VOL. XXXVI NUMBER 2

"Quest For Maturity" Topic of Lecture For Assembly Tomorrow

A lecture on the topic, "The Quest for Maturity" will be presented by the Assembly Committee in College Auditorium Tuesday, October 5 at 10:00 A.M. The speaker will be Dr. Gilbert Brighouse.

DR. GILBERT BRIGHOUSE

house, Chairman of the Department of Psychology at Occidental College. He will be on the campus all day Tuesday so that students can meet him.

It is the belief of Dr. Brighouse that nations, like human beings, are not born as mature units in the family of nations but acquire their maturity with the years. How do Americans think? Are we really grown up? As a nation, are we socially and intellectually mature? Dr. Brighouse has some fascinating answers to these important questions.

The speaker to be heard here offers conclusive evidence of the valid practical function of the psychologist in the world of today. Those tempted to regard psychology as a rather impractical science will change their ideas after hearing Dr. Brighouse. In addition to his academic positions, he has been personnel consultant for the Electrical Appliance Service Corporation, and Research Associate for the Lockheed Aircraft Corporation.

In 1946-47 Dr. Brighouse was in Europe on a U. S. Department of Commerce mission investigating developments in Industrial Psychology in Germany, Scandinavia and other western countries. This international experience affords a valuable perspective in his evaluation of American maturity. Dr. Brighouse is on an extensive lecture tour throughout the upper midwest. This tour has been arranged by the Concert and Lecture Service of the University of Minnesota.

Name Bands Play At Cafeteria

Every Wednesday night, usually at 8:00, the Golden Rod Room (cafeteria with the tables shoved aside) is reserved for the exclusive use of all promising Arthur Murrays on campus.

Music is not furnished by just one dance band; there is always a selection of any of the top bands of today via records.

The band sponsored the first dance, Newman club the second, and veterans the last.

No cover charge, no reservations necessary, stag line guaranteed; so come one, come all!

YWCA SPONSORS TEA

The annual Big-Little Sister Tea sponsored by YWCA was held Tuesday, September 28. The girls were greeted by Miss Hathorn, Dean of Women, Shirley Swanson, President, and Elsie Mae Hanson Vice President. Miss Lieneman and Mrs. Johnson, the advisors, poured hot chocolate and served cookies made by the girls from the House of Molines. As music filled the air the girls enjoyed their lunch and started many new friendships.

FRESHMEN ELECT HARKNESS PRESIDENT

Last week the freshman class held a brief meeting and elected a staff of officers. The results of the election found two football players and two members of the "weaker sex" or a combination of brute and beauty leading the freshman class in '48 and '49.

The two football stars are Harley Harkness from Webster, Wis., and Tom Linehan from River Falls who are president and vice-president, respectively. The feminine members of the class elected were two lovely girls with Scandinavian names. They are Dorothy Peterson from Ellsworth, and Margaret Anderson who hails from Osceola, Wis. These girls are secretary and treasurer respectively.

The sophomores, juniors, and seniors held their elections last spring and the results were as follows: In the sophomore class, Mary Carlson, president; Donald Mattson, vice-president; Nancy Murry, treasurer; Mary Jo Boardman, secretary.

The junior class: Duane (Diz) Wilcox, president; Shirley Swanson, vice-president; Elaine Brown, secretary; Ben Montbriand, treasurer.

Paul Rogness, Donald Iverson, Margaret Ann Rock, and Christine Thompson head the senior class as president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer respectively.

The advisors of the upper classmen are as follows: Seniors, Mr. Wall and Mr. Mosher; Juniors, Mr. Kolberg and Miss Knox; Sophomores, Mr. Thoreson and Mrs. Brew. Information was not available as to who was appointed as freshmen class advisors.

MASQUERS TO PRESENT BROADWAY HIT

"You Can't Take It With You" is the rollicking comedy chosen by the Masquers to be presented Thursday and Friday, November 18 and 19.

The books have arrived so anyone may get a copy in Miss Mohrdeck's office. Tryouts will be held Monday (today) at 4:00 and 7:00 in room 121, South hall.

A brilliant Broadway success by Kaufman and Hart, this play has a cast of twenty; half of which are truly CHARACTERS.

Wanted: Prop men who can handle snakes, kittens, a printing press, explosions and xylophones without getting gray overnight.

Notice

Corsages will be sold again this year for the Homecoming game by the Women's Athletic Association.

Cafeteria Overhauled

A new overhauling was added this summer to the cafeteria.

Some of the attractions are: an automatic refrigerator, wall cabinets, and paint job for the "Snack Bar".

A new face was put on the entrance to the "caf". New flooring and dabs of paint were also spread on.

More equipment and utensils were purchased to give the cooks a helping hand.

Additions, which some students will not appreciate, will help the appearance and cleanliness of the cafeteria. Bussing your own dishes is a new trend that should be considered, and one should treat the cafeteria as he would his own home. Signs that have been noticed by students seem to help, but there is much more room for improvement.

ALL-GIRL ORCHESTRA HERE ON OCTOBER 20

The appearance of Bohumir Kryl, the famous Czech Cornetist, conducting his All-Girl Symphony Orchestra at the River Falls State Teachers College on October 20 will open the 1948-1949 Concert Series sponsored by the college. For the past 38 years and until the end of 1942, Mr. Kryl has toured the country with his famous band and orchestra.

Making his debut with the all feminine group consisting of the finest lady concert musicians of the country last September, the Orchestra at once became a sensation. Youth, charm, ability together with the personal direction of Mr. Kryl, the orchestra has just completed a state tour, covering over 100 appearances at college, school and civic organizations. The reception accorded this all girl symphony orchestra was enthusiastic and spontaneous. The excellent program presented by Mr. Kryl and his orchestra at once captivated the thousands upon thousands of music lovers who were fortunate in being able to hear this unusual group. Mr. Kryl will have with him outstanding soloist on his appearance here.

This is to be the first of a series of the fine outstanding programs which are being presented at the college this fall. Due to the fact the enrollment at the college is the largest in the history of the school only a limited number of season tickets will be offered to the public for the series. The first number is the only one for which single admissions will be sold. Inquiries about tickets should be addressed to the Chairman of the Concert Series, State Teachers College, River Falls, Wisconsin.

BLACKOUT THE BLUGOLD IS HOMECOMING SLOGAN

Shay Wins Homecoming Chairmanship

Harold Shay and his advisory committee are busy organizing plans for the 1948 River Falls Homecoming to be held October 23.

Mr. Shay won the Chairmanship over Benedict Montbriand in the election held Friday, September 24. In the pep assembly, September 23, Montbriand and his manager, Ray Henry, cam-

Newman Club Elects Shay

A record number of 94 students were present at the first meeting of the Newman Club last Tuesday. The meeting opened with the selection of Harold Shay for vice-president to replace Fritz Frazier who has transferred to the University of Minnesota.

Jerry Finn presented a resume of Cardinal Newman's life explaining why the Newman Club was named in his honor. Further plans for the year's activities include the initiation for new members, a series of twelve instructional talks by Father Shaney, and a program by Mrs. Boardman, of the University of Minnesota, who is a Catholic Literature expert.

F. F. A. HOST TO 125

On the evening of September 14, the first regular meeting of the River Falls Collegiate Chapter of the Future Farmers of America was called to order by the president, Gordon Jacobson.

A record attendance of 125 students were present. Of these, 51 are tentative new members. We are still looking for the rest of the freshmen boys in the agricultural department to join us as we are striving for 100 per cent membership of all agricultural students.

Mr. Willard Hamm was chosen general chairman of the rural school fair which will be held the latter part of October in the River Falls gym. This fair will consist of displays brought in by the various rural schools of this area. A program of entertainment is being planned. Judging contests for the rural students and other events of great interest are scheduled.

The second regular meeting was held September 28. At that meeting the F.F.A. decided to sponsor Miss Christine Thompson as Homecoming Queen. Mr. Kermit Quinell was elected campaign chairman.

A short but interesting talk was given by Norman Schabell on how irrigation helps the potato grower. We also had some fine entertainment by Dan Demulling.

The next regular meeting will be held October 5 at 7 p.m. in room 121 South hall. The customary coffee and doughnuts will be served after the meeting.

YWCA To Meet Tuesday

Attention girls!!! The Young Women's Christian Association will hold their first regular meeting on Tuesday, October 5, at 7:00 p.m. in the Social Room of South Hall.

All Freshmen are cordially invited to attend and old members are urged to attend.

WHERE COLLEGE STUDENT MET DEATH

A River Falls college student was fatally injured when his car hit a gas truck near New Brighton, Minnesota, Monday morning, September 27.

The victim, 17 year old Victor Leland of Norwalk, Wis., hit the truck broadside at the junction of highway 8 and Ramsey county road E. He was thrown from his car about 30 feet. He died on the way to General hospital.

The wrecked car was dragged until the driver of the truck was able to bring his semi-trailer to a halt.

Leland was a freshman student in Agricultural Education at the college.

Shay

paigning with speeches and a skit while Shay and his manager, Albert Tschudy, campaigned with speeches and balloons. Mr. Shay's advisory committee consists of Albert Tschudy, Vern Shay, Ben Montbriand, James Di Ulio, and the "Dirty Dozen."

Wallace Smetana won the homecoming slogan contest with the slogan, "BLACKOUT THE BLUGOLD." The Falcons play Eau Claire Teachers at the homecoming game on Saturday, October 23 at 2 p.m.

There will be a beard growing contest and a prize will be given for the best beard.

For homecoming the classes are asked to take charge of the following things: senior class, city decorations; junior class, campus decorations; sophomore class, gym decorations; and freshman class, lining the "R." The STUDENT VOICE will do the publicity. Duane Wilcox has charge of the homecoming dance, and Dick Phillips has charge of the orchestra. The "R" club will send out the invitations. The YMCA is to make the Queen's float. Albert Tschudy, Ben Montbriand and Harold Shay make up the committee to plan the pepfest. The FFA will plan the torchlight parade and the bonfire. Mary Carlson heads the sign committee. The welcome committee and the half-time planning committee consists of the chairman's advisory committee.

All campus organizations may have a queen candidate. Names of queen candidates must be handed to Harold Shay by Wednesday, October 6. All the girls will be presented to the student body at the primary election in the assembly on October 11 at 11 o'clock. The final election is to be held October 15 in South Hall. The main improvement over last year's homecoming will be the greater recognition given to the queen.

Phi Kappa Delta plans to serve lunch for the Phi Kappa Delta alumni in the cafeteria after the parade. The faculty will entertain alumni with a tea in the social room after the game.

Mr. Shay says many tentative plans which cannot be stated at present are being considered. Any ideas will be greatly appreciated and only complete co-operation will make the 1948 homecoming a success.

YMCA PLANS FULL SLATE FOR 1948

The 1948-49 program of the R. F. S. T. C., YMCA shifted into high gear Wednesday evening, September 29, at 7:00 P. M., when the second regular meeting was held. About 55 members and pledges attended the meeting. The main business of the hour was the election of the chairman of the "Y's" Homecoming activities. Elected to this position was Lyle Erickson, a junior, who is active in the YMCA as a cabinet member and chairman of the recreation and sports activities. His job will include chairmanship of the YMCA float project, skits, and campaign for Homecoming Queen.

John Rockman was in charge of the election of the chairman and of the nomination of the YMCA's candidate for Queen.

The "Y" has pledged its support to Miss Gladys Briesemeister for Homecoming Queen. Miss Briesemeister, a junior, will have the undivided support of nearly 100 YMCA members and pledges, all of whom, of course, hope that she may ride in that familiar Queen's throne on the key float in the Homecoming Parade.

Plans are underway for the YMCA Alumni Banquet to be The YMCA this year, boasts a (Continued on page three)

A Stone's Throw

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all of you who answered our "help wanted" ad in the last issue. The staff is now complete although we could still use one more freshman boy.

I approached Dr. Kleinpell and asked him if he had any answer to Kenneth Close's open letter to the editor which appeared in the last issue. You will recall that Mr. Close was elaborating on the need for a footbridge across the road between North and South hall. Dr. Kleinpell stated that if someone could get the money for this project he would give it his whole-hearted support. He also stated that he would be willing to bet Mr. Close that the footbridge would get very little use after it was put in.

Why don't you and I get into the habit of carrying our pop bottles up to the dirty dish counter when we leave the cafeteria? After all, the management has gone to all the trouble of putting up those pretty signs and besides that, if we don't do it, the price of pop will be raised to 10 cents.

The Veteran's Organization should be given a big hand for the fine dance that they sponsored last Wednesday night. More applause should also go to Wes Score, Elizabeth Williamson and Dan Demulling for the fine program.

Many of the boys around school are wondering what happened to the radio that used to be in the Men's Union. The World Series is just around the corner and the boys have started to worry about how they will be able to listen to the game. This listening to the World Series is almost a tradition around here and it would be a shame to break that tradition.

In this issue of the Voice we are introducing a new feature to appear in every ensuing copy. The column is entitled "YE OLDE SPECTATOR" and is written by Bob Platte, who is back to school after a hitch in the army, and three years of teaching and coaching. Bob is well qualified for the position, having done the same type of work for the Student Voice back in 1938-39. Bob would appreciate comments or criticisms from all his readers.

Dishwashers Not Needed

"I sure wouldn't have done this at home," is now a familiar phrase at 127 South Fourth St. One fellow, with soap-suds to the elbow, sheepishly admitted that he would ten times rather clean the barn or shock grain all day than to spend fifteen minutes in the dish pan at home. Still another, reaching for his third dry towel, declared it took his mother an hour to make him pick up a dish towel. Everyone who works part time at the boarding club, could make similar admissions of unwillingness to help in the house at home. Today, they are doing these same tasks and more and having a lot of fun doing it. Those eating are sometimes serenaded by those who are washing the dishes.

What makes these same fellows eager to do the chores at the Hutchins Boarding Club? Most of them will say it is the easiest way to reduce the financial strain of a college education these days. A few members will say that it is a way of making their spare time pay instead of pay out. However, Dr. Stone might hit nearer the truth by saying it grows out of the individual's desire to be part of a family. In other words, a wee bit homesick, though they would be the first to deny it.

The boarding club is home to all its members. Besides doing all the cooking, Georgia Hutchins and her mother (Grandma to one and all), plays mother for all the boys. And Gracie, she is little sis. If she doesn't stop laughing at some of the jokes that are cracked every day, she will split a rib. Every girl on campus envies her.

Spirit of Sportsmanship

Generally, when a college team, or any other sports group, plays an opposing team, the team is not only judged by its performance at the game, but with the spirit with which the game is carried out.

I doubt very much if anyone would say that spirit is not necessary to win a game, but the team receives its spirit from the group supporting it.

There is no mystic power to the development of enthusiasm for our group. It is a natural thing which grows out of a sense of belonging to a group and playing a role in the function of that group.

At River Falls we have an excellent chance to achieve a goal that most colleges would envy. The friendliness of our students makes us homogenous; therefore, one of the most fundamental requirements of college spirit has been fulfilled. Let us take it from there.

When we are at a football game, do we become sophisticated, or do we let our minds relax and join the group in their support for the team?

The cheer is somewhat like a vote. Perhaps one cheer or vote doesn't make too much difference, but the one cheer added to all those who don't cheer can make the difference between good spirit and poor spirit.

OPEN LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Last year the Club 21 received many fine compliments on their house decorations for homecoming. Even the St. Paul Dispatch sent a photographer to take a few pictures. Though it wasn't good enough to get in the Meletean the judges picked it first. The first prize was to be an autographed game football. A very appreciable price.

But here's our beef: We DID NOT receive our promised prize. An ex-player living at a competing house did. Though his methods were unorthodox they seemed to be efficient, for the ball was never returned to the Athletic Department. We tried to get it, but everyone passed the buck to the next person. The previous year the winner, the house of Campbell, had the identical trouble. Are we to have the same trouble again this year? The House of Campbell and Club 21 want some sort of guarantee that the winners won't have to beg for their prize again.

Here is our suggestion. A placque or a football could be given the winner required to win two straight years in order to keep it permanently.

We believe that under Harold Shay and his committees this 1948 homecoming can be bigger and better, but we also want promises kept, unlike the two previous homecomings.

THE COMING CAMPAIGN

Recently I heard a remark from a fellow student who said, "The less attention one pays to politics the better off he is." Now I always considered this individual an intelligent person with a sense of social responsibility. But I am forced to draw the unhappy conclusion that far too many intelligent people and even college students have taken this attitude.

Take the coming presidential election for example. From all indications thus far it will contain the same elements that have characterized previous election campaigns. It will be filled with bristling oratory, name calling, mud slinging, shifting of blame, we view alarm, and we point with pride sort of thing which makes up all campaigns. All of this tends to confuse the voter rather than enlighten him. However, while both major parties may be equally responsible for creating this confusion in the minds of the voters, the deficiency of the election campaigns do not provide a legitimate excuse for the voter to shrink from his responsibility.

Before an intelligent vote can be cast the voter should know where each candidate stands upon the current issues. But what is equally important is that the voter should possess at least a brief knowledge of the trend of each party. That is, how has it voted on important issues in the past and also from whom does it receive its strength both in finances and votes.

The Republican party has been labeled the conservative party with a large share of its campaigns financed by big business which of course would look with disfavor upon any legislation of a leftist nature. Combined with the backing of big business the Republican party usually enjoys the support of most of the newspapers of the country. The "Editor and Publisher" reports over 70 percent of the major newspapers of the country are supporting Dewey in the coming election.

The Republican party voting strength lies in the upper income groups and older voters of the country. The farmers, also, are Republicans by tradition. Thus it follows logical that big corporations do not help finance the Republican campaign without expecting favorable legislation in return. An illustration of this point can be found in the fact that the number of lobbyists registered with the Department of Justice increased threefold in 1946 after the nation elected a Republican congress. The amount they spent varies, depending upon how badly they want a law passed or defeated. For example, the Department of Justice reports that the oil interest spent approximately $70,000 in an effort to have the tide land oil rights returned to state control. At the present time they are under Federal control but if they were to be returned to their respective states, oil companies would have a better opportunity to buy these oil deposits. The railroad interests have spent approximately $133,000 to assist in the passage of the Reed-Bulwinkle bill while housing interests reported spending over $133,000 to defeat the Taft-Ellender-Wagner bill.

On the other hand the Democrat party, broadly speaking, is labeled the liberal party. Since there are more regular voting Republicans than Democrats the Democratic party must be the liberal party, that is provide progressive legislation, if it hopes to obtain the majority votes.

As the Republican party depends upon the support of big business the Democrat party depends upon the support of organized labor. In fact the three basic legislative enactments considered by labor to have provided the greatest advancement of labor's cause, were passed in Democratic administrations. The first, passed in Wilson's administration, as the Clayton Act which set forth the principle that labor must be considered as a human being not a commodity or article of commodity. The second is the Norris-LaGuardia Act, under Roosevelt's administration, which forbade courts to issue injunctions in labor disputes. Last of the three, also under Roosevelt's administration, was the National Labor Relations Act (Wagner Act) which enabled unions to negotiate agreements on an equal footing with employers.

However, the Wagner Act was replaced in the last session of congress by the Taft-Hartley bill over the President's veto. As a result labor has launched upon a vigorous campaign to defeat all representatives and senators who voted for the Taft-Hartley bill. While the Republicans cry that this was the wish of the majority of the American people because they elected a Republican con-

Looking Up The Precipice

The other day, at nature's call, I stopped at one of those marble cubicles with porcelain fixtures, that the school has so graciously provided for us. The first thing I noticed was the wide variety of artistic talent possessed by our student body. Within an arm's length appeared pictures, poems, lines of wit, initials and even brief combat histories of military units. A few telephone numbers appeared too, along with descriptions of the party. Some of these talented artists, eager to leave their mark on the milestones of time, have painstakingly etched their initials into the marble partitions.

It is nice to know that the student body has so much artistic talent, but the type of art and its location are definitely not appreciated. These walls and doors are scrubbed down periodically but you wouldn't know it a week later.

Some like to attribute this "art" to Kilroy, Smoe, Joe Blow or Pig Allee Suzanne (the girls are just as bad), but that is not the case. Some people you would think knew better, take a pagan delight in disfiguring every surface about them. They don't do it in their own home, why should they do it anywhere else. Let's not have anymore of this "art" appearing around school. Treat the school buildings as you would want your own home treated. And remember, if you don't do it, somebody else might not be tempted to do so later.

Sir John

gress, the union leaders answer by pointing to the fact that this congress was elected into office by one-third of all eligible voters and they feel sure that a heavy vote in the coming election will insure a Democrat majority.

Because of his defense of labor by vetoing the Taft-Hartley law, President Truman has been formally endorsed by the C.I.O. The A. F. of L. followed its traditional policy of not endorsing a presidential candidate, however, an unofficial committee of the A. F. of L. endorsed Truman. Also Mr. Green, President of the A. F. of L., said he didn't see how any working man could vote for Mr. Dewey.

Despite the fact that the Democrats apparently have the labor vote sewed up it appears that the South, their traditional stronghold, has been shaken out from under them. This is a result of President Truman's stand upon the civil rights issue. And from all indications it looks as if the solid South will be shaken with Mr. Truman running a poor second behind the Dixiecrat's candidate, all of which will severely hamper the Democrats' chances of retaining power for four more years.

Just how much thought of the welfare of the country Truman had in calling for a special session of congress this summer, it will never be known. However, it was a political gamble in which he had to take. Congress answered by denouncing the President for playing politics, refused to pass legislation on any important issues, passed inadequate legislation on others and immediately the House Committee on Un-American Activities started spy investigations. Congressional inaction left the President with a juicy target to shoot at. His campaign thus far has centered around the 80th congress. Mr. Truman is attempting to show the American people what a reactionary Republican government is like.

As the campaign gets into full swing it has become apparent that Mr. Truman is attempting to make this campaign one of issues not one of personalities. But in centering his attack upon congress President Truman finds it rather difficult to attack Mr. Dewey because he has no voting record in congress to attack. Therefore it appears to be Truman's strategy to place the blame for high prices and all the other ills of the country upon the shoulder of the Republican congress and conclude that the G.O.P. congress got us into this mess, see how much worse it will be if a Republican administration is combined with a G.O.P. congress.

Up until recently Dewey has remained nearly silent, letting his colleagues answer the President's charges. Because his position as Governor of New York did not demand that he commit himself on controversial issues, Dewey's record is a difficult one to attack. And apparently he is taking advantage of this position by remaining quiet as long as possible especially when the leading polls give him a definite head start in this coming Presidential race.

In case any of you readers know who Mooney Kobylarczyk is, you might be interested to know that it has been reported that he has become quite sports minded lately. In fact, last Wednesday night he set a new track record. Information regarding the identity of this person may be obtained from Ray H.

If you haven't seen Janice Radke lately, it's because she's hidden behind a huge rock on her third finger, left hand. School has been in progress for four weeks now, and the wolves have been working overtime. Incidentally, there has been a new wolf howling at the door of the House of Hagestad quite frequently lately.

It seems the football season has just gotten underway. One never knows what goes on at a football game in the audience. Homebreaking is even carried on. I hear the B. Brooks's are saying "something's come between us" because of a slight misunderstanding on the part of Dean Kittel. It seems he sat between them (he didn't know they were married).

I see that the Falconaires are back in operation again, musically and otherwise. I understand they brought Joah Johnson's cousin, Sharon, down from St. Paul Sunday morning, where she had just come in from Seattle. Perhaps you've seen Sharon, she's the pretty new tall girl on campus (5'11" in fact) with brown hair. Our little college here in River Falls, Wisconsin seems to attract students from far and wide.

Speaking of students from far and wide, Ray Henry would like to put in a complaint to the cafeteria. He finds it quite disgusting because Mr. Gage won't change the policy of the cafeteria and serve him a pot of tea. Incidentally, Ray seems to have a mania for rather uncommon methods of transportation. In addition to his motorbike, he now has a Austin.

That was a beautiful gash on Benny Frank's face last week. I wonder whom we should blame. Mary Ann or water-melons?

FALCONS BLAST STOUT

Scoring in all but the third quarter, River Falls won its second conference game by defeating Stout 26-7.

The Falcons, led by Cardinal and Schock, out-gained the Blue Devils on the ground 327-63 yards. Stout stayed in the game on the strength of its passing, which netted 139 yards.

With most of the regulars back in the line-up, the Falcons showed the power and drive which brought them the championship last year.

River Falls tallied late in the first quarter, when Cardinal went 55 yards for a score. The extra point attempt failed.

Stout, after receiving the kick-off, was forced to punt. The Falcons took over and drove 40 yards to a touchdown, Harkness scoring on a quarterback sneak from the 1 yard line. Cardinal kicked the extra point.

The third quarter was scoreless. Stout threatened to score twice but both drives were halted by pass interceptions.

River Falls scored on the seventh play of the fourth quarter. Schock plunged over from the 2 yard line to cap an 83 yard drive. The extra point attempt was wide.

"Nookie" Grilley tallied on a beautiful 45 yard run for the Falcons' fourth and final touchdown of the game. Cardinal again converted for the extra point.

Stout tallied in the closing minutes of the game when Woelffer scored from the 1 yard line to climax a 66 yard drive which featured five completed passes.

Falcons Whip Whitewater For First Conference Victory

River Falls, defending champion of the northern division of the Wisconsin Teachers College league, opened its conference schedule by defeating Whitewater 28-19 on September 25.

Featuring a passing attack which was sadly lacking against Hamline, the Falcons scored their first three touchdowns by the air route. River Falls attempted 18 passes, completed seven, and had one intercepted. While this is not a record to marvel at, it does mean that the Falcons have an improved offense.

Whitewater scored early in the game when Oscar took a punt and lateraled to Stevens who raced 65 yards down the sidelines for a touchdown. The Falcons took the next kick-off and marched from their own 31 to the Quaker 9 yard line only to lose the ball on downs.

Quakers Score Again
After an exchange of fumbles, Whitewater gained possession of the ball near mid-field. From this point the Quakers drove to the Falcon 9 yard line where they lost the ball on downs. A bad pass from center resulted in Linehan's kick being blocked with Whitewater recovering in the end zone for their second touchdown.

The Falcons took the kick-off and marched 71 yards on a series of running and pass plays to a touchdown, DeLong scoring.

Whitewater received the kick-off to open the second half. Erickson returned the ball to his own 45 yard line and fumbled, Harkness recovering. From here the Falcons drove to their second touchdown with Gibbs scoring on a pass from Cardinal. The extra point attempt was good.

Falcons Add To Lead
River Falls picked up two more points on a safety when they blocked a punt. The Falcons took the ensuing kick-off and scored on five plays, the pay-off play being a pass from Harkness to DeLong.

The Quakers scored next on a series of pass plays, the last play covering 32 yards with Erickson scoring. The try for the extra point was good.

Harkness intercepted a Quaker pass to set up the Falcons' fourth touchdown. Schock ramblled for 17 yards to the Whitewater 18 yard line. On the next play Cardinal exploded through the center of the line and scored. Cardinal also kicked the extra point.

The remainder of the game was a series of intercepted passes and penalties. The Falcons threatened to score late in the game, but a field goal attempt by Cardinal failed.

Falcons To Meet Platteville There

The Falcon grid machine will meet their third conference foe when they journey to Platteville on October 9. Last year Platteville was a member of the southern division of the Teachers College conference.

Little is known of the strength of the Pioneer team. On September 25, Oshkosh, who finished second in the southern division last year, defeated Platteville by a score of 13-6.

About 20 returning lettermen form the nucleus of the Yellow-jacket squad. The backfield is built around Dom Moselle, who is one of the finest backs in the conference. Superior lost its opening game to a power-laden La Crosse team by a score of 26-12.

Last year River Falls defeated Superior by a score of 21-13, in what was probably the best game the Falcons played.

Students Complain On Housing

There has been much discussion among students about their rooming houses. Many students are well satisfied, others are not.

Some complaints have been made about the inadequate bathing facilities. When there are eight or ten boys using a single bathroom, things get quite confusing. It is impossible for all of them to have access to the bathroom at the same time. With everyone in a rush to make an eight o'clock class, there is usually a traffic jam. To remedy this confusion and disorder a time schedule is suggested, where each individual has a specific time allotted to him. If a time schedule is set up and the students cooperate, the next issue of the Student Voice will not read: "Two Students Trampled to Death on The Way to Bathroom". This is a little exaggerated, but students all hope in the future that bathing facilities will be remedied to a greater extent.

If students are over-crowded they should see the dean of men. Many students have a tendency to gather in one small room. Rooms which are over-crowded make living conditions unhealthy. This situation is absolutely unnecessary. According to the dean of men there are more rooms available this year than ever. Men's rooms are very plentiful and there are a few rooms left for women. At the present, 96 married couples have been housed and are living comfortably. There are some who are not completely satisfied, but the majority are well pleased.

JADINAK CHALLENGES!

Twelve energetic freshmen are wanted in an experiment in music. The aim is to see how quickly college level beginners can learn to play a musical instrument. This is an opportunity to learn for those who may not have had the chance previously and now think that it is too late. It's not too late, the opportunity is here now, so come out you courageous ones.

Two persons can be equipped on each of the following instruments: Viola, Cello and String Bass. Six or more can be used on Violins. Instruction is free. If interested, please leave your name and free hours with Mr. Jadinak in room 310N.

The day was designed as "Y-Day" and was climaxed with a wiener roast in Glen Park for all new and old members.

The "kick-off" meeting of the YMCA this year was held in the South hall Social Room at 7:00 P. M. on September 22. Dr. Karges, vice-president of R. F. S. T. C. and professor of Chemistry, presented an interesting talk.

Cabinet meetings have been held weekly since the beginning of the Fall term. The usual date for these meetings is Monday evenings. At these meetings the Cabinet members work out a plan for the regular "Y" meetings, appoint important committees, and clear up minor details and problems to insure a smoother running "Y".

A "Y" breakfast was held at Professor Jacobson's house on Sunday morning, September 19. Sixteen YMCA and YWCA members attended and participated in an interesting discussion on the "Communism Scare" in the United States.

Current activities of the YMCA are organization of an intramural football team and a glee club. A

Ye Old Spectator

A note to the followers of sporting contests | we may even bring in Shay's favorite pastime, by request, naturally | this column is dedicated to all of those persons who, at one time or another, have righteously raised their voices to discuss the wisdom of the choice of substitutes, plays, general strategy, why that SO and SO is playing, or what they would have done if----

Fans, by this time you have probably felt that the urge to join me in the Grand Stand Quarterbacking Club conducted by YE OLDE SPECTATOR from years ago. I'll endeavor to bring you various accounts of the athletic contests our Alma Mater is taking part in. Good or bad we'll discuss the games here every once in a while. We'll pull no punches, credit shall be given where credit is due; on the other hand, boners will be handled without benefit of kid-gloves.

So, fellow Quarterbacks, join me in a discussion of this 1948 football season as it pertains to the Falcons.

In the Whitewater game, our Falcons pulled one out of the bag after spending the first half very nicely resembling eleven frustrated women chasing the only eligible man in existence. We can give the credit of this win to the timely entrance of Shock into the lineup. His appearance seemed to give the team a little more confidence in themselves just before the half ended. The second half saw a revised (in spirit only) football team take the field. Brother, they took the field in more ways than one. Delong, after a serious case of drowsiness, came to with a bang. From that point on, it was all River Falls. With the exception of one inci-

Discussion Class To Hear Town Meeting

"How is Peace With Russia Possible?" will be discussed tomorrow night at 7:30 over station WTCN by Town Hall Meeting of the Air. The Public Discussion class will listen to the broadcast in the Social room in South hall. Any students who wish to join the group are welcome.

Speakers who will discuss the Russian problem include Arthur B. Lane, Norman Thomas, Max Lerner, and Mr. Rogge, the chairman of Wallace-for-President club.

dence of poor pass defense, the Falcons poured the coal to a fire kindled by Shock and fanned by Delong. We Quarterbacks are proud of that team, it proved to us that despite a sloppy beginning, our team could come back and play a brand of football worthy of the school.

We've noticed that the R club has given the Frosh their first warning concerning the wearing of high school awards won while back in the glory of their childhood. YE OLDE SPECTATOR understands how you Frosh feel about adorning your manly chest with those huge and gaudy emblems of your athletic prowess. It really used to knock the local gals for a loop, didn't it? But grow up, you're not back playing around your own backyards, this is a man's job, this college business. Frosh, take this tip from the Old Boy, pack those dearly won letters in moth balls to be taken out in later years when you try to impress your offspring. I actually think the R Club is being unusually gentlemanly in giving one warning.

Intramural Program Gets Big Start

The wide range of activities set up under the new intramural program, have now completed their first two weeks of operation. Tennis, golf, archery, touch football and horseshoe games have drawn a good deal of student interest.

The tennis round robin tournament has ten entries and most of the first round matches have been played. In the first matches, the winners were Fleming over Gilbertson 6-1, 6-0. Taylor over Blockes 6-1, 6-2. Wadleigh over Welber 8-6, 6-4.

The first scheduled touch-football game between the Y. M. C. A. and the Dinks was forfeited 1-0 by the Y.

The "Blind Bogey" golf tournament held at the city course was won by Glen Resell and Dick Hunt with scores of 57 each. The lucky number was 58.

There have been no horseshoe scores handed in yet, but there should be a good many in the next issue of the paper.

An archery target has been setup on the campus and all those interested should feel free to use it.

The appointments to the intramural board have not been made yet, but will be in the near future.

Anyone interested in engaging in any of the intramural activities should see Mr. Sjowall in the athletic office.
