RIVER FALLS STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1949 RIVER FALLS, WISCONSIN

VOL. XXXVI NUMBER 5

Novelties Feature Musical Program

The College Band under the direction of B. J. Rozehnal, presented a Musical Show on Nov. 17 before a large crowd for the benefit of the Fieldhouse Fund.

The highlight of the evening was a quiz show with genial Duane "Diz" Wilcox as emcee. Contestants were picked at random from the audience. The lucky grand prize winner was Genevieve Olson.

Opening with a concert march, Guarany, the first part of the program was on the serious side. Such numbers as Rudolph Frimls Favorites were presented and included vocal solos by Jane Lofgren, soprano, and Milton Hedlund, tenor.

Radio City was the theme for the second half, and was on the novelty side. Ed Holdorf, the narrator, read a musical on the marriage of Heinie and Katrina with sound effects by the band. The local chapter of the S.P.E.B. S.Q. sang a few well known numbers. The quartet received a great ovation upon the completion of their act.

The Skyriders, with Jean Collins as vocalist, presented a few numbers. The Skyriders have shown a great deal of improvement and their rendition of "Let the Rest of the World Go By" was an outstanding feature of the program.

This was the first concert of the year for the band. Their hard work resulted in a well-presented program.

A collection was taken for the Fieldhouse Fund. It is a custom of the band to donate the proceeds of one concert to the fund.

The prizes for the quiz show were donated by the local merchants. It was the first time a quiz show of this type has been presented.

The band closed the program with a novelty number, Sally Trombone, featuring the brass section.

Miss Bloom Explains Jewish Law to 'Y'

Miss Adele Bloom, instructor in economics, explained the Jewish religion to a joint meeting of the YMCA and YWCA Nov. 8.

She explained that the basis of the religion is the Law or Torah, composed of the five books of Moses, and the commentaries on the Law which are the other books of the Old Testament.

The Law can be stated in one sentence, the Golden Rule: "That which is hateful to you, do not do to your fellowmen."

The Jewish religion is more of a family religion than a church religion.

The priesthood are leaders rather than intermediaries between the individual and God.

The emphasis of the Jewish religion is on the good life, good deeds, and philanthropy.

Jewish children start studying Hebrew and the Torah at the age of six and are confirmed at the age of 12 for girls and 13 for boys.

Members of the YWCA led the worship service. Coffee and cookies were served after the meeting.

Newmanites See Movies, Hold Retreat, Breakfast

The Newman Club meeting was held on Nov. 8. Movies were shown. These movies included "Football Highlights of 1948" and "The Devil Fights Back."

A retreat was held on the weekend of Nov. 18 and 19. Speakers at the retreat were Fathers Shaney and Nowak. A communion breakfast was held on Saturday morning, Nov. 19.

The next meeting will be held on Dec. 13 which will be a Christmas party.

The Fall edition of First Flight will go on sale in North and South Halls on Dec. 1. It will sell for ten cents.

Dorm Plans Get Green Light

Meletean Needs Homecoming Pictures; Subscription Pledges Due Dec. 6

Pictures taken during Homecoming or other photos suitable for Meletean use are wanted by the Meletean staff within the next two weeks. Any pictures offered can be presented to Carlton Ames, chairman of the Meletean staff or Art Waters, yearbook editor.

Organization pictures will be taken the first weeks of the Winter term. A standard size picture will be used for all organizations. All groups planning on Meletean pictures are to contact Harold Lindeman.

Advance sales for the Meletean are to be conducted from Tuesday, Dec. 6, to Friday, Dec. 9. Annuals will sell for three dollars with a one dollar deposit reserving a book for future purchase at full price. Dave Knoll, Meletean business manager, will supervise advance sales in South Hall.

Students not returning next term may purchase a book by seeing Mr. Ames or Dave Knoll before the Fall term ends.

The deadline for Senior pictures is December 1, if necessary, however, later arrangements can be made by contacting Dorothy Rumpf or Elaine Brown.

Ladies Never Know When Slips Show

Dr. Wyman was announcing the time for the final test in the 10 o'clock history section. "Now your sins will catch up with you," he stated. "Your sins of the past term will be evident to me that day."

He paused a moment, "Wouldn't it be wonderful," he said, "if your sins never caught up with you?" Just then, a voice was heard calling, "Mama."

Latest "Falcon Topics" Deals With Nutrition

The November issue of Falcon Topics has come off the press. This is a bulletin of practical aids for parents and teachers issued twice a year by members of the division of education.

This issue is entitled "Childhood: The Golden Age for Building Good Eating Habits," and is largely a summary of the work done in the 1949 summer session work shop in nutrition education sponsored by General Mills, Inc.

Convention Delegates Hear Van Paasen

River Falls was represented at the Milwaukee Teachers convention, Nov. 2-5. Among those who attended were: Dr. Francis P. Chisholm, Miss Vera Moss, Miss Catherine Lieneman, B. J. Rozehnal and Miss Virginia Akins.

Also: Dr. R. A. Karges, Dr. Gordon Stone, Miss Ann Dubbe, Miss Carrie Dorsey, Philip Anderson, Miss Phyllis Simon, Miss Arlene Smelser, and Miss Opal Knox.

Two of the leading speakers on the program were G. E. Watson, Wisconsin State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and Pierre Van Paassen. Mr. Paassen's topic was entitled "There Is Still Time."

Veteran Trainers Attend Classes On Farm Tractor Maintenance

A three day workshop in tractor care and maintenance for instructors of veterans taking on-the-farm training was held on Nov. 9-11 at the shops of River Falls State Teachers college.

Dr. E. H. Kleinpell, President, delivered the welcome address on Thursday, Nov. 10. T. E. Thoreson, mechanics instructor, and Harry Nelson, assistant supervisor of Veteran Farm Training, introduced the problem to be covered during these classes.

The general outline of the tractor classes were as follows: safe farm tractor operation; servicing electrical equipment; engine, transmission, and final drive lubrication; power application; winterizing, and trouble shooting.

Herman Killiner, Northwest Tractor and Equipment Co. (Ford), Detroit; E. A. Barton, Alis-Chalmer Manufacturing Co.,

Milwaukee; S. F. Schuman, Minneapolis Moline, Minneapolis; J. T. Fleming, International Harvester Co., Chicago; John W. Russell, Wm. C. McDaniel and R. C. Black, J. I. Case Co., Racine; and Oscar Sunde, John Deere, Moline, Ill., conducted the laboratories on the various tractors.

Mr. Nelson is conducting the last of a series of eight three-day service schools in the Northwestern section of Wisconsin. He stated that the shops are excellently arranged, and the class room is ideal for conducting classes of this type where visual aids and demonstration can be used with ease.

Over 40 veteran trainers enrolled in the class. These instructors will provide training for more than 6000 veterans on the farm training program.

Debaters Compete At Iowa Tourney

Five members of the debate squad and their coach, Miss Marian Hawkins, will begin this year's tournament season the 2nd and 3rd of Dec. when they will meet Pi Kappa Delta debaters from other midwest colleges, at the upper Iowa Pi Kappa Delta Debate Tournament, Upper Iowa University at Fayette, Iowa.

The group will journey to Iowa by car to compete in the two day

Miss Hawkins will uphold both sides of the question. There will be extemporaneous speaking on the foreign policy of the United States to the Orient, and also an oratory section.

Charles Schillberg and Jerry Finn will make up one of the teams at Iowa. Ernest Gay, Jack Hanson and Ambrose Murphy and combinations thereof will comprise the other team. Finn and Schillberg are veterans of many tournaments and have made excellent records in their previous three years of competition. Ambrose Murphy is the only member of the other team who has previously been in any larger tournaments. The Gay, Hanson combination have been in several tournaments but lack the experience of the other men.

All five will compete in debate. Finn and Hanson will each present orations. Gay, Murphy and Schillberg will be in extemporaneous speaking.

The debaters will have hotel accommodations in Oelwein, during their stay in Iowa, and will drive to the college at Fayette.

Dogpatch Characters Flock to Dance

Even Al Capp would have been surprised at the comic characters that turned up Nov. 12 at the Sadie Hawkins Day Dance "Marryin' Sam" was there to officially tie the marital knot for any couples who wanted to make it a permanent affair.

Lou Jane Lofgren was so hard up for clothes she borrowed a chicken feed gunny sack from her uncle for the occasion.

With John Wiff it was "more off than on."

The gals had a gay time for weeks before trying to get the man of their dreams to go. Each gal presented her Lil Abner with a corsage (in name only). From the looks of them most River Falls vegetable merchants must have done a land office business Saturday. Perhaps the oddest corsage was the one Mary Louise Vaughn presented to her date. She borrowed a highly perfumed crayfish from the biology lab. (Wonder why he didn't wear it?) Music was furnished by Dick Forthum's orchestra.

Kickapoo Joy Juice was served to all. "The beverage" had sort of a green tinge—probably due to having to look at the oddly dressed crowd.

Prizes were offered for the best dressed couple. First prize was won by Peg Lyon and Steve Lengell; second, Ann Roquette and Paul Emerson; third, Lou Jane Lofgren and Gene Hartman. Judges were Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Kleinpell, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Anderson and Miss Mildred Mitchell.

The girls developed their biceps by opening and closing doors, getting refreshments and assisting their dates in putting on and removing their coats.

Perhaps the most fun the gals had was asking various fellows to dance. All in all it was a wonderful evening. The only comment: "This should happen more often."

The Editor Speaks

Perhaps some of you have been wondering about the editorial policy of The Student Voice. Therefore, I will attempt to explain the policy we have set-up and have been following.

The Student Voice will publish any letters to the editor that it receives. There is one condition that must be satisfied though. Your name must be signed to the letter. We will with-hold any name that is requested to be with-held but your letter must be signed so that we know who's letter we are publishing.

The fifth and sixth graders of the campus school publish a newspaper. It is mimeographed paper and those who are connected with it should be proud of their work.

When their last issue of the paper came out they put on a sales campaign. The proceeds from the sale of the paper amounted to $5.02.

Now a problem arose. What investment would offer the greatest return on their capital? After weighing all the possibilities they decided to invest their money in the fieldhouse fund. With their $5.02 they came into Dr. Kleinpell's office and proudly announced that they had a contribution for the fieldhouse.

You and the fellow next to you—what have you done for the fieldhouse fund? If each student who is attending school this year would give three cents a day it would amount to $9,789.30 for the year. The fifth and sixth graders added four blocks to the floor of the fieldhouse. How about adding a few more. Hey Mac, have you got three cents?

The Student Voice staff wishes to thank those who were connected with the improvements made to the Voice room. We hope it will help to produce a better paper.

Open Letters To The Editor...

An Open Letter to the Homecoming Committee of 1950
Dear Committee:

This letter is meant to help you. We are making suggestions which we think will help you in your Homecoming program.

First of all remember that the faculty of the college is not subservient to the student body. We have an excellent situation here; let's keep it. No student, without an undue amount of guts, should assume faculty responsibilities with a blunt "I am going to do —" or "I want —." What would happen if they said "NQ"? They have a perfect right to reject anything a student may say whether it is right or wrong. Use diplomacy, Mac.

Remember too that there are a few traditions we would like to keep, such as introducing the senior members of the football team on pep night. Don't be chasing fish around the wood pile on this count, after all Homecoming generally revolves around a football game. Here, too, is another thing. Some of the faculty have been known for their spirit in the festive event. Call on them; ask them to say a few words.

There is also the feeling that most people attending an institution such as this are to act like normal individuals, not a group of maladjusted, misfitting, devil-may-care characters. Not that everyone should pretend to be somebody he is not or adopt sophistication just because he had the intellectual capacity to attend college, but he should be able to discriminate between good fun and run-of-the-mill stuff.

Take it easy on the college auditorium. It is not a burlesque theatre. It has a formal atmosphere, but you don't have to dig up every dirty joke in the pulp mag-

To the Editor:

I was present at the so-called Homecoming celebration on Friday evening, Nov. 4, 1949. I could see no resemblance to what is my idea of a Homecoming celebration in the entire program, except for the cheerleading, the accidental inclusion of one of the graduates, and one of the skits.

The school pledge song was not played. The music by the school band was not particularly in keeping with the pep fest. The entire program of skits, and with probably one exception, was merely a rather low type of burlesque show rather than a pep fest or Homecoming celebration.

As a graduate who has been or will be asked to contribute to the fieldhouse fund such a celebration left a poor taste in my mouth and I know from discussing the matter with some of the students and other alumni that their reaction was the same. From what I can gather this type of "celebration" was introduced by the older student groups, veterans in particular (I am also a veteran), and has grown in the last two or three years from bad to worse.

Most of the veterans have taken a very serious attitude toward their school work and have an excellent record but it seems that a good many of them have forgotten their community responsibility in a social way to the younger students of the school and young people in the community, because it is these veterans that they look to for their guidance and heroes.

I am not singling out any particular student to direct any of my criticisms. I suspect that they did not ask for any faculty approval but for the sake of the fieldhouse and the feeling of the alumni group toward the institution I hope that future Homecomings will be more in keeping with the meaning of the word.

Sincerely yours,

An Old Grad

azines to impress people that this is your way to get spirit. And don't drag out the program to embarrassing proportions.

If you say you are going to pick the skit winner by popular vote, do so. Have someone at the doors to collect ballots. Don't have a member of the Homecoming committee standing outside the auditorium doors saying, "Well, I guess we can't pick a winner," when no one collects ballots. People sometimes wonder how the winner was picked.

We think that the Homecoming chairman and his committee of 1950 should be impartial to the nomination and election of the queen. It's all right to direct the activities, but let's keep the election of the queen out of the political hands of the committee. There should be an established program of election with an elimination and final election held. This should be part of the unwritten constitution of direction of Homecoming and not up to the discretion of the committee.

There were phases of Homecoming that were good. The football team, even in losing, won the hearts of the fans with their play. The Falconnaires should be given a big chunk of credit. It is a good thing that such an organization is on the campus. Did you ever imagine a record dance for Homecoming?

Committee, it should be remembered that you are acting for the student body. Your actions will be observed by those you associate with. You are a small section of the student body chosen because of your potential organizing ability, you are a representative of the group; but you are not the whole cheese.

Sincerely,

Student Voice Editorial Board

To the Editor:

I, being a representative of a large percentage of the student body, feel that I should put forth a much needed gripe. There is a painful deficiency in furnished entertainment, dances to be exact.

To make the situation more painful, dances have been scheduled and due to lack of efficiency on the part of the organizing committee to procure music for these dances, members of the student body had to provide their own music. We appreciate the Falconnaires very much but perhaps they would like to dance for a change themselves.

We have taken the obvious as the cause. If there is another we would like to know what it is.

Sincerely,

Frustrated

Dear Editor,

Last Friday the various organizations put on skits to help people get into the spirit of Homecoming. The ideas for these skits were very good, but they got to be quite vulgar in the way of jokes told. This only pertains to some of them.

The one that I believe was the worst in this respect was the FFA skit. I have never heard such stories told to a mixed group. Many people there, especially faculty and alumni, didn't like the stories at all.

After this I believe a stricter program should be planned, omitting all vulgarisms. If our parents could have heard such a program, I am sure they would not be proud that we attend such a college that allows such vulgarity.

Name Withheld by Request

Dear Editor:

Dean Rozehnal certainly should be congratulated for the fine program he and the band presented the other evening.

Horace-Scoops

"School's out, school's out, teacher's let the fools out!" It sure is wonderful, though, isn't it, fellow fools?

***

Most of us are still sagging from the effects of Homecoming. Friday and Saturday, November 4 and 5, will be days long remembered. The dance was a huge success, with the attendance made up of students, alumni, faculty, and many outsiders. The Falconnaires were at their best for the occasion.

***

The RFSTC coed was filling out a registration sheet. On the last line was printed "Denominational preference." After hesitating a moment, the coed wrote: "I like to be called Betty."

A great big, beautiful bouquet of orchids to whoever cleaned the drinking fountains last week. It's nice to bend over and take a cool drink of water without staring into a gooey mess of used gum. Those who spit their gum into the fountains should have their noses stuck in the mess. Maybe that would break them of the habit. The method seems to work on puppies.

This problem of smoking appears to be developing into something serious. The rule which allows smoking only in the cafeteria and the North Hall lounge has been broken. In fact, it has been broken many times. It must be realized, however, that in every society there are always some lawbreakers. But on the whole, most RFSTC students are obeying the rule. Last year, because this rule was broken so much, the regular Wednesday night dances were stopped. It's up to us students to obey the rules around here. If we obey the non-smoking rule, we may get back our Wednesday night dances.

Lois Brandt Clymer, formerly an RFS TC student, visited the campus the other day. Most of you remember her from last year as Mrs. Ted Clymer. Husband Ted, who also attended college here, is now doing graduate work at the U. of Minnesota. Lois is taking an evening course in psychology at the university.

"Yeah. That's her little brother."

Thursday night's concert in the auditorium was a brilliant success. The audience thoroughly enjoyed the program. We would like to give those who participated in the entertainment a pat on the back.

Spotlight on Basketball

Nine Veterans Bolster Team

A very promising group of players were on hand to greet Coach George Schlagenhauf at the opening day of practice. Just one player, reserve guard Jack Henneman, is missing from last year's Wisconsin College championship team.

Last year's starting five is intact with Nate DeLong, one of the leading scorers in the nation at center, Newman Benson, veteran forward and brilliant scorer is teamed at forward with Charley Most, an all around dependable teamman. Harry Gibbs and Itch Lindholm handle the guard posts. Harry is one of the best left-hand long shot artists in the game. Itch stars brilliantly when it comes to tipping in rebounds or taking the ball off the backboards.

Bud Fossen, reserve center, will again be out on the court battling Nate DeLong for the center position. Jack Peterson is back again at his guard post. Dale Kannel, Bob Engebritson, and Gordie Seifert are the three forwards who played a lot of first team ball a year ago.

Boots Deiss is out practicing this year after a year's absence from the team. Boots is one of the fastest men on a basketball court and will be a welcome addition to the team if he comes through with scoring power like he showed in his freshman and sophomore years.

Other players likely to be of help are Sam Slaughter, freshman from New Richmond, Roger Kuss, freshman and star center from River Falls high school, and Harley Harkness, veteran forward on last year's "B" team.

Intramural Basketball Faces Rocky Road

By Bob Potosnak

The intramural program for the Winter term will soon be in full swing. Basketball will as usual be the main sport as it provides the most interest and recreation for a majority of the students.

Three Benefit Games Carded

Coach Schlagenhauf had previously announced a 23 game basketball schedule but since that time there has been two games added to the schedule. These two games will open the home season.

Saturday evening, Nov. 26, Newberg Studios of Minneapolis will be here for their second appearance in two years. Last year the Falcons topped them 80 to 69 with Nate DeLong leading the way as the giant scoring ace ripped the nets for a 42-point total.

Newberg Studio is made up of former Minnesota Gopher stars. Jim McIntyre, Lefty Gilleland, Ed Kernan, and Lewie Brewster form the core of this year's team.

Thursday, Dec. 1, the Falcons will take on Augsburg at the latter's home court. Two nights later they will be home to play host to the Oskeys, another fine team from the Twin Cities.

Don't forget the inter-squad game tomorrow night. Come out and see one of the greatest teams in action. Admission will be charged for all three games.

Nate DeLong received honorable mention on Chuck Taylor's All-American basketball team for last year.

Studelska, Eystad, Wisdom to Captain Falcons Next Year

At a meeting of the football squad, Tuesday, Nov. 8, "Nibs" Studelska, junior from Wells, Minn., Al Eystad, sophomore from Chippewa Falls, and Bill Wisdom, junior from Madison, were chosen co-captains for the 1950 football season.

Tom Linehan, sophomore from River Falls was voted the most valuable player on the Falcon squad this year.

At this same meeting the squad chose an "all opponent" team which consists of the outstanding players from all teams in the conference. The selections are as follows:

Ade Washburn of Eau Claire and Leo Butts of Platteville at ends; John Knispel of La Crosse and Scott Soper of Superior at tackles; Jim Ooley of Stout and Jim Strein of Whitewater at guards; Claude Kaczmarek of La Crosse at center; Dick Wainwright of Platteville at quarterback; Owen Evans of La Crosse and Dom Moselle of Superior at halfbacks; and Earl Perkins of Eau Claire at fullback.

Nate Needs 158 Points

Nate DeLong is eligible for a full season of play this year.

Nate, who has scored 2,041 points in 86 games, is almost a dead cinch to break the National Collegiate scoring record of 2,199 points.

The big center has played three and one-half years of college ball and it was thought he would use up his eligibility after one semester.

However, the Wisconsin Teachers conference ruled that DeLong's one semester in 1943 did not count.

No All-Conference Team

Coach George Schlagenhauf returned from a coaches meeting at St. Paul and announced that an all-conference football team was not selected this year.

Dates for the Wisconsin State Teachers conference and the Minnesota - Wisconsin Teachers conference track, golf, and tennis meets were set. The Wisconsin conference meet will be held at La Crosse on May 20 and the Minnesota-Wisconsin conference meet at Winona on May 13.

Conference football schedules were drawn up for next year. The Falcons will meet Milwaukee, Stevens Point, and the teams comprising the northern half of the conference.

NEHER'S JEWELRY

Sports Reel by Olie

I am sure we have all recovered from a very good Homecoming and have pushed football into the far corners of our minds. Taking the place of football, as the center of attraction, are term tests, deer hunting, and the basketball prospects.

Back in these far corners there is still the question of Pat Christie's eligibility. The whole thing is based on these points, competition and the term "legal residence." This leads to the main question, who is to decide his eligibility.

The Wisconsin State Teachers Conference has a committee of ten men for this purpose. The chairman of the athletic board of each school is the representative on the committee, with Dr. Karges being our representative.

All members of this committee have the power of review, but three members are chosen as an executive board to hand down immediate decisions on such cases as this. The committee meets twice a year, Spring and Fall, thus the decision on Pat will probably not be decided until next Spring.

Conference eligibility rules should be enforced to the letter if a conference as large as this is to continue successfully.

This incident of Pat has brought to light other questions of eligibility within the conference and next Spring's committee meeting should prove interesting and should be a good means of testing the strength and attitude of the committee, which has to be the backbone of the conference.

Last Friday the coaches of the conference met to discuss many points and to pick an all-conference team. The team is chosen as follows: An all opponent team is chosen by each team in the conference. The names are listed as to position and the coaches vote, naming their choices for each position and ranking them as first, second, third, and fourth choice. The votes are added and the one receiving the highest is named all-conference at that position.

I believe this method could be improved a bit. The coaches vote is all right, but it is a prejudiced vote and in my opinion naming an all-conference player should not be left up to the coaches alone. Why not give each player one vote for every time he is named on an all-opponent team and add this to the coaches vote. This way it would be a split between the coach and the guys who played against each other.

25 Squad Men Get Letters

Assistant Coach Kolberg announced the names of the "R" winners for the 1949 football season. They are as follows:

Seniors: Gene Cardinal, Nate DeLong, Arnie Feiler and Jerry Siverling.

Juniors: Bud Fossen, Art Jev-ert, Jim Kosec, "Nibs" Studelska, Bill Wisdom and Joe Lynch.

Sophomores: Dick Alexander, Al Eystad, Harley Harkness, Tom Linehan, Charlie Pace, Jack Schuman, Jack Shield, Pat Christie and Chesty McJilton, manager.

Mrs. Brew Host to WAA

Mrs. Brew, faculty adviser to the W.A.A., held a dinner for the members Monday, Oct. 31.

At the business meeting Alice Grubb was elected the new secretary-treasurer. June Clark and Helen Harrison were elected heads of volley ball and basketball.

Grades and Grading Discussed at Meeting

The Collge Campus School P.T.A. held its regular monthly meeting Tuesday, Nov. 15 at eight p. m. in North Hall Auditorium.

The Junior High School Chorus under the direction of Nicholas Jadinak opened the meeting. Following the chorus there was a panel discussion on the subject "The Reporting System." The panel was made up of three teachers, Miss Opal Knox, Miss Ann Dubbe, Miss Phyliss Simon; three parents, Mr. C. J. Morgan, Dr. John S. Anderson, Attorney William E. McEwen; Attorney C. B. Carisch, Moderator.

The panel discussed the reporting system used in grading children attending the College School. Many parents are interested in knowing how a child is marked in his school activities and the purpose of the panel was to discuss the various considerations involved.

Other business included report of the School Lunch Committee, Mrs. Francis Chisholm, chairman, and Safety Committee, O. W. Sjowall, chairman. Refreshments were served by the sixth grade mothers.

Four Display Paintings Only Sampling of Work

The four paintings displayed on the bulletin board just outside the art room are only a small sampling of the talent on exhibit.

Louis Kollmeyer, instructor in art, has exhibited in the art room a large display of opaque and pastel water colors done by his introduction to art class. They were painted from sketches made early this Fall in the technique of an oil painting.

Also on display is a group of glazed pottery pieces made in the applied design class.

La Crosse and Stevens Point finished in a first place tie for the conference championship with five wins and one loss. The Falcons finished in ninth place.

Shortage of Teachers Continues Says ECP

The shortage of teachers continues to be acute; it would be even greater than it is if the size of classes had not been increased in many communities.

About one and a half million children are suffering seriously impaired educational opportunity as a direct result of the teacher shortage. An additional 500,000 children have less than full-time schooling because of the building shortage.

In brief, the educational crisis that was predicted by responsible educational leaders as much as ten years ago and that has been growing all through the years of the depression and war, is now full upon us.

The supply of teachers is inadequate; the buildings are not available; the school population is rapidly increasing, particularly in the elementary grades. Only the most heroic efforts will meet the situation.

In the light of this analysis, the Educational Policies Commission makes the following recommendations:

State and local education authorities — school boards and school administrators — should make careful surveys of their respective jurisdictions in order to determine their present shortages in school buildings and personnel and to forecast future needs.

College Choral Groups To Present Program

The Christmas Festival which is presented annually by the choral groups at the College will be given twice this year. The first performance will be a Sunday matinee, Dec. 18, at three o'clock. The second will follow on Monday night, Dec. 19.

This Christmas Festival has become a popular tradition at the college and a repeat performance has become necessary because of over-flow audiences in the past years. There is no admission charge but an offering is taken to help defray the expenses of the A Cappella Choir in its Spring tour.

Over 150 persons will participate in this year's Festival including the 60-voice A Cappella Choir, the newly formed mixed-chorus of 75 voices and a group of children from the training school.
