Miss Nishizaki Performs Today

Miss Takako Nishizaki, a young Japanese violinist, appeared at Wisconsin State University-River Falls this morning in concert at North Hall Auditorium. Her performance was part of the Fine Arts Festival at WSU-RF. This afternoon she spoke to interested students about the Suzuki Method.

The 21-year-old Japanese girl acquired her interest in music through her family. At the age of four, her father, who is a string instrument leader, began her musical career with the gift of a violin.

Miss Nishizaki's first teacher was also her father who is a "disciple" of Suzuki, the originator of a system for teaching children to play long before they are able to read notes.

In the Suzuki system the pupil listens to records and then attempts to play the same tunes on an instrument. Under this system the child must be constantly prodded into listening and practicing because he has not yet acquired an appreciation of music.

About six years ago, Miss Nishizaki left her home in Nagoya to further her studies at Toho School.

She first came to the United States four years ago at the urging of an American music instructor who had heard her play while he visited in Japan. She is attending the Juilliard School of Music in New York City and has studied under the well-known musician Joseph Fuchs.

In 1964, Miss Nishizaki was one of the four finalists in the 23rd Levintritt International Competition. The Levintritt Foundation has also sponsored her on concert trips.

Approximately 25 concerts a year are given by Miss Nishizaki in various cities throughout the United States, including Chicago, Ill.; Boston, Mass.; Rockford, Ill., and Pittsburgh, Pa.

41 Organizations 'Abstain' at SAC

Forty-one organizations were not present to answer a roll call vote at the SAC (Student Activities Committee) meeting Wednesday afternoon.

The roll call vote was taken on a proposal by Dave Taube which would have adjourned SAC until the last week of spring quarter. Taube's motion was defeated 29 to 8, with 41 organizations abstaining. Another proposal to adjourn the meeting date until the first week of spring quarter was passed by a vote of 16 to 13.

The following organizations were noted as abstaining when they failed to answer the roll call vote taken on Taube's motion: Psychology Club, Alpha Psi Omega, Masquers, Baptist Student Fellowship, Gamma Delta, Canterbury Club, Vet's Club, Young Socialists, Pinochle Club, WRA, Rural Life Club, Falcon Radio Society, Physics Colloquium, United Student Fellowship, SANE, Scuba Club, French Club, UCCF, Foundation Committee, SAFE, Stratton Hall, Sigma Alpha Eta, Sigma Rho, PEMM, May Hall, Kappa Mu Epsilon, Kappa Delta Psi, FFA, FSA, Class of 1967, Class of 1968, Economics Club, Pre-Law Club, Theta Delta Pi, Pi Kappa Delta, Tri-Beta, Sigma Chi Sigma, Sunbathers Club, 4-H Club, ATLIER, and Inter-Dorm Council.

Senator Dennis Langkos, chairman of SAC, said that no action had been taken by the senate to suspend organizations that have not been attending past SAC meetings.

He said that the Senate would, in the future, suspend any organizations for 30 days if they were properly notified of the meeting time.

Computer Dance Will Be Monday

The "Computer Valentine Dance," which will be held on the eve of Feb. 14, will probably prove to be the most interesting type of dance ever held on the University campus.

The use of the I.B.M. "1620" computer as a "Mating machine" was tried out by Carlton College Minnesota and proved to be rather successful.

Professor Lyle Oleson of WSU-RF mathematics department, found out from a member of the Carlton mathematics department about the experiment with their computer and thought it would be interesting to try it here at River Falls since the math club was sponsoring the Valentine dance.

Eleven hundred questionnaires have been processed and distributed throughout the campus. The questions were compiled by the math department of Carlton. As soon as all the questionnaires have been turned in, they will be computed in the "Mating Machine." More than 400 completed forms have been returned so far.

Two days before the dance, a number will be given to each student corresponding to his or her date.

The computers are located in the basement of North Hall.

Edward Nelson Speaks Monday

Non-technical physics lectures for lay people will be presented here by Prof. Edward B. Nelson of the University of Iowa, Iowa City, on Monday, Feb. 14.

Nelson, Professor of physics and associate head of the department of physics and astronomy, will speak to physics classes on "The English Educational System in Physics" and "Work in Space Physics at the University of Iowa" at 9:45 a.m. and 2:20 p.m. Monday in North Hall Auditorium. The lectures are open to all interested students.

An informal talk to the Physics Colloquium on "Experiments with Small Vande Graff" will be held at 7 p.m. the same evening in North Hall Auditorium.

Conferences with physics majors and faculty are scheduled for all day Tuesday, Feb. 15.

Nelson is lecturing at River Falls under the auspices of the American Association of Physics Teachers and the American Institute of Physics as part of a broad, nationwide program to stimulate interest in physics. Supported by the National Science Foundation, the program is in its ninth year.

In 1961 - 62, he was a visiting lecturer at the University of Exeter, Exeter, England. His fields of interest are nuclear physics, reactions in light nuclei, and nuclear models.

GLC Proposes Split

After weeks of preparations and discussion, the Greek Letter Council finally amended its constitution in a power grab that is designed to place GLC on a nearly equal power-footing with the Student Senate.

GLC passed amendments that were proposed by John Wengen and amendments that were proposed by Lavern Cook. For weeks, Cook has been urging the Greek Letter Council that it is time that it "got out from under" Senate control. John Wengen had proposed a number of alternate amendments that called for more power for the GLC, but did not advocate a complete split with Senate. Five of Wengen's amendments were accepted along with three of Cook's.

The result of the constitutional changes will give GLC the right to decide which fraternity and sorority chapters may be formed on campus. As it stands now, a group that wishes to organize, first petitions the Student Senate and then asks GLC to accept its constitution. If the amendments to the GLC are approved by Senate it will read this way.

"Probationary membership shall last six months. At the end of this period, the Greek Letter Council shall, on the basis of observation, judge whether the actions of the organization under observation have evidenced consistency with the ideals of the Greek Letter Council and the University. After sufficient discussion, a secret ballot shall be held with a majority vote by the members of Greek Letter Council constituting approval. Upon this approval, the organization shall become a regular member of the Greek Letter Council."

At the present time Student Senate is represented on the council by one voting member. If the changes are approved by the Senate, the member will lose his vote.

Senate Gives Housing to LAC

The Student Senate acted on two major questions last Monday that have been the source of controversy among senators.

Senate decided that a new committee was not needed to handle Peterson's motion and turned it over to LAC.

Second, the Senate reconsidered its action on the constitution of the Freedom Unlimited By Administrative Restraint (FUBAR) Fan Club. Two weeks ago this constitution was rejected. Last week, the Senate retraced its steps and after a lengthy discussion the constitution was approved. Five senators voted for it, two against, and three abstained. The discussion was dominated by the new club's president, David Taube. In explaining of the club's purposes, Taube read passages

SDS Organizer To Speak Feb. 8-9

Jack Kittredge, field organizer for Students of Democratic society and also for the National Student Christian Federation, will be on campus Tuesday and Wednesday, Feb. 8 and 9. Kittredge is seeking to establish a local chapter of Students for Democratic Society in River Falls.

Kittredge will speak on "Academic Freedom" Tuesday, at 1:25 in Rooms 201-02-03 of the Student Center. Following this will be a coffee hour in Rooms 101-02-03 of the Student Center for those students interested in helping with the establishment of the Students of Democratic Society, and anyone else interested in the organization. This coffee hour will be the highlight of his visit.

The Students of Democratic Society is an organization established in Port Huron, Mich.

in 1962 with the adoption of the "Port Huron Statement." This document is offered as "an effort in understanding and changing the conditions of humanity in the late twentieth century, as an effort rooted in the ancient, still unfulfilled conception of man attaining determining influence over his circumstances of life." The organization "seeks the establishment of a democracy of participation."

At 5 p.m. Tuesday, the Wesley Foundation is sponsoring a dinner for Kittredge and members of the Student Senate and LAC. He is also scheduled to speak at the Wesley Foundation's regular Wednesday evening meeting at 7 p.m. This meeting is open to anyone who wishes to attend. His topic will be "University Reform and Renewal."

Earlier Wednesday, he will be present at a noon luncheon as part of the Peace Forum. The luncheon, as well as a 3 o'clock coffee hour will focus on peace.

Kittredge graduated from Carleton College in Northfield, Minn. with a degree in history. He has worked with the Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee in Albany, Ga. He has also worked with the unemployed striking miners of Hazard, Ky. While at Carleton, Kittredge was president of the student body and during this time had dinner with Lyndon B. Johnson.

"BUS STOP"

Sunday, Feb. 13, at 7:30 p.m. in the Student Center, the films committee will present "Bus Stop" starring Marilyn Monroe. The cost is 35 cents.

United Council

Next weekend River Falls delegates will travel to Eau Claire for the winter session of United Council.

We realize that the United Council has a definite potential and that it can have a clear impact on student government throughout the state and especially at River Falls. We feel, though, that it has not begun to approach its potential.

At the last session of UC, delegates voted to triple the budget of the council. At that time, one of the many new benefits promised was an increase of communication between the officers of United Council and individual student governments. This increase has not been forthcoming and we wonder if there has been an increase of United Council activity. Perhaps the answer will come this weekend.

Winter Carnival

The Winter Carnival committee (or actually the special events committee of the UAB) has done an excellent job in setting up and executing the events of Winter Carnival week this year.

Everything except the King's Ball, at which the band failed to show up (an occurrence about which the committee could do nothing), was carried out as planned.

A special note should be made of the fact that this year's ski outing at Afton, Minn., did not, I repeat did not, become the beer-liquor blast it has in former years.

We might seriously consider setting up the UAB with a more permanent source of funds than just Senate appropriation, and with a standing duty to handle all special events as this in the future. We give them an "A" for this quarter's effort.

And on Other Campuses...

by MICHAEL BRECKE

"Only the death of God can make possible the birth of a new humanity," Thomas J. Altizer told the Union Great Hall overflow crowd Tuesday night.

Altizer is the popularizer of the Nietzschean concept, "God is dead," which is becoming a serious theological question.

The religion professor insisted that God must be seen as an historical entity who died in historical time; a corollary was that the recognition of God in the present time is impeding future.

Daily Cardinal - WSU - Wisconsin

Scholarships are a wonderful thing. Many students count on them to get through school. But two very disturbing things mar their effectiveness.

First, many students have no idea what kind of aid is available to them.

Second and more disturbing of the two is the fact that a lot of students who are well heeled lie about their father's income or their fathers do.

Until someone figures out a less expensive, fool-proof system of checking the eligibility of scholarship seekers, the needy students will get short-changed, and the well heeled students who lies will get the cash and most likely a better education.

An Opinion - Daily Cardinal - Wisconsin Madison

A university of Wisconsin sophomore from Eau Claire knew he had a problem. He studied many hours each week, but his grades were getting worse.

A freshman girl from Green Bay, in her first semester on the Madison campus, did not think she had any problems at all. Her grades were good and she had just managed to change her program to include another language she wanted to study.

Both are among those UW students who respond to an invitation from Assistant Dean C. John Tolch of the College of Letters and Science and are glad they did.

Dean Tolch directs the Faculty Advising Service and he states, "Our faculty is genuinely interested in your academic standing as well as your general well being. You have a standing invitation to come by for a conference. We're here to help you.

On duty each week are 25 Wisconsin faculty members from various fields, spending a minimum of an hour and a half counseling students with academic problems.

PERSPECTIVE -

'Feminine Mystique'

By DAVID J. TAMBE

Can American women find happiness by confining themselves to such feminine roles as child-rearing and housekeeping?

The answer is a resounding "No" according to Betty Friedan in her book, "The Feminine Mystique."

Mrs. Friedan attended Smith, an institution with the unsavory reputation of turning out women who think and has developed a great faith in her sex and an extreme dislike of Fried.

Charging that the influence of Fried and Margaret Mead has caused our entire educational system to become a bludgeon against women who would pursue an "unfeminine" career, Mrs. Friedan suggests that American women feel "desperate and empty." These feelings are caused by a lack of satisfaction with the meager role which society permits them to play.

The phrase "feminine mystique" is loosely defined by the

'Madwoman of Chaillot' Begins Feb. 9

The theater department of WSU-RF will present Jean Giraudoux's "The Madwoman of Chaillot" Feb. 4, 5, 9, 11 and 12 in conjunction with the University Fine Arts Festival. Dr. Josephine Paterek of the speech department will direct the play.

The play, a comedy set in Paris after World War II, deals with the timeless theme of good over evil. The madwoman herself (Kathleen Pennington) lives simultaneously in the past, present and future. By accident she discovers a plot by materialistic businessmen: The President (Eugene Kubat), The Broker (Michael Norman) and Baron (Michael Tillmann) and the Prospector (James Laatch) seek to destroy Paris in their search for oil deposits.

She, with three equally mad friends, portrayed by Karen Stefon, Judith Hillstead and Connie Stressing, stop the plan, restore 'good' to Paris, and prove that simple human love is indeed a force to be reckoned with. The Madwoman is aided in this by an assortment of Paris citizens including the Ragpicker (Denis Bastian), Irma (Clara Schommer), Pierre (Frank Heise) and great varieties of the city vagabonds.

According to Dr. Paterek, the fresh and delightful manner in which the theme is carried out makes Giraudoux's play a masterpiece of drama, both of its time and in the scope of theatrical history.

Technical director for the play is Sanford Syse; costuming is being done by the costume class and the assistant director for the production is Barbara Kepner.

Other cast members include: Waiter - John Kuhns;

Street Juggler - Dennis Stern; Deaf Mute - Larry Minth; Street Singer - Steve Lockwood; Blonde - Sue Gustafson; Ladies - Bonnie Conwell, Linda Rickard and Janis Gerth; Little Man - Gary author to include those beliefs and theories which suggest that women are psychologically suited only for work at home.

Attacking those whom she terms "sex-directed educators," Mrs. Friedan asserts that "conformity is built into life-adjustment education in many ways." She feels that women are being trained in our schools to do only the socially accepted things (i.e. take care of the house) and are dissuaded from more worthwhile occupations.

Suggesting that girls are encouraged from the time they begin school to avoid intellectual advancement and concentrate on developing their feminine wiles, Mrs. Friedan builds a chain of incidents which might logically end with the additional restrictions placed on women at the college level.

Her book makes it apparent that such regulations as signing out and hours are part of a vicious circle in which a woman is automatically judged to be unable to assume the responsibility and she is actually unable to assume these responsibilities for she has never been permitted to obtain any worthwhile experience.

The book seems to boil down to the following principles:

1. The modern woman is restless and frustrated.
2. This is because she lacks intellectual opportunities for challenge and responsibility.
3. The challenge and responsibility are missing because women (and the rest of society) have been convinced that their only future lies in a belief in the "feminine mystique."

Obviously the entire line of reasoning is irrelevant if the first principle listed above is not true. Well, how about it girls... do you feel restless and frustrated yet?

from numerous papers, books, and other sources.

In other action, the Senate voted to raise the salary of the Student Voice managing editor from $5 to $15 an issue. The funds for this raise will be split evenly between the Student Senate and the "Student Voice."

Secondly, the constitution of the Young Turks, which has been before the Senate for four weeks, was defeated. The Senate voted not to approve the constitution after it was pointed out that no representative of the club was present to explain the purposes for organization.

Dr. William Webster was named as administrative consultant to the Senate. He will attend all of the meetings and act as an adviser.

Wrestlers Win Two of Three

Losing only to fifth nationally ranked Winona, River Falls matmen copped a 2-1 meet record in Saturday's action at La Crosse. Other participants in the quadrangle meet were, besides Winona and RF, Whitewater and La Crosse.

Minnesota's Winona dominated the meet, beating La Crosse and Whitewater handily, then topping RF, 25-11. River Falls smashed La Crosse, 31-8, and Whitewater, 23-15, before the Winona loss. Between Whitewater and La Crosse, the Warhawks were triumphant, ruling over the winless Indians.

Coach Byron James juggled lineups for each meet to get the most from each man. One of the wrestlers that wrestled in all three meets, however, was junior Bob Olson. Olson pinned his La Crosse opponent, decided his Warhawk foe, and was decided, 2-1, by his Winona man.

Tom Madison, out since early January with shoulder troubles, returned to action Saturday. Madison, sophomore from West Chicago, wrestling only one match, decided his La Crosse opponent, 1-0, in the 145-pound class.

Freshman Jim Hammes won a grudge match in the RF-Whitewater meet. Hammes pinned his 123 warhawk man, handing him only his second loss of the season. The Whitewater wrestler was the same man that beat Hammes in last year's high school state tournaments.

In a weight class that demands taking on all shapes and sizes, heavyweight Butch Roberts outmaneuvered his huge Whitewater enemy 4-1.

Overall, James was proud of the showing the usually-weak lightweight classes. Of them, James said they, "came through and won the Whitewater meet for us." Starting off in that match was Hammes' five-point pin, then John Neuman drew with his opponent, and Bob Olson followed the draw with his three-point decision, coming over a conference champ.

Next action for James' matmen is their third quadrangular meet in a row on Saturday, February 12, at Carleton. Competing in this quadrangular will be Gustavus, Wartburg, River Falls, and host Carleton.

Oshkosh Humiliates Falcons 106-59

by Jon Swenson
Voice Sports Writer

River Falls, in their poorest showing of the season, fell to a fast-breaking Oshkosh team 106-59 Saturday night in Karges Center.

The Falcons held a momentary lead in the first quarter before numerous mental and mechanical errors began to take their toll. Frequent substitutions in the first half failed to give the Falcons an effective combination.

Cold shooting and an inability to rebound for easy baskets kept River Falls from sustaining a decent offensive attack.

Defensively, the Falcons were unable to cope with the Titans fast-break which resulted in numerous Oshkosh baskets. River Falls went into a press at the opening of the second half in an to force the Titans to commit the errors River Falls desperately needed to get back in the game. It failed, and Oshkosh continued its' hot shooting. They finished with a 56% mark compared to RF's 25%.

With the score 80-37 and 10 minutes remaining in the game, Coach Don Page cleared the River Falls bench.

Junior guard Ron James came from the sidelines to provide the Falcon fans with their only cheering opportunity of the evening.

James hit on his first four of five shots from the floor and finished as the River Falls high point man with a total of nine.

While no Falcon managed to hit double figures Saturday, every Titan on the roster got into the scoring column.

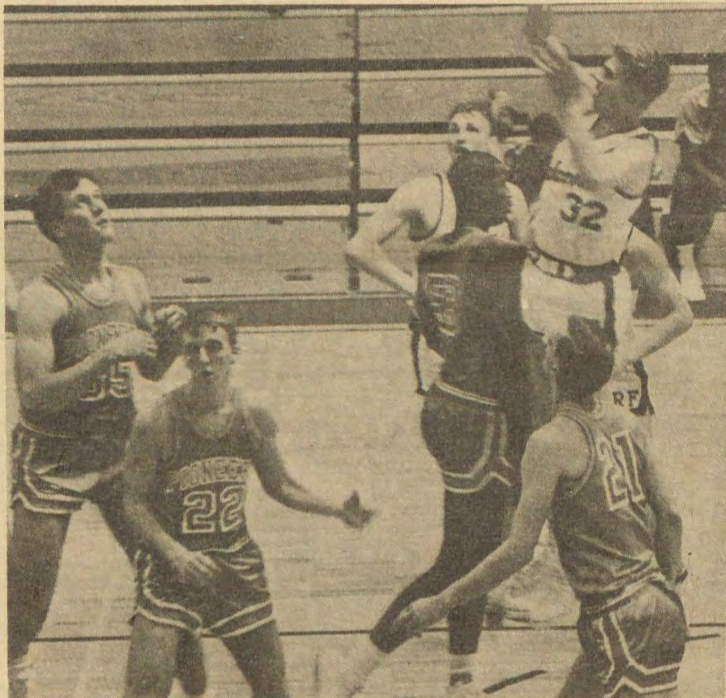

On Friday night, second place Oshkosh was beaten by Eau Claire 82 - 65, a team they had earlier walloped 113 - 69.

The Falcons face league-leading Stout on the Bluedevils home court this Wednesday.

Player Scoreboard

Player scoreboard - Oshkosh: Ron Hayek 16, John Lallensack 22, Gene Englund 15, Tom Witasak 13, Dick Bourbonnais - 12.

River Falls: Ron James 9, Tom Snyder 8, Pete Palmer and Dick Seivert 7, Steve Gustafson 6.

IN THE HEAVY TRAFFIC Ken Lee, 32, hits on a jumper from the free-throw circle. Lee, returning from illness had 12 points. Platteville won 77 - 69. (Voice Sports Photo.)

Pioneers Outpoint RF 77-69

It looked as if Platteville State had turned their moose loose last Friday night as the Falcons fell to a powerful Pioneer attack 77 - 69 on the Falcon court. Sparked by three towering sophomores the visitors completely dominated the boards and coupled with a good shooting ability simply outlasted the Falcons.

The Pioneers took immediate control of the situation and although River Falls tried to keep up with the visiting quintet, Platteville took a commanding 21-12 lead midway in the first half. Led by Tom Snyder who bucketed 12 of his 14 pts. in the first half, the Falcon five gamely tried to capitalize on its many breaks, but could only shoot nine for 38 from the floor. At half time RF had cut their lead to seven markers but they still had a comfortable 36 to 29 edge.

When the Falcons came back it seemed as if they had been somehow revitalized and this would indeed be their half. The Falcons were starting to hit and were able to go ahead briefly 42 - 40 at 14:56 but it was not to last. Platteville pulled together and crept back into the lead to stay on top for the rest of the contest.

The only remaining threat came at 3:40 when River Falls trailed by only four 64 - 68 but it did not last. The Falcon five finally succumbed 77 to 69.

Big center Jim Blomquist led the Falcons in scoring with 18 pts.--13 in the second half. Tom Snyder had 14 pts. while Ken Lee, still showing signs of illness popped in 12. Bill Van Dyke had 10 pts. For Platteville Gary Olson was high with 17 pts.

Shooting percentage was about even with the Pioneers hitting 38% and RF 30% of their attempts.

Today February 4, the River Falls Falcons fell to the Steven Point Pointers by a score of 24 to 71. The Falcons were overpowered in all events except in the diving and in the 200-yd. butterfly.

In the Diving Phil Foster and Dan Buelow took a one-two finish. Gary Synnot captured the second first for the Falcons and the last first place for the team for the rest of the meet. Caldwell and Daniels captured the only other seconds for the Falcons. Caldwell captured his second in the 200-yd. ind. medley and Daniels took his in the 500-yd. free-style.

The buzzer sounded any every-one in the stands let out a sigh of relief. On the scoreboard were the improbably figures: River Falls 59, Oshkosh 6. Had the Falcons held the Titans to only 6 points? Hardly! They had been beaten 59-106 on a two-digit scoreboard.

The story of the game lied not in the Titans hot shooting but in the Falcons' frigidness. In the first half the Falcons shot a sizzling 14 percent and averaged a little more than one point per minute. Once River Falls went scoreless for four minutes.

The second half saw a total collapse of what little defense River Falls had left. Gene Englund of Oshkosh had a full day stuffing baskets. His teammates had little trouble finding him open underneath.

The game was without a doubt the Falcons' worst of the season, if not in years. Indeed it would have been unbearably frustrating hadn't it been for Ron James, and remarkably hot shooting with six minutes to go and the Falcons down by 30 points.

He scored nine to lead the Falcons.

All and all, I have never seen a River Falls athletic team go so far to make their opponent so good as happened Saturday night in Karges Gymnasium. Everything possible went wrong in addition to some things which didn't seem possible. I'm sure the players will have little trouble forgetting this one.

The loss Friday night to Platteville was altogether a different story. Inspite of a slow start by both teams, the game shaped up into an excellent contest of positioning and rebounds. The Platteville five where tall, quick and smooth. Down there they must practice the game until it comes out of their ears.

The Falcons were out-finessed but by no means out-played. Tom Snyder and Ken Lee kept the team in the game with their drives for the baseline that resulted in either baskets or fouls.

Platteville fouled heavily the first half and were guilty of many bad passes. I feel the Falcons would have won had they continued their aggressive play, instead of letting Platteville force them to shoot from the outside.

When the Falcons have won this year it was because they made their opponent foul and then sunk a high percentage of their free throws. In the last three games, the Falcons have played their opponenets game, always trying to come from behind.

"The timing was right."

"I think a change would present a good possibility for getting the local University up where it should be." These were Coach Don Page's words after he announced his resignation as head basketball coach at River Falls.

Page, who said he would finish the season here, and continue as a teacher and baseball coach at River Falls, told his team of the decision Monday and then informed UPI on Tuesday.

The Falcons have just completed a four-game losing skid that started with a 74-72 loss to unbeaten Stout. Page said he had known of the administration's interest in a new coach since January.

"We wanted to wait as long as possible with the announcement hoping to finish the season, but the administration was interested in searching for a successor right now," Page said, "so I guess the timing was right."

Page added that when he came to River Falls in 1957, he did not intend to coach two sports (basketball and baseball) for 20 to 30 years. "If we could have won a basketball championship in those nine years, it might have been different," he said.

In the '62-'63 season River Falls finished third with a 7-5 record--its best showing. Page said he had considered resigning then when the Falcons dropped two 82-80 decisions to Stevens Point and Platteville on the last weekend of the season.

Page said he thought his decision would not affect the team's play for the rest of this season. "We were afraid of it though, and maybe the Oshkosh and Platteville games seem to point to it," he said.

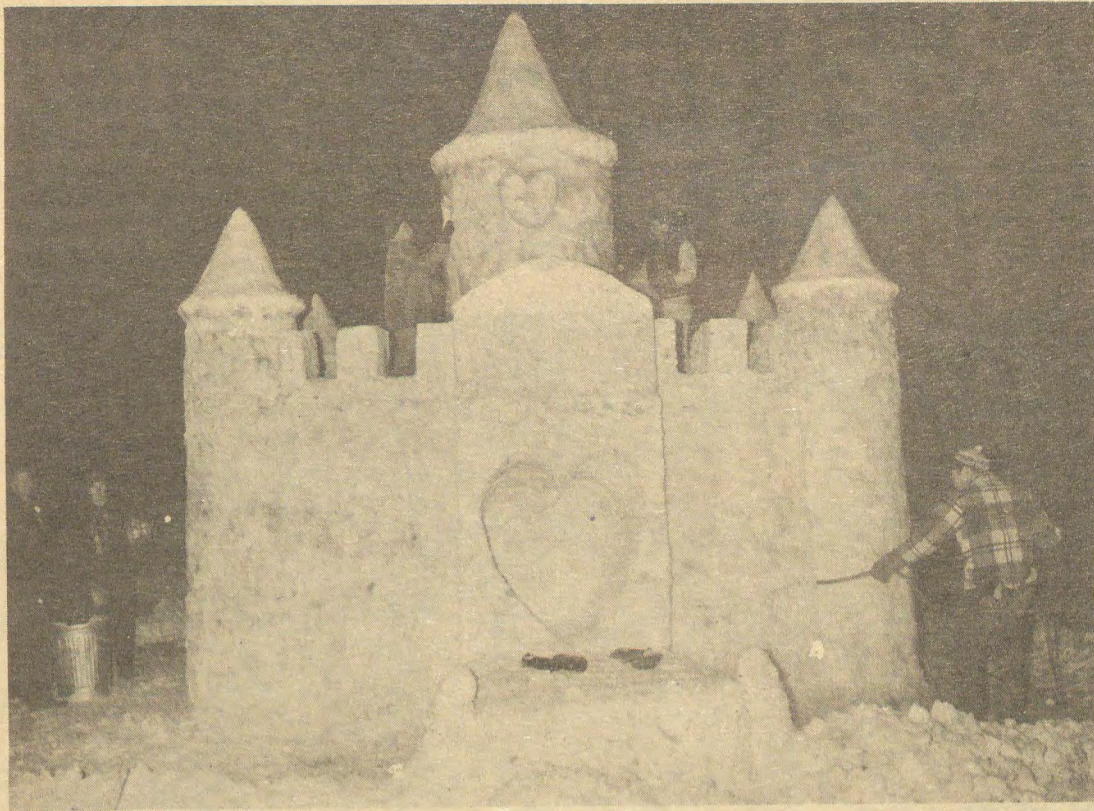

Coach Page said he was not disappointed with the team. "We could have played better ball and still have lost those two games this weekend," he said. He added that Tom Snyder's illness and Bill Van Dyke's back injury hurt the team last week.

Page coached for seven years at Edginton and Madison West High Schools and in the process compiled a 91-63 record. At River Falls he has a 69-115 mark including the 8-8 record this season.

In page's nine years as baseball coach, his teams have won 87 games and lost 57.

WITH 10 SECONDS ELAPSED IN THE SUDDEN DEATH overtime the Falcon hockey team's Dennis "Shorty" Vogland scored on an assist from Jack Norqual to beat St. Olaf 2 - 1 here last Friday. The teams battled the first two periods without a score. John Humphrey scored the first goal in the third period to make it 1 - 0 but St. Olaf came right back with their tally which led to the 10-second over-time.

Speaker Urges Peace, Opposes All Wars

"Peace is more than a Roman peace . . . it is not a true peace unless it is joined with individual freedom," said Miss Margaret Thomson at Wesley Center sponsored Peace Forum.

Miss Thomson is chairman of the Minnesota branch of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom (WILPF).

She went on to say that the WILPF is opposed to the war in Viet Nam without reserve. Their stand on the matter is that the U.S. should concentrate on a withdrawal through negotiations on a cease fire, and that these negotiations should include the Viet Cong, the National Liberation Front, and China.

Mrs. T. I. Peterson was co-speaker, and discussed such issues as integration, universal disarmament, civil liberties, and childhood peace education (banning war toys etc.)

The WILPF is an international interracial organization founded in 1915, which is dedicated to striving for peace and freedom by non-violent democratic methods. Through its Peace Action Committee, it initiates peace demonstrations, vigils, and meetings, individually and with other peace groups.

1,200 Attend 'College Day'

Last Saturday 1,200 area high school seniors and their parents participated in the annual Go-To-College Day.

The program began with registration and a coffee hour in the Hagestad Student Center Ballroom. Parents, students, and high school counselors were welcomed by Vice President Wayne Wolfe, and Student Senate President Tom Schaffer.

In his speech to those attending the session, Schaffer welcomed the students to the campus and expressed hope that they would enjoy their visit. He also commented on the increasing enrollment and expanding size of the University.

"The campus in the past 10 years has expanded rapidly, but in the next five years there will be an even greater expansion. You can witness this growth by becoming a student at River Falls."

Dr. Wolfe told prospective students that education could never become a "spectator activity".

"You cannot sit placidly in your

Students and parents were then served luncheon in the Student Center and May Hall, and guided to view major areas of the campus.

As students attended meetings of educational and vocational interest groups conducted by University students and faculty, parents listened to a panel of students discuss "The Student's View of College."

Go-To-College Day was terminated by the 8 p.m. basketball game between River Falls and Oshkosh.

At 10:45 the high school seniors attended sample classes conducted by faculty members, while their parents participated in a "Quiz the Dean" session. In the latter, Dr. B. J. Rozehnal, dean of students, and Dr. Nancy Knaak, associate dean of students, answered questions presented by the audience.

Reading Program Set

Dr. James Kerfoot, director of the Reading Center, has announced the spring reading improvement schedule. The course, to last for seven weeks, will be scheduled on Monday - Wednesday or Tuesday - Thursday. The meetings will begin on Monday, March 14 and Tuesday, March 15. There is no fee.

The reading improvement program, which is in its second quarter, provides practice in phrase reading, skimming, rapid visual discrimination, accurate perception and understanding of material at different rates, and application of reading skills to specific contest areas.

Academic Freedom- Part II

The River Falls chapter of the American Association of University Professors (AAUP) recently approved a statement on academic freedom.

The statement is based on a similar proposal from the national organization.

The statement is being published in The STUDENT VOICE in three parts.

The first part defined the responsibility of the professor as teacher.

The second part, published below, deals with the responsibility of the professor as participant in institutional government.

Next week the final section will discuss the safeguarding of off-campus freedom of students and the assurance of "procedural due-process in cases of alleged misconduct."

"The professor shares in institutional government and in this capacity has further responsibilities for achieving and preserving an environment of freedom for students.

"A. FREEDOM OF STUDENTS FROM DISCRIMINATION. The faculty should insure that university policies do not discriminate on the basis of race, creed, or national origin and should use its influence in the community to insure that national origin and should use its influence in the insure that off-campus housing, eating, and recreational facilities are open to all of its students without discrimination.

"B. FREEDOM OF STUDENT ORGANIZATION AND ASSOCIATION. The faculty should protect the freedom of students to organize to promote their common interests. University regulations and policies should assure such freedom. Intervention in the activities of student organizations should be exceptional.

"Student organizations should not be required to submit lists of members other than current lists of officers. Organizations requiring minimum grade averages among their members and/or officers may submit current lists for checking grade averages.

Campus organizations should be open to all students without respect to race, creed, or national origin. Organizations should be open in fact and not merely formally open because of the absence of restrictive clauses.

Students and student organizations should be free to discuss all questions of interest to them and to express opinions publicly or privately without penalty, to promote the causes they support by distributing literature, circulation petitions, picketing or taking any other peaceful action on or off the campus.

Any person who is presented by a recognized student organization should be allowed to speak on the university campus. University organizations for meetings and other organizational purposes should not be employed as a device to censor or prohibit controversial speakers or the discussion of controversial topics. The only controls which may be imposed are those required by orderly scheduling of the use of space.

University regulations and the announcements of student groups should make it clear that neither student organizations nor the speakers they bring to the campus necessarily represent the view of the entire student body, the
