Auditing of the Financial Records of Student Organizations and Classes Was Started Today by a committee including Marion Hawkins, Roy Peterson, and Paul Prucha.

This service was provided for by the Student Senate early in the first term. Uniform record sheets were issued to the treasurers to facilitate the auditing.

Starting Wednesday, December 8, the committee will audit the books of the various organizations. Treasurers of the organizations are requested to have books in the Student Voice office at the designated time indicated on the following schedule:

Senior Class, F. F. A., Wednesday, December 8.

Junior Class, W. A. A., Thursday, December 9.

Sophomore Class, Science Club, Monday, December 13.

Freshman Class, Y. M. C. A., Tuesday, December 14.

Y. W. C. A., G. O. P., Wednesday, December 15.

Masquers, Rural Life Club, Thursday, December 16.

Student Senate meetings on December first and sixth resulted in the completion of arrangements whereby class dues could be collected at the same time that students paid their fees at the office. This innovation, it has been reported, not only reduced the work of the class treasurer but resulted in a more complete collection of class dues.

Students Interested in Oratory met with Dr. Walker D. Wyman on Monday afternoon. While all those who plan to enter this phase of speech work were not present, plans were formulated for the year's activities. Eugene Laurent will represent this school at the Eau Claire tournament. He will memorize one of the modern orations. Frank Sirianni and Marion Hawkins will write their orations to be presented later.

In Response to Appeals Made to the Student Senate by students of this college, the following resolution was adopted at the December 1 meeting of the Senate.

Resolved that: In view of the fact that the administration had published an examination schedule at which time students were led to believe term examinations would be held unless otherwise designated by the instructor beforehand, we the students of the River Falls State Teachers College, speaking through the Student Senate, cannot condone the action of instructors who fail to follow such schedule without notifying the classes concerned. Such action, we feel, is a violation of faith on the part of the teacher, and we hereby ask that in all fairness such practice be discontinued in the future.

Ideas for Social Service at Christmas Were discussed by the Y. W. C. A. members last Monday evening, December 6. It was decided to bring cheer to a former college student who is now in the General Hospital at Madison. Contributions in the form of candy, cosmetics, books, and money will be solicited by the girls.

After this discussion the girls sang a number of the favorite Christmas carols which will be included in a program to be given to the inmates of the County Home.

Following the business meeting a group of the girls remained to play games.

Motion Pictures in Technicolor will be shown at the next meeting of the Science Club, which will be held Tuesday evening, December 14, in the chemistry lecture room. The meeting will begin promptly at seven o'clock.

There will be three reels, two of which will deal with the various kinds of mushrooms found in Wisconsin. Miss Catharine Lieneman will lecture on the same subject and explain the pictures. The third film entitled "Game Birds of Many Nations" shows the game birds found throughout the world.

Organizations Will Find

An Altered Schedule of Meeting Dates for the following terms. This new schedule has been prepared by a committee composed of Roy Peterson, Lawrence Gherty, Jack Osborne, and Joseph Hyde. Norman Ordal, a member of the committee, could not be present at the time the new schedule was drawn up.

Under the new system, by a careful study of membership rolls, conflicts have been reduced to a minimum.

The schedule is set up in a four-week cycle beginning the first week of the new term.

Organization Schedule

Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. each Monday at 7:00 p. m.

Orchestra each Tuesday at 7 p. m. History Club first and third Tuesday at 7 p. m.

All Students Who Have attended either of the previous Mathematics Club meetings have been invited to attend the club's December party Wednesday evening, December 8, at 7:30 in the social room of South Hall.

A program of songs, games, tricks, and puzzles of a mathematical nature have been arranged.

Lenore Anderson, junior in the history department, underwent a serious major operation at St. Joseph's hospital, St. Paul, Saturday, December 4. Reports indicate, however, that Miss Anderson is improving as well as can be expected.

To Speak in Osceola

Professor J. M. May

F. F. A. Officers of the College Will travel to Osceola and confer the FFA degree upon members of that chapter Thursday evening, December 9.

The ceremony is to be part of the program for the Osceola father and son banquet. Professor J. M. May, head of the agriculture department, is the principal speaker.

The men making the trip are Myron Johansen, Mike Reagen, Walter Hansen, Kenneth Wall and Norman Christiansen.

Thirty-five Hundred Alumni Have received the 1937 issue of the Alumni Bulletin which was published last week by the Public Relations Committee.

It is a twenty-page record of the progress made within the last year by the college personnel, and it includes news of the alumni members of many years past.

News of the present student body reveals that the freshman class shows a high academic attainment with fifty-seven enrolled on state scholarships, which covers their entrance fees.

Comments are made upon the various organizations, such as the Masquers and the F. F. A. chapter which has been organized in the past year.

The athletic activities of both the college men and women are described and contrasted with what they formerly were. Reorganization of the Y. W. C. A. is also summarized, and the debate activities of 1936 and prospects of 1937-38 are reviewed.

Items of particular interest to the receivers of the Alumni Bulletin is information concerning the whereabouts and activities of people who have attended the college at one time or have graduated from it.

The committee attempted to make a complete mailing list of all the alumni but was unable to secure in-

Due to Illness

in the family of one of the leading characters in the annual fall play, "A Bill of Divorcement", the presentation scheduled for December 9 has been postponed. The new date for the play has been tentatively set for January 6.

"Student Health" Will Be the Topic of an address by Dr. William O'Brien, professor of pathology in the medical college of the University of Minnesota, before the student assembly on Thursday, December 9.

This will be the third time that this speaker has been in River Falls. He has addressed the Citizen's Council on previous occasions.

Dr. O'Brien is a noted speaker, and he is at present conducting a series of lectures over the radio.

Departments of English and History Are Slightly

Overcrowded, But

there is a shortage in rural and elementary groups. These are indications revealed by the placement of practice teachers in various departments of the training school for the winter term.

The ten history majors who are doing practice teaching this term are Allen Erickson, Walter Herkal, Dale Johnson, Joseph Hyde, Roy Peterson, Mrs. Maron Larson, Frederick Johnson, Lester Uren, Thomas Rendler, and Eddie Cass.

The English majors are Lillie Ahlgren, Lucile Spriggs, Maxine Peabody, Lauraine Isaacson, Dorothy Swanson, Mildred Pedersen, Elza Lou Hanna, Phyllis Soderstrom, Olive Joos, Elinor Boardman, and Howard Elliott.

Majors in elementary education are Beulah Paulson, Leona Weyh, Gertrude Peterson, and Margaret Boles.

Science and mathematics majors include Ruth Nelson, Orlin Anderson, Russell Gettinger, LeRoy Anderson, Leonard Hermanson, Robert Johnson, Allan Hilliard, Dean Johnson, LeRoy Leadholm and Kenneth Kunny.

The remainder of the fifty-two are rural students. Of this group Lois Wood, Stella Tobiasen, Effie Tobiasen, Isabel Murphy, Ellen Selvig, Marcia Nelson, and Velma Livingston are at the training school.

Elwood Linder and Russell Larson are at the Herum school the supervision of Miss Florence Jensen.

Vivian Lindus, Ardythe Grupe, and Marion Anderson are at the Oak Grove school with Miss Mamie Larson as their supervisor.

Violet Lubnow, LuVerne Johnson, Margaret Erickson, Edith Stewart, Joyce Snow, and Marie Hetrick are at the Clifton Hollow School supervised by Miss Lillian Woods.

formation regarding a number of the people, so they published only their names instead with a request for any information available from other alumni.

Brief summaries are also made of the 1937 Homecoming celebration and the Student Voice celebration of its twenty-first anniversary including a reproduction of an early Student Voice issue.

The bulletin is an interesting collection of data garnered by Messrs. Orville M. Hanna, A. N. Johnson, R. A. Karges, Walker D. Wyman, Russell Johnston, and Miss Maude Latta, who comprise the Public Relations Committee.

Students Will Be Given A Chance to Express Their Opinion on the Policy of the Student Senate and to give the Student Voice desired information by means of a questionnaire which will be presented at an assembly hour sometime during the first quarter of this term.

Only a limited time will be allowed from the assembly hour for filling in the questionnaire. So that students may have their decisions made beforehand and be ready to indicate their preferences rapidly at that time, a sample of the questionnaire follows:

Student Opinion Questionnaire

1. Do you want all-school parties on Friday night or Saturday night?
2. What type of party do you prefer? Dancing? Dancing and cards?
3. Have you any suggestions by which the Student Senate can better serve you?

Student Voice Questionnaire

4. Shall the Student Voice continue using "rocket" heads?
5. If not, would you favor streamlining without the "rocket" style? (Streamlined heads are complete thoughts and do not run on into the story, but they disregard the conventional rules requiring a definite number of letters in each line.)
6. What is your favorite Student Voice feature? Columns, editorials, sport stories, sketches, etc.
7. Do you usually read the editorials?
8. What is your most difficult college subject?
9. What are your two favorite magazines?
10. Do you believe that national isolation or international cooperation is the better means of assuring world peace?

Decoration of the Campus and buildings for the Christmas season by the Palette Club under the direction of Gertrude Peterson is being planned. Committees have been appointed and preparations have been begun.

The Palette club will hold a regular meeting Wednesday evening, December 8, at 7 o'clock. At this time all the members must have completed the linoleum blocks for the 1938 calendar which is being made as a project of the club. Members of the organization must pay their dues for the term before this meeting.

Signifying a High Degree of achievement, that is, a better than B average in all class work and also a high standard of conduct and cooperation, the following training school pupils won places on the Honor Roll for the first term:

Tenth grade—Dorothy Edkins, Muriel Pearson, Mary Louise Jacobson, Leone Timmerman

Ninth grade—Betty Alton, Muriel Griffith, Glen Anderson, Selma Manuell

Eighth grade—Norman Johnson, Bobby Knapp, Audrey Luberg, Marshall Olson

Seventh grade—Doris Boles, Harland Jensen, Bobby Pearson

Perfect attendance for the entire term was earned by Carolyn Goble, Muriel Pearson, Glen Anderson, Fae DeGoller, Betty Alton, Bobby Knapp, Irene Larken, Lloyd Sherman, Nona McCollow, Audrey Luberg, Ione Busby, John Anderson, Milton Monicken, Marshall Olson, Doris Boles, Bobby Pearson, Billy Chapman, Graydon Ranger, Gerald Laue, and Gene Bjersstedt.

Campus Kiddies Crave Knick-knacks

Dearest Mr. Claus:

First I want to tell you about myself; you see, I know how you feel about conduct and good manners, and so I want you to know that I am a very, very good little minx. I could have gossiped all my spare time away, if I had followed the rest of the crowd, but I didn't. I stayed at home and fixed my hair. So please be a darling and send me just oodles of nice presents. I'd especially like a fur coat like Helen Marie's, a little red hat like Olive wears, a subscription to Esquire, a pair of fuzzy earmuffs, some ski boots something like Frona had last winter, and a new address and date book. That isn't much now, is it? Please ring your sleigh bells twice when you come down the chimney, as a sort of warning signal so I can get the boy friend out of the way.

Your loving little disciple,
Clarabelle Campus

Dear Sandy:

Since I have been passing at least half of my courses and am only two months behind on my board money, I feel that I am entitled to the following miserable list of stuff: a new Homburg midnight blue hat (like Joe, Gherty, and Loell are wearing), a little old Model A coupe something similar to John Bradley's only safer, and some hair tonic that one doesn't have to "hunt" for.

Your affekshunit friend,

Mathematics Is for the Einsteins of the world." That is the interpretation of common thought in America. Most people realize that mathematics is behind the creation of airplanes, great bridges, and radio, but blindness to its humble uses in the life of everyone is costing the average citizen great sums of money.

With the extensive use of installment buying comes the significance of this fact. Installment plan buying brings with it the question of interest charges on money. The reasonable understanding of interest rates in installment buying is within the powers of a high school graduate; yet few people can calculate the rate on a purchase of $300, involving $25 down and $24 a month for 12 months. If they knew that the charge is 8.3 per cent, most people would borrow the money at regular bank rate.

Thus people go on accepting vague statements instead of working out exact knowledge. In purchasing a car it is well to know how many miles the car will go on a gallon of gasoline. Secondly, the amount of gasoline required depends on the rate of speed; mathematical thought arises: there is a best speed. In both instances the answer replaces qualitative information with quantitative fact.

Not only to individuals but to the entire nation is mathematical thought important. As an intelligent voter every good citizen needs to think mathematically to solve public problems involving quantities. As a home member every American needs to think mathematically in order to fully appreciate the conveniences created by modern science and engineering. Mathematics touches the life of everyone in the nation. That should be the interpretation of common thought in America.

Each Year As Christmas Draws near we hear many remarks like these: "I'm not sending many Christmas cards this year. I just can't afford it." "I'm sending cards to only those people who sent cards to me last year."

At least nine out of ten of these people can afford any number of luxuries. Their homes lack none of the necessities - they have all the personal possessions which people in average circumstances have.

Can people afford to send a tiny greeting at Christmas time as a token of the finest relationship on earth - Friendship? Can we afford friendships?

Each year marks a fading of the true Christmas spirit. More people give only for the material benefit they will receive in return instead of for the joy they could give someone else.

No one who has ever given a gift, however small, from the depth of his heart and who has seen that gift bring pleasure to some soul can say, "I can't afford to greet my friends at Christmas time." No gift can possibly give to the re-

Slants on World Affairs

Indicate That

Back to his native land has come the famed "Luck Lindy" otherwise known as Colonel Lindbergh. With his wife the Colonel has come to spend the Christmas season in America.

Two other significant facts stand out, however, in this incident. Why did the Lindberghs come in secrecy, and why did they leave their two children in England in the care of relatives? Maybe the question should be who doesn't know the reason?

Tired of unsought publicity, mindful of the notorious kidnapping of their first son, and fear for their other children, America's most beloved hero and his wife come here in secrecy. What a slap in the face for America and its citizens. What a mortal blow to our pride and arrogance!

Whether the Colonel came here for diplomatic or business reasons has no concern right here. It should be pointed out, however, that if he should even bring his wife and family back to America to live, we should feel deeply honored.

Apparently Il Duce and the Fascist government of Italy mean to have their "fingers in every pot" in world affairs. Without definite motives on the surface we find Mussolini publicly being very cordial to Yugoslavian ministers who came to Rome last week.

Maybe he has another potential ace up his sleeve. I wouldn't be at all surprised - he has pulled out some powerful trumps the past few years.

At the head of our State department is one of the most respected diplomats of today. Cordell Hull remains as one of the few officials appointed by F. D. R. in his first administration who was really qualified for his position and who today is gaining greater recognition.

Several years ago the general concensus of opinion was that an unknown imposter, a simpleton, a mere product of the "spoils system" had been named as Secretary of State. If our state department had been considered a branch office of Number 10 Downing Street, surely it would now be the office.

And yet, at the present, we find Mr. Hull a man of his own will and a leader in his own right. Rarely heard of, seldom making public appearances, this dignified Tennessean is a statesman to be proud of. European diplomats apparently have not "figured" him out, while Mr. Hull, with his fingers at the pulse of these foreign incidents, has diagnosed the situation abroad quite completely and is subservient to no one.

ceiver the thrill of inward happiness which seems to bubble like a fountain inside one's soul. That is the happiness which cannot be kept from the giver.

Gifts need not be large nor costly; greetings need not be pretentious. One charming lady takes time on Christmas day to call by telephone her friends who live in town and personally gives them her wishes and greetings. She gives of herself - a symbol of genuine friendship.

Someone once said, "Those who bring sunshine to the lives of others cannot help sprinkling some on themselves". Christmas is the best time of the year to try that out.

Rhapsodies

IN BLACK AND WHITE

Several years ago one of the star players on the University of California football team received a serious spinal injury which necessitated a series of operations. During the long period of his convalescence he began to study music. When he had fully recovered, he organized a dance orchestra with some of his musician friends at the university. From a small beginning his orchestra gained more and more popularity. Because he had made a study of what people like to listen to, and because he originated "sweet swing," his orchestra became one of the highest ranking in the country. That, in brief, is the story of Horace Heidt and his Brigadiers, and as a happy ending to our little story, last week Horace Heidt received the Radio Stars Magazine Award for distinguished service to radio.

Two more candidates for our private Honor Roll for Neglected Heroes have appeared: the freshman girl who writes her English compositions on Tuesday night and the sophomore boy who studies so hard during the term that he spends his spare time in examination week reading fiction.

We remember that during our young and tender years we made many misinterpretations of words and idioms, but we feel that none was quite as bad as an erroneous idea which a young lad had about a line from "The Lady of the Lake." Picture the interpretation he would make of the line, "the stag at eve had

Punning With Panner

With all the basketweavers peppering the back board like a drunk seasoning a T bone steak, the Falls should have a real season. With a "bucket brigade" like this, they should be able to quench the fire of championship laurel hopes that lie in the "hearts" of other coaches. We hope the other coaches won't be too burned up at being smoked out.

The way Mr. Elliott is carrying on is simply FLOR-N-ESS. Mr. Watkins can't see HOWIE does it. Herr Watkins thinks it would take AMANDA fill the bill.

Lady, "You don't chew tobacco, do you my little man?"

Henry Hermanson, "No, Ma'am, but I can lend you my pipe for a while."

drunk his fill," when the only "stag" about which he knew anything was a man who went alone to a dance.

The other day a music teacher was lecturing to his class on the various markings indicating tempo which appear in musical compositions. In order to make it clearer, he described "andante" as a slow walk - "the way you walk on a beautiful Sunday afternoon when you are out with your best girl." And then one of the be-around coeds broke in with, "What do mean - - walking?"

Paced by Blank and Moore River

Falls Scored a Close 30-29 Win Over the St. Thomas Basketball Team

Saturday night. A free throw by Cudney with but two seconds to play provided the winning margin for the Falcon five. After fighting off a five point lead during the first few minutes, the River Falls team took a lead never to be overtaken.

A twelve point rally early in the game was featured by long shots by Moore and a couple of well-earned baskets by Blank. Late in the game John Tarpey scored a basket from the side that kept the game tied, and then Cudney dropped in his free shot to sew up the victory.

Both teams used several combinations of men to test out the strength of their boys. Coach Lowery used twelve men, while Coach Nic Musty found use for the same number.

Paul Sokol led both teams in scoring with five baskets and a free throw for eleven points. Roger Moore and Harold Blank garnered eight points apiece to lead the Falcon attack. The Falcons held a 16-10 lead at half time, but the Tommies closed up the margin after the start of the second half.

River Falls missed six free shots and the Tommies missed three.

will swing into action Monday, Dec. 6th in the intra-mural program with a total of 130 men signed up. The program will be under the direction of Coach Emmett P. Lowery. Thomas Rendler will be student manager, assisted by Fred Dubbe. Athletic awards will again be given to the winners in the various intra-mural sports throughout the season.

The following playing rules for intra-mural basketball were drawn up by the captains:

1. All players must play at least one quarter.
2. Each team must have five men ready to play or they forfeit the game.
3. A team captain must serve notice to postpone a game twenty-four hours ahead of the scheduled time.
4. Each game will consist of four quarters of eight minutes.
5. A team cannot use players from other teams or players outside of the league.
6. The center jump is eliminated.
7. In case a team, having only five men with no substitute available, has four fouls called on one of the five

Dan's Dope

Pep Hansen, the local sport sage, has compiled the statistics on Falcon basketball and football teams of the past few years. Here are the findings:

All Football Games
Year	W	L	T	Opp.	R.F.
1932	5	1	0	32	60
1933	4	1	1	26	53
1934	5	3	0	61	122
1935	4	2	1	59	74
1936	4	3	0	52	64
1937	4	2	2	25	66
	26	12	4	255	439

Conference Basketball Games
Year	W	L	Opp.	R.F.
1932-33	4	4	237	259
1933-34	5	3	256	267
1934-35	5	3	249	309
1935-36	7	1	256	389
1936-37	3	5	293	288
	24	16	1291	1512

This represents a fairly consistent record in both reports with football having the edge as far as the most favorable record is concerned.

And here is the item from the late football season. Milwaukee Teachers nominated Wulf and Staley to their all-opponents team. This makes a total of three colleges which have placed the Falcon end on their all-star squad. In addition to this recognition both Staley and Wulf were given all-conference rating.

Another note of interest to Falcon athletes is the fact that Mankato Teachers is pushing Lapata, their one-man football team, for a place on the "Little All-American" squad. Lapata is unquestionably one of the best passers in this section of the country and would have received a good deal more publicity if he had played with a stronger team.

The failure of Nystrom, all-conference guard, to return to school this term is a severe blow to the Falcon hardcourt prospects. This makes a total of at least five outstanding men of last year's squad who will not be seen in service this year. It leaves Lowery with an entire new outfit to whip into shape for conference competition.

Speaking of the conference, Superior, with 6 lettermen returning, is expecting one of the best teams in its history. Those Yellowjackets have a habit of turning out consistently good combinations. Most of the conference teams go into action this week, so some indication of the relative merits of the teams may be obtained by watching the results.

From a booklet entitled "History of Basketball," published by the manufacturers of Keds basketball shoes, we picked up the following items:

Last year 8 million people played basketball in America. There were more paid admissions to basketball games than to any other sport. Ninety-eight per cent of all high schools have basketball teams. A basketball player is in motion 35 minutes out of 40, while a football player is actively in playing motion approximately 10 minutes out of 60.

Here's one that's of special interest to local students. The greatest number of field goals by one individual in any one game was 25, scored by E. Lowery, ex-Purdue star, in an Illinois town-team game.

present, a double foul will be given the opposing team on the fourth and each succeeding foul.

8. The referee's word will be final. Any player who is unsportsmanlike will be ejected from the game.

9. The intra-mural basketball teams will play one round; each team will meet the other twelve teams before the round is completed. At the end of the round a tournament will be held for all teams. The winners of the first round will play in the tournament for the college intra-mural basketball title.

Falconite Sketches

William Bartz

"I wanna be a football player." Little Bill uttered these words not long after he grew out of his knee breeches. He saw one football game before he came to River Falls. With that spirit in mind, Mr. Bartz entered the River Falls State Teachers College and became that football player.

William F. Bartz was born in Mountain, Oconto county, Wisconsin, on March 14, 1915, of German parentage. He attended grade and high school in that town, obtaining four letters in both baseball and basketball. He was captain of both teams in his senior year. He was named on a number of all-conference teams in his high school days.

Bill is a junior this year and a science major. On the football team, he plays left-half, and is the "Slingshot Sammy" of the squad. He captained the champion intra-mural basketball team last year.

His hobbies are swimming and hunting. He also likes venison and a certain brunette.

Prognostications

Last week Krosseyed Kelley picked eight winners for one hundred per cent. For the season he has picked sixty-six right and seventeen wrong, giving a final percentage of seventy-nine.

To bring everything to a brilliant conclusion, Kelley predicts that California will win over Alabama by two touchdowns in the Rose Bowl game.

On the basis of sportsmanship, ability, and attendance, an honor team of ten was picked by the captains and sport heads. It consists of L. Jorgenson, M. Griffith, E. Knutson, E. Svaboda, L. Jensen, M. Birkmose, L. Creswell, B. Pedersen, E. Manske, and B. Lovell.

A Late Rally by St. Olaf Gave Them A

Close 36-33 Victory Over River Falls on Tuesday Night. The Falcons held a 20-15 lead at half time, but were unable to stave off St. Olaf's final thrusts.

Simonson, freshman forward, proved to be the St. Olaf scoring star by garnering nine points. Blank led the Falcon attack with ten points. Fisher and C. Larson scored five apiece, and Tarpey and Schwartz were close on their heels with four.

Both teams got eleven field goals, but St. Olaf dumped in a few more free shots to gain its margin of victory.

The next game finds River Falls matched with Oshkosh on the local court Saturday night December 11. Due to a change in schedule the following two games will be played on Monday and Wednesday night, instead of Tuesday and Thursday. Both will be played at River Falls.

Kross-Eyed Kelley's Nominates All-Americans

Ends—Ruthie Phillips and Betty Larson. Just try and get around them.

Tackles—Chuck Stratton and Loell Larson. They'd tackle anything.

Guards—Miss Fuller and Miss Bradley. The way they guard that library - - 'nuf sed.

Center—Nils Sondegaard. He can stretch out and cover plenty of territory.

Left Half—Red Jones. A true triple-threat man. He fumbles, falls, and fools around.

Right Half—Niles Grunke. He installed himself in the hearts of the fans by his masterly performance on the Masquers' team the night before the Homecoming game.

Fullback—Frank Sirianni. He will plunge brilliantly into anything. He proved his ability when promoting the Rooters' Club.

Quarter—Joseph Hyde. A great strategist. His football playing is likened to his (Wyman) campaign managing.

Collegiate Twenty-third Psalm

Mr. Hanna is my teacher;
I shall not pass;
He maketh me explain hard sentences
And exposeth my ignorance to the class;
He restoreth my sorrows
And causeth me much misery
For my classes' sake.
Yea, tho I study till midnight,
I shall gain no knowledge,
For verbs bother me.
He rendereth a scolding in the presence of the class;
I receiveth a low mark.
Surely distress and sadness shall follow me all the days of my course,
And I shall remain in the grammar class forever.

*A coonskin coat, we've heard it said,
Wards off chill winds from heel to head;
In which respect its chief vocation's
Much like No Draft Ventilation's.*

Folks take such things as No Draft Ventilation as a matter of course now that all GM cars have this improvement. But when you add Knee-Action, the Unisteel Body, the Turret Top, improved Hydraulic Brakes and a steady parade of betterments—you see how a great organization moves ahead—using its resources for the benefit of the public—giving greater value as it wins greater sales.

THE LOUDSPEAKER

Freshmen will know by this week end, if they haven't found out during the last few days, what their parents meant when they said, "Now be sure and study when you get to college." Some notably difficult exams were thrust upon them with the result being that wails of distress are still going up. How, they wonder, can the upperclassmen affect that smug air of unconcern when the subject of test is raised? It won't be long until they'll find out that that "air" is nothing but a resignation to an ignominious fate of "C's" and "D's."

We hope that the faculty can be persuaded to put on one of their fine Christmas parties again this year. Two years ago it was such a successful event that people are still referring to it as an ideal illustration of the kind of friendly fellowship that should exist between "studes" and "profs."

The "Winter Physical-Conditioning Society" has started up again this week. Of course its accepted name is the Intra-mural Basketball League, but so many football and baseball men are enrolled as members that its primary purpose has become one of waist-reduction! Now the main job is to keep Eddie Cass from throwing body blocks and to get Mel Erickson's old undershirt dry-cleaned and pressed.

The education department ought to award Masquer members some credit hours in sales psychology. They've worked plenty hard this week selling tickets to A Bill of Divorcement, the fall play, and have probably devoted as much time and energy in this work as was applied to any other education course.

For conscientious devotion to duty we give you "Doc" Williams, the czar of history. Last week he got out of a sick bed at least three times to present his final examinations, the latter being as vigorous as ever.

We hope that the registrar's office takes its time mailing our report cards home. The reason why is this. Among the batches of Christmas cards that will be arriving at everyone's door very shortly a little article such as a report envelope may go unnoticed; thus expected repercussions may be averted.
