Girls Have Chance to Ask Dates To Valentine Ball on Friday Night

Music to Be Furnished By 'Continental's' for Annual AWS Dance

Although leap year was last year, girls on campus will have the chance to get the date they've been waiting for by asking a fellow to the Annual A.W.S. Valentine Ball. The dance is scheduled for Friday evening, Feb. 17, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. in the Student Center.

Decorations for the formal dance will center around the theme "For the Young at Heart." Music will be furnished by the Continentals.

The Valentine Formal King and Queen of Hearts will be determined by drawing of tickets during an intermission. The coronation ceremonies will take place at 10:30 p.m. Last year's King and Queen of Hearts were Oswald Hegenbarth, senior from Barron, and his date Kathy Kestell.

According to tradition for the Valentine Formal, the girl pays for the dance tickets and food and the guy is expected to buy flowers and furnish transportation. Tickets priced at $1.50 per couple are now on sale.

Special permission has been granted by the A.W.S. Governing Board to allow 2 o'clock hours to all girls from Hathorn Hall or Hathorn Cottage who are attending the Valentine Formal.

Co-chairmen for this annual affair are Jackie Bergquist, junior from Amery, and Vonníe Schmidt, freshman from Almena.

REGISTRATION lines were swamped as a record number of high school seniors from surrounding areas came with their parents to visit campus on the 11th annual "Go to College Day." (Photo by Harmann)

Grassroots Conference Is Closed With Debate

The fourth annual Grassroots Politics Conference came to an official close Thursday evening with a discussion by State Senator Robert Knowles and Attorney Reynolds.

The two state officials addressed guests at a Young Democrat-Young Republican sponsored banquet in Hagestad Student Center, and followed their individual speeches with a question and answer session on the topic "Reapportionment in Wisconsin—How Shall it Be Done?"

Reynolds advocated following the state constitution and reapportioning strictly by population, while Knowles' plan is to amend the constitution and freeze the present representation in the senate. Representation for the lower house would be reapportioned by population, according to the Knowles recommendations.

Professor James R. Donoghue of the University of Wisconsin said Wednesday afternoon that new ideas in taxation probably will not be tried this year by the legislature. He was speaking on "Problems and Proposals" in the opening session of the Grassroots Conference.

Prof. Donoghue pointed out three definite problems now afflicting state government: there is an ever-increasing number of people, more services are being given, and the cost of these increases is constantly increasing.

Although there is some support for a state sales tax, he said, those who are opposed "are bitterly opposed."

Joseph P. Dillon, former St. Paul mayor, spoke Thursday afternoon on the "Problems Facing Our Cities." Mr. Dillon said most of the problems that now face our cities have come from two basic changes that have occurred in the last half century. The population movement from the rural areas to the city and the subsequent move of population from the city area to the suburban area has caused problems in the dispersion of governmental functions and services. An acute transportation problem has also loomed because of this move, according to Mr. Dillon.

Mr. Dillon listed six major areas in which cities have universal problems. According to Mr. Dillon, transportation was a major problem.

Illness Cancels 'Bernanda Alba' Until March 21

"The House of Bernanda Alba", student play which has been under production during the past weeks, has been postponed until March 21, 22, 23, the drama department announced last week. The announcement came from Dr. Blanche Davis, director of the play and chairman of the speech and drama department.

Originally scheduled for presentation on Feb. 13, 14, and 15, the play has been delayed because of illness among cast members.

"Billy Budd", another student play currently under production, will be presented in the Little Theatre on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, Feb. 22, 23, and 24 as originally planned.

Adapted from a novel by Herman Melville, "Billy Budd" has an all-male cast, and is being directed by Dr. Donald Borchardt.

Students will be admitted to "Billy Budd" free of charge under the new ticket plan recently adopted by the dramatics department. Tickets will be available at the College Book Store during the week before the performance.

More Than 400 Registered For Go-to-College Program

More than 400 high seniors from surrounding areas and their parents registered in Hagestad Student Center for the 11th annual "Go to College Day" at Wisconsin State College at River Falls this morning.

The conference has been planned to acquaint the visiting students and their families with the college and its available facilities, and includes special sessions in guidance and educational opportunities for the parents.

"Go to College Day" officially began this morning with a welcome by Ron Skone, Student Senate president, and by remarks from President of the College E. H. Kleinpell.

The welcoming addresses were followed by a faculty panel which presented to both students and parents the "Educational Opportunities at River Falls."

Students attended half-hour classes of their choice this morning while the parents heard a panel analyzing "The Effect College Will Have on Your Son or Daughter."

Following today's noon luncheon, students of the College will take visitors on tours of the campus, explaining the facilities of the various buildings and the growth which the College has seen in recent years.

Afternoon sessions for the students will include "What Freshmen Want To Know"; while parents will hear a discussion of "What Parents Can Do to Help Students."

The new College swimming pool in Karges Center will be open to all visitors from 4 to 5:30 p.m.

At 8 p.m. the River Falls Falcons will meet the Whitewater Warhawks in a basketball game in Karges Center.

PROFESSOR JAMES R. DONOGHUE, director of the bureau of the government at the University of Wisconsin, spoke on "Problems and Proposals" of state government at the opening session of the Grassroots Political Conference in the Little Theatre Wednesday afternoon.

The Editor Speaks . .

A decision about attending college and selecting a school is no doubt one of the foremost problems concerning countless thousands of America's high school seniors at this time. For this reason, Wisconsin State College at River Falls is sponsoring its Eleventh Annual "Go to College Day", with the expressed purpose of acquainting high school students with college life and activities, and to provide an opportunity for visitors to confer with faculty members and students about their special interest fields.

Contrary to common opinion among high school seniors—if common opinion is the same now as it was when this writer was faced with the big decision—college is not four years of toiling, grinding, studying, and taking tests. It is one of the most fruitful experiences, available to and penetrable by anyone, which our American society offers us.

"It is estimated that a college graduate earns during his lifetime an average of $100,000 more than a non-college man of comparative ability," reports Dr. Frank H. Sparks, president of the Council for Financial Aid to Education. On this basis, he adds, the 250,000 men graduates of a recent year will, during the next 35 to 40 years, receive an income and spend as consumers some $25 billion more than if they had not gone to college.

Obviously, these figures speak for themselves. Almost any amount of money spent upon furthering one's education will, with almost any amount of judgement and effort from the individual, return the investment several-fold.

But considerably more than financial advantages come with a college education and that little piece of paper labeled "diploma".

College life and experience adds to one's personality and development something else; some intangible, invaluable bit of character which cannot be bought or achieved elsewhere for any amount of money. It develops attitudes, a sense of responsibility toward one's self and toward others, of leadership, and provides an opportunity to meet and "get along with" the different types of persons we will meet in later life. We learn to read into situations much more deeply than we have ever done before, and therefore to make wiser decisions, which in turn inevitably lead to a better, richer, and happier life.

Speaking for the students of Wisconsin State College at River Falls, we feel that our school offers one of the best opportunities of acquiring this college education and development of character to be found in the Northwest. We feel that we have a balanced program of teaching, liberal arts, agricultural, and pre-professional courses, combined with an outstanding faculty and a beautiful campus making available all the stimulus needed for producing the citizens and leaders, of tomorrow. And to all visitors of this "Go to College Day", may we say welcome. Feel free to ask questions, to look around, and to meet new friends. Most important, make today an enjoyable one.

Billiard Ace to Give Demonstration

Willie Mosconi, world's pocket billiard champion, will give an exhibition of his cue skill Friday, Feb. 17, at the Hagestad Student Center.

Under the sponsorship of the Student Center, the popular star of the pocket billiard game will devote his show to a demonstration of billiard fundamentals, designed to show the beginner how to approach the game. He will also open his well-filled bag of trick shots, and regale his audience with his feats of pocketing rolling balls.

Mosconi without question is one of the all-time greats of pocket billiard history. In 13 out of the last 15 years, he has held the world's title in competition with some of the finest players ever to step to the table. Only the great Alfredo DeIro and Ralph Greenleaf, with fourteen each, rank ahead of Mosconi in this department.

Willie, one of the handsomest competitors in sport, holds many records, of which perhaps the most spectacular in his feat of scoring a high run of 562 to establish a new world's exhibition record. He had previously shared the record at 309 with Irving Crane.

A fast, brilliant player, Mosconi has been known to keep his audience alert both with his play and his rapid-fire comments as he goes about his work. His "machine-gun shot" is a favorite with many spectators. In this trick, Willie employs a force-follow with side "English" which caroms the cue ball off each of fifteen balls before counting on a corner pocket shot.

Vocational Information File Lists 207 Career Choices

A Vocational Information File, containing briefs and information concerning 207 occupations for college graduates is now available to students' use in the Deans' office, according to Dr. Nancy Knaak, associate dean of students.

Occupations contained in the file are organized, for the most part, according to the Kuder Vocational Interest Areas, Dr. Knaak reports.

Each folder contains a brief describing the characteristics of the job, required training, advantages and disadvantages, and a brief bibliography.

"Some information," Dr. Knaak explained, "while its main topic may be unlikely to inspire a college-trained prospect, deals with several job opportunities within a major industry." Using an example, she explained that the brief "Cement Manufacturing Industry Workers" pays as much attention to the role of chemists as to that of unskilled labor. Additional materials from specific companies and professional associations supplement a number of the printed briefs.

To enable efficient use of the Vocational Information File, occupations have been cross indexed where a folder has seemed appropriate to more than one interest area.

Thus dentistry is found under Scientific, and also under mechanical. Lawyers are included in Business and Industry where they are becoming more common, but a reference card to this can also be found under Persuasive, according to Dr. Knaak.

An alphabetical index to all occupations is included with the file, and kept up to date as new materials are added.

Fourth Annual Alumni- Varsity Tilt Feb. 15

WRA to Meet Faculty Team In Preliminary Exhibition

by Phil Thurston

Wednesday night at 8 p.m. River Falls basketball fans will get a chance to reminisce about the 'good old days' as all of the former Falcon basketball greats return for the Fourth Annual Varsity-Alumni game to be played in Karges Center.

In the preliminary game, starting at 6:30, the WRA 'Net Strippers' will take on the highly rated 'Faculty Foulers'.

Tickets went on sale in the Student Center, today and will continue through Wednesday. Prices for the tickets are $1.00 for adults and $.50 for students. All proceeds from the game will go to the Phil Belfiori Scholarship Fund.

Rog Kuss (1951-1953), and Nate Delong (1946-1950) will lead a star-studded cast of 'old-timers' in their quest to even out at two games apiece. Delong, who scored 2592 points in four years for a national scoring record, received honorable mention in the Associated Press's All-American poll in 1950. Kuss, who had 39 point scoring average his senior year, was named the WAIA College Basketball Player of the Year in 1953.

Other players returning to test their slowing reflexes in the scrimmage are Newman Benson, Carver Faulk, Tom Linehan, Jim Saxton, Dave Herum, Phil Kuss, Don Flick, Rock Hanson, Mick Lauber, and Chuck Most.

In the inaugural game Darell Hart hit a set shot with four seconds remaining in the game to give the Varsity a 78-76 victory. Two years ago Nate Delong and Newman Benson combined for 26 and 22 points respectively to pace the Alumni to a 85-83 victory.

In last year's encounter the Falcons, paced by the Red-Hot Mick Lauber, who will be playing with opposition this year, downed the Alumni 93-81. Newman Benson was the high point getter for the loser with 18, followed by Rog Kuss, 16.

In the preliminary game the faculty men will square off against Miss Nelson's "Negligee Jets." This game is usually played partially under men's rules, and partially under women's basketball rules, but mostly under rules that are made up as the game progresses.

Fran Polsfoot, veteran of three WRA-Faculty contests, says "the faculty has been holding secret practice sessions for two months and they should win despite the disadvantages placed upon them by playing under girl's rules."

WRA members who will be participating in the game include Geri Beggs, Sue Driscoll, Grace Maule, Jean Byhre, Mary Phillips, Ginny Rogers, Ann Holzhuetter, Marge Shearer, and Helen Wright.

Reynolds Sets Billiard Ball Tournaments

Mr. Reynolds, Director of the Student Center, announced that an "8" ball pool tournament will be held on Feb. 20. There will be separate tournaments for both men and women and individual trophies will be awarded to each winner. Students interested can sign up in the game room area of the Student Center. Elroy Rasmison will continue to give free pool instructions from 7 to 10 each Thursday evening.

Vic Londo Rolls First 300 Game in MIBC

by Ron Zirbel

The pins were the same, the ball was the same, the only thing different was the bowler and his luck. This summarizes the starting events that brought fame and happiness to freshmen Vic Londo last Monday night. Vic combined 12 consecutive strikes to roll his first perfect 300 game. The big 300 was also the first rolled in the newly formed Midwestern Inter-collegiate Bowling Conference action and the first on Collins Lanes.

Vic had games of 174, 300 and 175 for a 649 series which was only 15 pins short of the record in the MIBC, now held by Ron Aldermen of La Crosse. Vic's average is 182 in conference action.

Vic's only comment was "I can't believe its true, but glad it is". Vic also belongs to an intramural team, the Alley Playboys and last year bowled in four different leagues in his home town of Sturgeon Bay, Wisconsin.

The game was not in an ABC sanction league, as the ABC will not sanction a telegraphic league. This makes the awards and honors few and far between. Ben Bergsrud, director of physical Education and Intramural sports announced that he will give Vic an award for his very fine performance.

Grace Maule's six tramped on Ginny Roger's team in the first action packed game. There was no stopping Sue Driscoll as she led her team to victory with 29 points, and was high scorer for the evening. The final score was 43 to 22.

The "Hot-Shooters" team downed Barb Bergsrud's "Frosh" six in the second contest. Dodie Braun, girl wonder, sank five buckets after breaking her glasses, and was the top scorer for her team. The game ended at 28 to 11.

Kay Holmes' 14 points kept her team in the running as they defeated Judy Lammer's in a close battle. A successful stall and a last minute field goal by Kay Mac-Key brought the game to a close at 29 - 26.

Julien Raises Three-Year Record to 43-6-1 As Falcon Grapplers Win Two Matches

Nip Carls 21-13 In Holiday Meet

The River Falls wrestling team, a bright spot in the college athletic program, came through with its fourth win of the season by defeating Carleton 21-13, Feb. 3 at Karges Gym.

River Falls started off solidly with Larry Warhol's win over Ted Hoepner in the 115 lb. class. After a slow first and second period, Warhol got a take down on his opponent and rode him the rest of the way.

In the 123 lb. division, the match ended in a draw between the Falcon's Jerry Fehlen and Carleton's Bob Middleton. It was a close match and both wrestlers got their only points on escapes.

Carleton's Gary Osteraas decided Marv Gorres for the win in the 130 lb. match. It was a close contest, but Osteraas was able to get a reversal in the third period which gave him the final margin of 3-1.

Tom Hall, River Falls grappler in the 137 lb. category, had the edge on Jim Harris in the first two periods but lost the match in the final period. Harris decisioned Hall by a score of 8-3.

One hundred and forty seven lb. Jerry Halvorson of the Falcon squad decisioned Tom Rankin. The match ended in a one to one tie but Halvorson had piled up enough riding time to come out with the win.

With the score 8-8, Arvin Jacobson put River Falls ahead with a 6-0 win over Ed Youngs in the 157 lb. division.

Dave Garlie added insurance points to the River Falls lead by pinning John Sewell with 1:20 gone in the third period.

Film Society Presents 'Carnival in Flanders'

'Carnival in Flanders', the fifth movie in the current Falcon Film series, will be shown at 8:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Feb. 15, in Rooms 201-202-203 of the Student Center.

'Carnival in Flanders' is considered one of the important classics of the motion picture industry, according to Falcon Film Society Chairman Ron Perrier, explaining that it is filled with wit and historical reconstruction.

The picture tells how when the Spanish army invades Flanders, the men feign deep mourning while their wives do not.

"This tale of charmingly heroic wives and terrified burgher husbands deserves all of the international attention and honors it has received," Mr. Perrier states.

Tickets for "Carnival in Flanders" will be on sale at the door of the Little Theatre before showing.

lem throughout the United States and involved public transportation, how and if it should be used; private automobiles, how they can be handled; and federal highway plans that force cities to plan their development and change according to the necessities of the system.

Pollution of water, air, and land is another problem according to Mr. Dillon, and he foresees some difficulty in keeping these resources clear and safe. The speaker cited the example of the Elk River, Minnesota power plant, which is a nuclear reactor. Mr. Dillon said the waste from this plant is posing problems presently because it is not known whether the waste from the plant is dangerous or not.

A problem that is becoming more and more vexing according to Mr. Dillon is the availability of land. Mr. Dillon said that he doubted whether our forefathers had envisioned that this great land would ever suffer for lack of living space, but that this has become a very real problem today.

Urban renewal is another problem Mr. Dillon discussed. He said that the upper-middle class move from the urban to the suburban area has left the urban population centers with the poorer people which has caused the depreciation of these areas and causes the necessity of cleaning up and rebuilding these urban areas.

Drama Group Initiates Two

Joyce McKinley, junior from Siren, and James Hay, Sophomore from Lake Geneva, were initiated into the Iota Beta chapter of Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary dramatic fraternity, on Sunday, Jan. 29.

Eligibility for membership into Alpha Psi Omega is determined by a point system in which the candidate must have won points both by acting in college productions and by doing stagework. Membership is awarded to those who have made significant contributions to the theatre, and who have indicated by their previous work that they are capable of undertaking greater responsibilities in college theatre, members of the Iota Beta chapter report.

Mr. King is being brought to campus by the Wesley Foundation, the Lutheran Student Association, and the United Student Fellowship.

The morning discussion in the College's Little Theatre will analyze the "sit-in" movement, while the evening topic of discussion at the Methodist Church will be the "kneel-ins." Both meetings will be open to the public.

King has been active in the integration struggle for some time, and now serves as administrative secretary for the Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee, which provides leadership for the sit-ins. He formerly served as coordinator of the Committee on Appeal for Human Rights for the Atlanta University Center and was director of public relations for the Students for Civil Rights at Kentucky State College at Frankfort.

More recently, he was author of an article entitled "The Student Movement and the American Dilemma", which appeared in the January issue of Motive, national Methodist student magazine.

King has been instrumental in bringing about desegregation of several public establishments in the South, including the Greyhound Terminal in Roanoke, lunch counters in both Roanoke and Frankfort and the YWCA cafeteria in Atlanta, Geo., the only desegregated eating place in Georgia.

THIS YOUNG MAN IS A BUSINESS ANALYST FOR THE TELEPHONE COMPANY

When Gene Bernier received his degree in Business Administration at the University of Michigan in 1957, he had top offers from several businesses.

Gene chose Michigan Bell Telephone Company because: "This job was tougher to get. There was no doubt in my mind that I was being carefully evaluated for a responsible management job. Just getting this job was a challenge."

One of Gene's early assignments was writing a training manual for new employees which would explain telephone accounting in simple everyday terms—a tough job even for a seasoned writer. But Gene did it. And his next step was a natural.

In November, 1958, he was transferred to the Michigan Bell Economic Studies Section as editor of a monthly publication, "Michigan Business Trends." In this work, Gene analyzes and reports business trends in Michigan as an aid to telephone management people in decision making.

Gene proved his skill in reducing complex economic problems to simple terms. And, sixteen months after his transfer he was promoted to Senior Statistician.

Today, Gene sums it up this way: "The idea around here is to get the best a man has in him. To me that spells opportunity."

If you want a job where you will get real responsibility and have a chance to move ahead as fast as your ability will take you—then you'll want to find out more about the Bell Companies. Your Placement Office has literature and additional information.

"Our number one aim is to have in all management jobs the most vital, intelligent, positive and imaginative men we can possibly find."
