MABE "THE STUDENT VOICE" IS A MINOR SCHOOL ACTIVITY

Judging from the attitude of the students here towards "The Student Voice," it seems as though our school paper doesn't amount to much. When it comes out on Friday of each week, it is more or less indifferently read and as indifferently forgotten—unless it should fail to appear. The students apparently fail to realize that it is their paper, and as such, its quality and life depends upon their responsibility in the matter. The popular attitude seems to be that "The Student Voice" is not of the student body, but merely for the student body.

Once in a while some thoughtless person will criticize or "knock" the paper, blaming someone else without moving a finger to do anything himself.

"The Student Voice," it seems, is regarded as a minor school activity here. Staff members, with the exception of two or three, perhaps, have given and are giving the paper merely what is left of their time, after they have finished their other work and have had their recreation. A paper such as we are trying to make of "The Student Voice," in a school the size of this, requires the best talent the school can supply, lots of it, and a great deal of hard work. Instead, it gets what—indifferent staff members, and the left-over time of those students who have ability. This condition shifts all the responsibility and most of the work upon one or two persons, who, like every other student here, have plenty of school work that should be done, but which often is neglected.

If this condition continues to exist but one solution remains—to put out a smaller sheet—a high school paper.

DO YOU KNOW THE LIBRARY?

"Where are the encyclopedias in this library?" was heard all over the library this week in the cramming for information on some one word for—you all know—themes, of course.

Some students said, "I don't know," others, "I'm looking for one myself." Perhaps a few who were asked guided the questioner to one of the good books sought.

Ah, if we only knew the abundance of material in our library, and not only that, but where to find it—then we might go about our search with more assurance for results.

Student, there are three different dictionaries for word study (don't you remember the Century which is in volumes?) five good encyclopedias and several synonym and antonym books. Can you find them? There is so much material in everyone of these that we don't know that it will pay you well to glance through a volume in those few spare moments before the bell rings, instead of talking in an undertone to the one across the table. There are pages and pages that will interest each one of you if you'll only "expose" yourself to them.

Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia is one of our most interesting ones. It is bound in red covers and stands above the stack by the north dictionary shelf. Take down a copy and look it over.

Get Acquainted With Library
Take a few minutes to look over the array of books and be prepared to go directly to the best information. Don't forget the "star books" to the right of the magazine rack. The almanac, blue book, word books, encyclopedias of musicians, political quotations, proverbs and the like are found there.

When in doubt don't hesitate to ask for information and help from those in charge of the library. Look around with your eyes open.

THREE CHEERS FOR THE BAND

The band which played at the last basketball game was a band that River Falls Normal could be well proud of. The various sections of the organization were more complete than before, and they got off their tunes in a snappy style. We've got a good leader, plenty of players, and all we need is some regular practices with all members out to them. With plenty of hard work we will have one of the snappiest organizations in the state. Let's all get behind of the band—when they play a good number at a game or at a mass meeting or at a program, let's give them a loud hand. There's nothing like a good band in a political campaign, in a war, or in a Normal school. Um-tee-um-um-tum-tum.

Contributed.

A TRIBUTE

To the Editor of the Student Voice: I believe that if we would stop and look around once in a while we would find some very worth-while people in this school. I mean we would find some students who are doing just as much in their way for the school as are the debaters, the athletes, or the orators, but who are not continually getting the Rah, Rahs all of the time. Please don't get the impression that I am condemning the types last mentioned. To show you exactly what I mean let me give a concrete example.

When I came here several years ago, there was a student who many students at that time would poke fun at or treat in a light manner behind his back. He was rather misunderstood, but he kept on with his same serious purpose in mind.

Upon occasion I had to take charge of a meeting in which I needed some help. After asking several who coined good excuses to let themselves out of the work, I asked the gentleman about whom I am writing if he would take part to help me out. He said, "All right!" and he put on two acts. Since then I have come to know that whenever you ask him to do anything for the benefit of River Falls Normal, he gives you his customary All Right and puts all of his talent into the project.

The man whom some scorned because he was not in their set is now one of the hardest working, and most respected members of the Civic Club and Lincolnian Debating Society. It was he who made the parade at Homecoming a grand success. He is one who you can appoint to a committee, and then you can forget about the work of that committee for you know the work will be done. He directed our successful circus last fall, and he is directing the Meletean Vaudeville—both of these enterprises are in a line which is truly his. He is Editor-in-Chief of the 1927 Meletean. What a record—with never a Rah! Rah! from the crowd. I take off my hat to our trooper, Sidney Scoville.

From one who does not believe in saving the flowers for the casket.

DELEGATES TO NAT. STUDENT CONFERENCE TELL OF TRIP TO MUSEUM

During their stay in Milwaukee while attending the National Student Conference held there during the Christmas holidays, some of the delegates from River Falls spent their spare time in visiting places of interest in the capitol city.

One of the places visited was the Milwaukee Museum of Natural History. This is the largest municipal museum in the country and ranks fourth or fifth in the world. It now occupies about half a block.

The exhibits are on the first three floors. The offices are on the fourth. Albert Fuller, a graduate of the River Falls State Normal, is curator there.

Lucille Malott, one of the delegates who visited the Museum, writes this: "One of the most interesting portions was the new forms of exhibits. Instead of putting things behind glass on a white background with the scientific name attached, the specimens are arranged in a group with surrounding characteristics to their natural habits. Even the smallest wax flower in these is botanically accurate."

Pearl Reed, a student of the Penn. Normal school in Indiana, says:

"Another interesting collection was that of pottery and embroidery. The most exquisite colors and designs were used in these. Individuality was the most prominent characteristic."

Miss Hathorn, Dean of Women, says:

"I was greatly impressed by the group exhibits, by the size of the museum and by the model of a colonial village."

There was a very large collection of birds, from the smallest wren to the pelican, and from the dusky black bird to the showy tanagers."

HOME TOWN

Below is a reprint of a contribution by "Anonymous," who expresses his wishes in the following way:
Dear Editor:

"I should like to start a contest. My plan is this: I am handing in a write-up of a certain city. I should like to see more of them and learn where more students come from. If you wish you may publish this write-up in the next issue of "The Student Voice" and announce the contest for next week.

THE PARADISE OF THE NORTH Osceola, Wis. (The Heart of the Friendly Valley)

Osceola is situated on the banks of the beautiful St. Croix on the "Soo Line" 40 miles from St. Paul, Minn. It is surrounded by a prosperous farming community, engaged principally in dairying and stock raising. It has a large grain elevator, two banks, a large hotel, a modern High school building, four churches, two garages, one flour mill, and stores of various kinds.

For the tourist there is a well equipped camp. Fishing is plentiful on the river, and nearby lakes. Beautiful scenery of bluffs, river, creeks, glens and waterfalls, and a surrounding country dotted with lakes, abundant in fish and set in sylvian scenery. We invite you to Osceola.

Eau Claire Gets Neat Trimming Here From Red and White, Jan. 7

GERBERITES STAGE RALLY IN SECOND HALF, BUT THE FALLS TIGHTENS UP

The Red and White basketball team handed the boys from Eau Claire a neat trimming last Friday night by the score of 35 to 26. The Cox crew started out at the beginning of the game to prove that they meant business. It wasn't very long before the gang started to sink 'em and make the Gerberites feel out of place. The Falls boys were on, consequently they made their passes sure and sifted through the Eau Claire team without much trouble. After the first few minutes of play, the Falls was never in danger; the score at the half being 18-10 in the Falls favor.

Eau Claire Stages Rally

The second half started out in much the same way as the first half. The Gerber crew then began to tighten up their defense and do some shooting of their own. Hoehn, the Eau Claire forward, started a rally which put his team within striking distance of the Falls team. With the score 24-20 in favor of the Falls, the 'Claire crew going strong, and the Falls apparently slowing up, things began to look rather bad for the home folks. Their fears were unfounded, for Hunt broke through for a couple of "buckets" and put the game on ice. The Falls players then added a few more for good measure and the game was over with the score, River Falls 35, Eau Claire 26.

Hunt and Hoehn Star

Some of the high spots of the game were the playing of Hunt for the Falls and Hoehn for Eau Claire. Hunt was certainly playing a bang up game, with six field goals and two free throws, he led the Cox crew in scoring. Hoehn of Eau Claire made six baskets and four free throws to lead the Eau Claire team.

FALLS LOSES PRACTICE GAME TO HAMLIN

The Red and White journeyed to St. Paul Saturday night to play a return game with Hamline. The boys, tired from Friday's battle, nevertheless played a hard, fast battle. The first half was devoted to a try-out for the second-string Red & White players and some new combinations of plays. Hamline had little difficulty in running up a 27 to 7 lead in this period. Toward the close of the game the River Falls regulars were sent in and they scored about two points to Hamline's one, but it was too late to overcome the early margin and the final score was 41 to 29 in favor of the Pipers.

This week-end the Red & White go into their second conference tilt and will have the strong La Crosse quint against them. The game is to be played at La Crosse.

Monday afternoon Coach Cox took his boys to St. Paul for a practice session with the Macalaster college squad, and in the evening they all attended the Minnesota-Indiana university game in Minneapolis. Indiana, rated as the best in the Big Ten, won the game.

PARENT-TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION

A special business meeting will be held Friday evening, Jan. 14, at 7:30 at the Methodist church to consider buying pictures with money made from the play. The Art Exhibit program will come right after this meeting.

This change in plans is due to a delay in the arrival of the pictures.

I want my son to take music lessons. Shall I get him a saxophone or a ukelele?
Ans.—No.

What are things coming to when the Bootleggers are kicking about the stuff they buy from the dry agents.

Campus Interviews

Questions asked to people interviewed.

Should the River Falls Normal have a campus Bootlegger?

Mr. Al Horack—
I don't believe the faculty would approve of the proposition.

Mr. Geere—
Better not let him come near my glee club.

Miss Fuller—
He would have to keep out of the library.

Miss Bradley—
He could keep me in good spirits.

Sid Scoville—
Sure he could become a member of the firm of Norseng & Scoville providing he kept away from the fair sex.

Mr. Jacobson—
It all depends on the point of view.

Mr. Malott—
What do they look like?

General conclusion drawn—Faculty doubtful—Students more or less uncertain.

Mr. Mitchell: Mr. Olson, what is a Scotch joke?

Mr. Olson: It can't be a dry one.
Mr. Mitchell: No, it's one at the expense of some one else.

LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL AGAIN WINS BY SMALL MARGIN

By Phil Merrill

The local High school defeated the Ellsworth High in a very exciting game of basketball last Friday at Ellsworth, by the score of 12 to 14.

Both teams were very excited when the starting whistle blew. There was some real fighting and as a result no scoring was done the first quarter.

In the second quarter River Falls broke away and made four baskets to Ellsworth's one, making the score eight to two in favor of the Falls.

The second half was more exciting, and sometime disappointing for the River Falls boosters. Many times River Falls men would dribble thru Ellsworth and down under the basket only to miss an easy shot. River Falls missed the short shots while Ellsworth missed the long ones. When the final whistle blew the score stood 14 to 12 in favor of the Falls.

Not a personal was called on Ellsworth so River Falls didn't have a chance to make any free throws.

Notice the new man in the River Falls line up—Linehan as center. He was high point man, making three baskets.

Aurelia Play out "The Rivals"

The Aurelia Literary Society at their last meeting on Jan. 6, presented one act of the play, "The Rivals," and gave a review of the entire play.

The drama class from last term did the work, and they reported a very appreciative audience.

The Aurelia Society is doing a good piece of work this year. Come out to the next meeting, you, inactive members, Jan. 20, to find out for yourself.

The committee is working on a very worthwhile program.

Y. P. S. Have Open-House Meeting Tonight

The Lutheran Y. P. S. will hold another snappy, entertaining, and open-house meeting this evening at eight o'clock in the basement of the new Lutheran church.

Everyone is invited to attend. A very appropriate program of music, talks and readings, preceded and followed by games and lunch constitute the entertainment.

Everyone come out to this meeting tonight.

There is much business to transact, aside from electing a temporary vice president.

Civic Club Discussed "Are You Honest" at Meeting Last Night

Are you 80 per cent or 100 per cent honest, or have you failed?

The Civic Club discussed the question last evening, and the consensus of opinion is that 100 per cent is almost an inhuman attainment.

Sid Scoville and Shorty Clemmons were the chief speakers. They encountered some lively rebuff, however.

The Civic Club is working on a Lincoln's Day program which will be given in the assembly in four weeks. A sleigh-ride party followed by a feed is also pending. Yes, we do have a dandy time; come to see for yourself Jan. 27.

Rural Life Hold Mock Trial

The Rural Life Club met Thursday, Jan. 6, in the Junior High assembly room. An impromptu program was presented by several members of the club.

The feature of the evening was a trial in which tardy and absent members were brought before justice to account for their non-appearance at previous meetings.

It was decided to hold a campaign prior to the election which is to be held Thursday, Jan. 20. Chairmen were elected for the nominating committee for the two opposing political parties—the Radical Rural Reformers and the Rural Progressive Party. The elected were Lucie Garley and Jean Rhinehart.

G. O. P. Hold Important Meeting

The G. O. P. held its regular meeting on Thursday evening, Jan. 6. The session for the most part was given over to business regarding our annual dance which is to be held on the evening of Jan. 29.

Our program was a continuance of our brief study of several well-known authors. Edna Ferber's life and important works were reported on. Evelyn Sansburn reviewed for us a sketch of her life. Two of her novels, The Show Boat and So Big were reported on by Velma Dunn and Fran. Squires. Music was furnished by Evelyn Holt, who sang several popular numbers to ukulele accompaniment.

In view of our interest and responsibility in boosting the band we have been selling eskimo pies, etc., at the games. Keep the "cause" in mind and bring your dimes to the next game.

A WINTER SCENE

The campus, softly carpeted with newly fallen flakes, with her giant evergreens resplendent with their dazzling burden of whiteness, inspires within us the thought of him who said, "A thing of beauty is a joy forever."

Laugh It Off

THE PASSION OF YOUTH

With one sweep of his strong arms he swept her from her feet and crushed her to his breast. His nervous hands circled her silken neck. She snuggled close against him, and felt the passionate throb of his heart in the excitement of the crucial moment.

"Oh Birdie! You are mine!" he cried as he placed her neck across the chopping block and signalled father to let the axe fall.

Contributor—I sent in some ideas for you to carry out in order to improve your paper.

Editor—Did you see the janitor carrying out the waste paper basket?

Contributor—Yes.

Editor—He was carrying out your ideas.

Girl on the Campus—"Oh what a lovely elm, I wonder what it would say if it could talk?"

Her lesser one tenth-to-be—"It would probably say, 'Pardon me but I'm an oak.'"—Frosh.

Pat—"Have you christened your new baby yet?"
Mike—"We have."
Pat—"And phwat do you call it?"
Mike—"Hazel."
Pat—"Sure, hed cess to ye, with two hundred and twenty-three saints to name the kid after, ye had to go and name it after a nut."—Ex.

Simple, isn't it?
I never go with college girls,
I never make a date,
I'm never fussing on the quad
Or saying, "Ain't love great?"
I never take one to a dance,
The reason's plain to see,
I never go with girls, because
The girls won't go with me.
—Dirge.

The rich have one advantage. They can handle five or six easy-payment plans at once.

Whenever a small college licks a great university, it is just a practice game.

In the parlor, O my darlin'
When the lights are dim and low,
That your face is thickly powdered,
How am I, sweetheart, to know?
Every week I have to carry
Every coat that I possess
To the cleaner's—Won't you darlin'
Love me more, and powder less?
—Yellow Jacket.

A comedy is a funny story: A tragedy is the same story told more than twice to the same man.

The modern parent promises his son an auto if he doesn't smoke or drink until he is 12 years old.

"Step on it kid!" cried Sir Walter as he flung his cloak across the puddle.

"Why did Marjorie break off your engagement?"
"Because I stole a kiss."
"How ridiculous of a girl objecting to her fiancée stealing a kiss from her."
"Oh, but you see, I didn't steal it from her."

On the Quadrangle Steppes.
He: "I was a fool when I began going with you."
She: "Yes, I know, William, but I thought you might improve."
—Cosmos.

SLIM LEGS GIRLS

There's some one watching for girls with slim legs. Don't eat too much for a few days, girls, there is something in store for you. Desirable candidates may report their names to "Ike," care of the Student Voice office. Don't worry about the men.
