

Concert Celebrities To Perform at Assembly

The Guardsmen Quartette will entertain the student body at convocation Friday, October 17. From Chicago come these concert celebrities who have been constantly engaged in motion pictures, radio, and stage since then. It has been their good fortune in addition to their hundreds of personal appearances, to have appeared with and supported such great artists as Lawrence Tibbett, Grace Moore, Gladys Swarthout, Richard Crooks, and Nelson Eddy, and to have worked with such famous conductors as Leopold Stokowski, Andre Kostelantz, and others.

Their voices have been recorded in more than 800 pictures including Walt Disney's "Snow White" in which they were four of the dwarfs.

The organization which includes Henry Sblings, Arl Hunsaker, Dudley Kuzell, and William Brandt is often known as "The Lady Killers." They received this name because of the study and presentation of "The Gay Nineties" songs. In singing the songs of that period, they wear authentic costumes of that day.

"Show Boat," "Good News", "Chase and Sanborn Hour with Charlie McCarthy" and "Vick's Open House" are among the radio programs this quartette has starred in.

German Club To Hold First Meeting Thursday Evening

The German Club will hold its first meeting in the Social Room, Thursday evening, October 16, at eight o'clock. There will be a short business meeting, election of officers, and acceptance of new members.

William Stratton, former president of the German Club, has prepared a program. A portion of the entertainment will be devoted to the singing of folk songs. Free refreshments will be served to the freshmen.

Student Directory on Sale Thursday After Assembly

Thursday, October 1, the Student Directory will be on sale after the assembly program. Edited by Oliver Glanzman, Margaret Bendix, and Leone Timmerman, the 1941-42 directory will sell for twenty-five cents a copy. The directory contains the names, addresses, and telephone numbers of the student body and the faculty, and the names of those people holding office in campus organizations. The Student Directory is of value to all RFSTC students.

Rooters Club To Give Buttons at Assembly

The leader of the college Rooters' club, Vernon Henrichs, announces that buttons for the members of the club have arrived, and the hats are on the way. The buttons, reporting the bearer to be a River Falls Rooter, will be given away to all students attending a pep meeting to be held on the Wednesday night before homecoming. The hats will be placed on sale for ten cents apiece.

Students who attend Wednesday night's meeting will be considered as members of the Rooters' club. The buttons will entitle the club members to reserved seats at the homecoming game.

Everybody up, let's go! This is the familiar cry of the club's cheerleaders as the homecoming game draws near.

Henrichs, as head of the yell club, is the leader of the cheerleaders. Any students who have not seen him have certainly heard him. His five assistants are Naomi Simpson, Margaret Pepper, Jack Wills, Ed Frawley, and Tom O'Brien.

Miss Simpson, a graduate of the River Falls high school, has had several years' practice in yell leading. Miss Pepper attended the University of Wisconsin last year, but reports that she has never lead cheers before.

Tall, dark Jack Wills, the man with the yell for, reveals that he formerly led yells for St. Thomas. Frawley and O'Brien are from Stillwater and Hudson, respectively, and are members of the freshman class. Both boys are experienced in cheer leading.

"With all this leading talent," the Rooters' king said, "the students should give forth with some of their following ability."

"Peg" Monteith Leads YW Girls In Discussion of Problems

At the regular YW meeting, Monday, October 6, a panel discussion was carried on. The panel, with Margaret Monteith as chairman, discussed the various phases of college life which had been suggested by questions submitted by various coeds. One of the projects to be carried on this year, that of sewing and knitting for the Red Cross, was also discussed.

The next meeting to be held October 20 will be devoted to acquainting freshmen girls with the functions of the YW.

FFA Completes Plans For Rural School Fair

Plans have been completed and all is in readiness for the annual rural school fair which will be held at the college Wednesday, October 22, under the sponsorship of the college Future Farmers of America chapter. Harold Doornink, senior in the agriculture department, is in charge of the event.

Arrangements for the fair were begun at the opening of the school year. All rural schools in the River Falls vicinity were visited by various members of the FFA to encourage participation and aid in the methods of selecting the individual and booth exhibits.

Individual exhibit displays will consist of corn, potatoes, small grains and seeds. These will be judged by Mr. E. J. Prucha with the assistance of college seniors. The booth exhibits will be scored as to their attractiveness, arrangement and quality of the material, and will be judged by Mr. T. L. Bewick of Madison.

Exhibits will be entered on Wednesday morning before 10:00 o'clock. The booths will be set up on Tuesday so the rural schools can work on their own displays anytime after 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. To date twelve rural schools have asked for booths. Each school will be able to receive help of one or more college boys in setting up their display.

At 10:00 o'clock Wednesday morning there will be a judging contest, with boys or girls representing each school, to judge corn and potatoes. There will also be an individual contest to see what the boys and girls can do in the identifying of some of the common weeds.

The program will begin at 1:00 p. m. in the college auditorium, and will include a band concert by the college band, group singing, movies, a one-act play by the college Masquers, a talk by Mr. T. L. Bewick, and musical selections by the FFA quartette.

After the program, prizes for the individual exhibits and the judging contests will be awarded. The best booth will receive a cup donated by the Lions Club of River Falls and other prizes will be awarded to the winners in the corn and potato judging contest.

Faculty Women's Club Meets With Mrs. J. H. Ames Monday

The opening meeting of the Faculty Women's Club will be held at the home of Mrs. J. H. Ames, Monday evening, October 20th, at seven-thirty o'clock. In the receiving line with the president, Miss Alma Rausch, and Mrs. Ames, will be the honor guests, Miss Knight, Miss Swanson, Miss Kaatz, Mrs. John Mosher, and Mrs. Ernst Jurgens.

Miss Vera Moss will talk on her visit to Mexico and Miss Mabel Arbutnot will give her impressions of the French Canadians. All persons interested in belonging to the Faculty Club are urged to be present for this interesting meeting.

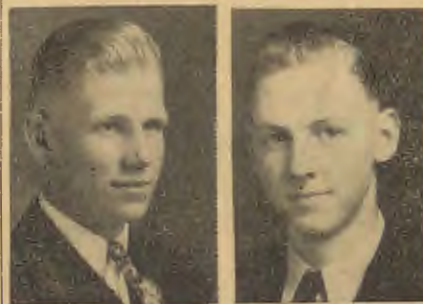

Honor Society Holds Meeting

The first meeting of the Honor Society was held on Thursday evening, October 9, at 8:00 p. m. in the Social Room. President Dolores Kramschuster presided over the short business meeting. The program consisted of a violin solo by Dawn Wheeler, accompanied by Beverly White. Refreshments were served by the committee, with Muriel Pearson as general chairman.

The next meeting will be at 4:00 p. m. on Thursday, October 23.

Soli and White Visit River Falls on Leave

Hartman Soli and Nevin White were in River Falls last week on leave from government service. Hartman Soli is the son of Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Soli of Martell, and was a graduate of the River Falls High School. He attended the college but left to enlist in the Naval Air Corps. His preliminary training was taken in Minneapolis and Pensacola, and later he was transferred to Miami, Florida. On September 23, he was commissioned an Ensign in the combat division. He left on Friday for Corpus Christi, Texas, where he will be an instructor in aerial combat. He was the only member of his graduating class who was chosen for instructive work.

Nevin White is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. White, and is a graduate of the River Falls high school, and a former student at the college. "Nev" left here last October as a private in the National Guard. He was made a corporal, then a sergeant, and also passed the entrance examination to enter the Fort Sill officer's training school. He graduated from the three-months' course, and on October 1 he was commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the Field Artillery.

Both of these men like the service very much, and Ensign Soli reported that he had received excellent training. They left for Fort Sill together, and Ensign Soli will be Lieutenant White's guest for a few days before assuming his new work at Corpus Christi, Texas.

AAUW Sponsors Spanish Class Taught by Mrs. Ernst Jurgens

The American Association of University Women are sponsoring a study in Spanish, under the leadership of Mrs. Ernst Jurgens, formerly Maria Gurria-Urgell of Mexico City. The class is meeting on Monday nights from 7:30 to 9:30 in Room 114, South Hall. There will be a charge of $2.25 for a course of nine lessons beginning October 20 and continuing through December 15. The lessons will be resumed after the Christmas recess.

"Bill of Rights" Is Subject of Williams' Address to YMCA

Members of the YMCA met at the regular meeting, Monday evening, October 13. Dr. Justin Williams gave a talk on the subject of the "Bill of Rights." In his discourse, he told of the history, nature, and significance of these.

For the first time this year the Y quartet sang. The quartet consists of Lawrence Johnson, Leonard Vik, Leon Ericson, and Glenn Nelson. Harold Horning played the accompaniment.

Plans are being made for a joint meeting of the YMCA next Monday evening. This meeting will probably be in the form of a social meeting. It will be held in the South Hall Social room.

College graduates and students now in the service of their country will be honored during the River Falls State Teachers College homecoming activities, October 24 and 25, according to John Lucente homecoming chairman. He reported that letters to the men in service have been sent out by the athletic council, and now that army maneuvers are over, a large turnout is expected. They will be introduced at a Friday night pep-meeting preceding the homecoming day, and will be seated in a special section at the football game.

Other events now scheduled for the twentieth annual college homecoming include an eight o'clock pep meeting Friday night, October 24. This will be followed by the snake dance and the traditional bonfire.

The parade will get underway at 9:30 Saturday morning with North Hall as the starting point. Joyce Morton, homecoming queen, and her attendants will ride on a special float prepared by the YMCA.

The football game between Stout Institute and the Falcons is scheduled to start at two o'clock Saturday afternoon with Clarence Chubb giving a play-by-play account of the game through the public address system. At the half, band maneuvers will be presented in front of the bleachers.

Following the game, a dinner for former college football lettermen will be sponsored by the Athletic Council. The public homecoming dance, featuring the music of Guy DeLeo, will start at nine o'clock in the North Hall gymnasium and will continue until one o'clock. Some time during the evening dancing program, the various homecoming awards will be made.

The Stout band has been contacted regarding its appearance at the homecoming activities here. Other marching units in the parade will include the coed and the college bands.

All decorations for the event are expected to be up preceding the big mass meeting at eight o'clock Friday evening. Students planning to decorate their houses are requested to contact Lois Webb or Silver Star LaRa as soon as possible so that the list of entries can be turned over to the judges. Float entries should be registered with Glen Brigham, and stunts with William Stratton, to prevent duplication.

The coveted prize of the traveling loving cup will again be offered to the business place displaying the best homecoming decorations.

The cup is now in possession of the Freeman Drug Co.

Boot the Institut, the homecoming slogan composed by Eddie Jacobson, Student Senate president, will be the theme of the entire festivities. Ribbons and other decorations will be worn by Rooter and "R" Club members.

"All students should cooperate," Chairman Lucente requests, "to make the annual homecoming this year a huge success."

ACE Welcomes New Students

A general plan for the year was put into order when the active ACE members held their first meeting on Tuesday, October 14. Many new students were admitted into the organization and were given a royal welcome plus refreshments and a program.

Notice

We wish to express our sincere gratitude to all the friends who contributed to and took part in the shower given to us September 30th.

Americans Realize Danger In English Defeat by Nazis

According to the Gallup Poll, over 60 per cent of the people polled believe in aiding England and her allies. They believe it does matter to us if England is defeated. This same group is in favor of spending billions under the Lease-Lend act to send supplies to England. Also, 62 per cent of those asked approved of the President's shoot-on-sight policy against submarines.

Yet, according to Raymond Clapper, the amount of goods actually being delivered to England is pitifully small. For example, the food which has been delivered will supply only one per cent of England's needs. Even the President admits deliveries have been a trickle rather than a torrent. As cartoonist Fitzpatrick pointed out, so far to the Russians whose need is desperate, we have sent chiefly Generals "Too Little" and "Too Late."

Undoubtedly, we must deliver much faster than we are now. Yet how can we, when no American ship can put in at belligerent ports with war supplies, but must transfer its goods to an English ship at Iceland? If we believe it to be so vital to our security to help England and her allies that we are spending enormous amounts of money and effort to produce with all possible speed, why slow up delivery? It is absurd to stop short at a critical moment, because our law says our ships can't go to the port of a belligerent nation.

The President can "get around" the Neutrality Act. Since he can decide what countries are in war zones, he can take England out of one as he did the Red Sea. But why force the President to gain more of a reputation for resorting to subterfuge when the majority of the people seem to approve? Why not through public opinion, force Congress to take action? Congressional repeal of the whole act would be more effective. It would represent action as a result of national approval, not only the President's, and would encourage the English and Russians, and would convince Hitler that we mean business.

Major Problem on Campus: "Big House or Little House"

Little house, big house — which do you prefer, the small home where 2 or 3 stay, or do you prefer a large place with say 15 people all parking their shoes in the same place? There are advantages and disadvantages for either place, as this writer has discovered; one year's stay at each type of house creates an authority!

In the small house you have privacy, ah yes. No one comes bouncing in on you in the midst of your European history; however, when you're feeling lonesome and in need of somebody to putt a "gab-fest" or a "bull-session" with, you talk to yourself instead. It gets monotonous, this talking to yourself. There's nobody around to tell you if it really is warm-enough to wear that frivolous cotton dress today, or if the yellow and green striped tie goes as well with your red sweater as it does with your green one.

Then, too, if your housemother happens to be particularly loquacious, you are apt to have many impromptu chats while that Dickens' novel burns a hole in your portfolio. On the other hand this same type of housemother usually is given to inviting you down for hot chocolate and cookies, which isn't so bad at all!

Across the fence you have the River Falls dormitory, fifteen or sixteen people all deciding to take a bath, or put their hair up in the bathroom at the same time. It really isn't so bad though, for after while you get used to brushing your teeth while hanging over the edge of the bathtub with a 90 degree angle in your back. You get used to typewriters at twelve, the thoughtful person who leaves Amos n' Andy on full blast with his door open, the cello and voice practicing below you (or even a cornet duet). You get used to having your best dickey borrowed while you were at Psych. class.

But then when you're lonesome, when your check from home hasn't come and you're desperately in need of a dime, when you feel like verbally raking every cad you know over the coals, then is the time to live in a big house!

Smiling Don Willink Leads Versatile Campus Career As Capable Prexy of Plodding Sophs

"I object!" Such was the greeting of Donald Dean Willink, sophomore class president and future lawyer, when confronted for his contribution in the current campus personality campaign. The Baldwin youth reports this will be his last year at River Falls in his quest for law fundamentals, and will matriculate at the University of Wisconsin.

The smiling sophomore, before pursuing his preliminary college education here, attended both the Baldwin grade and high schools. He was valedictorian of his graduating class entitling him to a state scholarship.

"Don" spent the past summer working in a Baldwin bank when not traveling around by the hitch hiking method which, so far, has taken him about the states of Wisconsin and Minnesota. He also reports pursuing his liking for tennis. This sport, added to debating, takes up much of his after-school time, and he can be seen most any time during fair fall and spring weather dashing about the college tennis courts. Playing trumpet in the last row of the college marching band also helps to keep him in trim.

Personals about the 18-year old sophomore "prexy" are that he is of 100 per cent Dutch parentage, has blue eyes, favorite colors are green and brown, his roommate at the House of Wadsworth is Dean Wessels, president of the senior class, photographing and wood-working fill up his spare-time moments, and his friends report he's very seldom peeved by anything.

Besides forecasting rosy prospects for his class, Don reported he likes River Falls especially well "because all the students here are on the same level."

Germany's New Trade Treaty With Turks Not Advantageous

One of the biggest jokes of the War is the trade treaty just negotiated between Turkey and Germany in Ankara by Carl Clodius, the Nazi economic expert. The treaty is said to provide for the exchange of goods to amount to 75 million dollars. The jokers in the treaty, make it highly probable that it is not such a great economic asset for either side.

The Germans have been particularly interested in obtaining access to Turkey's production of chromium, that metal which is so vital in the manufacture of high-grade steels. The obstacle was that the British and American interests have contracted for the entire output of Turkish chromium ore until the end of 1942.

The result of the negotiations on this point was a Turkish refusal to violate the contracts now in force, but a willingness to sell chromium to Germany on equal terms up to one-half of its production after 1942. The joker here is that by January, 1943, conditions are likely to have changed.

In return for this promise, Turkey is supposed to get immediate delivery of 15 millions of war materials. Here is the other joker: Turkey will not get the aircraft it wants most, and the motor vehicles delivered will come without the tires.

In short, neither party to the agreement is giving the other anything that will help it much and especially in the things it wants most. Imposing as this treaty appears in form, it does not amount to a great deal in substance.

Ten Easy Lessons - - - Shekel Snaring Simplified

With these heavy social week-ends everyone is thinking about it. You know what we mean. We're talking about writing home for the stuff juke boxes eat up, the date-getter, in short, the root of all evil.

There are many techniques in getting the noisy silver out of dad's pocket into yours. Here are a few of the well-tried methods.

First we have the rugged, cave-man approach: "Dear Dad: Are you sure you went to college? Anyhoo, these aren't the good old days. A man's gotta live, and what I'm doing sure ain't living. Send me some money, pronto. I gotta have it!"

We have a special little number just for girls. This is to be written in a trembling handwriting, faint purple ink preferable: "Dear Mother: I don't know what to do. I feel perfectly awful. I couldn't afford to go to the dance Saturday night, and the girls haven't talked about anything else all week. I'm a social hermit because of my dire financial circumstances. I know you will understand, mother darling."

Here is the man-to-man approach: "Dear Dad: You know how it is with us men. You just have to go around impressing women all the time. Personally, I think the dames here are all gold diggers, but you know how it is. How about a little cash? Homecoming isn't far off."

Ambling Amby

Ambling Amby's Gestapo has reported, and no doubt, we'll be hearing remarks to the effect that this column must be some of Hitler's work. But may we attribute it to our sense of rumor.

Mr. Cupid gave us strict orders to announce the engagement of Betty Jane Moss and LeRoy Hageman. Betty, who's all in a dither, gave us the news. And then Freshman Pat Milbrath was reported to be betting malted milks with housemates that she could get a date with her class handsome within a week's time. She won, and now contemplates betting on Phillip Webster, or so we hear mentioned. Where Wayne "Corny" Baird gets all the lipstick and rouge on his coat is what we'd like to know. Another current question is who Joyce Morton, queen of the campus, will have squiring her to the homecoming festivities, especially now that she reportedly has broken up with Jack King, last year's flash about the campus.

Locker room gossip has it that Virgene "Chick" Nelson and Joe Ott, Oris Boettcher and Evelyn Plombon, and Naomi "Maisie" Simpson and Stan "Red" Peloquin are current college steadies.

Our Gestapomen report seeing "Neca" Bleisner and Chuck Phillips on a date as were Shirley Walker and Bill Junkman, one night last week.

Our personality of the week choice goes to Chester L. Eggert, rural education prof and chaperone at last Saturday's dance, who really proved himself a fine fellow. Also at the dance we timed Bill Wilcox, brother of noted Marshall Wilcox, jitterbugging around the North hall gym floor in three seconds flat.

Jack Wills and Howie Wilcox have been dressing according to "Esquire," Dogpatch edition, when they appeared at Friday's pep-meeting and thereafter wearing Li'l Abner brogans, hefty seven-pound steel-plated tans.

We thought that Bernie Oskey had decided to lead a Fuller life. What happened? Virgil Clark's aim for the year seems to be "Doo-little." What d' ya know - Nicol spending his dimes on a dame!

The honorable Confuscious reports that if Ambling Amby looks into the nozzle of a shot gun with his finger on the trigger, he will shoot off his mouth for the last time. Guess Amby will amble, for he can take a hint when enough is enough.

We particularly recommend the dramatic letter to sloe-eyed brunettes. To be written in a long, desperate hand: "My dear Father and Mother, (a touch of formality is always good) I have my things all packed. You may expect me home Tuesday. I simply can't go on like this, unless you send me some money."

We leave the choice up to your discretion, (if any). They are all sure fire, but we aren't saying which will be right for your dad.

with the editor

The next publication of the Student Voice will be the homecoming issue published Friday, October 24. This will be an eight page paper.

A junior girl was heard to make this comment: "The only people who dress up are freshmen who don't know any better and the seniors who are practice teaching."

Louise Kelley writes the book reviews for the Voice. Because of her excellent literary background and keen interest in current trends, she is well-qualified to do this work.

Margaret Johnson, former RFSTC student and daughter of Professor A. N. Johnson, was pictured in the St. Paul Dispatch trying the new steps of Folwell hall at the University of Minnesota.

An invitation is extended to staff members to visit the Voice room on Friday afternoons from one o'clock to three-ten. At this time you may ask questions and receive help in writing news, features, and editorials.

Eileen Deneen brought in another Student Voice, that of John Baggy, former River Falls student who is teaching in a high school at Guadalajara, Mexico. Published in English and Spanish, Mr. Baggy's paper is the first Voice namesake. This paper will be posted for a few days.

Collaboration With U. of M. Enriches Assembly Program

The Burton Holmes assembly feature on South America which was presented at the last Thursday's assembly caused a great deal of comment on the campus. It was considered by the upperclassmen as one of the best assembly programs presented here. This program was booked in cooperation with the University of Minnesota.

The praises for the Burton Holmes travelogue may bring about the selection of future programs in cooperation with the University and other schools in this vicinity and so bring the college better planned programs that are sponsored by the more popular artists of the entertainment field.

Gustavus Adolphus Stages Late Rally To Tie Falcons 13 to 13 Saturday

Having no regard for pre-game predictions, the River Falls Teachers, again Saturday, upset the dope by battling to a 13 to 13 tie with Gustavus Adolphus from St. Peter, Minnesota.

Coach Lowery's boys gave their out-of-state rivals an idea as to what might be expected when the second period began. Schmidt's recovery of a Gustavus fumble on their own 22 yard line and two line bucks by Trecker and Burt Boettcher moved the ball to a first down on the 10 yard stripe at the close of the first quarter. Thus far the Falcons had outplayed their St. Peter rivals, whose offensive blasts were unable to penetrate the River Falls stellar defense.

Beginning the second period with two unsuccessful power plunges into the line, the Lowerymen scored their first touchdown when Ott, halfback, circled wide around right end and down the sidelines eight yards to score. Schmidt's try for extra point was wide and River Falls led 6-0.

Another goalward march began when Stone, Gustavus fullback, quick kicked out of bounds on his own 38 yard line. A short pass, Trecker to Boettcher, netted three yards. A line plunge and another end run by Ott brought the ball to rest on the 27 yard line. Trecker's long aerial, intended for Schmidt, was gathered in by the alert Babbitt in the end zone after it had been deflected by both Schmidt and a Gustavus back. Schmidt converted the extra point from placement and River Falls led 13-0.

However, Coach Ronning's boys who seemed to be having their troubles stopping the Falcon offensive maneuvers, roared back after the second Falcon touchdown and played a very fine brand of conservative football the remainder of the game.

Receiving the River Falls kickoff on their own goal line the three big guns of Gustavus Adolphus began blasting their way upfield. Carlson, Stone, and Nelson uncorked a series of devastating power plays that the boys in red and white simply could not stop. After moving the ball to the River Falls 18 yard stripe, Gustavus slipped in one of their trick plays and on a fake reverse Carlson threw a touchdown pass to Stodie on the goal line. Stodie converted the extra point and Gustavus was back in the game, trailing 13-7.

Both teams displayed their defensive ability in the third quarter and not until midway through the final period did Coach Ronning's boys start the ball rolling. With possession of the pigskin on their own 18 yard line, Carlson formed the spearhead of a running attack of sheer power that carried the ball to the River Falls 8 yard line. Carlson then smashed over for the touchdown. Stodie's attempted conversion was blocked and the score remained tied 13 to 13. The Falcons muffed their slim chance to score when the pass from center was missed and they were forced to punt from their own 10 yard line.

Gustavus slightly outplayed the Falcons on paper. Accordingly they gathered 222 yards from scrimmage, 28 yards through the airways. The Lowerymen accounted for 196 yards from scrimmage and 55 yards via the air route. The Minnesota lads led in first downs 14 to 7.

New Members Honored By Women Athletes

The WAA held its first party in the Social Room, Monday evening, October 13. This party was in honor of all new members who were taken into the organization at this time. Games were played and refreshments were served.

The short business meeting was conducted by the president Catherine Lynch. Sixteen new members recited the pledge of the organization and entered their names on the roll. All the members were given copies of the constitution.

Marjorie Dempsey was elected as hit-pin ball sport head and Alma Goltz was elected chairman of the WAA homecoming activities. All the

"Our Boys"

Leland Dobberstein, another River Falls gridiron great who was eligible for competition this fall, has joined several of his former Falcon buddies in the new partnership of the skies as a member of the Navy Air Corps.

Leland Dobberstein

Dobberstein this year would have been one of the veteran linemen. He played one year on the frosh team and then advanced as a varsity mar for two years. This would have been his senior year as an "Ag" man.

From New London came this hard-playing tackle to torment Falcon opposition. Leland was undoubtedly one of the youngest (in age) players to wear the uniform of a River Falls regular. As a junior last year he was but eighteen years old.

In addition to being a football hero Dobberstein also acquired considerable fame as a boxer in the Golden Gloves tournaments.

Leland was one of the most unaffected and likeable men on the football squad. In general, he passed his time on the Falls campus as a quiet and bashful student who never blossomed forth until last year in the "date department."

The school can find very few men who can compare with "Dobber" as a good, clean competitor. At the end of each play on the gridiron it would not be unusual to see him as a man who was completely worn out. However, the next play usually saw him in the thick of the battle.

To this man, as to the other former RFSTC students now in the service, River Falls pays tribute and wish the best of luck.

new members will act as co-chairmen.

The field hockey season came to a finish last Thursday. Hit-pin ball started Tuesday at four. All girls are urged to come out for this sport. Remember, you do not have to be a WAA member to play. Every woman student in school has a standing invitation to participate in these sports.

R Club Recreation Room Now Open for Students

Coach Juedes has announced that the "R" Club recreation room will be open beginning October 15. For the benefit of the freshmen and those few shy upperclassmen, it might be added that this room is open for the purpose of playing table tennis, cribbage, and checkers. This room must not be used for an improvised library nor a place to eat your lunch.

The second round of touch football games showed some striking upsets. Monday night the spirited Skipper team walked all over the Frosh Aggies by defeating them 48 to 0. This is the highest score that has been tallied in this year's games. Tuesday night the Eljays nosed out the weaker Hoozit team to the tune of 6 to 0.

Wednesday evening the Eljays repeated their previous night's victory when they barely defeated the Vagabonds by the score of 18 to 14. On Thursday night the Skippers, after considerable trouble, eked out the necessary touchdown to beat the Playboys 12 to 6. After the second round of play the teams stand as follows:

Team	W	L	Pct.
Skippers	3	0	1000
Eljays	2	1	666
Playboys	2	1	666
Vagabonds	1	2	333
Frosh Aggies	0	2	000
Hoozits	0	2	000

All first round matches in the horseshoe tournament must be played by October 16 or the contestants will be eliminated.

A new plan in bowling this year has been announced. Beginning next week until the end of the term, men will have a chance to bowl in individual competition. Intramural points will be awarded for this event.

After the beginning of the second term league bowling will again commence. Interested bowlers should watch the bulletin board for notices of the first meeting. Please do not ask for student rates until the league has been organized. All matches will be held at 4:10 on Mondays.

Civic Group Discusses Lights

A meeting, out of which may come some important developments, was held last Monday evening between college, high school, and downtown representatives with the purpose of studying possibilities of gaining lights for an athletic field in River Falls. The college was represented by Dr. Karges and Coach Lowery.

Northern Yellowjackets - - Falcons to Play Superior Friday

The River Falls fighting Falcons, who have made up for their lack of Superior Friday evening in the 26th renewal of their gridiron feud.

Jackets' Coach

Coach Ted Whereatt

The Yellowjackets, led again by their veteran coach, Ted Whereatt, have won two games and lost one so far this season. Superior, which has lost only three games in three years, dropped its season's opener to Michigan Tech 12-0. In the Eau Claire game the Northerners scored a 13-7 victory and also emerged with a 25-6 win over Northern State College of Aberdeen, South Dakota.

In past years the Falcons have won 13 games, lost 10, and tied three in contests with the men from Superior. This year Coach Whereatt boasts a team which is larger in size than last year's squad.

Heading the list of formidable Yellowjackets is Motorelli, who sparked the team in their 12-7 victory here last year. The captain of the Superior aggregation is Haughain, a Rice Lake man who made the all-conference team in his sophomore and junior years. Other Superior "toughies" include Titus, a transfer from Wisconsin who has already gained fame from his fullback post; Bob Jackson, junior center; Urbaniak, guard; Ray Lile, senior end; Crowley, back; LeBlane, sophomore end; Klugiewicz, senior tackle; Nechak, junior back, and Bruckbauer, sophomore guard.

Burton Holmes Enthralls Student Body in Lecture

"I used to be quite a dancer years ago, but since the good dancing has been lost to the huggy-buggy-boogie-woogie stuff, I quit." Such was the back-stage comment on present day conditions by Burton Holmes, famous world traveler, who spoke at a student convocation Friday morning, October 10.

In his talk, Mr. Holmes took the students on a sight trip through South America with the use of motion pictures and slides.

The trip as narrated by the well-known traveler, started from New York, and proceeded to Venezuela, down the continent and across snow-capped volcanic peaks. After showing and describing pictures of the recently unearthed Inca towns, the narrator continued with a description of the southernmost countries of South America, and then northward to Brazil. After visiting more interesting ports of call, the trip ended at the starting point.

Traveling is no mere avocation for Mr. Holmes. "Since I was a child I have had the inborn urge to travel," he said. He has been pursuing his first love of travel most of his life.

Mr. Holmes regrets he holds no "sheep-skin" from any educational institution, but he remarked that travel has given him an unlimited wealth of knowledge and acquaintanceships.

Conservation Film on Wild Life Will Be Shown Here Friday

Students at River Falls will have an opportunity on Friday of this week to see some especially good films on wild life. Sam Campbell, noted Wisconsin conservationist, who has given more than three thousand lectures in all parts of the country, has been brought to Pierce County by Mr. Seyforth, County Agent. The FFA society is sponsoring the program. Anyone interested at all in wild life will want to hear this lecture and see the beautiful movies which will be given. The time is 2:45 in the college auditorium.

DeLeo To Play Homecoming

The Band Plays On - - In Spite of Difficulties

Spelling, age-old school baffle, is again the problem of the college marching band, for the members are now working on letter and word formations for homcoming. Scheduled in the formations will be a combination maneuver in which the coed band will inter-march with the men's unit. Practice for the marching unit is held every Thursday afternoon on the intramural field.

"The life of a band instructor is a nerve-racking one," announces B. J. Rozehnal, responsible for the actions of the musical organizations. To prove his point, the director cited his worries preceding the Gustavus Adolphus game. Fifteen minutes before game time, five members were missing; and one member was absent a minute before the band's first note was to be sounded. But "the band played on" when all his forty lambs were finally in the fold.

In addition to these worries, the band director found his unit was without a drum major for he had been called home because of illness in the family. Norman Foss was obtained to lead the marching unit in its maneuvers.

Speakers and Cheers Feature Special Pep Assembly Friday

Cheering, singing, and the inspiration of speakers were the keynotes for the promoting of college "pepulation" at the special pep assembly held last Friday evening. The purpose of the meeting was the arousing of school spirit and pep previous to the meeting of the Gustavus Adolphus "Gusties" by the River Falls Falcons.

Mr. B. J. Rozehnal directed the band which accompanied the student "peppers" in singing. The cheers and yells were lead by Vernon Henrichs, Naomi Simpson, Peggy Pepper, Eddie Frwley, Tom O'Brien and Jack Wills.

The singing and cheering was interspersed with two very inspiring talks by Mr. John Davison of the high school and Dr. Justin Williams of the college. They both offered a plea for more college spirit and more moral support of our football team by the presence of each student at the games.

Head cheerleader Vernon Henrichs explained the formation of the Rooters' Club and also announced that there would be free buttons for the Rooters and that the usual gay festival hats would be on sale for purchase by the student body.
