Dean announces resignation

L. Gordon Stone

Dr. L. Gordon Stone announced this week that he plans to resign his post as Dean of the College of Education at WSU-River Falls "not later than July 1, 1971."

Stone, who will continue as Dean of the Summer Session and Extension, said he is announcing his plans this early to allow adequate time for the University to seek a replacement.

In 1946, when he came to River Falls to head the division of teacher education, a staff of 40 held all faculty and administrative positions. For several years Dr. Stone held, simultaneously, the posts of director of the division of education, director of the laboratory school, director of placement, director of summer session and director of extension.

Stone pointed out that, in contrast to an entire faculty of 40 at River Falls in 1946, the College of Education alone now has 60 faculty members.

President George R. Field said the University is grateful to Stone for his 24 years of service in heading the professional education function of the institution.

"The program made great progress during the years Stone handled these many duties, and we have one of the best teacher education programs in the state," Field said. "Although we adhere to a policy of mandatory retirement from major administrative posts at age 65, I am pleased that Stone has agreed to continue to handle the summer session and extension work at River Falls."

The president said he plans to establish a "search and screen" committee immediately to help in filling this post.

Stone earned the B.A. degree at State College, Valley City, N.D.; the M.A. at Northwestern University and the Ph.D. at New York University. He came to River Falls from Winona State Teachers College where he was director of training and placement and co-chairman of the Division of Education and Psychology. Previously, he taught at Illinois State University and at Green Mountain Junior College in Vermont. He served for several years as a public school teacher and administrator in North Dakota and Illinois.

The River Falls administrator's professional and public services include: president of the Wisconsin Association of Placement Directors, vice-president of the Wisconsin PTA, president of the Northwestern Wisconsin School Board and Administrators' Association, member of the River Falls Board of Education, chairman of the official board of River Falls Methodist Church, member of the board of control for Cooperative Educational Service Agency No. 5 and president of the River Falls Chamber of Commerce. He is the author of several articles published in educational journals.

Forell: Ethics and the world

by Jube Ola Ogisi

"The only viable ethic must reduce tension, competition . . . increase cooperation and insist on forgiveness," said Prof. George Forell, director of the School of Religion, University of Iowa. He spoke on Ethics in a Pluralistic World here last Thursday.

Forell defined ethics as the science of moral duty--of the ideal human character or action. He claimed that ethics has been greatly affected by "the new world" which began probably in 1945. He also noted four factors which are characteristic of "the new world"--rate of rapid change, pluralism, the shrinking world and the knowledge explosion.

Forell remarked that technological advances of the past two decades far exceed those of the past centuries put together. For instance, it took all of human history to change from the messenger-type of communication to the newspaper, "but only a few decades to change to instantaneous communication." We are aware of the extreme change, but never really understand its impact on society.

"Pluralism is the existence of various and contradictory approaches to life . . . which have to co-exist" without one giving way to others. Forell indicated that "the world of the past was in a way homogenous" because people always removed themselves from approaches that conflicted with their beliefs.

No civilization has succeeded in keeping itself from the outside world. "We are destined to live in a pluralistic world" because nobody has the power to force the rest of the world to homogeneity. Also, "no culture can claim it alone is the way of the future." Forell emphasized that pluralism is the way of the future for the world is always shrinking with the increase in population.

Forell remarked that "knowledge is a peculiar possession" for nobody can give it away the way he can other property. However, "one of the real problems today" is that "there is a knowledge explosion." "There is so much proliferation of information" that one may need to deal with only a segment of a subject in order to keep up.

Forell indicated that the emphasis has changed from ethics to existentialism, Marxism and logical analysis. "The crisis in contemporary ethics . . . is that no one can any longer assume." He said "most ethical decisions" are based on traditional and customary actions "of people . . . whom we respect and trust." Therefore, an action is deemed right (not necessarily logical) because it is traditional in the family or society.

Furthermore, "the ethical person is one who accepts his freedom." Forell commented that it is not what one does, but how one does it that matters. The obvious by-product of this trend of thought is present day "positive relativism" -- that all truth is relative to the individual (without comparison with anything else) and to the time or place in which one acts. He noted that the change in emphasis has not helped man in solving his ethical problems.

Forell concluded that "unless we re-order the criteria by which we rate actions . . . there is no change" of seeing 1984. "Our entire approach to life has to be re-ordered . . . and less emphasis put on individual survival."

Forell studied at Kiong Wilhelm Gymnasium, Breslau, Germany; the University of Vienna and the Lutheran Theological Seminary in New York where he received his doctorate in theology. He has been pastor of various Lutheran Churches in the New Jersey and New York areas as well as professor of theology and philosophy at various colleges and universities throughout the United States, Germany, East Africa and Japan.

Ex-radical group to discuss their former exploits

Former members of Cherchez La Cou-pable, a proto-radical mystery group which flourished on this campus during 1965-66, will divulge their exploits at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday at the First Amendment Coffee House.

A panel of students and ex-students headed by Ward Winton will describe how their underground newspaper, The Ferret, irked administrators and entertained its readers five years ago.

Still visible on some campus buildings are stencils of small red or white mice, the mark of anonymous members of the group. Significance of the symbol will be revealed by panel members.

RF students tour Eastern Europe

by Marilyn Moravec

Returning from their recent 19 day tour of Eastern Europe, River Falls students expressed general surprise at their freedom to travel in the Soviet Union and the friendliness of the Russian people.

Part of a 180 member annual Soviet Seminar from the WSU system, the River Falls delegation included nine students, professor Stephen Feinstein of the history department, his wife and professor Ruth Hale of the Geography department.

"Our purpose in going on the tour was to observe and meet the people of the Soviet Union in their own culture," commented Feinstein.

Although the group spent some time in Finland, Denmark and Poland, they stayed in the Russian cities of Leningrad, Moscow and Vilnius the longest.

After comparing the reception the group received in different countries, Sue Gilman said, "I found the Russian people to be the friendliest in Europe. I was greatly impressed by their warmth toward us."

"We had a lot more freedom than I had expected," remarked Reno Rizzo. "There were no restrictions on where we could travel."

Another tour member noted that residents of Leningrad and Vilnius were friendlier than those of Moscow. "The coldness of the people in Moscow was typical of the people in a modern large city," observed David Schollmeier.

Comparing the average Russian with his American counterpart, Rizzo found Russians to be characteristically more reserved while Americans are more care-free.

Getting to know Russian students was another interesting experience for the travelers.

"The students are similar to us in many ways, and are interested in peace too," Schollmeier remembered. He also commented, "The students are much better read than we are. They know more about America than we know about Russia."

The willingness of the students to openly discuss politics without any fear impressed Miss Gilman. Although Rizzo found them to be intelligent and inquisitive, he noted that they were "schooled to defend their government and ideology," whenever the topic of politics came up. Since Russian students must take five years of English in school, there was no problem in talking with them, he said.

Another area of interest to the visitors was the noticeable difference between American and Russian consumer goods.

"I felt as if I had gone into a time tunnel and had come out in the 1930's," remarked Miss Gilman. "There were few consumer goods, no refrigerators, few cars, and drab clothing." She said that a blouse selling for 55 rubles (55 American dollars) would sell in the United States for about three dollars.

Impressed at the number of consumer goods in Warsaw, Poland, Schollmeier explained, "Although the consumer goods were not as numerous as in US cities, Warsaw had more than in any other Communist country I visited."

The cost of the 19 day tour was $525. "We went anticipating the best possible educational experience at the lowest possible price," said Feinstein.

Next year's tour is set for March 31 to April 19. Open to any student in the WSU system, the seminar is limited to 180 people with a quota of 13 from River Falls. In preparation for the 1971 trip, Feinstein plans to teach a Russian civilization class during winter quarter which will be required of all seminar students. The course will be designed to give prospective delegates a background of Russian culture and history. In addition to this class, study of the Russian language can be worked out on an individual basis before taking the trip.

All students seeking further information about the trip next year may attend a preliminary meeting of the Soviet Seminar this Wednesday, May 6, at 3 p.m. in room 203 of the Student Center. Several members of this year's group will relate their experiences and a movie will be shown.

Amphitheater referendum may be invalid

by Don Oakland

The Foundation Committee's amphitheater referendum may be invalid, according to Student Senate's voting rules. At Wednesday's Senate meeting Senator Rich Souigny told of a complaint against the Foundation Committee referendum handling.

According to Souigny, Foundation Committee was handing out amphitheater buttons and amphitheater information at the table where the ballot box was placed.

According to Senate elections rules there can be no campaigning within 25 feet of the election voting area.

Senators tabled the matter to the Executive Committee of Senate. Senate plans to investigate the incident before rendering a decision.

PAY RAISED

Senators voted themselves a pay raise. Regular senators next year will receive full in-state tuition, officers will be getting one and one-half times tuition, and the president will get double in-state tuition.

According to Tom Gavin, senate treasurer, $4,000 will be taken out of Senate's budget for salaries this year. The pay increase will mean next year $6,500 will be taken out of Senate's budget, Gavin said.

Gavin felt the money used for the increase could have been used other places in the budget.

Senate President Rodney J. Nilsestuen said the increase in pay wouldn't be that much when taken in the context of the entire budget.

CONSTITUTIONS: IFC VS. SENATE

Inter Fraternity Council (IFC) challenged Senate on a constitutional point. IFC wants clarification on Article three, Section one of the IFC constitution. That article states that a fraternity constitution must go through IFC before it can go through Senate for approval.

At the April 8 meeting Senators accepted the TEKE constitution. TEKE, a fraternity, did not have the approval of IFC.

The matter was automatically tabled to the Senate's constitution committee for investigation and consideration.

Later in the meeting Senator John Cerrito challenged the membership of the constitution committee. He said certain members had an "obvious bias" against fraternities. Cerrito then specifically named Rich Souigny.

"I ask you (Souigny) to be a gentleman and disqualify yourself," Cerrito said.

There was no formal action on the matter.

DELLINGER COMING MAY 14

David Dellinger, one of the Chicago Seven, will be speaking here at 2 p.m. Thursday, May 14, in Karges Center, reported Gavin. Admission is set at $1. Senate will be paying $1,000 to Dellinger for the engagement.

Senate passed a motion to extend library hours during finals to 24 hours. They also passed a motion to extend hours on Sundays from noon to midnight. The matter goes to the President George Field for approval.

Another motion was passed to extend weekly hours. The motion, proposed by Chuck Barlow stated: Extend hours Monday thru Thursdays from 7 a.m. to midnight; on Fridays from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. and on Saturdays 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Teacher evaluation is tentatively scheduled for the first or second week in May, according to Gavin. The University is paying for the computer service, said Gavin, not the Senate.

Next fall students should be able to have televisions in their rooms, reported Barlow. A recent report said that televisions draw no more current than phonographs. The matter is now under consideration by the administration, Barlow said.

Pair Extraordinaire here May 13

The Pair Extraordinaire, nationally known performing duo, will appear at WSU-RF at 8 p.m. on Wednesday, May 13 in Karges gym.

The Pair Extraordinaire is made up of Carl Craig and Marcus Henphill. Together they combine folk music, comedy, and satire to make a unique performance. They have been described as "an inventive, intelligent, jovial winning combination." Craig sings and Henphill plays the bass. Henphill plays the base and Craig sings and plays the tamborine. Both dance and joke to please their audiences. The duo say that they have 240 to 250 songs in their repertoire. They play everything from "Bach to Broadway." They have two record albums recorded. They are under the management of Ken Kragen and Ken Fritz who also manage the Smothers Brothers.

Some of the songs in their repertoire are "A Most Unusual Day," "Come Back to Me," "Summertime" and "Let it be Me."

They have appeared on the Johnny Carson show, Dean Martin's program and the Mike Douglas show. They also appeared at the Hungry i, in San Francisco and with Bill Cosby in Las Vegas.

The concert is being handled jointly by the Afro-American students and UAB. Tickets are $1.50 for students and $2.50 for non-students. Tickets can be purchased from any Afro American student.

May Hall may house bookstore

by Connie Carpenter

Faculty Senate passed a recommendation at its April 27 meeting that the bookstore be expanded by moving it to May Hall. President George Field has given his approval to the budget.

The need for expanding the bookstore was brought to the Senate's attention last May by Prof. John Buschen. Buschen said that he and many other faculty members felt that the location and number of books were too small for the University. Buschen said students come to the University to get as many new ideas as possible and should be able to get any type of book at anytime.

According to a survey done by Buschen the number of books at the bookstore could be increased three or four times just from faculty suggestions. The larger size of the bookstore would relieve the long lines at the beginning of each quarter, and may also enable the store to reduce its prices.

As a result of Buschen's pushing and the work of several committees, Faculty Senate recommended to Field that the bookstore be enlarged in the Cage area of the Student Center. This proposal went to the Board of Regents where it received no further action. This spring Field talked with Senate members about the proposed store. He felt that perhaps it was a good thing the Board failed to act because use of the Cage has grown so much that all available space is necessary for eating. Because of this, Faculty Senate set up a final committee to check out four possible sites for a bookstore on campus: Hathorn Hall, May Hall, the southwest dining room at Rodli Commons and the psychology building.

According to committee member Dr. Nicholas Karolides, Hathorn Hall was eliminated because of the cost of necessary construction. Rodli was eliminated because of its out-of-the-way location, and the psyche building was eliminated because "the thing that the University most needs, classrooms and offices, are there."

May Hall was chosen because the cost of construction would be very little, it is easily accessible to any one on his way down town and because most utilities are already present. The store should be completed by next September.

New music concert May 5

The last of this year's series of New Music concerts will be presented Tuesday, May 5 at 8 p.m. in North Hall Auditorium. Featured works on the program will be Tape Piece by Dan Zimmer, a senior in the music department, and Aanraking (Contact) for solo trombone by Conrad DeJong of the Music Faculty.

There will be a brief discussion of each piece preceding its performance and an opportunity for those who wish to remain after the concert to participate in a popcorn--coffee celebration on stage.

The remainder of the program will include:

UCM trips to Chicago

Hair, the Criminal Court Building, museums and Old Town were just some of the highlights on the United Campus Ministry (UCM) trip to Chicago held April 16-19.

Two busloads of students left for Chicago at noon on Thursday, and arrived in time for the evening performance of Hair. Before going to Westminster House, a UCM center in Chicago used by the students as sleeping quarters, they viewed Chicago by night from the top of the Prudential building.

A visit to the Criminal Court building and sitting in on case hearings held by Saul Epton, the presiding judge of the accused seven Black Panthers, was followed by a tour of Jane Addams' Hull House on the Chicago Circle Campus.

Visits to the Planetarium, Aquarium, museums of Natural History and Industry and a visit to Chicago's Old Town filled most of Friday and Saturday.

Jesse Jackson and Ralph Abernathy were featured speakers at a rally for Operation Breadbasket on Chicago's South side.

A visit to a re-education center for drug addicts--Gateway House--exposed the difficulties of an addict trying to "kick" the habit.

The trip ended Sunday noon with a visit to the Ba'hi temple. The student buses returned to River Falls early Sunday evening. This was one of two yearly trips to Chicago planned by UCM.

Summer Session starts June 15

The 1970 WSU-RF Summer Session will begin June 15, 1970 and end August 7. Interested students should pick up a bulletin at the Admission's Office and fill out the permit to registrar inside the back cover.

Registration will be June 15, in Karges Center. All registration material must be turned in at this time. A late fee of ten dollars will be charged after 4:30 p.m. and no fees will be accepted after June 22.

Residents of Wisconsin will pay $110 for seven or more quarter hours, non-residents must pay $402 for seven or more credits. Part-time resident students will be charged $14 per credit hour, part-time non-resident students must pay $58 for each credit hour. In addition the part time student must pay a five dollar Student Activity fee and a five dollar Student Center fee.

A single dormitory room will cost $17.25 a week, or $138 for eight weeks and a double room will cost $11.50 a week of $92 for eight weeks.

Meals will cost $11.75 a week or $94 for the entire summer session.

WSU-RF will offer undergraduate, graduate courses and workshops.

Editorial Comment

The lighter Senate

by Don Oakland

At the Senate's last meeting J. John Cerrito, Senator-at-large, was about to deliver his opinion on a matter before Senate. At the very moment he began to speak the lights in the room flickered. He paused, then began again, at which time the lights went completely out. They were out for about ten minutes. J.J., is someone trying to tell you something.

SENATE IN HOT DEBATE

Senators dove into the pit of hot emotion again as they argued a controversial issue: Where to hold this year's Senate banquet. Debate was heated for about 15 minutes.

At least eight different dates were proposed for the dinner. Two to four different supper clubs were mentioned as possible places to eat.

One of the main concerns was whether or not they could be served drinks.

Cerrito suggested a Twin Cities supper club might be nice. But as Larry Minth, LAC chairman, pointed out, some people don't go for that type of entertainment.

By the way wasn't it Senate who made the big stink over athletic banquets?

ETHICAL

Senators voting themselves a pay raise is ethical, according to Cerrito, the U.S. Congress does it.

Do two wrongs make a right?

Hey girls, according to Cerrito and Randy Nilsestuen the campus can be improved by making it co-ed in the 70-71 academic year. In other words they explained "less cows -- more broads."

"IF THESE BIRTH-CONTROL NUTS HAD THEIR WAY, WHERE'D I GET MY ARMIES?"

Proposed arena more info needed

To the Editor:

The VOICE, in my estimation, has usually served well as an information agency concerning issues of particular interest to, and concern of the student body of this institution. While I am not prepared to suggest that there has been a deliberate attempt at concealment of facts, I am forced to the realization that, at least, there has certainly NOT been a deliberate attempt to bring into the open facts regarding an issue of immediate and far-reaching concern to all students - that of the proposed ice arena.

The city of River Falls has been asked to join with the University in funding this project. The city's share has been estimated at $200,000. The University's share, it has been suggested, is approximately $600,000. Where will the latter amount come from? According to the present plan, it will come from an increase in the student activity fee of $4 per quarter, per student during the regular academic year for the next thirty (30) years.

The Student Senate (without, it seems, much communication with the student body) has accepted this proposal and is on record favoring the project. For the same reasons that some of us feel a city government should not agree to spend $200, without the sanction of a majority of its citizens, many of us feel a Student Senate should not commit the student body to such a large amount as $600 over so long a period as thirty years without the express consent of a majority of that body.

William Abbott
Professor of Music

Editor's note: A city council meeting will be held tonight at 6:30 to discuss the project.

Zero Pop. says article promotes irresponsibility

To the editor:

Zero Population Growth would like to point out to the students of this university and to the town of River Falls that the editorial in the most recent River Falls Journal is a serious misrepresentation of the population problem. To say that large families are the thing to have is to promote irresponsibility in family planning.

The food sources of the world and the natural resources we have are limited. More people means that each person gets a smaller share. Since 1958 the population has been increasing faster than the food supply. Every day our country and the world are becoming more and more crowded and more polluted; parks and open spaces are disappearing. Is this the kind of world we want to live in and leave for our children?

Attitudes such as found in Mr. Kremer's editorial have to be fought actively through education. As for Mr. Kremer I suggest that he read the Population Bomb, and Moment in the Sun before he writes about a subject that he is not informed on.

Ironically, this is a prime example of what Vice-President Spiro Agnew has told us that the mass media is doing to our way of thinking through its misuse.

Read. Become informed on a subject, THEN editorialize.

Referendum, void ?

by Don Oakland

The Student Senate is faced with a problem: whether or not to invalidate the foundation committee amphitheatre referendum.

Foundation committee members are charged with handing out buttons and amphitheater information at the ballot boxes. This according to the complaint is in violation to election rule II C which says "There shall be no campaigning within twenty-five (25) feet of the ballot box."

Some student Senators are satisfied and urge invalidation. "It's obvious," they say, "there was definite rules violation, I saw it with my own eyes."

However, there is strong arguments for the validation of the referendum.

Noticing the "Rules to Govern Elections" one would find no mention in the entire document of the word referendum. Where in the document does it say these rules also apply to referendums?

There are no written rules governing referendums.

If these rules do govern referendums (by Senate decree) then violations flourish--and Senate is the biggest violator.

For example if these rules are to be followed a referendum needs a petition of 50 signatures (section I D). No Senate referendum ever had a petition connected with it.

The referendum may have been run unethically, but it can't be legally invalidated.

LOOK AT THE RESULTS there was roughly a 400 vote gap between yes and no. That is significant in itself. It was not a close referendum. It clearly showed that the interested students favor the amphitheater. The rest of the school could give a damn but that's true of all school elections and referendums.

The Student Senate should at Wednesday's meeting draw up rules to govern referendums and adopt them as fast as their constitution allows.

Profs. plan sewage plant

Prof. Milan Wehking and Prof. Jack Bostrack are developing a new type of sewage plant. Several years ago residents of River Falls began complaining about the sewage odor. The University and the town, with Federal support, joined to develop a new method of sewage disposal. Wehking and Bostrack were chosen as directors of this experimental project.

Instead of dumping untreated solid wastes as most other sewage plants do, the wastes are pumped into ditches. Bacteria is mixed with the waste. Most of it will stay suspended in the sludge. Twice a day the waste that has been treated with bacteria is pumped out on to sand beds where it dries.

Because of mechanical difficulties no analysis had been made since the middle of January until last Thursday. Normally about ten different tests are made on the sewage in the channel.

The most important test is to measure the reduction of solid particles. Solids are weighed before they are pumped into the treatment ditch. After treatment they are pumped out and weighed. There is a 50 to 80 percent reduction in the organic material of the solids.

Another test determines the amount of organic material; cellulose, fats and proteins, that are in the wastes before and after treatment. Water saturated with oxygen is added to the samples (which contain almost no oxygen) taken before treatment and after treatment. These samples are put in an incubator for five days. Since the amount of oxygen is known in the saturated water, the amount of oxygen used can be measured and then the amount of pollution or organic material in the sewage can be calculated. The amount of inorganic material present before and after treatment is determined by a similar test. Acid is added to both samples to kill the bacteria. Again oxygen saturated water is added to the fluid. Iron and phosphate in the solution use up the oxygen. The amount of phosphate and iron in the sludge determines how much oxygen will be used. According to Larry Monette the inorganic material uses two and one fifth times as much oxygen as organic material.

Tests are also made to find the amounts of nitrate, ammonia and nitrogen in the water.

The new plant should eliminate much organic wastes and help prevent more organic material from taking oxygen from the water which kills fish. It should eliminate the odor problems.

3 concerts coming

The music department will present three concerts this week: a New Music Recital on Tuesday, May 5 at 8 p.m. in North Hall Auditorium; a Chamber Music Recital Friday, May 9 at 8 p.m. in North Hall Auditorium; and the Wisconsin State University Alumni Brass Quintet Sunday, May 10 at 8 p.m. in North Hall Auditorium.

The Chamber Recital will include music by the University Brass Ensemble, Brass Quintet, Woodwind Quintet, Clarinet Ensemble and Chamber Singers. The Alumni Brass Quintet Program will perform pieces ranging from the late Renaissance to the 29th century. This Quintet is comprised of a group of former River Falls students.

Welcome, Legionnaires

(Photographs by John Froelich)

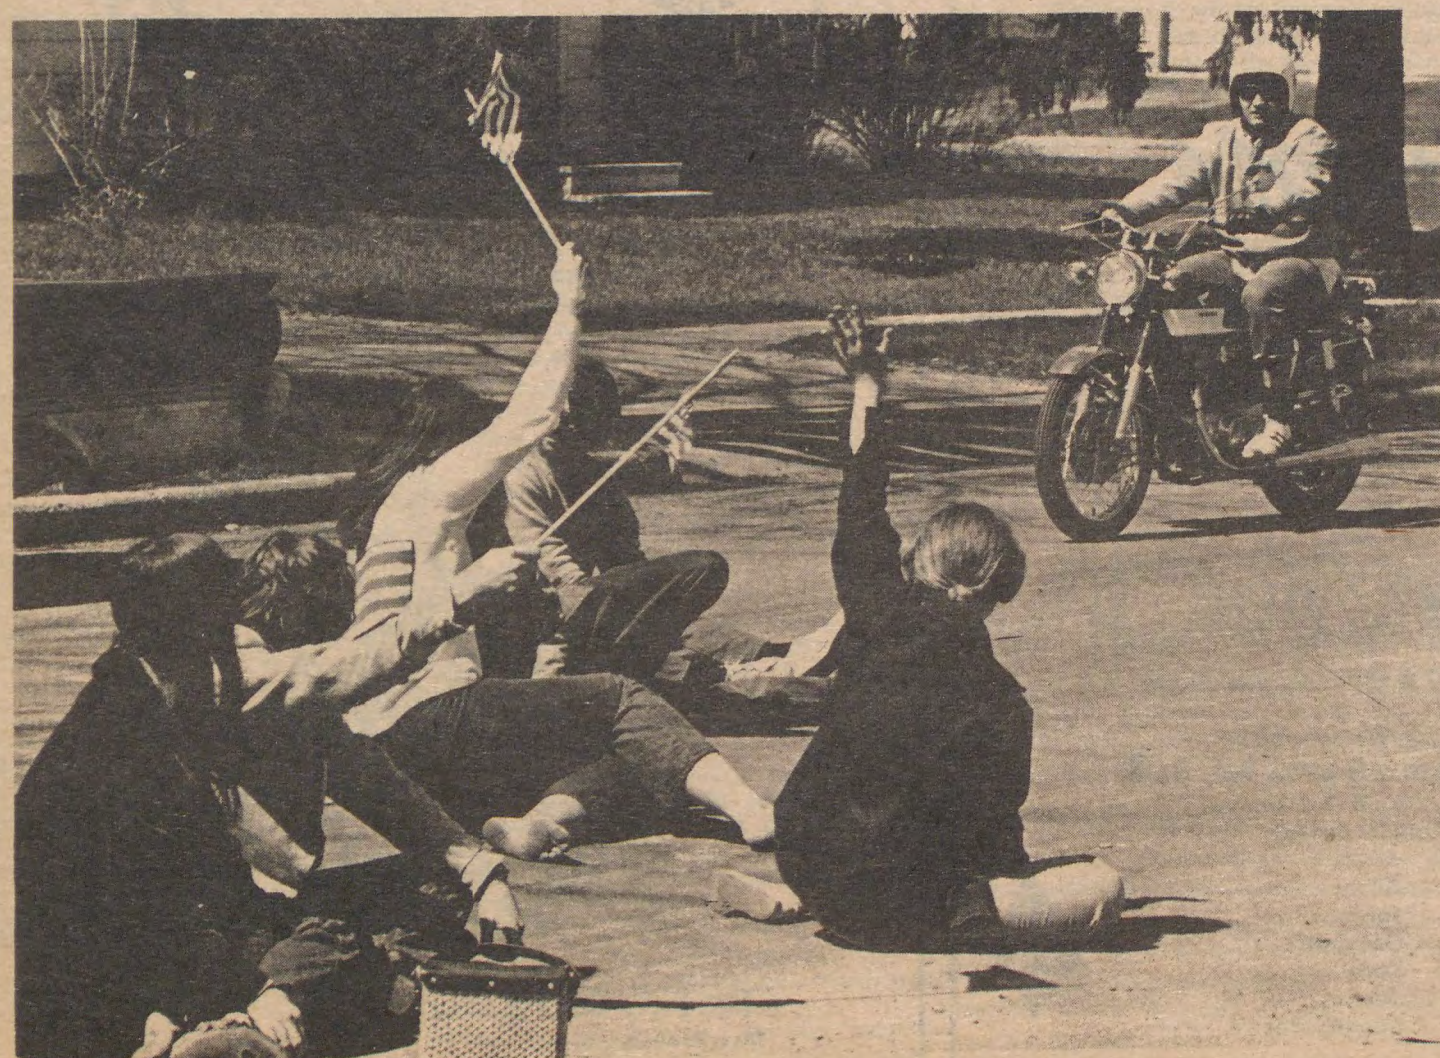

The crowd at the "rock festival" was estimated at 30 at the beginning and nearly 150 at the end.

A WWII veteran and a Vietnam veteran had different opinions on the war.

A RF policeman and a student "talk it over."

The "rock festival" moved into the street.

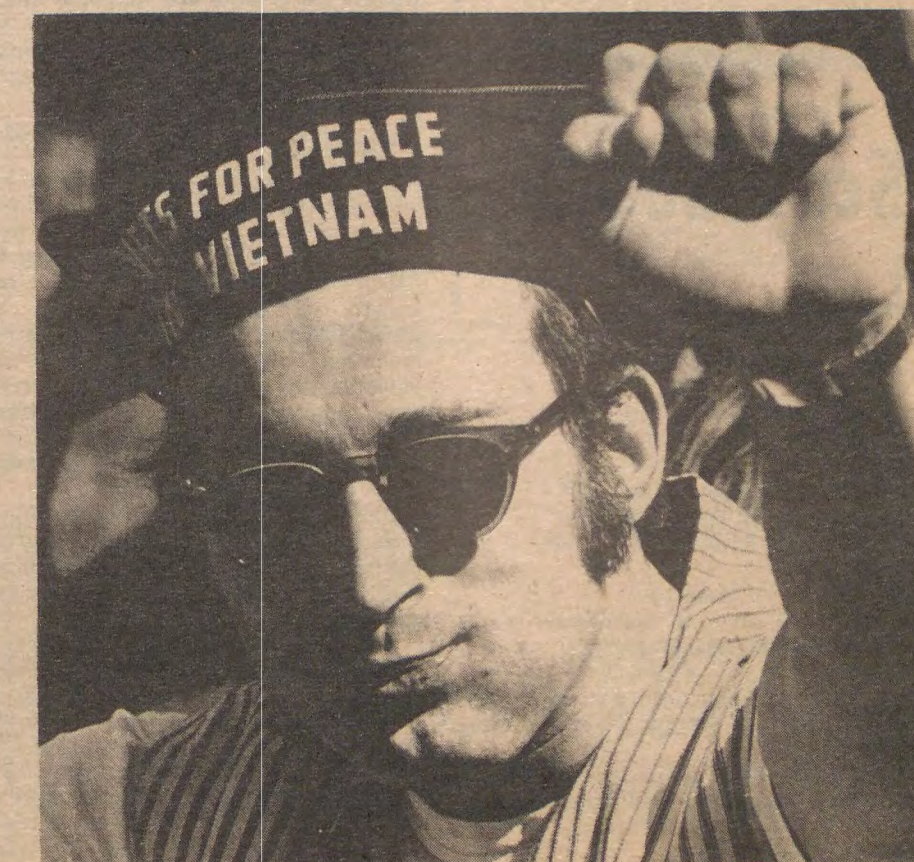

Rumors of an impending riot were plentiful as the American Legion 10th District Spring Legion Conference was held in River Falls this past weekend. Legionnaires from Barron, St. Croix, Dunn, Chippewa Falls, Eau Claire, Trempealeau, Buffalo, Pepin and Pierce county took part in the conference.

University students met for a "rock festival" at 208 4th St., Saturday afternoon in protest of the conference and the use of University buildings by the Legionnaires.

Sunday's parade was interrupted by only a few minor incidents. One RF student was detained at the police station until the end of the parade.

This car, owned by a RF student, had to be moved by policemen.

Disqualifications
mar WSUC relays
Falcons sixth

In a meet marred by numerous disqualifications, the Falcon track team placed sixth in the conference relays at Stevens Point.

Coach Warren Kinzel came away from the meet not knowing the Falcon point total although he was led to believe his Falcons had scored 18 points. The Falcon track team was also disqualified out of seven points which would have lifted River Falls into fourth place.

The two highlights of the meet for River Falls was their first place finish in the triple jump and the mile relay team which finished fourth but broke a school record in the process.

It was Joe Rozak, Dan DeGross and Randy Cudd leading the way in the triple jump which was judged by the total distance jumped by all three entries.

Joe Rozak also ran a 49.7 anchor leg in the mile relay to help set a new school record of 3.23.7 in that event. Mike Ubbelohde started the mile with a 52.2 clocking and was followed by Dave Stiff who zipped off a 50.5. Larry Rud, running third, took the baton from Ubbelohde and turned the quarter mile in 51.3 setting the stage for the streaking Rozak.

The Falcons also took a third in the 440 intermediate hurdles. Stu Krueger, Steve O'Neil, Tom Kinney and Larry Rud each ran the 440 intermediates in the third place finish.

In the four mile relay it was Zwadlo, Peterson, Kinney and Riley each running a mile to the fifth place finish.

Despite a strained leg muscle Gary Grey anchored the 880 relay team to a fourth place finish. Mike Ubbelohde, Dave Stiff and Joe Rozak ran the first three splits of the relay.

The Falcons also picked up a fourth in the 480 low hurdle relay with Steve O'Neil, Bob Burrmond, John Ott and Stu Krueger skimming over the hurdles.

The final three points came in the long jump where Ubbelohde, Cudd and O'Neill combined for the third place finish.

River Falls was disqualified out of seven points with bad baton passing being the chief errors.

Kinzel's runners placed third in the 480 high hurdle relays but were disqualified as were three other teams in the event.

The Falcon track team will let the injuries heal until the conference meet May 15, 16. The chief casualty at Stevens Point was Gary Grey when the former Milwaukee Custer sprinter came up with a strained leg muscle. Kinzel said after the meet that the layoff will help Gray mend.

Falcon baseball coach Don Page must have felt lonesome last weekend as Oshkosh and Whitewater ripped his diamond men four times. Here Dennis Edmundson advances to third against Whitewater but the Falcons lost the game 23-2.

OFF THE CUFF

by Pete Holmlund

Falcon football will take on a different approach next fall, with newly appointed coach Mike Farley at the helm. Farley is a strong advocate of a wide open, spread type passing offense. Something like the Dallas Cowboy's multiple series offense. The new Falcon mentor has been doing extensive recruiting of high school prospects throughout the state. A graduate of Illinois, where he played and roomed with Packer great Ray Nitschke, Farley says that football should be "fun" but stresses mental and physical conditioning, plus "DESIRE."

Come August 31, the current Racine Park coach will have his work cut out for him, as the Falcons finished in the conference cellar spot with a 1-7 record last fall. Turning losers into winners is nothing new to Farley, as he brought conference crowns and statewide ranking to both Sparta and Racine Park high schools, after taking over their sagging football programs. Next fall should be interesting!

The annual "R" club banquet was held last Wednesday evening with several Falcon athletes picking up some hardware. Receiving MVP-awards were Brian Kreibich-football; Dan Collins-swimming; Bill Riley-cross country; Bob Parker-basketball; Craig Swenson-wrestling; and Joe Broneak-hockey. Also earning honors were football flanker Joe Rozak-most valuable offensive player, Lee Wright-most improved swimmer, Bob Parker-most rebounds, and Kenny Flouro-scholar-athlete award and most pins trophy.

Brian Kreibich, the Falcons All-American safety, has signed a contract to play football in the Canadian professional league. Kreibich will try out with the Winnipeg Bombers.

If you haven't already noticed, take a look outside Karges gym. There are three more Falcon greats next to Jim Baier and Nate DeLong.

Track coach Warren Kinzel deserves a big pat on the back for the big improvement in Falcon track fortunes. The youthful cindermen are undefeated in their outdoor meets with a 9-0 record. Kinzel, a Drake graduate, really throws his heart into the sport, according to his athletes.

There is a good possibility that the Falcon track squad might be getting a partner for sprint ace Gary Gray. A member of Nigeria's Olympic track team is interested in River Falls.

The athletic department has been recruiting on a much larger scale this year, but the possible out of state tuition raise to $2,700 and possible elimination of reciprocity, could really hurt WSU-River Falls, both academically and athletically.

Assistant football coach Jim Helminiak, took to the waterways Sunday by putting up a boat dock with a few of his Grimm Hall men. Helminiak proved his great engineering skill, but not before dropping a crescent wrench into 20 feet of water.

River Falls took to the road over the weekend and found the road trip to their liking, as they copped both ends of a Friday doubleheader with Platteville and split with La Crosse State the next day. Freshman Dennis Kreusches continued his hitting ways, as the stocky right fielder blasted a grand slam home run in the 9-7 second game win over the Platteville Pioneers.

The Falcons rapped out 13 hits in their 11-4 opening victory over Platteville, as all nine big Red batters broke into the hitting column. Junior Dave Zimmerman upped his season record to 2-1, as the tall righthander allowed eight hits, no walks and struck out six in going the funn seven innings.

A big first inning offensive barage jumped the Pagemen to a 5-0 margin. A single by Joe Broneak, a double by Bill Gregor and a sacrifice fly brought home the first tally. Dennis Edmundson singled Gregor in and a triple by the hot hitting Kreusches chalked up two more Falcon tallies. Terry Frerker's single allowed Kreusches to tally the fifth score.

Taking up in the second where they had left off, River Falls tallied three more runs, on a pair of doubles by Dave Astin and shortstop Jim Zaher. Jerry Cognetta's two run single gave the Falcons an 8-1 margin.

Platteville picked up a couple of runs off Zimmerman, in the first and second frames, but the Falcons countered with one in the fourth and two more in the fifth, when Zimmerman homered with a man on base. The Pioneers managed two final runs off Zimmerman in the fifth inning, before being saddled with the 11-4 defeat.

Second Platteville Game

Coach Don Page saw his pitching staff rise to the occasion, as the Falcons received another strong pitching performance from freshman Mike Krisik in their 9-7 win in the second half of the twinbill. Krisik gave up seven runs, only three of them earned, seven hits, five walks and struck out three in going the distance for his second win of the season. After committing no errors in the first game, the Falcon defense aided the Pioneer cause with seven errors.

River Falls chalked up two in the second frame on a Frerker walk, an Edmundson double, Joe Broneak's single and a Platteville error. Platteville picked up a lone score in the third for a 3-2 edge.

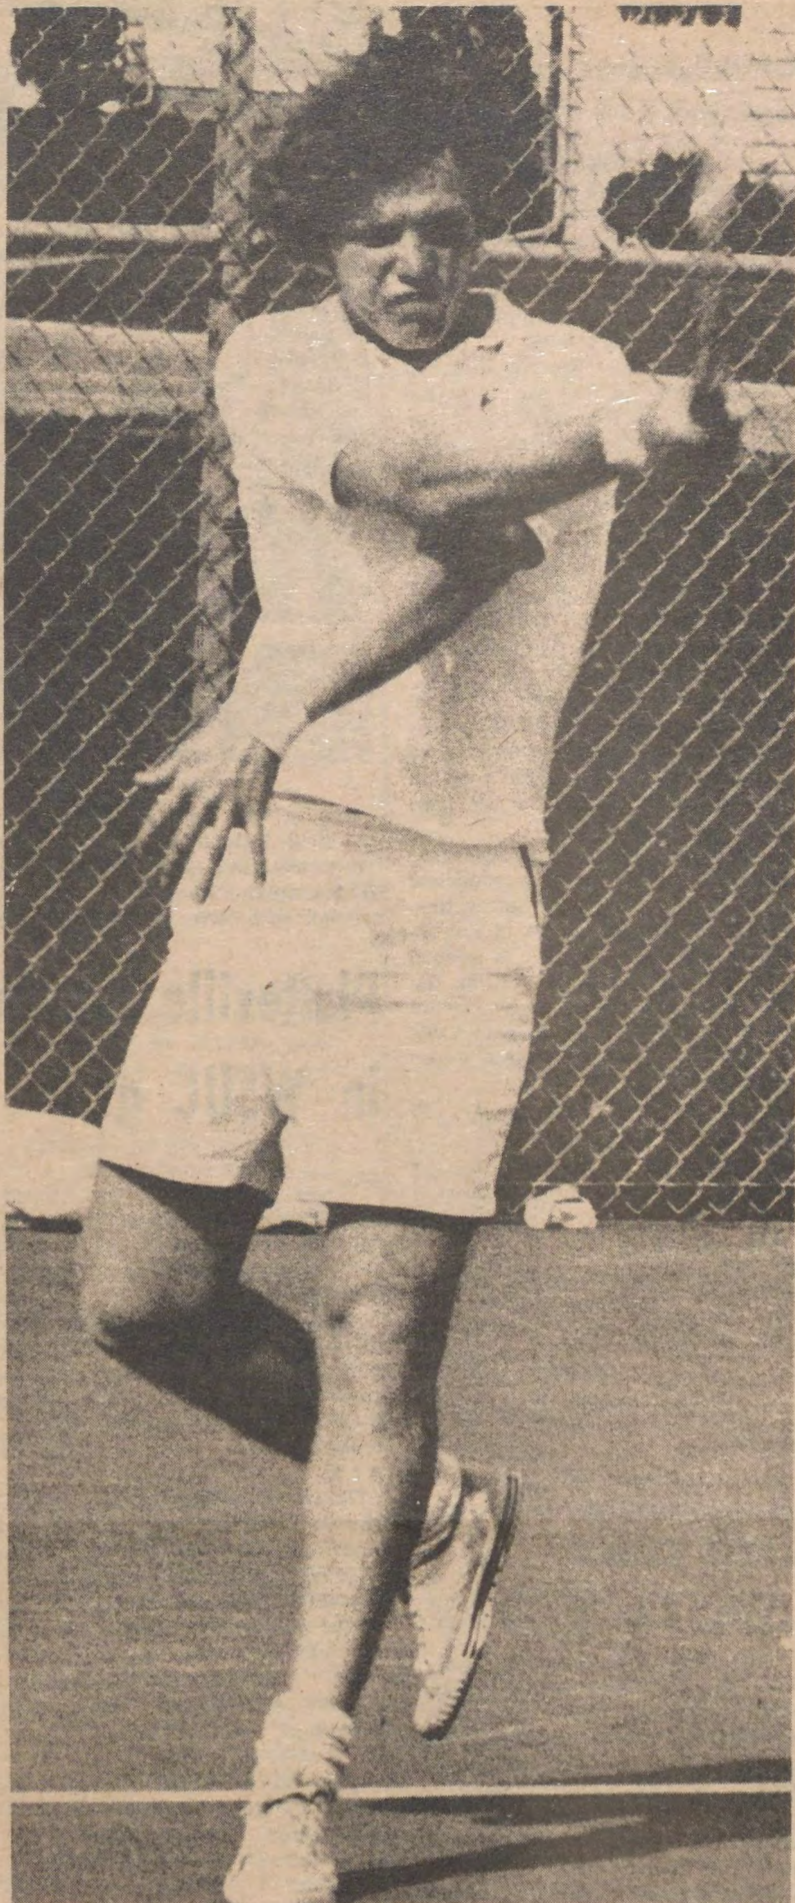

A five run fourth inning put the score at 7-4 in favor of the Falcons. Singles by Cognetta and Gregor and free passes to Broneak and Astin set up freshman Dennis Kreusche's four run blast. Kreusches, who is hitting at a .300 clip, sent his 385 foot grand slam over the center field fence.

Walks to Frerker and Broneak, followed by a sacrifice fly by Mike Krisik, yet the scene for senior Jerry Cognetta's two run fifth inning single and a 9-5 RF edge. Platteville got to Krisik for two runs in the sixth but that was it for the Pioneers, who haven't won a conference game to date.

Hammering a forehand over the net from the baseline, Rich Sabaka is on his way to another win last week. Sabaka teamed with Tim Murphy to give Michael Davis' tennis team their only point against Eau Claire. He then came back to win his singles matches against Superior and Stevens Point. With four of his six players freshmen, Davis will be looking toward the future in Falcon tennis.

Freshmen key 6-3 net victory over Superior

Coach Mike Davis's netters dropped an 8-1 dual match to the Eau Claire Blue-golds Tuesday, as the Falcon doubles team of Tim Murphy and Rich Sabaka won the only match on a forfeit. Number one singles man Bob Herum dropped his match 6-4 10-8 to Eau Claire's Dervetski. Also competing for the Red men were Mike Goodier, Ron Schlitt, Ron Schaub and Dave Schollmeier.

Superior-Stout Triangular

River Falls split its double dual matches Saturday, as they dumped Superior 6-3 and dropped a close 5-4 match to Stevens Point in a marathon ten hours of tennis. Four of the six Falcon netters were freshmen, with seniors Bob Herum and Mike Goodier holding down the one and two spots.

Picking up victories against the Superior Yellowjackets were Herum (8-6, 4-6, 6-3), Rich Sabaka (3-6, 6-2, 6-1), Tim Murphy (0-6, 6-3, 6-2) and Ron Schlitt

(6-3, 6-0). The doubles team of Herum-Goodier picked up a win in three sets (6-2, 4-6, 6-2), while Ron Schaub and Schlitt won their pre set 10-7.

Against a tough Point squad the Falcons got wins from number one man Herum (6-4, 7-5) and number three man Rich Sabaka (6-2, 7-9, 7-5). Nabbing double victories were Herum-Goodier (6-3, 6-4) and Al Hilden and Schlitt won (8-6, 5-7, 6-4) in the number three bracker.

The Falcons had a chance to win the match against the Pointers had they not dropped a close decision in the number two doubles. Rich Sabaka and Tim Murphy won the first set 6-3 and led 5-2, only to lose 7-5 and then drop the rubber match 6-0.

Friday the Falcons travel to Eau Claire for a triangular meet with the Bluegolds and Whitewater. May 15 and 16 they journey to Whitewater for the WSU-Conference meet.

Farley advocates summer training

by Rob Orcutt

"I have a very positive attitude on your ability," new football coach Mike Farley told a group of football candidates Wednesday.

"We are handicapped right off the bat," he pointed out. He emphasized that it will be difficult to change over to a new system and a new coach.

He noted that Falcon football teams have had trouble winning but added, "I really like challenges." The former Illinois lineman recalled how his last three coaching assignments have been with "conference doormates" and that their change to a winning attitude helped them into winning seasons while he was coaching.

"My first idea is that football is fun," he said but also made it clear that he meant business. "It's still a tough game," he continued.

Farley handed out a conditioning manual for the players to guide their physical conditioning during the summer lay-off.

"I'm very concerned how you show up the first day," he emphasized. The manual is designed for exercising anywhere. The players will report their progress during the summer by filling out post-cards and sending them to Farley at River Falls.

The present Racine Park coach told the players that they were the nucleus of the team and that he was counting on them to raise the fortunes of River Falls football.

Farley did say that he has brought up a few car loads of high school prospects but got mixed reactions from the groups. Some of the groups were from the Big Eight conference in which Racine Park is a part of. There have also been high school seniors from the Tomah and Black River Falls area looking over the campus.

"Personally I don't count on a kid until he walks on the field," Farley said about high school prospects. "I can't go recruiting right now because of my job." He will be released at Racine Park June 12.

The new football boss said that biggest difference between high school and college coaching is the recruiting in college. He will emphasize a wide open offense. "On offense we will try to make things as complicated as possible for the defense (a la Kansas City)." On defense he said that simplicity was the key (a la Green Bay).

The first practice in the fall will be Aug. 31. Farley said as yet there is still an open date in the schedule. October 3 will be the open date unless a game can be scheduled. That date is in the middle of most conference schedules and will be hard to fill. River Falls will play every team they played last year except St. Norbert.

He said that he expected the players to play with little hurts and maintain a winning attitude at all times.

After stressing the summer conditioning program he recalled a conversation with

Kinzel's crew nips Stout runners, 71-70

River Falls captured its own dual meet with Stout Tuesday, and did it with little to spare. Eight first place finishes lifted the young but determined Falcons to a 71-70 victory over the Bluedevils.

The mile relay team of Mike Ubbelohde, Dave Stiff, Larry Rud and Joe Rozak raced to the tape in the time of 3:26.1. River Falls captured the 440 relay in a 43.65 timing and the 880 relay in 1:34.4.

Hurdler Stu Krueger easily won the 120 highs in 16.7, Joe Rozak blazed to a 50.7 440 victory and freshman Bob "Bubba" Gwidt heaved the discus 124' 10 1/4 for a first. Dash specialist Gary Gray sped to a 10.2 clocking in the 100 and Hudson senior Craig Swenson vaulted 12'6 for his win.

Golfers top Stout, Oles dump RF in tough 8-7 loss

Coach Ben Bergsrud's linksmen split during the week, as they were edged by St. Olaf 8-7, but came back to beat Stout 418-429. Picking up points against St. Olaf on the three point system were Joe Gaaske (3), sophomore Steve Babbitt (2) Gregg Soli (2) and Dennis Malmer and Jim Olson did not score.

The Falcons beat the Stout Bluedevils by a total of 11 strokes with Dennis Malmer and Steve Babbitt sharing medalist honors with 78's. Soli tallied an 80, while Joe Ganske carded an 86 and Mark Blomgren hit 96.

A busy schedule will find the Falcon golfers at Eau Claire Tuesday, hosting Bethel on Wednesday and traveling to Oshkosh on Friday.

La Crosse State

Conference contending La Crosse State showed the Falcons some fine pitching, but the Red men had an ace of their own. Senior Ron Peterson, who has had his troubles this spring after getting out of the army, put on quite a pitching performance for the La Crosse fans.

The lanky righthander went the distance in the first game and was tagged with a 4-0 loss. Coach Don Page decided to stay with "Pete" in the second ballgame and he didn't disappoint his coach, as he pitched the Falcons to a 2-1 victory.

Utilizing off speed curves and change ups, Peterson got his elusive first win of the year. The spunky senior pitched a total of 14 innings in the same afternoon, and allowed only two hits and as many walks, while striking out ten Indian batters in the second game.

The Falcons two runs came in the top of the second inning. Junior Dennis Edmundson singled and Joe Broneak reached base on an error. Bill Gregor's double brought home the two men for the final winning margin.

Their three wins in four outings, give the Pagemen a 5-6 record in conference play and a good chance at a better than .500 season. Providing much of the offensive punch for the Falcons is second sacker Bill Gregor who is drilling the ball at a .359 pace, followed by Dennis Kreusches at .300 and senior Jerry Cognition is batting .278. As a team River Falls is hitting only .223.

a guy by the name of Nitschke at Illinois. He asked the rock hard fullback and linebacker if he ran in the off season. Nitschke replied in the negative. Farley then asked him if he lifted weights or did anything else to keep himself in shape. Nitschke again said no. Farley then asked the obvious question as to how he kept himself in shape. Nitschke said he didn't but that he had always been able to take care of himself.

Jim Helminiak and Dr. Mark Perrin will again be assistant coaches. Farley said there might be a possibility of another coach by next fall.

"I have all the confidence in the world in coach Farley," said Helminiak during the meeting.

With a glimmer in his eyes Farley closed by saying that he is looking for some great things at River Falls.

One of the runs scored last week in the 23-2 Falcon "loss" was scored by freshman Jim Zaher. Zaher is second to firstbaseman Jerry Cognition in runs scored with five. Cognition has six.

Platteville leader in WSUC golf

Oshkosh is not going to win its fourth straight Wisconsin State University Conference golf championship without an argument.

Four teams rank ahead of the Titans at the halfway point in the regular season of triangular meets. Platteville is in front with 5 1/2 points, followed by Stevens Point, Whitewater, and La Crosse with five each. Then comes Oshkosh with 4 1/2.

Titan Ed Buttke fired a fine one-over-par 71 at Oshkosh's Lake Shore Country Club last week, but that wasn't enough to hold off a well balanced La Crosse team, headed by Greg Rock's 72.

The conference meet is scheduled May 15-16 by Lawsonia Country Club at Green Lake. The champion is determined by regular season and tournament points.

The world premiere of a Russian play will highlight the upcoming eighth season of the Minnesota Theatre Company in the Tyrone Guthrie Theatre. This dramatic work may be a bold success. It may be a mediocre flop.

The play, tentatively titled Article 58, was written by Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn and originally intended for a 1962 production in Moscow. But it never made the stage there because of the way it described the corruption and brutality of the Stalinist labor camps during World War II.

Recently the play has been translated by two Englishmen and tagged The Love-Girl and the Innocent. The basic story involves a "love-girl" (or shall we say slut) who gets out of hard labor camp work by shacking up with the right people. She meets the "innocent," a righteous rules-following army officer and they develop love and conflict together.

The Minnesota Theatre Company renamed the play Article 58 (referring to a Russian criminal code dealing with anti-Soviet agitators) and is now in the stage of trying to iron out some of the play's many problems.

These problems include making Soviet life more appealing and understandable to American life, retranslating the English idioms of the first translation into American idioms and attempting to create a more theatrical play out of Solzhenitsyn's literary style of dramatic writing.

All of this appears to evolve into another theatrical risk for the Guthrie. But in consideration of their past gamble taken in producing The House of Atreus (viewed by many as an artistic and box office success) it seems that the October 13 debut will be at least worth the money spent to see it performed.

The Guthrie will also present four other plays, the first opening June 18, and entitled The Venetian Twins. This is an Italian Renaissance comedy written

Sport Magazine searching for queen candidates

Sport Magazine is seeking candidates for its 20th Annual Campus Queen Contest and this year, for the first time, WSU-River Falls will be entering a queen candidate.

There will be an interview Wednesday, May 6, at 7 p.m. in room 127 Karges Center for interested candidates. Seniors cannot enter this year.

A picture and a brief biographical sketch (age, height, weight, measurements, hometown, interests and major ambitions for the future) are required. Candidates must be active in a number of campus activities and maintain a good scholastic standing.

The first of the five finalists chosen by Sport Magazine will appear in the September issue of Sport Magazine, with the other four in succeeding issues. In May, the magazine will announce the winner as chosen in a poll of the readers.

by Carlo Goldoni. It repeats the old comic device of mistaken identity when two identical twins are separated at birth and meet again to marry two different women in Verona. Turmoil ensues to a happy ending.

Opening June 19 will be Ceremonies in Dark Old Men by Lonnie Elder III. This is a modern play about a Negro family in Harlem, unable to live in a white world and discovering that the Black world ends only in tragedy. The theme involves "a man struggling for honesty in a world where honesty is not so much a luxury as an incongruity." And (gee whiz) Clive Barnes liked it.

Starting June 20 the grand master will have his play done all over again. The Tempest by William Shakespeare will once more weave its magic with unforgettable characters. It is a magic to believe in more every time.

A Man's a Man by Bertolt Brecht will be held off until August 11. Set in the India of Kipling's Gunga Din, this play is a statement about the idea that man is a machine for disassembly and equal assembly again. Brecht gaily goes all the way with songs, jazz and laughter.

The following is a digest of other entertainment happenings in the Twin Cities. "AT" denotes that it may be necessary to obtain tickets in advance. These may be purchased at the place of the performance or at a Dayton's ticket office.
