No exceptions will be made unless authorized by the Registrar. Absences during the first week of classes will be reported to the Registrar's Office".

Waiting in line for their share of the roast pig are these muumuu-attired coeds. Hawaiian entertainment followed the feast.

Hawaiian Fare, Dance Are Luau Highlights

Roast pig, native dancers and a karate demonstration were but a few of the highlights of the Hawaiian luau and dance held on Saturday night.

Students had their chance to "go native" by wearing muumuus and bermudas with orchids and leis, and eating authentic Hawaiian delicacies while seated on the floor.

The music, provided by a combo from Illinois Wesleyan College, created a Hawaiian atmosphere during dinner, and later provided some American twist music. The audience demanded an encore of the group with a special rendition of "What's I Say".

The entertainment was provided by a group of Hawaiian students from River Falls and surrounding area colleges. Native songs and different dances, including the hula, were presented by the group.

A special demonstration in the art of karate was presented by several students. The exhibition of self-defense and controlled breathing by award winners in that field.

The entire evening was termed a success by many students. The luau was sponsored by the Social Committee.

Costumes, Documents Of River Falls History On Display In Library

Through the combined efforts of the history department and Dr. Josephine Paterek an exhibit of costumes and documents pertaining to the early history of River Falls are on display at the Area Research Center in the basement of the library.

The State Historical Society along with the State Archives Committee on public records is also contributing to the project. Through its recognition of the projects the Wisconsin Association of Teachers of College History will meet here in October of 1963, under the theme of "Grass-roots History Comes of Age."

Most of the items now on display, with others to follow, come from the Osborn Strahl collection, an early politician and settler in this area.

An invitation to students and townspeople to contribute articles that might be of interest and help in advancing this project has been extended by the departments involved.

Foundation Week Raises $700; Sets New High

Foundation Week wound up on Nov. 10 after six days of activities and preliminary figures indicate that a record amount was raised for the renovation of the South Fork area.

A grand total of $713.87 was raised, surpassing by $180.00 the previous high established during the 1961 fund-raising campaign. Unusually high receipts from the Ugly Man on Campus contest and the Wednesday evening midway, that were instituted during the week, sparked the total.

Biggest money maker during the week was the auction, which accounted for $203.31. The sale of "Booty for Beauty" buttons added $191.57 and the midway rolled in $100.52. The Vets Club took in $31.52 from their booth to lead all organizations, with Prucha Hall totaling $25.62 and UCCF compiling a $9.44 profit. Other organizations and their contributions included the WRA with $8.50, the Sitzmarkers, whose egg throwing area netted $8.36; the FFA, who collected $7.71; the freshman class with $6.00; the Y-Socialists, who raked in $1.61 from their "gyp joint" and Hathorn Hall, whose kissing booth reaped only $1.50 after an out-sized male buffoon seized their booth early in the evening.

The Ugly Man contest collected $97.35 and Don Duszynski, representing Prucha Hall, collected more than two-thirds of the amount. The West Chicago, Ill., sophomore collected $65.25. Hathorn Hall's horror, Mike Bieck claimed $14.28, while Don Joworski of the FFA, Dr. John Lankford, on behalf of the Vets, Norbie Biss of the Sitzmarkers and Judd Clifton of the Y-Socialists picked up $8.47, $6.06, $2.10 and $1.19, respectively.

The Thursday jam session gained another $49.00 and donations raised $35.00. Hathorn Hall gave $25.00 and faculty members Nicholas Jadinak and Ann Dubbe gave $5.00 each.

Two dances held on the weekend raised an amount of $32.41. The Foreign Students' dance totaled $10.31 and the Prucha — Hathorn ice cream dance raised $22.10.

A coffee hour sponsored by Ace Foods picked up $4.71 in freewill contributions to complete the income from the week.

Prucha Hall picked up enough points during the week to ease the big Vets Club margin in the race for title of outstanding campus organization. Complete point listings are available from Student Foundation Committee members.

Telestar Will Be Discussion Topic

Mr. Robert Savee of Milwaukee a representative of the Wisconsin Telephone Company will be on Campus to discuss International Communication in relation to the Communication Satellite Telestar. He will speak in the North Hall Auditorium at 11:35 and again at 2:20 on Friday, December 7. His talk is illustrated by a scale model of the Satellite. The talk is about 30 minutes and Mr. Savee will answer questions from students for the rest of the period.

Teaching Degree Available To Liberal Arts Graduates

The director of the newly authorized program of intern teaching will discuss the opportunities available for liberal arts graduates under this program at 4:10 p.m., Tuesday, Dec. 11, in Room 201, S.C. The program is designed for liberal arts graduates who have had little, if any, professional education.

Liberal arts graduates can be certified to teach upon completion of two summers and one year of work at River Falls. The program is reciprocal with the University of Wisconsin, when a master's degree can be earned. Candidates may enroll in graduate courses at River Falls if they choose and can usually complete the requirements for the masters degree in four summers. Candidates selected for the program may become teachers in any elementary grade or on the high school level.

Essentially, the student enrolls at River Falls State College in the summer, attends a two week workshop, enrolls in courses toward the completion of a teaching major if he does not have one and takes work in professional education. In either the first or second semester of the school year, the candidate becomes a teaching intern in the River Falls or Madison area during which time he is paid a $1,200 stipend.

Franklin Hobbs To Air Program In River Falls

Franklin Hobbs, the smooth-voiced disc jockey who has made WCCO radio one of the nation's top nighttime radio stations, will be on campus Friday, December 7, to broadcast "Hobbs House".

His appearance here is being sponsored by the Student Foundation Committee. The regular broadcast of Hobbs House will begin at 9:30 p.m., with a pre-broadcast dance set to begin at 8 p.m. Hobbs will be master of ceremonies for both segments of the evening's program and will be available for autographs during the 8-9:30 period.

Complete details of the evening are expected to be released during the next few days, according to Foundation Committee Chairman Larry Feltes, who arranged the on-campus engagement with the Twin Cities station late last week.

Fall Graduates

Students completing requirements for graduation at the close of the fall quarter are urged to enroll in the placement Bureau by Nov. 20. This is especially important for those who plan to teach.

Editorials

More Letters

Last week we received yet another letter concerning the now completely outdated and shopworn Homecoming Queen controversy. With apologies to the author, we are declining to print it here.

This is somewhat of a reversal for us, we realize, for just several weeks ago, we sought letters. Nevertheless, we feel that the subject content of the letter did not warrant its being published.

It seems somewhat of a poor reflection on a student body if it must cling to a dated subject and can find nothing new to discuss, or even complain about.

We hope that this editorial does not discourage anyone from voicing his opinions through the Student Voice. However, we desire the subject be timely, or at least worthy of print.

Moral Values

We heard one of the most distressing pieces of information that could possibly emanate from a college campus. This was the fact that in writing a book review for a class, someone ripped a review out of one of the books in the library.

This is an unconscionable act. It is one that one would perhaps expect of high school students, but then even they, we are sure, have more sense than to rip pages out of books. It is the act of a juvenile, one who has no moral values at all.

College is an institution where one learns and develops his character. However, in this case, we feel that it is not the duty of the College to teach a student not to steal. Somewhere in his education, he missed an important feature, that of values. If this person feels that his act gained him something of value, let him know that he paid a high price for it.

Last year, the daily supplement to the Student Voice had to be moved from the office into another room, where its materials could be kept under lock when no one was around to guard it. We hope that this is not the outcome of this person's actions.

If this person should be found out, he may be glad that we do not pass judgment on him. We feel that the College could get along very well without him.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

Letter to Editor

Dear Editor,

The Student Foundation Committee would like to express its gratitude to all students, organizations, faculty members, local merchants and alumni who combined their efforts to make the recent Foundation Week a record-setting period.

The Committee is now in a position to approach the South Fork project with more financial support than was originally thought possible and it is to the students and many friends of the College that congratulations should indeed be extended.

It is the sincere hope of the Foundation Committee that through a continuing program of student-related activities, the South Fork will join the many other areas on campus that make River Falls among the most beautiful campuses in the state.

Once again, may we thank all those who joined us in Foundation Week activities and invite them to inspect the South Fork, the new home of beauty on the River Falls campus.

Sincerely,
The Student Foundation Committee

Campus School Faculty Hosts Area Educators

The J. H. Ames Laboratory School faculty demonstrated learning procedures utilizing grouping and group dynamics last Monday before the Prairie Farm public school elementary teachers. Observations were held in each grade level throughout the afternoon.

The program was the culmination of an In-service Workshop in Social Studies which started last spring. Ron Laymon, fifth grade supervisor and professor in social studies techniques, was the consultant in the workshop.

Demonstration teaching is one of the functions of the laboratory school and is available upon the request of school administrators.

Swedish Film Here Tuesday At Wesley

Wesley Foundation will view Ingmar Bergman's film, "Sawdust and Tinsel", at its regular meeting Tuesday, Nov. 20, at 7:30 p.m. Bergman is known as an "artist" among film directors and many of his Swedish-made films have gained wide publicity throughout the world.

"Sawdust and Tinsel" is a study of humiliation and sadism. Bergman, in the film, takes a long sustained look at the darkest side of the human personality. The film is far from pretty or happy: perhaps it speaks about Man. Others produced by Bergman are "Wild Strawberries", "Seven Seals" and "Through A Glass Darkly".

This will be a regular meeting of the Wesley Foundation. Plans were announced by Daisy McKinley, program chairman.

Next Film Is Dec. 6

The Falcon Film Society will present a Russian film, "A Summer to Remember", as its third presentation of the season on Dec. 6 at the Falls Theater.

Clowns To Face All-Stars

Sunday, December second, the internationally famous Harlem Diplomats will perform against a River Falls allstar team, composed of former Falcon greats.

The Diplomats are Canada's version of the famous Harlem Globetrotters. With outstanding "clowns" like Hooks and Goose Jr., the Diplomats will display their bag of tricks for the home town audience, such as the magic circle made famous by the Trotters, only this time it will be done in complete darkness. They have been a top attraction throughout the United States and Europe. Having returned from Europe this fall the Diplomats have spent the past month touring the upper midwest states including Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

Volleyball Tourney Held

The results of the volleyball tournament held last Thursday, show that there were only five teams entered but the tourney was considered a success by athletic director, Ben Bergsrud. Team number two consisting of Felix Williamson, John Hogan, Frederick McKenzie, Newton Buckner, Jim Banisder, Him R. Kim, and Leon Headley won the one night tournament with a perfect record of eight wins and no losses. Teams number four and one tied for second spot with 5-3 records.

The River Falls alumni team will consist of such former Falcon greats as Dave Herum, two-time scoring champion of the Wisconsin State College Conference, Mick Lauber, popular all around athlete from Glenwood City, Dave Cocran, Mick Collins, Jack Delahunt, Neil Christianson, Jack Omer, Darrel Hart, Jim Hallen, and Jerry Carter. Other names may be added to this list and will be announced later.

The appearance of the Diplomats is sponsored by the "R" club, and tickets may be obtained from club members after next week. Children tickets are 50c, students 75c, adults at the gate will be $1.25 and there will be an advance sale for the adults at $1.00 from the club members.

"R" Club members will be asked to work during the game and at halftime with tickets, programs and concessions.

Swim Team Hopeful; Prepares For Season

Coach Russell Gerber and his 17-man swimming team have set improvement as their goal in this their second year of competition. Returning to the depths of Karges pool are lettermen Dave Fellenz, Micky Olson, Jim Hershinger, Steve Hay, Windfield Mitchell, Don Nelson, and Jerry Sargent. Several of these men are school record holders.

At the top of the list is Windfield Mitchell, owner of the 100 and 200 yd. butterfly, and 200 yd. individual medley records, and a member of the pace setting medley relay team. Jim Hershinger, another member of the medley team, holds the school's breast-stroke honors while River Falls' backstroking belongs to Jerry Sargent, a third member of the medley team. Two of the four free style relay men are back.

They are Micky Olson and Don Duszinski.

Coach Gerber is disappointed by the fact that several of last years standouts have decided not to return to competition. As a result, the team will have even less depth than last year. And so, many of this year's freshmen will no doubt see starting roles. Coach Gerber is reasonably pleased with the freshmen crop even though several of these men will don the colors of River Falls without the benefit of high school competition. He adds that there is still time to join the team and gain the needed experience.

Up to this point the team has conditioned on pace work of four laps or so using just the arms, then just the legs, and then both. From now until Dec. 6, when the season opens, sprint work will be the course of study.

Kegler's Korner

By Duane Anderson

The River Falls bowling team traveled to the Diamond Lake Lanes in Minneapolis on Nov. 3 to participate in their first Tri-State bowling match of the year.

Eight teams shot a total of 384 lines throughout the day with a total of 73, "200" games being rolled. The R. F. Kegler's took sixth place, a respectable showing, considering it is only the second year River Falls has participated in face-to-face matches.

The local kegers started fast as they took four points from Willmar and occupied first-place for some three hours. Wahpeton, our 1 p.m. opponents, took an easy four points to even R. F.'s record at 4-4.

River Falls managed to throw a 700 series and take one point against North Dakota. The last match of the day found UMM and River Falls in one of the closest duals of the day; 2042-2065. R. F. lost the second game by two pins but managed to get one point by a narrow 15 point victory. We left the jamboree with a total of six points.

Mankato completely dominated the Tri-State record books as Jack Frost had a 278 high game and Dave Nicklasson a 702 series. They also took the high team game and high team series with a 893 and 2467, respectively. Vic Londo, with 209, was high for the local keglers.

The standings of the Tri-State Inter-Collegiate Bowling conference are:

Mankato	13
North Dakota	11
La Crosse	10
SSS	10
St. Olaf	9
River Falls	6
UMM	4
Willmar	1

Complete results of the jamboree are posted on the bulletin board in the game room.

River Falls will host a sectional match here on Dec. 1. The local keglers will have to come up with a top team effort to advance in the standings. La Crosse, Mankato, St. Olaf and River Falls will tangle in what will produce an outstanding exhibition of bowling. Mankato will be the team to beat.

Sportlites

by Curt Thurston

About this time every year one of the big topics of discussion that pops up is that of sports fatalities and in particular that of football fatalities.

If it were left up to some people, sports that have any type of physical contact such as football or boxing would be abolished as being dangerous. Whenever an athlete dies while participating in one of these sports activities such as when Benny "Kid" Paret died as the result of a boxing accident, more pressure is put on by the minority group to abolish these sports.

Each year a certain number of young athletes die as a result of injuries suffered while participating in football. According to a midseason survey conducted by the American Football Coaches Association football fatalities, thus far in 1962, are down 28 per cent from this time last year.

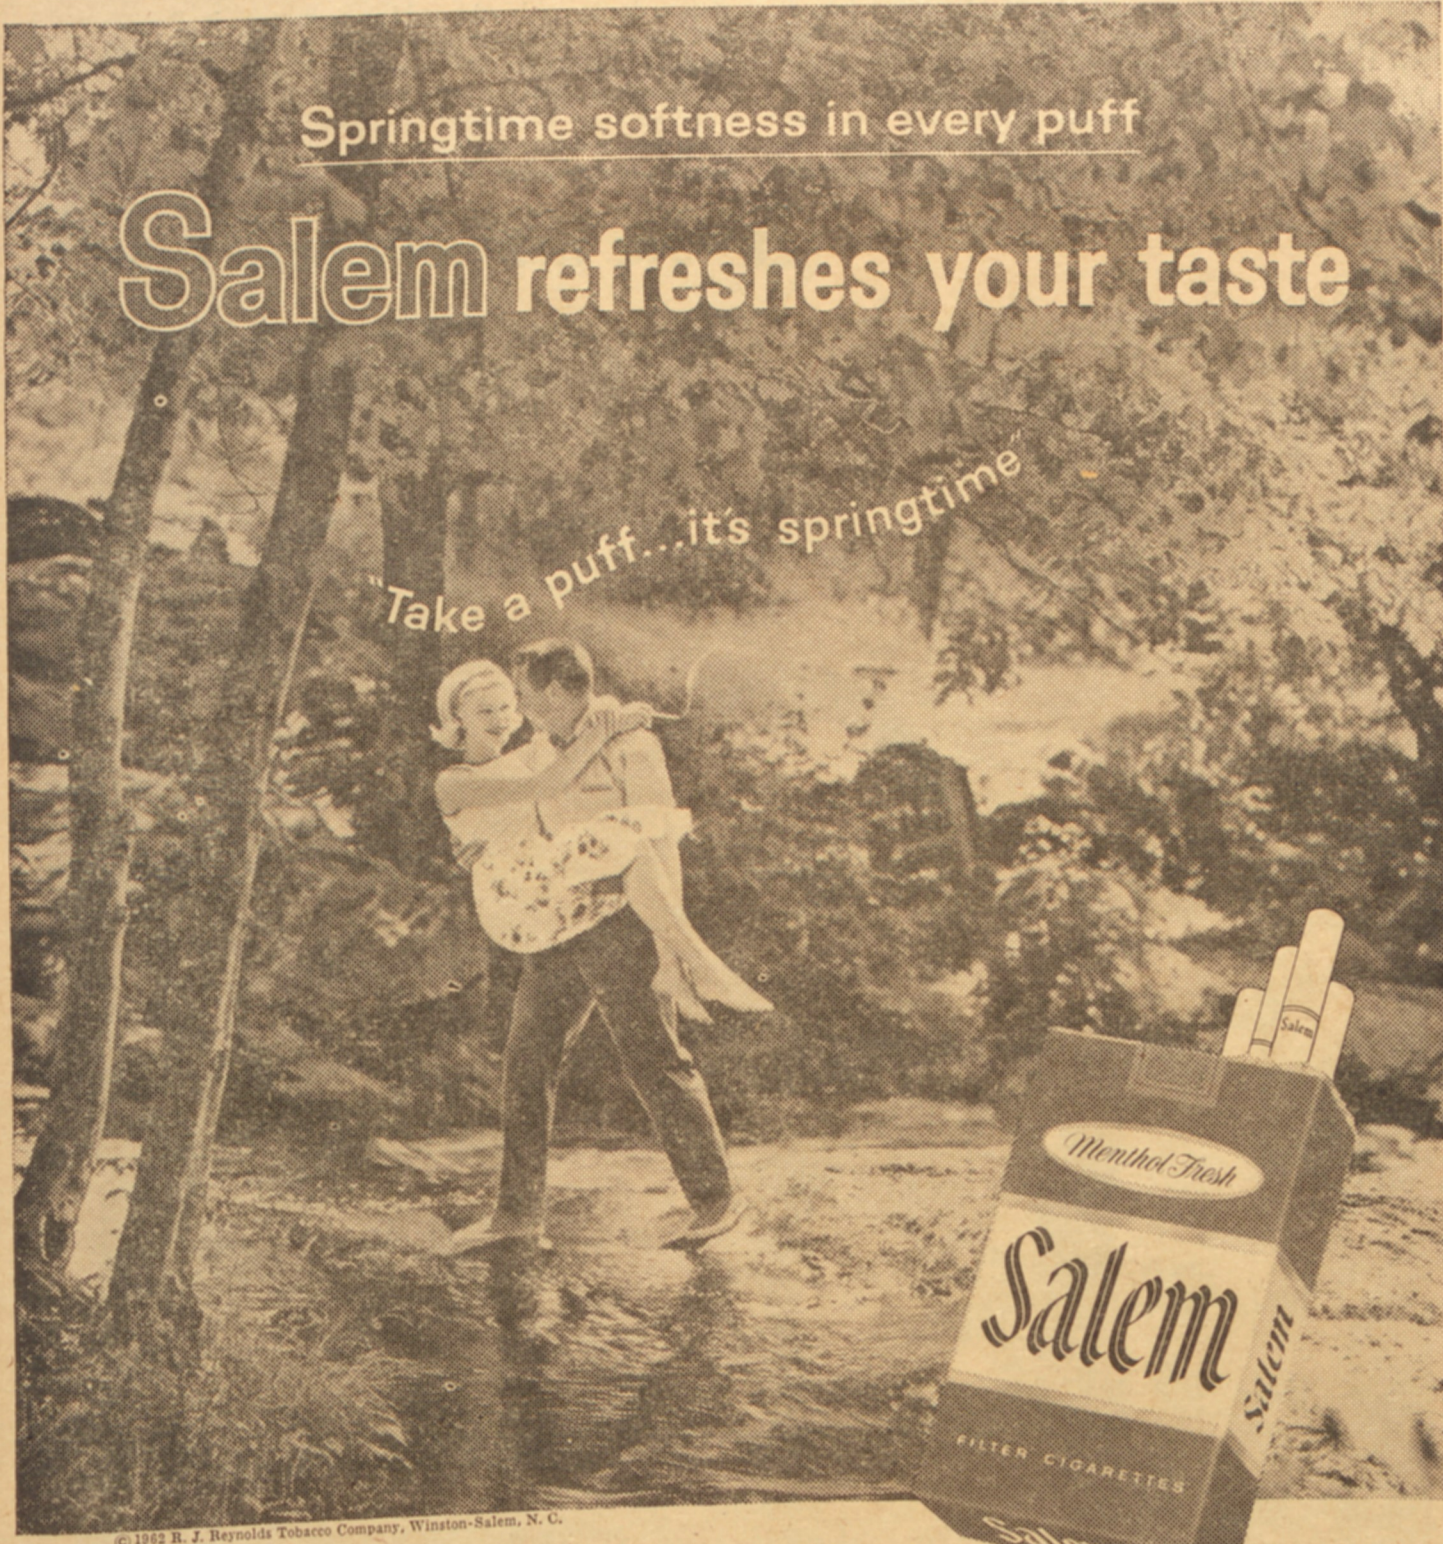

It was reported that so far there have been 25 deaths this season compared with 35 at the same stage of the season last year. Of this total of 25 fatalities only three were collegiate players. The rest of the total were the result of sandlot and high school competition.

Sixteen of these fatalities were the direct result of the sport and they became victims while participating in the game. The other nine deaths were the result of indirect causes while playing the sport, such as heat strokes, heart afflictions, etc. The three collegiate deaths were the indirect type.

I think the question is not whether to eliminate the game of football, but how we can eliminate some of the hazards that cause these football fatalities.

First of all great studies have been made in the improvement of football equipment since the game was inaugurated. When a player steps onto the field today he is wearing more protective equipment than any person aiming their automobile down the road. Probably the most important single piece of equipment a player has is his helmet. Of the 16 deaths attributed directly to the game, 13 were the result of brain injuries. But helmet manufacturers are making improvements in the padding of head gear and to date not a single collegiate or professional player has become a fatality resulting from a brain injury.

Secondly and maybe most important is the question of physical examinations and physical conditioning. It has been estimated that about 25 per cent of the deaths due to heart failure could have been prevented if player had had a complete physical examination before playing.

Ag School Holds Conference At College Laboratory Farm

The 14th annual conference for professional agriculture personnel was held Nov. 10 at the pavilion at the College Laboratory Farm.

The conference, presided over by A. M. Johnson, started at 9 o'clock with a welcome by Pres. Kleinpell. At 9:55 R. V. Elefson, assistant professor of agricultural economics, addressed the group on collective bargaining in agriculture. Mr. Elefson covered the interest arising from the NFO and what the farmers' opportunities for collective bargaining would be like.

Mr. Elefson said, before the conference, "At the present time I don't think these efforts can be successful, there's going to be a need for a change in public attitudes, and more specifically, in

Crane Writes For Book on Art, Faith

"Christian Faith and the Contemporary Arts," a recent book explaining the contact between peoples' faith and their culture and between their church and their world, includes a chapter by Jim Crane, head of the art department.

Edited by Finley Eversole, the book brings together 28 original essays by outstanding writers, artists and other authorities.

The essays deal with such contemporary art forms as the movie, television, cartoon and comic strip. Also are the traditional arts of literature, painting, sculpture, dance, music and architecture.

Mr. Crane's chapter deals with the cartoon, an art form seldom recognized as such. He explains the frequency of the cartoon, but he also states that most people do not fully understand its meaning.

"A successful cartoon is much more than a funny picture and the authentic cartoonist more than a distorter of reality. An authentic comic artist has a point of view, a unique way of seeing the world, and an ability for communicating this vision so that we are given new insight into people and events," states Mr. Crane.

He also discusses several cartoonists he feels are important in the theology of culture and includes various cartoons.

The entire chapter represents cartoons in the light of communication in the modern world and helps to bring together the meeting of art and faith.

English Head's Poem Praises 'Kismet Wine'

The November issue of the English Journal contains a poem entitled "Omar Gets a Job on Madison Avenue" by Dr. Francis P. Chisholm, chairman of the English department.

The Journal, printed in Champaign, Ill., is a publication of the National Council of Teachers of English. Dr. Chisholm's poem follows:

This program, brought to you by Kismet Wine,
A super brew from super grapes made super fine,
Announces a new product of delight,
A magic Distillation of the Vine.
Kismet, the wine they serve in Paradise
Brings laughing hours with it as a prize;
Streamlined, toasted, technicolored and renowned
Kismet, the sophisticated Potion of the wise.
One gulp of Kismet makes the whole world heaven;
The Potter pots himself by half-past seven
With Kismet, most delectable of brews,
From the caravan, Sultan St., Baghdad, II.
A hunk of bread, a jug of Kismet and a dame,
These ancient hopes of man are still the same;
And Kismet gives a reasonable facsimile
Of health and riches, ecstasy and fame.
So buy some Kismet; Stars endorse this brew
Which lights you economically with just a few.
Cancel dead Yesterday's too vain regrets;
A small down payment makes your hopes come true.
All this is yours for not a penny more
If you rush out and knock now on the door
Of Ali Baba's Cut Rate Camel House,
Our local dealer, MEcca 2-6144.
Upon the sand with you just let me lie
Under that great inverted Bowl they call the sky;
Big screen Kismet, two-toned for quick relief
Postpones until tomorrow that unanswerable "Why?"

of them dealing with noise and how to suppress it. Because of his success with these assignments, Ray earned a quick promotion to the General Transmission Maintenance Group.
