RIVER FALLS STATE COLLEGE MONDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1961

Mr. Nemerov

Poet-Novelist Plans 5 Day Lecture-Visit

Howard Nemerov, poet, novelist and writer of short stories, will be on the River Falls campus from Jan. 8 through Jan. 12 as visiting lecturer in literature. It was announced last week by Dr. Francis P. Chisholm, chairman of the English department.

It will mark the first time, Dr. Chisholm said, for a visiting lecturer to stay at the College for a full school week.

Although a schedule has not been completed, Mr. Nemerov will give at least two lectures for the entire student body, including the reading of some of his work. Most of his time, however, will be used for discussions and conversations with small, informal groups of students.

Mr. Nemerov was at the College once before, in May of 1959, in connection with the annual Fine Arts Festival.

Currently on the faculty at Bennington (Vt.) College, Mr. Nemerov is the author of "The Image and the Law," a book of verse published in 1947; "The Melodramatists," a novel, 1949; "Guide to the Ruins," verse, 1950; "Federigo, or the Power of Love," novel, 1954; "The Salt Garden," verse, 1955; "The Homecoming Game," novel, 1957; "Mirrors and Windows," verse, 1958; and "A Commodity of Dreams" a book of short stories, 1959.

Thanksgiving Recess Will Start Tomorrow

Thanksgiving recess will begin at 5 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 21 at Wisconsin State College at River Falls. At 8 a.m. Monday, Nov. 27 when the recess is over final exams start and are scheduled to run through Friday Dec. 1.

On Tuesday, Nov. 28 the business office will be open to receive registration fees from students in residence. The hours that fees are payable are: 8:30-11:30, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Nov. 28, 29, 30. Also from 8:30-11:30 and 1:00-3:00, Friday, Dec. 1. When paying fees students must have (1) a permit to register; (2) a fee card; (3) an auditor's card; (4) a registration card; (5) class cards; and (6) a plan of studies form. A board of Regents ruling states that "those registering late (on Dec. 4 or after) will be subject to a $10.00 late registration fee unless excused by the administration."

Winter Quarter classes will begin at 8 a.m., Monday, Dec. 4. According to a faculty ruling, "anyone in residence registering for Winter Quarter will be expected to attend each class or laboratory during the first week of classes or will have his load reduced to not more than 14 hours. No exceptions will be made unless authorized by the Registrar. Absences during the first week of classes will be reported to the Registrar's Office."

Drop-adds will be processed in the Registrar's Office between 10:00 a.m. and 12:00 noon on Dec. 4 through Dec. 8.

Textbooks for the Winter Quarter will be issued from the basement of the Library starting Dec. 4, 1961. Textbooks in sequence courses need not be returned for re-issuing. Fall Quarter texts should be turned in immediately following the examination.

Senate Seeking Winter Carnival Co-Chairwomen

Anyone interested in applying for the Winter Carnival co-chairwomanship please attend the Student Senate meeting on Monday, Nov. 20.

The only requirements are a 2.0 grade average, an interest and willingness to work. All applicants will be considered.

'Beginning of Term' Dance to be Dec. 4

The Social Committee has announced that a "Beginning of Term" dance will be held Monday, Dec. 4. They urge everyone to attend.

'Bird' Auction Is Successful

The annual Foundation Week Auction was held last Wednesday night. A total of $210.25 was collected.

The articles sold at the auction were donated by students, the faculty and the merchants of River Falls. Some of the things donated to this year's auction were: a horse skull, a toboggan donated by Dr. Stone, a dinner for two at the Country House complete with limousine and chauffeur donated by Dr. Fry, 12 lines of bowling donated by Collins' Lanes, 4 kittens, a weekend for two at Dr. Wyman's lake cottage in Burnett County, dinner for two and tutoring at the home of Wayne W. Sukow, and a pencil sharpener. There were also many pastries donated by faculty members and their wives.

Dave Frazier paid the highest price for any of the articles sold at the auction when he bought the week-end for two at Wyman's cabin for $15.00. The second-most expensive item sold by auctioneers Mayor "Spike" Hoffman, Jerry Halverson, and Tom Knutson was the dinner for two at the Country House which was purchased by Gary Burke for $12.00.

The lowest price paid for an article was $.10. John Hanson paid this amount for a grab bag.

The Ugly Man on Campus contest of which Bob Kissling was the winner, brought in a total of $131.31. Foundation Week Button sales to date have brought in a total of $204.

Harless Clinic Now Using Reading Aid

A fascinating machine is being used by Mr. Harless for his reading clinic. Distributed by the Education Development Laboratory, this controlled reader, looks somewhat like an ordinary film-strip projector. It can be adjusted so that it will flash words for reading speeds of from 100 to 1000 words a minute. The words are flashed on the screen in a continuous horizontal manner or in phrases in slots which progress vertically when the rate is quite rapid. The machine is designed to help an individual to increase his reading rate and to eliminate regressing while reading. Of course, it is no "cure-all," and the individual must practice on his own.

Each quarter these reading clinics are offered. Any student who desires to improve his reading rate should see Mr. Harless at the beginning of the term.

2nd Series Of Prints On Display

by Steve Baker

The second of three exhibits in the series of French prints is now displayed in the Student Center.

The Art Club is sponsoring a sale of original water colors and Japanese wood blocks done in the original manner.

All proceeds collected before December 1 will be donated to the Foundation. The prints may be seen in the art office and are priced from $.75 to $3.00.

Self-Improvement Answer to Africa Missionary-Lecturer Tells Convo

The best way for us to help the Africans is to become better Americans ourselves, a lecturer recently returned from Africa told the student body Thursday in an all-school convocation in North Hall Auditorium.

"Actions speak louder than words," William B. Davis said as he commented that a show of hysteria or racial discrimination in this country can undo weeks of successful diplomacy with the new African nations.

"Every generation has to re-win its heritage," he said "We must recover a revolutionary spirit."

Mr. Davis stressed that a nationalist revolution, such as many of the African states are experiencing, is an irrational force, without direction or ideological content. This ideological vacuum, he said, will be filled with some kind of ideals, either democratic or Communist.

Americans can help fill the void with democratic ideals, he said, by "being better Americans;" by supporting the United Nations, Africa's main international forum; and by granting more American aid—with no strings attached.

The golden head of King Oedipus dominates the new color motion picture made from Sophocles' classic Greek tragedy, "Oedipus Rex," to be shown tonight in North Hall Auditorium. Directed by Ty-film features Douglas Campbell as the tragic King Oedipus and produced by Leonid Kipnis, the of Thebes. The movie is part of the College's Falcon Film series.

The Editor Speaks . . .

A Move

In this College there are a group of persons that are posing as respectable college students. It is sad that they are not as they pose. This group of persons has seen fit to use the Student Voice office as a supply center for nearly anything they desire.

In the past two weeks, the Daily Supplement has had 50 stencil blanks stolen. What use these stencil blanks were put to is not important. The point is that they were stolen. Also, and more important, because of value if nothing else, the key to the cabinets containing Student Voice photography equipment has disappeared.

Obviously, there are some persons on this campus that should not be here.

It was probably noticed by many persons that the Daily Supplement did not appear Friday morning of last week. The person or persons that so desperately needed 50 stencils can be thanked for this situation. A proper thank you would be an expulsion notice plus an appropriate send-off from the student body. College students can easily imagine what this send-off would be.

The problem of thievery has been discussed in this column before, however, it seems that the persons that are guilty of these crimes are either illiterate or don't realize that the only person being severely cheated by their actions is the thief himself. Someday he will be recognized and the penalty that will be paid then will be a very high price for the material gains the thievery has rendered.

Due to the recent wave of thievery, the Daily Supplement has been moved to Karges Center. It is now located next to the office occupied by Mr. Don Brod and Mr. James Harless. Those decent persons owe a word of thanks to these gentlemen. They have inconvenienced themselves in the face of a few people on this campus who apparently have standards low as a college student can have.

We are sorry that the majority of students on this campus will be forced to place their notices in a less convenient location than the Student Voice Office due to this situation, but it has been proven that the move is necessary.

Greater Effectiveness Now Needed In Period of Change, Kleinpell Says

by Ron Anderson

Due to the rapidity of change which characterizes our world today, our nation faces a great challenge that can only be solved by our increased effectiveness, Pres. E. H. Kleinpell said in a speech given to the student body in Karges Center last Monday.

"The key to the world we live in will be human effectiveness," he declared. He said this effectiveness will only be gained by utilization of our greatest resources — undergraduate colleges and college students.

Giving examples of our fast-changing world, Pres. Kleinpell stated that less than 50 years ago only one student in 10 who graduated from high school went to college. In contrast he related that two of every five students go to college today.

Total college enrollment today is about 3 to 4 million. In 1970 there could be as many as 10 million students enrolled in colleges.

"Education must be provided to every student," he said. "We can lick any production problem." The real crisis, he concluded, exists in the minds of the public. "The public is reluctant to pay (for higher education) and if the resources are to be made available, the government and public will only make available the minimum."

One of our problems will be room for the expanding college population. "In River Falls alone, we will need more dorm space, a larger student center, a fine arts building, a science building, teaching machines and money to allow for more student loans," he said. "Will we have these things?"

"Higher education is in competition with public schools and the building of new highways." According to Pres. Kleinpell, it is easier to secure money for the building of a highway than it is to raise funds to build an addition to a college campus.

Friends of the college are the ones who must make these things available to the college and to the student who wishes a higher education, he said. The support of a college is greatly aided by the help of the alumni.

In his conclusion, Pres. Kleinpell expressed his pride in the college, the college students and the faculty. "The level of excellence of this institution was never so high. We have an excellent faculty."

He said the days are gone when all college students can be referred to as snobbish, self-centered and irresponsible. He said the college student today is aware of social situations and his place in them.

Speaking for Foundation Week, Pres. Kleinpell urged everyone to help in the drive to pay for the bronze falcon to be erected on Karges Center. He emphasized the feeling that this will make a fine symbol of the college, and will gain friends for the college.

Mr. DeJong Writes 2-Tuba Composition

by Virginia Freitag

Conrad De Jong, instructor in the college music department, has recently been granted a contract for his composition of the duet, "Music For Two Tubas". The contract was awarded by the publication department of the Elkan-Vogel Co., Inc., of Philadelphia. Mr. De Jong composed the duet during the past summer for his students, Dick Alton and Don Trudell, tuba players in the Brass Ensemble.

The University of Arizona Brass Ensemble presented another of Mr. De Jong's original compositions, "Three Frames", on Nov. 3-4, at the Arizona Music Educators Association Conference. This piece was scored for full brass ensemble and performed under the direction of Lloyd Weldy, Assistant Professor.

Brass Ensemble Recording

As a part of their events for the quarter, the Brass Ensemble, under the direction of Mr. De Jong, presented concerts at Turtle Lake and Barron high schools this past Friday, Nov. 17. The program was made up of numbers similar to those presented by the group in North Hall Auditorium on Nov. 14. Several other concert tours are also being planned.

At the present time, the Brass Ensemble is preparing a tape-recording of familiar Christmas music. The numbers have been arranged by various members of the orchestra class, and include the following selections:

- "The Christmas Song" by Dave Zerah
- "Willie Take Your Drums" by James Schwenk
- "The Three Kings" by Duane Kuhn
- "What Child is This?" by David Boltman
- "Sing We Noel" by Bob Kowalczyk
- "We've Been a While a Wandering" by Eugene Haas
- "Ring Christmas Bells" by Ken Fenton
- "Coventry Carol" by Muriel Hanson
- "I Wonder as I Wander" by Linda Wagenbach

These carols will be heard over the North Hall broadcasting system prior to the Christmas holidays.

Three Checks Best When Paying Fees, Says Business Office

The Business Office suggests that students have three separate checks, if possible, when passing through the pay lines next week. The checks would be for: fees and tuition, dormitory rental, and meal plan.

This practice will eliminate the changing of many large checks, the Business Office points out, and will result in much faster registration.

Laymon, Klink Publish Study Of 5th Grade

A brief description of a study being conducted in the fifth grade of the Campus Laboratory School is currently appearing in the National Laboratory School Administrators Association Newsletter.

The study has been developed cooperatively by Ron Laymon, supervisor of the fifth grade and Dr. Rowland Klink, director of the Laboratory School.

Capitalizing on the natural interest children have in science phenomena, the objectives incorporate their theory that man has to a greater and greater degree been able to control his environment and thus live and work in areas formerly uninhabitable. It is believed then that important social concepts can be taught through a science approach.

A study of simple machines was begun which led into the realization that human relations are affected by technological advancements. Another unit covered a study of how important are the transportation facility improvements which have opened and aided the development of the western section of the U.S.

Typical, too, of this approach is how the use of water power and later hydro-electric power changed an agricultural society into a highly organized industrial and manufacturing center in the New England States.

Magazine Prints Project Article By Mrs. Tietz

Mrs. Naunda Tietz, supervisor of the fourth grade in the Campus Laboratory School, is the author of an article appearing in the December issue of The Instructor, national publication for elementary teachers.

Mrs. Tietz in her article tells of a project used in her class as a means of teaching geography. Members of the class took an imaginary trip to Europe, visiting countries from which ancestors of the pupils had come to the United States.

Norway was chosen as the first country to visit and the "flight" from New York was made on the Icelandic Line with stops at Mockton, Canada, Goose Bay, and Reykjavik.

Pupils filled out passport applications, packed a suitcase which did not exceed the limit on baggage, wrote letters for information, saw slides of the places they were to visit, and ate food typical of the countries they "visited."

2 Falcon Grididders Named To All-Conference Team

The River Falls Falcons placed two men on the 1961 All-Northern Conference team selected by the coaches Friday at Eau Claire. They selected southern and northern division all-conference teams.

Quarterback Bob Dawson and tackle Larry Julien were the Falcons named to the squad. Eau Claire placed three on the team in end Gary Berseth, guard Dave Shea, and halfback Russ Knutson. Rounding out the rest of the team are end Cliff Moldenhauer, Pat Krall, a Stout tackle, guard Jerry St. Catherine from Superior, Mike Rose, a center from La Crosse, Cal Calloway, Superior's fullback, and Jim Jeskowitz, a halfback from La Crosse.

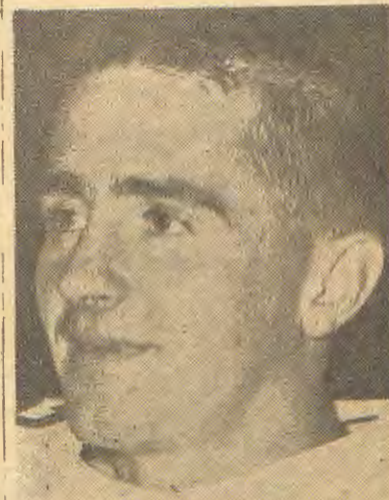

Champions Stevens Point showed the power they had all season by having five members named to the southern team. They include halfback Mike Liebenstein, fullback George Rivers, quarterback Bill Kuse, tackle Dick Kalston, and guard Bob Fisher. Others selected were Ron Anton, an end from Whitewater, Tom Pennwell, an end from Oshkosh, tackle Larry Davis, from Whitewater, center Herb Geuke from University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, and Dick Picco, a halfback from Oshkosh.

Gary Burke from River Falls was among those selected for honorable mention honors.

The coaches voted to have a seven game football schedule to take effect in 1964, tentatively set up a conference swimming schedule for next year, passed the rule that a team must play six league games to win the baseball championship, and that those men called into military duty in the middle of the football season would have another year of eligibility left. They also voted down the proposal to let the freshmen start to practice basketball a week before the upperclassmen.

Kegler's Korner

With the coming of finals and hunting season vacation the college bowlers take a leave of the lanes for a couple weeks to sharpen up on either the books or buckshot. Good luck fellows in both events.

Lowell Roehl, junior from Loyal has been placed on the Intercollegiate team to replace Don Kaiser, freshmen from Red Wing, Minn., who dropped from school because of a lack of interest. Lowell presently carries a 165 average bowling for the Elmer's Boys in the All Star League, and should be an assist to the team in a relief capacity.

The Intercollegiate bowlers got off to a rather poor start compared to what was expected last week when they bowled their first match against Stevens Point. The Keglers rolled games of 799, 941 and 882 for a 2662 series. John Cook started off the season with a good evening with games of 154, 279 and 175 for a 608 series. Vice Londo, returning ace and anchor man rolled games of 224, 201 and 180 to follow close behind with a 605 series. Other 200 games were recorded by Norm Garlie with 204 and Ron Zirbel with 202.

In the All Star League the IC's plus one kept their pace up by rolling over the Elmer's Boys for two points. The Crewcuts held on to a tie for second place with the Minorgay's by taking two points from the same. In the other match the Braduwa's came back after dropping the first game and took two points from the basement hanging Tequilla Kids.

In the Regular league the results show three teams coming out on top of last week's matches with complete sweeps. The Gutter Dusters over the Intellectuals, the Sleepers over the Scraggs and the Pin Dusters over the Alley Cats. The best series of the night was turned in by the Sleepers with their 1679. The bowling as a whole was rather low with the highest registered being a 188 by Duane Anderson.

200 games in this weeks action are as follows: 212 by Lowell Roehl, 211 by Norm Garlie, 207 by Dave Cook and 202 by Wayne Hanson.

In the future the bowling picture is rather scattered with the All Stars being the only one bowling this week. They bowl tonight and then rest until Dec. 4. The regulars are off until Dec. 6 and the Intercollegiate squad is idle until Dec. 7 when they take on Bradley University.

Jenson Leads Rushers

This years ground gaining honors go to Jenson, and Lloyd. Jenson ground out a total of 375 yards rushing, and another 70 yards receiving passes. Lloyd gained 243 yards rushing, and another 178 by snatching passes. The combined total of yards gained by both Lloyd and Jenson is almost equal to half the yardage gained by the Falcons.

The Falcons only lost two conference games; one to La Crosse, and the other to Stevens Point, and finished with an all-game record of 5 wins and 4 losses.

Tapping The Sports Line

by Jim Norrish

The coaches of the Wisconsin State Colleges met in Eau Claire Friday to pick the all-conference team. It seems the coaches are not very consistent when picking the star studded team for they have picked one team from the whole conference, northern and southern division teams, and defensive and offensive teams.

Tapping the Sports Line is going to take a shot at picking who we feel hurt the Falcons the most this year along with those Falcons we feel deserved the honor. Elsewhere in this issue should be the results of the coaches selections. Our selections are:

Ends—Duane Tollefson (RF); Tom Pennwell (Oshkosh).
Tackles—Larry Julien (RF); Pat Krall (Stout).
Guards—Bob Fisher (S. P.).
Center—Mike Rose (La Crosse).
Quarterback—Bill Kuse (S. P.).
Halfbacks—Russ Knutson (Eau Claire); Larry Lloyd (R.F.).

Fullback—George River (S.P.).
Ends—Tollefson rates a position because of his rugged defensive play. He was the only Falcon to be named to the team last year. Pennwell, according to linebacker Gary Burke was the best offensive end in the conference. Redders from Stevens Point may be high in the balloting.

Tackles—Falcons' Julien must be rated high as he was outstanding on offense and defense. Krall from Stout should repeat again this year.

Guards—It seems there are not any outstanding guards in the conference this year but Stevens Points Fisher and _____ may be the best of the lot.

Center—Rose of La Crosse was rated the toughest in the league by defensive guard Jim Blank.

Quarterback—Kuse from Stevens Point hurt the Falcons this year and is the best all around quarterback. River Falls' Bob Dawson may draw some votes because of his passing ability.

Halfbacks—Knutson from Eau Claire did not hurt the Falcons this year but was hampered by a wet field. Lloyd of River Falls averaged better than five yards a try rushing and caught 13 passes. Hester of Stout and La Crosse's Jim Jeskowitz could also be considered.

Fullback—Probably the hardest runner the Falcons saw all year was Points Rivers. Duane Jenson is not the hard runner like Rivers but he will get the yardage.

These are who we feel deserve the privilege of being named to the all-conference team. We know and expect that each person has his own opinion but it should prove interesting comparing our team with the one selected by the coaches.
