Elections fill seven posts

Steven Anderson was elected president of the freshman class by a two-vote margin when new elections were held Wednesday.

The original elections held on Sept. 25 were invalidated by the Elections Committee for alleged voting infractions.

Other winners in the new election were Ellie Betz and Duane Roen, chosen Student Senators. Betz with 436 votes and Roen, with 409, defeated Gary Bastian, 395; Steven Voss, 210; and John Hanna, 114.

The voters also chose Dolly Center as the secretary of the junior class.

Glen Gesler was elected freshman class vice-president with 160 votes over Douglas Lenzen, 155; and Dave Aschebrook, 118.

A wider margin separated Chris Nabkey, freshman class secretary, with 202 votes from Mary Johnston, Ill.; Carol Sobkoviak, 74; and Kirk Stromberg, 64.

Lowell Lindstrom was elected treasurer with 133 votes, over Dennis Janz, 129; Gloria Freier, 127; and Veralee Falkenberg, 55.

Runner-up to president Steven Anderson were Bill Rasmussen, 162; Charles Barlow, 86; and Mike Houlston, 28.

Anderson stated, "These elections were the craziest I ever heard of. They were so close." Watching the ballots being counted, Anderson thought he had lost by 9 votes. When the official results announced that he had tied or won, he said that he was stunned. The final count showed that he had won by two votes.

Anderson would like to see a voting machine installed for the next election, because that would eliminate a lot of problems.

Commenting on fellow candidates, Anderson said, "The others are a great bunch of buys. They are just as qualified as I am and the totals show that we had about the same amount of support."

The first thing vice president Glen Gesler would like to do, now that he is elected, is to "regenerate a good positive spirit in the freshman class and the whole school. Get something going that really gets students involved."

Gesler was relieved when the campaign was all over. He felt it was hard on the candidates because the voting was so close.

Chris Nabkey, freshmen class secretary, was "very happy, but disappointed that not as many freshmen turned out to vote as I would like to have seen."

She hopes "that the freshmen class will be the best ever," and promised to help the president in any way possible with freshmen activities throughout the year.

Freshman class treasurer Lowell Lindstrom commented that the candidates selected are "very capable and the students should be proud to have these people representing them. Lindstrom believes that this will be a very good year. "If the officers can get cooperation from fellow students, we can be successful as a group rather than as individuals."

Lindstrom, who is familiar with the office of treasurer, would like to get better acquainted with the freshman class, in order to gain cooperation.

"The election results were close," Lindstrom felt, "because the candidates are well qualified and experienced and the class probably had a hard time choosing."

Roger Wagner Chorale here Wednesday

The Roger Wagner Chorale, appearing this Wednesday evening in Karges Center, is one of the largest cultural productions ever attempted on this campus and will surely be a major event in this year's entertainment schedule, according to Dr. Richard Swenson who was instrumental in obtaining the chorale for the 8 p.m. appearance.

All seats are reserved for the 8 p.m. performance and university students will be granted a one dollar reduction off the price of any seat. The regular prices of the seats are: $2.00 (bleachers), $2.50, $3.00, and $3.50 (main floor).

According to Dr. Swenson, at least 600 high school students will be attending the concert from surrounding area schools.

The internationally known group, which has been called "The Best Mixed Chorus singing in America today," by the Los Angeles Mirror News, began in 1945 when the French-born director was named supervisor of youth classes for the City of Los Angeles Bureau of Music. With a madrigal group of 12 voices as a nucleus, Wagner developed and trained the larger group that became officially, in 1947, the Rober Wagner Chorale.

Beginning with a Gregorian Ave Maria, Wagner will present four numbers of sacred and three of secular music of the Renaissance period. Bach's "Duet for Soprano and Alto" will represent the Baroque period, and the Romantic period will be represented by excerpts from "Requiem" by Brahms.

Leonard Bernstein's "Chichester Psalms" will open the second half of the program, followed by two selections by American composers Randall Thompson and Wilbur Chenovath. Two sea chanties arranged by Wagner and three Negro spirituals will conclude the concert.

Advance sales of tickets are available at the University book store in the Student Center, at Rodli Commons, A. W. Lund Co., downtown River Falls, or from Dr. Swenson in the basement of North Hall.

The Roger Wagner Chorale appearing in Karges Gym at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

The Student Foundation Committee is holding interviews for five new members. Openings are for two sophomores and three freshmen. Interviews will be held at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 10, in 200 Student Center.

Student-Faculty interviews to be held

Interviews for Student Faculty Committees will be held at a special Senate meeting Tuesday, Oct. 8, at 6:30 p.m. in Meeting Rooms A and B Rodli Commons.

The committees, number of vacancies, and duties of the committees are:

Academic Standards (2) This committee develops and recommends to the Faculty Senate academic policies in admissions, retentions, scholastic standards, student academic load, and student program modifications. It establishes procedures for the implementation of academic policies and interprets academic policies and hears appeals relative to these policies.

Alumni Relations (1)--This committee organizes and fosters alumni chapters, special events for alumni for homecoming and teacher's conventions. It maintains an up-to-date record of alumni in cooperation with the Director of Development and provides for recognition of alumni who are outstanding in their profession and/or who have made outstanding contributions to the University.

Athletic Committees (1)--This committee formulates the policies and regulations for the conduct of inter-collegiate sports and coordinates use of facilities between physical education and athletic departments. It proposes and administers the athletic budget and has general supervision of the athletic equipment. They regulate athletic relations with other institutions and recommend policies for the improvement of the athletic programs and facilities of the University. They appoint the faculty representative to the WSU Conference.

Concerts and Lectures (4)--Duties are to assist in providing for cultural, social, and educational enrichment of the student body. It's responsible for scheduling, organizing and publicizing the lectures and concerts financed with lecture and concert funds. They are responsible for publicizing committee sponsored non-University cultural programs available in the area. They also develop the procedure for coordinating University programs.

Curriculum (2)--Their duties are to establish goals and objectives of the University curriculum. They continually examine and evaluate the overall curriculum of the University for possible improvements, recommending revisions and initiating suggestions for study or action. The committee pursues the development of experimental and innovative curricular programs, receives and examines proposals for new programs and new majors

LAC sets up subcommittee

Campus Affairs under Chairman Doug Harris, was formed as a new subcommittee of the Legislative Action Committee at the LAC's last meeting, Oct. 1.

The new committee will deal with campus grievances and problems of the Foreign Student Minimum Balance and the registering process.

Barb Stouffer, Dale Welles, Steve Voss, and Frenchie Birr are the other committee members. The Campus Affairs subcommittee will hold its weekly meetings every Tuesday from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. in the Student Senate Office.

A Future Free Spirit Forum will feature Dr. Allen Utke from WSU-Oshkosh to speak on UFO's on December 11. Correspondence with Mohammed Ali, formerly Cassius Clay, is being started to determine a Free Spirit Forum appearance in the future.

and minors, evaluates them, and refers them to the Faculty Senate for action; reviews requested changes in the hours requirements of majors or minors. They review inter-departmental and inter-college conflict; receives, records and acts as a clearing house for departmental course offerings, reserving the right to disapprove changes and make recommendations, the traditional and necessary curricular autonomy of college schools and departments will be respected. The committee coordinates and works with curriculum committees as established by the academic units of the University. They establish a sub-committee for teacher education with at least one member from each college.

Institutional Development (1) -- They plan for the future development of the University's physical plant, coordinating it's work with the projected growth in personnel, curricula and research. They make recommendations designed to enhance the physical environment and alleviate immediate problems and conditions (traffic, parking, littering). It coordinates the activities of sub-committees established for the development projects or buildings. It serves as a liaison agency between the faculty and the Executive Committee of the Board of Directors-River Falls State University Foundation. Reviews gifts, bequests, and alterations of the campus which affect its appearance or physical image.

Library (2)--This committee promotes student and staff use of the library. They recommend Senate action and major library policy regarding circulation and purchasing. Develops needed special programs and activities to improve library use by graduate faculty and students; suggests and seeks non-tax financial support for the library. They orient new faculty to the library. The committee communicates library problems, and procedures and policies to the University community and communicates problems with the library to the library staff and other responsible officials.

Public Relations (1) -- Its duties are to study and survey public relations activities of the University. They propose innovations and methods to promote the University.

Special Events (1)--They propose, supervise and coordinate special events on campus involving the public.

Student Affairs (5)--Their duties are to formulate and recommend the Faculty Senate policies governing student activities and organizations, government, conduct, advising, housing, health, employment, publications, judiciary bodies, and social affairs. It reviews the out-of-classroom learning environment of the University and develops such plans as will effect continuous improvement. They advise and consult with the Division of Student Personnel in developing and evaluating programs and services of that division. They also sit as a judiciary body to hear cases involving registered student organizations brought before it by the President of the University, the Student Senate, the Faculty Senate, the Dean of Students, or any other registered organization. The committee will act as an appellate body except in cases where the failure of subordinate bodies requires the exercise of original jurisdiction. In exercising its judiciary functions, this committee shall be empowered to recommend suspension or reinstatement of the charters/constitutions of student organizations. Superior Student (two Honors Program student positions are open)--They plan, develop, administer and evaluate the three phases of the superior student programs: Honors, Independent Study, and Test-out. They develop procedures for the identification of academically talented students and encourages their participation in such programs.

University Judiciary Board (1) (Sophomore position is open)--They are a permanent student-faculty body with the function of administering general rules of conduct that apply to all students of the University. The aim of this board shall be set forth codes of behavior within the framework of the rules which are set up, that will best preserve and promote the interests of the student body, and at the same time assure fair and equitable treatment of such students.

Educational Improvements (5)--This is a sub-committee of the Student Senate. It evaluates, clarifies, and communicates the educational objectives of the University. They direct student energies toward the fulfillment of the educational objectives of the University. They evaluate the student body and student government's contribution toward fulfilling the educational objectives of the University. They also foster an attitude toward student participation in educational opportunities.

A vacancy on this year's Winter Carnival Committee will also be filled at the Oct. 8 meeting. All interested students are urged to attend and apply for positions on the above-mentioned committees.

Four forensics students attend first tournament

Four WSU-RF forensics students and their coach attended the first tournament of the school year at Sioux Falls, So. Dak., last weekend.

Kathy Graham, Pete Sequin, Margaret Kitze and Paulette Gergen together with debate coach Jerald Carstens attended seminars at the 2nd Annual Sioux Land Debate Workshops. Highlight was an address by Dr. Bernard Brock, University of Minnesota, on comparative advantage cases.

Among other events at the session was a film of the Chicago Professional Open Debate Tournament and an address by Dr. Holtz of Augustana College in Sioux Falls on "The Role of The Executive in Foreign Policy."

Besides these seminars three rounds of debate on the national question were held.

Games Committee invites all freshmen interested in becoming a member of the University Activities Board to the interviews being held on Oct. 10th at 4 p.m. in the Student Senate Office. There is one opening available.

Radio Station encounters more red tape

"I simply refuse to second guess the FCC anymore," said a disgusted Lorin Robinson, faculty director of the University's as yet silent FM radio station. According to Robinson, more Federal Communications Commission "red tape" has once again delayed the broadcast debut of the station, WRFW. The station was originally scheduled to go on the air on Oct. 1. Because of a faulty power transformer and a "turtle-like FCC in Washington," the station has been forced to delay its broadcast debut twice previously. The station's 250-watt transmitter, which was purchased to save money, had a faulty transformer that had to be replaced with some difficulty. The FCC is also behind in granting broadcast licenses, Robinson said.

"Technically," Robinson said, "we have been ready to go on the air for the past three weeks." Robinson said that he had been waiting for FCC permission to begin broadcasting, but instead, he received "more forms to fill out."

Although Robinson refused to set a new date for the station to begin broadcasts, he said, "I can see no reason why we won't be on the air later this month."

The station staff had hoped to broadcast the homecoming game next weekend, live. Direct hook-ups now connect the station rooms in North Hall with Ramer Field, Karges Gym and North Hall Auditorium. According to Robinson, the station's frequency has been tested and everything is ready to go.

"Forecast," a 20-page monthly program guide, that will be published by the station, was also delayed. The magazine which will circulate 3000 copies in the community and on campus should be available late in October.

WRFW, which will operate at 88.7 megacycles, will also produce a "Yearbook in Sound." The yearbook will be a long-playing record, which will document the school year as it was broadcast on the station, and will be sold to students for $3. After Jan. 1, Robinson said the record would cost $3.50. Orders for the "Yearbook in Sound," may be made in Room 310 North Hall.

Profits from the record will be put back into the station to help improve equipment and programming, and to make salaries available to personnel.

Senate hears complaints about Center gameroom

James (Frenchie) Birr appeared before the weekly Senate meeting Sept. 26, to air his complaints against the Student Center Game Room. Included in his attack were the prices, hours, and the general condition of the equipment.

Dave Svacina, a game room attendant, said, "Any money made in the game room goes right back into it to pay for new equipment, such as the twelve pair of new Hart skis, boots, and poles. Besides, where else can you rent skis for $2.50 a day?"

Jim Willi, also an attendant, added, "Any billiard hall will charge at least $1.25 an hour and extra for additional players."

In reference to the condition of the equipment, Birr said, "The tandem bikes are in extremely poor condition and the charge, 74¢ an hour. It takes 45 minutes to get it moving. At LaCrosse, these bikes rent for 50¢ an hour and they are in top condition."

Svacina replied, "Any bikes leased are to be checked by the leaser to make sure they are in working order."

"The hours are terrible--on weekends they close at 10 p.m. What recreation does our campus have? The town offers very limited recreation and the campus offers little that doesn't try to make money. Why can't the gym be open on weekends from about 1 p.m. until 11 p.m.?" said Birr.

To this, Willi replied, "The game room closed when there weren't enough people there to keep it open. The students money pays for the game room, so its their money lost when the empty game room is kept open."

Birr added, "If the campus activities are mainly concerned with profits, they'll never have full student participation. It's not necessary to provide free recreation, but fair prices are. The students are paying for an education to better themselves and society, so why is society taking them for what money they can get." He also suggested that several weekends be planned for all students, resident and commuter alike, at a very low cost.

Willi had this final comment, "He is making a lot of generalizations without facts to back them up. In reference to price, I'd like to see prices from all the other schools to really compare them."

The prices in the game room are: Canoes, $4 a day.

Bowling, $.35 a game before 5 p.m., $.40 after 5 p.m., $.15 for shoes.

Billiards, $.60 an hour, $.15 for each extra person.

Ping Pong, $.60 an hour.

Bikes, $.75 an hour tandem, $4 a day, $.35 an hour for single, $2 a day.

Toboggan, $.75 an hour, $2 a day, $5 per weekend.

Skis and Bobsleds, $2.50 daily.

New coffee house opens

About 400 people, including the President of the University, George Field, and the mayor of River Falls, William Wells, have been invited to the grand opening of the First Amendment on Thursday, according to John Mercer, chairman of its board of directors.

Members of the WSU-RF music department will provide "back ground" music for the "coffee and get acquainted" session from 8 p.m. to midnight. Redecoration at the First Amendment, located at 220 S. Second St., has been completed and the house is ready to begin full operation.

The program committee for the association will present the first in its Contemporary Man series at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 15. The program, titled "The Election--1968," will feature a discussion led by Dr. Richard Darr, professor in economics at the University, and Dr. Edward Peterson, chairman of the history department.

The First Amendment, sponsored by the Coffee House Association of River Falls, will be open from 7:30 p.m. to midnight, seven days a week this year. Four persons, two students and two non-students, either University faculty members of people from the River Falls community, will be serving as hosts and hostesses each night.

Legislative Action Committee will hold interviews for one member-at-large. These interviews will be held Tuesday, Oct. 15 at 6:30 p.m. in the Student Senate Office.

LAC adds four members

Three freshmen and a senior were added as new members to the Legislative Action Committee at their meeting, Oct. 1. The freshmen are James "Frenchie" Birr, Eric Haugen, and Steve Voss. Dale Welles is the new senior member.

Besides being a member of LAC, "Frenchie" is presently serving as president of the south second floor in Johnson Hall and is involved in the coffee-house project at May Hall.

Frenchie is a psychology and sociology major and art minor. He lives in Two Rivers and is a graduate of East De Pere high school.

Frenchie wants to "create spirit on campus and student participation in campus affairs."

Steve Voss, a history major from Wauvertown wants to "try to get more interest in student government and the River Falls campus itself on the part of the students. I want to accomplish this by personally introducing people to the student government," he said.

While in high school Steve participated in Water Town High's Student Senate for two years and was a member of the cross country, football, golf, and wrestling teams. He also busied himself in stage activities for theatrical productions.

A native of St. Paul, Minnesota, Eric Haugen feels that on LAC he will be able to strive "for more student power on campus." Eric is a graduate of Minne-Ha-Ha Academy and while there served on the student council and headed Open Assembly, similar to the Free Spirit Forum here.

Eric's major is sociology and his minor is journalism.

Senior Dale Welles from Medford and an agricultural business major is presently publicity chairman for the Agrifallians and in the past has served as president and vice-president of both Johnson Hall and the Inter Dorm Council.

Dale works in the computer center and is quite familiar with the registration processes. On LAC he hopes "to concentrate on problems involved in the registering process and problems with the text book and fee lines and the parking problem."

Group pictures cost

The Meletean is charging $1 for each person in any organization that wishes to appear in the 1969 yearbook. Craig Middleton, editor, said this will help to defray the cost of the book.

Organizations that want a picture in the yearbook are asked to submit an estimate of the number of people who would appear in the picture. Any copy that is to be included with the picture should be turned in then, too, to the publication's office room 209 Student Center. These should be turned in by Friday, Oct. 18.

Pictures will be scheduled soon after Oct. 18.

Action shows confidence

Ignoring the cries of the few who fear the misuse of "student power," the Wisconsin State University presidents approved the enlargement of the United Council budget last week.

The positive action placed a vote of confidence into the laps of students and student governments. Confidence which will be backed by approximately $9,000.

Members of the public who view college students as "radical sign-carriers, draft-card burners and rioters" will bitterly criticize the President's Council for giving "those kids" more money to cause more trouble.

The presidents realize that those who riot or demonstrate are actually a small minority of the student population. These few make headlines but they do not make student policies. They dress wildly and scream threateningly but they rarely attract the attention of the serious student except for a laugh.

The general public does not realize that these students are not really campus leaders. They will never help make United Council decisions about the usage of funds.

What about the students who will be actively involved in distributing the United Council budget? Are they inexperienced and immature college students clamoring for student power and special favors from school administrations and tax money?

No, they are adults who serve as student senators on their own campus and who are actively interested in making university life as enriching as possible for university students. They are adults who would be regarded as adults if they were in the real, working world. Instead they are college students, a term which is becoming synonymous with radical in the minds of some members of the public.

Student power? Yes, they are working for student power. A student power which will be orderly and organized. Power which will not be centered in subversive organizations but in committees working with the Board of Regents and the state legislature. Power which will be directed through the proper channels of a democracy.

Student leaders who are doing their job and who hope to keep their elected positions can't resort to sit-ins or name-calling demonstrations and they don't need to.

Thanks to the President's Council they have the funds and power to express their grievances through systematic governmental channels. The presidents have given students a way to be recognized besides through wild demonstrations. It is now the responsibility of the students to show the general public the wisdom of the presidents' decisions.

Student government and students appreciate the opportunity which the presidents have given them to have an effective governing body and prove that student power is a positive movement. A movement which is not subversive or radical but a functioning part of the constitutional government. A movement which should certainly not be feared by hopefully admired and pointed to as an example of constructive student action.

The dirty tray returns

Number Three Dining room was crowded with hungry students. Their ebb and flow was constant. But, at one point, a problem arose - although there were a few empty tables, they were piled with dirty trays. The students' dilemma, either wait for others to leave a table and bus their trays or eat in an unappetizing atmosphere at a table crowded with dirty dishes.

Upperclassmen, is this reminiscent of the dining area in the Student Center last year? Frosh, isn't it frustrating to be placed in this position? It could be eliminated, in fact, it was not a problem in Rodli Commons when it first opened. Within the last week, the laziness of a few students has become apparent. Trays are accumulating on tables, making them inaccessible and useless for the purpose in which they were intended.

Students so far have done a good job busing trays and keeping the dining areas clear. They should continue to do so. This problem, small as it is now, should not have occurred.

The indifference of a small minority may cause other students eating on the food plan a lot of headaches. And, the minority could easily grow into a majority if others follow the unfortunate example being set this week.

Last year Ace Food Service's expenditures for bus boys was a great part of their budget. They contended that because of this, many benefits that students asked for could not be provided. This could happen this year.

Students, if you have no pride in the appearance of Rodli Commons, then think of the expediency of eating in a dirty, tray-filled, dining area.

The Phalanx

by Rich Marshall

WSU-River Falls hospitality once again this weekend made the University look like a Normal school.

WSU-River Falls was the host school for the first United Council President's Council meeting of the 1968-69 school year.

At President's Council meetings, the student government presidents and United Council directors from each of the nine Wisconsin State Universities meet along with representatives to each of the four standing UC committees to outline the agenda for the general assembly meeting that shortly follows.

This past weekend, the representative delegations from the other eight conference schools traveled here to map the program for the general assembly meeting at Eau Claire on Nov. 1 and 2.

The delegations pay $5 to the host school per delegate to cover the cost of lodging in the dorms and meals.

For the fee, WSU-River Falls granted each delegate a room in Stratton Hall. The delegates were apparently expected to provide their own heat, pillows, and blankets. A number of delegates mentioned that they were presented with a set of sheets and a bed spread to use in a "cold" dorm.

One slightly blue co-ed from Platteville stood in front of a heating duct in the Student Center and commented, "heat, at least this building has some."

It sounds funny. In fact it borders on the ridiculous. One can't help but wonder if the Board of Regents has been invited to spend the night on campus, would the school have been able to afford a little warm air for them?

These students were the student government leaders from the eight other schools in the conference. Some of them traveled more than 300 miles Friday to represent their schools.

We know that the housing department is on an economy kick, but we feel it might have spared a little heat Friday night and there must be a few blankets in storage somewhere on campus.

Everybody talks about building and transmitting the RF image. Sending half of the United Council delegates back to their home schools with colds certainly will do nothing for that image.

"Mother Hen"

To The Editor:

What is college supposed to do for a student? This is the question that I have been asking myself. Is the University to watch over the students like a "mother hen?" This seems to be true in my opinion. In the article headed "University Approved" the first paragraph stated, "Junior and Senior students under 21 years of age, as of September 1, 1968, may live in approved off-campus housing . . . A check is now in progress to insure that the students are following the guidelines." Isn't a college student of sound mind, able to take care of himself? Or is the University that "hard up" for money to insure payments of their dorms?

This situation, on housing, that some students are in, seems to be ridiculous. A college student should be able to take care of himself by the time he reaches the highest educational system.

In the article, "University Approved" the Voice stated, "While some unapproved housing is also substandard, it is the student's prerogative to accept or reject these conditions. If a student under 21 wishes to live off-campus, he is often forced to accept the "approved housing" sanctioned by the University whether or not it reaches a standard of comfort or liveability."

If you take a look at a majority of schools around the Midwest or even the nation for that matter, you will find that the students are able to live off-campus alot sooner than the students in this University. Is this University in a stage between high school and college? It seems to be evident that we are. The student is old enough to attend college but not old enough to be on our own.

I feel that the individual student should decide whether or not if he wants to live in off-campus housing or in the dormitory. This should not be up to the University. But it is, why?

Students wanted

Open letter to concerned students,

It is the purpose of the Student Foundation Committee to make the student body aware of the fact that college is really bigger than it appears. As each student strives to construct a foundation for life through obtaining an education, so also our university must construct a foundation that will give real meaning and significance to one's education.

Within this thought lies an objective. That is to interest the student body in not only looking for their individual foundation but also the university's foundation.

Throughout the year we attempt to stimulate general college interest by our major activities. Annually we have Foundation Week. During this week we put forth a major attempt to raise money for an addition to our campus. In the past the Committee contributed toward the score board at Ramer Field, the bleachers in Karges Center, the bronze Falcon on the front of Karges, the Wall Amphitheatre, the outdoor campus directory, as well as last year's project, the Kleinpell Carillon.

The entire committee would like to take this opportunity to encourage all students to seriously consider the real importance of its purposes and effect their fulfillment will have on future students.

Currently there are three freshmen and two sophomore positions open on the committee. If you are interested in serving on this worthwhile committee interviews will be held Thursday, Oct. 10 at 6:30 p.m. in room 200 of the Student Center.

Lollipop lights

Dear Editor:

While walking eagerly to my education class recently, I was shocked - nay, flabbergasted -- at the hostile presence that had intruded itself parallel to the new addition of the library. What was this vision of horror that had emblazoned itself upon my tortured retinae? Huge, ugly lollipops, my mind screamed - but when my senses had cleared I realized them for what they were - lights - elephantine, grotesque, lights - standing in a row of Prussian regularity, like invaders from another galaxy.

Certainly these monstrosities - which would be at home at the new end of campus - are an interloping anachronism on the old, but this is not the crux of my ire. Think, if you care, of all the hundreds of books the cost of those "things" could have provided. Ponder, if you dare, all of the additional personnel who could have been hired to open the library on Sundays with the funds from those bizarre mushrooms. Nothing, though, not even books and employees, stands in the way of modernization.

Dean discusses plans for new Fine Arts complex

Although plans for the new Fine Arts complex to be completed in 1972 are still being made, Dr. J.J. McLaughlin, Dean of Arts and Sciences, has definite ideas of what should be contained in the building.

The structure, containing the art, music, and speech departments, is to be located between the Davee Library and the dry run going north and south on the south side of Cascade Avenue. This would allow for expansion of the Fine Arts Center at a later date as well as permitting possible additions to the library.

A footbridge would be built across the dry run to give the students in the residence halls and those eating at Rodli Commons easy access to the building.

All totaled, the building would cover over an acre and a half or 57,597 square feet. So far, the University's request for 39,400 square feet has been approved by the Building Commissioner. The supplementary request for 18,190 feet has not been acted on yet.

The additional footage would allow the department's requested features to be included in the Fine Arts building.

Included in the art department would be an art gallery, private construction room, painting studio, drawing lab, design lab, general shop, graphic studio, ceramics lab, sculpturing lab, and 24 faculty offices as well as other rooms.

A 300 seat recital room would be included in the music department along with oral practice rooms, two ensemble rooms, a music listening room, a classical piano room, a research room, a listening lab and 18 faculty offices.

Included in the speech department will be a 300 seat theater house and a children's theater. An acting-directing classroom, scene shop, seven speech rooms, two hearing rooms and 18 faculty rooms will also be housed here.

These features will go in only if the additional request for 18,190 feet is approved.

Graven, Kenney, Iverson are the architects in charge of the plans.

Delta Theta Sigmas travel to convention

Members of Delta Theta Sigma (DTS) fraternity attended the DTS National Conclave at Pennsylvania State University to petition for installation as an active chapter of the National DTS fraternity.

The petition for the active chapter on the River Falls Campus was accepted unanimously.

Previously the local fraternity was operating under a colony status to the national fraternity. DTS is still, however, under the six month colony status required by the Greek Letter Council (GLC).

United Council presidents meet

WSU-River Falls was the host school this weekend for the first United Council (UC) President's Council of the 1968-69 school year.

At President's Council meetings, the student government presidents and UC directors from each of the nine state universities meet along with representatives to each of the four standing UC committees to outline the agendas for coming United Council General Assembly meetings.

This weekend, the representatives from the other eight conference schools traveled here to map the program for the UC general assembly meeting at Eau Claire on Nov. 1st and 2nd.

Besides the four standing committees, the student government presidents set up five discussion seminars for the Eau Claire meeting. They are seminars on freshman orientation, educational innovation, leadership retreats, campus election procedures and teacher evaluation.

Members of the president's group also came to a general agreement that there was a need for an appeal of Regent Eugene McPhee's interpretation of the Regent's "subversive groups" policy. McPhee's interpretation is generally that no University president shall recognize a Students for Democratic Society (SDS) chapter on their campus because such recognition is "contrary to board policy."

The presidents also formed an ad hoc committee to present alternatives for a possible restructuring of UC. Many of those present felt that voting and dues should be directly proportional to the size of the school.

A resolution was also adopted, directing UC president, Bob Rasmussen, a senior at WSU-RF, to travel to Oshkosh and offer to help set up a legally constituted student government, get it approved by the student body and in action as soon as possible.

The Oshkosh student government was disbanded last week by the executive board of that group because of internal problems.

Finally, the student presidents decided on meeting times and places for the rest of this school year's UC meetings. President's Council will meet again on Jan. 31 and Feb. 1 at Stevens Point to plan for a general assembly meeting at La Crosse on Feb. 21 and 22, and at Whitewater March 28 and 29 for a general assembly in Oshkosh on May 2 and 3.

The UC directors meeting discussed the responsibilities of a UC director on campus.

The four standing committees--legislative, constitution, finance and public relations--also met.

The legislative committee discussed the contents of an upcoming random survey of the students of the State University System. The survey will be conducted on all nine campuses to determine student opinion on current topics such as voting age and 18 year old beer.

The constitution committee discussed changing the name of United Council. The present official name of the organization is the United Council of Wisconsin State Student Governments. The constitution committee recommended a change to United Council for Student Governments of the Wisconsin State University System. The reason for the change would be to allow participation by the new branch campuses in the system.

The constitution committee also discussed ways of updating the UC constitution to meet the new budget.

The finance committee meeting produced two major actions. First, it recommended a number of internal changes in the $9,150 budget that the organization

Senate adopts resolution defending Hathorn girls

A resolution urging the Personnel department to reconsider moving about 30 women out of third east Hathorn Hall was passed unanimously by the Student Senate at its meeting last Wednesday.

Twenty-eight of the women from the floor attended the meeting to protest the Personnel department's "policy" decision to force the women to move from the floor into empty rooms scattered throughout the dormitory.

According to Daniel Parker, director of housing, the action was initiated by his office "to save money."

Ten of the women testified before the Senate that they had paid their room deposits early last summer and had been promised they could pick their own rooms.

The resolution passed by the Student Senate reads:

"Whereas, the Personnel Department has announced its decision to move thirty (30) women students out of third east Hathorn Hall as a 'matter of economics' and

"Whereas, such a move would cause undue hardship on these residents through the actual burden of moving and more important, the breaking up of close personal relationships, and

"Whereas, it is inconsistent and hypocritical for an institution which prides itself for having the 'personal touch' to completely disregard the well being of a group of students solely as an economy major.

"Be it therefore resolved, that the Student Senate strongly urge reconsideration of this measure by the Personnel Department and by the President of the University."

The resolution was delivered to President Field by Senate president, Chuck Feltes; student senators Jim Ochiltree and Rod Nilsestuen; and five of the women from Hathorn Hall. President Field told the group that he would look into the situation.

senators." The new secretary also said that she would like to see the "juniors and officers pull together, because there are several things to do as a class, including graduation next year."

"I was glad I missed the counting of the ballots," said Duane Roen, "because it was so close." The new senator said he was happy about the outcome. Roen plans to go into action soon on such things as a noon meal plan for commuters, hockey finances, and the initiation of a Free University system.

Senator Ellie Betz was also "very, very happy because so many people had faith in me." Her plans now include talking with students to find out what they want done on campus and to begin working with the Educational Improvement Committee and on the investigation of textbook rentals.

Candidates have until Wednesday to contest the election results. According to Dick Feldman, there are no signs yet on any candidate wishing to challenge the results.

will be working with this year. Second, it recommended that delegate fees for future United Council meetings should be raised to $7.50 per delegate to be paid to the host school. The fee was formerly $5.

The public relations agreed to a cut in their budget of over one-third. The committee decided that a brochure on the history of United Council was not the most effective way to publicize the groups existence. There was general agreement that publicity should be centralized on each campus rather than distributed to the schools from one school. The committee members discussed making up a slide series for each campus that would present the goals and accomplishments of UC as they related to that campus. They felt that a mailbox stuffing of materials was a waste of time and money.

Approximately 20 students from River Falls will be traveling to Eau Claire for the General Assembly meeting on Nov. 1st and 2nd.

Titans goal line stand lasts 8 straight plays

Titans torture RF, 26-14

Oshkosh remained undefeated in the Wisconsin State University Conference by defeating River Falls 26-14 at Oshkosh Saturday.

A pass interception by Tom Walczak with 1:43 left in the game iced the victory for the Titans. Walczak, a sophomore from Milwaukee, stole a Jerry Trooien pass and returned 60 yards to climax a brilliant defensive game by Oshkosh.

Minutes earlier, the Titan defense held River Falls on eight straight plays within the five yard line. With a first down and goal at the four, the Falcons tried unsuccessfully to move for the score. On fourth down at the six, a defensive interference call on Oshkosh moved the ball to the three yard line with an automatic first down.

The fired up Titan defense, backed by an enthusiastic crowd, dug in to halt the Falcons. Ed Gruenwald bulled his way to the one yard line, but Trooien was stopped for no gain on a quarterback sneak. Fullback John O'Neill was also stopped for no gain and with fourth down on the one, Trooien was thrown for a three yard loss.

River Falls kicked to start the game and neither team could get a drive going until Oshkosh moved deep into River Falls' territory. Brian Burbey rushed twice for three yards and an incompleated pass resulted in a fourth and seven situation. With 8:06 left in the first period an attempted field goal fell short.

The next time Oshkosh gained possession, they ran for their first score. Carl Alberti rushed three times for 35 yards and with 5:11 left in the quarter Ron Cardo scampered 39 yards. The kick by Dennis Richards was good for a 7-0 score. Christensen's Crew, on their own 37, moved 63 yards to tie the game. The Falcons ate up yardage on the ground before Trooien hit Gruenwald with a 31 yarder with :48 left. Cahalan's kick was good for a 7-7 deadlock.

After the kick, John Egan, junior guard from New London, recovered a Titan fumble on the first play.

At the Oshkosh 24, Trooien again hit Gruenwald for the touchdown with 31 seconds showing on the clock. Cahalan's point-after was perfect and RF took a 14-7 lead.

During the first series of the second quarter, Oshkosh narrowed the gap to 14-13. After a 48 yard pass to Dwight Anderson and a 10 yarder to Carey Venne, quarterback Jim Goeckerman scored from the five.

Oshkosh almost scored again on a 30 yard pass but the TD was nullified by an illegal procedure penalty. The Titans did score before the half however, on a four inch sneak by Goeckerman. The score climaxed a 75 yard drive and came with 1:39 left in the half.

The third quarter proved to be a defensive battle as neither team scored. During the period, Brian Kreibich intercepted a pass in the end zone and Mike Jensen recovered a fumble, but both were in vain.

It was all River Falls in the final stanza. Tom Carroll intercepted on the Oshkosh 29 with 14:22 left to give River Falls good field position. The great Titan goal line stand followed.

Falcon Freshmen scalp Indians

The River Falls freshmen football team outlasted LaCrosse 12-7 at LaCrosse on Thursday, Oct. 3.

Dave Baker, a graduate of Cochran-Fountain City High School, ran up the middle for 60 yards on River Falls' first offensive play of the game.

The Indian lone touchdown was scored by Chuck Jorgenson on a six yard pass from Hank Falk. The score climaxed a long drive by LaCrosse who had the ball most of the third quarter.

With five minutes left in the game, River Falls ate up yardage and move for the deciding score. Tim Murphey caught two passes during the march, which placed the ball on the LaCrosse 35. On second down Durand freshman Steve Larson caught the 35 yard aerial from Jim Carow. Quarterback Carow is a product from New Richmond, Wis.

Coach Don Page was pleased with the young Falcons. "We thought we were stronger defensively than offensively and this proved true. When we needed the score, the offense pulled through."

The next freshman game is against Stout this Friday, Oct. 11 at 3:00. The game will be played at Menomonie.

Defense is the name of the game and it sure proved it at Oshkosh. The Titans staged what will probably be the greatest goal line stand this year. With River Falls within the five yard line, we were unable to score in eight attempts.

The defense was really fired up and with the backing of the enthusiastic crowd, the Titans turned in an outstanding performance. Both defensive units did their job. Oshkosh intercepted two passes and recovered one fumble. One interception came with 1:43 left in the game when Tom Walczak ran 60 yards with the steal.

The Falcons intercepted two passes and recovered two fumbles. John Egan recovered one loose ball to set up our second touchdown and Mike Jensen recovered the other.

Brian Kreibich intercepted the first one in the endzone to halt an Oshkosh drive and Tom Carroll intercepted and the other deep in Titan territory.

Ed Gruenwald has been selected as the Overall Player-of-the-Week. Gruenwald is a sophomore from Random Lake. He rushed 18 times for 68 yards and caught four passes for 87 yards. Ed scored on 31 and 24 yard pass plays from Jerry Trooien.

Trooien was 15 for 32 for 260 yards and two touchdowns. He was thrown for yardage lost seven times for a total of 48 yards.

Bob Schultz is this weeks Offensive Player-of-the-Week for his fine work in the line. Gary Ludvigson was selected Defensive-Player-of-the-Week. He almost intercepted a pass could have been turned into a TD. Noon was between him and the goal, but the pass squirmed free. Ludvigson turned in seven solo tackles and had two assists.

Jim Kiesow turned in his usual brilliant performance. Playing against his former teammates, Kiesow collected 16 tackles and three assists. Jim played football in the afternoon and was married Saturday night--thats loyalty!

The freshmen beat LaCrosse 12-7 with a good defense. They play at Stout Friday.

There is a lot of talent on the frosh squad. Well the Packers won bit yesterday. Eat your heart out Don Riley.

Harv's Fearless Forecast wasn't too far off this week. I picked Platteville over Stout by 15 and Platteville won 19-7. I predicted Point over Eau Claire 13-7. The score was 14-7; not bad huh!

I wonder what happened to Whitewater. Whitewater won 42-40, and Superior had the Warhawks down 14-0 at one time. Maybe I should ask, what happened to Superior? I picked the Warhawks by an easy 28 points.

I also predicted River Falls over Oshkosh by two points. If the Falcons had scored during the goal line stand, the score would have been 21-19 River Falls and I believe we would have held them.

The game-of-the-week will have to be Platteville at Oshkosh. It is time for Oshkosh to lose, so I'll take the Pioneers by four, 24-20.

It is the Pointers' Homecoming as they host Superior. I feel Superior lucked out at Whitewater and will go down to defeat, 27-14.

LaCrosse hosts Stout for their Homecoming. I'll take LaCrosse 20-13 over the Bluedevils.

It is about time for the Falcons to go on a scoring rampage. Eau Claire sounds like a good place to start. Big Red over the Bluegolds 35-7.

There it is folks, read 'em and weep.

Seven teams undefeated in flag football

by Tom Alex

In flag football action this week seven teams remain undefeated.

In the Northern League, Phi Sigma Epsilon rolled to two lopsided victories, both on shutouts while the Record Breakers accomplished the same feat. The C.H.'s have won their first two games with a 12-6 victory over the Newman Club and a 25-7 thumping of Theta Chi. The T.C.'s have an unblemished record with a win over Prucha #1 19-6.

The Phi Sigs scored seven touchdowns on 12 offensive plays while defeating 3rd Johnson 49-0. A safety was also registered against Johnson. Scoring for the Phi Sigs was Pete Palmer, Greg Miller (2), George Voss, Dave Olson, Bryon Ogilvie and Duanne Wisse. Bill Nelson was credited with the safety.

Mike Hetzel led the T.C.'s attack against Prucha #1 scoring two touchdowns. The other score came on a run by Stu Peterson.

In the Southern League three teams have 2-0 records. Defending intramural champions, Gremlins (Phi Nu Chi) defeated D.T.S. 20-0 and the Scorpions 20-12. Gary Bastian and Bob Jacobson led the Gremlins by scoring the majority of points.

AGR and Sig Tau are also deadlocked with the Gremlins for top position.

AGR defeated the Bluedevils 12-6 and shut out D.T.S. 13-0. Sig Tau edged Prucha #2 15-6 and outlasted the Bluedevils 19-12.

Forfeits trouble WRA volleyball

The second round of Women's Recreation Association (WRA) intramural volleyball competition has ended on a disappointing note. Temporary sporthead Jean Marx has indicated that there appears to be a growing lack of interest on the part of the various team members. The number of match forfeits has increased since the start of competition. While the increase is not serious it does reflect a problem.

The executive committee of the WRA is currently discussing a proposal to allow all members of the organization to vote on policy. The creation of a veto board, with members from the executive committee sitting on the board, rounds out the proposal. It is hoped that when the women have a chance to govern WRA, their interest in its affairs will increase also.

The team to beat this week is the commuter entry number seven, captioned by Vonnie Peirce. Her squad has a 3-0 record. This is the way competition shaped up after the second round:

Peirce - commuter	3	0
Goeltz - Hathorn	3	0
Ryan - McMillan	2	1

Bowling leagues organized

The intramural bowling league is now being organized for this academic year. The night of bowling will be Wednesday for those who qualify for the Falcon league and Thursday night for those who qualify for the Feather league. Roll offs will determine the league in which you will bowl. A tentative date for these roll offs is October 23 and 24.

This year the teams will be sanctioned by the ABC. An entry fee of $4 per team (four member teams) will be required, also $1 extra for each substitute on your team. There will be an additional $4 required per team to back up any team absences on their scheduled night. The money will be refunded at the end of the year at a pro rata absentee basis.

Each regular bowler must pay $1 per night whether he bowls or not, unless a substitute bowls for him. Then the substitute must pay. An additional 10¢ will be charged if shoes are rented.

This year's league will again be a handicap league. Substitutes as well as regulars will hold handicaps. A member's handicap will be determined after he bowls his first three games.

Each team should consist of four (4) regular bowlers and at least two (2) substitutes. Each team should elect a captain. The captain will be notified as to when his team will start league. The team captain is responsible for the attendance of his team members at their scheduled match.

Fraternity league

The fraternity bowling league is also being organized for this academic year. The bowling night will again be Tuesday night. This year we are limiting the fraternities to two teams per fraternity. League will begin at 6:30 P. M. with additional shifts starting at 8:30 and 10:30 P.M. Teams will again contain four members who will be considered regulars. Each fraternity should submit a list of substitutes so that a regular bowler who cannot make it some night will be able to get another to keep the team at full strength. Each regular bowler must pay $1 a night whether he bowls or not (unless he gets a substitute, who then must pay). The fees are the same as in the Intramural League.

Girl's league

This year's Girls Bowling League will be on Monday nights starting October 21 and ending in March. There will be two shifts, one at 6:30 p.m. and one at 8:30 p.m.

This year the league will be sanctioned by the WIBC Membership fee for the WIBC will be $1 for every bowler, including substitutes. Each team will be asked to put $3 ($1 per regular member) in a fund. This will be used to pay for the bowling should the team be short a member of absent altogether. The following week the missing member (or members) will be asked to replenish the fund for future use. The $1 each member has in the fund at all times will be returned at the end of the season.

This league will again be a handicap league. Each team will consist of three regular bowlers and at least two substitutes.

Each team should have a captain. The captain will be notified when the league will start. The team captain is responsible for the attendance of her team at their scheduled match.

Red Pin bowling

Red pin bowling will be extended this year. The special will begin at 1 p.m. Friday afternoons and run through Sunday night.

Also extended is $1 bowling. You can bowl three games for $1 from Friday noon until Sunday night.

NIC conference champs, Mankato State of Minnesota, defeated River Falls 15-50 in a dual cross country meet at Mankato. The perennial champs, for the last six years, captured the first seven spots. Leading the way for Mankato was Dave Jones, a former state champ, who covered the four mile course in the time of 20:38. Junior Larry Rud paced the Falcons with a time of 23:55, good for 8th place, followed by Greg Zwadlo 9th at 24:15 and Radies 10th at 24:38.

The harriers then traveled to St. Paul, where they were hosted by Bethel. Trying to rebound from their Mankato defeat, the Falcons were turned back by Bethel 23-33. Bethel runner Bill Geigert, toured the hilly 3.5 mile Como Park course in 19:07. Freshman Larry Rud continued his fine running with a 4th place, only eleven seconds behind the winner, followed by Radies 5th at 19:18, Zwadlo 6th and Anderson 7th.

Finishing up a busy week, the Falcons met Whitewater and Stout in a triangular at Menomonie. As expected, the Warhawks led by All-American Tom Hoffman, won the meet, which was scored with a newly inducted system.

The final results were as follows: Whitewater 15-River Falls 48, Whitewater 15-Stout 49, and River Falls 24-Stout 32. Hoffman toured the 3.6 mile course in the outstanding time of 17:43, with his Whitewater teammates taking second through sixth places. Falcon runners Greg Zwadlo and Ron Radies battled for 8th place, with Zwadlo winning by a second, in 19:37. Larry Rud, Darrel Anderson and Tom Cook placed 10th, 11th and 12th respectively.

Under this new system, a team is compared separately against each opposing team in the meet. Whereas in the past, the teams competing in a meet were ranked first, second, third and so on. According to River Falls Coach Rial Smith, the new system will help in determining the new conference champion. This season for the first time, each school in the conference will compete against all conference members before the conference meet at LaCrosse. Points gained in the pre-conference meets will be added to those earned in the conference meet, from which a champ will be crowned.

Smith said that the system was instituted to give cross country followers a better idea of how the conference teams rated in comparison to each other. Ratings will be published within a week. As of now, Coach Smith feels that LaCrosse with its fine depth, should be the favorite, with Whitewater and defending champion Oshkosh also looking for a piece of the action.

After running in four meets within seven days, the Falcons will get a much needed rest, before their meet Saturday at Winona State, which also includes Eau Claire State. At the moment the harriers have four wins and five losses, and hope to get over the .500 mark by defeating Winona, and avenging an earlier two point defeat to the Eau Claire Blugolds.
