Our Greatest Tribute to Kleinpell Can be ...

Seniors graduating today have had the unique experience and pleasure of attending a University which has a president who was student oriented. President E. H. Kleinpell has always been concerned with students goals, aspirations and desires.

During his 21 years as President of WSU-RF, President Kleinpell has seen many changes and many new things appear on this campus.

He has seen new buildings appear as though they had jumped out of the ground, although those familiar with the workings of a university realize the "blood, sweat and tears" involved in many of them. He has seen enrollments rise, double, triple, until it reached the present level. He has been instrumental in causing change on our campus, always directing change to benefit the students.

President Kleinpell has seen many changes occur during his tenure as the head of this institution; some of them might have occurred under any president.

However, one distinguishing characteristic of Dr. Kleinpell has been his tremendous devotion to students. This devotion and desire to communicate to faculty and students has been a trait which has endeared him and his philosophy to members of the University community.

When President Kleinpell resigned he asked that there be no testimonials, no fuss, no big deal. The Student Voice suggests that students, faculty, and future administrators pay President E. H. Kleinpell the highest tribute they could possibly extend; a pledge to keep open the lines of communication that he has created; to follow his footsteps in increasing the stability of the division of power between faculty, students and administration, and finally to maintain the love for the University that has given President Kleinpell the courage and foresight that he has exhibited for the past 21 years.

This can be the greatest tribute; to work to make an ongoing thank you and remembrance to a key individual in the development of the University.

Change Marks 1966-67 - What Lies Ahead

This has indeed been a year of change and growth for Wisconsin State University-River Falls. Not only changes in the way the campus looks, but changes that will make a significant difference in the future of WSU-RF.

A change that is already being felt and that will be felt in the future is the resignation of President E. H. Kleinpell. Dr. Kleinpell has been a part of WSU-RF for the last 21 years--the years that spanned the growth of the state institutions from Teachers Colleges to state Universities.

After twelve years as dean of students, Dr. B. J. Rozehnal resigned this year. Dean Rozehnal has been a part of WSU-RF for the last 35 years. He was appointed dean of men in 1947 and director of student personnel in 1948. He plans to assume the job of registrar next year while Melvin Germanson is on leave.

The biology department will be minus two people who have been the core of that department almost from the beginning. Miss Lieneman has been at River Falls since 1936 teaching plant pathology and botany courses. Dr. Lieneman is retiring in June. Dr. B. H. Kettlekamp will also be retiring in June. He has been part of the biology department since 1935. Although he is the head of the biology department, he will be remembered as a teacher. As one student said when he heard that Dr. Kettlekamp was to retire, "He's the most interesting, the best teacher I've ever had."

The death of Dr. Melvin L. Wall in a plane crash in South Viet Nam was a great loss to the University. He was one of eight U. S. educators serving the universities at Saigon, Hue and Can Tho. He joined the WSU-RF faculty in 1940 and was chairman of the Campus Development Committee, planning the amphitheater which was later designated the Melvin Wall Amphitheater by the Board of Regents.

Among those coming to WSU-RF next year is Dr. Walker Wyman, previously a history professor at WSU-RF for thirty years, recently resigned his post as president of Whitewater State University and will return to teach history here.

Other changes that are apparent on the campus this year are the new buildings going up. Last fall two new dorms were occupied for the first time. McMillan, the women's dorm was named in honor of Mary McMillan, a math teacher at WSU-RF. The men's dorm, Grimm, was named after Jay H. Grimm, long-time regent.

Presently under construction are two more dorms, one for men and one for women.

In the area (old Ramer Field) of the new dorms a food center is being constructed. The food center, which is expected to be in operation by Jan. 1, 1968, will serve 2,400 students in two seatings. It will also include a complete kitchen, bakery, lounge areas, meeting rooms and four dining rooms.

Plans are under way for the $1.7 million addition to the Chalmer--Davee Library. The addition will add 70,000 square feet of space to the current facilities. Among the additions are offices, classrooms, an instructional materials center, an audiovisual department, a microfilm room and the Area Research Center. The wing will be built onto the southern extension of the present library.

Money was granted by the State Building Commission for a Fine Arts Building this year. Plans are presently being drawn up and the location is being determined. The proposals include teaching laboratories for speech and theater students and a Theater House with a 300 seat capacity, art and music laboratories with a 300 seat recital hall.

The building will also have 2,500 square feet of classroom space and 10,000 square feet of office space. Altogether, it is estimated that there will be 40,000 square feet of usable space.

Attend Graduation of Both Children

Thanks to the efforts of two college presidents, a newspaper column and an aviation company, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Overholt of Spring Valley, Minn., will attend Commencement ceremonies for two daughters Sunday, May 28. The two ceremonies are 50 miles and one hour apart, by ordinary transportation.

Their daughter Laurie (Mrs. Bruce Larson of St. Paul) will receive a B.S. degree with a major in speech correction from Wisconsin State University-River Falls, where Commencement is scheduled for 2 p.m. Her sister, Sue, will receive a

B.S. degree in secondary education from Augsburg College in Minneapolis, where ceremonies begin at 3 p.m.

A helicopter will land on the campus at River Falls to fly the Overholts to the Augsburg campus immediately after Laurie receives her degree.

Dr. E. H. Kleinpell, president of Wisconsin State University-River Falls, arranged to have the order of awarding degrees changed so Laurie will receive her diploma earlier than would otherwise be possible. Similar arrangements at Augsburg will allow Sue to receive her degree later than originally scheduled.

A letter from Laurie to Action Line, a column in a St. Paul newspaper, started things rolling. Action Line called President Kleinpell at River Falls; he agreed to change the order of the ceremonies and sent an aerial photo of the campus with an X marking the spot where the helicopter might land.

An arrangement with Gopher Aviation Co. provided a helicopter to transport the Overholts from River Falls to Minneapolis.

Had Laurie not married G. Bruce Larson of Hector, Minn., the problem would not exist; she would have graduated before her sister. But the young couple's budget would not allow two simultaneous college educations; so she dropped out until her husband graduated from River Falls in 1965. Her son, Steven, was born ten days after she finished taking her final exams at the end of the spring quarter in 1966.

Mrs. Larson completed her course work at the end of the winter quarter this year. She has accepted a position as speech therapist in the Rosemount, Minn., public schools.
