3 Day Tournament Beginning March 10th To Be Full Of Fight

Eight Schools Our Visitors; Let's
Show Them R. F. Spirit

On Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of next week the district high school basketball tournament games will be played in the Normal gym. Seven of the eight high schools that will be represented here at the Tournament are: Baldwin, Ellsworth, Hammond, Hudson, Menomonie, New Richmond, and River Falls. An elimination game between Prescott and Glenwood City was played last night (Tuesday) at Hudson. The winner of this game will be the eighth team in the Tournament.

The schedule of these games will be decided in the following manner: the teams will be arranged in alphabetical order and numbered from 1 to 8. Then on the first day 1 will play 8; 2 will play 7; 3 will play 6; 4 will play 5.

On the second day the winners play the winners, the losers play the losers, and so on.

The competition in the Tournament this year promises to be unusually strong. Although no definite information has been available as to the relative strength of some of the teams, yet the "dope" is that the winners of the Tournament and the winners of the consolation series will not be far apart as far as team strength goes. In other words, the breaks of the game should feature strongly throughout the Tournament.

The "fighting Irish" (New Richmond) and the local high are generally conceded to be one pair of the strong teams of the district. New Richmond has won every game this season. The Falls has

GIRL'S BASKETBALL HONORS WON BY THIRD YEAR SENIORS

The South Hall Gym was the scene of a furious battle last Thursday afternoon, when the Seniors and the Freshmen met to decide which had the better basketball team. Both teams had defeated the Second Years, and both had a desire for the championship. With both teams resolved to win, the game occasionally took on considerable speed, but at no time did the Yearlings overcome the lead that the Seniors established in the first quarter.

This is the first time in the history of the institution that the Seniors have won the basketball tournament, and they are justly proud of their accomplishment. The team was made up of Cecil Kelly, Ellen Burke, Litha Gregor, Stella Pederson, Alice Hagen, and Lois Beers.

THE SPRING VACATION

Among other things that are in store for us during the coming months is that wonderful spring vacation. Beginning Thursday, April 1, at three forty-five, we shall be able to place our books aside until Thursday morning, April 8. Just think, a vacation equal to the one that was so welcomed in high school.

However, the only flaw in the vacation is that school will be held upon the Saturday following the vacation. The instructors have to attend a conference at Madison for all the Normal school teachers, and can only indirectly enjoy the rest.

WONDERFUL TALENT SHOWN AT VARIED MINSTREL SHOW

Backed By Townspeople

Two nights of hilarious fun! Yes, they've come and gone. The big minstrel show staged last Friday and Saturday nights by no means fell short of expectations. It was an all around big success. A large crowd turned out on both nights. It was an entertainment for the whole town.

The first part of the show displayed the celebrate' minstrel band assisted by the men's glee club. The band—well, its members were very typical. 'Nough said! Their pink and green suits were unusually striking. Jokes! Yes, there were many. The audience burst out in roars of laughter. Everyone is "wishin'" he was in "Peoria."

The mens' glee club certainly did their "stuff," and added no small part to the performance. Special mention must be given the several solos that were sung.

CONFERENCE LEADERS WIN FROM RIVER FALLS 19-12

St. Mary's Lose to Falls

Stout just about clinched her hold on the State Championship when she stopped the Falls in a 19-12 battle. Stout plays but one more game, which is with Stevens Point, and there is little doubt as to the outcome of that game.

The Red & White gave Stout a good battle, and the Menomonie boys had to fight hard for victory. Cleberg missed a lot of shots right under the basket and is seemed as though the hoop wasn't there when the ball came rolling around. There is no doubt, however, that Stout has got a smooth aggregation, and playing on their own floor gave them a decided advantage.

Radke and Olson both counted three times for Stout. Cleberg got two baskets and Gibson one. The exceptional guarding of Quandt and Dawson kept the Stout forwards from getting very close shots, and all their tallies came from long shots and free throws.

River Falls held St. Mary's to a single basket last Wednesday

Rivers Falls Debaters Clash With Two Strong Normal Teams Friday

Eau Claire Affirmative Here
Our Negative At Superior

River Falls debate teams will engage in their first conference debates next Friday. At that time Eau Claire, Superior, and River Falls will meet in triangular debates to decide the debate supremacy for this year in the north. An affirmative team consisting of Marshall Norseng, Robert Smith, and Bernard Morton will debate with the Eau Claire Negative on the local platform, while a Negative team consisting of John Davison, Fred Wandrey, and John Burke will encounter the Superior Affirmative at Superior. The question to be discussed is the adoption of the proposed child labor amendment.

Eau Claire comes to River Falls with a team of veterans trained by a new coach of excellent reputation. They are out to avenge five defeats in the last five years and undoubtedly will present the Negative in an excellent manner. The Falls affirmative is made up entirely of new-comers; all three, however, have had considerable high school experience, Norseng and Smith at the local high and "Bud" at Ellsworth, and should be amply able to take care of themselves on the platform. Indications are that the debate will be a very closely contested and extremely interesting one.

Superior will be represented in the debate there by two veterans and a new man who last year won the state extempore speaking contest for high schools. Their team presents a formidable array of forensic talent. The Falls Negative

B. B. MEN MEET SUPERIOR FRI. STEVENS POINT HERE MONDAY

On Monday night of next week the Red & White play their last home game in a conference tilt with Stevens Point. This game is very important to the players and to the students who take any interest at all in basketball, for it will be the last home game in which several of the players will wear the Red & White. Capt. Cleberg, Quandt, Beran, and Zamjohn complete their courses this spring, so Monday night will mark their last appearance before the home crowd.

On Friday, March 5, the boys play their last game of the season in a conference tilt at Superior. These are busy days, but let's everybody take time enough to give the boys a good word, and lots of backing at the last home game with Stevens Point Friday night; so they will have some incentive to win that night and to clean up on Superior next Monday night.

Editorial

We are sorry that after this issue we lose, by graduation, two of our most constant reporters, Harold Heggen and Dean Goodrich. Although Harold was never officially recognized as a member of the staff, he was one of the most dependable members of the staff, handling the athletic news in a commendable fashion. The services of both have been greatly appreciated.

Several times during the remaining weeks of the school year our student body will entertain groups of students from the normals and high schools of the state. The Eau Claire debate team, the orators, extempore speakers, and musical organizations from all the other normals, the basketball teams from the surrounding high schools, and the high school musical organizations will be our guests at various times in the near future. This fact does not necessitate the assuming of company manners, necessarily, but it does mean that everyone in the school should be as friendly as possible. If one of the guests wants information that you can give them, give it. Carry on your work as usual, but make a little extra effort to be as courteous and as friendly as possible. The practice won't hurt us, and the guests will leave with a much more pleasing idea of the school.

THE WORLD SERIES DEBATES

The second of a series of debates between the two teams which are to represent the River Falls Normal in the Inter-Normal debates this season, was staged in a furious manner in the auditorium of South Hall on Monday after school. A small, but indeed appreciative audience heard the audible thundering battle these two trios of master expostulators.

The faculty members who were honored by being allowed to decide this very close, exciting, antagonistic, "magnaporiforous" outburst of argumentation, were President Ames, and Professors Hunt and Malott.

"Mish" Norseng, our superb extempore-speaker, opened the discussion with a masterful piece of oratory that would have made "Bob" La Follette turn green with envy. This filibustrious harangue was followed by a flow of glittering generalities from the silver tongue of the famous "Shiek" Wandrey. He so blotted out the issues of the affirmative that it appeared that the United States was still free for democracy and human beings.

The thundering "Deke" Smith, using the rostrum for a hiding place, poured forth such a volume of thoughts that it appeared that the auditorium was in danger of being completely wrecked, being saved from this awful fate by Jack Davison and "Bud" Morton. At this crucial point, "Orator" Burke dropped from his lofty abode, took up the standard of his doing comrades, and charged his opponents with such a keen-edged tongue that he left them practically paralyzed.

Then in turn, Wandrey, Morton, Davison, and the Mighty Smith, took the witness stand. Wandrey's cool and collected manner so affected the atmosphere that Senator Hunt had to find repose on one of the radiators to keep from crystalizing.

In the final encounters the lengthy son of Burkedom seemed to entirely disband the forces of the affirmative, only to have Norseng emerge, and standing on the foundation laid by the Mighty Smith, pour forth bacteria, children, laws, statutes, congressmen, manufacturers, and laborers, that the whole auditorium seemed to fill with little children crying for the passage of the proposed amendment. He so completely covered up the opposition that they were still in oblivion when he received the decision. However, the frozen Senator, unaware of his actions, consoled the losers with his vote.

WITH OUR HIGH SCHOOL DEBATERS

Mr. Hanna went to Chippewa Falls last Friday afternoon to judge the debate between the Chippewa Falls negative team and the Cumberland affirmative team. Cumberland came out victorious.

Mr. Karges and Mr. Junkman went to Amery last week to judge the debate between the Chippewa Falls negative and the Amery affirmative. Chippewa Falls won.

The winner of the League contest among the high schools remains undecided; for Cumberland and Amery must debate Phillips to decide this. If Cumberland wins, they will be the winner of the league; if they lose, there will be three schools that have only lost one debate each, and the winner of the league will have to be decided upon a percentage basis.

Oratorical Contest News

Word has been received from Eau Claire, Stevens Point and Superior. Eau Claire will have a representation of about forty people, and more of the weather is good, for if the roads permit, they will drive over in cars. The forty from Eau Claire includes an orchestra and two quartettes. Superior is going to send six people to represent their school at the contest. Although this a somewhat smaller representation than some of the others, they will put on a stunt at the morning program, and no doubt will represent their school with all the spirit possible. Stevens Point is sending seven delegates which number includes a saxophone trio. This is an unusual musical organization, and should prove very entertaining. As was mentioned in the last issue of the Student Voice, Milwaukee is bringing a Men's Glee Club of eighteen members and ten additional rooters.

The Agrifallian Society voted to attend the Oratorical Contest 100% at their meeting last Thursday night. The organizations are all supporting the contest in a most commendable manner, and from the present prospects, not only the societies will have their whole membership there, but the entire student body will be in attendance.

ORGANIZATION NOTES

MOZART CLUB

The Mozart Club met last Thursday evening to elect officers, but there were only a few members present. They adjourned to the Civic Club and spent an hour as guests of that society.

BIG DISAPPOINTMENT

Last Thursday evening many of the students were much disappointed when they found that the Sana Klux Trio had been derailed on the way and were unable to keep their appointment at River Falls.

The Civic Club, however, had a good crowd out to discuss the topic of "Modernism in Family Life." The young folks found themselves under some difficulty deciding just what the problems of the family were.

Experience alone can decide that.

Miss Hathorne and Miss Bridges who attended the N. E. A. Convention in Washington, D. C., last week, resumed their duties here Monday morning. There were about ten thousand educators in the city for the convention, about three hundred of whom attended the Deans Conference.

The meetings were held in the Washington auditorium, which seats thousands of people, various speakers of note appearing on the program. President Coolidge addressed the gathering on one occasion.

Miss Hathorne reports that she was especially impressed by the beauty of our national buildings and the pride that the city takes in them. While in the city they visited the Congressional Library, the Senate and the House of Representatives, one of the National Printing Establishments, where paper money and stamps are printed, the Lincoln Memorial and the Washington Memorial, and many other points of interest.

The government is making plans to connect Washington proper, which lies on the Maryland side of the Potomac with the Virginia side by the erection of a million dollar bridge, to signify the union of the North and South, and to serve as a link between them.

"Y" NOTES

The union meeting last week was a great success. Professor Schmoker gave an address that pleased all. He brought to us the feeling that we had a responsibility in our own unconscious influences on others, and a feeling of appreciation toward the unconscious influences of others on us. The next two union meetings to come will be held March 22. The Y. W. C. A. will be responsible for the program.

This week's meeting was an echo from Geneva. A film on Geneva, and some of the snaps taken by the River Falls group last year, were shown on the screen. Then some of the men who were there told of the great privileges of attending such a conference. Wouldn't it be great if River Falls could send enough men to fill one tent? Just eight is all that one tent will accommodate. Think it over fellows.

Realizing that all of us are crammed to the limit with work, the Y. M. C. A. will not hold a meeting on the Tuesday of the week of exams.

SMOKING ROOM NEEDED

The young men of the school are almost unanimous in their opinion that the challenge of last week's Student Voice in regard to the smoking room should not go unanswered. Evidently the writer does not fully appreciate the extent of the need for such a place of recreation. While the men of other schools, including four Wisconsin Normal Schools enjoy the benefits of smoking rooms, the men of River Falls Normal are forced to retire to the boiler room for this type of indulgence. We believe that it is only logical to agree then, that the men of this school are entitled to enjoy the same privileges that are freely extended in schools of a similar character. We feel that we are just as much entitled to a club room as the women students are to their rest room. In this age of enlightened public opinion it is not considered a crime to smoke, but a privilege open to all. Let's have a smoking room. What could be fairer?

This and that

Gladys Spriegel visited at her home in St. Paul last week-end.

Margaret Jackson was at her home in St. Paul last week-end.

Charles McNabb entertained a visitor from the city Sunday afternoon.

Bessie Dorwin spent the week-end with friends and relatives in Hudson.

Do your cramming early. Only eight more cramming days until finals.

Notice—Any girl looking for a date may call either "Cudd" or "Hellie." (Paid advertisement.)

Mildred Hummel, '25, who is teaching at Cumberland, Wis., spent the week-end at her home in River Falls.

Ed. Kinney is ill with a sore throat. However, he soon hopes to be able to use that much needed apparatus—the voice.

Messrs. Corbine, Baker, and Amundson attended the basketball game at Stout last Friday night.

Thursday's assembly will be held Friday at the usual hour. The 9:50 classes of Friday will meet at that hour Thursday.

Jenny Golden of Hudson came down for the Minstrel Show Friday night and visited school Friday afternoon with Alma Mayer.

The many friends of "Hank" Knowles were glad to see him Monday when he was visiting school and thinking over the days of the past.

Doris Frederickson, Evelyn Moen, Margaret Jackson, and Bessie Dorwin attended the funeral of Mrs. Morgan at Hudson last Thursday afternoon.

His many friends around Greenwood City were glad to see John Lightfoot on Saturday and Sunday. He is looking rather sleepy after his trip home.

We observed John Price trying to thaw out a small patch of ice on the sidewalk near North Hall this week. Why does ice always freeze with the slippery, smooth side up?

Miss Hathorne and Miss Bridges returned from their trip to Washington, D. C., Monday. They arrived in Hudson at six o'clock Monday morning and hired a car to take them to River Falls. They arrived here in time for school.

The history methods class observed the eighth grade history class Monday morning. We wonder how the Junior High people like an eight o'clock class. At any rate, they might set a good example for some few in the History Methods class.

Friends of Ryda Morgan were saddened to hear of the death of her mother last Tuesday. Ryda was called home Sunday, when her mother suffered a stroke of apoplexy, and was with her until her death. Ryda returned Monday to complete her course, for she graduates at the end of this term.

The students of River Falls extend their sympathy to Ryda in the loss of that one whom she valued the most highly, her mother.

Lettie Nelson spent the week-end with home folks in Woodville.

Remember your "Y" dues, payable to Osborne Attoe or Orville Testrud.

Vic Peterson and Mike Wahl had their necks stretched again last Saturday night.

Robert Fisher made a business trip to the cities last week to see the registrar at the Minnesota State University.

Beatrice Farm became so excited at the basketball game the other week that she said "O the whistle rang."

Notices of spring are revealed by the cawing of crows, the rough March wind, and the slushy streets. Gossip dies down.

Jim Landis tried to play ball with the referee at the River Falls-St. Mary's basketball game Wednesday evening.

Due to students not getting enough exercise, President Ames had the main entrance to South Hall closed the first of this week. Many of our friends appear greatly fatigued because of the extra exertion, notably Russell Nelson and Russell Dort.

EXTRA!! Thomas Barry and —(well, you know her name) were in the hall two minutes today each hunting for the other, before their happy meeting took place. Gee! We hope it will not happen again, as Barry says he has a sprained heart and a weak ankle.

Tilda Hollingsworth has secured a position as sixth grade teacher at Shell Lake, starting her work there last week. Miss Johnson, who held the position until the present time, was forced to resign.

PERSONAL TOUCHES MADE MISS JUNKMAN'S TALK INTERESTING

One of the most interesting talks of the year was the one given by Miss Junkman in assembly last Thursday. Illustrating her talk with pictures that she took during her stay in the Canal Zone, she gave us a vivid account of the canal, the life of the American people in the zone, the life of the natives, the climate, the products and the cities. Her casual mention of the appearance of sharks near the beaches, the ability of many of the natives to handle knives and the treatment that captives receive at the hands of some of the tribes, caused a cold wave to engulf the audience at times. Humorous details, little personal experiences, all helped make the hour a most enjoyable one.

lost one game and that a close game to New Richmond on the latter's home floor. Last night they met in their second game; so the fighting spirit of these two rivals will be red-hot for the Tournament next week. Each is out for the other's scalp. Of course, any one of the other six teams may win from one of these traditional rivals, but however, the tide of the battle goes, there is sure to be a thrilling game when they meet each other.

Get your season ticket early. Twelve exciting games for the ridiculously low price of $1.25. Although these games come during the term exams, yet the schedule of the games has been arranged so as not to conflict with the exam schedule. No examinations will be held after 3 o'clock on any afternoon, and the Tournament games do not start until three o'clock; so every student will have the opportunity to take in the games. The Friday games will be played in the forenoon instead of the afternoon.

Last year River Falls succeeded in defeating both Eau Claire and Superior and met Oshkosh and Platteville but fell before the onslaughts of the Oshkosh team, and we finished as runners-up for the State Championship, Oshkosh winning.

A pep meeting will be held at 9:50 Friday to give every member of the student body a chance to let the team know that he is back of them to the limit. Several special features have been arranged for this assembly. Undoubtedly there will be an unusually large turnout to hear a River Falls debate team attempt to score its sixth consecutive victory over an Eau Claire outfit, and to hear the results of the encounter at Superior. All of the substitutes got a chance, and St. Mary's found difficult sledding even with our regulars out.

On Saturday night, March 6, Monty Banks will appear at the Normal auditorium in "Racing Luck." It is a picture that evokes continuous laughter. The racing episodes are thrilling. But through all the fun and daring deeds runs a story that will delight the audience. The movie opens with some wonderful scenes in the vine clad regions of Italy, where an immigrant boy is leaving home and friends for America.
