Training School Doing Creative Work in Classes

Fourth Grade is Designing Costumes and Scenery for Program To Be Given Soon

Practise Teachers and Pupils Turn Poets and Sing Out Their Lays of Spring

The classes in the training school are doing creative work for their education, which according to Miss Bridges is the type of work that is being done in all the schools now.

As one walks from room to room one sees many evidences of the young creative geniuses that are budding out under the new system of teaching.

In the primary grades original work is being done by the children in the form of posters. The fourth grades are busy planning costumes and scenery for the assembly program which will stage before the training school and college some time in the near future.

Poetry is the subject for creative work in the fifth and sixth grades. Not only are the children writing poems, but the teachers are also transcribing their thoughts in verse. The following poem was found in the lesson plan of Erna Elliott, a practice teacher of English in the fifth grade.

May Time

May time, play time!
Glad time, Gay time!
The sky is blue; the grass is green;
The earth is now all fresh and green;
Birds sing, on the wing,
It is spring! It is spring!

Wake up, wake up!
Come and see the butter cup:
In a little sunny nook,
By a shallow, laughing brook.
Robins, be of cheer!
May is here, May is here!

SPRING

The winter is gone and spring is here,
We welcome you with right good cheer.
The pussy willow has come and gone,
Green is the grass on every lawn.
The robin's voice rings loud and clear,
"Spring is here! Spring is here!"

The brooks are shallow and clear and smooth,
And in the woods are heard pigeon's coos.
The trees are budding and growing and blowing
While on the sea the wild waves are rolling.

Nature gives these many wonders.
Spring is here! Spring is here!
Mildred Walton

Spring is Here
Spring is here! Spring is here!
The robin chirps of good cheer.
Grass is green, skies are blue,
Days are growing longer too.

Children playing near the streams,
Playing neath the warm sunbeams.
Baseball, marbles, kites a flying
Oh! this fun is never dying.

Spring is here! Spring is here!
Her voice in song is ringing clear.
Daisies, violets, lilies too—
All blend in such a lovely hue.

Spring is here! Spring is here!

NORSE HOLIDAY ON PATRONS DAY

Norwegians of the community who desire to observe the 17th of May will have an opportunity to combine the Norse celebration with the big program for the patrons of the college on that day. Because of the large out-of-town attendance expected, many people will be present with the purpose of meeting again old friends and acquaintances of past years.

Goodfellowship and reunions will be on one of the fine (by products) of the Dedication Day at the Teachers College.

River Falls High Wins Two of Four Friday Contests

Extempo Speaking Contest Held In College Auditorium At Friday Morning Chapel

A fairly large crowd attended the oratorical and declamatory contests which were held between high schools of this district in the college auditorium last Friday evening.

There were a large number of entrants present in each contest. Of these Mr. Cochran, head of the public speaking department at Carleton College, picked those placing first.

The extemporaneous speaking contest was held in the college auditorium in the morning. William Hawkins of River Falls won first. In the afternoon Joyce Hawkins of River Falls won the extemporaneous reading contest in the high school auditorium. The speaker from St. Croix Falls won the oratorical contest, while Grace Walsh of New Richmond won the declamatory contest.

At five-thirty Friday afternoon the Lincolnian and Aurelia societies acted as hosts to the visiting contestants at a banquet held in the dining room of the River Falls Methodist church. A very entertaining program was given, which included several readings by the already well known reader, Professor Cochran. His selections were received with a great deal of applause. About forty attended the banquet.

Plans for Alumni Reunion Are Made

Plans are under way for the annual re-union and banquet of the Alumni Association. The committees in charge hope many of the Alumni will be back for that and also the Commencement exercises. The banquet will be held in the social rooms of the Lutheran House of Worship, Tuesday evening, June 5th, at 6:30. The Alumni ball is scheduled for the same evening and it is hoped the reunion of classes will be held earlier in the day. The aim is to make this a real alumni day.

This year for the first time degrees will be conferred upon several young people. This is an event in the progress of our school and the Alumni Association should be proud of this step in the history of the old school.

Even if you do not get a special invitation to the banquet, be sure you will be welcome. It is yours. The secretary, Miss Ruth Fuller, may

Y.M.C.A. Members Of Cabinets Are Home from Trip

Pancake Breakfasts and Big Sunday Dinner Produced By Professor "Jake"

Both Old and New Cabinet Members Return Hilariously From Week-end Outing

Early Sunday afternoon a group of some twenty tired, dirty, but well-satisfied and well filled cabinet members returned to "civilization" from a week-end's sojourn in the "wilds" of Lake St. Croix.

Fine spring weather, the beautiful lake and forest-covered bluffs, the superb and bounteous cooking of "Prof. Jake," the constructive suggestions of Mr. P. H. MacKee, and a cheery atmosphere of close fellowship united to make the "1928-Y cabinet retreat" one of the most successful ever held.

Leaving River Falls after school Friday, the group beat a hasty retreat to the lake, pitched camp, and disposed of the first out-door banquet in short order. There followed camp explorations, the making of beds, story-telling, and at last sleep.

Early Saturday morning the unceremonious arrival of more cabinet members disturbed the peace of "Sleepy Hollow" and caused a general uprising in camp. For the sleepy ones, there was more or less assistance in that uprising. The crisp morning air and the cold water of the lake whetted the appetites of all; so when the breakfast call rang out, Prof. Jacobson and his corps of helpers were kept busy turning the golden-brown cakes and pouring the golden brown syrup.

Boat riding, horseshoe pitching, baseball and, for some, dishwashing filled the early morning hours. Then followed the first "pow wow"—a discussion of campus problems and a devotional service held in the beautiful cathedral of Nature.

Saturday afternoon was spent chiefly in exploring the shores of the lake or in playing various games. One group discovered the mouth of the Kinnickinnic river; others found prehistoric remains and geological deposits, while still others crossed into foreign lands and laid claim to the shores of Minnesota. Some hardy spirits tested the water of the lake and of course declared it fine.

The evening was spent in gathering timber and constructing the pyramid for a great bonfire. Then as darkness settled down, the pyramid was ignited and one of the most impressive camp-fire sessions was begun. Stories, songs, and discussion of various problems featured the program.

The moon climbing over the hill some hours later found a quiet camp except for the muffled snoring of the dignitaries and the splash of canoe paddles from the lake where those who could not sleep held communion with nature.

Coincident with the dawning of day the return of the night prowlers broke into the slumbers of the peace-

PROFESSOR JAMES D. HILL
ATTENDS HISTORICAL MEET

Last week Professor Hill of the History department journeyed to Des Moines, Iowa, where he attended The Historical Association meetings. He returned to school Monday.

Field and Patron's Day Preparations Promise Great Day

More than Twelve Hundred Invitations Have been Issued To Outsiders

Preparations for May seventeenth on which day high schools of the district will send judging teams to River Falls for agricultural competition and when the patrons of the college will be received, are rapidly reaching the climax.

High school registration is nearly finished for Field Day, with about ten teams entering. A cup is awarded every year to the team that gets the largest number of points. This is a three-year cup. For the past two years Roberts has won the cup, and if they win it this year, it will be their's to keep.

A multiple hitch demonstration will be staged by the animal husbandry department of the University of Wisconsin. This will be given at one o'clock.

About twelve hundred invitations have been sent out to the patrons of the school, inviting them to attend the dedication exercises on the afternoon of the seventeenth. Committees composed of almost every student in school have been drawn up and are working with great zest to make the day one of the biggest successes in the history of the school.

AN APOLOGY

In last week's paper in the music contest write-up a mistake was made when it was reported that New Richmond won third in the piano solos. Miss Edith Cheney of Prescott was the winner, and the paper wishes to apologize to her for the omission of her name.

Annual Promenade Preparations Are Almost Completed

Decorating Committee Hopes To Finish Their Work Sometime Tomorrow

Music Will Be Played By Wesley Barlow's Orchestra;
14 Dances, 2 Extras

The annual promenade for which the students have been waiting and preparing for the last six weeks will be staged in the north hall gymnasium next Friday evening.

The Junior Prom is considered to be the biggest and best social event of the school year, and preparations are made for it long before it is actually to be given.

This year the work on the prom is being directed by the prom chairman, George White, and William Hunt, President of the second year class. Subordinate to these men are four committee heads. These men are, Lyle Lamphier, Decorating committee; Vivian Chinnock, refreshments; Mable Thorp, programs and favors, and Gerald Manion m. m. s.

The decorating committee has been hard at work on the work assigned to them. Different people of the second year class have been drafted as co-workers with the committee, and the decorating is going at full speed. They hope to have the decorating entirely finished by Wednesday afternoon.

Punch will be served as refreshments.

The programs this year are of an entirely different nature than they have ever been before. The covers are of black leather.

Wesley Barlow and his orchestra will supply the music for the occasion. The program that they will offer consist of fourteen dances and two extras.

There will be no visitors in the balcony this year as the decorations make it impossible to view anything below. Parents will be allowed to come with students, however, and will sit in the gymnasium proper.

After the grand march William Hunt will start the dancing with his partner, Nettie Grotenhouse, following whom will come George White and

GARDENING CLASS OPENS OUTDOOR LABORATORY WORK

The gardening class under the direction of Mr. Prucha made a trip out to the site of the gardens to be, which are just below the southern barracks and began working on their respective plots of ground on which they will plant their gardens.

Each member of the class has a plot of ground twelve feet by thirty-six feet over which he has complete control. Yesterday the class spent two periods in preparing the soil for the planting which they will do tomorrow afternoon.

The garden has been planned so as to make its appearance very attractive to even the casual observer.

The products taken from the garden will be utilized during the summer by the janitors and others.

Friday, May 4, will be Mothers' Day at Whitewater. A special program will be given in the afternoon. At this time the mothers will have an opportunity to see the school, meet the faculty members and visit classes.

WHERE'S THE PEP?

During the football and basketball seasons we are continually harping on that word pep. Although we have the reputation of being one of the peppiest colleges in the state, and although our school spirit for these two branches cannot be surpassed, we surely are far from being there when it comes to supporting that baseball team of ours.

Last Saturday River Falls played St. Olaf and were given a bad licking. This national sport is just beginning to gain a foothold in our athletic system and that defeat is going to make it that much harder for those who want baseball in River Falls State Teachers College to accomplish their ends. It is up to the students to show that they want baseball or there will be none, for without the backing of the student body no sport can be a success and, in fact, really should not be kept on the list of sports.

There is, however, a great deal of sentiment in favor having a baseball team in River Falls. That means that baseball should be recognized as one of the major sports here.

If the nine does not receive any more support than it did in its last game, baseball will never be recognized as anything.

The attendance at the game with the Oles was absolutely disgraceful for a school that has the reputation that we have. We are always crowing about the way we get behind activities in River Falls, but the way we attended that game is nothing to crow about.

At least one-half of the students of River Falls State Teachers College were in town last Saturday, and about fifty of them were at the game. Eliminating those who have to work, there should still have been at least one hundred-fifty at that game. Where were the rest of them? If you would rather stay at home and read College Humor than go to a ball game in which your team is taking part, you do not belong to River Falls.

Furthermore, to take a Scotchman's viewpoint, you should attend the game to get your money's worth out of your budget ticket.

The team is working under quite a handicap already with a lack of funds, and if they are to be without the support of the student body as well, they might just as well throw up the game. There are enough people here, however, who want a team, and it is up to them to prove to the team and the coach that they are going to back them no matter how rough the trail. Everybody out to the game Wednesday and Friday and show the team that the traditional River Falls is behind baseball as it is behind everything else.

SOUR GRAPES

Every college in the country where dancing is allowed holds a prom or formal dance of some kind at least once a year. These dances are the most popular and prominent social events in the school year.

Here at River Falls we hold two big social events, the G. O. P. Formal and the Junior Promenade. These two attract more attention than any other social events in the school year, and they are, indeed, worthy of the attention that they receive.

Some people in this college are trying to spoil the whole prom this year. Four weeks before the prom is to be staged, these people get together, make out their programs, and have everything settled before they even have dates. To this charge some might answer that they are doing it merely as a matter of self defense, a defense that would be entirely unnecessary if everyone would take the right attitude toward it.

Those people who know very much about formal dances in other colleges say that this condition does not exist in other schools, and if anyone tried to start doing such he would promptly get something very much akin to the Ag. Yell.

Then, there are the alumni, who return to River Falls to enjoy life here once more. When they try to find dances, they run up against a stone wall, for all the programs were made out almost a month ahead of time.

With a little bit of mathematical headwork these people who are making out their programs could see that when every person present is coupled up, and that if one couple is split up there is always another in the same fix; so the self defense plea does not hold out.

The biggest trouble caused by this bad habit is that it causes and develops a clique spirit among the students. In a democratic institution of this kind where everyone is supposed to be on the same level, it would be especially hazardous to start anything clannish in character, and that is just what is beginning to happen here. It is perfectly all right to plan on having a good time, but when you restrict your good times within a selected few, you are spoiling it for other people. We don't want to have any clique system in River Falls and the man who starts anything that leads toward such a situation, ought to be ostracized.

Half of the people who read this article will say that it is a case of sour grapes, and that is why it has been written. This is not the case, however, for there is a very difficult situation being faced by the student body at this time, and every precaution must be taken to avoid it.

The Question Mark?

WHAT DO YOU THINK OF THE TEACHING PROFESSION?

Evelyn Sansburn:—

I don't know what I think of teaching yet; but it must be interesting since so many enter that profession. I don't think I should care for it for a life's task, however.

Walter Pearson:—

How should I know? I've never had any experience.

Glenn Lund:—

I think that the teaching profession is one of the most responsible lines of work in existence. The burden of the future generation lies on the shoulders of the school teachers. After seeing many of the prospective teachers, I don't wonder that in the old days the children weren't so wild.

Gertrude Ingelhardt:—

I think it's O. K. or I wouldn't be entering it. I suppose it has its ups and downs" like everything else, but here's hoping they're mostly "ups".

Theron Hoke:—

It's a wonderful field for public service. I think it's a good profession for women.

Catherine Casey:—

Teaching must be a most interesting profession. There is certainly great opportunity for public service.

William Larson:—

Similar to the 18th amendment—it's all right if you like it.

Mary Catone:—

Teaching is a splendid profession for anyone who likes it. For anyone who doesn't school life must be intolerable.

Just now I think teaching is a first rate job, but I may be able to speak more ably of this topic a year from now. It's a great life if the school teacher doesn't weaken.

Who's Who

The Meletean is bringing many of our efficient students into the light. Helen Hughes, the typist, has, by her faithfulness and valuable work, secured a place in Who's Who.

She is a genuine River Falls-ite, having graduated from R. F. H. S. in '25. Her work in high school consisted chiefly of work on the annual, the Kinnick, of which she was social editor.

During her three years here she has been an active member of various organizations, N. C. A., G. A. A. and G. O. P., and is secretary of the third year class at present.

Her efficiency as a typist has been a great asset to the Meletean staff this year as her work is always of the best type and her sense of responsibility never allows her to shirk.

N. C. A.

The N. C. A. will hold their final meeting Tuesday evening in the Catholic Church parlors.

A lively evening's entertainment has been planned, and everyone is invited to turn out to a grand party.

The program will be varied and pleasing to all, so that no one need stay away for fear of being bored.

The present staff of officers has given the N. C. A. a splendid variety of programs, and their party will not fall short of this splendid record.

Don't forget that the party is tonight in the church parlors, and that it costs only a quarter.

Patron: "What kind of soup is this?"

Waiter: "Ox-tail, sir."

Patron: "Well take it back and let the ox wag its tail in it a couple of more times."

City man: (mired in mud): "I thought you said there was a good road here."

Old farmer: "There is but you haven't got down to it yet."

Falls Takes Second Trimming From St. Olaf Team

Large Number of Errors Prove to Be Very Costly

Nyht Pitches Steady, Reliable Game But is Given Little Support By Teammates During Crucial Moments of Game; Bud Manion Gets Hits Three Times Out of Four Trips To Plate.

The St. Olaf baseball men again proved themselves superior over the River Falls nine by winning a return game last Saturday at Ramer Field, 15-1. The Falls team however, went on the field determined to reverse the score by which they were beaten at Northfield and for five innings held the hard Ole hitters to two runs.

Nyht was doing some fine mound work, allowing only three hits up to the fatal sixth inning when two hits and three errors allowed St. Olaf to gallop over the rubber for five runs. Even then Nyht kept pitching faultlessly, giving only eleven hits and getting seven strikeouts.

It is a hard proposition for a pitcher when his teammates will make fourteen errors in nine innings. The boys were entirely off form last Saturday and with another week of good warm weather for practice should round out into an errorless hard hitting team. Nyht has proved himself to be a pitcher worth a great deal of consideration since he held the great Ole star Alml, to only a scratch hit in five times at bat.

St. Olaf had three big innings in which they collected eight hits and twelve runs, six errors on the part of the River Falls team helped the Oles on in their attempt to wear out the plate.

While the Falls team was letting errors gather on its side of the score book, St. Olaf, on the other hand, was playing an errorless game. They gave their pitcher airtight support and socked the ball for hits when runs were on the bags.

Pitcher Barness deserves much credit for the win. He allowed only six hits and struck out ten men.

Bud Manion at short seemed to be the only infielder that was on. Besides playing a fine game in the field he raised his batting average to 500 by getting those hits in four times up.

Kahl at catch also played well for River Falls. He gives promise of developing into a fine back stop before the seasons over.

The home team's solitary run came in the last inning when Peterson, substituting for Knerr, drew a walk. Two put outs followed. Meanwhile Pete was stealing second and third base. Larson brought him across with the first run of the year by connecting for a single.

St. Mary's Baseball Nine to Play Here

St. Olaf defeated St. Mary's college nine 13-3. That puts River Falls on about the same level as St. Mary's who will be here next Friday to lock horns with them at Ramer Field.

This game ought to tell whether or not River Falls has a baseball team.

Deibold is giving the players long hard workouts in preparation for the game.

Captain Clafin will most likely be on the mound, and, with an improved team behind him, should have little difficulty in giving St. Mary's a good hard game. The game will be called at 3.00. Student budget tickets will admit.

WORK ON SOUTH AND NORTH HALLS NEARLY COMPLETED

The front entrance to South Hall, which has been closed because of remodeling, and the connecting hallways between the old and new wings of North Hall are almost completed. The cement of the stairway in the new entrance has been laid, and all is completed practically except the finishing touches.

In North Hall the hallways are being smoothed down, and everything will be in readiness for through traffic in the near future. The large pile of dirt outside of the new training school has been leveled down so that the untidy appearance of the North Campus has been removed. By the time May seventeenth arrives and the visitors of the college come to inspect it, everything will be in fine shape so as to make the best impression possible.

COLLEGE PUBLICITY WORK BEING CARRIED ON BY PROFESSOR MITCHELL

Mr. Mitchell is out of school this week on a trip to several high schools in this district where he will tell the seniors of those schools the merits of River Falls Teachers College and try to influence them to come to River Falls as the place where they can receive higher education.

Trips of a similar nature are carried on every year by members of the faculty. They are aided in their work by the business men of the town and by donations by the faculty members.

COUNTY SEAT NINE TO PLAY HERE WEDNESDAY

Tomorrow afternoon at four-twenty the Ellsworth city team will be here to play a practice game with the Teachers college nine. All interested are welcome to attend the game. The county seat has a good bunch of players. There will be a great improvement in the college men's play over last Saturday's game, and it will be worth seeing.

FIVE MORE SENIORS FIND JOBS DURING PAST WEEK

River Falls' teacher's placement bureau under the direction of Mr. Johnston is raising the total number of placements every week. During the last week five graduates to be secured positions.

These five are Madelyn Denzer, primary grades, Woodville, Dorothy Corey, intermediate grades, Luck, Orville Tosrud, principal of state graded school at Nelson; Stella Peterson, high school English and History, Chetek; and Earl Weber, athletic coach and manual training at Lake City, Minnesota.

FROM MILWAUKEE

The annual all-school picnic will be held on Wednesday, May 23, at Muskego Beach, eighteen miles west of Milwaukee. A special interurban train will leave at 8:00 a. m., and will take the students to the Beloit Road, from where they will hike to the beach, a distance of twelve miles. Those who do not wish to walk will leave at noon on a special car that will take them the entire distance.

RIVER FALLS, WISCONSIN

Ag Department Puts Out Publicity Book

The agricultural department of River Falls Teachers College has issued a bulletin describing the department at River Falls.

These bulletins are sent to all of the boys in the senior classes of this district and also to all of the boys graduating from high school agricultural courses in the state of Wisconsin.

The bulletin is composed of eight pages, containing pictures of work in the agricultural department and general information in regard to the opportunities that are to be had at River Falls in the line of agricultural study.

The bulletin shows what a valuable field the agricultural teacher has to look forward to. It also shows how other jobs besides that of teaching are awaiting the agricultural graduate. The history of the agricultural department and other attractive information in regard to the college are given.

Prom Throws Co-eds Out of Usual Life

"Goin' to the prom?" "What color's your dress?" "Got new shoes?" etc., etc. That's the secret of the hushed but excited chatterings that take place in every corner of the building all day long.

Here and there—everywhere—may be seen groups, large or small, congregated for no other purpose than to indulge in conversation that causes our more sedate and less excitable men students to throw up their hands in despair and walk away, after numerous attempts to get a word in edgewise. How exasperating it must be.

With hearts tight and gay, carefree happy girls traverse the campus and aimlessly wander about the halls of the buildings, and the halls are actually brightened by the giggles that drive teachers to distraction and the exultant whisperings that drive fellows to some secluded spot as a refuge from the incessant "effusions of sweet nothingness" that have become so abundant.

Just one week more, fellows! Then you can emerge from your seclusion and occupy once more your customary position.

ful, routed out the snorers, and sent the "kitchen police" scampering for water and wood. Sunday morning was then spent much as the morning before. A very profitable discussion period led by Mr. P. H. MacKee helped in the outlining of a program for the year 1928-29. Mr. MacKee and the retiring members of the cabinet gave valuable suggestions concerning the projects which next year will devolve upon the new cabinet.

Climaxing all of the preceding delights, there followed the long anticipated Sunday banquet. Mashed potatoes, creamed peas, fried wieners, bread and butter, cabbage salad, strawberry jam, "Madison's special" camp coffee, cake: both devil's food and angel food to satisfy all, and finally ice cream—what more could even the healthiest appetite crave at one time? And that in part accounts for the lethargy manifested by not a few after the return to town.

The purpose of the "retreat" was a good time in which each member of the old and new cabinets might really learn to know the other members. The close fellowship and the fine spirit with which everyone did his part helped much in the attainment of that purpose. With such a start toward unity and friendship the new cabinet will certainly find inspiration to carry on and improve the work of the past year.

Practise for the operetta that is to be given on the twenty-fourth of this month is going at full swing. The presentation is expected to make a big hit.

One Fourth of 1928 Rurals Are Placed

One-fourth of the Rural Graduates are located. The best record yet established according to Prof. James I. Malatt, director of Rural Education.

The present Rural Class are being rapidly placed. A larger number are located at this time than we have usually had placed so early in the season. The following is the list of those placed and the county in which they are to teach next year:

- St. Croix County—
Evelyn Berndt, Landing Hill School
Walter Josephson, Pine Lake School
Agnes Parnell, North Bass Lake School
- Pierce County—
Agnes Carlson, Midway School
- Bu^oalo County—
Mary Nugent, Plainview School
- Pepin County—
Elvera Reick, Bond School
Elizabeth Miller, Turtle Lake School
- Polk County—
Fern Doughty, Forest School
Dorothea Swartz, Maple Ridge School
- Ashland County—
Marion Andehson
Ruth Christenson
- Emmet County, Iowa—

TRAINING SCHOOL DOING CREATIVE WORK IN CLASSES

We grieve to see her disappear
With all the joy and cheer she brings,
Her voice in melody sweetly rings.
Ruth Ames

Violets, daisies and buttercups gay,
Bloom in this merry month of May.
The birds too, are singing their lays,
On these beautiful bright spring days,

Everything is fresh and green,
From the showers that make the scene.

The girls and boys play out of door,
Even when the rain doth pour.
"Welcome Spring!" the girls do cry,
Flowers are coming and birds are nigh.

The buds are blossoming on the tree—
Spring time is coming for you and for me.

SCHOOL IS HIT BY LOSS OF STUDENTS AND FACULTY

During the last few weeks many of the students and faculty at River Falls have been kept from school because of illness. First a light epidemic of influenza confined many students to their bed, and just as that began to let up the mumps hit a large number of collegians.

Mr. Hanna has had a very severe illness but will be back in school this week it is predicted. Other members of the faculty who have been sick are getting along fine now.

Mr. Stratton, who was operated on recently for appendicitis, is reported to be improving rapidly. Although his condition was quite serious at first, he is now well on the road to recovery.

The Golden Rule THE STORE FOR GOOD CANDY

SWEETNESS

NO TERM so truly lovingly expresses Mother as the word "sweetness." No gift for Mothers' Day, May 13th, is more appropriate or symbolic than a gift of her favorite Candy.

And Mother like almost everyone else in town if given an opportunity to specify her favorite Candy, would name Garrott's or Johnston's candy. Bring her this tribute of love and attentiveness on her day of all days.
