Skating Rink Affords Students With Better Type of Entertainment

Specials To Be Given Every Saturday Night

The formal opening of the well lighted, large skating rink was held Saturday evening before a fairly large crowd of both spectators and skaters. The band, even though the weather was rather cold, presented a few selections. The two special features gained the admiration of all present. A local artist, Elmer Wigen, gave a mighty fine display of fancy skating even though the ice was not especially adapted to that. Trumen Glass followed this by a daring jump on skates over an object two feet high and four feet long. Following this, a boisterous time was had by all.

Although the last snowfall held skating somewhat in check, the rink was soon cleared and re-flooded. It is the purpose of the Social Committee to keep the rink clear and in excellent condition. However, in order to do this, certain regulations should be observed by all who use the rink. All sticks and other injurious objects should not be left on the rink. Students are asked not to use the chicken crates on the ice for two reasons. No jumping will be allowed for it is dangerous and the presence of the crates will influence jumping. The crates will then become broken, and in addition to strewing the ice with sticks, valuable crates are destroyed.

Cars will not be allowed on the

Ludvin Mjaanes Selected For "Y" Work in Eau Claire

Last Saturday Ludvin Mjaanes left here to take up his work as Assistant Secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association at Eau Claire. He is filling the vacancy left at Eau Claire by the promotion of Karl Miller to the position of Physical Director there. We all remember Karl as one of the popular young men around our campus last year. Mr. Mjaanes has been taking post graduate work here this year while looking for a position. All the time he was in attendance here he has been very active in the "Y" work, being a member of the cabinet last year. Besides being an active "Y" worker, Ludvin has been very active in the work of the Lutheran Young People's League. This training will serve him well in his new duties.

It may be interesting to know that all but one of the members of last year's "Y" cabinet are still in "Y" work. Four are in paid positions, and two are still in school here.

BAND UNIFORM ORDER DELAYED BY FUNDS

The band uniforms have not been ordered yet due to lack of funds. There is sixty-eight dollars and fifty cents in the bank at the present time, which is a sufficient amount for down payment. However, a note will have to be signed by the faculty members for the balance, which will be due when the uniforms are delivered. If this is done, the uniforms will be ordered this week. The uniforms are to be in the form of red capes trimmed in white with white caps trimmed in red. The band will appear in uniform for the first time in about two or three weeks at some form of a musical, which will be given by the musical organizations of the school.

Peppy Alumni Defeat Normal Squad 28-24

On January second the alumni five, composed of the following stars, Stanley Bergman, Carolan, Glen Morgan, Al. Hyatt, and "Paddy" Driscoll met and defeated the normal quint by a score of 24 to 28, before a crowd composed largely of townspeople.

Although the normal five played ragged basketball, the alumni are to be congratulated on the way they played the game. Throughout the game they showed real spurts of heady basketball both as a team and as individuals. It was a rare treat for old fans to see "Bergy" pivot through, and watch the left handed "Jimmy" fool the boys. Every player showed that age improved the headwork of the game even if lack of practice and training did bother the wind.

Many times the normal five were ahead but the lead was soon overcome. The first half ended 18 to 14 in the losers favor. Be the result of the game what it is, the boys redeemed themselves against St. Thomas.

"MARK OF ZORRO" SHOWS "DOUG" AT HIS BEST

The benefit movie, "The Mark of Zorro," shown at the Normal Auditorium Monday night was declared to be the best movie shown here this year. Douglas Fairbanks, always a popular actor, won the admiration of everyone who saw the show. His recklessness of consequences, his coolness in the face of danger, his sleight-o' hand tricks, his marvelous swordsmanship, and his protection of the oppressed, all won for him a place in the hearts of everyone. Then, too, his superb acting abilities were at their best in this picture, so no one will willingly miss his next picture.

The movie was well attended, and every person present left with a feeling of having received more than their money's worth.

What's worse than an 8 o'clock class after vacation?

FIRST DANCE OF YEAR SHOWS LIVE SPIRIT

Due to the absence of the basketball boys, the attendance at the dance Friday evening was small until the end of the evening, however, the girls discovered that there were enough boys anyway.

The Charleston mania has found a few followers who introduced it to curious onlookers. The practice and patience necessary to learn the intricate steps may retard its popularity here.

Let's make a New Year's resolution to keep our dances informal so everyone can have a good time.

Humorous Play Given By Assembly Artists

The short play, "Our Aunt From California," given before the assembly last Thursday morning met with the whole-hearted approval of everyone present. The play was full of humor and of comical situations, and was so well presented that the audience was in a continual fit of laughter. The plot of the play centered around the expected visit of a rich aunt from California to the home of her three nieces, one of whom she intended to take with her on a trip to Europe. Complications developed rapidly, and each new complication served but to make the situation more ludicrous. But it was the clever acting that really brought out the humor of the situation. Each of the six girls in the play was admirably suited for her part, and each one played her part exceptionally well. When Connie Miller, as "Sally," appeared on the stage, she at once began to exercise a very indiscriminate vocabulary, which alone was enough to insure the success of the performance.

Rosiland—Thelma Best
Lucretia—Lucille Malott

Monday evening, January 18, "Dream Street," one of D. W. Griffith's big pictures, will be shown in the normal auditorium. "Dream Street" is a dramatic comedy. The acting is exceptionally fine, the photography unsurpassed. The picture has the Griffith touch. Every incident is rounded and polished, the scenic effects are marvellous; it is tremendously absorbing and thrilling. It is a production worthy of the author of "The Birth of a Nation." It is a big picture in every respect. It has romance, adventure, humor, pathos, struggle, and triumph, and from an artistic standpoint is "beautifully done." See it at the Normal Auditorium, Monday, January 18, at 8 p. m. The admission will be 25 cents.

Red & White Warriors Hold St. Thomas Five In 25 to 27 Battle

Superior To Open Conference Tilts
For Us Saturday Night

Our team put up a splendid show against St. Thomas.

The falls dropped their second game to St. Thomas last Saturday night via the free throw line. Bent on securing revenge for their earlier defeat by the Tommies our fellows put up a wonderful fight which kept the crowd on their feet throughout the whole game. It was one of the fastest games that was ever played on the Cadet floor, with neither team ever leading by more than a few points.

Beran opened the scoring with a nice field basket, and from then on until the end of the second half the Falls kept in the lead. In the second half the Tommies managed to secure a leading margin, and throughout the remainder of the game it was a battle royal. At different occasions our fellows spurted up to a tie with St. Thomas, and the fight which both teams put up combined with several lucky shots by each made every minute a thrilling one. The keen eye of Smith, St. Thomas forward, made rough going for the Falls, and the many free throws we missed spelled defeat for us. But the brand of basketball that our team put up is something that

The Elopement of Alvin Maier and Beatrice Ross a Surprise

We have heard many times of the romantic spirit which has enveloped the River Falls atmosphere, but somehow we were beginning to doubt it until the Monday after vacation.

After having spent their vacations at home it took the romantic atmosphere of R. F. to raise up so that cupid's arrow might touch the hearts of Alvin Maier and Beatrice Ross. The young couple used enough tact to keep the student body guessing until the St. Paul papers revealed the surprise news. The young couple had eloped!

Judging from the appearance of halls there will be several other couples embarking on the same sea.

The Student Voice Staff and student body joins in wishing these young folks the best which married life can afford—health, wealth, and happiness.

The skating rink, which was completed and opened up for use last week, provides an opportunity for many people to indulge in an outdoor sport. The value of this rink to River Falls is inestimable, for it not only offers the opportunity to more people to take an active part in sports, but it also is a great factor in bringing excellent outdoor exercise to the students of the normal school.

The credit for the construction of this rink goes to the Normal School Social Committee. Hitherto, this committee has received very little recognition from the student body; in fact, very few students seem to know just what the Social Committee is.

The Social Committee is the nearest thing we have to student self-government in the normal school. It is a representative body of ten members—three members from each class, with Miss Hathorn representing the faculty. Its duty is to provide social entertainment for the student body. These matinee dances that we have been having are the result of the efforts of the Social Committee. But it is their construction of the skating rink that should bring to us the realization that the Social Committee is alive to the interests of the students. Its members saw what benefit a skating rink would be to the students, so they began to plan and to build. Working in the interest of the students, they achieved what the students desired. This is a long step towards student self-government. If the student body would only realize this, then the Social Committee would be of some significance and value on the campus.

FAIR OR FALSE.

Is it possible for one to be fair with himself and others, and at the same time help to promote gossip or news which has no sound origin for its circulation? It is not enough to be able to say, "I heard," or "I believe." It is necessary, however, to know the truth of each statement one makes. Due to the close proximity of the members of society, more news which is utterly worthless makes its cycles among certain classes of people more rapidly than would otherwise be found in a more barbarous civilization.

Each day it becomes more imperative that we have social control of slander. All about us we can see evidence of wrecked lives—due to gossip. Was there ever a political campaign in which the opposing sides didn't do all in their power to ruin the characters of their opponents by corrupt gossip?

The poisonous fang of gossip is forced into the weak minds of the students, townspeople, good old citizens, and cliquy organizations by public opinion, social suggestion, custom, personal ideals, and misconceived illusions. There are people in these classes and cliques who feast on spreading that which is undesirable, due to their jealous dispositions, and their small, bigoted, perverted minds which have become so, possibly because of their failure to succeed, or because of silly superstitions repressed human emotions, and a prejudiced biased view point of life, that they use gossip as a means of satisfaction.

The cowardly thing about the habitual use of gossip is that it is practiced six days each week, but on the Seventh day—on the Seventh day man wraps himself in his cloak of religion and goes to the house of worship with all external appearances of being a true follower of Christ—yet inwardly full of misunderstanding and a lack of sympathy.

The only redeeming feature about gossip is that it makes the individual check himself more closely on his actions than he would otherwise do without it.

And to you who are swayed by the current of gossip—are you fair with yourself, with others and with Christ by ruining someone's life through your gossip machine?

THIRD YEAR CLASS DUES

Collection of the Third Year Class dues will start tonight in South Hall after school and be made at all times from then on. In order to better meet some expenses, the members of the class are asked to pay for the last term in advance, thus making the amount two dollars. However, if any member does not wish to pay in advance, credit will be given for all one dollar payments. Last term the class was 100%—why not be prompt and repeat the record?

FIRST YEAR CLASS ELECTION

The following officers for the First Year Class were elected Tuesday:

President—John Davison
 Vice-Pres.—James Casey
 Secretary—Ruth Johnson
 Treasurer—Inez Morrow.

ORGANIZATION NOTES

BIG JOINT MEETING

There is no one who has no note of music in his soul. People just use various means of expressing it. The Music Club and the Civic Club are both studying music at this next meeting, Thursday, January 14, and so they are uniting in the music room for the purpose of studying music for an hour or so.

The two clubs are extending a hearty invitation to the entire school to attend the meeting Thursday night.

N. C. A.

The N. C. A. will hold its regular meeting next Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock.

The last meeting was held in Mr. Stratton's lecture room, and proved to be one of the most interesting ones of the year. Mr. Malott gave us an interesting illustrated travelogue on his trip to Yellowstone National Park. He made his talk interesting by throwing various colored illustrations on the screen as they presented themselves in his lecture.

A talk of this nature gives us some idea of what our government is doing in an attempt to preserve some of the more natural things of our country.

AURELIA BEGINS REGULAR WORK

The Aurelia resumed their regular meetings again last Thursday evening after the two weeks' of vacation. They started out the new year right by beginning a study of the one act play. A short business meeting was held preceding the regular program for the evening. Plans were made for a sleigh ride party in the near future.

A short introduction was given by Evelyn Barrett telling about the "Little Theatre Movement," and something about one act plays. Then Scene I of the one act play, "Suppressed Desires," was read by Frances Squires. This was followed by the reading of Scene II by Margaret Jackson.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

Within the next few weeks the big annual "Y" Stag Party for all the men in school will take place. Next week's issue of the Voice will give the exact date. All but the Freshmen will remember the Stag Party is the one big social event put on by the Y. M. C. A. The usual stunts, such as wrestling matches, boxing, and a basketball game between the faculty and the students will be a part of the evening's entertainment. Of course it wouldn't be the "Y" Stag if there wasn't any of Professor Jacobson's bean soup for refreshments.

The weekly meetings for the next few weeks will be a continuation of the Student Problem Discussions. Come out fellows, and express your opinions.

Y. W. C. A.

When is a petting party justifiable, if ever? That is the question which has been bothering the Y. W. last week. Since petting is generally an insincere display of affection, how can one discern between the sincere and the insincere?

People pet because they have nothing to talk about. Then our education thus far has failed. People pet to get a kick out of life; then kicks are scarce. People pet because of late hours; then we are living too fast. People pet because one expects it of the other. Then we are poor judges of social psychology. People pet because of a biological reason—man cannot remedy nature's laws which have been established ever since creation which is millions and millions of years ago. The only thing man can do is aim to be more sincere toward his companions—and thus avoid petting because of its insincerity.

G. A. A.

At the last meeting of the G. A. A., which was held the Thursday before Christmas vacation, the following officers were elected for the second semester:

President—Ellen Burke
 Vice-Pres.—Minnie Pederson
 Sec.—Cora Belisle
 Recording Sec.—Marion Simonson

Treas.—Marion Miller.
 The G. A. A. has purchased three pairs of skis and a toboggan which will be rented out. The skis are rented for twenty-five cents per pair for an afternoon, and the toboggan rents for one dollar an afternoon. If you wish to rent these, see Marion Simonson, as she is in charge of them.

Girls' basketball practice is on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons at 3:40. More girls are asked to come out for practice so that a good G. A. A. team for the tournament can be chosen.

Many of the girls went on hikes last Saturday afternoon. Ellen Burke and Pearl Olson hiked to Hudson, and back; Marion Miller and Doris Frederickson hiked to Ellsworth, and many of the other girls hiked out to Liberty Hill. The following hikes are outlined for the remainder of the year.

Jan. 23—Ski and Regular Hike, 5 miles.
 Feb. 6—"Side Roads," 6 miles.
 Feb. 20—Down River (cooking out of doors) 6 miles.
 Mar. 6—Ski Hike.
 Mar. 20—Cross Country, 6 mi.
 April 17—Hike to Hudson, 13 miles.
 May 1—Breakfast on Mound.
 May 15—"Monument," 15 miles.
 A regular meeting of the active members of the G. A. A. will be held Thursday evening.

"Madam," said the bank cashier, "this check isn't good unless you endorse it."
 "Oh, you flatterer!" giggled the lady.

WANTED.—A winged man. None other need apply. L. B. B.

This and that

Bessie Klien spent the week-end in Ellsworth.

"Peg" Bailey, '25, visited school one day last week.

Blanche Van Berg spent the week-end in the cities.

Bill Jacobson, '25, visited school Monday, following vacation.

Myrtle Rinalder has been ill for the past week, but is now able to return to school.

Marion Miller and Doris Fredrickson hiked to Ellsworth Sunday.

Bessie Needham, '25, spent the week-end at her home in River Falls.

Mr. Davison addressed the Parent-Teachers' Association at Baldwin Monday evening.

Henry Pederson, '25, spent the first part of last week looking the "old school" over.

Louis Cervana thoroughly enjoyed the parliamentary practice in Supervision last Friday.

The fellows who keep the front porch "dates" at Stewart's must be Eskimos. A Passerby.

Sid Scoville is spending his leisure moments recovering from spills taken while tobogganing.

Angeline Werrell, '25, was a visitor at school Monday. Didn't you notice Joe's happy attitude?

Harry Snyder visited school Monday. While on his way to Appleton, he visited Winfred Bird.

The usual Monday night Normal Promotion benefit movies shown at the auditorium on the 4th and 11th were unusually good.

Jack Lightfoot installed a new radio. He, Vic Sivertson, and Mike Wahl spent the evening in bed—listening to news.

Tobogganing was the main pastime over the week-end. At least, a large number of students found enjoyment in it.

Mr. Geere's Girls' quartette lost a member during vacation. Alice Dunn accepted a position for "Mr. Gendron's duet," singing "O Promise Me."

We are afraid the G. O. P.'s will be getting too fat due to the amount of candy they have been eating since the new members were initiated.

The Ags. have added another Irish member to their department since to holidays. When John Burke returned he brought with him David Burke.

On Monday, the 4th, Charles Ray was shown in "The Girl I Loved," and was fully enjoyed by all who saw him. Those who didn't see the show missed something.

During the recent illness of a prominent member of the I. C. U. R. Norse Club, various simple home and drug store remedies were contributed by some beneficent god-mother. The aforementioned Scandanavian wishes to extend his heartfelt thanks to the individual who contributed them. Evidently "the gift without a giver is bare"—at least Earl was at school the following day.

Pearl Lunde, '25, visited school last Thursday.

Winfred Bird was a visitor at school last Monday.

Rusty Dort was at home in St. Paul over the week-end.

Mr. Mitchell addressed the P. T. A. at Prescott Monday evening.

Evelyn Barrett went to a basket ball game at Hammond Tuesday night.

The fire Thursday evening caused many students to lose a great deal of sleep.

AG. NEWS

The Ags will hold their next meeting Thursday night at seven o'clock in Mr. Johnson's room. The program will include a talk by Mr. Herschberger, and a special program by Rady and his gang.

Mr. Guerkirk has resigned his position as herdsman of the Normal herd. He accepted a position as an official cow tester in Colorado.

Mr. Edwin Johnson, a resident of River Falls, and a graduate of this school will succeed Mr. Guerkirk. As a student Mr. Johnson proved to be very conscientious and industrious. During the past year he has been doing cow testing work in this state and in Minnesota. Therefore, we have a great deal of faith in Mr. Johnson as our future Normal herdsman.

RURALITES

The following members of the Rural Department attended the Community Club program at the Kinnickinnic School Friday evening, Jan. 8: Miss Jorstad, Helen Johnson, Blanche Monicken, Ruth Nelson, Eileen Stolt, Lillian Ellsworth, Elsie Erickson, Marion Brown, Anna Reitz, Irvin Larson, and Harry Ellefson. Several of these started to hike out, a distance of 4½ miles, but were fortunate enough to get a "lift." All enjoyed the program and appreciated the lunch which followed the program. All hope that next year they will be teaching in districts which have Community Clubs.

The January number of the Rural School News Letter No. 36, issued by the U. S. Dept. of Int., has an item on Preparation of Rural Teachers at Tempe, Arizona, State Teachers' College, recognizing that justice to rural tax payers requires that special facilities be provided for the preparation of rural teachers. The college operates two rural schools offering opportunities for observation and practice teaching.

 You'll enjoy skating more with a pair of Winchester Skates
 Both regular and Tube type to select from Skates Sharpened 25c
A. W. LUND CO.

They are situated at a distance of 20 minutes by automobile from the college and form an integral part of its training. The school district in each case employs and pays a rural teacher. The observation and practice work are supervised by a member of the college faculty who gives full time to this work.

We can boast of even better provisions, for we have three rural schools all within a distance of 15 minutes by automobile from our Normal School.

BOOK REVIEW

Marbacka, By Selma Lagerlot

"Marbacka" is an autobiography of Selma Lagerlof, who has been characterized as the "most loved woman in Sweden," as well as "the most eminent of Swedish writers." She is indisputably a world figure, not because she won the Noble prize, but because men and women all over the globe look forward to anything which may come from her pen.

This narrative gives the tender recollections of the author's childhood at Marbacka, the family home in Sweden. The old grandmother, the nurse, Back-Luisa, the lieutenant father, the peasants, offer us an intimate picture of foreign life and atmosphere, simply and beautifully told. It is rich in the folk-lore of the Swedish people. The reader follows with keen attention the schemes of the kindly Lieutenant Lagerlof, Selma's father. The story really becomes a loving monument to the father of the author.

The other fellows at the house didn't think anything more about Archie Paulson's "cold" than he did until the cold became so serious that a doctor was consulted. Now the entire "gang," which includes the two Paulsons, Nolan, Sagen, Cliff Olson, and Weber, is taking a forced vacation, all because Archie's cold was scarlet fever. Although Archie is the only one who has succumbed so far, the rest of the fellows will be held in quarantine until all danger of their getting it is over. With the ventilation such as it is in so many of the rooms, it is best to take every precaution to prevent an epidemic.

According to report, Miss Haddow is enjoying the distinction of having her door placarded with the same kind of a card as the Sunby house boasts. We hope that both will have speedy recovery, and that they will soon be back at school.

we can be proud of, and the showing they made is proof enough that they have championship makings. Their teamwork and shooting has improved suprisingly since the last game, and we cannot help but look forward to a most successful season.

rink as it destroys the ice and is dangerous to all concerned. Likewise, the practice of "cracking the whip" must cease. The cooperation of all is desired in keeping of this provision.

The city has been very kind to give the rink the use of lights every night until nine-thirty. Children are requested not to use the rink in the evening. There has been a special hour, from four to five, set aside for their use.

According to present plans there will be some thing special besides the band every Saturday night. It is also planned that a warming house be constructed.

Even though the ice is not as yet in excellent condition, students should remember that if they boost it will become better, but if they knock, how can it improve? It has been built for the use of all, but improvement can only come by a willingness to help the Social Committee being shown. Donations of work or even money will be gratefully received.

Send home and get your skates, or buy a pair, and have some real enjoyment, and get that much needed exercise.

BUILDINGS

Yes, a building is a dry subject, but it seems that these wet subjects never stand well. Ever hear of a structure like the Flabiron Building being of wet material and standing up? A building that is a trifle moist has a tendency to become wetter and finally oozes down, or goes in a crash. You see, we are somewhat like buildings ourselves.

I like to look at buildings. Did you ever know that they have to use the most paint and deception on the cheapest ones to try to make 'em appear decent? Ever stop to think that the buildings that are finest—those that you can see with your eyes shut—never have any paint? Everyone admires marble structures like our state capitol. They can't help themselves. What would you do if you saw a fellow daubing paint on such a building? I've been wishing there was some buildings like that around here, 'cause they make me want to live—really live.

I like to get inside of buildings, too. Queer that some buildings look all right from the outside, but the way they affect your eyes after you open the door makes you remember you've important business, so you can't stay long. Then there are others that make you forget about your business, your worries, and everything else, and you still feel as though you wanted to stay forever. Time goes fast, like the wind. When you go out you're drawing deep breaths of air and feeling like doing your job just a little better in some way than you had been lately. (Did you ever have a friend like that?)

There is always something about any building that you can admire, if you'll only look for it. Sometimes it's the material in the construction of a little corner, and then it's the way the boards are placed in the staircase, and another time it's the fitting of a door. In some buildings it's almost covered up, and in others it's as plain as the nose on your face. I like those best where there is more of the good workmanship, and less of good material ruined by the work of some poor sap. Somehow it makes me feel that there is a chance for me to do a little better instead of kicking because I haven't a lot of talent, and I figure that I had better get busy with the material that is lying around. Guess I'll do that instead of wastin' your time by talkin' about it. G'bye.
