

Senate Voids Election; Juniors Will Vote Again

This week the Junior Class will hold its second election for next year's officers in approximately three weeks. The first was declared invalid by the Student Senate.

At the first election May 2, the juniors eliminated the primary and broke their class constitution. This was done in order to meet a deadline established in the Student Senate constitution which declares that names of class presidents must be turned in by the second week of May.

The complaints raised after the election were put before the Student Senate at a two-hour meeting last Monday evening. At this time the Senate declared the election invalid and amended its constitution, permitting the date of turning in class officers to be extended. This gives the Juniors time for an entirely new election.

The deadline for new petitions was last Friday, with the primary election to be held Friday of this week, and the general election the following week. Jim Sorenson and Bob Nelson will be in charge of watching the ballot box at the primary and general election.

Following the initiation, the installation of next year's officers will be held. The officers for next year are: president, Henri Elzinga; vice president, Mike Fleming; and secretary-treasurer, Frank Holub. A coffee hour will be held after the ceremonies.

Groups to Join in Concert Wednesday

by Mark Wyman

For the first time in history, the Band and Choir's separate Spring Concerts will be combined into one program. It will be on May 15, in North Hall Auditorium. The main reason for the combined concert, instead of two individual performances, is "the success of the recent combined tour", according to B. J. Rozehnal, director of the band, and C. B. King, choir director.

This, however, will not be the final performance of the year for either group. The band will present an outdoor concert June 4th, and both the Choir and Band will take part in the Commencement program June 9.

The four-part program will present the groups both separately and combined. The Band will open the performance with "three of the most popular symphonic numbers in literature", Mr. Rozehnal reports. Harry Elzinga, junior from Sheldon, will be the featured soloist for the band's second number.

The complete program is as follows:

- I. The College Band
1812 Overture — Tchaikovsky
Piano Concerto — Grieg
Polka and Fugue (from the opera "The Bagpiper")
Schwanda

FRESHMEN TO MAKE EXHIBIT OF COLLAGES

An exhibit of hometown collages, made by Communication classes will be held in the second floor corridor of South Hall, May 27. The collages are the result of an "Our Town" project.

Due to the limited amount of space, 7 to 10 will be selected to represent each class.

All students and faculty members are welcome to view the display.

- II. The College Choir
Salvation is Created . . .
Tschesnokoff-Matter
Let Thy Holy Presense . . .
Tschesnokoff-Cain
Lund Uv Degradashun . . .
MacGrimsey
Mountains . . . Luvaas
Annie Laurie . . . Johnstone
Land of Hope and Glory . . .

- III. The College Band

The Three Cardinals (trumpet trio) . . . Davis

- IV. The College Choir and The College Band
The Student Prince (selections) . . . Romberg

Wednesday's concert will mark the 25th anniversary of Mr. Rozehnal's first spring concert at River Falls.

Race for Student Senate Attracts 21 Candidates

Twenty-one persons are in the race for seven Student Senate positions. Eleven were nominated at an all school assembly Wednesday morning, and three were nominated by organizations. The seven incumbent senators are automatically candidates to succeed themselves. Three of the incumbents must be returned to office.

Rapid Tempo Set At Third Annual Children's Day

The third Annual Children's Day started with a rush at 8:45 Saturday morning and the initial tempo never decreased.

Sponsored by the Vet's Club, Children's Day proved to be a boom for the 85 children who attended. After an orientation and registration period the day's activities were begun in earnest.

First on the agenda was the treasure hunt. This yielded prizes ranging from model airplanes to costume jewelry. However, this year none of the boys got dolls. Though water pistols are a far cry from M1's, the boys used the pistols with equal effectiveness. After the treasure hunt, movies were shown, giving both children and adults a brief respite.

Lunch was served at the cafeteria. The menu included hamburger steak, french fries and ice cream. The afternoon program proved to be the biggest hit. It offered a future "Hopalong" a chance to demonstrate his horsemanship.

Juniors Choose 'Moonglow' As Theme for Annual Prom

"It must have been Moonglow" is the cue for RFSC students, faculty, and alumni to come out and glow in all their finery for the Junior Prom Saturday, May 18.

Theme for the annual event, to be in North Hall gym this year, is "Moonglow."

King of the Prom is traditionally the Junior Class President. Phyllis Benjamin has been chosen by this year's King, Calvin Martell, as the second member of the royal couple.

Admission to the dance is $2 a couple. George Barton and his eight-piece orchestra, from the Twin Cities, will play from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Committee heads in charge of various phases of preparation for the Prom include: Decorations, Ethel Meyer, Bruce Foster; Tickets and Invitations, Bob Uhrig; Programs, H. G. Greenhill; Publicity, Art Moe and Arlin Albrecht; Cleanup, Roger Gerrits; Punch and Cloakroom, Mary Lou Jensen; and Orchestra, Oscar Lundbeck.

The Editor Speaks

As the school year draws to an end we'd like to compliment a couple of organizations on campus that have done outstanding work throughout the year.

One such organization is the girls marching band, the Falconettes. Two year ago a group of girls decided we lacked something on campus—a marching band. They got busy and did something about it. The result we have seen at football games and the Spring Music Festival. A week ago the Falconettes were invited to march in the American Legion Parade in Chippewa. This shows that the girls efforts have not gone unnoticed. This group of 30 girls is the only all girl band in the Wisconsin State Colleges. Another outstanding feature is that the girls accomplished what they did pretty much on their own.

A great deal of credit should be given these girls who have worked so hard and diligently to form a smart, good-looking band. It is hoped they will continue their work on campus.

Another group on campus with a worthwhile project is the Vets Club. This organization of fellows has made Children's Day on campus an annual event. They work throughout the year to raise sufficient funds to hold this day in the spring.

Children who would especially appreciate such a day are selected and brought to campus and given an exciting, fun-filled day they otherwise wouldn't get. Small gifts are given to the children during a "Treasure Hunt," but the vets get a gift in return, the gift of seeing these kids have the time of their life. Such a day wouldn't be necessary, but from past experience the vets find it's worth their time and effort.

These are not the only organizations on campus that deserve mentioning. In fact all of them do a tremendous job in making our campus and college life what it is.

GAD BOOKS!

The Town. By William Faulkner. 371 pp. New York: Random House. $3.95.

The series of books of which The Town is the latest started out as an apparent long, sad and rambling tale of a mythical, decayed and decadent county in Mississippi. The author of the series, William Faulkner, said nothing of the rightness of that impression then. Now he has written another book in the series; it does not say that it differs from the conception with which it started either. And the impression of the series (that says it is an apparent long, sad and rambling tale, etc.) is still held by some. Why shouldn't it still be held — the author himself and his latest book say nothing to the contrary?

WELL THE SERIES is something else than that long, sad and rambling tale which it was and still is thought to be. If author Faulkner were patiently spinning out a long, sad and rambling tale about a decayed and decadent place and if The Town were only more of that, then I think, many people, this writer included, would be fairly bored to death if they had to read it.

But this writer was not bored by The Town. In this book and in other books of the series, author Faulkner is saying correctly and with right emphasis something which is often said incorrectly and with wrong emphasis.

In The Town and in the serial books preceding it, author Faulkner writes of the Snopeses. They are an innumerable and unbelievable clan, springing from everywhere and taking with them wherever they go a single, paramount characteristic.

One Snopes in an instant or one hundred Snopeses in a lifetime—whichever way, the clan always succeeds in taking over that which someone else possesses. Now The Town is not an argument against entrepreneurship nor is it a pitch for the rights of property; it is a very deeply-felt circumspect (the two are seldom seen together) argument against what the old Bible-thumping, circuit-riding preacher only intuitively-felt and noisily-ranted about: i.e., "backsliding" (sic) — there is no better word.

Author Faulkner tells why people like Flem Snopes, "... the most ignorant of men," is more powerful than the Sartorises, the McCaslins and the De Spains and demonstrates how what the later group stands for is mere straw before the fire of what the Snopeses stand for.

Now neither group (the Snopeses or the "old families") consciously stands for anything and this, by itself, works in the Snopeses' favor. The "old families" hollowly mouth old platitudes, and this and their "backslid" characters are no match for the vibrant, overwhelming evil of the Snopeses' acquisitiveness.

Now the "old families" are, for Faulkner, symbolic of people who have lost sight of what they believe in or simply don't believe in anything or believe in something wrong or unreasonable. The Snopeses — "innumerable and unbelievable and springing from everywhere" — are, for Faulkner, symbolic of what happens to "old, backslid families."

Faulkner is saying in The Town that one can only describe the Snopeses in terms of the "old families"—the former cannot occur without the latter. Author Faulkner's conclusions about the Snopeses and the "old families" is yet to appear.

It is this writer's opinion that with some thought on the matter, one might be able to anticipate with reasonable accuracy author Faulkner's conclusion.

An excerpt from The Town, by William Faulkner, called "The Waifs", appeared in the May 4, 1957 issue of The Saturday Evening Post on page 26.

CINEMA COMMENTARY

by Jack Woodbury

These are the ingredients: a beautiful tropical isle in the South Pacific and a rugged Marine stranded with a lovely lady. Give this to Hollywood and you can ordinarily guess the results.

But I am happy to report that the plot is varied somewhat in 20th Century Fox's, "Heaven Knows, Mr. Allison."

For once, movie-town schemers have gotten out of their rut and the result is a better than average evening's entertainment.

The locale as I've said before, is an island in the South Pacific. The time, sometime in World War II. Our stars are Robert Mitchum, as the stranded Marine, and Deborah Kerr as an equally stranded nun.

Perhaps this is the place to give credit to the directing of John Huston. That name should give us the clue for the movie's skirting and obviously touchy situation with good taste.

To those fans of Miss Kerr it would be only fair to inject a word of caution. Don't expect any such movie as "The King and I" or "Tea and Sympathy." This current effort just doesn't provide the vehicle for her acting abilities. It's a safe bet that this won't rate Oscar mention.

As far as "big Bob", Time Magazine (March 25) says, "but Actor Mitchum, even though as usual he does nothing but slob around the screen, has succeeded for once in carrying off his slobbering with significance.

While we are giving credit where it is due, watch for a newcomer to the screen. You may not see him starred again, although he shares with Mitchum one of the night's more dramatic and tense moments. A large sized jungle rat!

Although it gets a trifle "gung-ho," any ex-GI may get a few laughs out of Mitchum's running commentary on "the corp." (It's rumored the U. S. M. C. is going to show this one to boost enlistments.)

So the only comment left is, "you could do worse."

Hodges or Graham To Read Paper On McCarthyites

A paper entitled "Characteristics of the McCarthy Supporter" will be read by either Dr. Harold Hodges or Dr. Charles Graham, both of the social science department, at the American Sociological Society held in Washington, D. C., on August 27.

Attempting to discover if there are any noticeable, significant characteristics of those people who have been supporters of McCarthy as compared to those who oppose him, this paper is based on the survey of the River Falls area taken last fall by the Public Opinion and Political Parties classes.

In general, Dr. Graham reports these results were found: Among the supporters of McCarthy there was an unusually high percentage of Germans, Irish, and Catholics. These people it was found in general, had a lower education level, were of the older generation, tended to have a lower income, tended to be laboring people, tended to be more distrustful and prejudiced against other groups, and tended to be isolationists, but might be either Democratic or Republican.

Refugee Pledges Due

The last collection day for pledges made earlier in the year to the Hungarian Refugee Scholarship Fund will be Wednesday, May 22. A collection table is to be set up in the cafeteria from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. All pledges must be made good during this time. About $600 in pledges still remains to be fulfilled. A total of about $400 has been collected in cash.

Newman Club Library Open to Student Body

A recent project of the Newman Club was the establishment of a Newman Library to furnish an adequate source of information concerning the Catholic faith. The books in this library are open to the use of the entire student body and faculty. A section of the Browsing Room in the Library has been set aside for this purpose.

Anyone wishing to check out a book must merely sign the book card and place it in a box located near the books. The students are asked to follow the usual two weeks limit. Title cards for all books pertaining to the Catholic religion located in the stacks are also on file.

This section includes all books purchased by the club and donated by individuals. The works of John Henry Newman, The Idea of a University, A Catholic Philosophy of Education, and Lives of Saints are some examples of books one can find there.

Anyone wishing to donate a book either permanently or temporarily is asked to contact the following members of the committee: Chuck Redmond, chairman; Barbara Rohl or Pat Lind.

TWO GRADS RECEIVE GRANTS IN SCIENCE

Two River Falls alumni, both high school science teachers, have been honored by their selection for a scholarship for advanced study at the University of Wisconsin. Marshall Goodspeed, 1950, and Robert Thoreson, 1952, were notified recently that they had been chosen to participate in the 1957-58 Academic Year Institute for High School Science and Mathematics teachers at the University, under the auspices of the National Science Foundation.

Dr. Walker D. Wyman, chairman of the social science department, was the principle speaker, discussing "Folklore of the Midwest." Also included on the program were vocal solos by Richard Meulemans who sang "The Old Road," and Audrey Kay who sang, "I'm Falling in Love with

RF Debate Squad Returns to Campus From New York Trip With 5-1 Record

The RFSC debate squad returned to campus last Tuesday after winning five out of six debates in the New York State University tournament. No winner was declared in the meet.

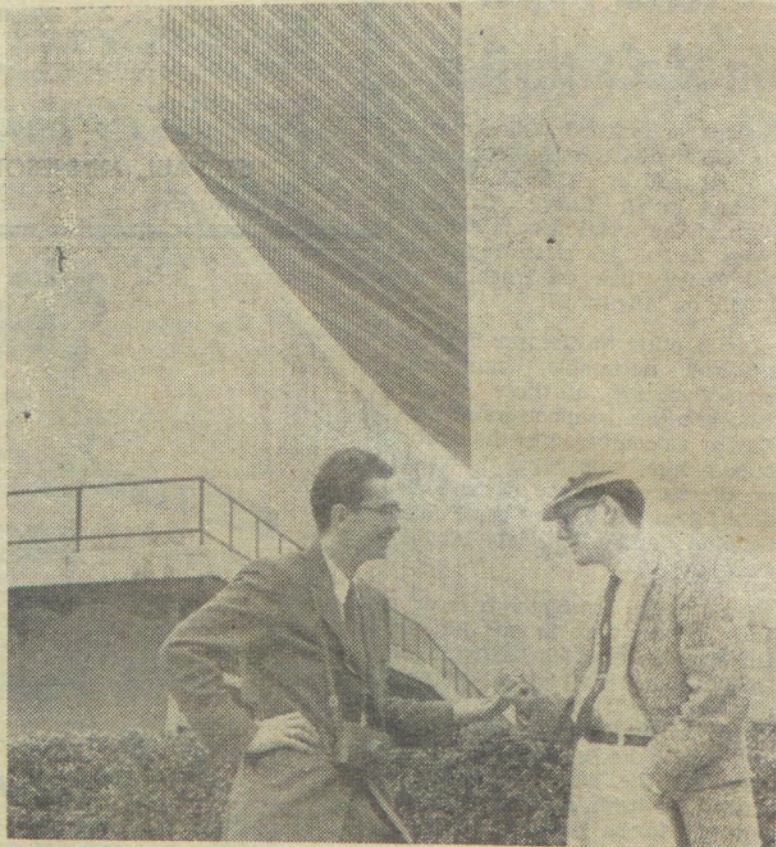

Had there been one, however, River Falls would have at least tied for first place on a won-lost basis.

Both RF teams making the trip took part in audience debates with New York State University and Le Moyne College at Syracuse, N. Y. Dick Doetkott and Arlin Albrecht participated in a special split team audience debate with the host school, each debated with one member of the N. Y. State squad.

During the tournament, the team of Bill Hagestad and Arlin Albrecht won three debates and lost none, while the team of Judy Simonson and Dick Doetkott won two and lost one.

Other audience debates scheduled with Brooklyn College and Syracuse University did not take place because of a date change for an area speech conference attended by the two schools.

The RF debaters spent this extra time sightseeing in New York City. Most of the expenses for food and lodging on the trip were covered personally by the squad members.

New School Song Written By Dr. Charles Graham

Dr. Kleinpell Attends St. Louis Conference

President E. H. Kleinpell, was part of a 14-member delegation from Wisconsin who participated in the Midwest Regional Conference on Education Beyond the High School held May 9 and 10 at St. Louis.

The conference, sponsored by the President's Committee on Education Beyond High School, was one of five held throughout the nation.

The 250 delegates participating included both professional educators representing all kinds of educational institutions and programs and representatives of business, labor, government, agriculture, the professions and other segments of society.

The conference dealt with such topics as what kinds of education beyond the high school do the country and the people need now and during the next 15 to 20 years; what will be needed to provide the desired diversity, quality, quantity and accessibility of education beyond the high school; how to retain adequate numbers of teachers, and how to finance education beyond the high school.

A new school song was introduced at the all-school convocation last Wednesday. The song entitled "River Falls Loyalty" was written and arranged by two faculty members.

Miss Laura Johnson, Dorm counselor did the arranging, and the words and melody were provided by Dr. Charles Graham of the social science department.

River Falls Loyalty

To our Alma Mater, River Falls,
We will loyal be.
We pledge heart and mind and life and fortune,
River Falls to thee
To the school and to the team,
boys,
To the campus and the girls, boys,
To ev'rything at River Falls, boys,
We will loyal be.

We will loyal be;
We will loyal be;
To out Alma Mater, River Falls,
We will loyal be.

As the years are swiftly flying by,
We will loyal be.
To our sons and daughters
We are singing, River Falls of thee
Of thy glory and thy name,
Of thy prowess and thy fame;
Never shall these mem'rie wane,
River Falls of thee.

Although River Falls debaters on the recent New York trip had respectable won-loss records in tournament competition, one of the squad lost a decision in the place where the world's most important debates occur.

He was kicked off the floor in the United Nations Building. It seems, according to the guards, that there is a standing rule that prohibits sitting on the UN floor, even if the person is taking pictures.

The debater proceeded to use a nearby counter as a brace for his camera.

Friday evening the debaters were guests at a dinner held in their honor by N. Y. State University. Later that evening, after the split team debate, students from both schools got together over pizza for a discussion on the debate styles in different parts of the nation.

River Falls received several tournament invitations for next year from Eastern schools at the tournament. Many of the schools expressed interest in setting up an annual exchange of competitive debates with Midwestern colleges.

Funeral Held Thursday For Mrs. McLaughlin, Wife of Division Head

Funeral services were held Thursday from the Methodist church for Mrs. Margaret McLaughlin, wife of Dr. James McLaughlin, Director of the Division of Arts and Sciences. Mrs. McLaughlin died at her home Tuesday after an illness of several months.

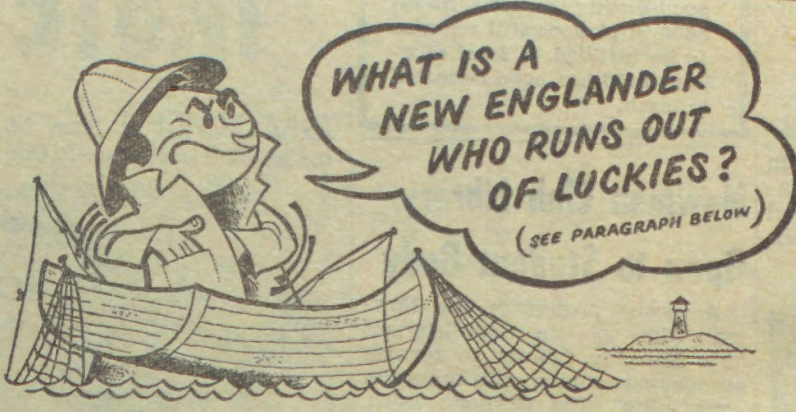

Mrs. McLaughlin, who had lived in River Falls since 1947, was born in Assyria, Mich., in 1911. She received her A.B. degree from Michigan State Normal in 1932 and was married the same year. The following year she acted as librarian at Michigan State.

From 1943 to 1946 the McLaughlins lived in Brazil where Mr. McLaughlin worked for the Brazilian Air Ministry. They came to River Falls after a brief period in Miami, Fla.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. McLaughlin is survived by two daughter, Susan and Nona; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Potts of Nashville, Mich., and a brother, Edward Nash of Royal Oaks, Mich.

Other services and burial were in Ypsilanti, Mich., Friday.

Coaching Clinic Set for June 13 - 15

Three of the nation's outstanding coaches have been signed for the eighth annual River Falls State Coaching Clinic, scheduled for June 13, 14 and 15.

They are: Floyd Stahl, head basketball coach at Ohio State; Ara Parseghian, head football coach at Northwestern and Lisle Blackburn, Green Bay Packers football coach.

STAHL, who took over as head court coach at OSU in 1951, led his Buckeye cagers to a second-place finish in the Big Ten this winter despite the loss of three regulars from a 1955-56 team that had a 16-6 record. A graduate of the University of Illinois in 1926, he is one of the most versatile members of the Ohio State athletic staff, having been head coach of both basketball and baseball and served as an assistant in football.

The Grover Hill, Ohio, native joined the Ohio school's staff in 1930 following a five-year stay at Stivers High School in Dayton, where he became the only coach in Ohio high school history to win three consecutive state cage titles—1928, 1929 and 1930. Stahl was on the coaching staff at Harvard University from 1938 to 1948, then returned to Ohio State.

YOUNGEST of the Big Ten's football coaches at 32, Parseghian stepped into the helm at Northwestern last fall following a brilliant five-year career at Miami (Ohio) University where his teams had a 39-6-1 record. He brought a tail-end Northwestern team of the previous year (0-8-1) to a sixth place finish with a 4-4-1 record in his first year at the Big Ten school. It was the best performance of a Northwestern team since the Wildcats went to the Rose Bowl in 1948.

Parseghian is a native of Akron, Ohio, where he starred in four sports in high school. He went on to become an all-Ohio halfback at Miami and later played with the Cleveland Browns.

PARSEGHIAN

He received his master's degree from Miami in 1954.

A FAMILIAR Wisconsinite is the final member of this year's trio of headline coaches. Blackburn, who became head coach for the Green Bay pro club in 1954, coached at Milwaukee's Washington high school for 22 years, was a backfield mentor at the University of Wisconsin in 1948, then went to Marquette, where he was head coach for three years after serving as an assistant under Frank Murray.

A remarkable record of 140 victories, 30 losses and six ties at Washington high school was the beginning of the gridiron success that Blackburn has had. In his stint at Marquette, he raised the Hilltoppers out of the football doldrums to a 6-3-1 record in 1953. He has had equally good fortune with the Packers, moving the former last-place Green Bay Club to a 4-8 record in 1954 and keeping them in the championship race down to the final few games in both 1955 and 1956.

In charge of the clinic for the fifth consecutive year in RF athletic director Phil Belfiori, assisted by Bill Solley and Fran Polsfoot.

Varsity "R" Club Plans Alumni Organization

Plans were released this week by the Varsity "R" Lettermen's Club for forming an alumni organization, consisting of former members. The organization plans to compile a mailing list from the past records of members who have graduated. Membership cards will be printed and sent to the alumni members. This card will enable them to be admitted to any athletic event at the college free of charge. The alumni will be charged a specific amount (not yet determined) for this card.

With the proceeds obtained from the membership card, the "R Club" plans to furnish a room in the new student union, or in some other building or campus. The room will be used to keep records of all former members and for meetings. They will try also to have the pictures of the past athletic teams brought up to date and kept current.

The organization is also planning a social gathering at sometime during the year after an athletic event such as homecoming. This room and social gathering will give the alumni a chance to get together and meet old friends and the present members of the "R Club".

Alumni who have suggestions are asked to write to: Varsity "R Club", Athletic Department, Wisconsin State College, River Falls, Wisconsin.

FALCON TRACKMEN FALL TO MANKATO

Mankato, last year's Bi-State conference track and field champion, scored an 85½ to 36½ victory over the Falcon trackmen last Tuesday, copping 11 of a possible 14 firsts.

Taking River Falls' three firsts were Vern Parker's 4:38.1 time in the mile, Dan Teetzen's 10:31.3 time in the two-mile and Aaron Burchell's 126' toss of the discus. Phil Kuss took second in both the 440 and 880, setting a new school record in the quarter-mile event with a 51.9 time. Frank Sprenger placed second in both the 100 and 220 yard dashes.

The two teams will meet again Saturday when River Falls is host to the annual Bi-State meet.

The Falcon baseball team ends its season in a flurry of games and the track squad will take part in a five-team meet at Ramer Field to highlight the RFSC spring sports scene this week.

COACH BILL SOLLEY'S baseballers, who split a marathon twin-bill at La Crosse Saturday, will face Hamline University at the St. Paul school on Tuesday, then tackle Bethel away Wednesday afternoon. Saturday the Falcon nine wraps up the current season in a doubleheader against Stout at Ramer Field, with the first game scheduled to begin at 1 p.m.

The Falcons brought their season's record to 7-3 and their league mark to 5-3 at La Crosse Saturday, as they downed the Indians 5-2 in a nine-inning first game, then bowed 7-6 in a nightcap that lasted 13 innings. Dick Fischer twirled three-hit ball in the opener to gain his fourth victory against one defeat. The score was deadlocked at 2-2 following the regulation seven innings, but the Falcons finally came up with three runs spaced around singles by John Steffen, Fischer and Al Suezaki in the ninth to sew up the win. Steffen had three-for-four to lead the game's hitters.

The second game was knotted 2-2 at the end of seven, both teams got one run in the 11th, and both got three in the 12th. A lone La Crosse tally in the last of the 13th gave the Indians the victory. Jim Turnquist, relieving for Louie Johnson, took the loss, while Dick Ankey was the winner. Al Hertz had three-for-five including a three-run homer to lead La Crosse at the plate.

Batting star for the afternoon was centerfielder Rog Roffler, who had two for four in each game.

MANKATO, St. Cloud, Winona and Eau Claire will be at Ramer Field Saturday for the continuing of a meet that originated when these teams were in the old Bi-State Conference. The meet is scheduled to begin at 11 a.m., with Mankato listed as the favorite and River Falls expected to battle it out with St. Cloud for second.

Falcons Take Macalester Wednesday In Nonconference Doubleheader

The River Falls baseball Falcons boosted their season's record to six wins and two losses by taking both ends of a Rec Day doubleheader played at the Ramer Field diamond Wednesday afternoon. The non-conference opponents, Macalester, fell twice before the sharp pitching of Dick Fischer and Louie Johnson and the coordinated support of the RF defense by the scores of 5-0 and 4-3.

The First Game

Fischer went all seven innings for the victory shutout, allowing the Macs just two hits, both of them being scratch singles in the first and last innings. He struck out two enemy batsmen but allowed no walks. Sharp infielding allowed just one batter to reach base because of a miscue.

The hitting was well distributed among six Falcon stickmen, with Don Swanson coming up with a pair of singles. Extra base blows were dealt by John Steffen and Dick Hoffman, who slapped out doubles.

The Second Game

The rallying Redbird batsmen combined for four hits yielding three runs in the fourth inning to provide the one-run cushion for hurler Johnson to work on and RF went on to win, 4-3. Hits in the big fourth frame included a home run by Swanson, his second of the season, with nobody on, a double by Hoffman, and singles by Johnson and Al Suezaki. Two Macalester errors and a pair of stolen bases also aided the cause.

Leading the Falcon sluggers, who garnered eight hits, was George Holland with two doubles.

Starter Johnson pitched five complete innings, allowing four hits, striking out one and giving up three walks. Jim Turnquist came on for 1½ innings, allowed four hits and walked one. Then with a Mac baserunner on third representing the tying run, Fischer mopped up to finish the contest.

SIGN OF GOOD TASTE

FALCON FANFARE

by Rog Gunlach

The Falcon's regular catcher this spring has been Howie Madsen, a stocky freshman from Amery enrolled in pre-law. Howie won the backstopping job by beating out a number of top prospects, including Ray Anderson, a frosh standout from New Richmond.

Since this is his first year at River Falls, the question naturally arises as to his ability and experience behind the plate.

A graduate of Amery high school in 1955, Madsen earned a total of 10 letters in two-and-one-half years at AHS. He had previously lived in Rush City, Minn. Of this impressive total, two came in both track (discus) and football (tackle), while he won a trio of numerals for basketball (guard) and baseball (catcher).

Following graduation, Madsen worked for one year with the Amery Free Press as sportswriter before coming to RF last fall. During the football season he saw considerable action playing tackle for the Belflorimen. When the basketball season rolled around he was playing guard on the Frosh squad.

During the summer months the 6-foot, 195-pound athlete catches for the Amery Flyers, crack diamond team in the Polk County League. Howie will be with them again this summer.

By winning his letter in football last fall, Madsen gained admittance to the R Club. He seems destined to repeat with his dependable catching this spring.

Various Jobs Assigned College Organizations

by Frank Holub

The River Falls Campus on Rec Day, May 8, was rejuvenated as the last signs of winter ravage were removed by students. After the convocation for nominations of candidates to the Student Senate, the students broke up into small groups and dispersed through the campus and Ramer Field to "recreate" the campus.

The jobs consisted of everything from washing windows to "policing" the grounds. The FFA planted about 2000 trees on the "back forty" of the college farm. The windows on campus seemed to be a little cleaner due to the efforts of several organizations. The grounds were diligently and painstakingly covered by a committee of students who picked up pieces of paper and cigarette butts.

The far-flung expanses of the campus were also touched by students in their efforts. Ramer Field was cleaned of debris and the baseball field was limed. Masquers accomplished the impossible of clearing away the tangled affairs of their storage rooms. The morning was occupied with these various jobs and a coffee break at which coffee was distributed—courtesy of the Faculty Social Committee. In the afternoon the students attended a baseball game between Macalester and River Falls.

FORMER COLLEGE ATHLETE STARS FOR AIR FORCE

A former River Falls high school and state college athlete, Dan Linehan, was one of his team's stars during the recently completed basketball season at Wurtsmith Air Force Base in Oscoda, Mich., where he is stationed.

Dan, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Linehan, Sr., of River Falls, was a leading scorer and rebounder as the 445th Officers Intramural team at Wurtsmith rolled to a 27-1 season's record, the intramural championship of the base and the championship of the entire 30th Air Division.

RF Chapter of Alumni To Give Scholarship

Members of the River Falls Chapter of the River Falls State College Alumni Association voted at their meeting Monday, May 6, to establish a scholarship on an annual basis and elected officers for next year.

The award will be financed with proceeds from an annual scholarship banquet in addition to pledges from interested persons.

Elected to office were Mrs. Evelyn Glesnes, president; Charles White, vice-president, and Mrs. Philip Anderson, social chairman. Mrs. Ruby McLaughlin begins her second year of a two-year term as secretary and Everett Campbell is beginning the third year of a three-year term as treasurer.

PREP MEET—

Saturday the Falcon thinclads finished second in a quadrangular meet at Winona. The point totals: Stevens Point—85½, River Falls—47½, Eau Claire—17, Winona—15.

River Falls continued to dominate the distance events, garnering the first two places in the 880, mile and two-mile. Winning those events were Phil Kuss, Vern Parker and Dan Teetzen respectively. The Falcons copped one more first when Del Motaz and Dale Henning tied for first in the high jump at 5'5".

COLLEGE RECEIVES PROGRAM FROM 1896

A well preserved invitation to attend the "Anniversary Exercises of the State Normal School, River Falls, Wisconsin" on June 14-18, 1896, was sent to the College early this year by Dr. Dean S. Smith, (1907-09) of La Crosse, Wis.

This will be added to the documents in the Historical Room of the Chalmer A. Davee Library along with other records of the development of the State College.

CHILDREN'S DAY—

The ponies both amazed and bedeviled the young cowboys. After riding herd on imaginary Indians the children cooled off in the swimming pool.

The day was climaxed by a snack in the cafeteria. The long day was brought to a reluctant close, by both children and adults. Children's Day proved to be tiring but thoroughly rewarding.
