Tours and Convocation On Program for Today

Innovations in New Student Week activities will take place this year at Wisconsin State University-River Falls.

A one-hour guided tour of classrooms and the campus this morning (Tuesday) will follow the traditional get-acquainted convocation for new students, and a special meeting for transfer and re-entry students will be held in the Little Theater this afternoon. Tonight the freshman class will meet to organize and take initial steps in the election of class officers.

New activities planned for tomorrow include a "Cokes-Chips-Chatter" session at which all new women students will be guests of the Associated Women Students, a meeting of all new students with their advisers and a meeting for all new foreign students. Another innovation is a session of orientation lectures and testing scheduled for tomorrow morning.

Traditional activities to take place tomorrow are the talks to men students by Dr. B. J. Roze-haul, dean of students, and to women students by Dr. Nancy Knaak, associate dean of students.

Tomorrow evening will be the annual Church Night, when all students on campus attend the church of their choice for a special program.

Classes begin at 8 a.m. Thursday. The first all-school convocation, Thursday evening, will feature Marshall Izen, pianist-humorist.

Pep fests and rallies Friday evening will open the Football Festival Weekend, to be climaxed by a game between the River Falls Falcons and Augsburg College at 3 p.m. Saturday on the new Ramer Field. The game, the fourth annual Little East-West Shrine Game, is sponsored by the St. Croix Valley Shrine Club and will be preceded by a parade, complete with bands, drum-and-bugle corps and even a camel unit from Madison.

New Student Week began at noon yesterday, when new and transfer students started moving into the seven residence halls, two of which were completed last month.

Yesterday afternoon was spent in completing registration procedures and paying fees for those students who had pre-registered, after which all new students were served an indoor picnic dinner in Hagestad Student Center. The game room at the Center was open until 10:30 p.m. for new students only.

One Telephone Number For Whole University

Installation of a central switchboard at Wisconsin State University-River Falls has been completed.

The University now has one telephone number, 425-6701, which will reach the switchboard operator from 7:30 a.m. to 11:30 p.m. Emergency calls to the residence halls or special offices can be made by direct dialing when the switchboard is closed.

Each University department or office will have one or more telephones connected with the switchboard, as will each wing on each floor of the residence halls. By dialing only an extension number, inter-department calls can be made without going through the operator.

Five switchboard operators are routing calls through more than 125 phones scattered around the campus, and one more is expected to join the staff. The five now working are Mrs. Arnold (Helen) Johnson, Mrs. Bert (Janet) Foster, Mrs. George (Elinor) Neher, Mrs. Vern (Melba) Hanson and Mrs. Joyce Suten, all of River Falls.

WSU-RF Adds 63 Faculty Members

When classes begin September 8 at Wisconsin State University-River Falls, 63 new faculty members will be among the staff of 232 at the University. Of these 63 new teachers, 29 are holding positions that did not exist last year.

Richard Brynildsen will be an assistant professor of political science. He graduated magna cum laude in 1952 from the University of Southern California and earned the Ph.D. in 1966, also at Southern California. He has held the Herman Fellowship and formerly was a foreign service officer serving in Washington and was an American Vice-Counsel in Bangkok and Yokohama.

John Buschen, an assistant professor of history, earned the A.B. degree at De Paul University in 1961, studied at the University of Strasbourg in France under a Fulbright grant, earned the M.A. in 1963 and the Ph.D. in 1966, both at Indiana University.

Herbert Cederberg, who has been appointed assistant professor of history, attended Linfield College in McMinnville, Ore., and Diablo Valley Junior College in Concord, Calif., before earning the A.B. degree in 1958 at the University of California, Berkeley, where he was awarded the M.A. degree in 1960 and the Ph.D. in 1966.

Barbara Corrado, instructor in history, attended Lincoln High School in Cleveland earned the B.

A. degree at Hiram, Ohio, in 1964 and the M.A. from the University of Iowa in 1966.

Roger Hanson, appointed as an instructor of political science, holds the B.A. degree from Concordia College, Moorhead, Minn., and will earn the M.A. at the University of Minnesota this year.

Pei Huang, a native of Kiangsu Province in China, will join the social science staff as an assistant professor of history. He earned the B.A. and M.A. degrees at National Taiwan University and the Ph.D. at Indiana University.

John W. Mercer will be an instructor in political science. He holds the B.S. degree, earned in 1964, and the M.A., earned in 1966, from Florida State University. His major fields were history and government.

Donald Mockenhaupt, a half-time instructor in social work, received the A.B. degree from the College of St. Thomas and a master of social work degree from the Jane Addams Graduate School of Social Work, University of Illinois, Chicago branch.

R. Scott Muller, who will be an assistant professor of sociology, is a 1962 graduate of River Falls, with majors in economics and sociology. He earned the M.S. degree in 1964 and the Ph.D. in 1966, both at Florida State University, where he taught introductory sociology in 1965.

C. N. Stockton, associate professor of history, is a native of Illinois. He attended the University of Chicago, earned the B.A. degree in 1953 and the M.A.

Izen and friends

Pianist -Humorist to Perform Thursday Night in North Hall

Marshall Izen, pianist and humorist, will appear at Wisconsin State University-River Falls Thursday night in the first all-school convocation of the school year. The 8 p.m. performance will be in North Hall Auditorium.

Izen's one man show, "The Musical Satire of Marshall Izen," features material written by the performer, ranging from satire to serious concert music. With a background of serious music, including study at Juilliard, he pokes fun at the concert and operatic world. In some of his sketches, using the top of the piano as a stage, he works puppets with one hand, provides the music with the other and at times even sings the tenor lead in spoofs on opera.

Izen appears on CBS television in his own weekly award-winning show in Philadelphia; the show has won the Ohio State University award, McCall Magazine's Golden Mike award and the Baptist Convention award. He has appeared as a guest on the Ed Sullivan and Steve Allen shows and recently was seen coast to coast in a one-man television presentation for CBS's Repertoire Workshop.

HEW Grants Eight Fellowships

Eight two-year graduate fellowships in the field of secondary history and social science have been awarded for the 1966-67 academic year, according to Dr. Philip S. Anderson, dean of the Graduate School at Wisconsin State University-River Falls.

The fellowships were authorized by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare under the Higher Education Act of 1965. Of the 1,530 fellowships allocated, 52 have gone to Wisconsin educational institutions. They are Marquette University, Stout State University, University of Wisconsin in Madison, University of Wisconsin in Milwaukee, and Wisconsin State Universities at Platteville, LaCrosse and River Falls.

Priority is given to recent college graduates, within three years of the baccalaureate degree. Also eligible are college graduates who have never taught or those who have not taught in recent years.

Fellowships for prospective teachers carry a stipend of $2,- 000 for the first academic year and $2,200 for the second year, plus $400 for each eligible dependent for academic year. Upon completion of the first year, fellows who undertake full-time summer study will receive an additional $400 plus $100 per eligible dependent.

The University will receive a cost of education allowance of $2,500 per academic year for each fellowship awarded, in lieu of tuition and fees.

in 1956, both at the University of California, Los Angeles. He was awarded the Ph.D. at Claremont Graduate School this year.

Gladys Stone, associate professor of sociology, earned the B.A. degree at Washington University St. Louis, the M.A. at the University of Chicago and the Ph.D. at the University of Michigan.

John Wolter, who will join the social science department as an instructor in geography, attended the University of Minnesota, where he earned the B.A. degree in 1956 and the M.A. in 1965.

Francis McCann, assistant professor of history, graduated in 1960 from Niagara University in New York with an A.B. degree and earned the M.A. in 1962 at Kent State University in Ohio. He has done additional graduate work at Pontificia Universidade Catolica do Rio de Janeiro and is a candidate for the Ph.D. degree at Indiana University. Dieter Nowak, assistant professor of economics, attended the University of Mainz, was awarded a Diplom-Volkswirt at the University of Munich, studied at the University of Paris and is currently working toward the Ph.D. at the University of Minnesota.

Glen Williams will be an instructor in business administration. He earned the B.S. degree in business administration at the University of North Dakota in 1958 and was awarded the C.P.A. from the State of Montana in 1961. Ronald Neuhaus will join the staff of the English Department as an instructor. He holds the B.S. degree from Iowa State University and the M.A. from the State University of Iowa.

Mrs. Margaret Odegard will be an assistant professor of English. She was awarded the B.A. degree at Agnes Scott College, Decatur, Ga., in 1947, the M.A. in 1949 at the University of Wisconsin and the Ph.D. in 1956 at the University of Wisconsin.

Charles F. Owen, who will be an instructor in English, received the B.A. degree in 1964 from Heidelberg College, Tiffin, Ohio, and the M.A. in 1966 from the University of Nevada.

Will Nine Days' Practice Be Enough?

Falcon gridiron practice opened Sept. 1 with only nine days to prepare for the opening game, a 3 p.m. encounter Saturday against Augsburg College on the new Ramer Field.

Gwynn Christensen, starting his fifth season as head football coach at River Falls, is hoping to see 19 returning lettermen, who will help to fill the gaps left by the nine lettermen from last year's team who have been graduated.

Tricaptains for this season are Ted Ragatz, 190-pound halfback, and two starting guards, 195-pound Dave Imrie and 205-pound Joe Jilek.

Returning ends and flankers are Harold Blank, Chuch Madison, Tom Roelke and Dick Hodgkins. Doing the throwing to this quartet of pass-catchers might be the job of sophomore quarterback Bob Dorn, who developed fast toward the end of the 1965 season.

Christensen also hopes to see fullback Jim Baier, last year's most valuable player, quarterback Floyd Budenhagen, and linemen Dick Sievert, Lloyd Johnson and Phil Waller.

Biggest man on the team is Dave Outcalt, 240-pound junior center from St. Paul Park, Minn. And right behind is Ed Pohl, senior tackle from New Richmond who weighs 235.

The coaching staff also will be watching a number of freshmen and transfer students. Ron Blue, a transfer from the University of Wisconsin, is considered a good end. He is 6'2" and weighs 205 pounds. Another sophomore transfer is Dave Sempf of Glenwood City. His brother, Tom, was one of the Falcon lettermen who was graduated last year.

Among the highly-touted freshmen are: Brian Kriebich of Alma, who was a high school quarterback as well as a starting guard on Alma's basketball team; Gary Maier of Unity, a fullback who lettered in three sports in high school; Tim Bue, a tall flanker from Elva-Strum; and Jim Willi, a 235-pound tackle from DePere.

Assisting Christensen with the coaching are: Mark Perrin, Rial Smith, Bill Romoser, Dan Sullivan and Don Page, who is the chief scout.

Assessing the rest of the league, Christensen names Stout, Stevens Point and Whitewater in that order as the teams to beat. The Falcons play those teams in their last three games on the schedule, starting at Whitewater on Oct. 29, then playing Stevens Point at home on Nov. 5, and ending the season against Stout at Menomonie on Nov. 12.

The season ends a week later than usual because the Falcons have an open date on Oct. 1. Homecoming this year is Oct. 22, with the LaCrosse Indians furnishing the opposition.

Shrine Game Is Opener For New Ramer Field

The new Ramer Field will see its first action Saturday, Sept. 10, when the River Falls Falcons meet Augsburg College in the fifth annual Little East-West Shrine football game. Game time is 3 p.m.

The game is sponsored by the St. Croix Valley Shrine Club, and proceeds of all pre-game ticket sales will go to the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children, Twin Cities unit.

Participating in the 1:30 p.m. pre-game parade will be marching units from Zor Temple in Madison, Osman Temple in St. Paul, Zuhrah Temple in Minneapolis and Aad Temple in Duluth. The famous Camel Patrol will be a part of the parade and will give free rides to children during the morning.

King Boreas XXX and his Queen of Snows, of the St. Paul Winter Carnival, will take part in the parade and in the half-time knighting ceremonies of new Shriners. Other half-time entertainment will be provided by Shrine units.
