Scientific Films Will Be Shown By Science Club

Two or Three Reel Movies Will Be Part of Each Meeting Held During Year

Because motion pictures are available on many of the interesting topics of science, the Science club has arranged to have a two or three reel movie as a part of each of their programs to be given throughout the year.

The meetings of the Science club are held regularly on alternate Tuesdays at 7 p. m. in the Chemistry lecture room. The first of these meetings will be held on Tuesday, October 5, and the picture to be shown will be "The Story of a Storage Battery."

This film is owned by the Bureau of Mines of the Department of the Interior and was made in cooperation with the Willard Storage Battery Company. The film shows the entire process in the manufacture of the storage battery.

In addition to the showing of the film, there will be a short lecture to explain parts of the process.

Other meetings which have been definitely scheduled thus far are:

October 19—"Through the Oil Lands of Europe and Africa."

November 2—"Nickel."

November 16—"Making an All-Steel Automobile Body."

Faculty Committees Announced for Year

In a bulletin released from the president's office this week, the faculty standing committees for the year were announced. Following are the committees with the first person named in each case acting as chairman:

Teachers Meet Here October 9

Rural and elementary teachers of Pierce and St. Croix counties will hold a conference in the college auditorium on October 9 beginning at 9:15 o'clock. In addition to addresses by members of the faculty, there will be an address by a member of the department of education of Wisconsin and one by a member of the department of education of Minnesota.

Selection of Chairman and Nominees for Queen Launch Homecoming Plans

Scholarships Are Awarded to 27

State Funds Provide Help for Fifty-seven Freshmen

Attending the River Falls State Teachers College this year are 57 freshmen who, because of a high scholastic average, have received financial aid from the state of Wisconsin. Of this number, 26 persons from 23 high schools were awarded ranking scholarships, and 31 persons from 22 different high schools were given needed financial aid.

These scholarships were provided by the state legislature of 1935 and went into effect for the first time in the spring of 1935 and during 1936. At that time authority was given the Board of Regents to grant money equivalent to the payment of all incidental fees to college freshmen who ranked first in scholarship in schools under 250 pupils in size. Scholarships were also awarded to those who ranked first and second in schools from 250 to 750 in size, and who ranked first, second, and third in schools over 750 in size.

The law also provides that is a scholarship is refused by one first entitled to it, it should pass to the next person ranking in order. Another provision states that the same amount may be granted to those good students who need financial aid and who possess some of the qualities of leadership. All of this latter group must be students whose high school transcript shows an average of B or better.

As a result of this increase of good students, the average standing of the entire freshman class has been raised during the past two years.

Colonial Trio Featured at Assembly Program

The student assembly was entertained at the regular hour last week by the Colonial Trio of the Leamington hotel, Minneapolis.

The trio consisted of the Misses Virginia Hicks, flutist, Lucille Hicks, violinist, and Adaline Melch, cellist. Miss Virginia Hicks, who has appeared on former programs here, has been playing in the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra for some time.

Miss Melch plays in the Twin City Civic Orchestra.

Each member of the trio has studied extensively, both at home and abroad. The ensemble has been playing as a unit for the past ten years, and is now in its fourth season at the Colonial Room of the Leamington hotel.

R. Moen, R. Phillips, H. Campbell, H. Hickox and L. Isaacson Aspire to '37 Crown

Plans for homecoming took definite shape this week with the election of Robert Johnson as homecoming chairman and the selection of nominees for homecoming queen.

The queens were chosen by the Student Senate after one and one-half hours of balloting and discussion. A list of outstanding women in the junior and senior classes were nominated on the basis of intellect, charm, interests and campus popularity. By a series of ballots the five nominees for the queen were chosen. The four women receiving the least number of votes will act as attendants to the queen.

To allow other nominations of women from the upper classes, it was decided to grant the privilege of petition to the student body. Any candidate will be recognized who receives 100 signers on a petition. This must be presented to the Student Senate not later than October 5.

Homecoming Chairman

At the same meeting a theme was chosen in accordance with the desires of the student body as shown by the ballot at Thursday's assembly. The theme selected was "Scalp the Indians". The theme seemed appropriate in view of the fact that the former LaCrosse Maroons have recently changed their name to the Indians.

A number of important River Falls alumni will be on the campus to help make this homecoming a major event. Among them will be Mr. J. W. Crabtree, a former president of the college and two former River Falls coaches, Bert Swenson and Otto Eggebrecht.

All lettermen attending this institution during the administration of President Crabtree will be guests of honor.

Catholics To Hold Mixer

Student members of the Catholic church will be the guests of St. Bridget's Guild at a mixer in the basement of the church on Thursday evening at eight o'clock.

The entertainment committee is composed of Mary Catherine Prucha, Marion Hawkins, and Joseph Hyde.

Y.W. Initiation To Be Monday

Old Members Renew Vows at Annual Candlelight Ritual

At the annual candlelight service to be held in the North Hall auditorium on Monday evening, October 4, at 7:15, the formal initiation of new members to the YWCA will take place.

This ceremony is an annual event of the organization at which time both old and new members pledge their allegiance.

Members are asked to dress in white for the ceremony.

Mildred Pederson is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for the event. An outside speaker will be a feature of the program.

"Every aspect of YWCA campus life appears so interesting to me that I hardly know which one to choose." This statement was the response of "Everygirl" when the activities of YWCA were briefly cited in a play given by the cabinet members at the regular meeting of the association Monday evening.

The membership, secretarial, program, social service, publicity, finance, project and social committees, each with a cabinet member acting as chairman, are the framework of the activities in which this organization engages. The organization is at present conducting a campaign to bring every woman student who is interested in the YW program into its membership. Each new member will be appointed to the committee which interests her most.

Art Club Picks New Council

For the introductory meeting of the Palette club Miss Alberta Greene entertained the members of the organization at her home last Wednesday afternoon, September 22.

After sketching some picturesque views - trees and buildings seen from the backyard of Miss Greene's home, the guests were served an informal dinner.

A business meeting was held before the company departed. New members were elected to the executive council. The two new council members are Dorothy Severson and Elizabeth Hilyar. Dorothy Severson will act as secretary-treasurer for the organization.

Suggestions were made for activities during the fall. Sketching tours, visits to art institutes and meetings featuring individual projects such as leather work, bag-beading, and wood-carving are planned.

Students From 117 High Schools Attend R.F.T.C.

Minnesota, Indiana, Montana, Illinois, and Wisconsin Are Represented on Campus

Ninety-nine high schools of Wisconsin and eighteen high schools of other states are represented in the 564 students enrolled here this term.

Of this group, according to data released this week by the registrar's office, by far the largest number, 230, are now enrolled in the department of secondary education. There are 85 of these majoring in science, 68 in history, 61 in English, and 16 in mathematics. There are 122 in agriculture education, 94 in elementary and 40 in rural. Seventy-eight are unclassified.

As usual, River Falls has a larger representation here than any other city. The local community furnishes 106 of the students on the campus. Ellsworth has the second largest group with 41. In the 15 to 20 group are Amery, Cumberland, Frederic and Hudson. Baldwin, Hammond, Maiden Rock, Hawkins, Milltown, New Richmond, Prescott, Spring Valley, and Woodville are represented by from ten to fifteen students.

The following places have five or more young people here: Arkansaw, Barron, Centuria, Clayton, Clear Lake, Durand, Elmwood, Lodi, Ladysmith, New Auburn, Mondovi, Owen, Plum City, Roberts, Stanley, and Tony. There are 36 Wisconsin counties represented.

The student from the farthest distance comes from Montana. There are 18 from Minnesota, five from Indiana, and two from Illinois.

By classes, the registration this week shows 235 freshmen, 158 sophomores, 97 juniors, and 74 seniors. There are 349 men and 215 women.

Committee Allocates 1937 Activity Fund

At a meeting of a committee of faculty members and a representative from the Student Senate, the allocation of the college activity fee was made as follows per term:

Athletics	$1.25
Health	.50
Student Voice	.67
Lectures and Entertainments	.40
Forensics	.35
Student Social	.25
Music	.25
Meletean	.75
Reserve	.08

The faculty participates in the support of activities in a way similar to that of students. The distribution is somewhat different. This is due to the fact that the faculty members do not of course, receive any benefits from the student health service, but in order to increase the efficiency of this program a portion of the funds contributed by the faculty are turned over for the support of the health program.

The payment of an activity fee by members of the faculty is a unique feature of the administration of the River Falls State Teachers College. No other faculty, so far as is known, participates in the support of college activities in this manner.

Mrs. A. Stewart Will Reappear Here Thursday

In her second appearance here during 1937, Mrs. Arthur Stewart will read Maxwell Anderson's play "High Tor" before the college assembly on Thursday, September 30.

Mrs. Stewart appeared here last spring reading "Victoria Regina" by Housman.

Let's Give the Team Some Vocal Support

We have just begun what we hope will be a successful football season. The importance of the whole-hearted support of the squad by a spirited student body, now, deserves emphasis. A fine team can always be urged to play a little better by a crowd of cheering fans. That is decidedly the job of the student body. Other football fans often show as much spirit and interest in the college teams as do the students themselves.

Don't you think we have heard enough about the wonderful school spirit that used to prevail at River Falls? Let us wake up and show our friends and the old grads that we still take great interest in a fine football team and that school spirit still is a vital factor at R. F. S. T. C.

This year's squad presents an array of former greats who have been away for a year or so. There is no doubt but that they are going to plunge right back into that spirit of good, tough competition and make our football games interesting.

Let us not expect the cheerleaders to make all the noise. After all, they are to lead the yells.

We wish to remind the freshmen that they should attend mass meetings and general pep meetings. Learn your yells and school songs as soon as you get copies of them. Freshmen who show evidences of being vexed by the noise at a mass meeting are urged to stay in their rooms and relearn those formulae or translate that third chapter - .

It is on the enthusiastic and wide-awake freshmen of today that the school pins its hopes for tomorrow.

Let us adopt another inspiring homecoming slogan and carry on the Falls tradition of active school spirit.

Faculty and Student Cooperation Requested

May we make an appeal to faculty members and organization heads to cooperate with the Student Voice in publishing the latest news. Dates for meetings are often changed, programs cancelled or speakers are unable to attend the scheduled events. In such cases we should appreciate having the persons in charge communicate with us immediately so that alterations may be made in news stories. We aim to have complete news coverage, so even though you may not have been contacted for the original story, the responsibility lies with you to notify us of any change. Only by such cooperation can we really be of assistance.

R. F. Students Urged to Use Editorial Columns

In a publication such as the Student Voice, the purpose of which is to allow students to voice their opinions through the medium of the printed page, the editorials, it must be understood, are not necessarily the personal views of the editors. It is true, however, that all manuscript intended for the editorial columns will be censored by the editors.

Students who have some constructive criticisms to make, and who feel that conditions may be remedied by bringing them to the attention of the student body are urged to make use of these columns.

Former Students Receive Positions

As announced in last week's Student Voice, 70 former graduates received new or better teaching positions for this year through the activities of the Placement Bureau. Following is a complete list of those:

Boarding Business Booming at Clubs

The cooperative movement has been definitely established in the boarding and rooming business here. Last spring the only boarding club on the campus had 45 members. Now at the opening of the fall term a total of 128 students belong to the three clubs for men and the one for women.

The already successful Fox Boarding Club in this, its third year of operation, has developed a subsidiary club at the Drake house on Cascade Ave. with Mrs. McLaughlin, formerly of the college cafeteria, doing the cooking. Both clubs are managed by Eddie Cass with Fred Brecklin assisting him at Fox's No. 1 and Marcel Nelson at Fox's No. 2.

The two clubs are operated together. All planning and buying is done jointly.

Fox's No. 1 and No. 2 have 46 and 51 members respectively. Including cooks and helpers 106 persons are fed a total of about 1,270 meals a week. A volume of food comparable to that required for Paul Bunyan's hungriest loggers is consumed. Every week about 700 pounds of potatoes and 300 to 350 loaves of bread with 80 pounds of butter are washed down the Fox's

Wolves' gullets with about 550 quarts of milk and several gallons of coffee.

In addition to these ordinary types of food are the salads and desserts that Mrs. Lida Fox has been expertly and economically preparing during the past two years.

Seldom Inn, lair of the Seldom Inn Knights is the third cooperative club. There eleven men, under the leadership of Robert Johnson, Edwin Baker and Leonard Hermanson, each chipped in $21.50 as an entrance fee to equip and start the organization. All eleven room and board at Seldom Inn, sharing expenses equally. They have rooms for about three more members who will be added when the Inn gets well under way.

College Hall, which was formerly managed by Miss Irma Hathorn, now houses the women's boarding club directed by Mrs. William Griffith.

At present the club is feeding twenty women students, five of whom room there also. Arrangements are such that members may work part time to help pay for meals. When the group gets established they plan to elect officers from among the members to operate the club.

- Catherine A. Stephens (1924)
- Centuria, Wis., Third and Fourth
- Everett T. Jacobson (1933)

Falcons Wallop Mankato Peds In Grid Opener

Running Attack Functions Well As Defense Stops All Of Opponents Advances

River Falls opened its 1937 football season last Saturday with a decisive 21-0 victory over Mankato on the local gridiron. The Falcons had some difficulty with the famed Ped passing attack but managed to give the Mankato boys trouble in return with a powerful running game. The locals scored their first two touchdowns as a result of an intercepted pass and a recovered fumble but scored their last one on a sustained 55-yard drive. Cudney place-kicked the points after touchdowns.

TORGERSON SCORES

Torgerson, who started in place of the injured Capt. Rendler, scored two touchdowns and played brilliant ball all afternoon. He intercepted a pass from the hands of Lapata in the third quarter and sprinted fifty yards for a touchdown. In the first quarter he crashed over from the 1-yard line after bringing the ball down to within scoring distance with a beautiful 22-yard dash. This first touchdown came after the Falcons had passed over the goal line incomplete. Mankato had been given possession of the ball on the 20-yard line, and after an 8-yard run by Lapata, O'Brien recovered a fumble on the 28. Then came Torgerson's long run, and a short dash by Bartz before Torgy pushed the pigskin over.

Cudney scored the third touchdown on a dash from the 20-yard line in the fourth quarter. Bartz worked well but was denied a chance to score early in the game when he fumbled on the 4-yard line after a 42-yard run. O'Brien, at end for River Falls, starred in that position. He opened the way for several good gains with timely blocks, and was very stubborn opposition to the Mankato running attack. Stu Larson contributed enough to make the center of the Falcon line practically impregnable. The line worked smoothly all along and held the Peds to only 33 yards, gained by rushing, while they lost 19. Mankato gained 121 yards by passing, completing 12 out of 20.

FALCONS OUTGAIN PEDS

The Falcons gained 262 yards by rushing and lost 77. They gained 26 yards by passing and scored 15 first downs to Mankato's 12.

The Falcons were penalized four times for a total of 50 yards, and Mankato drew one fifteen yard penalty.

Coach Lowery used most of the men who had on uniforms, but the starting backfield had little relief until late in the game. Blank appeared once and had to be taken out because of a shoulder injury. Rendler was not used at all, and Lystad, Jackman, and Nickerson were used only sparingly. Among the reserve linemen, Gille, Dubbe, and Carow were the best.

Lapata's passes to Kroeger, Teske, and Davison caused the Falcons no end of trouble, especially the Lapata to Kroeger combination which completed five passes for 71 yards. Schultz at center was another outstanding man on the Mankato eleven. He carried the brunt of the defensive work.

The line-ups: River Falls—ends, Wulf and O'Brien; tackles, Schloemann and Staley; guards, Cass and Frank; center, Larson; halfbacks, Bartz and Cudney; fullback, Torgerson; quarter, Herkal. Substitutions: L. Larson, Leadholm, Huffman, H. Larson, Dubbe, Carow, Gille, Gerhardt, Nickerson, Lystad, Jackman, and Blank.

Summer Work Keeps Stars Fit

Athletes Can Be Classified As "Jacks of All Trades"

Last summer saw many of the present River Falls "greats" performing at various jobs to condition themselves for a banner year on the Falcon teams.

Harold "Nooky" Blank, a star of a few seasons ago on the football, baseball and basketball teams of River Falls, has returned to school after being employed in an air conditioning plant in LaCrosse. "Stu" Larson, another stellar pivot man on the football teams, has also returned to work toward his degree. He has been employed as manager of an A & P store in Minneapolis.

Colonel Larson, formerly of Chippewa Falls, needs no introduction as his records speak for themselves during the time he played on the college teams. He has worked for the Silver Dome Trailer Co. in Chicago for the past year. Lee Martin, also of Chippewa Falls, returned to school after a year's absence. He spent the past year working on a railroad section gang and appears to be in the best condition.

Moore, the stellar catcher of the college nine last season, was employed at a glove factory in Minneapolis. Walt Herkal kept himself in shape working in a foundry in Minneapolis. Mert Wulf worked at a panel factory in Algoma and also starred on the home-town nine at first base.

Tom Rendler worked at the Onalaska Canning Co. and reported back in the best of shape. Lloyd Frank and Bill Bartz were top-notch waiters at a northern summer resort.

Don Staley, the ace tackle of the Falcons, wrestled hot bread pans in a bakery at Indianapolis, while his running mate, Carl Nickerson, took excellent care of that cities' tennis courts. Charles Cudney attended the summer session here and then headed north for a much needed rest. Leadholm labored as a lineman for the power company at Amery.

Carow was kept busy doing his daily chores on his father's farm. Ed Cass drove truck on a road construction gang. Alfonse met with a tough break in an auto accident. His injuries will keep him off the gridiron for several weeks. Schloemann, the veteran River Falls tackle, kept himself in good condition on his father's farm. Wallie Lystad was Hudson's chief lifeguard the past summer. Torgerson would make no statement on his summer's actions nor would Jackman of River Falls. Mel Erickson, a Minneapolis rookie, pitched fine ball for Eau Claire of the Northern League.

Johnny O'Brien proved to be an outstanding ag man while working at the college farm this past summer. He says he really knows now for sure that cows give milk.

WAA Holds First Meeting

At the first meeting of the entire WAA Wednesday night, forty members who consider joining the organization were present. Homecoming plans were discussed and a committee appointed including Betty Hogue, chairman, Mildred Pederson and Margaret Farrell. A finance committee whose duty is to direct all money-making enterprises of the organization consists of LaVernia Jorgenson, chairman, Eunice Manske and Stella Tobiasen.

Hockey Featured In W. A. A. Play

Pederson and Creswell Named Tournament Leaders

In a rollicking, rough game in which the players asked and gave no quarter, the Blues again defeated the Reds at hockey 4-0 Friday.

Playing on a wet field, many of the contestants spent a good share of the time sprawling on the slippery field. In spite of the spills, the Blues gave the Reds a sound trouncing by scoring four times and repulsing all assaults on their goal. Several times the Reds pushed the puck down the field only to be turned back by the Blue's tight defense.

Since an enthusiastic crowd of nineteen reported for this practice game, prospects look bright for two full teams for the regular tournament. Helen Pedersen and Lucille Creswell were appointed captains to pick regular teams for the tournament season which opens next week.

The women's fall tennis tournament opened this week. The number of entries is smaller than usual, but a lively tournament is expected. The first round matches must be played by Friday, October 1.

Dan's Dope

Ted Whereatt's Superior crew demonstrated last Friday that they will make a strong bid to retain their championship toga when they mowed down a supposedly strong South Dakota State Teacher's eleven to the tune of 18-0. This week the Yellow-jackets take on heir arch rival, Duluth, in a game which should prove more conclusively just how powerful the Superior Peds actually are. The Wisconsin boys will be out to avenge a 3-0 defeat which they took at the hands of the Minn. school last season.

The Stout Blue Devils appear to be in for another disastrous season. Coach Crawford's aggregation could offer little resistance to a veteran St. Olaf squad this past week end and as a result were beaten 27-0. This may not, however, be a fair indication of the Blue Devils' strength. Stout's local sports reporter writes, "With many vets back and plenty of new men out I'm sure the Blue Devils will turn out a top notch team before the season ends." The 1936 Menomonee squad did look fairly good defensively, and they may be able to develop some offensive power during the present season.

The La Crosse Peds also dropped their season's opener to a powerful Moorhead Teachers aggregation by a score of 13-6. With 12 lettermen back, however, Coach Johnson's men will be a force to be reckoned with in the Northern Conference. Included among these returning are three tackles, two centers, three backfield men, three ends and a guard. One of the three ends is Johnny Nevers, 1936 all-conference man.

And just to refresh your memory we record the twelve leading teams of 1936 as selected by the Azze-Batem System. The group in the order picked are: Pittsburgh, Minnesota, Louisiana State, Santa Clara, Northwestern, Washington U., Nebraska, Alabama, Texas Christian, Yale, Notre Dame, and Marquette.

Johnnies Meet Locals in Second Gridiron Battle

Minnesota Eleven Will Test Strength of Lowery's Men Saturday at Collegeville

St. Johns University of Collegeville, Minnesota, will be hosts to River Falls in the Falcon's second gridiron clash of the 1937 season.

The Johnnies are playing this year under a new coach, George Dusenberger; Joe Benda having resigned to take a position at Notre Dame.

The last year's Minnesota college champions have ten lettermen returning along with an imposing group of sophomores. Heading the list of lettermen are co-captains McGree and Callanan, last year's star halfbacks. Callanan, however, has been moved to fullback this year in order to utilize his plunging ability. This is McGree's third year of varsity competition. Completing the backfield will be Himsl and Roche. Himsl played halfback last year but has been moved to quarterback to fill the vacancy left by Scofield, an all-state man. Roche, the left half, gives promise of being an outstanding star. Although only a sophomore, he has shown a great deal of promise as a ball carrier, passer, and punter. For backfield reserves Dusenberger has Sieben, another sophomore, who has shown up fine in practice.

LINE IS POWERFUL

In the line the outlook is also very bright with Schneider and Van Hoof returning to the end positions; however, capable reserve power must be discovered here. Rath is the only returning tackle, but three sophomores are making a fight for the opposite tackle post. Three veterans, Johnson, Trudelle, and Born, return at the guard posts with Stoffel, a sophomore, showing up well. The center position is in the capable hands of Carlin and Uberecken, both veterans.

The Johnnies have had two games under their belts, dropping a 13 to 12 decision to Gustavus last Friday night and defeating Duluth the week previous. In this game the play of Roche was outstanding. He scored one touchdown on an 85-yard run of an intercepted pass. He passed to Van Hoof for the second touchdown and had a 70-yard punt return for a touchdown called back because he stepped out of bounds.

Future Farmers Hold Stock Judging Contest

Approximately 250 high school students represented 35 schools at the seventh annual livestock judging contest held at the college farm Saturday, September 25. This is by far the largest number ever to participate in the annual contest. The increase in attendance this year is due to the fact that there has been a large increase in the number of schools now carrying Smith-Hughes agriculture courses.

The contest was arranged and sponsored by the Collegiate Chapter of FFA of which Myron Johansen is president. The students were guests of FFA during the day; judging in the forenoon and attending the Mankato-River Falls football game in the afternoon.

The first five places in all classes were won by the following schools in the order named: St. Croix Falls, Dunn County Agricultural School, Clear Lake, Milltown, Amery.

The first places in each class were won by the following schools: Holsteins, Arcadia-St. Croix Falls; Guerneys, Downing; Horses, Osceola; Beef, St. Croix; Sheep, Amery; Swine, Arcadia.

The winning team will represent this district in a state contest at Madison in October.

FFA Holds First Meeting

Discussions explaining the various phases of the Future Farmers of America organization were featured at the first FFA meeting held last Thursday in the Men's Union.

The aims, purposes, and values of the FFA were discussed by Mike Reagen. The qualifications for the various degrees, and the methods of achieving them were explained by Albert Dickie. Walter Hansen reviewed the projects carried out during last year.

All freshmen in the agriculture department are urged to attend the next meeting on Thursday evening, October 7, at 7:30 o'clock.

Honor Society Holds Picnic

Members of the Honor Society enjoyed a hike and marshmallow roast last Wednesday evening. Meeting at South Hall, at 7:30, the hikers proceeded to the Mound where a bonfire was lighted and marshmallows were toasted over the coals.

Because of a lack of officers caused by graduation and resignation, a meeting was held to appoint a nominating committee. Dues were discussed and tentatively decided upon. Different themes and times for the meetings were discussed and it was decided, for the present at least, to continue as before with meetings once a month.

THE LOUDSPEAKER

(By the Man Who Knows)

Free one-way rides are being inflicted on some of the more independent frosh with noted success and complete satisfaction on both sides of the fence as a result. The season officially got under way last Thursday evening when, amid a steady drizzle, a young yodler and master of ceremonies was initiated into the ancient rites of old River Falls. It was a matter of approximately three or four miles. Much more dire things can be expected in the future if traditions are to be upheld.

A good many of the male element present at last Thursday's assembly program went for that brunette flute player in a big way. We don't know whether it was the artistry or the personality that appealed to them.

Dr. Karges Addresses YMCA on Student Life

"The old adage, 'Don't let your studies interfere with your education,' is no longer practical as much as it was in pre-depression days," stated Dr. R. A. Karges when addressing the YMCA last Monday evening. He then went on to explain that most students, when they have very little money to spend, take their school work more seriously.

Dr. Karges also discussed some of the things about which students should be especially concerned. Among these are school activities and friendships.

"Many outstanding students," said Dr. Karges, "graduate from college without making many friends or getting into any activities. As a result, nobody really knows what such students are able to do."

New Masquers To Be Selected

Tryouts for Masquers are being held this week and next in Prof. M. D. Geere's room on the third floor of South Hall.

The board of admissions, composed of Niles Grunke, president, Harriet Campbell, secretary, Ruth Phillips, John Bradley, and Jack Osborne, has charge of choosing the new material for the club from among the amateur actors and actresses who aspire to membership in the organization. Opportunities for tryouts are still open, but must be arranged for at once, according to Masquer officials.

The Masquers will hold their second regular meeting tomorrow night at seven o'clock. After the business meeting there will be a short program.

Rhapsodies

IN BLACK AND WHITE

School is off to a good start, and we feel as if we had attended it for a term already. We, (the editorial "we"), spent the last month of vacation wishing that September 13 would hurry, and now we feel so overworked that we wish vacation were still here.

What better group could be found to start our assembly programs than the Colonial Trio, who entertained us last Thursday morning. We were very pleased with the program. "Tops" we thought was the flute solo, of which, as is usual with musical numbers, we failed to understand the name. The next selection worthy of honorable mention was the violin, cello, and piano rendition of Schubert's "Serenade", which has always been a favorite of ours. Here's hoping the assembly committee obtains more of that kind of program.

The outlook for our own musical organizations is good this year. The concert band has enough of last year's players back so that only six freshmen had to be added. At present the band is working on some new music and has a concert planned for this term. The concert orchestra has added about ten players and is also working on new music - said music being of the symphonic variety that makes all the players do a little "woodshedding" between rehearsals.

With fifty-two men out for the first rehearsal, the marching band reports the best prospects it has had in its history.

The Girls' Glee Club is caught between two fires, namely a gym period and a biology class. Part of the club can practice at one time and the other part can practice at the only other available time. But regardless of their dilemma over practice periods, the club is planning to give an outstanding concert at Christmas time. Incidentally, young ladies, the glee club does not require tryouts but is open to all coeds who like to sing.

As we write this, tryouts for the choruses are still being held so we do not know what the report is. However, we do know that the chorus has a big concert planned for Christmas. But soon you will be hearing all these organizations for yourselves so we need not say any more about them.

Churches Give Welcome Socials for Students

To better acquaint the freshmen with their churches' various social functions, the local denominations sponsored church "mixers" this past week.

Last Thursday evening the Lutheran Student Association of the Lutheran church held its annual mixer, entertaining 70 young people. Games for introduction were followed by an explanation of the year's program. Frederick Johnson gave a talk on his visit to the Lutheran National Convention held this summer.

Refreshments were served and a social hour, which included a "community sing" ended the evening's activities.

A committee including Ann DeGolier, Ruth Nelson, Clifford Hermanson, and Frederick Johnson had charge of the mixer.

At Glen Park Lodge last Thursday afternoon the Congregational church entertained a group of 32 young people. Lively games were played outside until 6:30 when a lunch was served. The games continued in the Lodge after lunch until after 8 o'clock.

The Reverend and Mrs. C. C. Harris, and Professor J. P. Jacobson were present.

The committee of Jean Suzan Geere, Neal Jacobson, Billy Stratton, Marian Cairns, and Virginia Griffith planned the games. The food committee consisted of Dorothy Elliott, Marshal Johnson, and Harriet Campbell.

An automobile party was a feature of the entertainment given to the Methodist young people by the Wesley League. Entering the building through a winding route marked with the detours and highway signs, the students found a room decorated with signs and slogans bearing out the theme of the party. Games were also based on this theme. Refreshments were gas (punch) and tires (doughnuts) served from a miniature filling station. A social "sing" ended the evening.

Punning With Panner

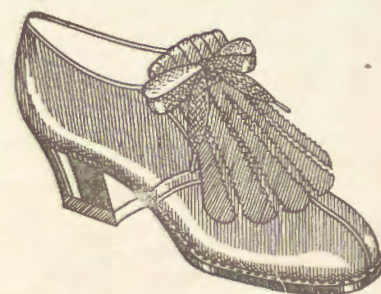

Practice teaching for the math majors has taught some of the seniors the value of efficiency. After all, the business of teaching math is one of making the little things count.

We're wondering about the frosh boys away at college and the gals they left back home. Does the old adage "absence makes the heart grow fonder" still hold, or in this case is it "absence makes the heart go yonder?"

The order of the day—The soiled white shoes of upper classmen who have stepped from the walk to allow the frosh girls who take the sidewalk six abreast to pass by.

Several of the college coeds have grown like mushrooms during the summer - leaving mushroom for improvement.
