Enrollment Up 14 Per Cent Freshmen Nearly Half of Total

Some 766 students in ages ranging from 17 to 61 will be strolling the campus of this particular Wisconsin State College during the next 36 weeks. This year's enrollment is approximately 14% larger than last year, with the 1953 registration stopping at 657 pupils.

THEATRE

Plans are underway for the freshman play "Heaven Can Wait" which will be presented November 28. Tryouts begin today, September 27, in room 127N at 7 p.m. It is a modern comedy with a cast of six women and 12 men. Myron Gayle Moen will direct a play.

The opening of the new "Little Theater" is October 28 and 29 when "Stage Door" will be presented by a cast of 21 women and 11 men. It is a modern comedy written by Edna Ferber and George F. Kaufman. The setting is in an actresses' boarding house in New York. Later in the quarter, Bob Strain, senior, will direct a play.

The Shakespearean play, King Lear, will have a run of six nights during the winter quarter. An original play written by Orlen Larson, a junior at RFSC, and "Shadow and Substance" also will be presented during the school year, plus several others.

Helberg Wins Senate Position

Don Helberg, a senior from Spencer, was recently elected by an all school vote to be a member of the Student Senate. Phyllis Benoy, elected to the Senate last spring, did not return this year so the special election was held to fill the vacancy.

DON HELBERG

Don has been a two year "R" man as guard and linebacker in football and has taken an active part in the FFA. He is in secondary education.

His comment on the election "I am very pleased to get in the Senate and I will try to do my best."

The freshmen represented nearly half of the total enrollment with their 338 students. Next are the sophomores with 219 entries, then the juniors with 104, and finally the seniors with 92 potential graduates. In these respective classes are ten foreign exchange students from Nigeria, Iran, Spain, Jordan, Mexico, and Japan. There are also 42 entered from out of state. Most of them from Minnesota.

To go further, we find four post graduate students and nine part time students who are not assigned to any certain class because they are taking special courses.

WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION HOLDS LUNCHEON

The College Women's Association held its Big and Little Sister Tea in the Hathorn Hall Lounge on Monday evening, September 20th at 7:00.

A lunch was served and following this Dr. Sayre, Dean of Women, was introduced by Pat Tobin, College Women's Association, to the freshman girls, upper classmen girls, and women faculty members present.

The rest of the hour was spent in acquainting the freshman girls with faculty and upper class women.

STUDENT INSURANCE TO BE OFFERED

Starting this fall students will be able to obtain a student accident insurance policy through the Continental Casualty Company of Chicago. This will be in addition to all health services offered by the college.

At a recent Student Senate meeting this insurance plan was accepted. The policy will be open to all students enrolled at River Falls for two dollars a term and will be renewed during registration at the beginning of each quarter.

This policy pays up to $500 for each accident you have, no matter how many you have. It covers you in physical education, in all interscholastic sports, except football, and 24 hours every day of the term, no matter where you may be, at school, in your home town, riding to an out of town activity, or while you are enjoying yourself at your favorite amusement center.

Aside from this it also pays $1000. for accidental death or dismemberment.

There will be no minimum amount of students needed to get the policy into effect. Even if only ten students were to make use of the policy it would still go into effect.

This policy will be available yet this term at a reduced rate. At a later date there will be a special assembly at which time any interested students may sign up for the policy.

Library Dedication Postponed

The formal dedication of the Chalmer Davee Library, which was planned for October, has been postponed. The remodeling of South Hall has not proceeded according to schedule and many of the facilities of the new library have been temporarily converted to classroom space. The faculty-student dedication committee has not set the date, but it will probably be in early May or as a part of the activities of commencement week.

OFFER TO SERVICEMEN

The Student Voice will be pleased to send copies of this year's publication free of charge to any former student of River Falls State College who is now in the Armed Forces.

Since military addresses tend to change quite rapidly, our last year's mailing list doubtless is out of date by now. Everyone can help keep our servicemen informed of campus events by sending their current addresses to: Circulation Manager, Student Voice, Wisconsin State College, River Falls, Wisconsin.

Homecoming Oct. 15 - 16 Bob Strain In Charge

by Chuck Brill

Homecoming festivities this year will be headed by Bob Strain, senior from Baldwin, Wisconsin. Popularity on campus plus a terrific campaign including Dixie music and dancing girls proved a winning combination in the election of Bob as Homecoming chairman. Bob's capable assistants this year will be John Bos and Stan Lehman.

Saturday, October 16 is the official date of Homecoming, but festivities will get underway Friday at 10 a.m. with the breaking up of classes. The breaking up ceremony will be led by the "Little Old Timers" and will proceed to the cafeteria.

Friday afternoon will be devoted to decoration which will take place in traditional custom. The Freshmen will line the "R" and decorate the football field; Sophomores will decorate the gymnasium; the Juniors will devote their "artistic" abilities to the decoration of the campus and the Seniors will string River Falls' main street with crepe paper and whatever else they can find. Students in resident houses of River Falls are being asked to help color the atmosphere by decorating their houses, especially along the parade route. Attractive cash prizes will be awarded for outstanding displays.

The Pep Fest will take place the eve before homecoming and will start in North Hall auditorium. The program will include a guest speaker, the introduction of the members on the football squad and skits by classes and individuals. Highlighting the program will be the presentation of the Homecoming Queen candidates. Following the Pep Fest will be the ceremonial bon-fire which will take place in the vicinity of Hathorn Hall. Gathered in the light of the huge fire will be the last and largest meeting of the Kangaroo Court. At this time the freshmen will once again celebrate their freedom, by throwing their beanies in the fire.

Homecoming Day, Saturday, will get under way with the judging of house decorations at 9:30 a.m. Big event of the morning will start at 11 a.m. with the Homecoming Parade, a colorful spectacle of floats, and to quote Bob Strain, chairman, "The rip-roar in'est bands you ever heard." After the parade a buffet luncheon for the Alumni will be served at Hathorn Hall.

The big game between the Falcons and Stout will start at 1:30 p.m. During the halftime ceremonies the Queen and her court will be presented to the crowd and the River Falls High School Band, under the direction of John Sabaka, will march.

Following the game there will be a program of entertainment for the alumni in Hathorn Hall. Saturday evening there will be the Homecoming Dance, 9 to 1 p.m., in North Hall Auditorium (admission is $1.20 per couple) and the music will be by Dick Mau's and his orchestra.

Names of queen candidates must be turned into the Deans' office by October 1. Presentation of these candidates will be on Wednesday, October 6 at 10 a.m. and the election will be held Wednesday, October 13.

Remember, attractive cash prizes will be awarded for outstanding skits, floats and house decorations.

The return of upper classmen and addition of 25 new members from the freshman class, will give the college band a total of 60 members this year.

The program will include modern music from movies and musical comedies. Also on the schedule for November will be a series of concerts to be given at nearby high schools.

To Be Campus Representative

Mae Wiskerchen has been appointed Chesterfield campus representative. The position will mean experience in advertising and on-the-job training in conducting a sales promotion program.

Mae, a junior, from Pepin, is active in Newman Club, WRA, Masquers and is president of Alpha Psi Omega. She is a reporter for the Student Voice and was editor of last year's women's dormitory newspaper.

The Editor Speaks

Congratulations Freshmen! What for—why for going to college, of course! There are a lot of your friends who didn't go on to school. Some because they couldn't, because of financial reasons or other inconveniences. But some that could have gone—and should have gone, chose not to! Feel sorry for this lost friend. He might try to bulge your eyes with his weekly paycheck from some rendering company, but some day your income will surpass his. Your father might not have needed an education to secure a top position, but we need one today for the same job.

FILM GROUP ORGANIZED

Films for entertainment and education have provided the possible debut of an organization entirely new to the campus. Slapstick comedies, westerns, and fifteen cent mysteries seem to have their place in our society today but this new student organization will try to provide our campus with films not ordinarily available to us or the general public. To begin at the beginning . . . Last fall in the May 10 issue of the Voice a letter to the editor by B. L. McCarthy stimulated several students (such stimulation is a science) into the possibility of bringing these "movies of a different nature" to this campus. During the Summer School Session the stimulation movement was advanced into the stage of "activation". Three movies produced in foreign countries were shown here, "Penywhistle Blues" (British), "Open City" (Italian), and "Under The Paris Sky" (French), with the resulting shout by students "Great "Refreshing," "Let's have more", "Educating and entertaining", "They should show them at local theatres".

It is interesting and only logical that the interest in these movies followed from the Summer Session to academic year. The movie "Beauty and the Devil" chosen by a group of students in the "activation stage" was shown here to a large crowd of students who agreed (we must assume) that they are tired, or at least unhappy with a lot of the mediocre to poor movie entertainment that they have seen. The general, unanimous feeling toward this new type of movie from France was not surprising. Student questionnaires filled out after they had seen the film showed that all most every student wanted to see more of these films. (Several, however, thought it was odd the French film was spoken in "French".) The students who have been selecting these films want to become an official organization so they are submitting a written constitution to the Student Senate. Details on this new organization will be published on acceptance of their constitution by the Senate.

Next Film Selected

The film selecting group has selected "Gi Gi" by Colette (French) to be our next movie. This story was made into the Broadway play starring Audrey Hepburn. The story is about a family who raise their niece in the "family tradition" of prostitution. The niece, however, breaks the rules by falling in love!

Let's attend these movies because it will be our interest that keeps them coming. The student committee that is selecting and handling these films is putting in a lot of time and effort for our benefit. They are not getting paid but they are getting the satisfaction of bringing the works of other countries in the movie industry to our campus. Of course, all of the future films we will see are not necessarily going to be only foreign movies. Some will be American produced films available only to such film committees as this student organization we now have.

Ten Foreign Students Tell Why River Falls Was Chosen

by Les Newville

A new influence is being felt in Wisconsin State College at River Falls. A small school (766) located in a small town (3800), it has suddenly attracted foreign students from four continents and six foreign countries. The college has made no attempt to draw them here, but the faculty, student body, and administration are welcoming them—and wondering why they came.

A number of Mexican students attended River Falls after World War II. This is the first time however, that youth from the cultures of Africa, Europe, and Asia are sitting in classrooms with boys and girls from the small towns and farms of Western Wisconsin.

The first international students arrived last December; others came in March; now ten are enrolled. But only two came to River Falls to study agriculture, for which the school is noted.

Reaction to these citizens of Iran, Japan, Mexico, Nigeria, Spain, and Jordan is warm—everybody likes them.

One co-ed, a junior, had this to say. "I think it's so nice" she commented with a smile. "It makes you realize what other countries are like."

The "McCarthy" of Iran

"You get something" out of meeting the foreign students, according to one freshman. "They always stop to talk, and they are anxious to learn our ways."

Hamid Kharrazi, 26, whose father is a powerful politician in Iran, said, "I came to River Falls to learn English. I thought that I could learn the language better in a small town." A sophomore in agricultural engineering, Hamid plans to transfer to a university later. Hamid is one of five Persian students on the campus.

In addition to his seat in the Iranian parliament, Hamid's father runs Alls-Chalmers in the Middle East.

"My father is the McCarthy of Iran," declared Hamid, although he probably didn't understand all the implications of his statement.

The pre-professional course at River Falls, plus the "small town atmosphere" attracted four other Iranians. Two are enrolled in pre-dentistry, two in pre-med.

"I want to help my people," says Jamshid Sovlati, 18, who plans to be a doctor, "so I came to America to get the very best education. My father is a surgeon—a specialist in both medicine and surgery. It was cheaper to come here than to go to Germany. Students can work in America. Furthermore, I was familiar with the English language."

Paruiz "Perry" Bahlool, 20, also in pre-med learned of River Falls through " . . . an agent in Iran." Manoochehr Barbod, 24, and Teymoor Gedayloo, 26, also Iranians, are enrolled in pre-dentistry.

Hikaru Mikami, 24, travelled to River Falls from his father's farm in Japan in order to study the American educational system. He is a college junior. After graduating from a five-year high school, Hikaru attended Tochiga Teachers college in Japan for three years. "Mike", as he is called here, is supported by his father and a part-time job.

North Better Than South?

Celcia Quiroz, 20, comes from Mexico City as a result of her acquaintance with a former River Falls student, John Brille, formerly of Hammond, Wisconsin, heads the American Institute, a language school in Mexico City which Celcia attended.

Majoring in languages, Celcia is learning English here, and will transfer to Quebec next year to pick up French. Celcia's father is dead, and her mother supports her other children, so Celcia is entirely "on her own". Summer jobs, and part-time employment during the school year, are her only means of support.

"The people of the North are much more kind than those of the South," she declared. "That is why I did not go to the University of Texas, where I could have received a scholarship. There is a prejudice in the South against Mexicans. I was very scared when I came to River Falls, but after only a week I felt completely at home."

A professor at Grinnell College in Iowa advised one of his students there, Kinana Abdulhadi, 21, to come to River Falls to study agriculture. Now a sophomore, he is from the little Mohammedan country of Jordan on the eastern coast of the Mediterranean.

Edet Nsikak, a Nigerian, wants to see how the people of Wisconsin will receive him. "If I am well treated," he confided, "other Nigerian students will come to Wisconsin in future years."

When asked if he came to River Falls because it was inexpensive, he declared emphatically, "Oh, no, it may be cheaper here, but that was not a consideration." College fees, according to him, are insignificant compared with the cost of trans-oceanic travel.

A tall, dark, handsome fellow with a mustache is Luis Enjuto of Madrid, Spain. He is enrolled in the liberal arts course.

"I have not yet made up my mind what I want to be," he said.

"All For Thou"

Foreign students arriving on campus can quickly change into American clothes, but it takes a long time for them to become perfectly integrated into our society. Problems of language, religion, and social customs create barriers which are crossed only at great cost.

For example, one of the young men from abroad told how he had fallen in love with an American girl. "But one night I came home to my room," he said with apparent gait, (but with underlying emotion) "and looked at the map of my beloved country. I forgot the American girl completely."

On the wall of this young Mohammedan's room hangs a large map, with his country in the center. Underneath it, in large black letters, he has written "ALL FOR THOU".

America, with its high standard of living, has a glitter which attracts the foreigner. One of the students declared, "America (Continued on page five)

RF Licks Augsburg & Northland Loses To LaCrosse

by Kaye-Don Tibbetts

The River Falls football team ran over an outclassed Augsburg team, 25-0, in their first game of the season. Augsburg won the toss and chose to kick. Steffen returned the ball 29 yards and then the pattern of the game was set. The Auggies never got past the 50 yard line.

The Falcons scored first on a short pass from Steffens to Wood, who drove across in the first quarter. Murphy's conversion was good and RF led 7-0. "Bucky" DiSalvo crashed over from the one yard line in the second quarter, after barely missing the TD in the previous play. Murphy's extra point try was wide, making a score of 13-0.

Dying moments of the third quarter saw Steffen again hit paydirt from the eleven. His try for the point after touchdown was no good. The last TD came when Rusty Titel intercepted his second pass of the evening on the Falcon's 35 and was brought down on the mid-field stripe. Steffens followed his interference and after the 30 he had clear running. Murphy's kick was wide, so the final score stood at 25-0.

Steffen averaged about seven yards a try, both passing and running, while carrying the ball 29 times.

Second Win

With more polish and better playing, River Falls rambled over a weak Northland team 51-0.

Steffen scored both touchdowns in the first quarter with Wunrow making one extra point to make the score 13-0. Titel and Steffen scored in the second quarter making the score 25-0 at the half.

Bob Wood scored two TD's in the third quarter and Clair Murphy kicked the extra point. The score stood at 38-0 at the end of the third quarter. Burgoyne and Haushalter carried across for TD's in the final quarter. Vern Steinmetz converted once to make the score 51-0 at the final gun.

First Loss

River Falls received their first loss of the season at the hands of La Crosse, 26-7. Even though the victims of bad breaks and injuries, the Falcons showed they were just as good as the Indians. The lack of enough Falcon reserves became evident in the early part of the fourth quarter when they failed to score from the four yard line in four downs.

Mason raced across from the 13 yard line in the early part of the first quarter for the Indians' first tally. Berzinski's try for the extra point was no good, leaving the score 6-0. The ball game tightened up until Kraft recovered a fumble and the Falcons marched down the field with Clair Murphy charging across from the three yard line. Steinmetz's conversion was good so the score at half-time stood at River Falls 7-La Crosse 6.

Wood fumbled when hit hard early in the third quarter, and Rabe recovered for the Indians, carrying the ball to the Falcon's three, where Berzinski waded across. Tuska's extra point try was good and La Crosse lead 13-7. After the Falcons failed to score from the four yard line in the fourth quarter, La Crosse took over and four plays later Berzinski waltzed across from the 17. His extra point kick was wide and the Indians now led 19-7. Provine crossed from the one yard line near the end of the game and Erickson's extra point made the final score La Crosse 26 - River Falls 7.

Clair Murphy, Belfiori, and John Steffen.

Marilyn Murphy Attending On Foundation Scholarship

Marilyn Murphy, a junior from Ellsworth, has returned to Wisconsin State College at River Falls on the first scholarship to be awarded by the Wisconsin State College Foundation at River Falls. Miss Murphy received honors during a special summer assembly.

WRA Schedules Women's Events

Bowling and tennis events have been scheduled for the fall quarter by the WRA (Women's Recreation Association) formerly Women's Athletic Association). A novice tennis tourney will be open to all girls who have played less than five games of amateur tennis. Girls interested in participating are asked to contact Doris Lindeman.

Bowling will be offered from 4 p.m. to 5 p.m. every Tuesday and Thursday. The cost will be 15 cents a line and pinsetters will be furnished. Janice Olufson will be in charge.

This year the WRA hopes to send two delegates to the state WRA conference in Eau Claire and also representatives to the National Bowling Congress.

Intramural Sports Program To Expand

Each year the college administers a complete intra-mural sports program for men students. In the past football, basketball, badminton, and swimming and volleyball have been offered. It is hoped this year that the program can extend its areas to include bowling, tennis and various others—time and facilities permitting.

Intramural bowling and football will begin on October 4. Team entries should be in the athletic office by Wednesday, September 29. The bowling team should consist of four regulars and two substitutes. Intramural football is played with eight men.

Team captains for both bowling and football teams will meet in the athletic office on September 30 at 3 p.m. Information on all intramural activities will be posted on the intramural bulletin board in North Hall.

It was a beef stew romance. She was always beefing and he was always stewed.

"THAT OLD FEELING"

He likes to drink because it makes him see double and feel single.

The Foundation Board of Directors established the scholarship at their annual meeting this summer. They appointed a committee to work out in detail the qualifications for receiving the scholarship and the method of selecting a recipient. This committee included Miss Marion Hawkins, chairman of the Faculty-Alumni Foundation Committee; Louis Daniel, past president of the River Falls Alumni Association Chapter, and Mr. Benson.

This committee has drawn up the following system of regulations concerning the scholarship:

Name: This scholarship shall be called the Foundation Scholarship.

Purpose: The purpose of this scholarship is to provide the incidental fees for a student entering his junior and his senior year at Wisconsin State College at River Falls.

Qualifications: Such a student must be enrolled in the teaching curriculum, may be male or female, of good character, must be actively participating in the developmental program of the college, and must rank among the top 15 students in scholarship in the sophomore class. To remain eligible, the student must continue to meet all the original qualifications.

Selection: A scholarship committee composed of the President of the Board of Directors of the Foundation, the President of Wisconsin State College at River Falls, and Chairman of the Faculty Foundation Committee will select the person to receive the scholarship. The selection of the recipient shall be completed before Honors Day, and the scholarship committee shall certify its selection in writing to the Treasurer of the Foundation. The payment of the incidental fees to the college will be made at the time of registration for each term.

The Wisconsin State College at River Falls Foundation reserves the right to change or alter the conditions of this scholarship but without prejudice to a recipient already selected.

IMPRESSED BY INTEREST OF FACULTY

As a new student at Wisconsin State College at River Falls I was impressed by the sincere interest of the faculty members and advisors to help the individual student. I am sure this interest would not be evident in the large army of students which invade the larger schools in the fall of the year. This interest and patience I'm sure plays an important part in the planning of a well balanced program adapted to the students field of study. This is one of the merits which contribute to the popularity of Wisconsin State College at River Falls.

South Hall Metamorphosis

by Shirley Neuner

New classrooms, a new paint job, a student lounge—these are only a few of the things the students will find when South Halls re-open for business at the beginning of the Winter Quarter.

Art students will find a completely new art room on the first floor while speech students will be in their glory in a special speech class that has recording booths. This classroom, as well as others, and faculty offices, will be located in the space formerly occupied by the library.

Other improvements include a new heating system in two-thirds of the building, re-wiring, new light fixtures and new ceilings. The Caf will be "brushed up" and the kitchen has been remodeled.

President Kleinpell says that a faculty-student committee will determine the equipment, rules, etc. of the lounge and recreation areas.

Weather-beaten South Hall is the oldest building on the campus. Built in 1874, it was partially destroyed by fire in 1894 and re-built on the original foundations in 1896. It has stood thus until now and we hope that with the new improvements it will be good for another fifty years.

Wyman To Serve On Committee

Walker D. Wyman of the history department has been appointed a member of the nominating committee of the Mississippi Valley Historical Association. This committee of three will present nominations to the association at the annual convention to be held in St. Louis, Mo., April 28-30.

We on the Student Voice would like to have contributions, ideas, gripes dropped in at our office by the students and faculty. This is the "student" paper. Published by and for the students but if enough interest is not present and enough opinions are not expressed, we cannot tell if we are publishing the kind of paper we should be.

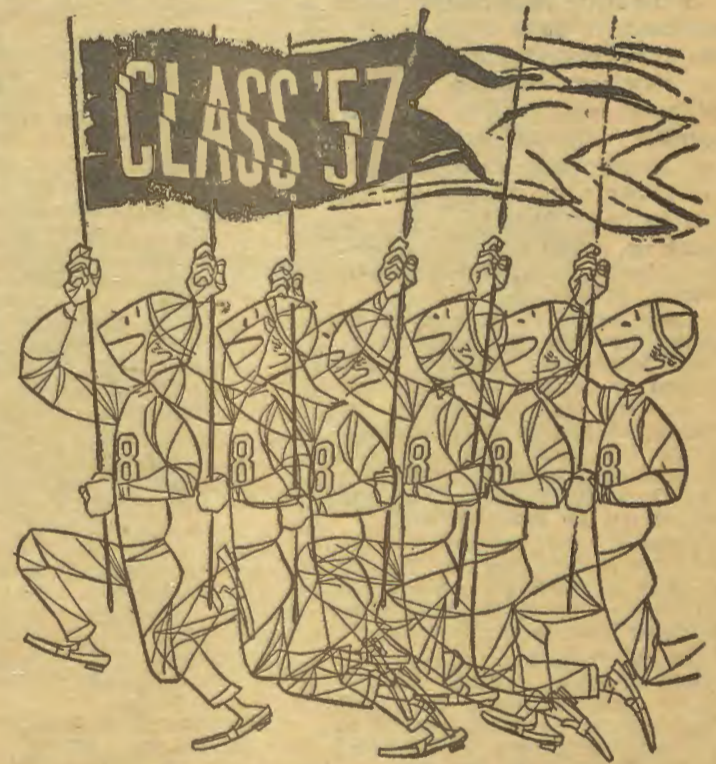

What is there that you would like to have carried on these bi-monthly "pulp-woods"? If you, as a student of River Falls don't care what does go into this paper we'll simply run full length, full page camera poses of Marilyn Monroe.

If you think of a column that would be of interest to everyone on campus, drop in and tells us and we'll look into it. Maybe you will be the one to write it. Our staff is large but there is more than enough work to go around, believe me!

Student opinion is what these columns are for. We can't buy news . . . we can't make news! You make the news. Any kind of news. But, don't keep it a secret. Our investigations into what is going on can only go so far. We can't afford to hire private detectives to "get the scoop".

MORAL—News that is news is only news when that news that is news is found out by those who use news—in newspapers.

"ENGLISH MAJOR"

She: Are you going to the movies tonight
He: No, I ain't going.
She: What grammar! You should say: I'm not going, they are not going, he is not going, she is not going. Get the idea?
He: Sure—nobody ain't going.

Letter To The Editor

If the River Falls campus lacks anything, it lacks students who can show individualism. The usual classroom situation has the professor rattling off some obscurities, while his well behaved but unresponsive students listen attentively while waiting for the bell to ring. Nobody seems to speak up, unless it is to avoid embarrassment when the instructor asks a pointed question.

There could be a number of causes for this deplorable situation. Maybe we students don't defend or propose our ideas because we don't have any. Or maybe the faculty is so tradition bound that they look on a live discussion as socially unacceptable. Or could it be that we are scared out by McCarthyism?

Perhaps materialism is the arch foe of individualism. We are so busy learning how to make a living that we spend little time learning how to live.

At any rate, what this campus needs is more radicals. A few brave ones sprinkled here and there would contribute much to the intellectual growth of River Falls' students and faculty.

Dad's Day Well Attended

A tour of the campus started off the traditional Dad's Day last Saturday, September 25. Dad's Day gives the student here a chance to bring their paternal parent to the campus to look it over and meet some of the people that are a part of college life. It also gives the Dads a chance to meet each other.

After the tour, a banquet sponsored by the College Women's Association, was served in the cafeteria in South Hall. Welcoming addresses were given by President E. H. Kleinpell, Richard Wells (Student Senate Pres.) and Pat Tobin (CWA Pres.) Master of ceremonies for the evening was Glen Gill.

Louis Daniel spoke on behalf of the Alumni of River Falls. Leo Murphy (father of Jerry and Clair Murphy, football stars on the present football team) spoke in behalf of the Dads. Alpheus Montague Sanderson spoke for the student alumnus.

Also on the program were the introduction of the Homecoming Committee and the introduction of the Deans. Closing prayer was by Ronnie Jensen.

The "Little Old Timers" led the torchlight parade from South Hall to Ramer Field following the dinner.

Eight replacements and one new appointment to the faculty for the 1954-55 school year have been announced by President Kleinpell.

Blake Anderson, the new appointee, is specializing in courses of speech correction. Mr. Anderson has taught at the Iowa State Teachers college at Cedar Falls and at the University of South Dakota at Vermillion. He has a bachelor's degree from St. Olaf at Northfield and a master's degree from the State University of Iowa at Iowa City.

Miss Nancy Dickens, graduate of Wooster college in Ohio and Michigan State college, is the new resident counselor. Miss Dickens held positions at Michigan State college, East Lansing, and also at Washington State college at Pullman. She is replacing Miss Nancy Knaack who is now attending Northwestern University working for her doctor's degree.

Mrs. Margaret Doren, replacing Mrs. Quinn, will teach first grade in the campus school and will assist in the supervision of student teachers. Mrs. Doren graduated from the University of Minnesota where she received both her bachelor's and master's degrees.

James Murphy, a graduate from River Falls, has been teaching at Austin, Minnesota since he got his master's degree at the University of Minnesota. Mr. Murphy will teach junior high educational courses, replacing Mr. Robert Fislser, who is now working for the government of Burma.

Peter Muto, who has been at Britt, Iowa, Junior college, is replacing Mr. Norman Severson in the chemistry department. Mr. Muto has a bachelor's degree from the Wisconsin State college at Stevens Point, and his master's degree from Phillips University in Oklahoma.

Edward Peterson replaced Dr. George Gilkey of the social science department. Mr. Peterson holds three degrees from the University of Wisconsin, including a Phd.

Paul Peterson, who has recently completed a master's degree in journalism at the University of Minnesota, has replaced Mr. Harry Griggs, now teaching at the Butler University in Indiana. Mr. Peterson has had experience in the newspaper field and photographic experience. He will teach journalism, advise the college publications, and direct the public relations program.

Dr. Mildred B. Sayre replaced Dr. Dorothy Lipp as the new dean of women. Dr. Lipp is now dean of women at the University of North Dakota. Dr. Sayre has been personnel director at Southwest Texas State Teachers College at San Marcos. She has also held positions in the University of Wisconsin and Columbia University, and as dean of women at Arizona State college, in addition to study and travel abroad.

Extension Courses Offered

Extension courses are being offered this year by the college to eight community centers: Deer Park, Child Development; Rice Lake, Geography of Anglo-America; Frederic, Supervision; Elmwood, School and Community Relations; Boyceville, Children's Literature; Houlton, Mental Hygiene; Turtle Lake, Rhythms; and River Falls State College, Introduction to Biological Sciences, and Applied Design.

The nine classes have an approximate total enrollment of 190.

THEATRE OPEN TO NEW STUDENTS

The "Masquers" on campus are giving a reception to all freshmen and new students interested in the theatre. On Thursday, September 30 at 7:30 p.m., all those above mentioned are invited to attend the reception in Hathorn Hall.

Speech Rally September 28

This College in cooperation with the Wisconsin High School Forensic Association, River Falls District, will sponsor the Second Area Conference on Language Arts. It is one of the regional conferences which the Forensic Association is holding in the various districts of the state to discuss the objects and contents of speech activities.

The program will begin with registration at 8:45 a.m. second floor, North Hall. The general meeting which will take place in the College auditorium, will start at 9:30 a.m. with greetings by President Kleinpell. Introduction will be by Miss Marion Hawkins, Wisconsin State College Conference Chairman.

Featured speakers will be Dr. William Howell, Chairman Dept. of Speech University of Minnesota. Dr. Howell will speak on "Discussion in the Speech Program." A demonstration discussion will follow by students of the College and the University of Minnesota. Representing River Falls will be Annette Peterson, moderator, Larry Henneman and Shirley Engleman. Analysis of the panel will be Dr. Howell and this will conclude the morning program.

The afternoon session will be devoted to debate. Debates will be given by the regional high schools, Amery and New Richmond. Topics for debate will be "The U.S. Should Adopt a Policy of Free Trade" and "What Should Be The Educational Objectives of Debate." On the panel will be Clifford Thorpe, New Richmond; E. P. Rock, Hudson; Helen Hartwig, Hammond; Walter J. Engler and Blake Anderson, River Falls. Concluding remarks will be by Dr. P. Chisholm; and the conference will close at 3:30 p.m. with a coffee hour, compliments of the college.

District Music Meeting Sept. 27

The annual district Wisconsin School Music Association meeting will be held Sept. 27 at Amery at 7:15 p.m. in the high school cafeteria. A 6:30 supper is available at the hotel for those who can come early. This district, made up of 40 schools with their music directors and their administrators, meet to decide and discuss problems relative to this area and report them to the state, so states Mr. Jadinak, chairman of this district.

MORE WOMEN NEEDED

More women are needed at Wisconsin State College, agreed a panel of River Falls students recently. Such topics are covered each week in Dr. Walter Engler's class in discussion.

The fact that only 69 of the 290 freshman are females is causing concern among many of the college men. One member of the panel, Don Carew, claimed that students here are becoming socially maladjusted, because of the sex ratio.

THE POET'S CORNER

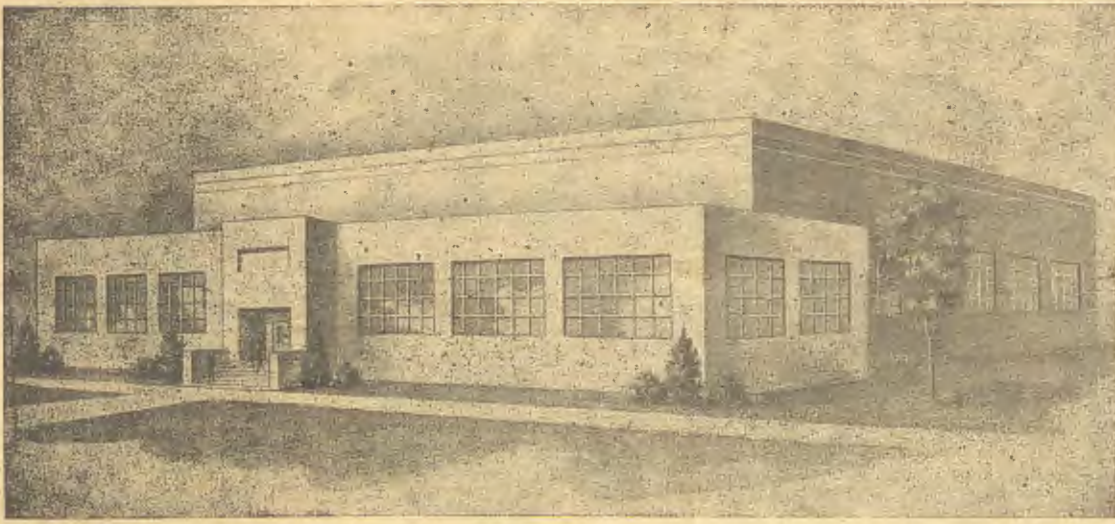

Milady's Gown

Why did you buy that gown, my dear?
That airy fabric, silky, sheer,
That emphasizes every bulge
And makes your waist quite disappear?
It was not made for you, my love;
Ah! Many things you're worthy of,
But this does not belong, I fear—
It does not fit from there to here!
On that window model, fair,
Fair it looked,
With its airy strands uplifted.
You had that hourglass figure once,
But the sands of time have shifted.

Planning Funds Released For PE Building Here

August 17, 1954 will be a red letter date in the history of Wisconsin State College at River Falls for on that day the Board of Regents of State Colleges authorized the College to employ architectural services for the preliminary planning of a Health and Physical Education building. Funds for this purpose had previously been released by the State Building Commission.

In 1947 the Regents established a priority list for buildings to be constructed by the state college system. At the present time the list is headed by Superior, followed by Milwaukee and River Falls. The Board resolution instructed the three colleges to proceed with their preliminary sketches.

"We have reached another milestone in the development of the College," commented President Kleinpell. "While the resolution of our Board of Regents does not authorize us to construct the building, it does provide funds for the preliminary sketches. Of course, construction must wait upon the allotment of moneys by the state legislature. It is our hope that the forthcoming legislature will provide building funds to the Building Commission so that River Falls can move from the planning stage to the building stage."

Freshmen Choose Officers

Through the efforts of a very efficient nominating committee an orderly freshman election was held.

Gerald Johnson, more commonly known around the campus as "Louie", won the position as the Freshman president. Glen Hartmen was voted in as vice president, Lois Lucht as secretary and Mickey Tetzloff as treasurer.

No meetings have been held up to the present time, but the officers plan to meet soon to prepare for their part in making the 1954 Homecoming a success.

String Class Organized

If you are interested in learning to play a string instrument either the violin, viola, cello or string bass, sign up for the beginners' class with Mr. Jadinak in room 212N today or tomorrow, September 27th or 28th. Instruction will begin on Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. the meeting days are to be arranged.

This is your chance to satisfy that urge to learn to play an instrument. The class is open to anyone without charge.

ican civilization is the best in the world." Another, very frankly, wants to stay here permanently.

B. J. Rozehnal, dean of men, probably understands these new students as well as anyone on campus. "I was once a foreign student myself," confided Rozehnal, "since I went to Czechoslovakia at the age of 16 to study for two years."

Mr. Rozehnal has had much of the extra work since the international students began arriving. The State Department in Washington has to keep track of each student. Reports must be made; visas extended. In addition, there are problems of getting the students registered, finding them rooms, and orientating them to our academic life.

"Is it worth it?" the dean was asked. Said Mr. Rozehnal, "This is a good way to promote international understanding. This is our little part for the work of the United Nations."

Dr. Sayre, New Dean Of Women, Has Been World Traveler

by Lois Lucht

What sort of feeling would you have if you found yourself right in the middle of a riot or a flood? These are only two of the exciting experiences in the life of Dr. Sayre, our new dean of women. The Ceylon riot, a flood in Bombay, an airplane motor stopping directly over the Pacific Ocean and many other such events are part of her life.

Mrs. Baxter Paige Sayre, more commonly known as Dr. Mildred B. Sayre, was born in a town near Niagara Falls, New York, and was brought up in Chicago. She became the bride of Baxter Paige Sayre and is now widowed. Mr. Sayre, like his wife, was a Badger, having attained his degree in agriculture at the University of Wisconsin. This brings into focus the fact that Dr. Sayre was a farmer's wife, which probably accounts for her love of cooking and keeping house. (Pie is her favorite food!)

Receiving her bachelor of science degree at the Chicago Musical College and at the University of Wisconsin, Dr. Sayre continued her graduate study at the University of Wisconsin, The University of Chicago, and received her doctor's degree at the Columbia University, attending school there in 1936-'38-'42-'48 and 1950. She also studied at Cambridge University in England.

Dr. Sayre is interested in sideline activities, such as golf, swimming, all variations of music, and writing. She has also written a published edition of a book entitled "Old World University" which was written as a report of her visit to universities in foreign countries in 1950. Among the universities visited were the University of Padua in Italy; the Sorbonne University in Paris, Cambridge University in Oxford, England, London University, and the University of Edinburgh in Scotland.

In 1953 Dr. Sayre started a trip around the world, returning this year with enough material for a book which will be published this winter.

"A Badger girl", she became Dean of Women in the Heidelberg College in Germany during the school year of 1942-43. Previous to that assignment she had been on the staff and was Dean of Women at the University of Wisconsin from 1933-35. In 1935 she advanced to the position of assistant to the Department Headquarters at the university. She held this until 1938 and during this time she was also assistant to the Dean of the Division School. Then the school year 1938 rolled around, Dr. Sayre took a place as a member of the staff and Dean of Students in the University of Chicago, working there until 1942.

After leaving Germany Dr. Sayre became the Dean of Women in Arizona State College from 1943-45. In 1945 she became chairman of Division of Student Affairs. Dr. Sayre has also been Personnel director at Southwest Texas State Teacher's College in San Marcos, Texas.

It is only common that a person with such a background of educational experience would also take an active part in so-called "extra curricular" activities. This is especially true of our Dean. Dr. Sayre is included and is the president of many outstanding organizations. To name a few, she is a member of the American Academy of Political and Social Science; the American College Personnel Association; National Association of Deans of Women; the Phi Upsilon Omicron; Kappa Kappa Delta; Phi Delta Gamma and numerous others.

Even though Dr. Sayre has seen almost all of the world, she can still truthfully say that she loves our small college, "... because of the friendliness, genuineness, and spirit of the students, I think River Falls is a grand school."

Film Lending Service Established Here

A new film-lending service is now available to the residents of western Wisconsin through the cooperative efforts of Wisconsin State College at River Falls and the Bureau of Audio-Visual Instruction, University of Wisconsin, according to E. H. Kleinpell, college president.

A film library has been established in the new Chalmer Davee Library on Campus, combining the offerings of the College and the Extension Division of the University. This cooperative effort, the first of such in the state between any state college and the University, will result in a greater selection of films available from a relatively close distribution center for the surrounding five counties.

Two hundred ninety-seven films, ranging in scope from kindergarten to college level are available to any organized group in the area for a small rental fee. Their circulation is not limited to educational institutions.

Robert Krueger, campus school critic teacher, is in charge of handling and distributing the films.

Persons desiring additional information regarding either the service or the offerings can get such information by contacting the Bureau of Audio-Visual Instruction, Chalmer Davee Library, Wisconsin State College, River Falls, Wisconsin.

Modern Style Band Formed Here

On Monday and Wednesday evening of each week the music of the Falconairs modern style dance orchestra, under the leadership of Don Cooper, may be heard in North Hall.

The formation of the present Falconairs was encouraged by the success of an orchestra by the same name which played here a few years ago. Members of the new dance orchestra are: Bob Strain and Glenn Sandve on the trumpet; Glenn Gill, Tom Hirsch on alto sax; Dave Zerahn, tenor sax; Dick Leach, baritone sax; Don Richards, trombone; Harry Elzinga, piano and Don Cooper on drums. The members of the Falconairs are all members of the college concert band.

The Falconairs are prepared to furnish music for college and high school dances in the region. Information on booking the orchestra may be obtained from Don Richards one of the orchestra members.

CRITICS CORNER

by Glenn Gill

The first convocation of the 1954-55 term presented two accomplished, charming, and versatile performers.

Playing for a large audience, the Jacks sisters, Jean and Barbara offered a varied and entertaining program, which mixed "classical" and popular selections in a manner well designed for a college audience.

The sister's outstanding duo piano performance was augmented by Jean's amazing technical ability and Barbara's captivating vocal interpretations. The audience especially liked Barbara's "La Vie En Rose" sung in French.

Their special duet arrangements added to the quality of the program. Especially noteworthy was the light, playful treatment given to "Oklahoma."

Their handling of Latin American rhythm was also distinctive as exemplified by their interpretation of "Comana."

Outstanding among Jean and Barbara's more serious presentations were their rendering of Rachmaninoff's "Tears" and "Eighteenth Variation on a Theme of Paganini."

The Jacks sisters are music students at Marquette University in Milwaukee. They have studied under the same instructor as Liberace and know him personally.

Liberace's style is often mirrored in Jean and Barbara's work. The girls have performed for television, theaters, supper clubs, and for summer resort audiences. These fine artists have impressed audiences where ever they have performed.

"Doc" Evans To Appear Oct. 11

Featured convocations of the Concert and Lecture Series during the 1954-55 school year will range from dixieland swing with "Doc" Evans, to world news commentary by Howard Pierce Davis. The latter has addressed our student body several times in the past, being warmly welcomed and greatly appreciated.

The Silvertones, Negro choral group from New York City; "The Skin of our Teeth", a famous play by Thornton Wilder; and the reading of the play, "Ghosts," by an excellent quartet from the University of Wisconsin, will highlight this season's series.

"Doc" Evans, one of America's jazz-world greats, and his famous Dixieland Band, will present, a "History of Jazz," Monday, October 11. Evans is touring the United States in hope that jazz-haters will become jazz-lovers through his explanation and playing of what he calls "classical jazz". Classical music enthusiasts, as well as jazz fans, have applauded Evans and his band from coast to coast for showing the true nature of this type of music.

His interpretation demonstrates that the playing of American dixieland music is not the low-brow type so many people think. It can be enjoyed by young and old alike, along side the popular and classical.

Recently he was the feature of the Unesco Conference at the "Doc" Evans and his Dixieland Band.

University of Minnesota. "Doc" has also given concerts at the Minneapolis Institute of Arts, Northrop Memorial Auditorium on the University campus, and at the Minneapolis Walker Art Center, the latter contributing greatly to his already wide-spread reputation.

Adding local flavor to this convocation is the fact that "Doc" Evans attended school with Ted Setterquist, River Falls chemistry instructor, while in undergraduate days at Carleton College. One-hundred per cent attendance is urged for this program on October 11, for it promises to be one of the highlights of the school year.
