Cackling Hens to Monopolize Campus Life

Barnyard Chorus to be Part of Annual Poultry Show Features Next Week

Many Entries Coming

The cackling of hens, crowing of roosters, and quacking of ducks will reverberate through the barracks (not North hall) next Thursday and Friday, November 19-20, as each individual bird tries to prove his superiority over his fellows.

At that time, exhibitors from this section of the country will rub shoulders with their friends and neighbors as they enter their poultry and produce in the eleventh annual Poultry and Grain show which will be held on the campus of the River Falls college.

The barracks will be filled to its capacity with the finest specimens of poultry, grain, and potatoes that this section produces. Exhibitors will crowd the passage ways, as judging progresses, in order that they may learn to select better types.

The program includes;---

Speeches by Miss Salter, of the University of Wisconsin, H. G. Seyforth, county agent of Pierce county and Glen Lyan, county agent of St. Croix county are included on the rural school program.

Demonstrations by Lyle Lampshire's state champion judging team, music by the college band and singers will entertain the rural school visitors.

The unavoidable commotion, necessitated by the making of entries, will prevail during the morning hours on Thursday, as exhibitors bring in their chickens, ducks, turkeys, and geese in all sorts of containers. Crates and boxes of all kinds will obstruct the alleys and fortunate, indeed, will be the attendant who does not have to nurse a sore shin over the week-end.

All Varieties Present
Perhaps a woman will come in, carrying a much beloved fowl. Her very action will betray her pride and confidence in the winning qualities of her pet, as she looks scornfully over some of the other entries. Finally an attendant will approach and put her pet in the proper place, leaving her free to speculate and worry over the probable decision.

By noon the commotion will subside and all exhibits will be in their proper places. Judging will proceed as rapidly as possible. The exhibits will be open to the public both Thursday and Friday.

J. M. May, director of agriculture, has made extensive plans for a successful show, and solicits the co-operation of all exhibitors in the realization of those aims.

Lutheran Y.P.S. to Hold Social Wednesday Eve

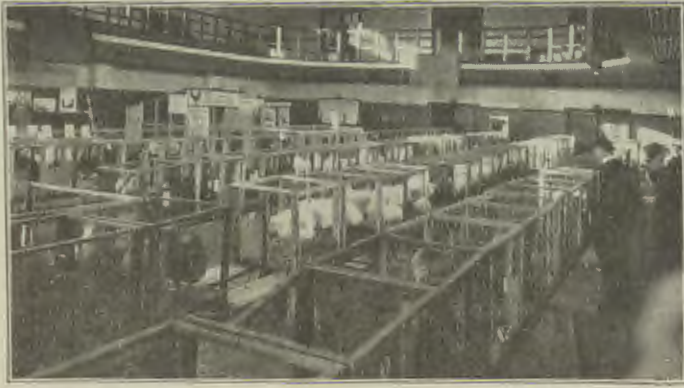

The Lutheran Young People's Society will hold their second meeting of the school year on Wednesday, November 11, at 8:00 p. m. This was announced by Rudolph Christianson, the president of the society.

A short program has been arranged and games will be part of the entertainment. A cordial invitation is extended to all high school and college students by the president.

Y. W. C. A. Plans Future Program; Pledges Signed

The Y. W. C. A. will have a supper meeting Tuesday, November 10, at 6:00 o'clock. After the social hour, which is in charge of Bernice Smith, the members will meet in their committees to discuss plans for the coming weeks. Pledges were signed last week: Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday. Those collecting were: Floyce Newell, Dorothy Mather, Eunice Kanne, Audrey Jackman, Marie Johnson, Hilda Strand, Nina Jorstad, Elsie Ashbrenner, Gladys Bengston, and Romelle Wallin.

South Hall to Have Ventilator

Milwaukee Firm Awarded Contract; Geere Installs a Radio in Music Room

South Hall where most of the academic courses are perused will be the scene of even more varied and abundant activity when Mr. Geere's radio is a-humming and when workmen begin on a new ventilating system planned for the building.

The building, being about thirty years old and having had some recent room remodeling, is without a ventilating system that operates successfully. This condition will soon be remedied, however, as state engineers have been here to give the project the "once over"; and the contract has already been let to the Downing Heating Company of Milwaukee.

With this new feature added to South Hall there will be little excuse for History-English students to complain about the poor air in class rooms.

College Quartette Gives Concert

The college quartette, composed of Margaret Kelley, Dorothy Swenson, Aileen Finstad, and Gretchen Grimm, gave a program in Hudson last Tuesday afternoon. They were accompanied by Christi Njos.

College Senior Has Serious Accident

Martin McAndrew, senior English student from Ellsworth, met with a serious accident at his home in Ellsworth after returning from a hunting trip Sunday afternoon.

Martin was ascending the stairs at his rooming house with a small rifle in his hands. The gun accidentally was discharged and the bullet entered his body near the heart.

He was rushed to the Ellsworth hospital. No reports have been received as to his condition, but it is believed to be very serious.

New Students Join Masquers

Will Meet With College Drama Society First Time on Thursday

New Masquers members will meet with old members Thursday evening as the result of tryouts completed last week. A play will be announced soon, it is said.

Education Week

The Challenge of a Great Ideal

WE CELEBRATE Christmas because it gave us a great religion. We observe the Fourth of July because it gave us a free nation. We magnify the schools during one week each year because through them we develop the finer values of our civilization. American Education Week is a permanent institution. The effort to make the observance of such a week world-wide should be encouraged. Religion, politics, and commerce may divide, but love of childhood expressed in education is a mighty force for unity. What greater contribution could America make to the world than the ideal—a fair start in life for every boy and girl? In the name of this ideal, let every teacher make careful plans for American Education Week and aid in its full and fitting observance.

Practice Schools to be Added

Arrangements have been made for three more practice schools. This will make a total of five. Three of the schools are in St. Croix county and two are in Pierce county.

Scandinavian Bells to Ring at Monday Assembly

The "musical sensation of the time" will appear at assembly next Monday, November 16, at 9:50 in the form of the Scandinavian Bell Ringers. They are playing the largest collection of musical bells in the world, according to their advance agent. This presentation is their last appearance in a concert on their farewell tour.

This special feature is on a stop-off date and will be paid for by a collection from the audience. The bucket will be passed; bring a y-thing from 10 cents to 25 cents, says the committee.

This will be the last American tour made by this company. They are leaving on the S. S. Mauretania on May 25, 1932 for an excursion to Scandinavia via Paris and Berlin.

Falcons to Face Northland in Charity Game

Team Will Try to Make Game Saturday Another Victory for Falcons

Arrangements for a charity game with Northland college at Ashland were completed yesterday, according to Coach Carl Klandrud.

The game will bring out a large attendance, fans believe, because of the tough, scoreless tussle at Ramer Field last Saturday. Because the teams were evenly matched and strong in both offense and defense, neither eleven was able to score here last week. Both teams will try to break the tie in next Saturdays tilt at Ashland.

River Falls will get 60 per cent of the proceeds. This amount will go toward a local charity fund, says Coach Klandrud.

A large delegation will accompany the team to Ashland, it is believed.

Students Plan Hikes, Parties, Fun Today

Students will not let Armistice Day pass without its good times. The half holiday will be filled to capacity with a variety of entertainment it is reported. Although students did not consider a "sunlight dance" for the afternoon, they have planned parties, picnics, and hikes for their few hours holiday. College Hall has thought of having friends in for dinner. Other student groups will get out into the valleys around the city. Some will go to shows; others will use the day for profitable study at home. It is reported that faculty members will also dine and enjoy the brief vacation among friends.

Legionnaires to Take Lead in Next Assembly

Armistice Day Program to be Presented to Students Here Wednesday

Holiday to be Kept

Thirteen years after the signing of the Armistice, the legislators of Wisconsin have come to realize the significance of Armistice day and as a result the people of the state will observe it as a legal holiday for the first time this week.

Assembly at 9:50

The assembly for Wednesday will be given over to the local post of the American Legion, who have arranged a program in observance of Armistice Day. The public is most cordially invited to this program, which will be held in the College Auditorium at 9:50 a. m. A like program is to be given

Although the 1931 legislature made Armistice day a legal holiday, school must be held at least part of the day, Samuel Bryan, assistant attorney general, says.

Mr. Bryan rendered the opinion to O. H. Pienzke, assistant superintendent of public instruction.

The legislature is to blame for this situation, the ruling revealed, because in passing a bill to make Nov. 11 a legal holiday, it failed to amend another law which requires Armistice day and Washington's birthday, also a legal holiday, to be observed with exercises at the schools on those days.

It is therefore presumed that schools must convene throughout the state and hold Armistice day programs before classes can be dismissed.

Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 p. m. at the high school. At both schools, the Legion, will present to the libraries a very attractive volume of "My Flag and Yours" which is a complete and authentic history of the flag of the United States. The schools will also be presented with the flag code, both of which are valuable additions to the local College and high school libraries. John Callahan, state superintendent, has placed this book upon the Wisconsin school library list and recommended that it be placed in every school in Wisconsin.

No Classes in Afternoon

In observing Armistice Day as a legal holiday, no classes will meet on Wednesday afternoon. This is the first time classrooms have been closed for half a day in observance of the signing of the armistice.

Newell Sisters Give Program at G. O. P.

The G. O. P. held its monthly meeting last Thursday at seven o'clock in the social room with Gretchen Grimm as chairman.

Business matters were discussed followed by a program given by the Newell sisters. The girls were accompanied by a white cat which made its appearance while they were revealing their musical talent.

AgriFallian Society Plans Program for Thursday

The AgriFallian society will hold its bi-monthly meeting Thursday evening in the Men's Union.

Final plans for the poultry show will be discussed. A program of music, readings, comic questionnaires and speeches is planned.

Albert Hannemann is program chairman. Erlin Bergeman, Philip Newman and Raymond Wall are also on the program committee.

Students! Notice!

Proofs of photographs for the Meletean should be returned to the studio three days after they have been received, with the one marked which you wish finished for the annual.

Jane Dudley Tells Student Voice Reporters of Visits Abroad; Has Very Interesting Background; Attended Teachers College

A trim, neatly dressed girl from Madison playing a rare, old violin captivated the students of the college last week when she presented a varied group of light and well known solos with perfect poise, technique and tone quality.

She was Miss Jane Dudley, accomplished violinist, who is teaching at Carroll college and giving concerts in various schools and colleges.

Has Entertained Students
Miss Dudley has played before a great many student bodies and knows the type of music most appreciated by them. She is intimately acquainted with teachers' colleges, having attended Platteville Teachers' college where her father once acted as an instructor.

Father at Yale

When mention was made of the fact that her father had invented a type of reflector lantern used in the movies, she modestly replied that she guessed he had invented some kind of a lantern or other but she was too small to remember, although she had seen one or two around somewhere.

Her father had charge of the division of movie and lantern slides at the University of Wisconsin and is now at Yale.

Her accompanist, Miss Olson, is an instructor in the Wisconsin School of Music at Madison. She gave Miss Dudley excellent support in her presentation.

Selections played were: The Old Re-frain, Kreisler; From the Canabrake, Samuel Gardner; Jota, de Falla; Tango-Albeniz, Kreisler; Frasnquita, Kreisler; Old Bruin, Fairy Sailing, Hills, and Indian Snake Dance, Cecil Burleigh; Sonato 3 4 Movements, Handel; Minuet in G, Beethoven; Meditation from "Thais", Massenet; Concerto-Last Movement, Wieniawski.

Visits India

Miss Dudley and her regular accompanist, Miss Otterson, were in India last year, spending most of their time in Calcutta and Bombay. While in Calcutta, she saw a first-class riot. The occasion was Ghandi's liberation. Any form of demonstration was forbidden, but it developed anyway.

A foreboding settled upon the people; all white and high class women were hustled off the street, and the rest of the people indulged in stone throwing and other forms of rioting to their hearts content.

Audience Appreciative

Miss Dudley says that these people are very appreciative of good music. They can have little of it. The victoria is about the only instrument that will withstand the heat and dampness of the climate. Glue melts and seams spread in instruments like the violin.

Piano strings rust and must be tuned lower because of the dampness. Miss Dudley says if she goes there again she will not take her best violin.

Miss Dudley is a very interesting person as well as an accomplished musician.

Education Specialization Partly to Blame

The intensive specialization of education is partly to blame for the present breakdown of political, social, and economic leadership, Dr. Glenn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin, told state teachers attending the annual convention of the Wisconsin Teachers' Association in Milwaukee recently.

Expressing his belief that the political dilemma and the economic disruption that beset the life alike of Europe and of the United States cannot be explained by any uncontrollable factors in the natural environment or by any shortage of material essential in the economic life of the West, Pres. Frank asserted that "although it pains me as a schoolman to admit it, I cannot but believe that Western education must share the blame for this breakdown of political, social and economic leadership."

That we are reaping the Dead Sea fruits of an era of over-specialization in Western education, and that these fruits are now painfully evident in a generation of leaders whose fingers have all proved thumbs in the moulding of those general policies of political, social, and economic organization which, in the end, make or break the separate enterprises of men, was expressed by Dr. Frank, who pointed out that Western education has been superbly successful in training Western man for the technical execution of his separate enterprises. But it has tragically failed to fit him for realistic statesmanship in the ground-plan and governance of his social order.

"I am convinced that, unless Western man effects a radical reorientation of the program and processes of his education, the forces of social and economic renewal will stand a discouragingly slight chance of coming to ascendance quickly enough to check the decline of the West and give stability and significance to its social order," Dr. Frank said.

I believe in the perpetual regeneration of society, and in the immortality of democracy and in growth everlasting. - Walter Hines Page

What College Has to Offer

IT TEACHES ONE—

THE ART OF BEHAVIOR BEFORE GOD—the power of self-knowledge, self-control through responsiveness to motives, values and ideals that find their deepest and only enduring sanction in profound and fully realized religious convictions.

THE ART OF BEHAVIOR IN SOCIETY—social success through the power of personality and social charm.

THE ART OF EXPRESSION—the mastery of the mother tongue, the spell of the written and spoken word.

THE ART OF REASONING—a sound philosophy that can answer the supreme questions of whence we come and whither we go and knows the bearing of these questions on the burning social issues of the hour.

THE ART OF HISTORICAL REALIZATION—the power to realize—the power to feel the force of every fact of the intellectual glories of the cultural tradition of civilized man.

THE ART OF LEISURE—its utilization and enjoyment in later life, the development of a cultural interest that outlasts college life.

THE ART OF MAKING A LIVING—providing every graduate with the power, when need arises, of self-support, through the acquisition of a specialized technique enabling the graduate to become independent and self-supporting.

Culture is "To know the best that has been said and thought in the world". - Matthew Arnold

One of the Results of the Season

Football fans are apt to forget the more significant results of a football season. They think in terms of scores, of games won, of yardage gained, of upsets, and of championships.

But the total of these concrete facts will not measure up to the new level of friendships and relationships that are further cemented through contacts between colleges.

The biggest thing a student can say about competitors is that they were good sports, that they were cordial, that they considered themselves hosts during the visit of an opponent at their camp.

This was especially true at Milwaukee. It was true at Eau Claire. It has been true in the past. It will be true in the future, for students have learned the meaning of the word Courtesy.

Education is the only interest worthy of the deep, controlling anxiety of the thoughtful man. Wendell Phillips

College Papers Used for Publicity

Weekly and daily community papers are not the only prey of high-powered publicity agents these days.

Every week editors of college papers fill half a basket with materials sent from magazine editors, syndicates, cigarette advertising agencies, health organizations, orphanages, and colleges seeking financial aid, not to mention the small publicity seeker.

Students are a good source for subscriptions. Student preference is as important in the sale of cigarettes and candy as any other person's preference. Student dimes can help national charity as much as they can help school benefits. So publicity comes rolling in. Then we ditch it.

Student Opinion

Budget tickets at the local college are too high. If the University of Wisconsin can admit students to all games during the year for $7.50, why should River Falls college students pay $9.00.

The coeds of the University of Southern California pay for part of their dates according to the appearance and conduct of their escorts. This certainly would be popular and good training for the men of any college. L. A.

Judging from the crowds at the shows and other places of entertainment, times aren't so hard. L. A.

After careful observation, many students find that the halls of South Hall are more quiet places to study than the library. L. A.

Too many students observe the school "Valentine" day in a humorous manner. This applies to upper classmen more than the Freshmen. L. A.

The large attendance in school this year is not a sign of prosperity but the sign of good judgment on the part of those who are out of a job. L. A.

Hallowe'en passed without any serious misdemeanors being perpetrated in the city of River Falls. This speaks well for the moral character of the young men in this community.

Miss Jane Dudley, the artist who entertained with a musical program at Thursday's assembly remarked that the audience here at college was the most appreciative of any she had had for some time. In this same connection, a report from the office admits that the student body this year is remarkable in industry, behavior, and in just plain co-operative spirit.

Now if this is going to help some one ride henceforth on the reputation of the group, don't believe a word of it; otherwise, accept it and let it mildly accent your good intentions for the future.

Don't fail to avail yourself of the opportunity to rub elbows with men of authority on our campus. Horace Merrill says that certain authorities agree with him on opinions concerning the trend of the disarmament conference.

The Y. M. C. A. received a pat on the back when Mr. Geere told the girls in mixed chorus to begin attending the "Y" if they couldn't get enthusiastic about the song "Pilgrim's Chorus."

What a man! What a man!
The young man of about forty summers and perhaps a few more. The man with the derby. The man who walked up and down the side lines at the Northland game waving a roll of "ones" trying to induce a group of college students to wager on the outcome of the game. Yes sir! Some boy!

Well, old boys will be old boys!

New Books Worth Reading

EFFECTIVE STUDY HABITS

By Charles Bird

(Associate Professor of Psychology, University of Minnesota)

By James I. Malott

Effective Study Habits is one of the late professional books to be placed on our library shelves. It is one of the best books dealing with habits and the methods of study that has lately come from the press.

The chapter on "How to Plan College Activities" is an excellent discussion of the planning of the student's time and is a workable scheme. The chapter on "How to Study Intelligently" is just what its title says and is worth careful study by every college student, as are also the chapters dealing with "How to Make Useful Notes" and "How to Write Examinations, Themes, and Term Papers."

This little volume of 245 pages is full of helpfulness for any college student and is especially worthwhile to those beginning a college career. Read it carefully and it will pay big returns in better habits and time saved.

Falcons Hold Northland to a Scoreless Tie

Both Teams Are Halted in Marches to Goal; Aerial Attack Effective

The shifty and aggressive Northland eleven held the Falcon gridmen to a scoreless tie before a large crowd of northern followers and local fans here Saturday. Both teams were in scoring position at times but failed in their attempts to cross the goal line.

Visitors Make Gains

The strongest attempt at a touchdown was made by the visitors in the second period. By a steady smashes, they reached the Falcon 20-yard line from their own 25-yard line. Their momentum kept them going, but on several dives for the goal line, their efforts came to naught as they faced the Falcon defense. With two yards to go in the fourth down, the half ended with no scores made.

Try Field Goal

In the fourth quarter the north-erners tried a goal kick in their desperate efforts to score, but the kick went wide. The ball then went to the Falcons. They attempted several line plays and then punted. Northland was held on downs, and the local squad then open up an aerial attack. McChesney received War-wick's pass for a good gain. The remainder of the game was played in the visitor's territory, and the final whistle ended the Falcon march to the goal line.

Clean Playing

The secondaries on both teams played clean, good football. For each pass received, two were knocked down. The Falls forward wall stiffened in the pinches, although the Ash-land made three downs more. Cap-tain Gerhardt and Warwick starred for the Falcons, and Schibsted and Johnston were the outstanding vis-itors.

Former Grid Stars Turn Professional

Seven of our former college grid stars hold strong positions on the Hudson city football team this year. They are: Arnie Larson, Franklin Standish, Truman Glass, John Ham-mer, John Schlicht, Leo Krueger, and Captain Olaf Jensen. This team has the record of not having their goal line crossed as yet this year.

Scores of Past Games

The team has played five games this season. It has won four and tied one. In the first game they beat the Bayport eleven by a score of 13 to 0. In a return game with the same team they again won with a score of 20 to 0. Somerset next bowed to the aggre-gation with a score of 32 to 0, and Rice Lake followed the next week in a defeat to the tune of 20 to 0.

Holds Powerful City Team

Last Sunday the Hudson team held the Ace Box Lunch team from the cities to a scoreless tie, and still maintained their record. The next game will probably be with the Chippewa Marines, who are champ-ions of their district. "Winkie" Claf-in and Clarence Alfonse are the the stars on the Marine squad.

Frosh Finish Season With 13 to 6 Defeat

Falter Before Fierce Attack of Varsity Reserve in 13 to 6 Scrimmage Game

The Frosh took their first beating of the season by a picked team of reserves, by a 13 to 6 score. The touchdowns were scored by Oltman and Pederson of the reserves and Godfrey of the Frosh.

The first half ended 0 to 0 with the Frosh having the greater number of first downs to their credit, by virtue of the many off-side penalties called on the reserves.

Frosh Score First

Early in the third quarter Brickner slid off tackle for 45 yards putting the ball on the seven yard line, when an off-side penalty on the reserves put the ball on the two yard line. Godfrey then scored on an off tackle play and also kicked goal. On the first play after the kick-off Oltman ran 60 yards for a touchdown for the reserves. Simpson missed the kick.

The fourth quarter opened with a series of line plays by the reserves which carried the ball to the 20 yard line. On the next play Pederson crossed the goal line. Woodward kicked the goal.

Yearlings Make Showing

The game ended with a score indic-ating a victory for the picked team of reserves, but it was a moral victory for the Frosh, supporters say.

W. A. A. Holds Hockey Tourney

The girls hockey tournament has been in full swing during the past week, and the following games have been played: on Tuesday, November 3, the Falcons played Notre Dame, and Notre Dame played Oxford; on Thursday, the Falcons played Oxford and Notre Dame. At the conclusion of the first series of games the team standing is as follows:

Team	Played	W	L	Ptc.
Falcons	3	2	1	666
Oxford	2	1	1	500
Notre Dame	3	1	2	333

The Falcons, true to the fighting reputation of River Falls, are in the lead. The result of the finals on Tuesday, November 10, when the Ox-ford team meets Notre Dame and the Falcons, will decide the winner.

The first organized hike of the month was held last Wednesday. The club left South Hall at four o'clock and hiked to the Mound, where an outdoor supper was enjoyed. W. A. A. plans to have such a hike once each

The November W. A. A. meeting was held last Thursday at 4 o'clock. At that time the group was divided into seven committees; and a race, between the committees, to see which group can earn the most money, was begun. Several candy sales are planned for the near future, and other novelties will be introduced as the competition increases. Each group is also responsible for the entertain-ment at one of the monthly meetings of the club.

Dagmar Pederson, soccer manager, urges all girls interested in the game to report for practice on Thursday of this week. All coeds are eligible regardless of whether they are W. A. A. members. Instruction will be given in the rules of soccer, during the first week or two; so no hesitancy need be felt because of ignorance of the game. Several teams will be or-ganized and a tournament, similar to the hockey series just finished, is planned.

Remember! Practice on Thursday and Tuesdays of each week at four o'clock. All girls eligible.

Disarmament Discussed at "Y" Meeting

Students Study History of Movement From Start to Present Time

The large attendance at the joint session of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. last Tuesday night is a strong indication of the interest that the students are taking in world disarmament and means of creating intense feeling against war.

Idea Not New

The features of the program, announced by Morris Buske, were talks on the peace movement by Lucille Garley and Horace Merrill. Miss Garley traced the history of the peace movement from the fourteenth century to the Disarmament Conference to be held next February at Geneva, Switzerland. She showed that many ideas brought out in recent conferences are not new, because they had been presented a hundred or several hundred years ago and had not been acted on. She made evident the need for a codification of international law and for the creation of an international police force.

Many Features Given

Horace gave us reasons why much should be expected from this meeting in February. He showed that the situation of Germany under the Versailles Treaty, the disarmament agreements of which other nations are not living up to, would cause the nations to do some drastic disarming or cause the whole peace movement to take on a warlike attitude and probably fall to pieces.

Other features of the program were: violin solo by Phyllis Glass with Helen Glass at the piano; two quartette numbers by the "Y" quartette; a reading by Wallace Clapp, and a tableaux "War and Peace" by college and training school students.

Oh, Doc!

"Quick, doctor—do something! I was playing a mouth organ and I swallowed it!"

"Calm yourself young man, be thankful you were not playing the piano."

College Briefs

Carl Anderson, principal of schools at Maiden Rock was operated on for appendicitis last Wednesday. Blake Phillips of River Falls is substituting for him at the present time.

A representative of the Eastman Kodak Company gave a demonstration of a 16 m. m. moving picture projector last Thursday evening. The school has been considering the purchase of a machine of this type.

Eleanor Knutson, a graduate of last year, has secured a position near her home in Bison, S. Dakota.

Mr. Johnston recently addressed a P. T. A. meeting at Baldwin.

The mixed chorus and the men's glee club are practicing for an assembly program to be given in December.

A new combination phonograph, electrically equipped, has just been received and will be used in the music classes.

Leonard Warner, Voice editor last year, conducted a poultry and grain show at Roberts last week. He is a Smith-Hughes instructor there.

Rural Life Notes

Members of the rural group, accompanied by Miss Mabel Bridges and Miss Jorstad, visited the Centerville school Wednesday afternoon.

The Woodlawn school, of which Mary Ryan is the teacher, has been closed because of infantile paralysis. There is one case in the district.

An Eye Full

The owner of a midget car drove up to a filling station and ordered one pint of gas and two ounces of oil.

"Alright," said the attendant, "and I suppose you want me to sneeze in your tires."

Take a Guess

What has eight legs, two backs, and no stomach?
Answer---Two chairs.

Co-ed Dreams; Rejects Hydroxyl

One of the fairer sex, a member of the botany class, was overheard talking in her sleep. Her wails ran thus: "Much as I hate to study about alcohol because it is a dreadful curse and because our laws prohibit its sale and use, I could probably suffer it for awhile if it were only alcohol, but when it is known as C₂H₅OH, containing potential energy, and having something to do with mother---mother of vinegar, you can count me out; I can't stand it."

M. E. Young People Pick Teams for Contest

The Methodist young people are beginning a membership contest next Sunday evening. Two teams have been formed under the leadership of Fern Enloe and Harold Rasmussen, which will compete in the matter of securing new members. At the close of the contest, a party will be given at which time the losing team will entertain the winners.

The program next Sunday evening will include the fellowship hour at five o'clock, and the social program will be under the direction of Gwendolyn Fox. A ten cent luncheon will be served at six o'clock. Special music for the devotional service at six-thirty will include a cornet duet by Newell Younggren and Frederick Bremer. "Christ's Way of Peace" will be the subject of the lesson and Mr. Warren Sutton will be the leader.

The Methodist young people extend a special invitation to students to participate in the entire program.

College Clips

The nine teachers colleges of the state have a very large enrollment. Milwaukee ranks first, while River Falls is seventh. Program and Dancing Feature Newman Party

The Newman Club party, which was held Friday night, proved to be a real success. A program was first given. Father Fagan sang two beautiful songs which everyone enjoyed. His concluding number was the old favorite "Mother Machree". At the business meeting, which took place immediately after the program, the N. C. A. decided to have a Christmas party.

The meeting adjourned to the South Hall gym. Dancing to the music furnished by a victrola and a radio, and card playing were the means of entertainment. At eleven o'clock a delicious lunch of ice cream and cake was served.

Rural Student Is Best 4-H Culinary Artist

The honor of being the champion 4-H club girl of Pierce county was given to Cecilia Schmidt, rural student from Ellsworth. She canned over a thousand pints of fruit and vegetables and baked enough bread to feed a family of ten for six months. The prize for such an achievement was a large pressure cooker as well as the other prizes she had already received.
