

O'Konski Here For "Legislate To Educate" Program

Alvin E. O'Konski, United States Representative from Wisconsin's 10th District, will visit the River Falls campus this Wednesday, April 22. The day is the Student Senate's annual "Legislate to Educate Day". O'Konski will speak about education and other affairs at a banquet scheduled for 7:30 in the Student Center.

Tickets for the banquet are available from members of political organizations and from the student senators. The cost is $1.50 and students on the meal plan can get reductions.

O'Konski is one of the most widely known legislators in the nation. He has served in the House longer than any other Representative in the history of Wisconsin, and is in the top 10% of seniority rank in the House today. O'Konski is a member of the House Armed Services Committee and is one of the experts in Washington on defense and foreign affairs. He was awarded the title of "Most Distinguished American for 1945" by foreign language press, honoring him for his fight on behalf of the smaller nations.

The Congressman, who now lives in Mercer, was born on a farm near Kewaunee. He is a graduate of Oshkosh State College where he served as president of that student body for two years, and had a record of never losing a debate as a member of the debate team. He was accorded recognition as one of the finest orators in the nation.

Following graduation, O'Konski taught high school in Wisconsin, and then taught at Oregon State, the University of Detroit, and Itasca Junior College.

O'Konski was one of the first members of Congress to come out in support of the NFO. In his terms of office, he has favored 100% of parity for farmers. O'Konski was the first to introduce a bill to put farmers under social security.

Senate Dodges Leadership, Dean Says

The Student Senate has relinquished some of its leadership by refusing to sponsor big-name events on campus next year, Dr. Nancy Knaak, associate dean of students, told the Senate last Monday night.

Dr. Knaak discussed the matter with the Senate at the organization's regular meeting last week.

She paralleled the Senate's job with the uphill battle to get new facilities for the school. The Senate, said Dr. Knaak, has been responsible for the success of activities over the past years, and without its support, success would not have been so great.

Dr. Knaak stated that the logical group to take over would be the Greek Letter Council, but that she fears "a division on this campus between the Greeks and the Independents."

The Senate, according to Dr. Knaak, seems to be contributing to this by their actions.

Feltes then posed this question: Should the Senate serve toward social goals or serve toward other issues?

After Dr. Knaak asked if it had to be either-or, Feltes said no, but that "we are losing large sums of money. Evidently the students don't mind."

Sen. Hampton Willmot said that he doesn't think that any other organization can now or in the future absorb the losses the Senate has taken.

Dr. Knaak, however, thinks they can if the organizations band together.

She also stated that some students come to this school because of financial reasons, but this is no reason to deny them the opportunity to take part in activities.

"I don't think taking away what they might benefit from is the solution," she said.

Sen. Harv Stower then explained that the free prom this year will be a good test for apathy and will help determine if cost keeps students away from big name events.

The social program goes beyond the matter of apathy and cost, according to Dr. Knaak. She said that since the students come from varied backgrounds, they need the social events to help them get more college experience.

Feltes then said that although the Senate has had an uphill battle, they do not know if it has been worth it. He cited the recent Peter Nero concert as an example of a "sure" thing which failed.

Stower added, "We hate to see events go down the drain when offered at a minimal price."

Dr. Knaak then asked if there wasn't a middle way. She said that the Social Committee could urge individuals to work harder, but that the Senate should keep the leadership.

Sen. Gene Smith said that he agreed with Dr. Knaak's views and that the Senate was not living up to its responsibilities.

Willmot countered, "We knew what we were doing."

Sen. John Hansen then suggested that the Senate act carefully. Although the Senate has received the opinion of the administration, Hansen said, that is no reason to switch their course of action.

It was agreed that a referendum is needed, and that it will be held after the prom.

In other action, the Senate moved to recommend that when rooms are checked, a standard form should be filled out telling what was taken, and signed by two authorized persons. A duplicate form is to be given to the occupant. This includes off-campus housing as well as the dorms. The motion passed unanimously.

The Senate voted to give Dennis Bastian the power to form a Talent Associates group. Bastian told the Senate that there are about 10 people on campus who would like to perform off campus and at other schools. According to Bastian, the list of performers would be circulated to people who might want talent for programs or shows.

Abby Graser, Wayne Iverson, Doug Dube, Richard Zuke, Lane Ekawein, Brenda Finnes and Georgeanne Schaffer were reappointed to the Social Committee for next year. Two more positions will be filled by the incoming freshman class.

Sen. Harv Stower moved to amend the constitution to abolish the Social Committee and the Student Center Governing Board. According to Stower, a new committee would be formed to carry on the functions of both committees. The motion will be voted on at the next meeting.

Committee Applications Due at Senate Meeting

Student Senate Pres. Larry Feltes has urged that all students interested in joining one of the various committees on campus apply at the Senate meeting tonight at 6:30 in Room 200 of the Student Center. These appointments will be for the next school year. Interviews will be held for the following committees:

Personnel Committee, four openings; Concert and Lectures Committee, three openings; Athletic Committee, three openings; Library Committee, three openings; Public Relations Committee, one opening; Student Relations Committee, one opening; Alumni Relations Committee, one opening; Student-Faculty Rules and Discipline Committee, one opening for the class of 1967; General Education Curriculum Committee, one opening; Teacher Education Curriculum Committee, one opening; Liberal Arts Curriculum Committee, one opening; Homecoming Committee, three openings; Prologue, two openings; Student Directory, one opening.

Proficiency Test Will Be Wednesday

The writing proficiency test, a necessary step toward entrance into senior division, will be given at 1:25 p.m. Wednesday, April 22, in the amphitheaters in North Hall.

Elementary Conference Draws 450 Teachers

Over 400 area elementary teachers and administrators heard Dr. Duane Manning deliver the keynote speech of the annual elementary education conference which was held here last Friday.

"Quality and Quantity" was the title for this year's conference, according to Dr. Daniel Brown, the program chairman, was to acquaint teachers with new ideas and give them a chance to hear a noted authority in education.

Dr. Manning urged the teachers to remember that a teacher must be humane and to remember that children will be children. He said that creativity must be encouraged in the early years.

Dr. Manning also pointed out that there was a need for more emphasis on the arts and less on such subjects as science and mathematics.

NASA Program Offered In Summer Workshop

Space science and nuclear physics will be studied in two workshops for elementary and secondary teachers this summer at Wisconsin State College at River Falls.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration will sponsor a five-day workshop in space science July 20 to 24. The five-day workshop in nuclear physics, July 27 to 31, will feature Dr. Elmer Nussbaum, consultant with the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies, as visiting instructor.

Both workshops will offer one-and-one-half hours of credit and require student fees of $22. Classes will be held from 1 to 5 p.m. daily.

The only prerequisite for workshop participants is that they be elementary or secondary school teachers. A background in physics is not required.

Staff members for the space science workshop will be Gordon Nesler and Roland Novelle, workshop specialists from the NASA division of educational programs and services.

The NASA workshop will include lectures, films, class projects and experiments and space mobile demonstrations. The NASA space mobile contains mechanical and electronic devices which are used to demonstrate basic scientific principles. These fundamentals are applied to explain and describe current NASA projects, such as manned and unmanned orbital spacecraft, weather and communications satellites. Class sessions will cover all aspects of the space program.

addressed the group on Friday morning in North Hall. The governor voiced concern over complaints about the amount of money which is being spent in education. He said that he hoped for a rise of productivity in this state which would help cure this and advance the theory that it is cheaper in the long run to educate our youngsters than not to do so.

The remainder of the program consisted of demonstrations by teachers in the campus lab school.

VOL. 48 NO. 25

Sanctified Tuesday?

There has been a petition going around campus for some time now requesting the Student Senate to set aside the hours from 7:30 to 9:30 on Tuesday night for church night hours. No other organization then, could reserve those hours, no other campus functions would take place with the exception of a top-notch performer or speaker. In case of such an event, the church groups would be notified ahead of time in order to change their meeting date to another night.

Tuesday nights traditionally have been church nights. But with the increase in campus population, and a subsequent increase in organizations and activities, more and more meetings began to infringe upon the traditional rights set aside for the churches. Attendance at religious-centered meetings started to dwindle, some groups even changed their meeting nights. The Governing Board with campus church leaders then proposed and initiated the "Sanctify Tuesday" movement. And people left and right have signed the petition because everyone is for God and Mother, of course.

The Senate too, will be for God and Mother, but the situation calls for a little thought beneath the surface. In "Salty Christians", Hans-Ruedi Weber states, "The Church today is failing to accomplish its primary task of penetrating and transforming the world. One reason for this failure is that too few Christians acknowledge that Christ, the Lord of the Church, is also the Lord of the world. The 'sector view' of the Church and the world is popular but unscriptural. According to this view, the life of society is divided into sectors - - political, cultural, economic, family, religious, and others. Because Christ is regarded as Lord only of the 'religious sector' of life, people believe that the Church is concerned only with 'religious' questions, and not with the political, social, or economic issues of our time."

Perhaps the move to close off Tuesday nights will contribute to the departmentalization of "Campus Christianity." Perhaps the Greeks should have a night set aside, as should the political organizations, the ag groups, etc. Is the Church asking for special privileges based on God and Mother principles? Or more basically is the Church afraid of competition for the interest of students for one night of a week or one night out of every other week? The person who has a genuine interest in his church group will give it precedence over any other affair that may conflict on his schedule no matter what night of the week it is. By its very move to "Sanctify Tuesday", the campus church groups are failing in getting their messages to "Campus Christians". They are relying on student government legislation to assist them. But the situation won't change at all in the churches. It won't change until all the people who put their signature on the petition for a legislated God, follow Him.

Convention Causes Controversy

The Greek Column

With the exception of one or two Greek organizations, pledging (and Hell Week!) is over. This past week ended six very long weeks for many anxious men and women. This week, the great majority of pledges are being accepted as active members in the organizations.

There have been many incidents during the pledging period which have caused much comment, pro and con. Admittedly, the pledging period, as such, is too long. However, those who participated in the events during the period, will remember them for a long time to come.

In many conversations around the campus, a person often hears the question raised as to why anyone would want to join a fraternity or sorority. What do they do anyway?

In looking back over the past year, we find that the Greeks have added much to the campus, and certainly have detracted nothing. When one compares the quality of the Homecoming floats and lawn displays, the Winter Carnival ice sculptures, and Foundation Week events, with those in the past, he finds much improvement. The Greeks have been called on many times to usher at plays and concerts. They have devoted many hours helping with the "Go-to-College" days.

The spirit at football and basketball games has improved (although it still lags a great deal) over last year's. One of the main goals of the Greek organizations is to get their members and other students to take part in ALL school activities.

Many sororities and fraternities have done service projects for worthwhile benefits, such as making toys for retarded children and sending cards to the sick. Same organizations sang Christmas carols at the various hospitals and homes in our own and neighboring communities.

To all the above, one can add the number of events which have been sponsored by the Greeks for the campus. Practically all of the organizations have sponsored dances for the student body, and some have sponsored teas and social hours for the faculty.

Everything was capped last week, with the huge success of the Greek sponsored Midwest Hootenanny, featuring Jimmie Rogers.

Now we know what the Greeks do. If YOU haven't attended some event on campus which the Greeks have been affiliated with, you have gone to very few school functions.

Congratulations to all the new "Greeks". May your years here at River Falls be more rewarding for it.

The River Falls Y-Dems proved themselves to be the powerhouse of the State Y-Dem convention in Milwaukee April 10, 11, and 12, by electing five River Falls students, and two Falls alumni to State office, and by being chosen the "Most Outstanding College Club of the Year."

The convention, attended by 55 River Falls students, elected Frank Urbanz, organizational director; Cy Durand, state treasurer; Paul Arneson, southern liaison officer; and Terry Anderson, third district vice-chairman. The two River Falls alumni gaining officer were Lyle Hofacker re-elected to the state Y-Dem chairmanship, and Bob Agronof, convention chairman.

The re-election of Lyle Hofacker, climaxed one of the most heated Y-Dems conventions in the history of the club. The strongest opposition to the candidacy and qualifications of Lyle Hofacker came from the University of Wisconsin. Their candidate for state chairman, Pete Pesack, charged that future growth of the state organization was stymied by the Hofacker administration.

Hofacker received 56 per cent of the total votes cast. River Falls, voting unit rule, as they had decided at a previous club meeting, gave Hofacker the support enabling his re-election.

At the same time the Young Dem convention was being held, the Senior Party administrative committee was holding its annual meeting in the same hotel.

Appalled by Invasion of Privacy

Dear Mr. Editor:

When I read (STUDENT VOICE April 13) about the search conducted in Hathorn Hall, I was appalled!

Since when does anyone (administrator, housemother, or whatever) have the right to enter another person's room and search that person's personal belongings with neither the permission nor the presence of the occupant of that room?

I would truly like to hear any excuse for such underhanded tactics displayed by the party or parties responsible for the investigation.

If the girls of Hathorn Hall were suspected of violating the rules against keeping illegal possessions, the organizers of the "invasion of privacy" should have the honesty to conduct the search when at least one girl was present in her room.

A better solution might be to put a little trust in the girls and ask them to dispose of these "improper possessions" themselves. After all, Hathorn Hall is not a kindergarten, is it?

Very truly yours,
Marilyn Calentine

Four Profs in Art Exhibit

Four members of the River Falls State College art department are showing work currently in exhibits in Iowa and Kansas.

Conrad DeJong Publishes Music

Conrad DeJong, associate professor of music at River Falls State College, announced this week he has signed contracts for the publications of two of his compositions.

"Three Studies for Brass Septet" will be published by Avant Music of Los Angeles and G. Schirmer, Inc. of New York will publish his "Four Langston Hughes Poems" for women's chorus (SSA). The four poems (Quiet Girl, Dreams, Winter Sweetness, The Dream Keeper) are from a 1932 volume of poetry entitled "The Dream Keeper" by the famed American poet, Langston Hughes.

Stone to Attend PTA Convention

Dr. L. G. Stone, dean of the School of Education at River Falls State College, will participate in the program of the State Parent Teacher Assn. annual convention tomorrow and Wednesday in Milwaukee.

He will be chairman of a section meeting on continuing education tomorrow afternoon and will make a scholarship award at a noon luncheon Wednesday.

This year's grant of $250 goes to Mrs. Marion Hopkins of New Richmond, who will attend River Falls State College.

Miss Mary Barrett, James Sampson and William Ammerman are represented in an exhibition which is part of the Luther College Fine Arts Festival at Decorah, Iowa.

Sampson and Kurt Wald have had work accepted by the National Decorative Arts and Ceramics Exhibition at the Wichita (Kan.) Art Assn.

The River Falls artists are among 50 persons who work is on display at the Centennial Union Gallery at Luther College. Entries are by artists from Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Illinois.

Miss Barrett has two woodcuts in the exhibition, and Sampson and Ammerman have two drawings each.

The National Decorative Arts and Ceramics Exhibition, held every other year, has selected two of Sampson's offerings, a ceramic horse and rider and a bronze, cast owl, a ceramic cup from of Wild's was accepted.

Art Show Work Of College Grad

A one-man art show now on display in Hagestad Student Center is the work of Douglas L. Johnson, 29, a 1961 graduate of River Falls State College.

Most of the works in the exhibit were done in Europe. Johnson and his wife have just returned from an eight-month European tour, having visited Italy, Austria, Germany, Switzerland, France, Holland, England, Scotland and Ireland.

Two Die In Car Accident

Two River Falls State College men were killed and another injured early Thursday morning when their car missed a turn on a road four miles east of Hudson and rolled over.

Mark Kinney, Hammond, and Donald Simon, Prairie Farm, both 21 and seniors at the college, died from head injuries when the accident occurred at the junction of county trunk highways A and U at about 2:40 a.m. The accident was not discovered until about 5 a.m.

Richard Sheppard, 21, Sparta, a junior at the college is hospitalized at Hudson Memorial Hospital with a fractured wrist and collar bone.

Police say the three students were seen in Hudson and left there in their car about 2:30 a.m. They said the seat belts in the car apparently had not been used.

"Feverish" Opening Tonight

"Feverish" and "hectic," are words too mild to describe the last minute preparations for the play, "Richard II."

John Oostendorp called it "organized chaos" and Dr. Blanche Davis said it's "planned confusion."

The play will run tonight through Saturday night in the Little Theater of Chalmer Davee Library. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

When Dr. Davis was asked what kind of problems one encounters in getting ready to put on a production, she replied that she had only one comment of advice.

"When you rent costumes, be sure to get what you need and be sure you can get it!"

The reason for this declaration was that up until Thursday, no one was sure that there would be any costumes available. Another company had rented the costume for "Richard III," and had neglected to return them, so the question was, "Will we get them?" The answer, fortunately, is yes. They arrived Thursday evening.

"Now all we have to do," said Dr. Davis, "is to be sure they fit and the colors are right and that they are authentic."

Sound effects have to be checked to see that all the necessary tapes are ready and working and that the "effect" coincides with the action going on and is suitable to the scene.

Tickets and programs also presented last-minute anxiety along with the phone calls coming in from various high schools requesting tickets.

And all through this, although not altogether calm, Dr. Davis says the only thing she really fears is sickness on the part of the cast.

"But other than that, everything will be fine," she ended cheerfully.

Sigma Tau Sponsors Sadi Hawkins Dance

One of the five girls pictured above will be named "Miss Daisy Mae" at the Dogpatch Dilemma Dance this Saturday night.

Also featured at the second annual Dogpatch Dilemma on Friday, April 24, will be folk groups from Minneapolis, St. Paul, Eau Claire State College, and a local group. They are:

1. The Peddlers
2. Talismen and Three
3. Folkway Singers
4. Kotonnia Singers
5. The Other Two
6. The Unknowns

These groups will perform on Friday evening from 8 until 12 in the Student Center. They are sponsored by Sigma Tau Epsilon Fraternity. Admission to the event is 40 cents for singles and 60 cents for doubles. Hot cider will be served.

On Saturday evening the Dogpatch Dilemma Dance will be held in the Student Center from 8 until 12 o'clock p.m. This is a "Sadie Hawkins" girl-ask-boy dance. When the girls buy the tickets they will be given a patch and pin. They will put their name on the patch and "pin" the boy of their choice sometime during the week before the dance.

Music will be featured by the Mystics, who have appeared on campus several times in the past.

Tickets for the event will be sold in the Student Center and at the door on Saturday night. Cost for tickets will be 60 cents for singles and one dollar for couples.

Stickmen Crush Foes

By FRED JOHNSON

The River Falls baseball team opened their 1964 season by crushing Bethel College of St. Paul in a doubleheader Wednesday afternoon at Ramer Field, 10-5 and 17-6.

Al Space cracked two home runs and two doubles to pace the 15 hit attack for River Falls in the first game, while steady pitching by Art Johnson held the Bethel batsmen in check.

The visitors from St. Paul opened up a one run lead in the top of the first when Dickau walked, went to second on an infield out and scored on a single by the Bethel cleanup hitter Dick Brunzehl. The Falcons were quick to retaliate when Al Space doubled to left to bring home Denny Kaiser, who had reached base on a fielder's choice.

Bethel watched a lead off single in the top of the second go to waste as Johnson struck out three in a row. River Falls took their first lead when Ed Monson singled to lead off the home half of the second and scored on a single off the bat of Craig Thoeny.

The visitors knotted the count again in the third but Space cracked a double to center and then scored when Monson singled to put RF back in front.

The Falcons picked up three more runs in the fourth when Kaiser tripled, Harv Ankley doubled, and Space smashed a two run homer to left.

Bethel managed another run in the fifth on two singles and an error, but that was compensated for by the Falcon's final inning. Back to back homers by Ankley and Space highlighted the five run sixth inning. Bethel managed two runs off Johnson in the final stanza but finished five runs back of the slugging River Falls squad. River Falls jumped on the Bethel twirlers early in the second game and swamped the opposition 17-6.

After lefthander John Boortz retired the first three Bethel swingers in order, Falcon batters started in on the first of three opposing hurlers. Bryan Jarvinen walked and scored when Denny Kaiser stroked a double to left. Wayne Jarvinen was passed, went to second on a fielder's choice and later scored on an infield out, for the third and final run of the inning. The second inning proved to be the biggest of the afternoon for the Falcon batsmen. Ed Monson opened with a double to left, he moved to third on a single by Craig Thoeny, and came in on a single by the pitcher Boortz. Bryan Jarvinen then received his second walk of the game to load the bases for Kaiser who shot a single to center to score Thoeny. Wayne Jarvinen then blasted a homerun over the center field barrier to clear the bases. The Falcons started up again as Harv Ankley doubled and scored on Al Space's single. Rog Dillenbeck singled home Space, stole second on the next pitch, went to third on the catcher's wild throw and scored when the centerfielder's toss went awry. River Falls scored nine runs in thier big inning and led the bewildered Bethel squad 12-0.

Bethel got to Boortz for their first run in the third when a walk, stolen base and a single added up to the foe's tally. The Falcons, with many new men in the lineup, cooled off through the third and fourth innings.

An error, a stolen base and a double earned a second score for Bethel in the top of the fifth, but it was erased by another hitting spree from the River Falls sluggers. Bryan Jarvinen and Denny Kaiser swatted back to back singles and trotted home when John Salek cracked a double to right center field. Ankley was then driven home by Dillenbeck's double to left. The Falcons were now leading 15-2.

Bethel put together a three run inning with the help of some errors by the home squad in the top of the sixth. Again the Falcons retaliated, scoring three runs Ron Pederson took over pitching duties in the last inning and gave up an unearned run.

It was an impressive debut for the River Falls baseball squad. The team met and decisively defeated a team that had the advantage of playing a regular season game, a game which Bethel won. There were many individual stars for the Falcons-Al Space went five for six and drove in five runs. Catcher Harvey Ankley went three for five. Byran Jarvinen got two hits and five walks; and Denny Kaiser banged out four hits. In all, the RF batsmen raked Bethel hurlers for 31 hits. Art Johnson and John Boortz were both effective on the mound.

River Falls opened their conference season by sweeping a doubleheader from LaCrosse 9-3 and 11-5, Saturday on the Indians home field.

Again it was the big bats of the Falcons that sank the opposition. John Boortz went the route in the first game to gain the win. Art Johnson hurled the second game but had to be taken out because of an injury in the seventh inning. Boortz finished for the Falcons.

The Falcons will meet Winona at Ramer Field tomorrow in a twin-bill.

Netmen In 5-4 Win

In spite of a cold driving wind, the River Falls tennis team incurred few "power failures" in their 5-4 season opening victory over Hamline University Tuesday afternoon in St. Paul.

Bringing home singles victories for River Falls were Dan Carlstrom, Ed Anderson and Dan Collins--all freshmen. Both Carlstrom and Anderson won their matches in two straight sets. Collins had to play the full match as he lost his second set

In doubles play, freshmen Carlstrom and Collins were again influential. Teamed, respectively, with veterans Al Carrier and Paul "Pinky" Anderson, the two newcomers had little trouble downing their "Big City" foes.

Hamline, one of the top tennis schools in Minnesota, did not play their first two men, Tuesday. Nevertheless, the victory was hard-earned and well-deserved by the young Falcon team.

"I think the win has done a lot for the team," said Coach Al Evans.

"The freshmen really came through. We can only hope it will continue."

This Tuesday, the Falcons will take on the Stout Bluedevils in their first home meet of the season.

Most spring sports teams will be in action this week. The exception will be the golf team, which is idle.

The trackmen have two meets scheduled this week. The first meet is with Stout at Ramer Field Tuesday afternoon.

The baseball team will attempt to continue their winning ways when they entertain Winona for a game Wednesday afternoon at Ramer field at 1:00 p.m.

Another double header is scheduled with Stout Saturday at Ramer Field.

Aqua Art Show Here

Some 200 aquatic artists from the United States, Canada and Europe are expected to gather Wednesday through Sunday, April 22-26 on the campus of Wisconsin State College at River Falls.

Workshops, competition and public exhibitions are on the program for the 10th international festival of the International Academy of Aquatic Art. Miss Marilyn Hinson, assistant professor of physical education at River Falls, is director of the festival at which about 40 clubs will be represented.

The international festival program will feature presentation of 60 compositions for critics and public exhibitions at 7:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday nights, April 24 and 25. Tickets are $1 for the exhibitions at Karges Physical Education Center.

Three River Falls faculty members will participate in the series of workshops. Dr. Blanche Davis and Sanford Syse of the drama department will lead a session on lighting and spatial relationships at 10 a.m. Thursday, April 23, and Dr. William Abbott, music department chairman, will discuss the relationship of music to aquatic art at 9:30 a.m. Friday, April 24.

The festival will open with registration and an opening coffee at 6 p.m. Wednesday, April 22, and close with the annual meeting of the IAAA at 10 a.m. Sunday, April 26. The IAAA awards banquet will be held at 9:30 p.m. Saturday, April 25.

The IAAA is made up of clubs and individuals interested in the aesthetic or artistic aspects of swimming. Aquatic art differs from synchronized swimming in that the latter emphasizes synchronization and execution. In an aquatic art composition, the theme is most important and other elements are subordinated to it.
