LOWRY DEFEATS HAMLINE

IN SECOND PITCHERS' DUEL OF THE SEASON, 1 TO 0

River Falls was successful in putting over another victory on Hamline last Wednesday afternoon. This was the best game played during the season. Capt. Conrad tells us the game was as good as the score indicates.

River Falls succeeded in getting a run in the second inning which gave them a one point lead that they maintained throughout the game. Gregor hit to short who over-threw at first, placing him on second. He was moved to third on Peterson's grounder to third. Conrad scored Gregor by hitting to first, who tried to get Gregor at home but failed. River Falls had two men on bases when "Greg" scored, but they were unable to score again.

Hamline made a few long hits but were unable to get to Lowry for a score. The Hamline pitcher got nine strike-outs and allowed one walk.

Lowry of the Normal got nine strike-outs and allowed one walk.

Two Games Here This Week

River Falls is scheduled to play two games here this week. On Thursday they will play St. John's college of Collegeville, Minn. St. John's was the only team that shut out the "local nine" this year. They have played classy ball all season which has secured a good reputation for them among the Minnesota colleges.

On Decoration day the Normal will play Macalaster. They have defeated Macalaster before this season by a one point lead.

AURELIA

The Aurelia held its last meeting for the year last Wednesday night. The first number on the program was a piano duet by Bernice Eckstein and Helen Druley.

Then the following officers were elected:

President—Verna Webb
Vice-Pres.—Adah Tubbs
Secretary—Georgia Jones
Treasurer—Dorothy Everson

After a solo by Idamae Myers the meeting adjourned with ideas for a Lincolonian-Aurelia picnic.

STOCK SHOW IN JUNE

Plans for the big stock show to be held here on Tuesday and Wednesday, June 3 and 4, are well in hand and we are expecting to have a very good show. Mr. Welles anticipates that these shows may lead to a kind of show that will be self-supporting. He expects to have a sale of stock in connection with the show and a small commission would be collected from those offering stock for sale. This would defray all necessary expenses. It is hoped that this plan may be carried out next year.

The following is the schedule as planned:

Tuesday

Judging of cattle and hogs, 1 to 1 p. m.

Wednesday

Judging horses, 10:00 a. m.

Band concert, 1:00 p. m.

Live stock parade, 2:00 p. m.

(On the new pavement.)

Base ball game—River Falls vs. St. Olaf, 3:00 p. m.

The judges will no doubt be Mr. Montgomery from Minnesota and Prof. McKerrow of the Agricultural College of Minnesota. Many will remember Supt. McKerrow of Wisconsin, who conducted farmers' institutes for a number of years. Prof. McKerrow is a son of Supt. McKerrow.

Funds to meet all expenses and all prizes in all classifications have been raised and are now on deposit at the bank. 130 head of cattle have been listed. Also there will be a large number of horses and hogs. Out of this large number of stock we should find some prize animals.

This is a part of the regular agricultural program of the year, so agriculture men may be asked to perform certain tasks connected with the show. It is urged that all students that can spare the time attend.

Preparatory to the stock show the sites of all new buildings will be marked so that it will be a bit of interesting information to know of some of the plans to be carried out on the Normal farm.

Miss Ruth Fuller motored to Hudson Sunday.

Miss Agnes Kirchner was practicing in her home school last week.

NEWS TO S. A. T. C. MEN

Our students have been not a little excited over the offer apparently from the government to enlist S. A. T. C. students for a three months' service in Europe to replace the 5th and 6th corps of Marines which are to be sent home right away. But the enthusiasm of the S. A. T. C. students in Madison which was at a fever heat last week, has been much dampened by an investigation of later orders which show that the enlisted marines would not be returned home until the Army of Occupation returned, and although that might be by fall, it might not be until next Christmas or longer. So students who first planned to enlist and go over to France do not feel that they can enlist under so much uncertainty as to when they can return to their school work.

AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT

Harold Arnold goes to Boscobel to teach agriculture next year at a salary of $1,375. Matt Kelly goes to Greenwood.

Mr. Lowe, who has taught agriculture two years in Minnesota and two years in Wisconsin, is planning to attend summer school to qualify for a state license.

Jake Jacobson and Victor Goss, both former graduates, are coming back for summer school.

County Superintendent Voborie of Manitowoc is coming here to take agriculture work this summer.

Irwin Baird, Normal farm superintendent, goes to Viroqua for agriculture work.

G. O. P. SOCIAL

One of the greatest features of the year was held Thursday evening when the G. O. P. Girls gave an ice cream social on the campus of South hall. On the lawn were arranged tables where the girls dressed in white with red ties, served ice cream and cookies.

Japanese lanterns and parasols used as decorations added to the festive air. Music was furnished all evening.

Not only was this event a social success but a financial success. The proceeds will go toward supporting a war orphan.

STEP UP AND TAKE YOUR PLACE

The editorial a few weeks ago was a good one. Too much emphasis can not be placed upon the idea of courtesy. I think that the writer had the right idea and it is my belief that a little attention called to the fact that there may be a slump in the courteous attitude of the young men is a good thing. It may act as a stimulus and cause such an effect that it will be noticeable. I hope that it does. There is the statement that the young men merely speak, with the emphasis on the merely.

Let me bring out the point that the young ladies seem not to know that a young man has no right to even "merely" speak to her unless she first makes the advance by speaking to him. Let us hope that it is not that they are ignorant of this fact but just because they are indifferent. I have walked across between the two buildings many a time and met young ladies to whom I have never been formally introduced, but whom I knew, and it seemed to me that by the way they looked they expected me to speak to them. Now if these young ladies would step into their place and speak where they have the right to, I am quite sure that my hat would have "risen" and not the ends of my hair. Why wait for that formal introduction when we are members of this grand little institution, River Falls Normal, which makes for a closer friendship between its students and faculty.

"Girls, Step Up and Take Your Places"

I think that the young men of the school will meet you half way. We haven't all forgotten the age of chivalry. I'll venture there will be more

AN EPISODE

To tell this story well is to tell it so as to include all minutia of details. Clarence Peterson is funny any place but on one certain occasion he was the hero of a very interesting episode—at least it was entertaining for all except "Doc" and a certain young lady. But why continue this airy nothing when we might be explaining an interesting drama.

While our base ball team was coming from Collegeville to St. Paul "Doc" had been riding with William Hawley but he grew tired of hearing "Willie" tell how the game was lost, so he found a seat by himself. At one of the little towns a beautiful young lady came in and not seeing a vacant seat (or not wanting to find another) sat down with "Doc," who said nothing, only blushed.

Then the fun began, for that was too much for the other boys. Perhaps out of jealousy, perhaps to tease "Doc," "Jakie" hired a little boy to go over to "Doc" and say, "Papa, give me a nickle." That's Jake!

One of the fellows discovering that there was plenty of cushion between "Doc" and the young lady, took the little boy and placed him in the seat between them.

"Papa" Peterson said nothing as he usually does but he was thinking, day dreaming possibly. All of the fellows have seen "Doc" blush but all of them reiterate what Captain Conrad reports "His neck was as red as any brick you ever saw."

Kendall Wentz asks that all juniors, who signed up for prom, pay their dues at once for the bills must be paid immediately.

Gilbert Ecklund and Rudolph Racine, who are students at the University of Minnesota, attended the party at the Normal Friday evening.

The class play, "Quality Street," is progressing beautifully. Miss Schloser is working hard to get it ready for May 9, and the caste is co-operating with her.

When you are lonesome on Sunday afternoon and would like to do something for the good of humanity, come over to Sutherland's and mingle your voice with the "Heavenly Sextette."

hats tipped. If a fellow does not answer your cheery good morning, it is not a reflection on you, but another on himself. I doubt if you will find many who will not respond. Girls, we will meet you half way, and with a "hat tip."

TRUE?

Tell us not by mournful blunders, we attain our fondest dream, and the hope is dead that slumbers, and the game is not played clean. The game is real and should be earnest, and the true can yet be bold. "Beat thou art" to dust returnest, was not said of what is gold. Not in winning to cause sorrow was your planning, or your way, but to act that the tomorrow won't be blunders of today. The game, tho long, your age was fleeting, and your will tho strong to serve none but snuffling snouts are cheating old dead issues from a grave. In the world's lifelong battle in the great stampede and strife, its the empty rigs that rattle, murmuring heroes are not rife. Trusting future is not pleasant, shall the live forget the dead? Here we come and bring our present, hand outstretched and tears we shed; lives of great men did remind you, you could also make things shine, and the departing leave behind few, toe-prints on the dust of time. Toe-prints that o'erlap each other on the great highway to fame, with a Solon and a Father so now Hiram, rest your brain.
 Then let the live ones be reviewing,
 with a vim tho it is late; no old scheming needs renewing, learn to neighbor and to wait.—Ex.
