Masquers Present Four One Act Plays On Wednesday Evening

Receipts Will Be Used For More Auditorium Stage Equipment

Three one-act plays and a dramatic episode will be presented by the Masquers' organization in the college auditorium on Wednesday night. This will be the Masquers' second entertainment for the year.

Many Happy Returns

This comedy centers around Margaret Haswell who is celebrating her 45th birthday. She is separated from her husband, and the play is really a dream of her past and her realizing what a fool she has been.

The cast includes Margaret Helwig, Maxine Blaine, Pauline Isaacson, Evelyn Rhiel, Ruth McIntyre and Ethel Haga.

Flirtation

A delightful comedy. A pantomime. In it will be seen Byron Holtz, Irma Jenson, Margaret Helwig and Al Hocking.

The Finger of God

A dramatic episode in the life of a man who, after twenty-eight years of honest living, reverts to crime. He is kept from climaxing his worst crime by events which are as unexpected as they are effective.

Parts are portrayed by Gordon Page, Morris Buske and Margaret Burkholder.

The Kelly Kid

A comedy at its best, in which excellent Irish character types hold the stage. The story is woven around a typical Irish home. The Kelly Kid, a wayward youth, is causing trouble for the people of this Irish community.

The cast is made up of Marjorie Gallup, Rochelle Farrell, Margaret Fitzgerald, Florence Walsh, Leslie Libakken, Al Hocking, Byron Holtz.

No Publication Next Week

There will be no issue of the Student Voice next week as the staff will take time out and prepare for exams. If we survive the finals, we will be on the air again on Tuesday, March 17th—Editor.

Honor Roll Group Party Next Week

The Honor Roll organization will have a meeting the first part of exam week. The program committee, which consists of Fern Ashenbrenner, Leland Standiford, and Rochelle Farrell, will sponsor a special entertainment for this event.

At a former meeting it was decided unanimously that the Honor Roll organization was a decided advantage to the college. It was also decided that the organization would meet once or twice every term. During the meeting the following committee was appointed to formulate a constitution: Chas. Freeman, Mrs. Blanche Moser, and Earle Sanford.

A copy of this constitution will be enclosed with the invitations which are sent out at the end of each term to new honor students.

Classes Elect New Officers On Thursday

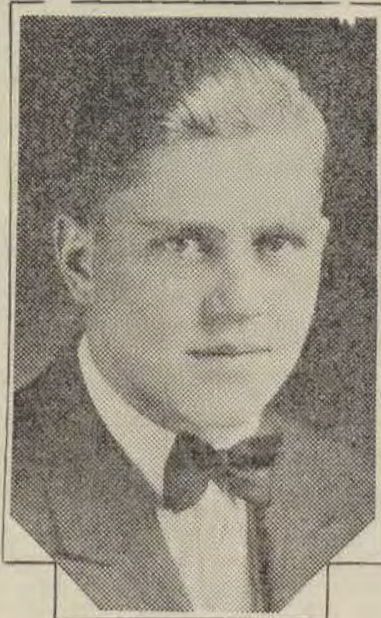

Election of class officers for the second half of the year took place during the regular assembly hour on Thursday. Some of the contests were exceedingly close. In two cases the winning candidate had a lead of only one vote.

The senior class selected the following officers: Clair Bartosh, president; Thelma Haga, vice-president; James Hocking, secretary-treasurer. George Strand, Baldwin, was selected to head the junior group. Other guiding hands selected were: Joyce Bergsens, vice-president and Frank Vuchitch, secretary-treasurer.

From a long list of candidates the sophomore class elected Marvin Pratt, president; Lucille Hawkins, vice-president; Ruth Achenbach, secretary; and Ove Berven, treasurer.

Joe Braun, Algoma, promising football and basketball man, was selected as president of the first year class. Other victorious candidates were: Leone Johnson, vice-president; Carol Isaacson, secretary; David Johnston, treasurer.

Heads Senior Class

Clair Bartosh

Clair Bartosh, River Falls, was elected last Thursday to guide the senior class through the last half of the school year.

Bartosh holds records in leadership, athletics, and scholastic work that probably have never been equaled in the history of this institution.

Yesterday Bartosh signed a contract to teach science, manual training and coach athletics at White Bear, Minn. He is the first person to secure a position.

Profs, Peds Dine At Cafeteria Tonight

Faculty members and students will have the opportunity of an informal get-together when they gather at the college cafeteria tonight at six-thirty for the annual Fellowship Supper sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. Indications point to a record attendance.

An elaborate program is being prepared for the occasion. Musical numbers scheduled include the string quartette, the Agrafalian quartette, and a mouth organ and accordion duet. Speakers will appear for both the students and faculty. Elmer Beran and Horace Merrill will represent the men of the school and Professors Hill and Johnson will represent the faculty. Pres. Ames will also speak.

According to the committee in charge, the occasion is an informal one where men and profs can get together and thrash out differences without having an antagonism aroused. Students are urged to turn out. "If you are eating at a boarding house, eat first and come and attend our program," urges the committee.

Don't forget the Masquer's plays at the College Auditorium Wednesday evening.

Debaters Meet Conference Rivals Here and at Superior

Prof. Jacobson Gives Physics Group Party

Some forty members of the College Physics class attended a party given by their instructor, Mr. Jacobson at his home on Elm street Saturday evening. A series of games and stunts provided the entertainment for the evening.

The group was divided up into pairs for competition in the various activities. Ed Warwick and "Pat" Mattson were awarded the grand prize. The booby prize went to Nestor Nielson and Ed Walker. "We all had a splendid time," was the expression made by many of the attendants yesterday.

Athletic Name Contest Will End on Friday

Committee Will Select Five Names Wednesday Evening; Voting On Friday.

When it meets Milwaukee on Friday of this week the River Falls team will have a new name to uphold. The student body will have the privilege of selecting that name by ballot vote on Friday. This terminates the naming contest sponsored by the Voice.

Five names will be selected by representatives of the faculty, city, alumni and student body from the long list of names submitted. The names chosen by this group will be placed on a ballot and every faculty member, student and alumnus will have a chance to express his choice on Friday at the ballot table in South Hall.

The following names have been suggested: Red Birds, Red Arrows, Red Clouds, Vanguard, Peds, Red Skins, Bruins, Teddys, Harvesters, Masters, Mound Builders, Jaguars, Panthers, Northern Hordes, Stags, Sky Larks, Pioneers, Red Stars, Thunder Clouds, Torches, Falcons, White Feathers, Panthers, Plow Boys, Boomers, Bob Cats, Lynx, Red Wolves, Cardinals, Crimson Tide, Trumpeters, Tooters, Verals, Red Cats and Raccoons.

A box will be placed in South Hall so that students who still have names to suggest may do that before the list is turned over to the committee on Wednesday evening.

The prize offered is three dollars. According to the opinion of local sport men, this is the smallest award that goes with the winner of this contest as the name selected will no doubt serve as a cedula that will be passed on to future generations.

Squad Swings Into Action Here Friday with Brilliant Pre Season Record.

The River Falls debate team meets Superior and Oshkosh on Friday afternoon of this week in the conference debates. The Red and White negative team will go to Superior while the affirmative team will remain at home to meet the Oshkosh negative. In order to get in the finals for the State Championship it will be necessary to be one of the three highest ranked teams in the state based upon the number of debates won.

Thus far this year the debate team has had numerous debates with the colleges in this section some of which have been decision and some non-decision. The Gustavous Adolphous Girls team were successful in winning two decisions from the squad while Northland, St. Norberts, Luther, and La Crosse bowed to give River Falls six decisions. The non-decision debates were held with Lawrence, Carleton, Marquette, Milwaukee and Eau Claire Peds. These debates have been to condition the teams for the more important conference contest.

Not only are the teams going into these contests with an exceptional good record this year, but we also find they are upholding a traditional record of debate that marks River Falls as the outstanding Teachers College in the state in debate, having appeared at the top of the column when the smoke was cleared in a majority of the years.

Horace Merrill, captain of the squad and members of last years state championship team, will lead the affirmative team consisting of Leslie Libakken and Raymond Penn against Oshkosh here.

William Hawkins, who for three years has debated for River Falls and in that time has not lost a debate, will guide the negative team at Superior. The other members of this team are Lucile Garley and Leonard Madison. Miss Garley has had previous experience in college debate at River Falls while Madison was a member of last years squad.

College Masquerade Set For March 27

The all-school masquerade and ball which previously had been planned for March 20 has been postponed until March 27 due to the high school basketball tournament that is being held here on the twentieth.

It is an age old tradition that history repeats itself. And so it is hoped to revive this annual event which although new to this student body has in the past years been the outstanding social event of the school calendar.

Evelyn Rhiel and Karl Korting have worked up a group of eight prizes which will make it worth ones time to prepare a costume.

Clarence Alfonse, chairman of the committee for music has decided on an out-of-town orchestra for the event.

Meletean Staff Will Begin Drive Thursday

Thursday at assembly an opportunity will be given to all the students to subscribe for a copy of the 1931 Meletean. All those subscribing will be insured of obtaining a copy as the number printed is determined by the number subscribing for the book. The subscription price of one dollar will be payable on registration day. The remainder will be due at the time of delivery in June.

The 1931 Meletean represents the twentieth volume published. This year practically every student's picture will appear in the issue and since each of the classes are larger the book will also be somewhat larger. The organizations will also be well represented with several new ones appearing in this issue.

The Meletean has received recognition as one of the outstanding year books in the Northwest. The last few years it has received the all American rating.

Dean Reviews Conservation Work of Local Organization

Tells How Isaak Walton League Has Helped Fish and Birds Propagate

A short time ago this journal carried an account of what the local Chamber of Commerce did for our school. River Falls has another live-wire organization which is making this community a better, a more attractive and a more pleasant place for town people and students to live in. The organization is known as the River Falls chapter of the Isaak Walton League.

Professor Stratton

Therefore, just before that organization holds its annual banquet, the Voice takes the privilege of giving a brief review of the accomplishments of the organization. Prof. C. G. Stratton, who has been interested in conservation all his life and a member of the local chapter for a number of years (busy as he is as dean, teaching a heavy program and various other activities) was kind enough to give the Voice the information presented in the following paragraphs.

Organization Originated in 1910
Organized effort for conservation in River Falls grew out of the River Falls Gun Club, started about 1910. This club was interested in hunting and trap shooting. They operated a trap on the west side of the river, below the sand pits.

Some time later, the fishermen were invited to join and the name was changed to the River Falls Rod and Gun Club. Annual banquets were held, to which the farmers along the streams were invited as guests.

The Rod and Gun Club became affiliated with the Isaak Walton League in April, 1924, and has since then been known as the River Falls Chapter of the Isaak Walton League of America.

This chapter has been one of the most active in the entire state. A few of their accomplishments are:

- Millions of trout planted in the streams of this region.
- Animals have been procured for the park.
- Feeding ponds constructed for trout fry. (These are below upper power plant.)
- Hatching, rearing and distribution of pheasants.
- Rescue of trout from mill ponds.
- Creation of a state game preserve on the Lloyd Sherman farm.
- An annual banquet, the biggest men's affair of the year.
- Winter feeding of game birds.

230 pheasants were liberated on the Sherman game preserve and on other farms. Of these, fifty came as a prize for good work in feeding quail and other birds the previous winter.

Trout Fry Planted Each Year
184,000 trout fry and fingerlings were procured from the state and national hatcheries, fed in rearing ponds till fall and planted in the Kinnickinnic and its branches last year. 17,500 four inch trout and 100 cans of six inch trout were planted in the Kinnickinnic and the South Fork last year.

Senator W. H. Hunt, of our faculty, was a charter member of the chapter and has been active in forwarding the aims of the organization. He led the fight against pollution of the upper Mississippi by the Twin Cities. In this and similar activities the local chapter has given him hearty support.

Lloyd P. Sherman is the president, succeeding Robert L. Hurd.

Otto Kulstad is secretary-treasurer. A large measure of the success of the chapter is due to these men and to Dr. C. A. Dawson, its first president and Frank Anderson, the first secretary.

More Members Are Wanted
Every sportsman, who can afford it, should join the league. Those who go elsewhere to fish are as much obligated as those who fish the Kinnickinnic because no matter where one goes, it is probable that some chapter of the league is active in making for better law enforcement and better fishing.

Four members of the faculty were members of the chapter during 1930. Each year the local chapter offers a list of liberal prizes to school boys who make bird houses. A tidy sum is also given each year to the Boy Scout work. Students are invited to the banquet whether members or not.

Present Status Of Prohibition Given By Rev. Hoisington

In a talk before the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday evening, Rev. F. W. Hoisington of the local Methodist church gave the facts concerning the Wickersham report on prohibition enforcement in the United States.

According to Rev. Hoisington, the truth about the liquor situation in the United States has not been printed in many of the largest newspapers in circulation in this country. A large percent of the leading papers are friendly towards the liquor interests. In fact, sixty-four percent of the papers that come to our doors every day are opposing prohibition, thirty percent are dry, and four percent are neutral.

Charges have been made by these wet papers that the committee has been bribed to report in favor of the dries. These charges were disproved by statistics compiled by the committee. The present consumption of liquor in the United States is only forty percent of the consumption before the eighteenth amendment was passed, while the amount of alcohol consumed per capita has been reduced to twenty seven percent. This results in an actual saving to the American people of six billion dollars annually.

Anderson, one of the men on the Wickersham committee, suggests a government corporation regulating the distribution of liquor to the wet districts. The profits from the sale of liquor should go towards temperance education, he says.

"Judging from the statistics, the prohibition experiment has not been as much of a failure as some of the wet propaganda in the daily newspapers seems to indicate," said Rev. Hoisington in summarizing his talk. "Printed pages have a tremendous influence over the public, and are accepted as truth without much questioning on the part of the readers."

in the dormitory were practically all double rooms very attractive with a sun room on each floor and a kitchenette.

The regulations for the girls were strictly enforced. All Freshman girls had to be in at 8:30 except week nights. Those who were late in getting home were penalized five minutes for every minute they were late and this had to be a date in order to count.

Hats Off To The Band

The band as it appeared at the Eau Claire game Friday night is an organization that a school three times this size could be justly proud. The band they received was not half of what it should have been.

River Falls has led in fields of athletics, debate, and classic speaking for a number of years. Last year we added another laurel to our wreath when we won the state contest in dramatics. We are going so far as to say that this year we have a college band that is equal to any in the state.

Let's give them a real hand at the Milwaukee game.

How About The Yearbook?

Another organization has its drive this week. The Meletean staff will take subscriptions for the 1931 year book.

As a passing thought we would like to call to the students attention the fact that the Meletean staff has a group of people that work hard all year to make the year book a credit to this institution. Although they do not see the final result until the last week of the year, the group keeps faithfully on with the work.

When Profs and Peds Dine

Tonight the Y. M. C. A. is sponsoring an event that we believe should have the cooperation of every man in college. It is the annual get-together of the two groups in the form of a miniature banquet at the cafeteria.

Some time ago a cartoon was called to our attention. The essence of the pen work was this: "The Prof. as he is and as the student sees him."

We have a fine group of congenial teachers in this institution, and it might be well for the student body to see them and meet them some place else than behind the lecture table.

Your Last Chance

Have you submitted your name for our athletic teams? If not, be sure you do so before Wednesday night. Most of us usually are forced to work much harder for our dollars than that. A few minutes thinking on the subject may reap you a rich return.

The prize is only a small part of the reward that goes with the winning of this award. What could please a person more than to see the name he suggested printed on the sweat shirts worn by athletes from this institution? What a pride it would be to have a reporter forty years hence procure from the records of history the fact that you submitted the name by which teams from this institution are known.

Dean of Women Gives Report on Detroit Meeting

Miss Irma Hathorn recently returned from the annual convention of the Deans of Women which was held at the Statler Hotel in Detroit, Michigan from February 18 to 22. Somewhat over 400 were in attendance from universities, colleges, junior colleges and teachers colleges.

The two main speakers at this meeting were Dr. John D. Spaetch of Princeton, who gave an address on the meaning of culture and Dr. Arthur H. Ruggles of Yale who talked on the organization of mental health service for college students.

At the meeting of the deans of the Teachers colleges the leading discussions were on Personality traits which contribute to the success of deans of women and on what constitutes the best social training for students in social colleges.

These discussions led to the fact that the social training in a teachers college should supplement the social progress they have had in the home and high school and should give them experience in all types of social activities as in outside activities. In some colleges they have an organized course in which problems of social nature are discussed. The opinion seemed to be that the part the faculty play in the student activities seem to have a strong influence.

On the last day of the convention, the deans were taken to Ann Arbor, Michigan where they were guests of the University for the day. The convention was held in the Women's league building. No men were allowed to enter this building except through the back door, a rule which was rigidly enforced. Another interesting building was the Women's Athletic building which was built from gate receipts from the stadium. This building housed many indoor sports such as indoor tennis, golf, etc. The deans were also escorted through the new dormitory which housed 450 girl students. The rooms

Falls Cagers Score Victory Over Eau Claire

Klandrud Men Break Off
Losin Streak by 41-21
Win Over Easterners

A state Eau Claire basketball team wins three of its regulars, and is expected to a time to upset the Kive. Falls cagers here last Friday night at class told in the long run and River Falls triumphed 41-21. The game was slow and uninteresting throughout with plenty of errors of omission and commission in evidence. Coach Klandrud started Kuss and Warwick at forwards in place of the usual starters, Sutherland and Warwick. Seig of Eau Claire made the first point of the game with a free throw when fouled by Miller. Then while the locals were missing shot after shot, baskets by Carlson, Hotchkiss, and Haight ran the score up to 8-2 in favor of Eau Claire, the Redmen's two points being accounted for by Schlicht's long basket. Berven, LaDusire and Sutherland replaced Miller, Kuss and Warwick at this stage of the game and although still missing many shots, Laddy sunk one from the free throw and Berven made a tip in shot which made the score 8-6 still in favor of Eau Claire. Not satisfied with the way his offense was clicking, Klandrud replaced Berven and LaDusire with Alphonse and

Co-Captains of 1929-30 to End College Cage Careers Friday

Three men who had an important part in bringing two state championships to River Falls will end their college athletic career when the Milwaukee Brewers appear here Friday night. Ed Miller, tallest of tall men in the Wisconsin conference, will don the Red and White colors and pay his final adieu to local fans. Ed has taken the tip-off consistently for the Falls for three years. Friday he will be opposed by a man who is his equal in height.

Schlicht and Sutherland also play final games. Both have been football and cage stars the past three years. Bob was an all-state choice as a half-back last fall. Schlicht placed on the mythical all-state cage five.

League Basketball

Led by Glenn Morrow, high scorer in the organization tournament thus far, who scored six points, the Nat. Guard team sprang an upset and handed the Ag Seniors their first defeat of the season last Thursday.

Another upset occurred this week as the Ag Frosh turned back the fast Freshmen by a 23-20 count. The tournament reached its mid point this week. More games per week will be played during the next half.

All-Americans Win

The All-Americans showered in the baskets right and left to beat Cal's Smoke Shops of Durand 56-43 at Durand last Tuesday night. Glenn Morrow continued his heavy scoring with 27 points, while Buckholtz was the big gun for the Smoke Shops with 26. It was Durand's third loss in sixteen games this year.

Clarence Alphonse

Shifted to the center position, a place entirely new to him, Clarence Alphonse scored ten points in the Eau Claire game and helped his team pull out of a slump that cost them two conference games.

Fans will see the former all-state football fullback play his last college game of basketball when the Falls meets Milwaukee Friday night.

Warwick. With Alphonse supplying the necessary spark at center, River Falls started to come to life. Al celebrated his debut by tying the score with a close in shot. From then on it was all Alphonse and Warwick as far as the scoring was concerned, Alphonse accounting for four and Warwick for two to make the score 19-9 at half time.

The second half found both coaches substituting freely. Warwick continued his heavy scoring and Helixon, Miller, Kuss, LaDusire all did their share of adding to the scoring column. Near the end of the game with the score 41-12 against them, the visitors rallied to make nine points in succession to make the final score 41-21.

Warwick and Alphonse, who led the scoring with 12 and 10 points respectively, were outstanding for River Falls, while Haight and Hotchkiss played best for Eau Claire.

So They Say

By Dick Heinz

After all, basketball is a game in which the winning team succeeds in making more points than their opponents. The average fan, while he likes to watch the fancy floor work and graceful performances of some of the athletes, will nevertheless be partial to the lad who steps in there and sinks 'em. Clarence Alphonse, hitherto a substitute guard, did that very thing in the Eau Claire fracas when he entered the game as a center in the first half to sink five baskets in almost as many minutes. After watching the locals take approximately 30 shots (actual count) before making a basket this kind of performance was bound to make a hit with the fans.

Eau Claire's squad which has little or no high-class material was further weakened by the ineligibility of Eggleston, high scoring forward and Timm, guard. In addition, Clementson recently eligible and who has the reputation of being quite a shot himself was unable to play because of the death of his mother. Nevertheless, Zorn's outfit made up in fight what they lacked in class and for a time threatened to upset the Redmen.

Friday night the green clad Milwaukee cagers invade the local court for the last conference game of the year. Milwaukee has a .500 rating at present having won four and lost four. Gother, whom River Falls fans will long remember as the lad who reeled off those long runs in the 1930 Homecoming game, is captain and the big gun in Penwell's offense. Ernst who was the twelfth man on Percy Clapp's football team last fall having played end, guard and center at various times, alternates at center with Berboth, a six foot-four lad who was also one of Percy's pet linemen. Finally the roster of grid men is completed with the well-known Schroeder and Myre playing guards. The last two named are apparently as fast on the basketball court as they were on the gridiron last fall. According to the box score of the recent La Crosse-Milwaukee game, they accounted for almost half of Milwaukee's 30 points.

This is the team that the Klandrud-men will have to beat in order to have a look-in on second place in the conference standings. The four games that Penwell's men have dropped have all been by a margin of less than six points. The performance of the Green team has been more or less erratic throughout the season. They lost to Platteville at Platteville but swamped them on their own floor. They beat Oshkosh at Oshkosh, but dropped the return game to the Sawdusters at Milwaukee last Friday night. At any rate the Falls will face a mighty tough aggregation.

According to prominent coaches and officials there is not supposed to be an outstanding basketball team in the Big Ten this year. Those fans who saw the Northwestern-Minnesota massacre last Monday night are emphatically inclined to disagree. Of course it is foolish to judge the merits of a team by one game but at any rate Northwestern's performance last Monday night must go on record as one of the greatest exhibitions of basketball ever seen in the Minnesota fieldhouse.

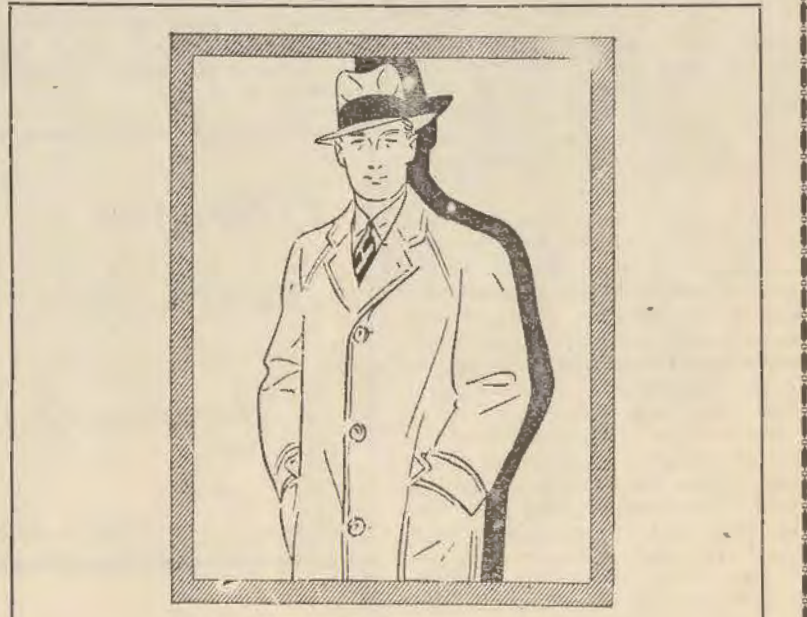

Coach Craig Ruby of Illinois has finally decided that it's the baskets that count. Abandoning the deliberate slow-breaking offense that has characterized the play of the Orange and Blue in recent years, the Illini have crushed their last three opponents under an avalanche of baskets. They stopped the Wildcats of Northwestern with a 37-29 score, swamped Chicago 45-22, and ran wild against Indiana 39-23.

The Wisconsin I. A. A. faces a difficult problem every year when they attempt to divide the state into basketball districts. While it is undoubtedly true that the thickly-inhabited southern portion is not as fairly represented as it might be, we think that the Hon. Paul Neverman went a trifle too far when he transferred the River Falls district to Watertown. Although high schools of this district may not come up to the calibre of some of the big southern Wisconsin school, they do not, by any means, play the poorest brand of basketball in the state. Winners of the River Falls tournament, notably River Falls, Menomonie and New Richmond have always given a good account of themselves in the state tournament. However, relief is promised for next year, when the powers that be will divide the state into 32 districts which should mean a fair representation for all. We can not help wonder, however, whether the W. I. A. A. will adopt the district-sectional-state plan, that is in vogue at every other state outside of Wisconsin, or if they will cling to the old plan and have a state tournament with 32 team. Whatever action Neverman takes will be influenced by the money angle in the matter, however, as the distinguished secretary of W. I. A. A. is reputed to be a master in high finance.

Frosh Score Win Over Elmwood 21-9

Trailing 8-7 at the half, the River Fall frosh came back to beat Elmwood high school, 21-9 in the preliminary before the River Falls - Eau Claire game last Friday night. It was the first defeat of the season for Elmwood.

Betterly, a forward, starred for Elmwood, while Morrow, M. Hansen and Isaacson led the play for the yearlings. M. Hansen was high point man of the game with four baskets. Morrow and Betterly of Elmwood being next with three apiece.

It's Time To Change Your Overcoat

Now is the time to change from a heavy overcoat into a lighter weight topcoat. You don't need that extra weight. It only tires you out to carry it around; yet its too cool to go without a coat. These fine topcoats are just right for spring. The price is just right too.

The Spotlight

Illuminating the Higher Things in Life

Wouldn't it be pleasing if we could interpret the thoughts harbored in the minds of others? The writer of this column would have enjoyed very much to possess that capability after the dance Friday evening. But to read those thoughts? Very simple. Those of the chaperones.

Could they have gone home with anything but pleasant thoughts of a very successful dance? Hardly! If their idea is to hold school dances so students may come and have a good clean time, then we may look forward to more similar dances in the near future, because that is precisely what it was, a good clean time. After all, isn't that what we want? Let us keep it up. Remember, it certainly isn't giving them any satisfaction to be continually "nagging" us, if I may use the word, about petit misbehaviors. If they can give their consent to the dances and be shown by us that we appreciate their efforts, it will be just as much pleasure for them to approve of our dances as it is for us to go there and enjoy dancing. May we continue.

Attention! Do you find it difficult to get your assignments in on time or have to take notes on lectures given in the class room, etc? The library has recently added a book to its list entitled, "Every College Student's Problems" by Werner.

Mr. Werner is a member of the University of Nebraska faculty and has written the book on data obtained through investigations held at that institution plus information furnished by other reliable sources.

The book is worth your attention and has invaluable chapters on methods of study, note taking and proper associations.

The University of Ohio recommends the book to all freshmen. Mr. May, of our faculty, has read the book and commends it very highly.

Can you imagine some people thinking that the pictures on the wall decorations from the G. O. P. Formal would look better in their rooms than on the decorations in the South Hall gym? Sad, but it's true.

Every day we read about the over-emphasis of football. Exactly what they mean is still more or less a mystery, but it seems they argue in such terms as time lost on trips, large crowds, etc. We all agree that they have scientific bases for arguing on such points, but football is exercise, good and bad.

Doctors say it is good exercise if they do not give up all forms of exercise after they graduate and vice versa. Therefore, why not have football just as it is now, but remind those that participate to take care of themselves after they graduate.

That way it will be worth everything we put into it.

One essential necessary to attain your highest efficiency is to make out a program of some kind setting aside a certain amount of time to do each portion of your daily physical and mental routine.

Y. W. C. A.

Tonight, the Y. W. C. A. will have a very interesting program in the social room.

Helen Harding will play a piano solo, "I Love to Tell the Story," with variations.

Mrs. Canning, a former student of the college who is also attending the school this year, will give a talk. For the past six years Mrs. Canning has taught in a junior high school in Hawaii. She will tell the girls about her experiences there. Her talk should be highly interesting to all the girls and everyone is urged to be there.

Training School Program Pleases Ped Attendance

By M. E. C.

A very interesting program was given by the students of the Training School Department at the College Auditorium, Thursday evening, February 26.

The training school orchestra under Mr. Schliep's direction and the Junior High School chorus under the direction of Miss Catur, would be a credit to any school.

The Operetta by the 4th, 5th, and 6th grades showed clever costuming and pleasing musical execution. One need not have a very vivid imagination to catch the spirit of the occasion. Even a "gallant knight of the yellow corduroys" would be thrilled to drive a span of ponies as frisky as either of those.

The one act play, "The Telegram" was a comedy to say the least. The thought, that even a telegraph operator makes mistakes, was brought to mind very clearly. Little did he realize what a furor his little mistake could create in a home. Mother's supposed action did not meet with daughter's approval, but when the word "married" in the telegram was displaced by the word "worried" a different slant was given to the whole situation.

Largest Crowd of the Year

Attends Week-End Dance

What veteran attendants termed the biggest dance of the school year took place in the South Hall gym Friday evening following the Eau-Claire game. More than 160 people were present.

Kuss and his Badger Band furnished the music for the occasion. South Hall gym still had its formal dress coat as the decorations from the G. O. P. affair were still there.

Three Scores of Girls Take Scout Course

Between fifty and sixty girls have enrolled in the Girl Scout leadership course that is offered at the College by Miss Ida May Born.

Two women from Prescott, have also availed themselves of the opportunity to learn more about Scout leadership.

Miss Born, the national instructor for the Girl Scouts was a teacher at Newcomb College and for two years was the director of the New Orleans Girl Scouts. She has had various and extensive experience, having been director in Louisiana, Alabama, Ohio, and New York City. She recently returned from Summerville, S. C. where the National Girl Scout Conference was held.

Judging from the favorable comments concerning this course, one would say that it is very interesting and inspiring. The members enrolled appreciate the opportunity of having Miss Born with them during this period.

Music Minor to Be Added to Curricula

Students who are musically inclined will be glad to learn that plans have been made for a Minor in Music. This course includes three hours of Theory, three of Instrumentation and Conducting, three of High School Methods, and nine of Appreciation, Harmony, and History of Music.

Membership for two years in at least one of the musical organizations is required. The requirement of one year of private lessons may be waived in cases where the student's previous training meets a standard set by the department.

Music has long been appreciated for its beauty and cultural value; but only in recent years have educators begun to recognize its immediate practical worth in training the mind of youth, is the opinion of local critics. For some time music has been evident in extra-curricular activities. They say it is gradually, however, reaching its justly earned place in the school curriculum on a par with science and language. Placement heads say this is evidenced by the ever increasing demand for teachers who, in addition to their academic work, have had sound musical training.

Rural Life Notes

We were glad to welcome one of our members, Miss Mary Hennessey, Roberts, back to school last Tuesday. Mary has been absent the past six weeks due to infection in her hand.

Darrel Metcalf, who is practice teaching at Centerville, motored to Durand Tuesday to attend the funeral of his aunt.

The practice teachers for the first six weeks of the last term are as follows:

Centerville: Susan Belbeck, Alice Knerr, Kathryn and Ann Johnson.

Liberty Hill: Orval Iverson, Bernard Belisle, Lawrence Seekins and Bernard Helmer.

Forestville: Eldon Anderson, Marcus Kosman, Florence Lundgren and Myrtle Foot.

Fairview: Ardis Daniels, Mary Hennessey, Agnes Kuntz and Rosalia Liez.

Faculty Group Confers With Minnesota Director

Prof. May, Spriggs, Johnston and Prucha conferred with the vocational board of Minnesota at St. Paul Wednesday. According to Mr. Johnston, the educational director of the Gopher state seemed anxious to secure all the men here who are eligible to teach both Agriculture and Mechanics.

"He made is clear that he wanted men who have good grades and not the "left-overs" continued Mr. Johnston. Minnesota requires forty semester hours of agriculture and thirty similar hours of mechanics.

"We have at least three men who can qualify", said Mr. May, local Ag director.

Ag's Have Ventilating Expert For Thursday Night Meeting

A representative of the Jamesway Company from Minneapolis will speak at the Agrafalian meeting on Thursday evening. Musical numbers including selections by the Ag Quartet and a surprise number will complete the program for the evening.

The following committee is in charge of the program: Leonard Warner, Milton Zeddies, Clarence Holstrom and Harry Vruink. Ag men are urged to turn out.

J. C. PENNY CO.

It's strange that we haven't heard these ever-boastful New Richmond High School grads tell about the fracas that took place after the N. R.-Hudson game when the Irish sure-shots fired fresh (?) hen-fruit at some of the visitor's cars. Needless to say, New Richmond got beat. That should be one more thing for the New Richmondites to crow about.

If everyone worked as hard every day as they have been the last week on their term topics, the honor organization would soon become an all-school affair.

What a cruel world! In the good old days before the Y. W. got this tea craze, the girls could at least save their pennies. Now they are dragged in by sheer force to drink tea, whether they like the stuff or not, and what's even worse, to part with their precious pennies.
