World Cruise Taken By Miss Delander

Encircling the world, touching many of its most interesting places, constituted the vacation of Miss Nathalie Delander of our faculty, and Miss Edith Wiberg, former home economics teacher at this college.

The tour began June 10 at San Francisco where they boarded the S. S. Garfield, one of the American President liners, the only regular world cruising ships. A week was spent at sea, going from San Francisco to Honolulu and another two weeks to Yokohama, Japan.

While in Japan they visited Tokyo, Kobe, and Osaka. Miss Delander reported that the Japanese hotels "were beautiful." Other oriental ports of call were Hong Kong, Manila, Singapore, Renang in the Malay States, Colombo on the island of Ceylon, and Bombay, India. From Bombay they were taken across the Arabian Sea, up the Red Sea to Suez. There

Dr. Jurgens

Wants Short War

Dr. Jurgens Is New German Instructor

Faculty Increased by Ph. D.; Once German Resident

Probably one of the first questions everyone asks of Dr. Ernst Jurgens, our new German professor, is "What do you think of Hitler?" or "What do you think of Germany's position in the present war?" He answers by saying, "I hope it will be a short war and think that I feel the same as everyone else does about the situation."

In this respect, he is, of course, much like everyone else; on others he differs. Having come from Germany twelve years ago, he says that he naturally has never seen Hitler. With that point settled, he goes on to say that he graduated from a teacher's college in Holstein before coming to the United States.

Since that time he has taught German at the University of Iowa and at a Junior college located in Washington, Iowa. After receiving his Master's degree at the University of Iowa in 1933, he taught there the following year. His next three years were spent in Washington, Iowa, after which he returned to the University of Iowa to receive his Doctor's degree there in 1938.

Now he has been placed in charge of the German department here, following the retirement of "Herr" Whitenack.

Dr. Jurgens is quite versatile in his selection of hobbies—says that he is interested in photography and is one of those candid camera fans. He even enlarges his own pictures. Perhaps, though, his most important interest is in music. He is able to play almost any of the stringed instruments from a violin to a stringed bass, having learned to play the violin while in Germany.

Frosh Officers Are Elected at Meeting

In a close race Alvin Anderson, an education major from Baldwin, was elected by the freshman class to serve as president for the first half year of college activity. Closely contesting Mr. Anderson was Wayne Locke, an agricultural major from Omro. Minnie Wood from Clear Lake, was the third candidate for president.

For vice president, Lloyd Johnson from Osceola was elected by a majority of nearly a hundred votes. The other two candidates nominated by the committee were, Anita Hutton, and Charles Ganske. This is the only office in which there were any nominations from the floor. Donald De Nean was the person nominated.

The only girl to receive an office was Evelyn Plombon of Stanley, who will act in the capacity of Secretary. The office of secretary was the most highly contested of all. Miss Plombon won over Vera Lund of River Falls by the narrow margin of only two votes. Wesley Erickson was the third candidate for secretary.

Nominees for the office of treasurer were as follows: Margaret Jerdee, Amery—Philip Gutzler, River Falls—Kenneth Johnson, Clear Lake. This final office will be filled by Mr. Gutzler.

Class advisors for the freshmen are Miss Helen Loeb from the English Department, and Mr. Carleton Ames, Director of NYA.

College Orchestra Enjoys Europe Tour

Hanson, Meacham, Miller Work Passage Aboard Liner

Returning from their extended tour of five European countries, the five members of the Wisconsin Collegiate Orchestra report a splendid trip. While en route, they were engaged as a ship's orchestra by the Cunard White Star Lines, playing on the eastbound S. S. Scythia which left New York on May 26, and returning on the luxury liner, the S. S. Aquintania a month later.

The six countries visited were England, Belgium, Holland, Ireland, Germany, and France. In the three larger countries they witnessed war preparations proceeding on a vast scale. All the parks in London and Paris were being dug up and bomb shelters were being built in, and in various places anti-aircraft guns were being set up. In Mainz, Germany, there appeared a squadron of tanks

NYA Musicians Start Orchestra

With "a song in their hearts" and "wishing" in their souls eight musically-minded NYA workers are now "gasping out" with the intention of producing a dance orchestra for school occasions. It is their hope that the NYA may come to have a broader meaning throughout the campus—"N-deavoring Young Artists."

Since Carl Miller's Casa Majesta orchestra of collegiate and continental fame has disbanded, Mr. Miller has generously allowed the band to use his orchestrations and has personally assisted them in getting started.

Mr. Carleton Ames, NYA director, is supervising the new unit. He states: "We are organizing with the hope of producing a school orchestra to play after basketball games for matinee dances, and the like. If it becomes a growing concern, there will be no charge to the students or the social committee. Hours of rehearsal and actual playing will be paid for by NYA wages. We are tentatively organized for one month. If we have sufficient progress, a matinee dance will be given at the end of this time for the criticism of the student body. If we are successful, the Student Senate has agreed to buy the music for the orchestra."

The present set-up of the group consists of eight members: Theodore Gleiter, trombone; John Jarolimek, and Albert Zahradka, trumpets; Gene Egan, clarinet and saxophone; Frank Pappenfuss, bass horn; Minnie Wood, piano; and Bill Mills, drums. These are regular members of the NYA who are deserving and in financial need of the work.

Prucha, Fjeseth, and White to Supervise Parade, Mass Meeting And Rooter's Club Activities

"Artificial pep which a cheer leader has to wrangle from the audience at the homecoming mass meeting is not the kind of spirit which helps win games," stated Franklin Elliott, newly-elected general chairman of the 1939 Homecoming, when questioned concerning his plans for the celebration. "But if we can during the next three weeks develop the spirit of cooperation that comes from putting our shoulders to the same wheel, the homecoming enthusiasm will be genuine."

Elected last Thursday in assembly, Franklin Elliott, working with the Student Senate, has supervision of all homecoming festivities. Appointed by Mr. Elliott for chairman of the parade is Paul Prucha, who will have charge of the floats and of arranging details for the parade.

Harold Fjseth is to be chairman of the mass meeting. To him the stunt committee will report, and it is up to him to arrange the program for the festivities held on Friday night, October 13. The Rooter's club and cheer leaders will be headed by Mike White. Nominees for Homecoming Queen will be chosen by the Student Senate and voted on in assembly.

President Rexford Mitchell of the LaCrosse State Teachers College will be one of the honored homecoming guests. Mr. Mitchell was a professor of history and public speaking and the debate coach of RFSTC from 1919 to 1928.

The team to be honored this year at homecoming is that of 1929, captained by Clarence Alfonso, now high school coach at Sparta, Wis. Special invitations are being sent to each of the players by Dr. Karges.

This year events will be as usual with the mass meeting on Friday evening, the parade Saturday morning, and the game in the afternoon. The homecoming dance that evening will be in charge of the party committee, of which Orlean Soli is the chairman.

Duties such as liming the R, decorating Main street the campus, Ramer Field, and the store windows, and hanging welcome signs, will be apportioned among the classes. Rooming houses should be decorated also. Prizes will be offered to the houses which are best decorated, the most original floats, and the most interesting stunts. The store winning first place in decoration of its windows will be given a silver cup.

Assembly Guest To Be C. Eagle Plume

One of America's foremost interpreters of the American Indian, Charles Eagle Plume, will be the guest artist at the assembly program Thursday morning, September 28.

Charles Eagle Plume is probably the best informed man on his subject in the United States today. He is familiar with Indian sign languages, knows tribal songs, and is well versed on the religions, beliefs, and primitive customs, of the various tribes. He paints a vivid word picture of the position of women in Indian society, the function of tribal government, and the tremendous influence Indian culture has had upon the world and what it may mean to a dying Europe. He also endeavors to prove through his lecture courses that modern man is deeply indebted to his primitive forbears and that the ancient life of all races is illustrated in the life of the American Indian.

RFSTC A Friendly School

River Falls is a friendly school. Believe it or not, you Homesick Freshman, people here like each other. There is a spirit of comradeship existing here between senior and sophomore and student and faculty. It is somewhat like a big family. We are all glad that everyone else is here.

And we like you, too, Freshman. We like you because we can see possibilities in you. You'll make a fine record here. In football or in debate, in ping-pong or in whatever you do, you'll make good. Just having you around the campus will be fun. And as for scholarship, the sky is the limit.

And there, in regard to scholarship, let us give you just a little tip, you can't learn through a wall. But, on the other hand, you don't have to try to. You see, the faculty is a friendly bunch of folks, too. They're really human, all of them. You'll realize that when you get to know them better. But in the meantime, don't build any walls between you and them. That will make it harder to reach that sky-high limit. Don't be afraid of them because they seem so far above you. They do know a lot, but they're more than anxious to teach what they know to you! And there's another way to build a wall. Just get a little behind in your work and see what happens! You hate to go to class for fear you'll be called on. You listen so hard for the bell that you can't hear the last two-thirds of the lecture; result - you're even farther behind. You hate to meet the "prof" because he might mention your sad plight. When you see him coming, you duck into the library. Don't do it. Keep up to date. If something isn't plain, ask questions until it is. But above all, keep the way clear for that friendly River Falls contact between the "prof" and you. You can't learn, you can't be taught, through a wall!

That's all. Preaching's out. But we'd hate to see someone like you go under for reasons entirely unnecessary here in River Falls, for River Falls is a friendly school.

Keep the Embargo and U. S. Neutral

As Congress convenes to consider the President's recommendations in regard to neutrality revision, attention centers on the provision of our neutrality act which prohibits the sale of implements of war to belligerents. President Roosevelt demands its repeal; common sense warrants its retention.

If the embargo is repealed, we would sell to any belligerents on a cash and carry basis, but since the available evidence indicates a long war, the inevitable result must be the gradual depletion of the cash resources of the purchasers. It is hard to believe that America will disregard the opportunity to sell on a credit basis since we would surely be faced with an economic depression due to the subsiding of European war purchases. The Johnson act prevents the extension of credit to nations who have defaulted on their war debts. Consequently it becomes evident that a necessary corollary of the embargo repeal is repeal of the Johnson Act. To any thinking American, that course too closely parallels that of the World War to warrant its pursuit as the trail of peace.

The President deploras the fact that he signed the present neutrality law. It is apparent to him that that law curbs his desire to "quarantine aggressors." Fortunately for the American public, heret is "a small group of willful men" who intend to fight the President's policy. These men realize that once America becomes economically engaged in the war, military participation inevitably follows.

Ripping Rhythm

Nuts—Nuts, I say—I say, old man, nuts. A few, 'tis said, grow on bushes, but others just grow and grow because they are—well they are—too hard to crack; the rest take Freshman Comp. under Prof. Hanna—it's the nuts, says everybody.

It's the nuts, you say, to get up in the morning before 7:50 in order to make an 8:00 o'clock class on the morning after that—snuggle, snuggly—terrific orchestra rehearsal (or was it Tuesday night last??). I say, who has the nerve to ask L. Webb what the hurry was to leave?

It's the nuts to sit in the Kandy Dining—I mean Kitchen—and gargle Coca Colas until one finally goes down side-ways to the tune of a brand new Phillip's production song-hit—he makes 'em and breaks 'em all in the same breath.

It's the nuts, says William (Bomber) Mills, to go to Ellsworth on some balmy eve and shag (dance) with the same cutie all evening. It's monopoly I says. Oh yes, and it's the nuts, mumbles Glenn (Mr. to you) Thoeney, to have a big back seat all to himself.

It's the nuts, says the editor, with a real war on and me settin' here at home. Why, oh why, didn't I stay in Paris like I wanted to?

It's the nuts, yelp the profs, to teach bra—I mean young men and gals—year after year and still they come back for more. Put 'em in a wire cage, I say, and feed 'em. Feed them what, you say? It's the nuts—well, ain't it the truth?

It's the nuts, but I feels a song, a cold, a headache, a hunch—well, darn it, the football season, I mean fall is coming on and so is the Highland fling alias sox-appeal via good old Scotland, which proves the first named statement.

To enlighten a few of the wandering (wondering) souls, it's the newly formed NYA dance and concert orchestra (under the auspices of the WPA—it could be) that rehearses various evenings during the week in the girl's gym in South hall—there really isn't any fire alarm in South hall at all.

But to get down to some real music criticism, it appears that Mr. Swinging Goodman and his Band has come back to our neighboring city to prove to the populace that Goodman licks are still top stuff. We'd say it was the—well, it was plenty good.

Maybe some of the "scared" freshies are even better than they thought they were. Fifteen of them went so far as to make the first concert band.

Just a note to the weather-worn: those fellows stumbling about with

YW Explained to Frosh; Playlette Given Shows Work

Every girl interested in YWCA found an explanation of the organization in the playlette Every Girl, given in the Social room, Monday evening at 7:15.

Marjorie Skagen, Marjorie Dahlquist, and Laree Helgeson, three freshman girls interested in YWCA, happened in on a cabinet meeting. Any questions which they might have had were answered when each cabinet member gave a resume of her plans for the coming year.

Cabinet positions are filled by Mildred Boles, president; Mary Andersen, vice president; Verna Annette, secretary; Lucille Fouts, treasurer; Florence Schmidt, program chairman; Ruth Sampson, finance chairman; Verle Straub, social chairman; Pearl Anderson, social service; Margaret Bendix, music; Irene Raawe, social room; Audrey Graves, bulletin board; Meta Wright, publicity; and Elma Chappelle, projects.

black eyes and blue noses aren't football players at all: they're just a few of the unfortunates who ventured into Stillwater over the last week end.

Now, if all the world seems to be against you, and you think you haven't a friend, just stick up the chin and say, "Nerts!"

Chats on Recent Books

The Description of Louisiana has been translated from the French by Marion E. Cross. Father Hennepin is a well-known and yet an obscure character. Nearly every American recognizes his name but few know the facts of his life. It is his discoveries for which he is noted.

Father Hennepin in this narrative gives the details of his trip into the Illinois country in 1679-80. His book is a travel narrative although the story that lies behind it is a complicated one. It deals with kings and famous men and their interests in the new found lands in America.

The book has been divided into two major sections: The Description of Louisiana and The Manners and Customs of the Indians.

Father Hennepin describes his voyage from Fort Frontenac to Niagara and on into Wisconsin in a brilliant narrative manner. He deals with the customs of the Indians in this great territory in a like manner. The origin, physical characteristics, the clothing, marriage customs and the manners of war and peace are discussed thoroughly.

This book besides being of a narrative nature reveals much of the real Louisiana country and the hardships met by the early explorers.

Golden Gusties Turn Back

Falcons 19-0

Russel Buckley Scores Three Gustavus Touchdowns to Take Scoring Honors of Game

The 1939 edition of Coach Lowery's River Falls Falcons opened the season last Friday night, September 22, by losing to a speedy eleven at Gustavus Adolphus college 19-0. The Falcons were unable to stop Russell Buckley, captain and shifty left halfback of the Gusties, who scored all three of his team's touchdowns.

Dubbe, Falcon left tackle, opened the game by kicking off to Kowalsky, Gustavus fullback, who returned it to the River Falls 40 yard line. The first Gustavus drive was halted by Trecker, Falcon right halfback, who intercepted a long pass. Play continued in River Falls territory and late in the first period, Buckley broke into the clear over his left tackle and sprinted 32 yards for the first touchdown. The extra point was added by Chase, Gustavus left end.

The second touchdown came early in the second quarter after River Falls had been pushed deep into their own territory. Trecker of River Falls stood on his own 4 yard line and kicked a long punt that Buckley picked up on his own 30 yard line. He returned it 70 yards through the entire Falcon team for his second touchdown. The try for the extra point was smothered by the left side of the River Falls line.

The third and final touchdown of the game came early in the third quarter. Two passes put the ball on the River Falls 11 yard line. Three line plunges carried the ball to the 4 yard line and on fourth down Buckley drove over his own right tackle for the touchdown.

The only River Falls scoring opportunity came at the close of the third quarter when a long punt put Gustavus deep in their own territory. When the Gusties attempted to punt out of danger, the kick was hurried and short. Trecker took it on the run and fought his way to the 20 before being downed. River Falls was unable to gain and lost the ball on downs.

Outstanding for River Falls were Diermier, who did a fine job of backing up the line, and Trecker, who got off several long punts. Besides Buckley; Johnson and Kowalsky in the backfield, and Chase, Sponberg, and Lindgren in the line played outstanding parts in the Gustavus triumph.

Gustavus made six first downs to one for River Falls. River Falls played the entire contest without a penalty while Gustavus was penalized 45 yards.

For River Falls LeDuc and Kroeger started at ends; Dubbe and Born at tackles; Gerhardt and Rivard at guards; Diermier at center; Nickerson at quarter; Vandenberg, Trecker, and Boettcher as backs. Frank, Bartz, Lucente, White, Schmidt, Schulenberg, Isaacson, and Dobberstein entered as substitutes.

Intra-Mural Elects

The point of interest this week is the election of the Board of Control. Mr. Juedes called a special meeting of all men and the result was the following board;

- Freshmen—H. Larson, W. Baker
- Sophomore—N. Drescher, L. Cheney
- Junior—A. Nielsen, A. Wesenberg
- Senior—R. Platte, (To be chosen)

The board officers are W. Baker, president and H. Larson, secretary. Mr. Juedes is the faculty adviser. The board meets regularly on the first Friday of each month, and the new board is elected during the last month of the old board's session.

The horseshoe tournament is getting into full swing and should be completed in the next two weeks. Immediately following that will be touch-football. Mr. Juedes wishes to announce that all men wishing to play touch-football should sign up by the end of this week.

The horseshoe tournament is being conducted on the back-door basis wherein the losers of the first round are paired against each other and in this method a player is given a second chance if he is defeated in the first round. This in reality makes for a champion among the losers. The horseshoe courts are located north of the Industrial Arts building.

There is an intramural swimming meet coming up in November so all aquatic fiends had better combine swimming capers along with the regular Saturday night bath.

Baseball Squad Has Good Record

Under the guidance of playing coach Merton Wulf, the Falcon baseball squad enjoyed a rather successful season last spring. They defeated each conference opponent once but were turned back on second attempts. They received one game on a forfeit from Stout when the Blue Devils used an ineligible pitcher. Here is the Falcon record for 1939.

- River Falls 3, St. Thomas 6.
- River Falls 12, Concordia 4.
- River Falls 13, Eau Claire 3.
- River Falls 1, Stout 0.
- River Falls 18, La Crosse 10.
- River Falls 9, La Crosse 10.
- River Falls 4, Stillwater Prison 10.
- River Falls 5, Eau Claire 6.
- River Falls 1, St. Cloud 3.

Fourteen men were awarded letters at the close of the season. Five of these men won letters for the first time and will soon be initiated into the "R" Club. They are Bill Trecker, Allen Peterson, Red Pélouquin, Gray, and Lyle Nelson.

Larson Plays With All-Stars

Falcon End Honored by Being Chosen to Play With Collegians in Annual Game

During the past summer, River Falls State Teachers College had the honor of being one of the two schools in the state to place a man on the annual All-Star college football team which plays the professional champions at Soldiers Field, Chicago. Colonel Larson, who graduated last spring, obtained 300,000 votes which enabled him to become one of the sixty-nine college men so honored. Colonel would undoubtedly have gotten into the game, but for a serious leg injury that forced him into a hospital for over a week. Late in the game, however, we had hopes of seeing him in action as Head Coach Elmer Layden gave final instructions to a tall boy wearing number 72, but the game ended as Colonel stepped on the field. Although this was a great disappointment to him, he undoubtedly received many thrills and pleasures, not only from the game, but from his association with the greatest football stars in the country. Colonel also had the pleasure of talking over WGN as a guest of Bob Elson.

The official program of the game which carried Colonel's picture and an article of his athletic achievements at River Falls is a prized souvenir of those who attended the game. Among these were Colonel's wife and parents from Chippewa Falls and Bill Jerney and Bob Hoagenson, students.

Colonel received many awards such as All-Star blankets and belts, and the flashy football uniforms, of which he is very proud. During homecoming, he would be glad to show his moving pictures of the daily practice sessions, Soldier's field, and the All-Star game.

Colonel and his family are now

SPORTSPEAKS

R. D. P.

A new year, a new column, and incidentally, a new columnist, who is at present on very shaky speaking terms with two pigskin-pushers over some printed material issued on this same spot last week. Perhaps in some later issue we can remedy the matter by once again putting them in the lime-light.

The first thing that comes to the front is the fact that the Gusties were as tough as usual, and they rule the roost when it comes to toughness in the Minnesota conference. Stevens Point next week doesn't seem to be a breather either: Coach Eddie Kotal reports sixty men of first team calibre, which should give a varied selection of material for the Falcons to work on. The Pointers will have three men in the line who tip the scales at two twenty or better—Bermthus at guard weighs a strong two thirty-eight; Otto at tackle carries with him two twenty of brawn and muscle, the midget of the trio only weighs a mere two twelve; just a little fellow for Schmidt to play with. Dorscha is his name and he holds down the position of end.

Here is something that comes only once a year and is dear to heart as well as the stomach of every pseudo-sportsman. The local Rod and Gun club is once again putting on their famous pancake supper. "All you can carry on your plate for two bits!" Besides the mere satisfaction of eating, there will also be a ball game, shooting gallery and trap shooting. Doc Wyman claims that two bits spent on Thursday night, Sept. 28, is sure to bring the spender a great deal of satisfaction.

Coaches Walter Herkal of New Richmond and Tom Rendler of Amery watched their teams fight to a scoreless tie in their opening game last Friday night. Harold Blank's Osceola gridders played Joe Braun's Frederic team to a scoreless tie also. Rendler reported he was having trouble with his boys because of a tightening up of the leg muscles caused by a lack of salt in their diet so Tom is now giving his team salt tablets along with practices.

The "R" Club will have the concession to sell ribbons at Homecoming...George Aldrich, former Falcon boxer, has entered the Technical branch of the Army Air corp. He left Saturday to report at his station in Gondola, Illinois....Anyone want to bet rusty razor blades, old shoes, or chipped marbles that the Yanks won't take the pennant?...Ping-pong enthusiasts will find two excellent tables furnished for their use in the basement of North hall. Treat them well, nothing short of a miracle will ever replace them if they become damaged beyond repair....Stevens Point comes here next Saturday, let's all hie ourselves to Ramer Field and give the Falcons some moral support in the form of vocal enthusiasm.

located at Lake City, Minnesota, where he is teacher and coach at the high school.

Pointers Are Coming

The Stevens Point Teachers, led by Captain Bohan, playing at a guard position, will furnish the opposition for the Falcons next Saturday on Ramer field. The Pointers outplayed Stout last week for a 7-6 victory and will give the Red and White another stiff test. Stevens Point will start a veteran team with lettermen for every position except one end. Warner, who played center last year, will start at one end post, with the only new man, Halla, at the other wing. Slotwinski and Otto will be at tackle, Bernstein and Bohan, guards; Parr at center; Cashin, Hanig, Koehn, and Fritsch in the backfield. Bernstein is the heaviest man on the squad, topping 238 pounds. He and Slotwinski are the Stevens Point Maginot line that the Falcons will have to shatter. River Falls will also have to watch half-back Koehn who is the best runner on the squad and the fastest man in the backfield.

Sophomores and Juniors Elect Leaders

Junior class president, Robert Thoreson, called a meeting of the class last Thursday forenoon following the assembly. Not much business was transacted; however, a class fee of one dollar, subject to additional assessments by the officers, was decided upon. The main theme of the meeting was the prom, about which much discussion centered. A committee consisting of Gerald Krause, Lois Tracy, and Donald Martin was chosen to make the necessary arrangements for music.

At their first class meeting of the year held last Thursday, the sophomores decided to give a Hallowe'en party on Saturday evening, October 28. The party is scheduled as strictly a sophomore affair.

In addition to this, the other business conducted by this class was the election of the homecoming chairman. Treasurer John Lucente demanded payment of past dues. A new fee of fifty cents was added for this year's dues. President Zaradka had charge of the meeting.

'35 Graduate Appointed to U.S. Health Service in Illinois

Dr. David C. Johnston, son of Prof. Russell Johnston, who finished at RFSTC in 1935 and who graduated from The College of Dentistry at the University of Minnesota in 1938, has accepted an appointment in the U. S. The subject of the survey to be conducted by The Health service is, The Effect of Flourine in Water on Enamel of the Teeth.

World Cruise Taken By Miss Delander

they left the ship for an automobile trip across the desert to Cairo, then went by train to Alexandria where they rejoined the boat.

The next sailing was across the Mediterranean to Naples where the ship was left to take a land route across Europe. This part of the tour brought Miss Delander and Miss Wi-berg to Rome, Florence, and Milan in Italy, through the Swiss Alps, and on to Paris. At this time Adolf Hitler had decided to march on Poland. Due to the war scare, stained glass windows in churches were being removed for safe keeping; however, there were very few changes made in plans for the sight-seeing trips. Due to the possibility of air raids at night all lights were shaded.

With some regret Miss Delander said, "In London, however, we were less fortunate. Here all galleries, museums, and castles were closed. Instead of such sights we saw air raid shelters being built in the parks, sand bags being piled in front of public buildings, and crowds of children being hurried away to the country. Crowds gathered at No. 10 Downing Street; yet life in London went calmly on, and no one seemed particularly disturbed. All comments pointed to the fact that they felt prepared. The news came that war had been declared when we were at sea aboard the Queen Mary."

Commenting on the journey as a whole, Miss Delander stated that English is practically a universal language since guides, hotel clerks, and usually train men make themselves understood in English. The most beautiful spot she had seen she said was Honolulu. When asked about the most unusual experience the answer was "the ride on a camel to the Pyramids in Egypt." Incidentally, the camel's name was Abraham Lincoln. Another unforgettable occurrence was running into a sand storm at sea in the Gulf of Aden. "The visibility was zero, and the fog horns blew continually for about an hour."

The final comment was, "If you want to do something that will give you your money's worth all of the time, take a cruise like this one."

FFA Entertains 200 High Boys at Judging Contest

Last Saturday, September 23, the Collegiate FFA Chapter was host to over 200 high school boys at its annual stock judging contest.

The purpose of this judging contest was to prepare the boys for the state contest at Madison in October. It gave the boys a real opportunity to judge in competition the various classes of livestock that they will judge at the state contest.

Besides being of value to the competing boys, the contest gives the college agriculture students a direct contact with work they will engage in when they become agriculture teachers.

Winners in the contest were as follows: Arcadia, first; River Falls, second; Arkansaw, third; Chippewa Falls, fourth.

College Orchestra Enjoys Tour

and huge field guns being transported to some unknown destination.

In all countries they were received in a most hospitable manner, and they found it very easy to find English-speaking people.

The biggest spectacle they attended was the Trouping of the Colours in London on the King's birthday. This included the Royal Horse Guards, a Brigade of Foot Guards, a 377-piece massed band, and the appearance of Queen Mary, the Duke of Gloucester, and the Duke of Kent. Excursions in England included a trip to the beautiful little town of Stratford-on-Avon, Shakespeare's birthplace, and exploring trips about London where they visited 10 Downing Street, Westminster Abbey, St. Paul's Cathedral, The Parliament buildings and Big Ben, Buckingham Palace and the changing of the guard, the British museum, the Bank of England, and Hyde Park with its soap-box orators—at night.

In Amsterdam canal trips were made about the city and into the open country to the Zuider Zee and to the Isle of Marken where the natives still wear their old Dutch costumes. In The Hague they visited the famous Peace Palace and some of Holland's sea-side resorts.

In Germany in the city of Cologne, the place of highest interest was the magnificent cathedral with its towering spirals. Cologne is western Germany's largest railroad center and head of German trade, tourist and commercial, on the Rhine river. A boat ride from Boppard on the Rhine to Mainz presented the most beautiful natural scenery of the whole trip with the miles and miles of vineyards and numerous old castles.

Paris was the climax of the foreign tour where a whole week was spent traversing the broad avenues and age-old alley-ways, and visiting the never-ending string of colorful cafes and restaurants. Places of interest seen here were the Eiffel Tower, the tomb of Napoleon and L'Hotel des Invalides (museum of spoils of Napoleonic wars), the Louvre—wherein they had a glimpse of Venus de Milo, the famous Mona Lisa, and many other well-known works of art, the Sorbonne, Paris' world-famous university, the spacious avenue of Les Champs Elysees with its notorious shops and the Arch of Triumph, the Cathedral of Notre Dame, the Grand Palace, and the district of Montmartre. Most of the band agreed that Paris far exceeded even our own New York as a place in which to live. Perhaps it was the beautiful architecture that attracted them.

The members of the orchestra who enjoyed this trip were Chauncey Meacham, Carl Miller, Raymond Sauter, Norman Quam, and Melvin Hanson.
