Smart and Albrecht, business men from downtown, sang a duet entitled, "Come, Jesus, My Redeemer." Professor Geere sang a solo, "King David's Lament." A quartet consisting of Mrs. J. H. Ames, Miss Armstrong, of the faculty, Mr. George Smart and Professor Gere sang, "Even Me." This was followed by another sacred song by the mixed chorus.

Miss Wharton was at the piano.

P-T Discuss "Physical Ed. For School Children" Tues.

The P-T. A. held its regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening at the M. E. church.

The subject for the evening was "Physical Education for School Children."

Prof. H. C. Mason outlined briefly the great need of a medical examination of each child so that the physical training given may be adapted to the individual requirements for different defects.

Prof. Main, physical training director, gave two class demonstrations of the regular class-room work showing what is being done to keep the pupils as fit as possible though not under ideal conditions.

Dr. Gendron gave a very interesting talk. He said among other things, "Every child is entitled to every available advantage to enable him to reach maturity, sound in mind and body, that he may be able to take his rightful place in the affairs of the world. The fact that one-third of the men enlisted in Wisconsin during the world war were found physically unfit, shows that some parents failed to give their children these advantages. Many defects if discovered early enough may be remedied. The schools stand ready to meet this need if they can have your co-operation in their effort to secure a county nurse and medical examination of pupils. Two aims of school are education and character building. Physical training through its exercises, games and athletics correctly administered is a strong factor, teaching level headedness and self control.

Very good music was furnished by the Boys' and Girls' Glee Club and the orchestra, conducted by Miss Catin, music director.

The next meeting of the association will not be until Jan. 25. Keep this date in mind. Another demonstration of class work along another line will be given. If you cannot visit school, attend these meetings and keep in touch with what your boy or girl is doing in school.

Laugh It Off

Jinx—She's half Spanish, half French and half crazy.

The coach of the South Bend girls basketball team has been fired because he took the regular players out too often.

Serenus (in Lit class)—Has anyone read "Freckles?"
Marjorit Ithig—No, but I have some brown ones.

Ruth—How did you get that wonderful wavy hair, Joe
Joe—Turning somersaults on a corrugated roof in my youth.

We editors may wearily toil, Till our finger tips are sore,
But some poor fish is sure to say, "I've heard that one before."

Student in Assembly Room—And where's the Prof?
Stanley (wailing in)—I just beat him up.

Student—Honest?
Stanley—Yeh, he's too fat to run up two flights.

Leonard—Are you the barber that cut my hair last?
Barber—No, I don't think so, I've only been here a year.

I shot a spit ball in the air, It fell to earth, I know not where.
Until the Prof. on whom it fell Came around and gave me zero.

Mr. Grover—John, aren't you ever going to write those outlines?
John—No sir, it goes against my grain to write them.

Did you ever see a horse hide in a shoe store?
No, but I've seen a peanut stand.

Jinx—That girl is a mathematical impossibility.

Blins—Howzat?
A Hebrew attended the funeral of a multi-millionaire, and throughout the rites he cried as if his heart would break.

"What are you crying for, Abie?" asked a friend. "He wasn't a relative of yours."

"Dat's why I'm crying," sobbed Abie in a fresh outburst of grief.

Fish Fry
She—I wonder who invented that superstition about Friday being an unlucky day?
He—Oh, I suppose some poor fish.

People can't be judged by appearances, but that's not saying our instructors don't judge us by our appearances.

Not So Dumb

"I don't suppose you keep anything so civilized as dog biscuits in this one horse, run-down, jay town, do you?" the tourist snarled.

"Oh, yes, stranger," the village merchant answered pleasantly. "Quite a few folks like you come through from the city and we aim to have everything called for. Have 'em in a bag or eat 'em right here?"

"Your name is mud," hissed the raindrops to the dust.

Economical

"Tommy, isn't it rather extravagant to eat both butter and jam on one piece of bread?"

"Oh, no, Mother, it's economy—you see, the same piece of bread does for both."

From Bad to Worse

Frank—The doctor told me that if I didn't stop buying cigarettes I'd have a tobacco heart.

Fred—yes?
Frank—So I started buying candy and now I have a sweetheart.

Lawyer—Rastus, your story about your waving you lantern before that crossing accident won the case for the railroad company. Were you nervous while testifying?

Rastus—Ah suttinly was. Ah kept wondering if dat gentleman was gonna ask me if it was lighted.
