

Queen's Coronation, Game Will Highlight College Homecoming

FIVE CANDIDATES SEEKING TITLE IN WEDNESDAY'S VOTE

A highlight in college life for one of the five candidates, will be her coronation next Friday night as Queen of the 1956 Homecoming. River Falls co-eds hoping to receive the crown are Lorraine Brynildson, Betty Korb, Helen Pechacek, La Vonne Safe, and Sandra Skoglund.

Nominated by campus organizations, the candidates will be voted on in an all-school election Wednesday, Oct. 17. The balloting will take place from 9 to 4 o'clock in the cafeteria. Results of the contest are to be kept secret until the coronation.

In addition to being pretty, the five candidates exhibit many other queenly characteristics. They all list membership in several clubs, as well as taking part in other extra-curricular functions.

No newcomer to queen contests, Lorraine Brynildson, sophomore from Black River Falls, has been Jackson County Dairy Queen attendant for three consecutive years. She was third runner-up in last year's Miss West Wisconsin competition and one of ten finalists in the National Sweetheart contest sponsored by Sweetheart soap.

Majoring in two-year elementary, Miss Brynildson is a member of the Rural Life Club, AWS, ACEI, LSA, and is chairman of the Foundation Committee. Her campaign is being supported by the Vets Club and managed by Ronnie Losness.

One of two seniors in the running for Homecoming Queen is Betty Korb, from Alma. Nominated by the FFA, her campaign theme, according to Richard Kinney, director, is "The Farmer's Daughter."

Transferring from the County Teachers College in Alma, Miss

Korb is majoring in upper elementary education at River Falls. She lists PTA, ACEI, LSA, and the Falconettes marching band among her activities.

The only out-of-state student's name to be on the ballot Friday is Helen Pechacek, senior from Hastings, Minn. Past treasurer and Executive Board member of Newman Club, she is being supported for the Queen's title by the group.

Miss Pechacek is active in the FTA, ACEI, AWS, and Dance Theatre. She is majoring in lower elementary, with minors in guidance and psychology. Nick Rosandick has been chosen as her publicity director for the campaign.

Named a candidate by the Junior Class, La Vonne Safe, junior from Spring Valley is also backed by the R Club. This will be the second queen campaign on campus for Miss Safe. She was one of the runners-up in last year's Snow Queen contest.

Co-campaign chairmen for the Spring Valley junior are Lynn Radkey and Gerald Johnson. Enrolled in secondary education, she is working toward a B. S. degree (Continued on Page Six)

EXCHANGE WITH UNIVERSITY OF WINNEPEG, TEN TOURNAMENTS IN YEAR'S DEBATE PLANS

A trip to the University of Winnepeg by a River Falls debate squad is planned tentatively at the close of the season, according to Walter Simonson, faculty advisor. The opportunity will be the result of exchange debates between the two schools. In addition, ten tournaments have been scheduled so far by the local debaters.

TO BEGIN the season, the debaters will travel to Peoria, Ill., for a tournament at Bradley University on Nov. 17. Other tournaments will include those at Moorhead, St. Olaf, St. Thomas, Eau Claire, University of Wisconsin, University of Minnesota, and several Twin City League Tournaments. To allow everyone going out for debate the experience of at least one tournament, a meet at the University of Nebraska has been added to this year's agenda.

Plans also include participation in the National Debate Tournament of Pi Kappa Delta to be at (Continued on Page Six)

Break-up of Classes Friday Morning Begins Weekend of Campus Festivity

A break-up of classes, snake dance, decorating, pep fest, complete with torchlight and bonfire; all coming to a climax with the coronation of the 1956 Homecoming Queen, will be the highlights next Friday, as the biggest social event of the year gets underway.

Activities for Saturday include various alumni-student luncheons, dinner and coffee hours, as well as the parade, the Homecoming football game with Stevens Point, and traditionally, the event officially ends with what often proves to be one of the best attended dances during the year.

THE KICKOFF Friday will be a school pep fest in North Hall auditorium scheduled for 10 a.m. Classes are usually broken up shortly before by the "Dirty Dozen." The assembly is to be followed by a snake dance down main street. The remainder of Friday will be devoted to trimming store windows, houses, and the campus.

Judging of windows and homes is set, respectively, for two and three o'clock. Prize money for the best decorations is being awarded by the Chamber of Commerce and Quarterback Club. For every window decorated, the two groups will each add one dollar to the fund for prizes.

Organizations can sign up for windows on the official Homecoming bulletin board in South Hall.

HOLDING of the final Kangaroo Court will depend on who wins the freshman-sophomore tug-of-war. Set for 4 p.m. Friday in the rear of Hathorn Hall, the battle usually ends with both teams being pulled or pushed into the creek. If the sophomores win, the last trial for delinquent beanle-wearers will follow immediately. If they lose, the sophomores have agreed not to prosecute the freshmen.

The largest Homecoming pep fest is to be Friday at 7:15 p.m., in the North Hall auditorium. The secret of who won Wednesday's election will be revealed at one of Homecoming's highlights, when Chairman John Randall crowns this year's Queen. Skits and other entertainment are also on the assembly's program. The winning skit will be announced following the coronation. According to the Chairman and his two assistants, Dick Doetkott and Carl Sharp, the balcony will be reserved for alumni Friday night.

A torchlight parade to the bonfire behind the women's dorm will take place after the pep fest. Group singing, to be led by Du-anne Johnson, has been planned with apple cider for refreshments. Moving over to the dormitory, the next thing on the Homecoming agenda is a "Come as You Are" dance following the bonfire.

FOR NON - DANCERS, the Homecoming Committee is sponsoring a "horror" movie at 11:30 p.m. Students will be admitted to the film at the Falls Theatre by presenting activity tickets.

With the parade scheduled to get underway at 10:30 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 20, it will line up at 10 o'clock. Numerous student and alumni get-togethers are scheduled for the noon meal.

High school bands have been invited by the committee to participate in the parade and half-time activities. They include groups from Rice Lake, Cumberland, Turtle Lake, Hudson, and River Falls.

With the opening whistle to blow at 1:30 p.m., this year's Homecoming football game is against Wisconsin State College at Stevens Point. The Falcons will be out to gain their fourth consecutive victory during the annual festivities.

SCHEDULED for the rec room of Hathorn Hall, a coffee hour and reception at 4 p.m. will provide an opportunity for alumni and students to talk over the football game. The annual smorgasbord dinner in the cafeteria is planned this year from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m.

Winding up the 1956 Homecoming to the music of Joe Braibec and his seven-piece orchestra, students and alumni will begin dancing in the North Hall gym at 9 p.m. This year's theme is "Autumn Leaves." Admission has been set at $1.20 per couple.

1956-1957 GRADUATES

All students who are completing courses at the end of the fall, winter, spring or summer terms are asked to make application for graduation as soon as possible. Forms are available in the Registrar's office.

The Editor Speaks . . .

The childhood adage of "I don't shut up, I grow up," could generally be changed to "When I grow, I shut up," in describing student self-expression, particularly original, on campus at present. There are too few outlets for the most part, and secondly, a large part of our "education" comes in learning the likes and dislikes of instructors so as to give them what they want rather than express our own thoughts on the subject matter. Called "buttering up," or less complimentary terms, these tactics are the by-product of a desirable feature at River Falls State—a close student-faculty relationship. Without hammering on the point, it should be clear that the desirable far outweighs the undesirable in this instance. At this point it might be wise to stress the fact that we have been, and will continue, to speak in generalities. There is no "axe to grind." Nor is this an "attack" on the intellectual development of students here and elsewhere.

The crux of the matter is laid before us simply. A formal "catalog" education on the undergraduate level in most fields does not present enough of the vital and valuable challenge that arises from communicating our feelings, impressions and ideas to others. Our lack is not one of thoughts to enrich our lives. It is merely an inability to present our feelings and share them with other persons. It is in this action alone that the true potentialities of our thoughts can be realized. We have the cause, but in too many cases go starving for the effect.

Having presented the problem, let's proceed to one possible solution. Presently in the process of organizing on campus is a creative arts study group. Listing a number of objectives, among them the publication of a literary magazine, a summation of the group's proposed purpose is to provide an outlet for, and at the same time, help to improve creative expression. In this case, expression in the graphic arts. Listed among the group's interests are the short, short story, poetry, cartoons and illustrations, photographic art, polls and surveys, feature articles, one-act plays, opinion articles, and criticisms and reviews. Open to any student interested, the advisors to the study club said that the program is flexible enough to accommodate most special interests of anyone wanting to join an organization of this type.

In putting out their own publication, the group feels that this provides an added incentive to many persons with an urge to write. Reproductions of cartoons, block designs, and other art forms in the magazine will give students interested in these activities a chance to have their work published.

For those not wanting to see their work "in print," the club hopes to further the expression of creativeness through group discussions and criticisms. Constantly striving for an increase in the interchange of ideas, the organization looks promising as a means to help fill this obvious gap in our education—the art of thinking and letting it show.

AROUND THE CAMPUS

VETS CLUB;

BIG TEN FOOTBALL MOVIES
Big Ten football movies will be shown for an all-school audience following the next Vets Club meeting Tuesday, Oct. 16 in the North Hall auditorium. The meeting is planned for 7 p.m., with the film to be shown at 7:30. Admission to this week's movie on the Wisconsin-Southern California game will be 10 cents.

HOMECOMING WINDOWS

A meeting has been called by Dick Doetkott, chairman of window decorations, to assign downtown windows to all interested organizations. Set for Tuesday, Oct. 16 at 6 p.m., the chairman said a representative from each group planning on a window must be present at the meeting. He added that no windows will be given out after the meeting.

BLOODMOBILE

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be at the Congregational Church on Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 22-23. Students interested in donating blood can sign up in the cafeteria.

LSA

The weekly supper and fellowship meeting of the LSA is scheduled for 5:30 p.m. on Sunday, Oct. 21 in the Lutheran House of Worship.

FORENSICS LUNCHEON

Pi Kappa Delta will have its annual luncheon meeting again this year for returning alumni who were members of the local chapter.

The luncheon will be at the Charbel immediately after the Homecoming parade. Miss Marion Hawkins, debate coach at the college for the past ten years, will be guest of honor. Her activities with the debate team have been assumed this year by Walter Simonson who is in charge of the luncheon.

ACEI

Highlighting the next meeting of ACEI on Monday, Oct. 22 at 7 p.m., will be slides shown by Miss Jean Lyle, Campus School kindergarten supervisor, of her experiences while teaching in Venezuela. Lunch will be served following the meeting in the Social Room. All students in elementary education are invited by the club to attend.

WESLEY

The Wesley Foundation will hold its regular supper meeting on Sunday, Oct. 21 at 5 p.m. in the Methodist Church. The next lesson in the "Great Religions" series will be given. The topic for this week's discussion is Buddhism. The group will welcome anyone interested.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"OK, IN TH' BACK ROW ~ LETS HAVE THAT 'GIRLIE' MAGAZINE UP HERE IN THIS BASKET!"

GAD BOOKS!

"What we have to do, my dear brethren, is stay on the straight and narrow path between right and wrong."

This fragment of an Irish sermon can be recognized as an almost universal Christian resolve; in this instance, it tells all good Irishmen what they must do.

In the case of Honor Tracy's The Straight and Narrow Path (Random House, 245 pages, $3.50), this clerical admonition rather nicely sums up the aspirations and strivings of the parish priest and his flock in the village of Patrickstown. It ultimately sums up the aspirations, and strivings of all Ireland, of the whole Scotch and British academic community.

IN THEIR attempts at staying on the straight and narrow path, the good people of Patrickstown ("... a small and insignificant place for which you could search the map of Ireland in vain.") involve such a diverse group of characters as a Dr. Andrew Butler, an anthropologist from Edinburgh; his Lordship, the Bishop; an authoress of raucous historical novels; and a sharp Dublin lawyer.

Whereas, the Canon and his flock are merely trying to fulfill the demands of this directive, the people I mentioned above, in their involvement with the Canon and his people, soon come to look longingly at the straight and narrow path as it fades slowly from their sight down some nameless woody Irish glen... with nobody on it, not even a leprechaun gone astray.

Honor Tracy's book is designed to be, and is, a highly hilarious novel. Author Tracy has, with a sly and occasionally-scathing humor, written an immensely funny and completely entertaining book. I think that this work is really the most side-splitting comical thing that I have read all year.

A LAWSUIT, involving the Edinburgh anthropologist and Canon Peart, is the starting gun in this race to determine who can succeed in getting the farthest off the straight and narrow path between right and wrong. Things get more and more farcical as the Canon brings into play, with the help of his solicitor, Patsy La Trobe, forgotten quirks and thrusts of Irish law, and as the anthropologist keeps parrying and plunging forward in his attempt "... to do the right thing."

The anthropologist, recently back from the Congo and trying now to ward off a breakdown, is moved to note in a London daily the fact that he discovers doings in Patrickstown akin to those variously mentioned in Frazer's Golden Bough and noticed by himself in Africa...

This precipitates the aforementioned lawsuit, and as I noted, involves in a series of events near to burlesque, a host of characters, not one of whom (with the exception of the anthropologist) seems to grasp what it's all about. Dr. Butler sees only too well what it's all about—NOTHING—and forgets his breakdown in lieu of another problem: how to keep from cracking up out of sheer mirth—how to keep from going mad in the midst of all this serious, determined, business-like idiocy that he has created.

IT IS QUITE a problem, this; so, Dr. Butler's colleagues 'cross St. George's Channel to bolster him throughout the latter part of the book with cryptic and pointed analyses of the situation. These and the comments of Butler's lawyer, in a crusty sort of way, are just precious humor.

And, as often as the periods and commas occur in this book, there are the buffooneries of the local gentry, whose eccentricities are not results of inbreeding, but advanced symptoms of precisely the same malady the anthropologist is fighting off...

Political Views

by the Young Democrats

In this article we would like to clarify the questions and put forth the facts in regard to the issues mentioned in the last Young GOP article.

The record of the GOP shows that it still believes, as Alf Landon, that social security is a "cruel hoax." Eisenhower said he was not in agreement with broadening social security. And 86 per cent of the Republican Senators voted against lowering the retirement age of women from 65 to 62. This measure was passed only as a result of united Democratic action and the help of a few maverick Republicans.

The GOP disposed of surplus government property at 90 cents on a dollar our friends tell us, but let's look at the record. The Al Sarena Mining Co. bought mining rights to an area of the (Continued on Page Six)

by the Young Republicans

After last week's Young Democrats' article it is clearly evident that they find it hard to discuss national issues when their candidates on that level are so completely inadequate and the present administration has such a good record.

Let's look for a moment at what these candidates had to say about each other. "Kefauver's was the second worst voting record in the 83rd Congress," said Adlai Stevenson on April 8, 1956. We agree completely with Mr. Stevenson.

LET'S LOOK AT what Estes said on July 17, 1956. "I am not going to be Vice-President." On June 1, 1956, Kefauver said "I challenge Adlai Stevenson to explain, if he can, the race-baiting Dixiecrat tone of his Florida campaign." To bear out our argument, Harry Truman on August (Continued on Page Six)

Letters to the Editor...

Dear Editor:

I am confident that a great majority of the student body appreciates the wonderful job done by the staff of our school paper. But I wonder if the Student Voice staff really knows what the students want in their paper. I have heard comments about the omission of this or that announcement, or the fact that there is not enough variety in the material that is published.

I believe that the editor and the entire staff would appreciate more letters and direct suggestions about possible improvements. Remarks and comments carried by "word of mouth" tend to corrupt instead of improve. To implement my suggestion, I forthwith tender several comments of my own.

One thing that the Student Voice should do is to let the students know about what is going on in the activities around campus. Perhaps a social editor on the staff would do the trick or maybe just a social column.

In reference to a column entitled "Gad Books," I feel that a great field of fiction is left unmentioned by the writer of this column. I would like to read in that column a number of reviews on the current best-sellers in the science fiction field.

In addition, I would like to read more "Letters to the Editor." They are a very important part of any publication in our American way of life.

Sincerely,
Frank Holub

Dear Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the many and kind persons that helped me with my campaign for Homecoming Chairman. I know that they will work just as hard to make Homecoming a success this year.

Dick Doetkott

Dearest Editor:

Moving as slowly as a horse-drawn funeral procession, the last "Gad Books" column is typical of the usual prejudiced, unobjective drivel that appears in the "space" each week.

The blurb is as asinine and pointless as the column's title that appears to connote its writer's complete astonishment at the sudden appearance of books in today's world. Quite obviously written with an author's handbook of time-worn cliches and Roget's Thesaurus of obsolete words at hand, all thought of clarity and communication is lost in a maze of garbled adjectives describing Mr. Hagestad's personality.

Suggestions that might "improve" this sorry piece of prose would include that the "Man with the Pipe" read the books he concerns himself with. My guess would be that the nearest he has been to any significant volumes is pictured in The Student Voice.

Student Senate Minutes

With President Dick Schultz presiding, the last meeting of the Student Senate was held in the Senate office Monday, Oct. 15.

Homecoming

Window decoration Chairman Dick Doetkott made the following report: Each store owner will supply materials for their window. The first organizations to sign up will have first choice of windows. Prize money for window decorations will be donated by the Quarterback Club and the Chamber of Commerce. The two groups will each contribute one dollar for every window decorated. The Senate feels that this should provide a big incentive for campus groups to participate.

An allotment of $228 was made to the Homecoming Committee for all financial needs.

Five Homecoming Queen candidates have been accepted by the Student Senate. They are: Lorraine Brynildson, sponsored by the Vets Club; Betty Korb, sponsored by the FFA; Helen Pechacek, sponsored by the Newman Club; La Vonne Safe, sponsored by the Junior Class, and Sandy Skoglund, sponsored by the Sophomore Class.

The following are activities assigned to the various classes for Homecoming: seniors, decorating the business section of town; juniors, decoration of campus; sophomores, gym decorations and adjoining lounge, sale of dance tickets at $1.20 per couple; freshmen, lime the "R" and decorate the football field.

It was announced that John Randall, Homecoming chairman will invite all River Falls alumni attending a special banquet during the teachers convention in Eau Claire on Thursday and Friday, Oct. 11 and 12, to attend the festivities.

Chairman Randall outlined a variety of events to take place on Friday evening during Homecoming. Singing will be organized at the bonfire. The committee in charge includes Duanne Johnson, chairman, Don Sundt, Bob Dykstra and Bernard Feld.

It was also suggested that apple cider be served at the bonfire with the sponsoring organization being WRA.

Sigma Chi Sigma was given permission by the Senate to sell pom poms at the Homecoming game.

Any organization interested in making pennants using the design of the school flag may obtain this concession for the entire year by contacting members of the Student Senate.

Lifeguard

Gerald Johnson will be employed by the Senate at a salary of $1.50 per night to act as lifeguard at the South Hall swimming pool when it is open.

Waste Container

The topic of having a refuse container placed outside the entrance to the library was discussed by the group. No action was taken at this time.

PRESENT: Schultz, Kinney, Hanson, Martell, Jensen, Laue, Larson, Christenson, L. Johnson, D. Johnson and Fleming.

BLANKS AVAILABLE

FOR 'DIGEST' CONTEST

For students interested in entering the contest currently being sponsored by Reader's Digest, a large number of entry blanks are available in the Student Voice office.

Glen Junkman Returns to Teach Math; Says School is 'Bliss and Blister'

by Carolyn Brown

NOW TEACHING IN THE SAME BUILDING where he first attended classes at River Falls, Glen Junkman is shown here in his math class. After more than a half century in education, he finds that his greatest reward has been "The happiness of living with young people."

"School is bliss," said Glen Junkman to one of his classes, "until examination time. Then it's blister." Mr. Junkman who retired in 1955 after 37 years at the college is now back teaching agricultural mathematics on a part-time basis.

Mr. Junkman was born in Ellsworth, and completed his secondary schooling there, graduating from high school in 1902. He embarked on a teaching career, beginning as a teacher in rural schools at the request of the county superintendent because of the shortage of teachers at that time. In 1903, he entered State Normal School at River Falls, now known as Wisconsin State College. Two years of college was sufficient at that time, to obtain an unlimited certificate to teach if you were a high school graduate.

In 1904, he again returned to teaching, but completed his normal school training a year later. From 1906-18, Mr. Junkman served as principal in three schools, Pittsville, Independence, and Wabeno. However, from 1909-10, he took time out to attend the University of Wisconsin and after several summer sessions received his B. A. degree in history. In 1935, he was graduated with an M.A. degree from Iowa University majoring in mathematics. Prior to his retirement on June 30, 1955, Mr. Junkman had a total of 50 years in the teaching field.

During this past year, Mr. Junkman has been doing many things. He and his wife took a trip West last October and met many old friends. Among these were four former students from Pittsville, the first high school in which he taught 46 years ago. He also met a high school classmate from the Ellsworth high school class of 1902. Mr. Junkman says he meets former students everywhere he goes.

The winter months, Mr. Junkman spent tutoring students in mathematics and preparing about 50 typewritten pages as a start on the story of his 50 years of teaching.

Mr. Junkman returned to teaching because competent mathematics teachers are hard to find. Dr. James McLaughlin first approached Mr. Junkman with this problem in mid-August and asked if he would consider part-time teaching.

Mr. Junkman says he thought they were just trying "to make him feel good" and didn't think too much would come of it, but said "yes, he would teach." Early in September, Mr. Junkman recalls, Dr. Lillian Gough came to his house and asked if he were ready to teach. Then Mr. Junkman realized he was really needed and consented to come back.

Commenting on his return, he said, "I like it, I always did enjoy teaching. It is pleasant to be around school and see the enthusiasm of young people. Contact with young people has kept me feeling young and being back helps to keep that young feeling."

CAN'T LOSE!

River Falls Grad's Election Assured

Whether voters in Pierce County check the Democratic or Republican column of their ballots next month, a former River Falls student will be the new district attorney.

Nominated on the Democratic ticket is Miss Nancy Murry who attended the college from 1947 to 1949. Republican nominee for the post is Les Gaylord who received the A.B. degree from River Falls in 1952.

News From Other Colleges

by Donna Williams

News from other colleges at present is primarily about enrollment records, fraternity and sorority "rush" weeks, and Homecoming plans.

With the total enrollment at the nine Wisconsin State Colleges, standing at 11,218, River Falls is next to last on the list according to size. La Crosse has the largest number of students, 1,474. Next in order are Oshkosh, Stevens Point, Eau Claire, White-water, Stout, Platteville, River Falls and Superior.

THE PROBLEM of students not attending all-school convocations has been met at Whitewater with compulsory attendance. Three of the five assemblies each semester must be attended in addition to the "President's" convocation.

The women of Hathorn Hall aren't the only students in need of more space. The men at Stevens Point have taken over the Rural Training School for housing to replace the unfinished third floor of their dorm.

The improvised dormitory is known as Bilko Hall. It is named after the Sgt. Bilko TV show. Living in the building has brought up a few problems. For example, one student claimed, "We have one sink to wash in with the nearest thing to a shower being the water bubbler."

CLOSETS and warm water are unheard of items. Listing some of the building's advantages, one student said, "It's impossible to roll out of bed to the floor; you simply roll to another bed."

Stout recently held open house for a state-wide committee meeting of the Association of Wisconsin State College Faculties. Dr. James J. McLaughlin, head of the Arts and Sciences Division at River Falls, acted as chairman of the Legislative and Public Relations Committee.

College Alumni Chapter To Meet In Milwaukee

The ballroom of the Wisconsin Hotel in Milwaukee will be the scene of the annual fall meeting of the Southeastern Wisconsin Chapter of the River Falls Alumni Association.

At the time of the State Teachers' Convention in Milwaukee, No. 1, the meeting includes a dinner at 6:30 p.m. Reservations for the affair are to be sent to Mrs. George B. Noyes, 13820 West Forest Drive, Milwaukee 14, before Oct. 26.

The chapter held a dinner meeting in May when the following officers were elected: Richard Yanisch, president; Dr. D. D. Griffey, vice-president; Miss Lucille Gereats, secretary, and Mrs. Beatrice Batten Noyes, publicity.

Music Notes

by Glenn Sandve

The newly-formed male chorus which has been rehearsing at 1 o'clock on Tuesday afternoons will now also meet on Thursday at 6:30 p.m. The evening rehearsal has been set up for those who cannot meet on Tuesdays but would still like to sing in the chorus. However, for this week only, the chorus will meet on Tuesday evening, instead of Thursday, along with the afternoon rehearsal.

Out of some 760 men enrolled at the college this year, it seems certain that we can easily develop a 40-voice chorus. Anyone interested that can meet at the above times should see Nicholas Jadinak in room 212 North Hall.

Officers elected at the last rehearsal are, President, Glenn Sandve; Secretary - Treasurer, Walter Wanzong; and Business Manager and Publicity, Dick Meulemans.

The college orchestra, which has been rehearsing on Monday evenings at 7 o'clock is in need of more string players. Anyone who plays a string instrument and would like to play in the orchestra should see Mr. Jadinak.

Wind instruments and percussion are also being added which will make a fine orchestra; a valuable improvement on the music scene here at RFSC.

English Prof Has Etchings as Souvenirs of European Summer Tour

by Bill Finlan
and Keith Thompson

"Come up and see my etchings," is the invitation extended frequently these days by Walter Engler of the English department.

He really has some, too. They were picked up this summer in Paris when Dr. Engler had the pleasure of his first European tour. Previously he had traveled to South and Central America while in the service and to Canada many times.

He boarded the Queen Elizabeth on June 27, and spent four and one-half days at sea. According to Mr. Engler the food on board ship was fabulous. The menu's were a "block long" and contained almost any dish a passenger could desire. He thought that at times the lavishness was almost too extravagant.

THE CONDUCTED tour started in South Hampton, England, where the ship first put into port. The group of tourists consisting of businessmen, teachers, families, and honeymooners traveled through England, Belgium, Holland, Germany, Switzerland, Italy and France.

While in England, Mr. Engler visited Miss Ruth Finch, an exchange student from London who taught at River Falls in 1950-51. After the visit came Westminster Abbey, the Tower of London, Warwick Castle, Oxford University, and Stratford-on-Avon, the birthplace of William Shakespeare, all of which were especially interesting to the English teacher.

CROSSING the English Channel into Brussels, Belgium, Mr. Engler arrived on the European continent. After a one-day tour of Brussels he was on his way to Holland.

Mr. Engler was impressed by the excellent quality of food and the tremendous number of bicycles in The Hague. Besides seeing the Peace Palace, which is now used for World conferences, and other unusual tourist areas, he did some swimming in the North Sea.

Once aboard a steamer going down the Rhine he decided that his small camera wasn't adequate to captivate the magnificent splendor of the vineyards and castles which tower along the mighty river. Mr. Engler's first stop upon docking in Germany was to buy a 35mm camera so he could take color slides.

ONE OF HIS first subjects was the fabulous Baden-Baden Gambling Casino. It was the most plush and decorative of any that Mr. Engler encountered on the trip.

A sharp contrast to our way of life here at River Falls was the punishment bestowed on students at Heidelberg University in Germany. When they stepped out of line they were put in the school's jail. Many well known names of American and European families were displayed in carvings on the walls of cells.

TRAVELING AGAIN, Mr. Engler viewed and photographed the majesty and rawness of nature in the Swiss Alps. A trip to the "top of the world," Mt. Pilatus, on the world's steepest cog railway proved to be thrilling to the teacher.

Another gratifying experience was encountered when Mr. Engler visited a small Swiss town on the Rhine River near Lichtenstein where his ancestors came from. The first place he came to had the name "Engler" hanging over the door.

He found no relatives, but visited with many people named Engler.

THREE DAYS were enjoyed by Mr. Engler at Montreux, on Lake Lemman. It was in this vicinity that Byron wrote his fabulous poem "The Prisoner of Chillon." The Castle of Chillon proved to be a fine subject for Mr. Engler's camera.

Crossing over to Italy, Mr. Engler enjoyed a highlight of the trip in seeing the opera "Aida" at the Baths of Caracalla, which is an immense outdoor theatre. Next on Mr. Engler's schedule came Sainte Peter's Square, Vatican City, and the Catacombs of Rome.

A PLEASANT and unexpected surprise occurred when Mr. Engler met Dr. Lieneman, of the biology department, in Florence, Italy. Miss Lieneman was also touring Europe at the same time. Mr. Engler said that they had a "very enjoyable time" when they "went on the town" to celebrate the meeting.

While he was in Sorrento, Italy, the sudden news of the sinking of the Andrea Doria was heard, Mr. Engler said that it had a shocking effect on the Italian people because it was one of their best ships.

WEARING HIS RECENTLY purchased beret, Walter J. Engler of the River Falls English department stands atop Mt. Pilatus near Lucerne, Switzerland. The beret was bought for utilitarian rather than aesthetic reasons, Dr. Engler reports.

An unusual attraction to the tourist was the "Blanche Nuit" (White Night) in the city of Nice, France. It is a huge festival and parade in which all the participants and floats are beautifully decorated in white. Showers of confetti were thrown over the entire festival and all the people. Mr. Engler said he still finds traces of it in his clothing.

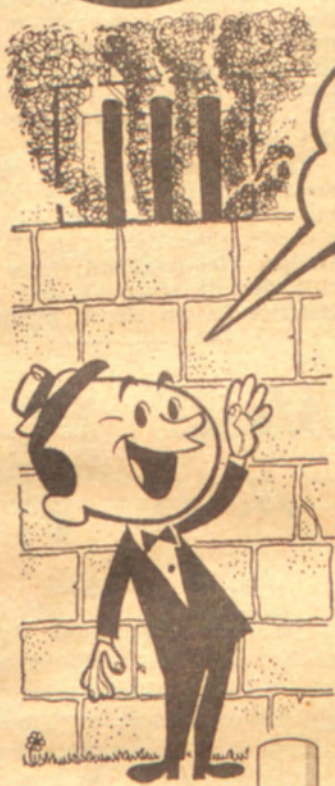

IN CONCLUDING his journeys through Italy, he traveled up the Italian Riviera and on into the French Riviera to Monte Carlo and Monaco.

In Paris he visited all the usual tourist spots such as the Louvre Art Gallery, Versailles, Napoleon's tomb, Notre Dame, and many others. Mr. Engler considers a walk along the River Seine with its second-hand bookstores, etching shops, and street painters a memorable experience.

WAR DAMAGE is still very evident even after 11 years of recuperation, particularly in England, Germany and Italy according to the traveler. There is quite a noticeable contrast between the reconstructed areas of the cities and the rural areas said Mr. Engler. He found that the buildings put up after the war were ultra-modern and the rural parts were very primitive in comparison.

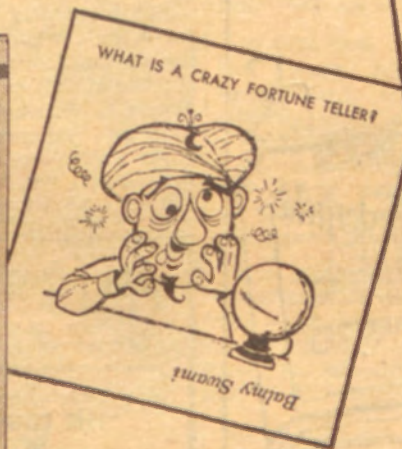

On August 9, Mr. Engler again boarded the Queen Elizabeth at Cherbourg, France, and was on his way home. He felt slightly weary from travel but satisfied that he had gained new knowledge and friends in Europe.

Sticklers!

HERE'S A STICKLER!
WHAT IS A JAIL AT
LIGHT-UP TIME?
(SEE PARAGRAPH BELOW)

IF YOU HAVE recently become a smoker (duffer puffer), ask any old-hand Lucky smoker (prudent student) why he settled on Luckies. Bet anything he says they taste better. You see, Luckies' fine, light, naturally good-tasting tobacco is TOASTED to taste even better . . . cleaner, fresher, smoother. So, when it's light-up time, light up a Lucky. You'll say it's the best-tasting cigarette you ever smoked. Okay—what is a jail at light-up time? Answer: Smoky Pokey. Isn't that criminal?

DON'T JUST STAND THERE . . .
STICKLE! MAKE $25

Sticklers are simple riddles with two-word rhyming answers. Both words must have the same number of syllables. (No drawings, please!) We'll shell out $25 for all we use—and for hundreds that never see print. So send stacks of 'em with your name, address, college and class to Happy-Joe-Lucky, Box 67A, Mount Vernon, N. Y.

A rifle-arm quarterback from Eau Claire punctured Falcon hopes for a championship team as he led the Bluegolds to a 35-21 victory Thursday night at Carson Park.

Jim Bollinger completed eight out of 17 passes for 201 yards and four touchdowns. Other outstanding players for Eau Claire were Bob Hessler, fullback; Vern Olson, guard, and Don Pierce, tackle.

For River Falls, it was John Steffen rolling up 117 yards in 28 carries and completing two out of eight passes with one interception for 20 yards, making a total net yardage of 137. Bucky DiSalvo was next with 67 yards in 16 rushes. Jack Omer, subbing for injured Darrel Johnson, carried four times for a total of 30 yards.

WORK ON GREENS

STOPS GOLF TOURNEY

The intramural golf tournament has been postponed because of work being done on the greens at the course. According to Fran Polsfoot, director of the program, it will be continued next spring. In other intramural activities this week, touch football teams returned to action with the following contests scheduled for the week ending Oct. 19.

- "B" LEAGUE
 Monday, October 15
 Team 7 vs Team 10
 Team 9 vs Team 11
 Team 8 vs Team 12
 Wednesday, Oct. 17
 Team 9 vs Team 10

 Team 7 vs Team 9
 Team 8 vs Team 10
 Team 11 vs Team 12
- "A" LEAGUE
 Tuesday, Oct. 16
 Team 1 vs Team 3
 Team 2 vs Team 4
 Team 5 vs Team 6
- For further information concerning intramurals, watch the athletics bulletin board in North Hall.

ALTHOUGH THE FALCON line could contain the Bluegolds in a pinch, a shaky pass defense let four touchdown passes sail by. Offensive blocking was not up to the usual Falcon standard and Steffen and DiSalvo found the usual holes not opening up. A fine defensive game was turned in by Merlin Sletten.

River Falls gained 226 yards on the ground to Eau Claire's 133. The big difference came on passes with Eau Claire gaining 201 yards to 38 for the Falcons.

Pierce fell on a blocked punt in the end zone early in the game, to put the Bluegolds ahead 2-0.

FOUR PLAYS LATER, Hessler put together two runs of 20 and 10 yards respectively to score Eau Claire's first TD. His conversion attempt was good and the Bluegolds led 9-0.

The Falcons got going in the middle of the second quarter when they moved 49 yards for the TD. Climaxing the drive, Steffen flipped a pass to Kraft who fumbled the ball but Omer caught it on the four and scooted for pay dirt. Steffen's try for extra point was good and the score stood River Falls-7, Eau Claire-9.

On the kickoff, Eau Claire fumbled and Todd Guberman recovered on the 26. Three plays later Steffen galloped 23 yards on one of his patented spine-tingling sideline runs for a TD. He converted and the Falcons led 14-9.

EAU CLAIRE RETALIATED immediately. Bollinger rifled two consecutive passes to little Ted Devine good for 26 and 40 yards, respectively. Next came a four-yard pass to Bob Hessler for a touchdown. Hessler's conversion attempt was blocked by Koplin but Eau Claire led at halftime 15-14.

The Bluegolds got to pay dirt again in the middle of the third quarter. Bollinger connected on a long pass to Devine good for 52 yards and a TD. Shimel blocked Hessler's try for extra point and Eau Claire led 21-14.

RIVER FALLS STARTED a drive on its own 32 after the kickoff. It was climaxed by Omer's 31-yard TD run off a reverse play. Steffen converted and the score was 21 all.

Bollinger struck early in the fourth quarter with a 40-yard pass play to end Gary Berseth that capped a 61-yard drive. Hessler's try was good and the Bluegolds were out in front 28-21.

In the middle of the last quarter, River Falls fumbled on its own 29-yard line and Hank Donatell recovered for Eau Claire. Hessler sparked the drive with an 18-yard run, while Bollinger capped it with a nine-yard pass to Devine for the final TD. Hessler converted and the Falcons found themselves on the short end of a 35-21 score for their first loss of the season.

Stevens Point 11 Next on Schedule

by Rog Gundlach

In next Saturday afternoon's Homecoming tilt, it will be River Falls against a proven Stevens Point eleven which has compiled a conference record of two victories and one loss in games played through Oct. 6. Game time is 1:30 p.m. at Ramer Field. The Pointers, 1955 WSCC champions with a record of eight straight wins, have met the Falcons here in a homecoming game only once since 1925. That was in 1951 when the teams duelled to a 7-7 deadlock. Last year River Falls did not face Stevens Point.

RIVER FALLS will be out to gain their fourth consecutive Homecoming victory, having beaten superior by a score of 21-0 in 1953, Stout by 26-7 in 1954, and Superior again last year by the resounding record tally of 47-0.

The men in purple and gold, under head coach John Roberts who sports a 25-6-1 record since becoming top man in 1951, will bring a team to Ramer Field which includes 15 lettermen. Although Point lost their entire backfield, including Little All-American fullback Nubs Miller, and the left side of the line through graduation last year, they still have at least one experienced man slated for starting assignment in every position. Despite this squad of veterans, Coach Roberts considered his team a group of "unknowns" at the start of the season.

In making a complete run-down of the lineup, pre-season information had the right side of the line consisting of Bob Bostad at end, Carl Jurgella at tackle and George Roman in the guard slot.

ON THE LEFT side, Fritz Kestly will be at end, Al Shuba will hold down the tackle position, and either Butch Sorenson or George DePuy will start at guard.

Letterwinner Don Nice or a freshman, Dale Schallert, will be likely line anchormen at center.

In the backfield, it'll probably be Ron Hoenisch and Ted Lude-man at halfbacks, Frank Roman in the tailback slot, and Jack Castleman acting as team general, playing quarterback.

OTHER LETTERMEN returning this year are Jim Luedtke, a tackle, Wayne Schmidt, a guard, and halfbacks Jerry Vance, Ron Winlinsky and Jim Fleig.

Last year, over 2,000 fans attended the River Falls-Superior clash and it is expected that at least as many will be on hand to watch the Falcons attempt to "Pin Point" this Saturday afternoon.

Falcon Fanfare

by Mark Wyman

The policy of inviting groups of students from surrounding high schools to visit RFSC has turned out to be more than a method of raising the college's enrollment. It has directly given the Falcon football squad a "shot in the arm" in the person of Todd Guberman, a six-foot, 200-pound freshman from St. Paul.

TODD visited the college last spring with a group of his fellow classmates from St. Paul Humboldt. After seeing the campus and talking to various teachers, he decided it was River Falls for him.

He had first heard about the college in connection with its winning football teams. Football, though, is not his only sport; of the eleven letters he won in high school, four were in football, four in track, and three in hockey.

Since River Falls has no school hockey team, he will belong to a semi-pro team in the Twin Cities this winter. In high school track he ran the 100 and 220-yard dashes and was anchor man on the relay team. Next spring he expects to compete in the same events at River Falls.

TODD'S HIGH SCHOOL activities were many; besides sports, he was active in Student Council, Pep Club, and the school paper, of which he was sports editor for three years. So far he is undecided about which organizations to join at RFSC, but he expects to sign up with several after football season is over. His classes are in the fields of social science and physical education, while coaching is his goal after graduation.

life—but he seems to prefer it to his given name, which he wouldn't reveal. His impression of college football ought to make Coach Belfiori beam: "It's different . . . lots rougher, sure, but a lot more fun!"

Wearing number 33 for the Falcons this season is 5' 7", 170-pound Merlin Sletten. Merlin, a senior from Chetek, is working for his third varsity letter in football at River Falls. Although he doesn't look very big as football players go, he is a steady, dependable "pulling" guard.

Merlin graduated from Chetek high school in 1949 where he earned letters in football and boxing. He played freshman ball for the Falcons in 1949 and was a regular defensive guard in 1950 before entering the Navy for four years.

In 1951 he played guard for the Great Lakes U. S. Naval Hospital team and was selected as honorary captain of the squad. During the 1952 season he played guard for the Great Lakes Bluejackets.

Last season Merlin again took a guard position for the Falcons and has been playing that slot ever since. Although he is not a spectacular, eye-catching type of ballplayer, the rest of team will tell you that he can always be depended on to do his share of the job and a little more if called on.

Majoring in agricultural education, Merlin is married. His wife enjoys watching the games, but she doesn't always appreciate that chronic scab that always shows up on his nose during the season.

RF Alumni Meet At NWT A Dinner

Approximately 85 alumni and faculty members of the college attended the annual River Falls Dinner Thursday evening during the Northwestern Wisconsin Teachers Association convention at Eau Claire.

Toastmaster at the affair was Bill Solley and principal speakers were Dr. B. H. Kettelkamp and Dr. Walker D. Wyman. An invitation to this year's Homecoming was extended by Homecoming Chairman John Randall.

Awards to members of the earliest classes represented were made to E. P. Rock, superintendent of schools at Hudson, who graduated in 1918 and to Mrs. George Mabon, Class of 1916.

A number of faculty members also attended sessions of the convention both Thursday and Friday. Raymond Wall served as chairman of the junior-senior high school sectional meeting Thursday and Dr. Wyman was vice-chairman of the section of high school history and social studies.

English Profs Discuss Radio, TV Improvement

Two members of the English department will take part in the "Better Radio-TV Institute" tomorrow in Madison.

Dr. Francis P. Chisholm and Miss Marion Hawkins are leaving today to attend the meeting in which they will participate as discussion leaders and consultants.

Aimed at evaluating and improving radio and television programming, the meeting will include interest groups for adults, young people, teachers, and parents. Keynote speaker is Garnet Garrison, director of television at the University of Michigan.

Miss Hawkins is a consultant on "Individual Evaluation of Radio-TV" and Dr. Chisholm on "Education and Evaluation of Radio-TV." The meetings will be in the University Union Theatre.

DEMOCRATS—

Rogue River National Forest of Oregon for $2,207 to obtain the surface rights, which they did. The timber sold for $250,000 and not a spoonful of ore has been mined. If this and Tidelands Oil, Dixon-Yates, and Hell's Canyon figure out to 90 cents on a dollar we would like to see the method of computation.

The tax cut figures given by our friends are not accurate. Out of the GOP tax-cut dollar, 73 cents went to corporations, 18 cents to families with income of over $5,000, and only 9 cents went to families with incomes less than $5,000 that make up 80 per cent of the population.

The facts of the Republican's seventh point are simple. The national debt was reduced 10 billion dollars under HST, but was increased 15 billion from 1952-55 under Eisenhower even though the expenditures for the Korean War came under HST. The record for balanced budgets stands at three for Truman, 1947, 1948, and 1951, but only one for Ike, 1956; if that is balanced. Therefore, the record of the Democratic Party proves that they can give our country a sounder financial policy than the GOP.

The facts continue to show that the Party of Jefferson, Jackson, Wilson, and Roosevelt remains faithful to the welfare of the whole country not to just the vested private interests of a few.

'Male Animal' Gets New Date

Dr. Blanche Davis, director of the comedy, The Male Animal, announces that the play will be presented Thursday and Friday, Nov. 8-9. Originally scheduled for Thursday and Friday, Nov. 1-2, the time was changed due to the Milwaukee convention falling on the same dates.

A scene from this play will be presented to former Masquer and Alpha Psi Omega members on Saturday, Oct. 20 at 7:30 p.m. in the Little Theatre as part of Homecoming activities. Several of the returning alumni appeared in this same play seven years ago.

REPUBLICANS—

25, 1956 of this year said, "If we elect Stevenson, we will have a fourth "Do Nothing President."

In the Democrats' article it was mentioned that in a debate Proxmire beat Thomson on what must have been a neutral platform. Who judged this debate? They do not mention, but we want to point out that it is customary for the incumbent or the candidate of the party in power to meet and defend his own and the party's action on neutral platforms. Why then has the Democratic incumbent Lester Johnson refused repeatedly to appear on a neutral platform with his opponent Art Peterson.

THE LATEST offer is a debate before the River Falls student body which Art Peterson has accepted—while silence is the only reaction from Johnson. What has Johnson to hide and what is he afraid of? Students at River Falls could have a wonderful opportunity to see Democracy in action, but are to be denied it because the Democratic candidate is afraid to discuss the issues he should be an expert on.

We ask you, is this the type of man that you would want to represent you again? The answer can only be a loud and clear NO!

DEBATE PLANS—

Brookings, S. D., this year.

The first practice debate of the season highlighted last week's meeting of the River Falls debate squad. Participating in the debate were Sonja Rasmussen and Mary Lou Jensen, affirmative, and Arlen Christenson and Ron Losness, negative. They used the national debate question, "Resolved: That the United States Should Discontinue Direct Aid to Foreign Nations."

AFTER THE debate, Mr. Simonson gave a critique for the participants and other debaters.

This Wednesday the entire squad will hear practice debates by remaining members in 212S at 6 p.m. Anyone who has not decided on a debate partner is asked to see Mr. Simonson in his office sometime before Wednesday.

IT'S TIME FOR THE ANNUAL BATH in the Mr. and Mrs. Backwoods family. Taking part in last Wednesday's Homecoming Queen presentation, La Vern Korb, in tub, is being told to "Hurry up and git scrubbed," by Mert Hanson, playing "Maw."

IRANIAN STUDENT FLIES TO JOIN FATHER ATTENDING SUEZ CONFERENCE IN LONDON

Hamid Kharrazi, a junior enrolled in agriculture education, has been in London, England for two days. While there, he will be visiting his father, Mohamad Reza Kharrazi, from Iran, who is one of the 18 members of the Suez Conference meeting for a settlement of the Canal dispute. Mohamad Kharrazi holds a Master's Degree from the University of France and has been a representative in Iran's Parliament for 14 years.

A round-trip ticket to London via the Scandinavian Airlines System was telegraphed to the Dean's office for Mr. Kharrazi's use. He left at 1:30 a.m. last Friday and arrived in London shortly after noon Saturday. He plans to be gone from 10 to 14 days.

The ag major was Vice-Chairman of the Iranian Student Conference which met in Minneapolis last September, with 250 of the 1900 Iranian students in the United States attending.
