An all freshman talent show, patterned after Arthur Godfrey's Talent Scouts and sponsored by the Student Senate Social Committee, will be presented Thursday night in the auditorium. Freshman talent will be introduced by a member of a sponsoring organization.

Jerry Moore will emcee the show. Any freshman who would like to be in the show may contact the social committee and an organization will be arranged to sponsor him. Membership in the organization is not required.

The show will be reviewed Wednesday night in the auditorium.

The F.F.A., Vets Club and N.C.T.E. have announced that they plan to sponsor freshman talent.

The purpose of the show is to discover freshman talent and provide student entertainment.

FACULTY MEMBERS TO ASSIST TEACHERS IN NEAR-BY SCHOOLS

Requests have come in this fall from a number of public schools asking the faculty at River Falls College to help in in-service training for their faculty members. The purpose of this is to help the teachers in their professional growth while remaining on the job.

The exceptional child has been chosen by three schools as the topic to be discussed. Drs. W. C. Harris, Phil Anderson, L. L. Muncy, and Gordon Stone, of the education department will speak at Mondovi, Durand, and Alma on this topic.

The Arkansas public schools are holding a series of three meetings. The topics under discussion will be guidance, and improvement of reading; Art, and individual differences, and School discipline, and improvement of instruction.

Richard Swenson, of the chemistry department, worked with the faculty of Pepin Schools on the topic of teaching science, last Tuesday, Oct. 15.

Dr. Harris is involved in a series of meetings with the faculty at Prescott. His topic is, "A Program for Testing Children."

Dr. Stone, who is director of the in-service training program, said that there has been an increasing demand for this type of training. No college credit is given for this position; it is merely an opportunity for the instructors to broaden their education in these fields, while holding down teaching positions.

WAC Recruiter To Visit College Campus Nov. 4

First Lt. Martha J. Thompson, of the Woman's Army Corps, will visit RFSC Nov. 4. She will discuss the opportunities the United States Army direct commission program offers women college graduates. A table will be set up in the cafeteria for interested woman students who wish to talk with Lt. Thompson.

Social Committee Begins Plans For School Activities

The Student Senate Social Committee has begun preparations on the 1957-58 school social program.

All plans for any all-school social activity by any organization must be first cleared through the Social Committee. The committee must receive from all organizations a calendar of their proposed all-school activities as soon as possible. This will aid them in planning their calendar.

Procedure in scheduling all-school events is as follows:

1. Report to the Social Committee two weeks in advance to get the date cleared.
2. Fill out the forms distributed by the committee to take to the Deans' office.
3. Have the Dean sign the forms and put the event on the school calendar.
4. Be sure to get two couples for chaperones and turn in their names to the Deans' office five days in advance.
5. To use North Hall gym, permission must be granted by Mr. Polsfoot. For use of any room or gym, a janitor must be hired for the event.
6. A signed slip must be obtained from the committee to check out the Student Senate records from the library.
7. If an orchestra is needed, the Social Committee will contact one for the organization.
8. The sponsoring organization is responsible for all equipment, records, and the condition of the room.
9. If the PA system or record player is needed, sign up five days in advance in Mr. Krueger's office in the library. Pick it up the day it is to be used and return it the next day.

Dr. Wyman Co-Editor of Book on Frontier

Dr. Walker D. Wyman, head of the social science department, is co-editor of a book entitled, "The Frontier in Perspective," along with Clifton B. Kroeber of Occidental College, Los Angeles.

The book contains 13 of a series of lectures given at the University of Wisconsin Summer Session in 1954. The lectures, under the title "Wisconsin Reconsiders the Frontier," were in honor of the memory of Lyman Copeland Draper, pioneer Wisconsin historian.

The University of Wisconsin Press published the book. It contains 300 pages.

Relatively Few Flu Cases Strike River Falls Campus

Funeral Saturday For Former Prof

Funeral services were held here Saturday, Oct. 19, for Professor James I. Malott, who died of a heart attack Wednesday at his home in River Falls. Professor Malott, who served as a member of the College faculty for 32 years, was born in Pilot Grove, Mo., 83 years ago.

Although colleges in the Twin Cities and in other sections of Wisconsin are reporting large numbers of students absent with Asiatic flu, the Health Service says there were only about 40 cases on the River Falls campus Friday.

Medical authorities point out that there is no way to tell whether the campus will be "skipped" by the flu bug or whether there will be a larger percentage of students affected later.

In order to "play safe" the Deans' office has suggested some practical ways to minimize the danger: eat well balanced meals, eat regularly, avoid crowds, and in spite of mid-terms get plenty of rest. As soon as symptoms are felt, it is advised to report to the Health Cottage. Until you are able to report, remain out of school, take a couple of aspirins and go to bed.

The biggest percentage of students on campus reported ill with the flu are men.

As yet the campus school has had relatively few reported illnesses.

James I. Malott

When Mr. Malott retired in 1943, he was Chairman of the Department of Education, and for a time had been Director of the Rural Department. He came to River Falls in 1911 from Bolivar, Mo., where he had served as Superintendent of Schools. He received his B.S. degree from Warrensburg (Missouri) State Normal and his A.M. degree from Missouri State University.

Professor Malott is survived by his widow and one daughter, Mrs. Cyril Stout of Kalamazoo, Mich. Funeral services were held in the River Falls Methodist church.

NOTICE

All students completing courses in December, March, June or July should apply for graduation now. Application cards can be obtained in the Registrar's Office.

Jerney Club Open In Charbel Spot

In a new location, the Jerney Club, a cooperative eating club for the past 25 years, has rented the "Charbel" building at 504 S. Main street and has started operations.

Students, themselves, do most of the work with "Ma Graves acting as cook.

The club was originated in 1932 by "Ma" Jerney, hence the name "Jerney Club. "Ma" cooked for the club until her death in 1948 when she was succeeded by Mrs. Marie Graves, better known to members as "Ma" Graves. The club did not operate from 1953-55 due to ill health of "Ma." In the fall of 1955 it reopened on the old location, 425 S. Third St., where it remained until June of 1957. This summer the old "Jerney Club" house was sold to the Newman Club and has since taken the name Newman Center.

The club served its first meal at the new location Thursday noon, with everyone standing because the chairs had not arrived.

Men interested in becoming members may contact one of the bookkeepers, Gordon Hoff, Gordon Waller, or Art Lurndal, or stop in at the Club around meal time and sign up.

Meletean Sets Deadline For '58 Grad Pictures

All seniors and all other students graduating at the end of this school year are asked by the 1958 Meletean staff to have graduation pictures taken within the next month.

The staff requests that students ask their photographer to print the photos with a head size of one and one half inches high.

The deadline for submitting pictures has been set as January 9, the sixth week of winter term. All students not turning in a photo to the Meletean office by this time will not be pictured in the '58 annual.

The individual photographs taken of students during registration are not suitable for the senior section.

Alumni Earn 24 Doctorates In 14-Years, Survey Shows

An average of two River Falls alumni each year between 1936 and 1950 received doctoral degrees from an American University. This was revealed by a study of the National Research Council of the National Academy of Science.

In the 14 year period, 28 former River Falls students received doctorates.

Twelve of the doctorates were in the field of science, including botany, chemistry, physical chemistry, organic chemistry, physics, phytopathology, geology, microbiology and genetics. Six were in the field of education, five in history, and one each in agronomy, general agriculture, geography, speech, and economics.

Twelve doctorates were awarded River Falls alumni by the University of Wisconsin and six by the University of Minnesota. Two each came from Harvard, the State University of Iowa, and Syracuse University. Others included were Columbia, Texas Technological Institute, University of California at Berkeley and Iowa State College.

Those receiving doctorates in the 14-year period, according to the survey, include Leroy Alexander, Orlin Anderson, Lester Baribo, Theodore Clymer, Paul Davey, Harold Diermeier, David Dykstra, George Freier, Robert Hoey, Willard Jacobson, John Jarolimek, Willard Lane, Horace Merrill, Merle Michaelson, Carl Miller, Rolf Ordal, Stanley Peloquin, Francis Prucha, Arthur Pynnopen, Lyle Radcliffe, Thomas Ronningen, Mildred Smith, Charles Stratton, Robert VanKeuren, Wesley Wendlandt, Caleb Wolfe, Walter Wood, and Roman Zorn.

The Editor Speaks . . .

. . . "And at every moment, valiant, sincere, at every moment of all your days, give yourself wholly!" . . .
Rafael Arevalo Martinez

Truly River Falls students did "give themselves wholly" the week that Homecoming activities were underway. Never has the campus been more alive, more tense, more filled with enthusiasm. With cooperation as the keynote, campus clubs, organizations, and individuals worked together to put on one of the best Homecomings in River Falls' history. The spirit at this function was amazing—so amazing that one wonders if it will survive throughout the duration of the school year.

Consider the calendar of events in the future—Winter Carnival, Foundation Week, Rec Day. Will they be supported as fully? Or will two or three organizations carry the burden?

Last year Foundation Week had only a few people working tirelessly behind it. What happened to all the individuals who displayed such vim and vigor at the 1956 Homecoming? These functions demand the full support of every individual at River Falls—not just a minority, or they could not truly be classed as school functions, but as individual undertakings.

Each student here at River Falls has something to contribute to the school besides paying his fees and taking part in classes. Why not contribute that something—be it talent, artistic ability, enthusiasm—and benefit both the school and yourself.

Congratulations are in order for all those who contributed so much to this year's Homecoming, perhaps especially to those newly-formed organizations that were active. If this spirit and enthusiasm can repeat itself in the future, this school year will be a worthwhile and successful one. Let us continue to "give ourselves wholly."

Student Spends One Week As 'Congressional Intern'

by Mark Wyman

Ever wonder just what goes on in Congressional Committee's? . . . what Congressmen think when they read over their mail? . . . what Washington night life is like? A River Falls State student can probably answer these and similar questions fairly accurately, for he was privileged to spend a week in Washington, D. C., last summer in what is known as a "Congressional Internship."

H. Gaylon Greenhill, a senior at RFSC, was chosen by a committee consisting of Lt. Gov. Knowles, Madison Attorney James Doyle and Supt. of Public Instruction Geo. Watson, to be one of four Wisconsin college students to spend a week in Washington at the home of Congressman Reuss of Milwaukee.

Greenhill

Two Democrats and two Republicans were selected; the others were from Marquette, Carrol, and the University of Wisconsin. The week is sponsored by the Citizenship Clearing House of Wisconsin, through funds given by the Ford Foundation. Dr. Charles Graham, political science professor at River Falls, is a member of the board of the organization.

Mr. Greenhill reports that the three main governmental functions attended by the group were both houses of Congress, the Supreme Court, and certain Senate committees. The Senate Judiciary committee's subcommittee on Monopolies was hearing testimony by President Warren Giles of the National League and Walter O'Malley, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers at the time, and the Subcommittee on Inflation, under the chairmanship of Senator Harry Byrd of Virginia was hearing Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey.

While the main purpose of the week was to get the actual "feel" of government, Mr. Greenhill added that the life of a congressman was also studied. While staying at the home of Congressman Reuss, the four students read his mail and made recommendations on what to reply, made suggestions on material for speeches, and in general saw "the practical application of political science methods" they had learned in college.

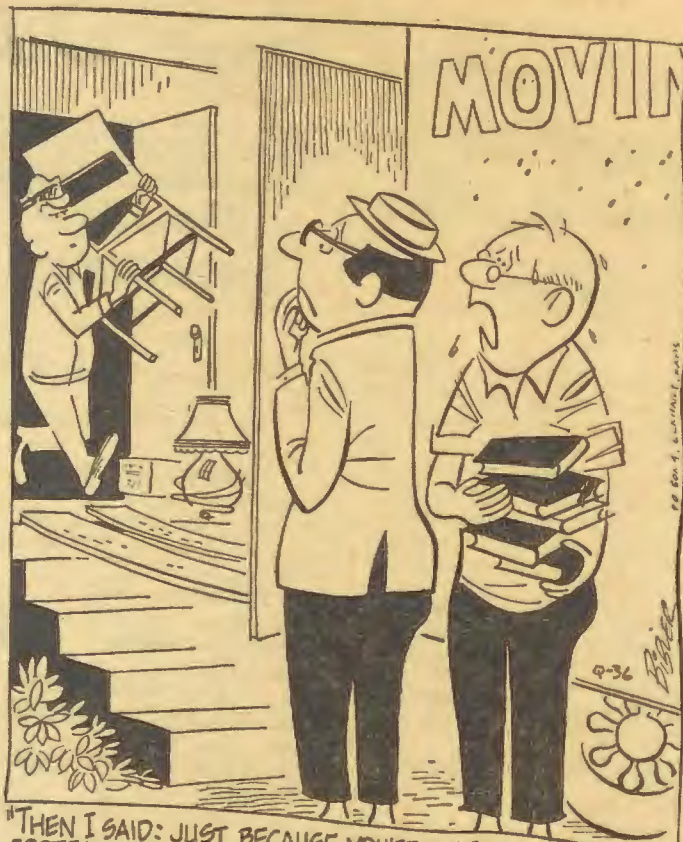

Three of the more outstanding night functions attended were the Cooperative Forum, the Burros' Club, and the 70 Club. The former was a meeting of distinguished personalities who had previously agreed not to quote any statements made during the meeting; afterwards, the Forum attended by the four Wisconsin students featured a talk on Disarmament by Chalmers Roberts of the New York Times.

The Burros' Club is composed of the administrative assistants of all Democratic members of the House of Representatives. Greenhill also attended a dinner of the 70 Club as a guest of Congressman Reuss; this club is made up of seventy liberal Democratic Representatives who voted together on the famous Formosa question several years ago.

The traditional tour of Washington was also included in the fast week, as well as visits with Wisconsin's Senator Wiley, and Representatives Johnson, Zablocki, and Tewes, besides, Representative Reuss.

Mr. Greenhill, who has a minor in political science in addition to a major in social science and a second minor in biology, reports that he "learned much about the government that had been largely unknown before the trip." While attending RFSC he has been active in Young Democrats, LSA, and Kappa Delta Pi.

THE NEWSPAPER

Snoozy Kook reads the Evening Whoosh from weather to washing machine ads and Snoozy keeps a scrap-book. Last evening Snoozy cut out a three line society item—"Snoozy Kook was a happy traveler to Brimfield yesterday. Snoozy is getting to be quite a gad-about."

That's "democracy!" That's "We the people!" That's "For the pursuit of happiness!" That's "The Press".

The campus has "The Press" too. Once a week, twice a week, daily,—depending upon the pocketbook and the Zip-Boom-Ba of the journalistic eager beavers! But, the press, regardless!

On the morning or mornings the sheets spread like sin on skid row and students read with thrills, delight or irritation the news of the hour. "Bill Punkin pins Tizzie Lunk — Oh! Boy!", "The team won from Scooter U when Scooter dropped the ball on the one inch line. Champs!" "The gophers serenaded the dorm last night. Pretty good harmony," "Dr. Fluke, AB., MA., PhD., SMA., and A and P, will lecture on the world situation and the promise of tomorrow. Dr. Fluke recently returned from a five day tour of Europe."

And, in a room overlooking a garage and a tomato patch, Willie sits at his study table writing a letter to the editor. "Dear Sir—What kind of a paper do you think you run? I am a freshman and I think you should realize that the freshman class is the most important class on the campus. Do you give the freshman class recognition? You do not. We, as freshmen, hold the destiny of the University in our hands. We want some publicity. Signed, Anonymous."

Another week and the Press again lets loose with its power and again gives the compus vitamins A, B, C, D, E and F.

Falcons Go to St. Cloud For Homecoming Contest

For the third week in succession the River Falls State Falcons will be involved in a Homecoming tussle. Saturday they travel to St. Cloud in an attempt to act as "spillers" for the annual alumni reunion. It will mark the first meeting between these two inter-state rivals since 1953. At that time the Huskies scored a 14-0 victory at Ramer Field.

In games thus far this year, St. Cloud has yet to penetrate the win column. They have a 0-4-1 record in total games played and stand 0-1-1 in Minnesota State College Conference play. Their one tie, however, came against the rugged Mankato Indians, league leader and next opponent on the Falcon schedule.

Game time is 2 p.m. at St. Cloud.

FALCON AN FARE

by Milan Brecka

Phil Lindemann, a small aggressive junior guard from Cumberland, is now working for his second football varsity letter.

Phil is not a big man for the guard position, weighing only 180 pounds, but he has terrific desire and a strong will to play. These assets, plus his crisp hard-hitting blocking, have made Phil one of Coach Fran Polsfoot's most reliable replacements.

Although not an eye catching type of ballplayer, he can always be depended upon to do his best when the chips are down. Perhaps Phil's value is best illustrated in this year's Superior game when Phil came off the bench to relieve the Falcon's starting guard after he had tired in the third quarter. Phil helped to stop two Superior drives within the River Falls 25-yard line, as the Falcons went on to win, 14-7.

While in high school he earned five letters, three in football and two in baseball. During the summer months he still plays baseball for Barronett in the Class B Independent League.

It was during his high school football career that he had his greatest athletic thrill. Rice Lake had one of the best high school teams in the state, and were very aware of this fact. This gave Phil added incentive and time after time he threw Rice Lake ball carriers for big losses. At the end of the game, Cumberland, who had been a five touchdown underdog, won the game by one touchdown.

Out on a Limb

by Ed E. Schlumpf

This was my first summer as a staff member at Camp Villa Jerome and I thought it would take some time before I got to know the other boys. However, at the first staff meeting, Jerry Campbell, the sports instructor, introduced himself to me as a member of the La Crosse State cross-country track team. "You're from River Falls, Ed?" he remarked. "They've got a pretty good cross-country team up there haven't they? I ran against River Falls last September and they beat us quite badly."

"Yes," I beamed proudly. "We were undefeated last season. This despite the fact that last year was the first time River Falls had fielded a cross-country squad."

After Jerry had shown me some of his pictures in the La Crosse State yearbook, he asked, "What are the prospects for this fall? Are most of your runners coming back? You know the state meet is going to be held in La Crosse this October."

"I think we'll be there," I answered confidently. "We've got four veterans returning from last year's team and with any new (Con't. on page 4)

RIVER FALLS TIPS POINTERS 18-14

WHOA! River Falls halfback Jack Delahunt corrals Point speedster Ron Hanisch with a horsecollar tackle in this third quarter action Saturday. Coming up to help is Darreld Johnson, followed by referee Dynie Mansfield.—Photo by Laue.

In a game with a conclusion that would have put a storybook finish to shame, the River Falls Falcons edged Stevens Point 18-14 at Point Saturday afternoon.

With just seven seconds remaining in the game and the Falcons trailing 14-12, end Jack Neurer waded through to block his second punt of the day, picked up the ball on the Point 11, and danced into the end zone to put his mates ahead 18-14.

It was the tremendous all-around performance of Neurer, coupled with the splendid efforts of the RF defensive unit, which saved a fumbling Falcon offense from defeat. In addition to his game-winning play, the 5-10, 175 pound sophomore end from Cumberland gave the Falcons another score when he blocked a Pointer punt in the third quarter, was a key defensive man with four tackles and snared five passes for 82 yards, two of them on spectacular catches.

Stevens Point scored first before the Homecoming crowd of almost 3,500, with Phil Cole grabbing Ron Hanisch's 16-yard pass away from three Falcon defenders in the end zone late in the first period. Don Ryskoski's conversion made it 7-0.

Falcon end Tom Shield pounced on a Point fumble on the 48 early in the second quarter to pave the way for River Falls' first score. With a 25-yard pass from Darreld Johnson to Tom Everson giving the Falcons a first down on the Point two, fullback Jack Omer crashed over for the tally. River Falls trailed at the half as the try for point went wide.

RF guard Dick Shimel got the defensive unit's first touchdown early in the second half when Neurer blasted through to smother Jack Charlesworth's punt from the 27. Shimel grabbed the ball on the 10 and lumbered over to put the Falcons into a 12-7 lead.

Spirited defensive play led by tackles Jim Carew and Bob Koplin, halfback Jack Delahunt, center Gordy Hoff and guard Al Wienke kept the dangerous Point ground attack under control throughout the third quarter, but Hanisch scored on a 12-yard jaunt in the fourth after recovering a fumble. The Falcons bobbed three more times inside the Point 30 before Neurer's heroes saved the victory.

FOOTBALL

Last week the last-place Packers held the high-flying Doozeys to their lowest point total this year, but couldn't muster a scoring attack of their own as the Doozeys now sport the figure of 135 points scored in four games. They have held the opposition to a mere two points.

Meanwhile the Terrible Ten continued their winning ways with a pair of triumphs this past week. The league-leaders now have a 5-0 record. Jim Turnquist of the Terrible Ten registered what will undoubtedly stand the longest run from scrimmage this season. Turnquist caught a flat pass on his own goal line and raced 50 yards down the sideline to score, as Mick Collins' block erased the last defender.

The Coasters' Bob Englehart took over first place in the individual scoring race with a total of 38 points.

MUNCY TO ADDRESS EDUCATIONAL GROUPS

Dr. Levi Muncy, principal of the campus school, will speak to various educational groups in the next two months.

Locally, Dr. Muncy will participate in a round table discussion with the Wesley Foundation on "Drinking", and speak to the MENC organization on "Public School Music." He will deliver two talks in the Twin City area—the first to a Minneapolis PTA group on "Playgrounds in the Elementary School", and the second to a St. Paul PTA group on "The Slow Learner". "School Discipline" will be the subject of his speech at Arkansaw, Wis.; and in December he will travel to Bartersville, Oklahoma, to address the Washington County Schoolmasters organization on "Development in Education".

Previously, Dr. Muncy spoke to the Regional School Board Association of nine counties in this part of the state concerning "Curriculum Trends in Education", and to the Tri-County Principals' Association in Hudson.

CAMPUS SCHOOL children from the eighth grade gave a science exhibition at the N.W.T.A. Convention in Eau Claire recently.

COEDS TELL WHY Girls Should Go To College

College is becoming a necessity for the young man who wants to succeed. He needs the degree to compete with other "comers" in his profession or occupation. But what about a girl? Should she "waste her time" at college?

"I sent her to college for four years and now she wants to get married," goes the complaint.

The answer that in college she met "the man" she wants to marry isn't good enough. College is too expensive to qualify only as a matrimonial bureau.

There are three better reasons for going to college which the 3,900 coeds at the Wisconsin State colleges give. (1) "Our children," they say, "deserve an educated mother; (2) "Suffrage," they say, "allows us to compete in professions and occupations. We need to be as well educated as our co-workers in teaching, business, journalism, and all other fields"; (3) "Homemaking is often tedious," they say. "A liberal arts background opens a hundred doors to enjoyment and worthwhile activities. There lurks just beyond the sink full of dishes and tub full of clothes, good literature, music, art, and study and discussion groups. It makes the monotony of homemaking bearable—even gives it meaning."

College can be a waste of time. But it is wasted not on girls alone. It is wasted on any student who passes through uneducated.

NOTE OF THANKS

From what we can gather, now that the dust is settling and the heads are clearing, the 1957 Homecoming was generally a good one. The credit undeniably must go to the students of River Falls whose willingness to work coupled with a great deal of enthusiasm made the event a successful one. To those of you, whether you be a student, instructor, or merchant, who helped in any way, we appreciate your cooperation and congratulate you for an excellent job.

Sincerely, The Homecoming Committee

Phi Sigma wishes to express thanks to all those who helped to make their Pizza Supper a success. Special thanks goes to Russel Fleischaer for his cooperation.

freshmen at all we could have a real good squad again this fall."

That was last summer. This week we received the news that River Falls will not have a cross-country team this fall—not enough boys showed interest in the sport.

This means that the meets that had already been scheduled with La Crosse and Mankato must be cancelled. It also means that the new equipment purchased by coach Fran Polsfoot will not see any use this year.

A cross-country track team consists of at least six men. High school track experience is not necessary. However a little sacrifice is needed. This is true for any athlete trying to make any team. Add desire, stamina, and the will to work and you have the essentials of a good cross-country man.

Do we have six such men here on the campus at River Falls? Apparently not.
