Elaborate Plans Are Made for Annual Class Day Exercises

Viking Setting Is Feature of Picturesque 1931 Event

The annual class day exercises will be held on the South Campus next Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. This is the first activity at which the graduating groups will appear in commencement apparel.

The group, led by the college band, will march from North Hall to the South Campus where the exercises are to be held. A stage set in a Viking background will be erected for the occasion.

Elmer Beran will be the master of ceremonies. The program will consist of the following numbers: band music, greetings from the master of ceremonies, class histories, Viking dances by a group of girls under the direction of Miss Branstad, presentation of the awards, quartet and solo selections, and the presentation of the traditional ox yoke to the junior class.

William Turner, who is in charge of the class day exercises, reports that the various committees are rapidly terminating their assigned tasks. It is expected that the final preparations will be complete by the end of the week.

Mechanics Building Nearly Complete

Mechanics students will be housed in new quarters when they return to college next fall. The new building is now having the final touches put on it.

New machinery and furnishings will be installed during the summer. Some of the old equipment will also be used.

Graduates Requested to Attend Practice

The graduating groups will practice marching immediately after the special assembly on Thursday afternoon. As this is the only practice, Miss Hathorn urges that every graduate be there.

The marching line will be in the following order: chorus, faculty, degree students, two year group and rural students.

Local Graduate Secures Supervision Position

The St. Paul Dispatch on Monday evening carried an article several inches in length on the appointment of Mrs. Ellen Carlson as supervising teacher in Polk county. The article was listed as a special item from Lewis, Wisconsin.

Mrs. Carlson has been very active in a large number school activities during her career here this year. She handled the literary department of the Student Voice in a high class manner. The Voice staff wishes her a great deal of success in her new capacity.

Y. M. C. A. Holds Its Final Meeting at Church

In a short impressive service the activities of the Y. M. C. A. were drawn to a close at the final meeting held at the Congregational church last Sunday.

The program was in charge of the two outgoing presidents, Leonard Madison and Arno Dittbrenner and Mr. Jacobson. In a brief discussion, Mr. Jacobson outlined some of the new activities which the Y. M. C. A. might enter into next year. The new cabinet members selected the various fields of activities in which they were interested. Final arrangements were also made for this group to meet the first Sunday before the opening of the school year.

Dr. Price, Minnesota, to Speak Wednesday

Dr. R. R. Price, head of the Extension Division of the University of Minnesota, will give the commencement address in the College Auditorium on Wednesday morning at ten o'clock.

Dr. Price has spent the past year traveling in Europe. He has had a broad experience as a public speaker and is known extensively throughout the northwest.

Staff Receive Matrix Awards at Club Meet

Pres. Ames Speaks Words of Praise to Group

Awards were presented, speeches were given and final business was transacted as thirty-two people, all members of the college Press Club, gathered for their final social activity at the college, a six o'clock banquet. The dinner was served in the college cafeteria.

The group included all the people who had taken part in the Voice work during the year. According to group opinion, it was a fitting climax to a year that witnessed a fine co-operative working group issuing the college publication.

Arno Dittbrenner, associate editor, acted as toastmaster. He called on Irvin Haug to open the program with an accordion solo. The two advisors, Miss Barr and Mr. Eide spoke on the splendid spirit and work that had characterized the activities of the staff. Pres. Ames, also, gave a speech of commendation.

The matrix keys were presented by Leonard Warner. In making the awards, he spoke of the splendid work of each of the members receiving the emblem. The following people received the journalism keys: George Strand, Mrs. Ellen Carlson, Adele Deans, Ethel Haga, Rachel Beard, Arno Dittbrenner, Albert Hanneman, Orvis Olson, Richard Hemp, Seward Neilson, James Derringer, Royal Anderson, Donald Parish, Walter Beebe and Vivian Lee.

Miss Barr was presented with a beaded purse as a token of the staff's appreciation of her splendid work.

Avery Ames, '26 Will Be Wed Here Soon

An announcement was made this week of the coming marriage of Miss Avery H. Ames, '26, daughter of Pres. and Mrs. Ames to Wallace W. Brookings, Prof. of Agriculture in the Oklahoma College.

The wedding will take place at the Congregational church on June 11 at 6:30 P. M. The brother of the bride, Carleton C. Ames will be the best man. The bridesmaids will be Miss Lorain Nelson of this city and the bride's sister, Ruth Ames.

The wedding will be followed by a reception in the college social room. The bride and groom will reside at Glenwood, Oklahoma after Sept. 1.

Students, Profs Plan to Attend Summer Sessions

Walter Klanderma and Albert Hanneman are planning on attending the second summer school session at Iowa State College. The boys plan on taking work in agriculture and journalism.

Prof. R. E. Spriggs will take a mechanics course at the same school. Prof. Prucha will attend the second summer school session at Minnesota.

Graduating Time

The graduates are going forth—
God bless them every one!
To run this hard and stubborn world
Just as it should be run;
But much I fear they'll find that facts
Don't always track with dreams;
And running this old earth is not
As easy as it seems.

As seniors we are prone to think
Our wisdom is complete.
We've but to ask—the world will lay
Its trophies at our feet.
But schooldays done and work begun
We learn to our regret
The College of Experiment
We have not mastered yet.
This is the rule of life to-day,

As it has ever been;
The world bestows its smiles on those
Who have the strength to win.
Beneath all outward semblances
It looks for merit true.
It little cares how much you know,
But asks, what can you do?

When you have left your college halls
You're barely at the start,
For Wisdom's heights is infinite
And long the ways of Art.
You'll find that in the school of life
Acts count for more than dreams;
And running this old earth is not
As easy as it seems.—Selected

Many Seniors Initiate Caps and Gowns at Luncheon

Caps and gowns were initiated by thirty-five seniors for the first time at an informal luncheon yesterday.

This luncheon was given by Mr. and Mrs. Eide in the Social Room. Miss Hathorn and Pres. Ames were the faculty members present.

Senior Class Play Opens Week of Commencement Activities

Minneapolis Pastor To Address Seniors

Rev. J. A. O. Stub of the Central Lutheran church of Minneapolis will deliver the baccalaureate sermon on next Sunday evening at eight o'clock. Students and friends of the graduating groups are invited to attend.

According to local reports, Rev. Stub is a very brilliant speaker. For a number of years he was student pastor at Minnesota University.

Alumni to Hold Banquet at the Masonic Hall

Alumni Ball in North Hall After the Banquet

Graduating students and alumni will gather at the Masonic Temple for a 6 o'clock banquet on Tuesday, June 9th. From early indications a record crowd will be present for the occasion.

The banquet will be served by the Eastern Star ladies. The Masonic Temple doors will be open in the early afternoon to all visitors.

Donald Olson, '28, will act as toastmaster. The following program will be given:

Welcome ----- Glenn P. Junkman
Response (2 yr.) Margaret Hellweg
Response (4 yr.) ----- Clair Bartosh
Violin Solo ----- Thomas Runkle
Remarks ----- Regent J. H. Grimm
Vocal Solo ----- Mrs. Chalmers Davee
Remarks ----- Pres. J. H. Ames
Prof. Schliep and an orchestra of five pieces will furnish music during the banquet.

After the banquet the group will adjourn to North Hall to attend the alumni ball. All graduating students and alumni are invited and urged to attend the final social activity of the school year.

All purchasers of banquet tickets will receive passes to the ball. The cost of both events will be one dollar. Tickets may be purchased at the main office, at the Weld Book and Art Shop or at the door on the night of the banquet.

All the graduates from the degree courses and two year group have been asked to join the organization. The classes will be seated in groups at the banquet tables.

Eide Returns from California

Prof. R. B. Eide returned to River Falls Thursday after spending the winter in sunny California. He attended the Press Club banquet on Monday evening.

Margaret Hellweg to Have Leading Role in Play

The Senior class play, "Fannie and the Servant Problem," will be presented in the college auditorium on Monday evening, June 8, at eight o'clock.

The play is a story of a young lord who marries an actress without telling her who he is. He brings her back to his home, Bantock Hall. When she arrives, she discovers that the twenty servants, the Bennet family, are all her near relatives. They have always disapproved of Fannie because she was a chorus girl, and they are a very religious family. They try to make her over into a perfect Lady Bantock, but----!

Miss Schlosser has chosen a very competent cast to produce this serio-comic play. They are as follows:

Fannie ----- Margaret Hellweg
Vernon Wetherell, Lord Bantock ---
(her husband) ----- Clair Bartosh
Martin Bennett ----- Elmer Beran
(her butler)
Susannah Bennet ----- Ellen Carlson
(her housekeeper)
Jane Bennett ----- Luella Hermanson
(her maid)

Ernest Bennett ----- Laurence Larson
(her second footman)

Honoraria Bennett ----- Evelyn Rhiel
(her Still-room maid)

Misses Wetherell ----- Margaret Fox
Rochelle Farrell

Dr. Freemantle ----- John Lloyd
(her local medical man)

George P. Newte -- Leonard Madison
(her former business manager)

Special Assembly Scheduled Thursday

A special assembly will be called at 3:30 on Thursday. The baseball letters, tennis awards and other presentations will be made at that time.

There will be several important announcements made at this time. The committee in charge have high hopes of having a surprise number for the closing meeting.

Seniors to Breakfast at Park Monday Morning

An eight-thirty breakfast at the park on Monday morning for the cap and gown people will be a new feature of the 1931 commencement. It is expected that more than forty people will attend the event.

Juniors May Check Their Credits

Mr. Prucha announces that he has the clearance sheets ready for next year's seniors. Students who wish to may check their credits before going home for vacation.

Marketing School Plans Are Made by Committee

A cooperative marketing school for the farmers, agricultural teachers, and extension men in this community will be held in the college auditorium next fall. These meetings are to be held once a week on Tuesday evenings.

It is the desire of the promoters of this night school to secure such men as Dean Coffey from Minnesota, Dean Christenson and Froker from Wisconsin, Brandt and McGuire from the Land O' Lakes and other cooperative experts to address the meetings. Local talent will also be used.

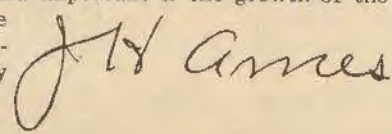

Prof. May, Spriggs and Campbell attended a group meeting recently to formulate plans for this session.

President's Parting Message

A year is something more than a unit of the calendar. A college year is a period in the growth of the institution; it represents a year of development in the individual student. An evaluation of the achievements of the year may be made in a general way for the college. More significant would be a portrayal of the growth of individual students.

I believe as we survey the school year of 1930 - 1931 from the vantage point of its closing week, we may take modest satisfaction in the achievements of the year. Campus activities devoted to the social and spiritual life of the student body have been characterized by vigor and strength. In forensics, athletics and other competitive activities, River Falls has ranked high. It is the staff that the year has been characterized by earnest effort in the class-room. While we may find it impossible to measure intellectual and moral growth of individual students, I am certain that the present year has been marked by such a fine co-operative spirit among students and faculty and by such a fine cooperative effort as has stimulated the moral and intellectual growth of each student of the college.

The development of the college may be represented by the expansion of its physical plant, improvement in buildings and equipment. Much more significant and important is the growth of the institution as represented in the lives and characters of the individuals who make up its faculty and student body.

City is One of Brightness as Students Prepare for Exams

He who burneth the midnight oil to good advantage this week need not next week. If you flunk, "shake not thy gory locks at me, for thou canst say I did."

River Falls might well be called the "City of Brightness" during this campaign of cramming. (Brightness having no reference to students). A dark window is an object of curiosity in these frightful nights. Either the occupants are dead or are sure of flunking, for no midnight strollers remain to be seen.

Midnight--and lights are bright; noon-- and the halls are vacant. Gossip and romances are pitifully neglected for the much more necessary if not useful, subject of dying attempts to "right" the wrong committed during the twelve weeks. Afternoon--- and no groups can be seen lying on the campus. Are our college students trying to leave good impressions with the Profs before going homeward for the much desired vacation?

Woe to the non-studious man who suffers a studious room-mate. His nights are nightmares and his days are worse. Necessity or association almost force him to take a final fling in pursuance for a good cause. A great deal of shoe leather is saved in this period of hard times, also a few pair of rubber heels. Faculty members, do you look for the studious boys in the same method the fellows in Lynwood Hall do? In the "Stoutonia" it states that "these students claim that the studious ones' pants are shiny from sitting so much." If you judge the boys in such a crude manner, how do you judge the studious girls?

And all this agony and suffering is brought on by the thoughts which that poor offensive word, "finals", brings. For most of us it is final in many respects, and for some the word seems to bring forth a different meaning than it usually means at this time of the school year.

It's a wise man who burns his own midnight oil and not that of his lady friend. "Remember two flunks are twice as worse as one flunk." "We don't want any encores in my class".

"Study, and the world studies with you, loaf and you loaf alone." A word to the wise---burn your own.

Vacation with the Faculty

Mr. Junkman plans to take a trip into Canada after the summer session is over.

Miss Wharton and her sister will probably tour after the summer session. They may go to Boston in August or tour through northern Minnesota and Wisconsin.

Miss Branstad will spend the time between the close of the term and the summer session and a couple of weeks after the summer session at her home.

Miss Hathorn will probably go for a trip after summer school.

Mr. Harrington will attend summer school at Iowa University. He will start as soon as school is over here. He plans to stop on the way at his home at Graettinger, Iowa.

Miss Barr will visit at the home of her cousin, Mrs. Gilbert, in Minneapolis, and will probably take a motor trip through Minnesota.

Miss Jorstad will attend summer school at the Minnesota University.

Miss Weberg will teach during the summer session; then she will go to Illinois to visit her brother.

Miss Gibson plans to take a trip by car in the north woods after the summer school.

Mr. Hill plans to spend part of the time after summer school in River Falls and part in the Southwest.

After summer school, Miss Schlosser will go to New York. She will spend most of her time at Greenwich, near Albany, in the Lake George region.

Miss Haddow will spend part of the time in a cottage on Lake St. Croix.

Mr. and Mrs. Eide plan to attend summer school.

Miss Latta will spend her vacation in New Mexico and Arizona. She will probably go into California and possibly into Mexico. Miss Latta is going particularly to see the Indian excavations and ruins in that region.

Mr. Mallot plans to make his headquarters at River Falls. After summer school, they will take some trips through northern Wisconsin, probably visiting Copper Falls, Ashland, and other places.

Miss Alberta Greene, head of the Art Department, has planned a summer which anyone might envy. She left this week for Provincetown, Massachusetts, on the point of Cape Cod as far out into the Atlantic Ocean as possible. Her trip took her by way of Chicago, Detroit and Boston.

Miss Greene will be painting landscapes in oil paints at a painting colony there for one month. Beginning July first she will be enrolled for the Summer Session at Columbia University.

The Journey's End

The journey's end. In the college newspaper field that is what this issue marks for us. Thirty times we have passed over the publication day.

However, the newspaper business has not been all a mass of sorrow. Each week on Tuesday we have had the pleasure of seeing something creative, a page just a bit different than any published before.

Another element we have enjoyed throughout the entire year is the fine cooperation of the faculty and the various organizations in the college. Nearly every one of these groups have been exceedingly prompt in getting their news to us.

It has been the policy of the staff this year to publish an unbiased, square-shooting newspaper. We have tried to give every collegian organization a reasonable amount of publicity.

Before we lay aside our pen we wish to thank the student organizations in this institution for the fine cooperation they have given us.

Tickle Your Intellectual Pate With These

Where can a man buy a cap for his knee, or a key for the lock of his hair?

Can his eyes be called an academy because there are pupils there?

In the crown of your head, what jewels are found?

Can you sharpen your shoulder blade?

Can you sit in the shade of the palm of your hand?

Writer's Cramps, Brain Racking Are Prevalent Now

"Say, there, will you sign your 'John Henry' in my Meletean?"

"Sh! Here comes the librarian. I'll write in your annual, and she'll think we are busy."

Thursday, May 28, marked the "coming-out" party of the River Falls State Teachers College annual. Miss Meletean's debut was hailed with joyous acclamations by an enthusiastic and curious student-body. This was evidenced by the stampede to the third floor of South Hall after assembly. Very few students accomplished any work the rest of the day, for the annual held its place as the most popular book on the campus. The patience of the librarians was rather sorely tried, but they showed good sportsmanship and let the students have their day. It was impossible to prohibit the annual from the library, and useless to ask the pupils to study. The freshman soon got the "old school spirit" and began aspiring to high places. To obtain the signature of the entire college personnel seems to be their aim. Oh, but the freshman aren't the only guilty ones.

The issuance of the annual is a much looked-forward to event at school. The Meletean staff worked steadily for many months, but their labors have not been in vain; for the results are highly satisfactory. The 1931 Meletean is larger than last year's annual. It has several other distinctive features that set it off from its predecessors.

Hot Competition in Fishing Contest Reporter Discovers

The annual fishing contest continues to hold its popularity even in these hot days of endurance feats. It has been one of the most interesting contests of the community.

This week end one of the liveliest contests of its kind will be opened in one of the local hardware stores. The list of contestants from the town and surrounding country is mounting fast. Keen competition promises to bring in fish hitherto unsuspected in this region.

Great preparations are being made by the contestants, themselves. They have practiced their casting abilities in the back yard. They have oiled their reels, replaced the old lines, and added hooks of various kinds to their fishing tackle.

In addition the lakes have been well spotted, boats and cottages have been rented, and plenty of big fish have been prayed for. The fish will have no more rest for a while.

Betting on the winners of the contest have exceeded all previous indications. Various prizes are being given to the one catching the largest fish so competition will be great.

It has been rumored that an "outsider" may enter the lists late in the season. If this should be "Ole" Clafin, there is little doubt that a complete upset may be expected.

Poets' Corner

Our boats will soon be launched again
 Out on another shore.
 Where we will buffet the breakers
 Just as we've done before.

On what kind of boat are you sailing
 Students and fellow friends;
 Will your vessel be any stronger
 When your sojourn at school ends?

You've weathered tide and tempest
 At dear old River Falls
 Are you anxious to sail on farther
 Where your personal desire calls?

Are there any regrets you are leaving
 Here on our college shore
 Or are you glad you're going
 Perhaps to return nevermore?

Remember, on life's high seas
 When you're many miles away,
 That the dear old Alma Mater
 Will welcome you back any day.
 E. P.

Music Department Entertains Students in Final Assembly

At assembly last Thursday, the final meeting of the year, the program was presented by the music department with Mr. Geere in charge.

The Woman's chorus, composed of local women, rendered the following selections under the direction of Miss Wharton: "Greeting to Spring" by Strauss, "Chit Chat" by Moffat, and "The Lost Chord" by Sullivan. Phyllis Petrie was the accompanist.

A girls' quartette composed of Margaret Kelly, Dorothy Swenson, Arlene Finstad, and Gretchen Grimm sang the following selections: "Kiss Me Again", "Don' Yo' Cry My Honey" and "Mighty Like a Rose".

Christi Njos played a piano solo, "Liebestraume" by Liszt. The college chorus under the direction of Mr. Geere rendered the following numbers with Byron Holtz as accompanist: "O Lord! Send the Fire", "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot", "Roll, Jordan, Roll" and "Old Uncle Ned".

"I went to an organ recital yesterday and sure did enjoy it."

"Who played?"

"Nobody, it was my professor's appendicitis lecture."

They Served Us Well

The end of this week will mark the closing of one of River Falls State Teachers College's most successful years. We have improved in every department making our college one of the outstanding in the state.

Over each improvement there must however be one which is outstanding. The honor for this year, from the student's point of view, perhaps goes to the social committee. Miss Hathorn and her staff cannot be congratulated too highly. They have done a piece of work of which they should feel proud and one which the students appreciate incommensurably.

Tommies Hand Baseball Team Initial Defeat

Freshman Hurler Limits the Locals to Five Hits

The St. Thomas baseball team became the only college outfit to defeat River Falls this season when they drove out a 7-3 win last Friday on their home field.

Mike Langner, St. Thomas freshman, was in good form on the mound giving our team five hits. His mates got only ten hits off the delivery of Ole Claflin, but they were well bunched and gave them seven runs.

Neither team scored until the third inning when River Falls pushed over one run. St. Thomas came back in their half of the fourth with five runs to take the lead which they did not lose. River Falls made another attempt in the eighth inning when they scored two runs, but any more scores were cut off.

Leo Krueger was the batting star for River Falls. Credited with three trips to the plate, Leo banged out three hits; a triple, a double, and a single. Krueg also scored two runs.

Baseball Men to Get R's at Final Assembly

For the first time in a number of years the baseball boys will be awarded R's. The presentation of the awards is to be made in assembly on Thursday.

Although the athletic council has not made any definite rule regarding the requirements for a letter, it is expected that a player must have twenty-seven innings of competition or pitch at least one complete game.

Only two regulars from the 1930 baseball team will be lost through graduation. They are Oliver King, catcher, and Clarence Alfonse, short-stop.

When Coach Klandrud issues his call for veterans in the spring of 1932, he should have a response from a group of veterans. Members of the team are looking forward to a banner season.

Grid Prospects Are Good for 1931 If Squad All Returns

According to the football experts who watched the spring football practices, the prospects look bright for next season with twelve lettermen coming back and many promising freshmen looking for berths on the squad. The lettermen coming back are Gerhart, Claflin, Kingston, Junchen, Morrow, Helixon, LaDusire, Zeddies, Woodward, Haberman, Dawson, and Warwick.

The men showing exceptional promise in spring football were McChestney, Graeton, and McDermot, ends; Panzenhagen, Graham, and Juedts at tackle; Voskuil, Bergeman at guard; Thompson, center; McPherson, quarter; and Oltman, Hagestad, Nolde and Peterson in the backfield.

An unusually heavy line is in prospect for next year with five of the linemen ranking close to the 200 lb. mark. The guard position will be one of the few positions in the line which will be open.

The backfield while having lost the most lettermen shows much promise with many men competing with the veterans for the backfield berths.

An interesting schedule is being arranged by the athletic department.

Webstonians Win Out In Kittenball Finals

In the championship kittenball game held on the South Campus on Wednesday evening, the Webstonians trounced the Krueger gang 11-6. Heavy hitting was the feature of the contest.

The game marked the climax of a series of games that made up the major intra-mural activity during the spring weeks.

So They Say---

By David Johnston

Well, readers, this is the last issue of the paper for this year. Any way you look at it this has been the best year that the Voice has had for a long time. We have tried to give you a sport page which would measure up to the standards set by the writers of the other pages. It is hoped that, in your opinion, we have partially succeeded in doing so. If something has been said which made some of you kind of red-hot under the collar, we are sorry; if some of you have liked our stuff, we are glad.

Maybe, as a swan-song, we should do some prophesying about the way River Falls athletic teams will conduct themselves next year. Along this line we feel something like the toothless guest at a peanut brittle party---not much that can be done or said. However, it can safely be said that any team representing River Falls next year will conduct itself creditably against any opposition.

This column wishes to take this opportunity to congratulate the baseball squad and Coach Klandrud upon the splendid record which they have made this season. The team went through aschedule of fourteen games. The record shows eleven wins and three loses. Of the eight college games played, River Falls was victorious in seven straight contests, losing the last game to St. Thomas.

This fine record can be partially attributed to the fine turnout of material at the call for baseball candidates. This year's squad was larger than it has ever been before. One reason for this interest is the heavy schedule arranged by Mr. Klandrud. Baseball is a game which requires plenty of games to keep up the interest. River Falls baseball fans cannot say things about the schedule just completed.

Oliver King drove to Deer Park Sunday. He helped the "Deers" score a 12-2 win over Amery.

Sport Writer Gives Review of Season for Baseball Fans

Perhaps some readers might enjoy reading a short summary of the baseball season which closed last Friday afternoon when St. Thomas defeated River Falls. With this thought in mind a short synopsis of the games played during the season will be presented.

The season opened with a double-header, the opposition being an amateur team from St. Paul. River Falls won the first game, but dropped the second 4 to 3. All the members of the squad saw action during these games.

The baseball team from the railroad shops in Hudson furnished the opposition in the next game. They featured Lefty Oldenwald, former major league pitcher. However, the boys managed to win out in the last few innings.

Concordia College sent a baseball team down here for the fourth game of the season. River Falls easily triumphed over them. The score was 14 to 1. Ole Claflin did the pitching for River Falls.

Hudson again brought a team down. This time they managed to get a lead and keep it throughout the game. Lefty Oldenwald was just a little too good for the River Falls boys.

The second college game was played with Eau Claire on their field. Ole Claflin did a fine piece of hurling to give the team their second college victory. Ollie King and Clarence Alfonse each got two hits for River Falls. The score at the end of the ninth inning was 5 to 0.

River Falls journeyed to Stout for the next college game. The team went on a hitting spree, winning by the score of 20 to 8. Ray Helixon cracked out five homeruns in five trips to the plate. Vern Woodward did the pitching for River Falls. Alfonse and Kotleski also garnered three hits each.

A game was played with the company of Ft. Snelling soldiers who were encamped next to the baseball field next. Vern Woodward was on the mound for River Falls. Vern's support was terrible, but the playing of the soldiers was somewhat worse. The score at the end of seven innings was 19 to 6 in our favor.

Seeking their eighth college victory, River Falls journeyed to St. Thomas for the last game of the season. The heavy hitters of our team did not come through. The game ended with the score 7 to 3 in favor of St. Thomas. This game marked the first reverse for Ole Claflin.

The next game was with EauClaire on our own diamond. The River Falls batters had an off day, getting only seven hits and five runs. However, EauClaire was unable to get more than three hits off the hurling of Claflin. They scored two runs. This was the fifth successive win for River Falls.

Stout came next to River Falls for a return game. Kotleski, Larson, Helixon and King jumped on the Stout pitcher for fourteen hits. Helixon also hit his fifth homerun of the season. Claflin again was on the mound, giving only five hits. The score was 12 to 0.

Concordia was again defeated, this time on their own field. Claflin drew the hurling assignment, and once again proved effective. This game was his fifth straight victory.

The day following the Stout game River Falls took on the strong St. Thomas college team. With some fine pitching by Ole Claflin, and another homerun by Ray Helixon, the Cardinals won 15 to 11. Ollie King again made three hits in four trips to the plate.

College Briefs

Members of the Ag Education class journeyed to New Richmond and Roberts Friday and visited the Smith-Hughes departments there. At New Richmond Mr. Madden talked to the group on "The Problems of the Agricultural Teacher."

Mr. May and Leonard Madison furnished transportation for the group.

The college geology class took a field trip Friday to the fault line located near the Prescott-Hudson road. This was the final trip the class will take this year. Two trips per week have been taken by the group during the last few weeks.

Harold Benson visited at the college on Tuesday of last week. Harold intends to be back here for summer school.

Earle Sanford returned to school Thursday after a week's absence caused by the death of his father.

Leonard Warner who has accepted the position as Smith-Hughes instructor at the Roberts High School spent Thursday morning in checking over and ordering new equipment for his department.

Carl Amundson, A. C. Amundson, and Harold Segerstrom left early Tuesday morning for Glacier National Park where they will be employed during the summer months.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams are expected back from Iowa today. Mr. Williams, who has been working for his Ph. D. degree at Ames the past year, will teach during summer school. They will reside in the Manion residence.

Several members of the baseball squad, under the direction of Harry Roesse, will leave Saturday on a barnstorming trip through South Dakota. The boys will play at Watertown on Sunday, June 7.

Forensic Body Eats, Elects Officers at Final Picnic Party

Music, stunts, and eats featured the last meeting of the Forensic Forum which was held at the lodge.

After having whetted their appetites in a variety of stunts, the thirty members retired to the lodge where they did full justice to the banquet which had been prepared under the direction of Jean McIntyre.

A spirited election was held around the fireplace where the following officers were elected; Horace Merrill, president, Lucile Garley, vice-president, Morris Buske, secretary, and Raymond Penn, treasurer. The feature of the election was the tie vote between Evelyn Vola and Raymond Penn.

A short program following the election included readings by Evelyn Vola and Jean McIntyre, music by Maryin Pratt, and talks by Bill Hawkins, Morris Buske, and Mr. Harrington.

The Spotlight

Illuminating the Higher Things in Life

Within a few more days another school year will bid its adieu. To some it will mark the closing of a very successful year, to others----? One group to whom it will mean, not only success, but much happiness, is the Press Club. The Voice, according to those who should know, has just closed its most successful season.

However, the Voice could not be a success without the help and encouragement of our faculty, our student body and the business men of this city. All of these mean much to us and since it has been given so generously, could the club help but succeed? Your kindness and cooperation is appreciated.

Our helpful hint on studying for this week isn't very helpful. We recommend--not very much studying. It should have been done before this. All erammers please hold your pop bottles.

Perhaps this is a dirty trick to be forever on somebody's neck. But after thinking it over, isn't it to be regretted that some people have walked off with books which belong to our library. The type of people who usually take books do not use them, but make those suffer who do and would use them to best advantage.

Have you enjoyed River Falls and its college this year? Certainly you have, or should have if you didn't. Remember, our college sends out literature to all seniors who are graduating from high schools around here. That alone is not enough. A little encouragement from you would help very much in helping them decide that River Falls is the place to come.

River Falls Teachers college is the supporter of many extra curricular activities. Each and every one has enjoyed success this season. Next year many of us will be back and also, there will be many new students. Let us make it our business now to plan on joining one or two of them and thereby interest those who will be new to this college. Success cannot help but follow.

And now, the Spotlight illuminates no more.

Since you cannot guard your neighbor's tongue, put a check on it by guarding what you put into his ears.

Summer School Program to Bring Educators Here

Special courses for teachers and advanced courses in the major departments will feature the variety of work offered at the River Falls State Teachers College 1931 Summer Session which gets under way with registration day set for Monday, June 22.

Not only will this year's summer session have an enlarged number of courses, but will also be featured by prominent men and musical organizations presenting speeches and entertainment plus various excursion trips to points of interest in this section.

The opening speaker will be H. S. Diehl, head of Student Health Service at the University of Minnesota. He will speak on the subject of health. Other prominent speakers throughout the term will be J. B. Rockwell on Psychology, Robert Lohrie, J. F. Waddell, E. J. Doudna and W. H. Hunt. The best of music entertainment will be furnished with the appearances of Wright-Fuston Vocal Duet, Schurer-Williams violin-harp duet, Minneapolis Community Quartette and college music department.

During the absence of professors Greene, Karges, and Vogele professors Reid, Keys and McMullin will substitute. A well known coach will give coaching courses and direct physical education.

Nearly every course given during regular school year will be offered which includes many courses in our major departments such as education, chemistry, physics, English, music, history, etc. A course in Practical Administration will be offered with a change of instructor every week including J. F. Waddell from the State Department of Education.

Vacation Seeker Gets Favorable Results

Certain college students believe in answering advertisements. Several weeks ago, it was reported, a Freshman co-ed sent a coupon for some literature on vacation tours in the west. The coupon called for the date which she planned to start. Partly as a joke and partly as a matter of fancy she wrote July 15 on the dotted line.

In reply to her request for travel information the travel bureau not only sent excellent illustrated material, but also a letter stating that she would be pleasantly surprised.

The next day she received a long-distance call from a representative of the travel bureau. He was on his way to see her about her vacation plans in the west. The young lady was so shocked that she couldn't talk.

Miss Hathorn came to the rescue and explained everything to the gentleman on the other end of the wire. When he learned that he was on a wild goose chase, the man made several remarks about souvenir-hunters which were not becoming even to a salesman.

The Gossip Twins

The crust of some people's children! It seems they cannot resist writing in peoples' Meletean about some prank pulled during the year. And mother always imagined us to be little angels.

Rumor has it about school that the land ladies are uniting to put an extra charge of twenty-five cents on all room rent bills where lights are burned latter than 3:30 A. M. for the rest of this week.

And now our boy friends have adopted golf knickers in preference to campus cords. We wonder what they know about golf. Oh! Well! Columbus didn't know where he would land, either.

With the end of our school year comes a rush for the county clerk's office. At least so the love affairs around this institution would remind us. It was very nice to see Jack dear and Alice darling parade about the campus holding hands. What the parting this coming Friday will bring only lovers can tell.

Vacation Days Are Here

Annuals, finals, and farewells are some of the feature indications of the break-up of another college year.

Finals no longer occupy the minds of the students but mainly the thought of summer and vacation "What are you going to do this summer?" is the one of main interest around the campus.

Some students are going west on tours, some to the National Parks, others to farms, and still others to join their dads in business. Football men are all resolved to put in a summer at hard labor back of the cement mixer or road work with an intention of getting hardened up for another season of athletics.

With a mixture of happiness and regret some 500 students will see the closing of another school year.

Two girls were discussing sending "Y. W." delegates to Geneva.

"Well, board and room is about twenty dollars and registration about eight; and I think transportation is about five even by car."

"Only five dollars way over there!"

"Well, it might be a little more I'm not sure."

"Why, how can it be so little? It's in Switzerland, isn't it?"

Voice Copy on Display in English Room

A display of all the copy that went into the thirty issues of the Student Voice will be on exhibit in Miss Barr's room on Thursday.

Our statistician got busy and figured out that approximately 300,000 words were printed during the year. This is the equivalent of 1500 ordinary English composition themes. Or bringing it down to actual figures, we find that it takes the equivalent of about fifty themes a week to make this student paper.

If the entire volume were put in a single newspaper column, we would find that this column would be about twenty-one hundred feet long. In city blocks, it would measure about six of them.

She: "You remind me of the ocean."
He: "Wild, romantic, reckless-?"
She: "No, you just make me sick."
