TWENTY-EIGHT STUDENTS IN DEBATE TRYOUTS ON TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 3

Those who desire are welcome to attend; schedule below

The tryouts for this year's debate squad are scheduled to take place next Tuesday afternoon in Mr. Mitchell's room. At that time twenty-eight students, twenty-one men and seven women will compete for the eight places vacant on the squad. The contestants have been divided into teams and the tryout will consist of a series of debates. The judges will select the eight making the best showing and they, together with Fred Wandrey, Frances Lettlean, John Burke, and Al Williams, last year's veterans, will compose the squad from which Coach Mitchell will later pick two teams to represent the Red & White in the inter-normal debates. A number of those trying out have had considerable high school experience and the forensic encounters are sure to be interesting and the contest for places is certain to be close. Mr. Karges, Mr. Hunt, Mr. Junkman, Mr. Hanna, and Miss Hadlow will act as judges. The first tryout will be open to the public, and all interested are invited to hear any or all of the debates. It is requested, however, that no one enter or leave during a speech. The question discussed in all of the debates will be the "repeal of the eighteenth amendment," the question selected for inter-normal debates this year.

Congo Program Is Both Varied and Complete

The program presented by the Young People's Department of the Congo church was indeed a grand success as far as subject matter was concerned. Those who attended thoroughly enjoyed the entertainment, and will continue praising the actors loud and long. There was two distinct divisions to the program. Part one dealt with music. Vivian Vassau accompanied by Gladys Bleisner played two piano solos. Lucille Johnson sang two solos. Amy Fuller read "How the Old House Won the Bet." Mr. Smart also sang two solos; Edith Cheny played a piano solo, which was followed up by several selections

SENATOR HUNT HEADS IMPORTANT COMMITTEE

A Minnesota-Wisconsin joint legislative commission, of which Senator Walter Hunt was chosen presiding officer, met at Red Wing Saturday to investigate the pollution of the Mississippi and St. Croix rivers. Representatives from the two states were present, as well as members of the Izaak Walton League.

The purpose of the commission is to arrive at some tangible evidence to support corrective measures to be brought in the next legislative sessions of Minnesota and Wisconsin. There is no doubt that the pollution of these rivers is an ever increasing menace to the health of the people of the northwest. Corrective measures were suggested by various members, and resolutions were adopted asking Secretary of Commerce, Herbert Hoover, and Secretary of Agriculture, William Jardine, to lend cooperation with the states to solve the river problem.

IT'S COMING!

Harold Lloyd In "The Freshman"

Did you like "Grandma's Boy?" Well, this is a thousand times better. He's a Freshie now in the football picture that is taking the country by storm.

by a stroke of good luck the Meletean staff has been able to secure this picture for you while it is breaking all Harold Lloyd records in the cities of the country.

Lloyd goes to college and scores the laugh touchdown of his career. Every scene is a howl, but especially the football game, when the "drawback" on the team wins the greatest game ever played. You've never laughed until you've seen it.

Normal Auditorium, November 6 and 7; afternoon and evening. Admission 25c and 50c.

This picture is being presented by the Third Year Class for the benefit of the Meletean.

Seventy-five Cents Breaks Stout Boosters' Pocketbooks

Under the heading "Students complain about charges for admission to River Falls game," the "Stoutonia" comes forth with the following rather caustic statements:

"It seems that the agricultural normal has had several injuries to members of its football team this year, and that the authorities in charge saw in the homecoming game a good chance to gather enough coin to at least pay the bills. The Stout delegation of rooters more than paid the entire expense of the game, giving River Falls a handsome profit. In the past it has been the policy of the Stout Athletic committees to charge the same admission price

EAU CLAIRE SHUTS OUT SUPERIOR BY 26 - 0

Superior lost her 1000% standing Saturday to the fast Eau Claire team. Neither team scored in the first quarter, but in the next quarter Eau Claire gathered momentum, pushing over three touchdowns. In the third quarter they added another touchdown to their score, 26 to 0 in favor of Eau Claire.

Oshkosh Normal won from La Crosse by 20 to 0 at La Crosse last Saturday, completely outclassing their opponents. Jerdee and Besserdick were stars for the visitors, Jerdee running 95 yards with strong interference. There were no noticeable stars on the La Crosse team.

Milwaukee established themselves in the win column by beating the Platteville eleven 13 to 6. The visiting Milwaukee boys outclassed their fighting hosts, but could not keep them from scoring.

Training School Sends Box to New York

The Fourth grade was very busy last week working on a seed project. One day they went on an excursion with Miss Parker and the practice teachers. During this trip they gathered as many specimens of seed pods as possible. The children's arms were filled when they returned to their room. During the two days following this trip, the work of classifying and labeling the (Continued on page two)

FALLS SHOWS STRENGTH BY HOLDING ST. MARY'S 9 - 13 ON WET FIELD

Score made in first quarter; opponents come back in fourth

Playing against a team much superior to them, River Falls put up a hard fight and almost upset the dope bucket against the strong St. Mary's team. By losing to the score of 13 to 9 River Falls established themselves as one of the strongest teams in the normal conference.

River Falls started out as usual by gaining an early lead. Heggen recovered a St. Mary's fumble within the shadows of the goal posts. However, the St. Mary's team tightened up and forced Brooks, who was taking Quandt's place in the backfield, to put over a perfect drop-kick. The small lead of 3 to 0 was not sufficient for the Red & White team, so when Lawrence Dawson recovered a St. Mary's fumble 8 yards from the goal line, the Red & White team was determined to put the pigskin over for a touchdown. Capt. Nelson was elected to carry the ball, and he put River Falls in a 9 to 0 lead. St. Mary's failed to penetrate the Falls line, and failed to make first down once.

In the second quarter it looked as though River Falls would score again when, by line plays and generous penalties due to a certain member of the College team who desired to express his thoughts, the Red & White team (Continued on page four)

FIRST NUMBER OF LECTURE COURSE INDICATES GOOD FUTURE PROGRAMS

The C. Edward Clarke Concert Company was a success Thursday evening as the first number of the People's Lecture Course. C. Edward Clarke, baritone, gave a most interesting group of songs, cleverly presented. Rachel Steinman Clarke, violinist, was the true artist of the evening with her charming personality and distinctive artistic gifts. Earl Victor Prahl, pianist, deserves praise in his recital work and as an accompanist.

The C. Edward Clarke Concert Company are a splendid introduction to the numbers which are presented by the People's Lecture Course.

ATTENTION DEBATERS

The date for the debate tryouts has been changed to Tuesday, November 3rd. A schedule of the debates appears elsewhere in this issue. Please be on hand promptly for your debate.

Journal Print, River Falls, Wis.

Last year we heard considerable about the point system, student government, and other matters related to these, but so far this year there has been very little campus agitation in favor of the adoption of some such measures. In spite of the fact that the matter has not been brought to the notice of the student body, a student committee has been conferring with the faculty, looking up data, and in other ways trying to work out a practical solution of the difficulties that we have in the participation of the students in the student activities.

The difficulty at River Falls seems to be not so much that a few students are doing everything, although this is a fault that should be remedied, but that a large number of the students are not linked up with any organization, and if they do belong, they are passive instead of active members. This student committee that has been appointed, and that is working on this, is now looking up the student records as shown in the Meleteans of the past years, to determine how much duplication there has been, and what percent of the students are nonparticipants. Following this survey, they will, no doubt, take definite action, and present the results of their investigations to the student body.

CHOOSING CUPS

Are you proving to the world that your ancestors were monkeys by your conduct in the china shop of life? Do you look at the inside of a cup before you purchase it? How often the outside appears to be of good material, but when we peer inside we find that outer appearances have been deceitful. Cheap pottery is characterized by such outward show; the outside painted in bright colors, while the inside is misshapen, distorted, and cracked.

"The dress oft proclaims the man;" however it is well to avoid hasty conclusions as to how it is an index to his personality. Take the cup you are planning to purchase over to the window, examining it carefully while holding it in the sunlight. Don't fear lest you might see what you do not desire, since it is much better to learn the truth early than to discover it as you are presenting the cup to a friend.

Do you ever crack or chip the edges of the cup of friendship by carelessly handling it? Havelin china cups are nice to display on special occasions, but for all that, who would enjoy drinking from such cups daily? Do you delight in the friendship of one who has so dainty a disposition that you must handle them like an egg shell?

Learn a lesson from the thick coffee mug who lives for service. He has a solid personality and is never offended. He is thrown about and sometimes dropped; still he renders service to all; rich and poor alike. When we are tired he sometimes seems too heavy and thick for comfort. He is too dull and slow to appreciate or respond to any joyous laughter and fun.

No cups ever seem to equal the kind we use at home. They are like the friends who know us well, yet love us just the same. The beverage, whether it is coffee, milk, or water, tastes just a bit better from those cups than from any others. Those plain, white cups, clean inside and out, recall many happy memories. As I look through life's china shop, I fail to see any which I would rather choose than these, do you?

of town. Furthermore, it was not a fee set especially for that game, for the same charges held for the St. Mary's game held here last Friday. As for our financing the hospital bills by the homecoming game. We have had but one injured man this year, while last year we had two, and we will undoubtedly do the same this year that we did last, all work together and raise the money necessary to give the team the care that they should have.

That the Athletics of the school may be carried on more efficiently, the authorities found it advisable to increase the budget fee paid by the students this year, but the students paid it willingly, feeling that they were getting more than repaid in the increased satisfaction of turning out a 100% team.

Stout's "reasonable fee of 50 cents" may keep their budget at normal, but the fact remains that last spring Stout was forced to deplete inclusion in our track and baseball schedules because of the "absolute bankruptcy" of its athletic treasury.

It seems to us that if the seven hundred students at Stout would grab a little less over a matter of a few cents difference in the charge at football games, and would give their athletic council the same support that the four hundred students at the "agricultural normal" do, Stout would have enough left in its athletic treasury at the end of the football season to at least finance a track team.

ORGANIZATION NOTES

LINCOLNIAN MEETING

A regular meeting of the Lincolnian Society was held last Thursday evening. It was decided to have a contest this year similar to the one held last year. A committee is to be appointed which will choose, by lottery, the two opposing sides. The losing side is to give a banquet in honor of the winners. The program was of special interest. Donald Olson and Thomas Barry gave very interesting speeches. A debate was given on the question: Resolved, that it is a capital crime to kill bed bugs. John Davison and Robert Smith upheld the affirmative, and Marshall Norseng and James Casey upheld the negative. A decision in favor of the negative was rendered. The initiation committee gave its report. None of the new members have, as yet, been found missing because of the effects of it. Each day this week two new members must carry soap boxes around with them. At the request of any old member they must stand upon them and give a speech.

AURELIA

The Aurelia met last Thursday evening in the Junior High School assembly room. The program for the evening was in the form of a Hallowe'en program. As the girls ascended the stairs, they were met by a ghost, who was very willing to offer her cold, clammy hand to everyone. Next, each one had her fortune told, and we are sure that we all met the same fate. Of course, this all happened in the quiet and dread of darkness. We then assembled in the assembly room and had the rest of our program. It consisted of talks, readings, recitations with piano accompaniment, piano solo, and stunts. The entire program was carried out in that spooky and gruesome Hallowe'en style. We all agree that the program committee is to be complimented on their ability to put on such a successful program. No doubt, if the future programs are as good as this one, we will have a 100% attendance throughout the year.

"Y" NOTES

Beginning Thursday, Nov. 10, and continuing for five consecutive meetings, a radical departure in the nature of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. programs will be tried. A series of discussion groups is being planned. Such a series has been thought of for several years, but it was not until we met Bruce Curry last spring that we found out how to do it. His book "Facing Student Problems," will be used as a basis for the discussions.

It is planned to have the organizations meet at 7:00 o'clock as usual. There will be a short devotional service, after which we will break up into smaller groups of ten or fifteen for the period of discussion. Every man and woman in school is invited to be a member of one of these groups. The leaders have been carefully selected and will spend as much time in preparation and training for this work as their schedule will permit.

N. C. A.

The last meeting of the N. C. A. was probably the most interesting one that has been held this year. We are greatly indebted to Reverend Father Fassbender for the worth while message he brought to us. These are the kind of meetings that are most valuable; hence, we should endeavor to have more of them.

Among the other things of interest mentioned by our pastor was the party he is giving the N. C. A. next Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock, in the basement of the Catholic church. Why not show him we appreciate this offer and turn out in full force to this party?

G. O. P.

At the G. O. P. meeting, held Thursday evening, Miss Roherty discussed a plan of work for the year. This plan provides for the discussion of prominent Wisconsin women in many fields of activity: art, politics, athletics, literature, music, education, and social service.

G. O. P. shall not drop any of its social activities, but will assume this new work which will make G. O. P. meetings worth while. Many of these programs may be of interest to other organizations, so plans for open meetings were discussed.

TRAINING SCHOOL SENDS BOX TO NEW YORK

specimens went on at a feverish rate. Elementary Science books were referred to. Mr. Prucha and Mr. Herschberger and Mr. Stratton were called in to aid the children. Much intensive nature study work was done while a box was being packed with these decorative seed pods for children in the Horace Mann Demonstration School of Teachers' College, Columbia University. The fourth grade also wrote a letter to the New York children, telling them about the seeds they had gathered and the City of River Falls. The fourth grade is anxiously waiting for the letter which the New York children will send in reply to their letter and gift of seeds.

Last summer a wish was expressed by one of the Horace Mann teachers that the children in her school might correspond with the children in another state. When Miss Parker learned of this, she began to motivate her nature study and English by getting a collection of seeds and having the children write about their experience.

 were within one foot of the goal line. For the first time in Friday's matinee, St. Mary's showed a stone wall defense. From that time until the final whistle, St. Mary's played superior football.

Numerous penalties held the visiting warriors from scoring in the 3rd quarter. The Falls boys held them back on several plays, but St. Mary's varied attack proved to be too mysterious for their hosts to solve. Although failing to score, St. Mary's made six first downs, while River Falls failed to make any.

Early in the fourth quarter St. Mary's opened up with a series of line bucks and passes that River Falls could not stop. A fifteen yard penalty on River Falls put St. Mary's 10 yards from the goal. After another penalty and a line buck, Kenney plunged over for a touchdown. The place kick fell short. Later in the quarter, Libera, standing on his own 45 yard line, completed a pass to McNelis, who was stopped on River Falls' 30-yard line. Libera again passed, and the ball was caught by Capt. Cronan behind the goal line. McNelis kicked goal and put his team ahead by the score of 13 to 9. River Falls attempted to regain the lead with an aerial attack, but St. Mary's grounded all attempts. Much credit is due to the Red & White team for their showing against the team that has been winning games against competitors that should be on an equal basis with River Falls.

WHAT THEY THINK

 on musical goblets by Hilmore E. Cederholm.

The second part, perhaps created the most excitement. The audience was thoroughly convinced after watching Earl Kuhn play the part of the father that he need not waste any more time before assuming his fatherly duties. Marion Simonson, who was the mother, also acted her part well. The young folks, Bernice Sheldrew and Arthur Webster, certainly know how they go in this wild day and age. Bernice has the right idea, and can tell us what she thinks—we all know what the old folks think.

Hard: What did you get out of the services this morning?
 Guy: Not a thing. I was sleeping when the offering was lifted.

This and that

Sylva Hunt was in Menomonie Saturday.

"Rusty" Dort spent the week-end at his home in St. Paul.

Ellen Bannister was at home in Glenwood City over the week-end.

Less than two months to Christmas. Shop early and avoid the rush.

If you want to see the "line-up" of the couples in school, just go to the show on Sunday nights.

Doris Tyvol and Ella Catone were at their homes in Cumberland last week-end.

Marian Brown, Eva Miller, and Nora Hurtgen visited their homes in Spring Valley Saturday and Sunday.

Lawrence College had their "Homecoming" this past week-end. They played Ripon College and won 3-0.

Ted Jenson, Earl Brakken, and Donald Brownson conducted the morning services at the Congo church last Sunday.

Frank Janisch went home to Ellsworth for the week-end. He probably made practical use of his "Ag." course while at home.

Due to the heated arguments among our students caused by the Klan meetings, a larger number of prospective debaters have been discovered.

These people also spent the week-end at their homes. Lettie Nelson, in Woodville; Elsie Erickson, in Maiden Rock; Madge Coe, in Barron.

"The House of Lords" was very much disturbed by an unaccountable noise Monday evening, but after further investigation it was found to be Korbein snoring.

Almost the entire football squad went up to see the Minnesota-Notre Dame football game Saturday. "Skin" Collins made it back to River Falls in more than record time.

Mr. Jacobson motored to Bay City Sunday afternoon. He could hardly say he had enjoyed his trip, for by the looks of his shoes and the amount of Bay City soil he carried back with him he must have had to use human force on his car.

Robert Heggen again spent the week-end at his home in Hudson. We have been unsuccessful in our attempts to find out just what the attraction is, but the case is still under further investigation, and, no doubt, the mystery will be solved in the future.

The main hall this week is the scene of part of the Lincolnian initiation. Very interesting lectures on — are given by the new members. The speakers are very generous in giving out valuable bits of advice to young folks.

Mildred Randall, ex '25, was guest of honor at a 5:30 luncheon Saturday, given by Bunny Sheldrew. The other guests were: Harriet Beebe, Alise Jensen, Alice Dunn, Avery Ames, and Litha Gregor. Mildred returned to Chicago Sunday afternoon to continue her vaudeville tour.

Vivian Vaussau was at home in St. Paul for the week-end.

Lucy Cotter, '25, of St. Paul, visited friends here Sunday.

Lucille Johnson spent Saturday and Sunday in New Richmond.

Mildred Paulson was in Clear Lake, her home, during Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Malott took charge of the evening services at the M. E. church Sunday.

Madlyn Bandali and Kathryn Ausman spent the week-end at their homes in Elk Mound.

AG. NEWS

Mr. Johnson and Mr. Prucha acted as judges at the Clear Lake community fair held there last week.

Arnold Falkoske has been having hard luck of late. A week ago Friday night, he started for Elmwood and his car went wrong. Of course Arnold didn't get over to see her; consequently the sober look on his face all week. Last Friday night, he got stalled in the mud. Suppose as far as he is concerned, the mailman will sure be busy this week.

Mr. Smith spent the week-end in the cities. After seeing the big game there Saturday, he said, "It was a good game, but Minnesota had the better team."

The Ags will hold their next meeting tomorrow night, at 7 o'clock sharp, in Mr. Johnson's room. The program will include: Jokes, by Louis Cervana. Debate: Resolved, that the 18th Amendment be repealed. Affirmative — Vic Peterson, Rudigen.

Negative—Hendrickson, Biles. Reception for all members.

When Mr. Johnson was asked how he happened to have a bandage on the side of his nose he replied, saying, "That's nothing, you ought to see the other fellow."

F. E. Murphy, Editor of the Minneapolis Tribune, recently purchased a bull, which is considered one of the three best bulls of the Holstein breed. The sire's mother is a full sister to the sire of the Normal dairy herd. This certainly speaks well for the Normal's herd sire. The bull is at Roberts, at the present time. Mr. Murphy purchased the bull from another Murphy, so it must have been a great day for the Murphy's.
