Thirty-Six Students Make Second Term Honor Roll

Latest Roll Adds Twelve New Students to School's Honor Society

Thirty-six students made two and one-half honor points or more for each credit hour and made the scholastic elite group for the second term of the 1930-31 school year. Seven of these were straight "A" students.

This is two less than made the Honor Roll last term. The group makes up 7.14 per cent of the student body. Last term the per cent on the roll was 7.2, and for the winter term last year it was 4 per cent higher. The number of straight "A's", however, is greater than at any time during the past two years.

According to Mr. Prucha there were two students who had straight "A's" in their work and who were not eligible for the Honor Roll because they carried less than the minimum requirement of fourteen hours. There were, also, a few students who missed the select group by one point or even one-half point.

The following people qualified: (*) indicates straight-A students. The number of honor points is given following each name.

Y Men Elect New Officers for 1931-32

The guiding officers for the 1931-1932 Y. M. C. A. organization were elected last Tuesday evening. The cabinet members for the coming year were also selected.

Karl Korting, sophomore, Milltown, was elected president. Laurence Frye was elected vice-president, Walter Hagestad, secretary and George Strand, treasurer.

Nine men were elected for the cabinet positions for the coming year. These men are Wallace Gotham, Clifford Nelson, David Johnston, Wallace Clapp, Morris Buske, William Jueds, John Thompson, Everett Jacobson, and Gardner Graham. The men remaining of this year's cabinet are Carl Wolf, Edwin Warwick, and Horace Merrill.

The members leaving the cabinet this year are William Turner, Leonard Warner, Floyd Miller, Arno Dittbrenner, Marvin Pratt, Irwin Taylor, and Richard Mooney.

High Schools Send Bands to Tournament

Three snappy high school bands accompanied their teams to the local tournament last week. Hudson and New Richmond had their musical organizations here on two nights. Spring Valley band men were here for the Colfax-Spring Valley tussle Thursday evening.

Hudson sent a nine-piece German band down for the game Thursday night. The comic group received loud applause from tournament fans.

Falls Speakers Place Third in State Contest

Superior Teachers Awarded First in Both Events

River Falls placed third in both oratory and extemporaneous speaking in the state meet held at Stevens Point on Friday. The contest was the thirty-seventh staged by the Wisconsin Forensic League.

First place in both contests was won by Superior Teachers College. Marvin Goldstein, their orator, spoke on "It Augurs Well". Miss Grace Walsh, formerly of New Richmond, won the extemporaneous speaking. A Platteville speaker placed second in oratory, and the LaCrosse extemporaneous speaker was the second choice in that event.

Miss Lucille Garley represented the Falls in oratory. According to reports her oration on "The College in Chains" was well received by the audience. Elmer Beran represented River Falls in the other speaking event.

William Hawkins, local debater and vice-president of the state league, presided over the speaking contest. The judges were Prof. A. L. Franzke, Lawrence College; Prof. A. T. Weaver, U. of Wisconsin; and Prof. E. H. Ewbank, U. of Wisconsin.

The local string quartette composed of Elaine Christenson, Byron Betterly, Tom Runkle and Robert Davee appeared during the extempore speaking contest. Their numbers were broadcast over the Stevens Point station. Other college musical organizations that appeared on the program were: LaCrosse band, LaCrosse male quartet, EauClaire Capella choir, Oshkosh band, Oshkosh xylophone, Oshkosh glee club, Milwaukee glee club.

They're Experts Now

"Say, Bill, turn on the light so I can see the eye in this needle, will ya?"

"Whatcha doin', kid?" Bill is inquisitive.

"Aw, nothin' much. Just a little mending," replies the room-mate, trying to keep the other's prying eyes from discovering what he is really doing.

Suddenly Bill's eyes caught a glimpse of a piece of brightly colored cloth in the hands of his buddy.

"Say, what's that?" he asks.

"Aw gwan and mind your own business," is the answer.

"Come on, tell a fellow!" There was no reply. Then he realized what his room-mate was doing. The Masquerade was only a week off and he was making his own costume.

Honor Students Plan Permanent Society

Selection of permanent officers and definite organization plans were the major business transactions at the meeting of veteran honor roll students held in the social room at 9:50 this morning.

Joyce Bergseng was selected as chairman, and Archie Hill received the treasurer position. A decision to take a page in the Meletean was made by the group. Silver "R's" are to be given to all members of the organization.

Negative Debaters To Meet Oshkosh

River Falls debaters will have an opportunity to enter the state finals by defeating the Oshkosh team at Stevens Point on Friday, March 27.

The negative team composed of Lucile Garley, Morris Buske, and William Hawkins will oppose the affirmative team from Oshkosh. Arno Dittbrenner and Leonard Madison will also make the trip. This single debate was made necessary due to the tie between these two schools, and the debate will decide which is to go into the state finals contest.

Honor Roll Statistics

Here are a few statistics on how the groups and classes rank on the honor roll. While it is admitted that these figures may not mean a great deal, we hope they may prove interesting.

Women's Chorus Will Appear Before P. T. A.

The Women's Chorus of River Falls under the direction of Miss Wharton will make its first public appearance on Tuesday evening, March 31, in the High School auditorium. The occasion is a meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association. Margaret Vieths, Zella Gerisch, and Ardelle Hamlet will also take part in the program, assisting Miss Wharton in a two-piano arrangement of Grieg's "Peer Gynt Suite."

Masked Party Arranged for Friday Evening

Noted Orchestra Engaged for Social Occasion

Finishing touches on the "Free" all school masquerade are being made. The committees in charge have taken care of everything but the student body. To make this party a success it will be necessary for everyone to cooperate and as many as possible come masked. Not expensive costume, just different.

The music for the entertainment will be furnished by Dave Dahl's orchestra from Minneapolis. Those who have heard this orchestra on the campus know the music will not be found wanting.

It has been rumored that the only way to come is in couples, but this is an error. The most attractive prizes that will be offered are for the best groups of five or over. The committee urges the house where possible to come as a group and take home the prize for your rooming houses. There are also two prizes for single costumes.

The performance will start promptly at 8:30 and in order to get in on the biggest share of the fun one will have to be there from the start. They say there has been enough confetti ordered to float a battleship and enough streamers to reach from here to there and plenty of implements to make noise. So everyone should come for part of the performance even if you aren't in costume 'cause you soon will be covered up.

The masquerade was an annual event among the school's social gatherings until four or five years ago. The social committee is anxious to make this one such a success that the unique feature may, again, become an annual social fixture.

A New Vanishing Act

Mysterious-looking black veils are popular with a certain group of men on the campus at this time of the year. All of a sudden one of the group disappears under a black cloth. "There, hold it! Thousand one, thousand two, thousand three, th-". The shutter clicks and it is all over.

Another one may approach some unsuspecting person and say, "Smile, will you?" Before anyone knows what has happened the shutter clicks again and the man behind the camera sighs a "There, that's that."

Scenes such as this are common on the campus these days. This group of young men are learning the whats and what-nots of photography. Watch out! You may be the veiled men's next victim.

Masquers Plan Stage Presentation

The Masquers will have their election of officers at their next meeting which is to be a supper on Wednesday, April 1st.

"The Elopement of Ellen," staged by Margaret Fox, will be presented April 15th.

Largest Crowd in History Turns Out to See Eight Teams in 3 Days' Play

Flashing an attack that clearly baffled the Orange and Black opponents from New Richmond, the blue-clad lads from Hudson nosed out a 20-16 victory in the final game of the independent tournament held here last week. Hudson won from Spring Valley and Roberts in the previous games they played in the tournament.

In the consolation game Colfax won from Boyceville by a 26-24 score. The contest was a struggle from start to finish. Boyceville led 13-9 at the half and held a lead until the last eight minutes of the game. Karlan, Boyceville forward and Conway, Colfax center, were the high scorers for their respective teams.

A crowd, estimated to be over a thousand, packed every available inch of floor space in the local gym. Soon after the first game begun, the doors were opened wide, and scores of people perched on chairs and benches to get a glimpse of the battling teams. Counting the local students who held season tickets reports indicated that a total of more than 3000 people saw the games.

After the final game, Prof. H. C. Mason presented the teams and the players with the tournament awards. The beautiful silver trophy for first place was accepted by Coach Erhell of the Hudson aggregation.

According to members of the tournament committee, the independent tournament was highly successful. Unless the W. I. A. A. arranges new districts the same meet may be held again next year.

Military Leader Talks at Assembly Thursday

Captain Harry Henry will speak at the assembly program next Thursday morning on Panama. This talk will be on the nature of the geographical character of the country.

Captain Henry is a native of Washington, D. C. He entered the war as a lieutenant and saw active service. He has been in the service ever since, part of which was spent in Panama.

Captain Henry will also speak to the reserve officers of St. Croix and Pierce county Thursday night. He will discuss the defenses of the Panama canal.

His visit is in connection with the C. M. T. C. recruiting and any person that might be interested may speak to him after assembly.

Senior Play Cast to be Chosen

Miss Schlosser held tryouts for the senior class play last week. The cast will be selected and work will soon begin for the annual stage event.

Visiting Athletes Attend Banquet at Cafeteria

All of the high school teams who played in the tournament and their coaches were entertained by the faculty and the "R" club at a banquet in the college cafeteria Friday.

Professor Whitenack made the opening speech and officially welcomed the teams to River Falls. Coach Klanderud acted as master of ceremonies and introduced the members of the "R" club to the visitors. He also complimented the visiting teams on their strong defensive playing and their determination to stick to the game with the "never say die" spirit.

The rattle of forks and knives was quelled by music furnished by the local "Badger Boys". They were complimented on their fine work by all present.

The all-tournament banquet is held every year and helps the teams partaking in the event to become better acquainted with each other and with the school.

Editorials

The high school tournament marked the close of the basketball season. Needless to say, this season was featured by splendid support on the part of the student body for the team.

At no time during the season or after the loss of a game was there any apparent lack of this support on the part of the students. The squad was accompanied to all games by a host of student supporters. Perhaps this same spirit throughout the years more than any other factor has given River Falls the tradition of being a fighting team.

Hats Off to Them!

Listed on the front page of this journal, less than two score in numbers, are what we may consider the scholastic elite of our college. An accomplishment secured by only seven in every hundred students on the campus is their record.

Unheralded in the press from week to week as are many of the other select groups in our college, these people work hard twelve weeks each term. Their only compensation is that of feeling that they have done superior work.

An organization to honor these people had its birth on the campus some time ago, but of late it does not seem to make any steps toward becoming a permanent organization. We feel that a society of these people has a real place on our campus, and we are anxious to see it put across.

Collecting Class Dues

The problem of collecting class dues from people who do not wish to pay them or those who claim they cannot pay recently was discussed by a group of class advisors and presidents. They decided that a list of the people who fail to meet this obligation should be handed to the committee on recommendations.

Surely this is not an injustice. Class dues are necessary in carrying out the functions that any college class is called upon to execute.

In our larger colleges and universities a fee many times the one we charge here is exacted from each student.

A local campus leader recently made the following statement: "I believe that the people who are always ready to hand out destructive criticism and those who fail to pay their class and organization dues are, in almost every instance, the same group." What is your reaction to that statement.

-: We Are Embryo Teachers -:

We are embryo teachers. We expect to be leaders of youth, not merely instructors.

The young people of the state will look to us for moral, ethical, and spiritual leadership as well as intellectual leadership.

What will we have to offer them? We expect to be prepared on subject matter—History, English, Algebra, Physics.

We expect to know how to present that subject matter according to the latest and most approved pedagogical methods.

We expect to be able to furnish real help in activities not directly connected with the class room—Athletics, Forensics, Music, Boy Scouts, Etc.

What else may we have to offer? Will we be able to inspire those youngsters to think—and to think straight?

Will we help them to be critical of existing institutions and processes in society—and to be sympathetically and constructively critical?

Will we be able to suggest that to be "right" is of infinitely more important than to win a game?

Will we be able to demonstrate that there is glory in being intellectually honest and morally clean even though the recompense can not be measured in dollars and cents?

Will we be able to prove that big crowds and much noise is a poor way to use exclusively for the purpose of measuring the success of any social enterprise?

Can we demonstrate in our lives that when doubts arise, the "Still Small Voice" is a pretty safe guide to follow?

Will we be able to make clear that a mental diet composed preponderantly of "thrills" will in the end produce mental stagnation?

Are we prepared to emphasize the fact that things of value are frequently done up in small packages?

Will we be able to explain to them why the sabre toothed tiger is now extinct while the humble sheep roam over the earth?

Will we be able to demonstrate that problems solved—work successfully accomplished—challenges met—services rendered—constitute some of the greatest sources of happiness and contentment?

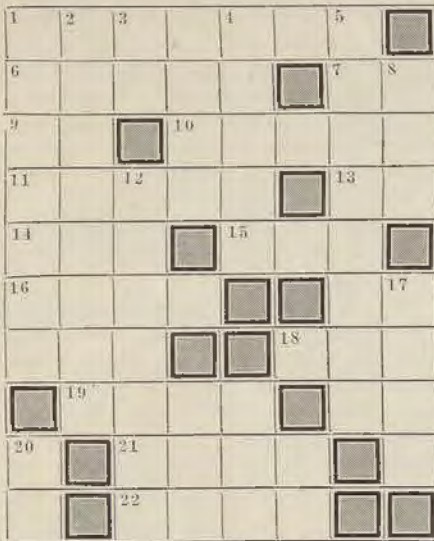

If it is clear that we are headed in that direction—

Then these school days of ours ought to be the greatest days of our lives.

If not—

Perhaps we ought to take stock of ourselves now while it is not too late.

Last Week's Solution

Prof. Whitenack Heads Tournament Managing Group

Prof. E. A. Whitenack

Prof. Whitenack, chairman of the athletic board, has carried another tournament to its successful completion.

According to Mr. Whitenack there were more than 2000 people, besides the local college group, at the games this year, and the receipts were upward of $1000. This compared very favorably with that of other years.

After the expenses are paid, the receipts will be divided among the eight schools taking part in the tournament.

It is a possibility that this independent tournament will remain as such or it may go back to the regular system. Action on this will not take place until the district division is made next year.

Mr. Whitenack stated that this tournament was one of the best ever held, featured by good sportsmanship, and clean playing throughout. Furthermore, in spite of the sharp cut in the price of season tickets and in spite of the fact that no seats were reserved at this tournament, the financial returns compared very favorably with those of other years. The last night was perhaps one of the best ever held at a tournament. No tickets were sold after the games had started.

THE DREAMER

The fuel is burning low.
 The lonely fire flickers yet,
 The dying embers still emit
 A faint but cheerful glow.

All is as silent as death itself;
 The dreamer does not stir.
 Sitting alone by the fireplace,
 He seems but an indistinct blur.

What does he see in the wavering light,
 In the flames that are almost dead?
 Is he dreaming of days that are long gone by,
 Or days that are still ahead?

What are his thoughts as he watches
 The ambitious flames leap high,
 Leap up, to fall tumbling down again
 And in smoldering ashes die?

The dreamer's head starts nodding,
 The shadows nearer creep;
 In the quiet gloom of that lonely room
 The fire dies; the dreamer falls asleep.

Hudson Wins Final Despite Irish City Rally

Numerous Fouls Are Called as Teams Battle for High School Title

Hudson's blue jackets held off a desperate opponent rally and with the aid of a large score piled up in the early minutes of the game, handed the Orange and Black of New Richmond a 20-16 defeat to capture tournament honors.

The first quarter of the final game was a free throw contest. On the first play Higgins, New Richmond captain, shot one from the free throw line. Walsh fouled Stevenson and the try was good. Two more fouls by Higgins all were converted into points by Jensch and Stevenson to give Hudson a 5-2 lead. Stevenson made three more points when he was fouled twice by Halverson increasing the Bluebirds lead to 8-2. Clapp fouled Walsh, and the Irish center made both tries. Walsh and Halverson fouled again and Jensch and Stevenson carried the score up to Hudson 12, New Richmond 4 as the quarter ended.

The second quarter was a drab contrast. Jensch and Stevenson and Higgins and Halverson each sank a basket bringing the score at the half to Hudson 16, New Richmond 8.

Irish Gain Second Half

G. Clapp opened the second half with a long shot. Higgins retaliated with two gift shots on fouls by Stevenson and Jensch. Halverson made a beautiful in-shot. Heffron was fouled by Stayberg, and the try was successful ending the quarter. Score, Hudson 19, New Richmond 14.

No scoring took place during the first four minutes of the fourth quarter. Heffron broke the ice with a field goal from the free throw line. Hudson took time out. Heffron fouled Stayberg and the second try was good. Brown went out on fouls, and he was replaced by Hicks. Walsh fouled Clapp, but the try fell short. The last minute was scoreless. Final score, New Richmond 16, Hudson 19.

Colfax opened the game with a flash when Conway sank two corner shots in rapid succession. Karlan, Boyceville ace, sank three free throws and a field goal to give Boyceville a lead. The game see sawed back and forth between the two teams. The quarter ended 8-9 in favor of Colfax. Boyceville staged a rally during the second quarter to lead 13-9 at the half.

Karlan and Severson added field goals and the former a free throw to give Boyceville a 18-17 lead at the end of the third quarter. Conway with two baskets and Larson and Bancroft each with one accounted for Colfax's scoring.

With two more short shots Conway regained the lead for Colfax. Boyceville fought desperately to overtake the Colfax lads. Two gift shots brought them within a point of tying, but Larson and Scott more than equalled Karlan's lone shot as the game ended.

Looking 'em Over

By Leonard Warner

Colfax, Boyceville and New Richmond were the only teams who stayed here during the three days. The other five entries journeyed back and forth to their respective towns.

The recent tournament refreshed in the minds of basketball fans the importance of the free throw on the outcome of a contest. There were at least two games that may have had a different ending if the losing team had made a reasonable number of its free throws. A survey reveals that the way the teams placed in making good their free throws was almost identical with the way they finished in the tournament standings.

Free Throw Records

Team	Attempts	Made	Miss'd	Pct
Hudson	35	21	14	600
Boyceville	48	27	21	562
Colfax	53	24	29	453
New Richmond	41	17	24	414
Roberts	27	11	16	407
Ellsworth	17	6	11	353
Prescott	32	11	21	344
Spring Valley	30	8	22	267

Stevenson, Hudson, was the tournament expert at making free throws. The Hudson lad sunk five in a row and a total of nine out of twelve for the series. Karlan, the sorrel top of Boyceville ranked second in the percent column, making nineteen out of 29 attempts. Scott, Colfax, made 8 out of twelve attempts.

Farther investigation into the score book shows that 25 out of every 100 points came from the free throw line.

The boys on the college basketball squad all took turns at running the stop watch and pulling the trigger. In fact they did it so well that no Meanwell style of stopping a game was necessary.

The championship game had a tendency to get a trifle rough in places. Twenty-six fouls were called in all. Of these Hudson committed eleven, New Richmond fifteen. No hard feeling was evident, however, and most were made on close guarding.

Larron O "Pipe" Peterson viewed all the important games in the role of reporter for the New Richmond News. His choice on the all-tournament teams agreed with the most of us.

Peterson was a splendid athlete in his younger days. The writer on various occasions watched the big boy play baseball, and if there were better center fielders in semi-pro ball than "Pipe" was, well we haven't heard of them.

Eight Teams Play Twelve Games in Three Days in Independent Meet

New Richmond-Boyceville

In the opening game of the tournament New Richmond defeated Boyceville by the score of 22 to 16. The game was marked by ragged playing on the part of both teams. The first half ended with New Richmond on top of a 9 to 7 score. During the second half Boyceville had many more shots than did New Richmond, but were not able to connect with the basket.

Karlan, Boyceville forward, played a nice game, as did Heffron and Williams of New Richmond.

Colfax-Prescott

Led by Conway, bespectacled center, Colfax defeated Prescott in the second game of the tournament. Colfax displayed a fast breaking offense which Prescott was unable to stop.

The first half ended 12 to 5 in favor of Colfax. Prescott came back during the second half, but lacked the drive to break through the Colfax strong defense. The Colfax boys had an exceptional defense for a high school team.

Roberts-Ellsworth

In the most exciting of Wednesday's games Roberts defeated Ellsworth in the first evening game by the score of 17-16. Ellsworth took the lead early in the first period, and held it until the last three minutes of play. Roberts made several baskets in rapid succession; and then Monteith, Roberts guard, dropped in a basket as the gun went off to end the game.

Hudson-Spring Valley

In the last of Wednesday's games Hudson won easily from the scrappy little bunch from Spring Valley. The final score was 19 to 22. Hudson took the lead from the first, and was never headed.

To Spring Valley should go the credit of having the scrappiest team in the tournament. Although they were outweighed they kept the Hudson boys working hard throughout the entire game.

Boyceville 28, Prescott 19

A Boyceville team playing a much better brand of basketball than it played the day before against New Richmond edged out an easy victory over Prescott. Kelly Karlan, the sorrel top forward accounted for twenty-two of his team's twenty-eight points. Leseman played best for the losers.

Spring Valley 23, Ellsworth 12

Showing the same stubborn fight that almost gave them a victory over Hudson the night before, the Spring Valley midgets went on a scoring rampage to win 23-12 from Ellsworth. Hanson with seven points led the victors in scoring. Campbell and Brickner played well for the losers.

New Richmond 25, Colfax 14

Flashing what experts considered the best team work and ball handling of the series, New Richmond high won the first evening game Thursday from Colfax 25-14. The first half was close, ending 15-10 in favor of the Irish.

Higgins, Halverson and Heffron led the attack of the city lads. The trio of aces accounted for all their team's points. Conway, Colfax center, made several one-hand side shots.

Hudson 19, Roberts 13

After trailing Roberts for more than three quarters, Hudson high put on a last minute scoring spree to win 19-13. The game boys from Roberts gave way only after Monteith, their stellar running guard, had been removed on fouls. Stayberg, Hudson, led both teams in scoring with seven points. Mollers and Monteith played best for the losers.

Boyceville 19, Spring Valley 16

In the first game on Friday morning Boyceville won from the Valley lads. The hard game of the night before told heavily on the fighting Spring Valley team. M. Clough led the scoring for the victors by sinking three field goals. McLaughlin was high man for the losers scoring four times from the field.

The victory assured Boyceville of a place among the four leading teams of the tournament.

Colfax 33, Roberts 17

Colfax won the right to meet the Boyceville team in the battle for third place by easily overpowering Roberts. The two previous hard games seemed to have been too much for the Heggen coached team, and they lacked the gameness which gave them an astounding victory over Ellsworth and which gave Hudson a terrible scare in the night game.

Conway with ten points and Larson with eight led in scoring for the winners. Monteith continued his brilliant playing for Roberts.

Believe It Or Not

This ought to be one for Ripley. Just as the gun went off to end the Boyceville-Prescott game on Thursday, Karlan, the Bluebird's forward, let go of a long shot. It was short. The ball fell about five feet short of going out of bounds, and then bounced up and fell through the basket. Count—two points more for Boyceville.

All Americans Cop Organization Title

Led by Juncheon, their stellar guard, the All Americans evened scores and won the organization tournament from the Ag Seniors by defeating them 21 to 11 last Monday night to win the championship of the intramural basketball league.

The game was a hard fought affair with the score see-sawing back and forth throughout the first three quarters. In the fourth quarter, the fast pace began to have its effect on the Ag men and the All Americans dominated the play from then on.

Juncheon and Wile led the All Americans with 9 and 6 points each; while Hocking with 7 points led the Ags. Bartosh displayed some clever guarding in holding the elusive "Arnie" Larson to one field goal.

The game marked the close of the regular organization season. According to all indications, this season has been one of the most outstanding in the history of the intramural athletics at the college.

College Briefs

A meeting of the G. O. P. was held in the social room on Wednesday evening, March 25.

Miss Gibson read a very interesting drama, "Out of the Sea" by Don Marquis. Coffee and cake were served and a pleasant social hour was enjoyed.

Nine boys from the college were in the band that headed the parade of the overall factory workers Tuesday afternoon. As the musicians received a real feed afterwards and bright blue overall suits, they all are loud in proclaiming that they were well paid for their services.

We'll give Beldenville credit for one thing at least—they know a good thing when they see it. Its next years faculty will consist of two of this years grads. Three cheers for Beldenville!!!

"That 'A' will give me nine honor points, that 'D', oh heck, none, that pesky 'C' in psych, only five and then a 'B' only two hours. Only twenty honor points for all that work."

Oh, well, cheer up! By the end of the term the profs may have appreciated your true worth.

There are several blessings that have come upon us lately. First, Monsieur Whitenack finds his tournament duties so engrossing that he can't meet his classes while it's going on; second, that with a girl representing us at Stevens Point, Coach Harrington had to go along to chaperone.

Speakers Deliver Selections During Assembly Hour

At assembly last Thursday the students were favored with an extemporaneous speech by Elmer Beran and an oration by Lucile Garley.

Elmer Beran spoke on the "Canadian Government Control of Liquor." Although there is a different system for each province in Canada, he gave an exposition of the general features that are common to all. In this form of organization the government purchases the liquors from private manufacturers and manages the distribution to the public. The places of distribution are called beer parlors, instead of saloons, having the added feature of seats instead of a bar. Mr. Beran discussed the advantages and disadvantages of drinking while sitting over that while standing. He also brought out that the Canadian system has proved that the legalizing of light wines and beer does not decrease the consumption of the stronger alcoholic beverages.

Miss Garley's oration was on the subject, "The College in Chains." Its theme was that the college of today is too strongly influenced by the standards of industrialism; that the American scholar needs to be taught how to acquire culture much more than he needs to be taught how to make a living; that we, the teachers of tomorrow, should do our part in making the aim of education the attainment of culture, rather than the securing of a high salary upon graduation.

Music Study Club is Led by Miss Wharton

The Music Study Club, composed of Miss Wharton's younger pupils, will meet next Friday to discuss the life of Beethoven. At each meeting the children compare notes on interesting facts which they have collected concerning the life of some famous musician. A scrap book, "The Child's Own Book of Great Musicians", is awarded to the one who writes the best story of the musicians whose life the club is studying.

The Spotlight

Illuminating the Higher Things in Life

To say that the spirit of the teams and their rooters in our recent basketball tournament was perhaps favorably comparable to any seen here in previous tournaments would be a statement which would cause little argument. It was splendid and then some. However, permit me to go one step farther. Did you see how those two teams, Hudson and New Richmond, felt towards each other after the final gun?

Hudson is to be congratulated on their playing, their fighting team and their sportsmanship. New Richmond must be given equal honors with one in addition. They fought an up-hill battle, narrowing the margin until they almost were on equal terms with Hudson, only to have their efforts shattered by a lack of time. Although they did not win, they must be commended on the way they congratulated the Hudson team after the game. It is a true sportsman who congratulates his captor and also, it is another true sportsman who accepts his opponent's congratulations without showing his superiority.

The National Association of Mutual Savings Banks, with headquarters in New York, sends out an appeal for greater attention to the teaching of thrift in the public schools. At first thought we may accuse them of encouraging an undertaking which is alone highly beneficial to their own interests.

However, a thorough analysis of the situation reveals to us more facts. The benefit of a public school banking system would be forming a habit of planning expenditures to fit income which can come only through training in budgeting savings and spending. It is hoped that we as future teachers encourage this procedure.

To be a highly efficient student one must have a body which is physically fit. We recommend that you pursue some form of exercise daily.

Lotus D. Coffman, University of Minnesota, has written an interesting article on "Two Ways of Improving Our State Universities." He recommends the establishment of larger endowments for carrying on research and having each university work in a special field rather than having them all working in the same field.
